

Most people have no idea how money is created nor by whom.

We do not learn anything about it from our public education or mainstream media.

Most of our Money is created by banks.

Whenever an individual, corporation or government signs for a loan, the pledge of debt signed by the borrower is the "backing" of the money created.

This pledge becomes "money" when the borrower gives it to the bank and the bank lends it back to the borrower at interest!

What this means is that if there were no debt, there would be no money.
And, because the money to pay the interest is NOT created,
there is always more money owed than there is in existence.

This means we must go further and further into debt to banks.

FOREVER.
