For as soon as it is implemented, the US Treasury/Internal Revenue Service, will begin to receive a stream of 'windfall' funds organised by Leo Wanta's AmeriTrust Group. Inc. which will result in the transformation of the American Government's underlying debt position - -while at the same time delivering a profound and lasting shot-in-the-arm to the US economy that will reverberate around the world.

The agreement provides for the prepayment of taxes to the US Treasury, at the rate of 35% of the $4.5 trillion, equating to $1,575,000,000,000, together with prepayment of taxation to the State of Virginia at 6%, amounting to some $270,000,000,000. In addition, Leo Wanta has put mechanisms in place for the further generation of corporation tax deposits payable to the US Treasury Department/Internal Revenue Service of about $96 billion per banking day. Because of financing transactions which will consequently be carried out by other US financial institutions, estimated total windfall accruals to the US Treasury are likely to exceed $200 billion per banking day, from the moment of start-up. This is now running nearly three months late.

Furthermore, the Republican Party (undeservedly, but as a matter of fact) will be empowered to enter the forthcoming election seasons with promises of tax cuts, which could even include the outright abolition of Inheritance Tax ('the death tax'), and reductions in both income and corporation taxes, depending on the timeframe officially decided upon. Policymakers will need to weigh the paying-down of the $8.6 trillion of Federal debt - -as reported by the Office of Management and Budget (OMB) - -against obvious political priorities, including prospective tax cuts across-the-board.

MARKET DISTURBANCES REFLECTED TRANSFER OF THE $4.5 TRILLION

Under the Wanta Plan, $4.5 trillion of off-balance sheet offshore funds were transferred to the United States in May and June, so as to fulfil the obligations entered into last December. This represents just a fraction of the aggregate value of the so-called 'Global Security Fund', consisting of off-balance sheet USG funds originally worth $27.5 trillion raised from 200+ international banks to finance the 'management' of the 'post-Cold War' environment.

The accumulated value of these funds, held offshore in bank accounts linked to Title 18, Section 6 US Government intelligence corporations established under President Reagan's Executive Order 12333, is now believed to exceed $70 trillion. The original $27.5 trillion was raised from the 200+ banks at a deep discount for 20 years at 7.5% per annum.

President Reagan is asserted by British intelligence sources to have been poisoned with a pathogen that is capable of reproducing Alzheimer's disease, developed in Germany or the United States by heirs of Himmler's scientists. The purpose would have been to ensure that Reagan could never recall any of his instructions or undertakings while President, should the crooks be exposed - -as is happening 'as we speak'.

COMPROMISE SO THAT EVERYONE 'CAN MOVE ON'

The Wanta Plan represents a compromise arrangement which will facilitate the transfer of originally off-balance sheet funds, onto the US Treasury's books and the generation of further taxable transactions - -enabling the Treasury to pay down debt, while at the same time freeing up funding resources for an unprecedented boost to the US economy, attainable through tax reductions, infrastructure projects and programmes to address some of the intractable problems facing the American people.

It also provides the compromise context for a veil to be drawn over rampant past financial corruption embroiling both the corrupt intelligence cadres and the compromised banks. If this window of compromise is closed, all concerned will be vulnerable to systematic exposure, and worse, without future let or hindrance.

For the alternative to The Wanta Plan would be the repatriation of the full $70 trillion worth of financial assets held in US Government corporate accounts abroad, some of which has been stolen by corrupt intelligence operatives and banking sector co-conspirators. Other components of the funds have been cross-collateralised and otherwise tied up during Leo Wanta's illegal incarceration and confinement [see below]. Hence, certain institutions' continued existence might be jeopardised if the Trustor were to exercise his right to call for 100% disgorgement of the funds and the closure of the corporations and their accounts, as confirmed by US Judge Gerald Bruce Lee of the US District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia on 15th April 2003, in a Memorandum Opinion.

This stated that "Plaintiff's sole remedy in this matter is to proceed with the liquidation of the corporations and report these transactions to the Internal Revenue Service in accordance with the Internal Revenue Code and then challenge the assessment of any taxes in a refund proceeding".

In his compromise accord, Leo Wanta concurred with the transfer of $4.5 trillion, being a fraction of the original $27.5 trillion, and of course a much smaller proportion of the $70 trillion, which, as indicated, is the estimated value of these financial assets today.

However the Trustor has made it plain that he will be left with no option but to collect the aggregate $70 trillion if the long-delayed Wanta Plan is not implemented by close of business on Monday 31st July 2006. Given that the Federal Reserve, which is simply a clearing house, cannot now be trusted to release funds, the resulting USG accruals may have to be stored temporarily offshore until the tensions between the US Treasury and the Federal Reserve, which have come into the open as a result of this crisis, have been resolved - or the Fed has been nationalised, as most knowledgeable observers now consider to be essential.

Certainly, there is no way that the United States can continue to tolerate its financial affairs being compromised by a private financial institution which British intelligence sources inform International Currency Review is taking orders from Germany, and blocking the new US 'Marshall Plan'.

WANTA FRAMED AND REMOVED TO OBLIVION SO THEY COULD STEAL AND PLAY WITH THE FUNDS

Leo Wanta was illegally arrested in 1993, incarcerated and later released into house arrest for an intended period of 22 years, after he had refused to accommodate illegal demands by two US Presidents for funds held in Title 18, Section 6 offshore USG corporate accounts to be siphoned off into accounts for their personal ultimate benefit - -and after he had annotated a Federal Reserve print-out which identified $1.0 billion that had been sent by Banco Exterior de Espana, Malaga, Spain, to Banco de Panama, Panama City for credit to 'Pilgrim Investments/Jorge Bush'.

Against this entry, Leo Wanta, who was auditing and checking Federal Reserve records for disbursements of the $27.5 trillion raised in 1989-92 from the 200+ international banks, wrote as follows:

"Acceptance of value by former U.S. President of the United States, George (Jorge) Bush is direct violation of our USA Title 5, Section 7353, et seq - Jim Baker III told me to just "SHUT UP" as I am protected by Rogers Houston Memorandum to "co-operate", but I kept Receipts and Notes".

The complete set of Federal Reserve print-outs showing the disbursements, including amounts that aggregated at least $742.5 billion identified as having been stolen, and authorised by then Chairman of the Federal Reserve Board, Dr Alan Greenspan, were published in International Currency Review, Volume 30, Numbers 2 and 3 [January 2005]. Late last year, Dr Greenspan reportedly obtained lifetime immunity from retiring Supreme Court Judge, Sandra Day O'Connor, but the likelihood is that the document may not provide the former Fed Chairman with the protection he sought.

Experts believe he could still be arrested.

The false arrest, imprisonment and confinement of Leo Wanta, President Reagan's specially selected international financial operative, was intended to have lasted until 2015, beyond the maturity date for the original $27.5 trillion principal. The CIA lied to all and sundry that Leo Wanta was dead, - thereby giving the green light to corrupt intelligence operatives and their co-conspirator banks to assume that the funds were theirs to exploit and use for their own self-enrichment and funding purposes.

But when Leo Wanta was freed from all illegal restrictions with effect from 14th November 2005 - -after a large financial payment was made on his behalf on 27th July 2005 to a court in Wisconsin in settlement of illegally charged State taxes and penalties that he did not owe - -the corrupt elements of the intelligence community and the conniving international banksters, received a collective high-voltage electric shock that reverberated around the world.

For all concerned had accepted the CIA's convenient lie that Leo Wanta was dead, so that the funds would never be claimed. Leo had been framed on trumped-up charges in a conspiracy ordered by President Clinton and illegally implemented without a warrant by the Wisconsin authorities.

When implemented, the Wanta Plan will bring renewed prosperity and untold benefits to the American people, transforming the outlook for the Government's finances, the economy, the dollar, the United States and the whole world. Because of its links to other crucial overdue international financial accords, its final consummation - triggering what is known as a refinancing - will transform both the US and the world economies.

GLOBAL FINANCE HOUSES FURIOUS AT THE FED'S OBSTRUCTION
Yet final implementation of The Wanta Plan is being obstructed by a private organisation owned mainly by European interests, known as the Federal Reserve. Dr Greenspan's replacement, Dr Ben Bernanke, was reported on 17th July to be frustrating the consummation of Leo Wanta's international agreement, to the extreme annoyance of Swiss, Chinese, Russian and other foreign parties for whom The Wanta Plan unlocks other related beneficial geofinancial agreements.

The failure of the Federal Reserve to authorise Bank of America, Richmond, VA, the bank holding the transferred funds for the account of Leo Wanta, to credit the repatriated giga-funds to the account there of AmeriTrust Group, Inc., which he controls, is believed to contravene US legislation, rules and regulations, and represents a gross breach of national security, as well as of Title 18, United States Code, Sections 4, 35, 371, 372 and other provisions.

It is difficult to distinguish what the Federal Reserve is up to without reference to the verb "to steal".

The Fed's behaviour also represents a fraud against the United States, the American people, AmeriTrust and Leo Wanta - the Trustor of the funds raised in 1989-92 in belated fulfillment of President Reagan's instructions.

Conspiracy to defraud the United States implies the possibility of RICO charges, which can land convicted conspirators with between three and seven times damages.

As uncovered by International Currency Review, the original funds were ransacked by criminal gangs working with foreign intelligence penetrations operating within the US structures, led by successive US Presidents and corrupt US intelligence 'barons' and operatives - -some of whom have placed their stolen funds with foreign institutions under their own names to escape claims by holders of corporate Powers of Attorney.

In a wide-ranging conversation yesterday with Christopher Story, the Editor of International Currency Review, Leo Wanta stated that the Federal Reserve had illegally provoked what amounts to a massive default. Mr Story believes that the Fed may have ordered the Bank of America to withhold the transfer of the $4.5 trillion into the AmeriTrust Group, Inc. account that was established for the ongoing transactions which are to transform the US Treasury's finances.

Following the rumbling international financial market disturbances induced by liquidity shortages arising from the remittance of the trillions of US dollars required for implementation of The Wanta Plan in May and June - -factors of which the 'mainstream' media remained curiously ignorant - -the funds were consolidated and then transferred to an account earmarked for Leo Wanta at the Richmond institution. However, as indicated, they have not been released for use by Leo Wanta's corporation, which owns the funds, AmeriTrust Group, Inc. The corporation is ready, and all the necessary formal documentation and procedures have long since been set up with the Treasury and other parties, for the daily transactions to begin, in line with last December's agreement.

After it had been confirmed on 17th July that the Federal Reserve was holding up consummation of the deal, the Editor of International Currency Review, who has a responsibility to report accurately to the international financial community, emailed the Board of Governors of the Federal Reserve, as follows:

'I have been informed that The Wanta Plan, a.k.a. the Settlement with Leo Wanta worth $4.5 trillion, agreed with the US Treasury and involving substantial continuing taxation remittances to the US Treasury including a prepayment amount equivalent to 35% of the principal (i.e. $1.6 trillion, viz. $1,575,000,000,000), and $270,000,000,000 by way of 6% tax payable to the State of Virginia, may be being held up by the Federal Reserve. The funds have been repatriated and are known to be available now at a certain US institution. Would you please confirm to me that the situation is as described above, and if so, would you please provide me with the Board's explanation for this apparent interference with the agreement reached with the US Treasury, and for the Board's stance concerning this matter? If the position is not as described, would you kindly provide me with a statement as to the Board's position concerning this matter, so that we may inform our international financial community subscribers accordingly? Thank you for your urgent attention to this enquiry. Christopher Story FRSA, Editor and Publisher, International Currency Review, World Reports Limited, London Office: cstory@worldreports.org'.

As expected, of course, there was no response.

PARALLEL SCAREMONGERING REPORT BY THE ST LOUIS FED

In addition to the fact that the Fed's sabotaging of The Wanta Plan is reportedly illegal, as indicated, the Federal Reserve itself appears to be in a state of confusion, since it is impeding the long-term solution of the US Federal Government's financial problems - -identified in mid-July by a component of the Federal Reserve System itself.

Specifically, the Federal Reserve Bank of St Louis published a report in mid-July by Professor Laurence Kotlikoff, suggesting that the United States is going bankrupt. This extreme proposition flies in the face of schoolbook economics, which teaches that so long as a sovereign government enjoys a reliable taxation stream, it cannot become bankrupt in the same way as a corporation or an individual.

In a departure from its usual high standard of analysis, the St Louis Fed entered the realm of make-believe, giving publicity to a calculation by Professors Gokhale and Smetters, cited by Professor Kotlikoff, to the effect that a long-term US 'fiscal gap' of $65.9 trillion will open up between all future Government spending and all future receipts (no timeframe).

According to the Office of Management and Budget, the underlying Gross US Federal debt will exceed $11.5 trillion by fiscal year 2011. This, however, fails to take account of the earmarked Budget Trust Fund accruals that are required by law to be 'invested' in the Federal Funds Accounts at the US Treasury, meaning that the earmarked funds are consumed in current and capital spending.

The OMB's Gross Federal debt numbers 'add back' Budget Trust Funds 'held in Federal Government Accounts', being funds earmarked for future welfare and pension obligations which have been spent - so that these accruals need to be 'added back' a second time, to yield a true adjusted Gross Federal debt figure which, by 2011, will have reached some $17 trillion.

Even this calculation omits off-off-budget debt, such as that accumulated by the Government-Sponsored Enterprises (GSEs), much of which has been obliterated from the OMB's latest data.

Yet these official numbers bear little relationship to the scaremongering calculations suddenly publicised by the Federal Reserve Bank of St Louis - which 'just happened' to coincide with the time when The Wanta Plan, already delayed by two and a half months, was meant to have gone on-stream.

CALLS FOR THE FEDERAL RESERVE TO BE NATIONALISED

The suspicion has therefore arisen that the privately-owned Fed, the members and foreign shareholders of which thrive in a deficit-financing environment, is sabotaging the bona fide financial and economic rehabilitation agenda of the US Treasury - contrary to the interests of the American people.

In 1973, President Kennedy was assassinated after intelligence cadres working within the corrupted and penetrated US intelligence community, became aware that he was intending to abolish the Federal Reserve System and to replace it with a central bank network fully owned by the United States and therefore exclusively loyal to the interests of the American people.

As matters stand, this private corporation, owned mainly by foreigners, is now impeding the will of the US Treasury under its superbly qualified new Secretary, Henry M. Paulson Jr., and is depriving the United States and the American people of the benefits which will accrue following implementation of The Wanta Plan, which was the primary subject of behind-the-scenes discussions in St Petersburg.

If this matter is not resolved, the American people will have every right to demand the nationalisation of the Federal Reserve, the indictment of its senior officers, and the bringing to justice of those office-holders and corrupt intelligence community cadres owing allegiance to foreign powers - which appear to be working through the Federal Reserve to frustrate this new 'Marshall Plan for America'.

On the basis of Christopher Story's calculations, given that the original start-up date for The Wanta Plan was the beginning of May 2006, the US Treasury has already foregone perhaps $7.5 trillion of windfall accruals - - excluding revenues arising from tax payable on parallel transactions, which would have yielded an estimated further $6.2 trillion (calculations based on 62 banking days since the beginning of May).

With legitimate, real funds pouring onto the balance sheet from private transactions at this rate, the US Treasury's finances, and the outlook for the US and world economies, would be transformed within two years. This was fully agreed and understood at St Petersburg, where it was learned that over 20 financial groups are standing by to participate in this refinancing.

No-one who is somehow still unaware of the extent of malevolent foreign penetration of the US structures, can understand why the Federal Reserve is impeding The Wanta Plan - -not least since the bulk of the transactions will be monetarily sterilised through largely remaining within the financial system, while the resulting secondary transactions, taking place on a global scale, will revitalise the world economy in a structured and orderly manner.

FOREIGN INTERESTS HOLDING AMERICA TO RANSOM?

The conclusion reached by knowledgeable observers is that the United States is being held to ransom by foreigners through the Federal Reserve. The primary culprit is Germany, and its secret 'Black' Nazi Continuum agency, Deutsche Verteidigungs Dienst (DVD), Dachau.

On 13th July, an Iron Mountain document storage warehouse located at Bow, East London, adjacent to the City of London, caught fire and continued burning for three days. And on the preceding evening (12th July), the Iron Mountain warehouse located in the Cyrville Industrial Area, Ottawa, Canada, also mysteriously burned to the ground. These fires were 'no coincidence'.

British intelligence sources have confirmed to the Editor of International Currency Review that a substantial volume of Deutsche Bank files perished in the London warehouse fire. Deutsche Bank and German institutions have dominated the heavy high-yield investment programmes and financial trading operations that characterise hidden financial activity in the intergovernmental financial sector (to which the mainstream financial media is blind), since the late 19th century.

BURNING THE RECORDS - -AND COVERING FOR BUSH SR.

The Iron Mountain fires have been described as panic measures by criminalist foreign cadres to destroy the evidence of the massive serial financial fraud that has been exposed by International Currency Review and its associated intelligence publications. If so, the arson was wholly in vain, as duplicate and original copies of the relevant documents are stored in 25 special locations worldwide. These frauds have been driven by criminal gangs operating within the US official structures, allegedly led by George Bush Sr., who has been exposed by British and other intelligence informants as the actual head of Deutsche Verteidigungs Dienst.

According to these sources, Bush (Busche) Sr., who allegedly holds dual German and US nationality, succeeded the long-term German (Nazi) Abwehr chief, Admiral Canaris, after Canaris fell ill in 1976 (he died in 1978).

The interim head of DVD, to cover Bush Sr. while he occupied the post of Director of Central Intelligence, is alleged to have been Dr Henry Kissinger - whose Soviet codename is BOR, but who has also been identified by sources as allegedly the head of DVD, pending Bush Sr.'s accession.

In January 2005, Jack Roach, a CIA officer, was brutally murdered and tortured in the basement of the head office of Union Bank of Switzerland in Zürich. British intelligence sources have confirmed to Christopher Story that instructions for this murder were allegedly given by the head of the DVD: George Bush Sr. The Editor of ICR has also been informed that the assassination was allegedly approved by the President of Switzerland. The late brave Mr Roach, who was tortured with cigarette butts, was carrying banking codes that were seized from him - to the benefit of German banks and 'Black' intelligence, and to the detriment of the United States.

In October last year, a contingent of US intelligence officers attended the Munich Beer Festival. However the purpose of their presence was not to quaff amber liquid, but rather to stake out the headquarters of Deutsche Verteidigungs Dienst, at Dachau, which is close to Munich.

A satellite was positioned above the nondescript building, and on the basis of the evidence of comings-and-goings obtained, the existence and significance of DVD was indeed confirmed; and the White House was finally, reluctantly, belatedly brought to understand at last that the Nazi Continuum 'Black' intelligence strategic intelligence centre in Dachau exists. The British had been trying to make the Bush Jr. Administration understand this, previously without success - -since the President is the son of the alleged actual Head of the DVD.

The head of the DVD resides in the United States because America is the largest component of the 'Main Enemy'. Britain is targeted by DVD via the European Union, which is dominated by the long-range penetration, subversion and control strategy laid down by the Nazis in 1942, in a compendium of papers published in Berlin entitled 'Europäische Wirtschaftsgemeinschaft' [European Economic Community].

In the early 1950s, the Allies captured a Nazi document that was en route from the German Geopolitical Centre in Madrid - the long-range Nazi planning apparatus established there when the Nazi intelligentsia realised that Germany might lose the war. Called 'The Madrid Circular Letter', this document promulgated two themes for the attention of the 200,000 Nazis by now scattered around the globe. They were:

1. 'For us, the war never ended': 'Für uns, der Krieg ist niemals vorbei'; and:
2. 'We shall build the Thousand-Year Reich on the ruins of the United States'.

With the West mesmerised by the Cold War, which German 'Black' intelligence under General Reinhard Gehlen (DVD) systematically promoted by feeding false information to the Allies about Soviet intentions, the Nazis created a 'safe haven' for their operations behind the cover of the Soviet and STASI facade. This cover has now been blown, and the lethal dangers presented by the secret power of Deutsche Verteidigungs Dienst is now exposed for all to see and understand.

Following the murder of Jack Roach and confirmation of the existence of DVD, there is now talk in certain intelligence circles of the need for this strategic Nazi Continuum organization to be decapitated and the long-range offensive against the joint 'Main Enemy' - -Britain and the United States - -to be decisively terminated once and for all. DVD merely informs the German Chancellor of its operations, if it feels like it; but as it is self-financed from immense hidden funds, especially heroin proceeds, it does not accept his or her instructions. Rather, it arrogantly considers itself, as custodian of Nazism, to be above the Government, having hidden for half a century behind the Soviet threat and the Cold War, for which it was itself largely responsible.

In other words, the German Chancellor is as powerless against these entrenched Nazis as the US Government and its Treasury appear to be in the face of their 'in-your-face' sabotage of the new 'Marshall Plan' for the United States designed by the US Treasury financial genius, Leo Wanta.

For this reason, there is today actually discussion about a Third World War - - and not just in the Middle East. A reference to this possibility appeared in an op-ed column by a known intelligence analyst in The Daily Telegraph, London, on 19th July. The apparent ongoing sabotage of The Wanta Plan by the German-directed Federal Reserve may prove to be just about the last straw.

Recall again, finally, that President Kennedy was assassinated after it became known that he intended to nationalise the Federal Reserve System.

Bush Sr. was present in Dallas on the date of the assassination, and was allegedly exfiltrated by plane in a hurry following the atrocity.

How long will the American people tolerate this endless foreign intermeddling in their affairs?

Wanta Explains Details Of Massive 4.5 Trillion Dollar Recovery In Monies Allegedly Stolen By Bush And Clinton Crime Families

An Estimated 1.575 Trillion To Be Returned To U.S.Treasury, As Former Ambassador Leo Wanta Explains Details Of Settlement. Although he hoped to recover more than 27.5 trillion, the benefit outweighed the risk in taking the smaller amount.

20 Jul 2006

By Greg Szymanski

In one of the major stories of the century, former Ambassador Leo Wanta provided details of a massive 4.5 trillion dollar settlement reached as a way to get back into U.S. coffers at least part of the 27.5 trillion stolen by the Bush and Clinton crime families in the biggest bank heist in world history.

The vast sum of money, used illegally by corrupt insiders inside the U.S. government, was amassed by Wanta as part of a plan he and several other financial whizzes devised on behalf of President Ronald Reagan to destabilize the Soviet currency, bringing a quick end to the Cold War.

Wanta, jailed illegally for over a decade, began trying to recover the money when released on house arrest more than a year ago.

Although working with limited resources and trying to recover the 27.5 trillion which more than doubled over the years, Wanta on June 12 entered into an agreement to stop his search, obtaining 4.5 trillion as 1.575 trillion will be placed into the U.S. Treasury after taxes and other expenses are paid.

Further, Wanta said based on private interest investments based on the original money made at the end of the Cold War more that 192 billion a day can be generated for American taxpayers on a daily basis, money he said that could wipe away America's 8 trillion dollar debt in rapid fashion.

"It is a done deal. For any disbelievers, I am ready with all the paperwork," said Wanta Wednesday on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal, this interview and its archived broadcast available at www.gcnlive.com "Right now the only thing holding up the money being placed into the U.S. Treasury is a hold put on by the Federal Reserve.

"I really don't understand why but all the proper parties and top government officials are aware of the settlement papers. The American people need to contact their Senators, the White House and Attorney Gen. Alberto Gonzalez to make sure the money is spent properly and not hidden like it was before."

Although Wanta wanted to get all the money back, he felt under the circumstances and due to the amount of corruption over the years, the benefit outweighed the risk if a settlement wasn't reached now.

Asked what he thought happened to the rest of the money, he said it was misused, put in private accounts and essentially stolen from the American people by corrupt officials, including Daddy Bush, Clinton and others.

What happens to the massive settlement now is essentially out of Wanta's hands, but he said the American people must get behind him and make sure the corrupt powers that be in Washington don't rip off the money again.

He said if it were up to him the money should be used to improve the American infrastructure, as well as improving roads, schools and other important aspects of the American economy literally left to rot by the corrupt New World Order and neo con controllers.

With the Wanta settlement staring officials in the face, he said it was imperative people do not take this story lightly. Wanta's words can be justified since the mainstream media has purposely ignored the importance of this story, not only from a financial angle but from the angle that the story reveals criminal actions on the part of America's highest leaders, including Bush and Clinton.

To better understand the story, it is important to remember that Wanta was named legal trustor of vast sum of money by President Reagan after he was assigned the task of destabilizing the Soviet monetary system, his efforts amassing a large war chest of dollars, which was to be returned to the U.S. Treasury

However, according to Wanta, after Reagan left office, he was back stabbed by the Bush I administration, leading to a long and unwarranted jail term to "get him out of the way," including more than 200 days in a Swiss jail and years behind bars on a bogus Wisconsin state income tax charge.

Released more than a year ago, Wanta has been trying with limited resources and no cooperation from the government and the media to return the money to the American people.

During his many years in jail, much of the money has been diverted to numerous private overseas accounts and, according to Wanta, essentially looted by the corrupt Bush and Clinton crime families.

But in an unexpected move in 2003 Wanta filed a federal court case to recover the money. Although the case was dismissed under sovereign immunity, he received verification from the court that his legal trustor status was valid, the judge telling him to use the federal collections courts as a recovery process.

During the last year, Wanta has been trying to retrace his financial tracks and Monday emailed the Arctic Beacon for being one of the only news outlets to follow the story, saying 1.2 trillion is a good first step at lowering the national debt.

"Thank you and your staff for their kind assistance to recover said corporate/repatriation funds with full disclosure to the United States Department of the Treasury, et al," said Wanta Monday in an email to the Arctic Beacon.

And to get a better picture of the murder, intrigue, corruption and backstabbing involved in the Wanta story, including the appearances of Vince Foster and Marc Rich, read the following story reprinted again due to the importance of this ongoing story.

By Greg Szymanski

It seems behind every rock there is another dead body when it comes to the incredible case of Ambassador Leo Wanta, the man holding 27.5 trillion dollars in trust for the American people as Illuminati banksters try to rip him off on a daily basis.

First there was attorney Vince Foster, Deputy White House Counsel to President Clinton, found dead in a Washington D.C. park just after Wanta handed him 250 million in Switzerland for the Childrens' Defense Fund, a fund both men thought was legit but turned out to be nothing more than a front for black ops money considered by insiders to be Hillary Clinton's personal slush fund.

Then there was Wanta's business partner, Kok Howe Kwong, and other associates like Freddie Woodruff and Francois de Grosseurve, all found dead, according to Wanta, "strangely for their personal belief in our Great Nation, but by betrayal of others with falsehoods and malice," pointing the finger in the direction of George H. Bush and Clinton.

And now, years later, after Wanta spent a lengthy, what he calls "trumped-up" prison sentence and now released on house arrest, the killing appears to be continuing in an all out effort by the Illuminati to get their hands on the vast sum of money in Wanta's control before it ever can be released safely into the hands of the American people.

The reason being Wanta, nicknamed the '27.5 Trillion Dollar Man', is legally holding the financial "golden keys" to a vast sum of money made right after the Cold War after he and others on behalf of President Ronald Reagan were assigned to destabilize the Russian Ruble. The profits have now grown to approximately 27.5 trillion and Wanta has been legally appointed trustee by a 2003 federal court ruling out of Alexandria, Virginia.

And to verify the dangers behind the Wanta story due to the enormous sum of money at stake, Marco Saba of the Observatory of Organized Crime in Switzerland, a privately funded European crime watch dog group, this week had this to say about the 27.5 trillion in Wanta's control:

"In January 2006 a man named 'Jack' tried to take money from one of Wanta's accounts at UBS - Zurich. He was killed in the basement of the UBS bank.

"In March, 2006, a former undercover Swiss agent Fausto "Tato" Cattaneo, worked closely with DEA, to defeat the Cali drug cartel in Colombia and he wrote a book in 2001 about his work to investigate the whereabouts of Leo Wanta's account in Switzerland.

"He recently was arrested by former police colleagues and held jailed for a week in Zurich. He has just been released. I agree that Wanta's story is very interesting and that people want to stop him from recovering the money."

Interviewed March 23 on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal, Wanta said he and Foster, as well as many other patriots working in the best interests of the U.S., were essentially double-crossed, Foster being murdered for "knowing too much" and Wanta being shackled and hidden away in a Swiss dungeon for 134 days.

For the entire story of how Wanta was sentenced to 22 years for a bogus Wisconsin state income tax evasion charge, recently released and still under house arrest with 10 years remaining on his sentence and how in 2003 a federal judge ruled he was legal trustee of 27.5 trillion from Cold War profits from destabilizing the Soviet currency, see print story in archives of www.arcticbeacon.com or two hour radio interview on www.rbnlive.com in the archives of the Investigative Journal.

Filed on Dec. 4, 1998, in Swiss court documents before the Honorable Judge Jacques Antenen on behalf of AmeriTrust Corp., one of the legal entities protecting trillions for the American people, Wanta entered the following statements about how he was being framed and how many of his associates, not on the treasonous Bush/Clinton team, were strangely and mysteriously killed.

Further, Wanta was in the middle of what turned out to be an illegal Bush and Clinton network of illegal banking drug running and other treasonous affairs in direct violation of international and U.S. law. Although a complex statement, it lists many names and account references that if investigated properly, could perhaps get to the bottom of some of the Illuminati's illegal funding and treasonous acts directed against the people of the United States.

"We have never laundered any money, since we are authorized to receive 10 percent of any and all US Government lawful seizures under our United States Agreements, as we are definitely not the alleged criminals as falsely stated by unknown State and Suisse provocateurs in some shadow, without truthful facts and Counter-Intelligence knowledge and related USG responsibilities," said Wanta in the 1998 Swiss court documents.

"My partner and brother, Kok Howe Kwong, and my associates like Freddie Woodruff, Francois de Grosseurve and Vince Foster died strangely for their personal belief in our Great Nation, by BETRAYAL of others with falsehoods and malice, USG "Security Code - NEW REPUBLIC" of USCA 18 / 6 Jackson, Mississippi, INTEL.ops legally organized as New Republic / USA Financial Group, Ltd. to coordinate U. Regarding the present hi-jacking of the U.S. Constitution and the U.S. government, as well as his own personal role in trying to protect the American people from massive corruption, leading to what could be the eventual destruction of the U.S., he added his final comments in the 1998 Swiss court documents:

Now without any doubt, we have a conscious US Government policy of ignoring reality. Directed Energy Weapons Killing People Through Guise Of Insanity Most Americans care less if fellow citizens 'cooked to death' but not Joe from California.

19 Jul 2006

By Greg Szymanski

It's no secret the Arctic Beacon and the Investigative Journal Radio Show are two of the only media outlets taking seriously the use of directed energy weapons on the people of the world.

Numerous victims and experts have come forth with credible evidence, but nevertheless most Americans are turning a blind eye to the enormous problem.

In fact, so much evidence has come forward it has become the story of the century since the illicit and unscrupulous use of directed energy weapons are literally killing people under the guise of insanity.

Furthermore, electronic weaponry used to fry people like roasting chickens in a microwave is perhaps the perfect crime even Sherlock Holmes couldn't solve since the perpetrator never can be heard or seen.

On top of all the evidence located in the Arctic Beacon and Investigative Journal archives, Joe, a reader from California, provides more solid evidence, pointing to a 1999 report entitled "Non-Lethal Technologies: Progress and Prospects" by non other than that friendly group called the Council on Foreign Relations.

"GREG, YOUR RADIO SHOW AND ARTICLES ON ELECTRONIC WEAPONRY MOTIVATED ME TO SEARCH FOR CONFIRMATION OF THE TRUTH," SAID JOE, WHO WANTED TO REMAIN ANONYMOUS. "AFTER A LONG LABORIOUS SEARCH, I FOUND THIS INCREDIBLE 47 PAGE REPORT IN THE WEBSITE PERTAINING TO THE COUNCIL OF FOREIGN RELATIONS WRITTEN BY THEIR MEMBERS! YES, BY THE COUNCIL OF FOREIGN RELATIONS!"

"THE INTEGRITY AND CREDIBILITY OF THE COURAGEOUS VICTIMS OF THESE WEAPONS THAT HAVE SPOKEN ON YOUR RADIO SHOW AS WELL AS YOUR INTEGRITY AS A TRUE JOURNALIST AND PATRIOT IS VINDICATED BY THIS GROUP'S OWN WRITINGS. THIS 47 PAGE REPORT CONFIRMS THE EXISTENCE OF EXISTENCE OF ELECTRONIC WEAPONRY AND ITS USE BY GOVERNMENTS AROUND THE WORLD. I HAVE NO DOUBT THAT YOU WILL READ EACH WORD OF THIS REPORT, BUT HERE ARE SOME IMPORTANT QUOTES."

Joe continued, citing what he thought to be the important parts of the CFR report:

At the bottom of page 37, the amazingly "double speak" appears stating, "Against this background, the Council on Foreign Relations convened an independent Task Force to consider the subject of non-lethal technologies and optimum force options. "Non-lethal technologies involve a wide range of materials and techniques that coerce or deter largely without killing (although unintended deaths may result) and that for the most part will also appear to be intended to limit casualties and destructiveness. (There is no sharp division, but rather a continuum, between non-lethal weapons and precision-directed lethal weapons that can be used in non- or limited-lethal actions, such as the nighttime or holiday destruction of power, communications, or weapons facilities.)"

Continuing on page 38, "Potential non-lethal technologies include communications elimination and substitution and other forms of information warfare, various "slickums" and "stickums" to impede vehicle or foot traffic, movement-inhibiting foams and nets to ensnare combatants and vehicles, precision kinetic disabling of heavy weapons, computer-assisted precision anti-mortar/anti-sniper devices, obnoxious sounds or smells that cause flight, counter-sensor lasers, and electronic or electromagnetic means of disabling power grids, ommunications, computers, and credit networks."

On page 41, The Task Force considered a number of potentially significant obstacles and objections to the development and use of non-lethal weapons systems. First was the problem of the slippery slope. Non-lethal weapons may create options that appear so attractive, politically and otherwise, that decision-makers will be tempted to use them in inappropriate circumstances and be led into a quagmire. For example, decision-makers responding to televised images of horror and wishing to appear to act might resort solely to information warfare under circumstances where it would be useless, counterproductive, or arouse resentment about interference in other societies. Recognition of this danger, however, should serve to abate it. (WOW!!!) Congressional oversight is of course also relevant, and congressional leaders normally consulted regarding interventions and the dispatch of U.S. troops should be familiar with both the potential advantages and risks of non-lethal technologies in warfare.

On page 43, The moral and legal implications of international law for various proposed non-lethal systems must be carefully weighed. The Biological Weapons Convention of 1972, ratified by the United States in 1975, might be interpreted to prohibit the development of certain agents designed to battle artillery and tanks or degrade lubricants (either through a literal reading or because of the unintended possible effect of human exposure). Quite apart from questions of non-lethal weapons, the rapid rate of development of biotechnology and the increasing civilian use of bioengineered organisms (for example, in the treatment of oil spills) is likely to require periodic updating of the convention.

Former Ambassador Leo Wanta Getting 1.575 Trillion Of Stolen U.S. Funds Back To Treasury

Despite the Bush and Clinton crime families efforts to rip-off the country of more than 27.5 trillion, Wanta has recovered more than 1.575 trillion. He further thanked the Arctic Beacon for being one of the only news outlets to believe his story as the mainstream media remains hush-hush.

18 Jul 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Good news for the American people, courtesy of former Ambassador Leo Wanta, as more than 1.575 trillion dollars is being returned to the U.S. Treasury.

Although a rather hefty sum, it is only a small portion of the 27.5 trillion, now more than doubled due to interest, Wanta has been trying to recover on behalf of the American people since the end of the Cold War.

Wanta was named legal trustor of vast sum of money by President Reagan after he was assigned the task of destabilizing the Soviet monetary system, his efforts amassing a large war chest of dollars, which was to be returned to the U.S. Treasury

However, according to Wanta, after Reagan left office, he was back stabbed by the Bush I administration, leading to a long and unwarranted jail term to "get him out of the way," including more than 200 days in a Swiss jail and years behind bars on a bogus Wisconsin state income tax charge.

Released more than a year ago, Wanta has been trying with limited resources and no cooperation from the government and the media to return the money to the American people.

During his many years in jail, much of the money has been diverted to numerous private overseas accounts and, according to Wanta, essentially looted by the corrupt Bush and Clinton crime families.

But in an unexpected move in 2003 Wanta filed a federal court case to recover the money. Although the case was dismissed under sovereign immunity, he received verification from the court that his legal trustor status was valid, the judge telling him to use the federal collections courts as a recovery process.

During the last year, Wanta has been trying to retrace his financial tracks and Monday emailed the Arctic Beacon for being one of the only news outlets to follow the story, saying 1.575 trillion is a good first step at lowering the national debt.

"Thank you and your staff for their kind assistance to recover said corporate/repatriation funds with full disclosure to the United States Department of the Treasury, et al," said Wanta Monday in an email to the Arctic Beacon.

Although the financial arrangements are complicated and did not want to elaborate the sensitive nature of the recovery due wiretapping issues, Wanta said he has been under serious pressure due to the large sum of money, which would be far more than a black eye to Daddy Bush, President Bush and Clinton if wind of the recovery ever made it to the main stream media.

Up until now, as expected, all news outlets in America are playing a hush-hush game, as in essence they serve as nothing more than propaganda arms for the New World Order, bringing down America piece by piece.

In fact, the incredible Wanta story, dubbed the 27.5 trillion dollar man, may prove to be the "story of the century" even though it is cloaked in a complicated web of financial accounting, mystery and intrigue dating back to the end of the Cold War.

But, as expected, in the midst of the many lies told to the people about a failed economy, the crime lords in the Bush and Clinton families having been part and parcel in the biggest rip-off in modern day banking history to the tune of more that 27.5 trillion, a conservative estimate according to Wanta.

Wanta will be appearing this week on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal, to talk more in depth about the 1.2 trillion dollar recovery.

For a concise story about the back stabbing and dirty dealings of the Wanta story, read one of the many stories in the arctic Beacon archives as well as the following one printed a couple of months ago.

By Greg Szymanski

It seems behind every rock there is another dead body when it comes to the incredible case of Ambassador Leo Wanta, the man holding 27.5 trillion dollars in trust for the American people as Illuminati banksters try to rip him off on a daily basis.

First there was attorney Vince Foster, Deputy White House Counsel to President Clinton, found dead in a Washington D.C. park just after Wanta handed him 250 million in Switzerland for the Childrens' Defense Fund, a fund both men thought was legit but turned out to be nothing more than a front for black ops money considered by insiders to be Hillary Clinton's personal slush fund.

Then there was Wanta's business partner, Kok Howe Kwong, and other associates like Freddie Woodruff and Francois de Grosseurve, all found dead, according to Wanta, "strangely for their personal belief in our Great Nation, but by betrayal of others with falsehoods and malice," pointing the finger in the direction of George H. Bush and Clinton.

And now, years later, after Wanta spent a lengthy, what he calls "trumped-up" prison sentence and now released on house arrest, the killing appears to be continuing in an all out effort by the Illuminati to get their hands on the vast sum of money in Wanta's control before it ever can be released safely into the hands of the American people.

The reason being Wanta, nicknamed the '27.5 Trillion Dollar Man', is legally holding the financial "golden keys" to a vast sum of money made right after the Cold War after he and others on behalf of President Ronald Reagan were assigned to destabilize the Russian Ruble. The profits have now grown to approximately 27.5 trillion and Wanta has ben legally appointed trustee by a 2003 federal court ruling out of Alexandria, Virginia.

And to verify the dangers behind the Wanta story due to the enormous sum of money at stake, Marco Saba of the Observatory of Organized Crime in Switzerland, a privately funded European crime watch dog group, this week had this to say about the 27.5 trillion in Wanta's control:

"In January 2006 a man named 'Jack' tried to take money from one of Wanta's accounts at UBS - Zurich. He was killed in the basement of the UBS bank.

"In March, 2006, a former undercover Swiss agent Fausto "Tato" Cattaneo, worked closely with DEA, to defeat the Cali drug cartel in Colombia and he wrote a book in 2001 about his work to investigate the whereabouts of Leo Wanta's account in Switzerland.

"He recently was arrested by former police colleagues and held jailed for a week in Zurich. He has just been released. I agree that Wanta's story is very interesting and that people want to stop him from recovering the money."

Interviewed March 23 on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal, Wanta said he and Foster, as well as many other patriots working in the best interests of the U.S., were essentially double-crossed, Foster being murdered for "knowing too much" and Wanta being shackled and hidden away in a Swiss dungeon for 134 days.

For the entire story of how Wanta was sentenced to 22 years for a bogus Wisconsin state income tax evasion charge, recently released and still under house arrest with 10 years remaining on his sentence and how in 2003 a federal judge ruled he was legal trustee of 27.5 trillion from Cold War profits from destabilizing the Soviet currency, see print story in archives of www.arcticbeacon.com or two hour radio interview on www.rbnlive.com in the archives of the Investigative Journal.

The Good Will Die Young If Americans Don't Wake Up And Smell The Coffee
We must find the main source of evil destroying our country or the world is doomed.

14 Jul 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The ideas and words of hero-priest Fr. Alberto Rivera should never be forgotten.

But, unfortunately, the good die young and evil prevails.

Why?

It has been that way from the beginning of time and it will be that to the end unless we, as Americans, wake up and smell the coffee.

By smelling the coffee, it means waking up and smelling the truth behind the mountain of lies fed hand to mouth by the Vatican.

And if America sleeps, many will die and evil will run its course just like it has since the Pope's Crusades of the Middle Ages.

The Vatican is the main source of evil and the Jesuits do their dirty work. If you remain skeptical, listen to the words of former Jesuit priest, the deceased Fr. Rivera, killed by the wicked hand of the Society of Jesus.

Testimony of Alberto Rivera :

What I'm going to tell you is what I learned in secret briefings in the Vatican when I was a Jesuit priest, under oath and induction. A Jesuit cardinal named Augustine Bea showed us how desperately the Roman Catholics wanted Jerusalem at the end of the third century. Because of its religious history and its strategic location, the Holy City was considered a priceless treasure. A scheme had to be developed to make Jerusalem a Roman Catholic city.

The great untapped source of manpower that could do this job was the children of Ishmael. The poor Arabs fell victim to one of the most clever plans ever devised by the powers of darkness.

Early Christians went everywhere with the gospel setting up small churches, but they met heavy opposition. Both the Jews and the Roman government persecuted the believers in Christ to stop their spread.

But the Jews rebelled against Rome, and in 70 AD, Roman armies under General Titus smashed Jerusalem and destroyed the great Jewish temple which was the heart of Jewish worship, in fulfillment of Christ's prophecy in Matthew 24:2. On this holy place today where the temple once stood, the Dome of the Rock Mosque stands as Islam's third most holy place.

Sweeping changes were in the wind. Corruption, apathy, greed, cruelty, perversion and rebellion were eating at the Roman Empire, and it was ready to collapse. The persecution against Christians was useless as they continued to lay down their lives for the gospel of Christ.

The only way Satan could stop this thrust was to create a counterfeit "Christian" religion to destroy the work of God. The solution was in Rome.

Their religion had come from ancient Babylon and all it needed was a face-lift.

This didn't happen overnight, but began in the writings of the "early church fathers." It was through their writings that a new religion would take shape.

The statue of Jupiter in Rome was eventually called St. Peter, and the statue of Venus was changed to the Virgin Mary. The site chosen for its headquarters was on one of the seven hills called "Vaticanus," the place of diving serpent where the Satanic temple of Janus stood. The great counterfeit religion was Roman Catholicism, called "Mystery, Babylon the Great, the Mother of Harlots and Abominations of the Earth." Revelation 17:5.

She was raised up to block the gospel, slaughter the believers in Christ, establish religions, create wars and make the nations drunk with the wine of her fornication as we will see.

The roots of Islam are traced to a tribal contention over a well, (Zamzam), the treasure of the Kaaba. The offerings that pilgrims had given were dumped down the well and it was filled with sand - it disappeared. Many years later Adb Al-Muttalib was given visions telling him where to find the well and its treasure. He became the hero of Mecca, and he was destined to become the grandfather of Muhammad.

Before this time, Augustine became the bishop of North Africa and was effective in winning Arabs to Roman Catholicism, including whole tribes. It was among these Arab converts to Catholicism that the concept of looking for an Arab prophet developed.

Muhammad's father died from illness. After his mother and grandfather also died, Muhammad was with his uncle. A Roman Catholic monk learned of his identity and said, "Take your brother's son back to his country and guard him against the Jews, for by god, if they see him and know of him that which I know, they will construe evil against him. Great things are in store for this brother's son of yours." The Roman Catholic monk had fanned the flames for future Jewish persecutions at the hands of the followers of Muhammad.

The Vatican desperately wanted Jerusalem because of its religious significance, but was blocked by the Jews. Another problem was the true Christians in North Africa who preached the gospel. Roman Catholicism was growing in power, but would not tolerate opposition.

Somehow the Vatican had to create a weapon to eliminate both the Jews and the true Christian believers who refused to accept Roman Catholicism.

Looking to North Africa, they saw the multitudes of Arabs as a source of manpower to do their dirty work. Some Arabs had become Roman Catholic, and could be used in reporting information to leaders in Rome. Others were used in an underground spy network to carry out Rome's master plan to control the great multitudes of Arabs who rejected Catholicism.

When "St Augustine" appeared on the scene, he knew what was going on. His monasteries served as bases to seek out and destroy Bible manuscripts owned by the true Christians. The Vatican wanted to create a messiah for the Arabs, someone they could raise up as a great leader, a man with charisma whom they could train, and eventually unite all the non-Catholic Arabs behind him, creating a mighty army that would ultimately capture Jerusalem for the pope.

In the Vatican briefing, Cardinal Bea told us this story: A wealthy Arabian lady who was a faithful follower of the pope played a tremendous part in this drama. She was a widow named Khadijah. She gave her wealth to the church and retired to a convent, but was given an assignment. She was to find a brilliant young man who could be used by the Vatican to create a new religion and become the messiah for the children of Ishmael.

Khadijah had a cousin named Waraquah,, who was also a very faithful Roman Catholic and the Vatican placed him in a critical role as Muhammad's advisor. He had tremendous influence on Muhammad. Teachers were sent to young Muhammad and he had intensive training.

Muhammad studied the works of St. Augustine which prepared him for his "great calling." The Vatican had Catholic Arabs across North Africa spread the story of a great one who was about to rise up among the people and be the chosen one of their God.

While Muhammad was being prepared, he was told that his enemies were the Jews and that the only true Christians were Roman Catholic. He was taught that others calling themselves Christians were actually wicked impostors and should be destroyed. Many Muslims believe this.

Muhammad began receiving "divine revelations" and his wife's Catholic cousin Waraquah helped interpret them. From this came the Koran.

In the fifth year of Muhammad's mission, persecution came against his followers because they refused to worship the idols in the Kaaba. Muhammad instructed some of them to flee to Abyssinia where Negus, the Roman Catholic king, accepted them because Muhammad's views on the virgin Mary were so close to Roman Catholic doctrine. These Muslims received protection from Catholic kings because of Muhammad's revelations.

Muhammad later conquered Mecca and the Kaaba was cleared of idols. History proves that before Islam came into existence, the Sabeans in Arabia worshipped the moon-god who was married to the sun-god. They gave birth to three goddesses who were worshipped throughout the Arab world as "Daughters of Allah" An idol excavated at Hazor in Palestine in 1950's shows Allah sitting on a throne with the crescent moon on his chest. Muhammad claimed he had a vision from Allah and was told, "You are the messenger of Allah." This began his career as a prophet and he received many messages.

By the time Muhammad died, the religion of Islam was exploding. The nomadic Arab tribes were joining forces in the name of Allah and his prophet, Muhammad. Some of Muhammad's writings were placed in the Koran, others were never published. They are now in the hands of high ranking holy men (Ayatollahs) in the Islamic faith. When Cardinal Bea shared with us in the Vatican, he said, These writings are guarded because they contain information that links the Vatican to the creation of Islam. Both sides have so much information on each other, that if exposed, it could create such a scandal that it would be a disaster for both religions.

In their "holy" book, the Koran, Christ is regarded as only a prophet. If the pope was His representative on earth, then he also must be a prophet of God. This caused the followers of Muhammad to fear and respect the pope as another "holy man."

The pope moved quickly and issued bulls granting the Arab generals permission to invade and conquer the nations of North Africa. The Vatican helped to finance the building of these massive Islamic armies in exchange for three favors:

1. Eliminate the Jews and Christians (true believers, which they called infidels).
2. Protect the Augustinian Monks and Roman Catholics.
3. Conquer Jerusalem for "His Holiness" in the Vatican.

As time went by, the power of Islam became tremendous. Jews and true Christians were slaughtered, and Jerusalem fell into their hands. Roman Catholics were never attacked, nor were their shrines, during this time. But when the pope asked for Jerusalem, he was surprised at their denial!

The Arab generals had such military success that they could not be intimidated by the pope -- nothing could stand in the way of their own plan. Under Waraquah's direction, Muhammad wrote that Abraham offered Ishmael as a sacrifice. The Bible says that Isaac was the sacrifice, but Muhammad removed Isaac's name and inserted Ishmael's name.

As a result of this and Muhammad's vision, the faithful Muslims built a mosque, the Dome of the Rock, in Ishmael's honor on the site of the Jewish temple that was destroyed in 70 AD. This made Jerusalem the 3rd most holy place in the Islam faith. How could they give such a sacred shrine to the pope without causing a revolt? The pope realized what they had created was out of control when he heard they were calling "His Holiness" an infidel.

The Muslim generals were determined to conquer the world for Allah and now they turned toward Europe. Islamic ambassadors approached the pope and asked for papal bulls to give them permission to invade European countries. The Vatican was outraged; war was inevitable. Temporal power and control of the world was considered the basic right of the pope. He wouldn't think of sharing it with those whom he considered heathens.

The pope raised up his armies and called them crusades to hold back the children of Ishmael from grabbing Catholic Europe. The crusades lasted centuries and Jerusalem slipped out of the pope's hands. Turkey fell and Spain and Portugal were invaded by Islamic forces. In Portugal, they called a mountain village "Fatima", in honor of Muhammad's daughter, never dreaming it would become world famous.

Years later when the Muslim armies were poised on the islands of Sardinia and Corsica, to invade Italy, there was a serious problem. The Islamic generals realized they were too far extended. It was time for peace talks. One of the negotiators was Francis of Assisi. As a result, the Muslims were allowed to occupy Turkey in a "Christian" world, and the Catholics were allowed to occupy Lebanon in the Arab world. It was also agreed that the Muslims could build mosques in Catholic countries without interference as long as Roman Catholicism could flourish in Arab countries.

Cardinal Bea told us in Vatican briefings that both the Muslims and Roman Catholics agreed to block and destroy the efforts of their common enemy, Bible-believing Christian missionaries. Through these concordats, Satan blocked the children of Ishmael from a knowledge of Scripture and the truth.

A light control was kept on Muslims from the Ayatollah down through the Islamic priests, nuns and monks. The Vatican also engineers a campaign of hatred between the Muslim Arabs and the Jews. Before this, they had co-existed peacefully.

The Islamic community looks on the Bible-believing missionary as a devil who brings poison to the children of Allah. This explains years of ministry in those countries with little results.

The next plan was to control Islam. In 1910, Portugal was going Socialistic. Red flags were appearing and the Catholic Church was facing a major problem. Increasing numbers were against the church. The Jesuits wanted Russia involved, and the location of this vision at Fatima, could play a key part in pulling Islam to the Mother Church.

In 1917, the Virgin appeared in Fatima. "The Mother of God" was a smashing success, playing to overflow crowds. As a result, the Socialists of Portugal suffered a major defeat. Roman Catholics worldwide began praying for the conversion of Russia, and the Jesuits invented the Novenas to Fatima which they could perform throughout North Africa, spreading good public relations to the Muslim world.

The Arabs thought they were honoring the daughter of Muhammad. This is what the Jesuits wanted them to believe, as a result of the vision of Fatima.

Pope Pius XII ordered his Nazi army to crush Russia and the Orthodox religion and make Russia Roman Catholic." A few years after he lost World war II, Pope Pius XII startled the world with his phoney dancing sun vision to keep Fatima in the news. It was great religious show biz and the world swallowed it. Not surprisingly, Pope Pius was the only one to see this vision.

As a result, a group of followers has grown into a Blue Army world-wide, totaling millions of faithful Roman Catholics ready to die for the blessed virgin. But we haven't seen anything yet. The Jesuits have their Virgin Mary scheduled to appear four or five times in China, Russia, and major appearance in the U. S.. This is what "Project Blue Beam" is all about, great pretended apparitions of Vatican Roma's Virgin.

Author Who Uncovered Satanic Worshipping And Child Sacrificing In The Mormon Temple Has Wriiten Sen. Orrin Hatch A Letter, Demanding The Lying Stop

A. True Ott, excommunicated from the LDS Church, is demanding the government come clean with the American people, including honesty about 9/11 and the bogus war on terror.
13 Jul 2006

By Greg Szymanski

A. True Ott has been a thorn in the side of LDS church officials for his candidly shocking comments about uncovering satanic worshipping and child sacrificing in the bowels of the Mormon Temple in Salt Lake City.

The LDS hierarchy has denied Ott's allegations as well as mounting a campaign against him, including death threats and excommunication from the Church.

Ott has come forward based on eye-witness testimony from people inside the LDS Church, who have remained anonymous, fearing for their lives.

After the story aired several months on the Investigative Journal radio show and in the Arctic Beacon, it has 'gone in one ear and out the other' as people in America continue to ignore facts pinning the LDS hierarchy along with the Vatican with satanic worshipping.

Besides Ott's allegations about the LDS hierarchy, other people have come forward telling of child sacrificing in the catacombs of the Vatican. The in depth stories can be read in the archives of the Arctic Beacon.

Although people have trouble believing such activities take place, Ott believes otherwise, basing his allegations on years of research during his days as a devout Mormon.

"When I realized the basic tenets of the LDS Church were nothing but lies, I began a search for the truth which has uncovered the satanic worshipping and child sacrificing within the Salt Lake City Temple," said Ott recently when he appeared on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal.

Besides his quest for the truth about the satanic influence having a strangle hold on the LDS Church, he recently sent a letter to U.S. Senator Orrin Hatch, asking for honesty in government as well as accusing Hatch of putting up a patriotic smokescreen while lying to the public about the fraudulent war on terror.

The following are portions of Ott's letter to Hatch, which most likely will be tossed in the trash can like millions of other letters just like it. But, anyway, the letter is worth reading as it sums up many issues, including 9/11, being ignored by Washington as the elites continue to destroy America right before the sleeping eyes of people.

Dear Senator:

As I travel across this great country, and meet with many blue collar working class individuals, I detect a growing malcontent that you and the ruling elite may not be aware of. The majority of Americans are beginning to realize that we the people have been systematically lied to; that indeed America is waging two wars, and wrongfully occupying two countries based on dastardly lies and deception. Americans are beginning to realize the so-called war on terror may instead be a war to liberate and secure Afghanistan poppy fields for George H.W PoppyBush and his "big pharma: partners. (The top 30 money-making drugs including Viagra and OxyContin are derived from Afghan opium crops which were destroyed by the Taliban!) Of course, why stop there? When Osama was never located in Afghanistan, then focus somehow shifted to the evil dictator Saddam and the specter of an Iraqi mushroom cloud..

Sir, please be honest and admit that George W. Bush, his family and business associates who form his cabinet are deeply vested in three major industries: 1. Pharmaceutical drugs that must have an uninterrupted flow of opium from Afghanistan to remain profitable. 2. Oil of which Iraq's fields are now controlled by Standard Oil interests, and 3. War- specifically missile technology and ammunition manufacturing.

As Marine Corp General, and Medal of Honor recipient Smedley Butler shockingly declared in a speech to the Joint Chiefs in 1939: "War is a Racket with politician-gangsters reaping the profits! I would concur the big question is, would you jeopardize your position of power by concurring as well? Who, sir, has profited? Is America truly safer today?

Senator Hatch, the American Flag is indeed a unique symbol of our nation, but I disagree strongly that the SYMBOL itself demands protection via constraint of law. The flag itself, sir, is in fact only a symbol. It is a mere rectangular piece of cloth and nothing more.

However, the PRINCIPLES that Americans pledge to PROTECT FROM ALL ENEMIES BOTH DOMESTIC AND FOREIGN when we salute the flag include personal freedoms under the REPUBLIC and its inspired constitution, justice under the law, and liberty for all. It is these principles themselves, and not a mere symbol of them that people fight, bleed and die for! It is these principles that governments are sworn to protect, not corporate profits! Sir, we are NOT the world's oldest democracy, America was born to be a REPUBLIC. You, a U.S. Senator and elder statesman, of all people, should know the difference!

I would humbly ask you, Sir, to focus on issues that will keep this Republic strong and safe as you pledged to do when you took your oath of office. Nearly five years ago, shortly after the events of 9/11 unfolded, I listened to you declare publicly on Utah television: This is an act of war we have intercepted cell phone communications and we know who is responsible! Shortly thereafter, you received censure from your colleagues in the NSA and the CIA for publicly making that announcement as it could jeopardize national security.

The question I have for you, Senator, is simply this. If indeed the terrorists cell phone communications had been monitored and intercepted as you declared publicly, why then were the terrorists not immediately arrested prior to 9/11? Could it be possible that BYU Professor Jones et. al. are indeed accurate in their calculations concerning a planned demolition of the trade towers? Could it be possible 9/11 was orchestrated to mold public opinion into supporting invasions of sovereign countries based primarily on corporate profit motives? Please don't continue to insult the people's intelligence by claiming that massive 6-foot-thick steel girders defied the laws of physics and were melted by burning jet fuel into a very neat footprint; while arguing over whether a piece of symbolic cloth should be protected by statute!

Sir, American sovereignty and our borders are being threatened as never before under the concept of the North American Union. Why then do you write editorial letters placing symbolism over substance? Pharmaceutical companies have successfully passed legislation removing liability from any and all harmful reactions to their products, just as your colleagues in the Oval Office have spent billions on potentially dangerous bird flu vaccines. Senator, your job is to protect the people. Are you blindly choosing to look the other way as a pandemic is being planned; a pandemic involving major cities quarantined, commerce and banking restricted, millions of innocents killed, the financial collapse of America completed in order to birth and empower the North American Union?

Edmund Burke declared: "Evil flourishes when good men do nothing." Senator, I would hope and pray that you are a good man. Perilous times are upon us and this nation. Will you allow evil to flourish by doing nothing, i.e. continuing to focus your effort on protecting a piece of cloth? I submit that this was the SALIENT POINT of the Standard Examiner editorial. Please don't miss the point again!

The Very Fabric of American Existence is being Rocked

Brian Anderson comes forward saying beware Americans a fascist takeover is on the horizon.

12 Jul 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Brian Andersen of San Diego is another good example of a growing number of Americans who are questioning, researching and uncovering information that is rocking the very fabric of their existence.

Andersen, an independent businessman deeply troubled by the loss of freedoms, began his personal quest for the truth back in the 1970s when he became disturbed and troubled about the JFK assassination.

Realizing then his government was lying and even involved in the cover-up, he spent countless hours researching JFK, coming to the sad conclusion the American people were being duped and being set up for a more sinister scenario of events yet to come.

So as all the conspiracies unfolded over the last 30 years, Andersen continued to research them, including Waco, Ruby Ridge, the first WTC bombing and, of course, 9/11.

His conclusion: Beware of a complete fascist takeover of America and look back on history for all the tell-tale signs.

And when a recent discussion surfaced about the New World Order and the Jesuits sinking the Titanic to ensure implementation of the Federal Reserve system by killing many influential and wealthy passengers who opposed it, Andersen provided his views on the subject, adding he has researched it for many years.

The super ship named Titanic of the early 20th century was constructed to withstand blows from the largest icebergs. Like the Twin Towers, the Titanic had steel construction to take any abuse from nature or humans. Edward Smith, captain of the Titanic, like Larry Silverstein, owner of the Twin Towers, received calculated and critical assistance in scuttling the massive structure of steel under his control.

In an issue of Fate Magazine written in the 1960s that I reviewed over 15 years ago the author stated there was undisputable proof that the Titanic took on tons of high grade flammable coal that was stored in the mid-section and bow the ship.

The reason why the coal was stored according to the author was to secretly test out the feasibility of shipping and selling coal from Europe to America. That motive never made any sense to me because America has endless supplies of coal and importing the plentiful commodity from Europe would be impractical. The Fate Magazine article was very informative but created an unfinished puzzle in my analysis and investigation that began when I finished reading the article in the early 1990s.

However, after being informed of the hard facts related to the Jesuit's involvement in the sinking of the Titanic in your 7/9/06 article I realized the true purpose for the tons of coal that was stealthily loaded before the maiden voyage. Fact – Edward Smith, Captain of the Titanic, was a Jesuit priest...read article below:

<http://www.arcticbeacon.com/9-July-2006.html>

According to the Fate Magazine author, the coal suspiciously caught fire at the bottom of the pile and burned uncontrollably for days. In fact the coal was probably burning at furnace levels when the Titanic took on the first passengers. The author stated the crew did not know the coal was burning until 24 hours before colliding with the iceberg...yea right and 19 persons with box cutters who could not fly Cessna aircraft carried out 9-11.

The intense furnace like burning coal with steel melting temperatures at the core of the fire did a most important task...weaken the steel to an almost brittle consistency on the entire bow and forward portions of the port and aft. The intense melting temperatures on the inside of the ship and the frigid cold waters of the Atlantic buckled and swayed the steel structure of the Titanic so critical strength was compromised and lost.

A normal and unhampered Titanic would have taken on any iceberg and survived but the weakened steel of the barbequed Titanic crumbled like a potato chip when hitting the clump of ice at full speed.

The rushing sea water carried the tons of unburned coal to the most forward position of the bow therefore the Titanic went nose first like a dropping bomb into the abyss.

Had the coal not been on board the Titanic would have listed for days like any normal large ship with a breach in the hull and slowly submerged into the sea.

Those Jesuits are a crafty and creative cabal who really know how to throw an outrageous and historic barbeque gala and swim party...the Astor's were very impressed but they weren't informed to bring their gold plated skewers and silk covered rubber ducks.

So the Jesuits use coal on the Titanic that is blamed on icebergs, and then they use aerial dropped "dirty" atomic bombs that are a cover for ground based pulse weapons on Japan during World War II and then they use thermite and thermate to professionally demolish the steel of the Twin Towers that is hilariously blamed on jet fuel.

I do hope one day before it is too late the Protestant Christians of America and the intellectuals and patriots of the political and scientific communities will open their hearts and minds to the treachery and plots of the Jesuits and realize the English royalty, Rothschild's, Mossad, Morgan's, Warburg's, Samurai, Boxer's, Clinton's, Bush's, CIA, NSA, United Nations et all directly or ultimately answer to the black Jesuit pope Kolvenbach.

The J-Boys have their bloody bases and asses covered due to the refusal of key American Protestant Christians in media and leadership positions and patriots, intellectuals and politicians to open their scope, scrutiny and awareness to all the probabilities of the Jesuits that are supported by a mountain of hard evidence, historical facts and common sense.

Two of America's Many Political Prisoners Released From the Gulag Puttiing up an anti-Bush poster and speaking out at city council meetings are reasons under America's fascist climate to become a felon.

11 Jul 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Two of America's political prisoners will be getting out of jail this week, as their release highlights just how far down the road of fascism this country has gone.

After spending more than five weeks in jail on a felony conviction for putting up a an anti-Bush poster in downtown Cleveland, Carol Fisher was released from jail last Friday afternoon.

Although Fischer has been released, Elsebeth Baumgartner is still being held for psychiatric evaluations related to felony charges for speaking out against corruption at a Cuyahoga County (Ohio) city council meeting.

Baumgartner is expected to be released Saturday as June Maxim commented on her situation:

"I spoke with Else yesterday. She was supposed to get out last Wednesday with 3 days off her sentence for good time. The authorities have told Else that Judge Knepper has issued an order that she is not to be given good time which would indicate that he has had direct communications with the jail," said Maxim

"She says the authorities have told her that her jail files have been altered and tampered with.

She gets out Saturday, July 15, and her competency hearing is Monday, July 17 at 1:30 p.m. before Judge Knepper. I spoke with her husband over the weekend and he said that DA Kasaris has written a letter to her attorney, Kelleher saying that if the evaluation finds her competent, which she says it will, that he's going to keep sending her for evaluations until he gets the ruling he wants----a total denial of speedy trial.

"The Cuyahoga trial has been moved to Sept. 13 by Kasaris, thus all the delay would be chargeable to the People.

Else wants as many people in the courtroom Monday as possible to see and hear."

Regarding Fisher's incarceration for the Bush poster incident, the activist has appeared several times on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal, adding she was involved with "The World Can't Wait - Drive Out the Bush Regime" in Cleveland.

Her bogus arrest, trial, and conviction began when she put up a couple "Bush Step Down" posters on telephone poles in Cleveland Heights on January 29, 2006.

"Two separate court orders were issued releasing her from the Cuyahoga County Jail, cutting short her original 2 month sentence. On July 6, the court of appeals finally granted her an appeal bond, letting her out of jail while her trial and conviction is reviewed by a higher court," said a spokesman from the activist group supporting Fisher.

"And today, the original trial judge, Timothy McGinty, released her on time served, indicating that she had spent enough time in jail. But she is still under court order to take an "anger management class" and do two years probation with community service.

Carol has consistently declared that she has nothing to apologize for and is not guilty."

"Throughout this whole ordeal, she has continued to build resistance to the Bush regime, even while in jail. She thanks the many people who sent letters of support, books and articles to keep her up on world events, and donations for her legal defense. World Can't Wait stands with Carol Fisher, and will continue to fight this gross injustice.

"As we say in the Call for World Can't Wait, "If we speak the truth, they will try to silence us. If we act, they will try to stop us. But we speak for the majority, here and around the world, and as we get this going we are going to reach out to the people who have been so badly fooled by Bush and we are NOT going to stop."

As America celebrated the 4th of July, Fisher still remained in jail, but provided this letter to the Arctic Beacon about her experience:

"You asked for some particulars about the conditions here at Cuyahoga County Jail. The most troubling situation is with medical needs. Last night a woman had a grand mal seizure just because she was not given her prescribed medication. When she came in several weeks ago, she had her prescribed medicine - and a prior written order from the court requiring strict attention to taking her medication as a safety precaution to herself and others. Yet she was denied the meds for several weeks and then when she got them they still left out some, which led to the seizure, in the common room, collapsing on the concrete floor. This is typical.

"We watched as another woman declined into madness over the course of several days when she couldn't get her medication for bi-polar disorder. She was unable to sleep, and after 36 hours began to hallucinate and had no concept of where she was. After 3 days of this torture, allowing her to bang on the doors all night calling for attention, they carted her off to the psych ward - totally unnecessary suffering.

"Medications are doled out three times a day. But most people say they are not getting what they need, or only partial treatment, and frequently not what they have been prescribed. If you have a health issue, you write your complaint and it is sent to the clinic. Unless it is an emergency, it takes 2 to 3 weeks to be seen. (I was called down sooner because my situation was brought to the warden's attention. But still there were no results for a comparatively simple request). No one has a good thing to say about the clinic or the doctors. One 20 year old woman complained of a sore throat and earaches, and the doctor's comment to her was, "oh, maybe it's because you are swallowing too much come?" This is the attitude you are met with, sick or well.

"The last time (the third attempt) I tried to request my herbs and vitamins, I was told that there was "no pharmacological proof that these would be of benefit. It's all just touchy-feely stuff." I was told that a separate visit to the gyn doctor would be necessary for the yeast infection. That infection gave over to a possible bladder infection. I'm guessing that it will be a 2 or 3 week wait for another clinic visit.

"There are charges for all medication and treatment. These fees are paid thru commissary. So if you have a medical emergency, like the woman who had the seizure, you can't purchase anything else thru commissary because first the $ go to pay medical fees (even if the emergency was caused by their malpractice).

"The clinic is filthy. The health department should go inspect the 7th floor medical clinic. They have 2 holding cells where inmates wait to be seen. You might spend 45 minutes to an hour with other sick inmates in this area about 6'x12'. Bugs are flying in your face.

"The toilet/sink area in the holding cell stinks of urine and looks like it is never cleaned or disinfected - you might leave the clinic sicker than when you arrived.

Other big issues are the air and water. It's typical for people to develop respiratory problems and skin problems a day or two after arriving. Bladder infections are also common. You get only 2 cups of coffee, 1/2 pt. milk and 1 cup of koolaid each day. The tap water tastes and smells like sewage - people avoid drinking it and get dehydrated.

"People are always hungry. The meals are what you expect for jail - mostly starch, small portions of processed meat and rotten iceberg lettuce. The fresh fruit is coveted.

I am told that the jail is paid a certain amount of dollars per inmate - in the thousands - but can't verify that. They act like there is no money for anything. We are supposed to be issued t-shirts, socks, underwear but often as with me, there are no t-shirts, socks or even underwear available. Now they want you to buy it thru commissary, if what you wore in doesn't fit regulation. We went two weeks sharing 3 rolls of toilet paper between 30 women. The blankets are full of holes and the sheets are as thin as gauze. The towels are the size of dishtowels. There is no kleenex or paper napkins for meals.

"There's no regard for due process or "right to a speedy trial," or "right to contact your attorney." Those who are appointed public defenders often don't know their attorney's name or have any way of contacting them. If you don't have someone on the outside pulling for you, forget it. The only hope is thru the social worker who comes once a week. The majority of women in here are sitting and waiting for an unknown date for arraignment, for a hearing, for sentencing, or to be assigned a bed at an outside treatment center. People wait weeks and sometimes months even to be charged. When those with public defenders finally go to court they wait all day in holding cells with 2 to 8 others, often you get sent back upstairs with no results - hearing is rescheduled. Obviously you have no control over any of this.

"When I told the women that WCW was interested in hearing about conditions inside, these are the main things they emphasized: They were encouraged to know that somebody is listening. Later that day I noticed that 2 women had been motivated to write complaints to the warden and got everyone to sign them - about the bad water and cold showers and lack of toilet paper.

"People here are also curious about my mail and want to hear updates about opposition to the government. Also, many have been curious about World Can't Wait and want more information. I am still waiting to get copies of the WCW statement to share with inmates.

"I have really been trying to include those who are questioning and resisting into the activity surrounding my case - to show that it is not a matter of my personal actions and needs, but part of movement that is urgently struggling to expand its ranks and its impact. In here, oddly enough, it is difficult to grasp urgency, sometimes it seems hopeless to expect that anything will get resolved on any level.

"If you seek guidance and inspiration - pray ... I am notorious for not believing in god but most women don't even want to discuss it. Those who do are sharply struggling. One conversation that started out as a good debate over what kind of morality - and the literal interpretation of the bible - ended with this woman deciding that it would be a sin for her to entertain these thoughts. She read a few pages of preaching* and gave it back to me.

"But I intend to persist. With some women I have actually sat and looked up quotes in the bible and talked about the significance of the government aligned with the Christian fascists enforcing this kind of morality in concert with police state and scramble for empire. This is a whole different way of thinking for most people.

Women I have gotten to know - many who have moved on to Marysville or drug treatment or home - have given me ways of having on going contact with them.

Confession No. 12: Did The Jesuit Order Mastermind The Sinking Of The Titanic?

The captain of the ship was a Jesuit and many of its influential passengers opposed the formation of the Federal Reserve. Also, we look this week at portions of Vatican Assassins overlooked in past weeks.

9 Jul 2006

By Greg Szymanski

This week in Confession No. 12 by the shores of Brushy Creek we ask whether the Jesuit Order masterminded the sinking of the Titanic, moving next to discuss overlooked portions of author Eric Jon Phelps book, The Vatican Assassins.

Regarding the ill-fated Titanic, it must be remembered a rather large contingent of influential and wealthy businessmen were among the passengers, a contingent when looked closely openly opposed the establishment of the corrupt Federal Reserve banking system now financially destroying America.

To open the debate on the Jesuit connection to the Titanic, Doug Yurchey contributes this concise article, first pointing out the ship's captain was Edward Smith, a Jesuit who worked for J.P. Morgan.

Who Sunk The Titanic?

The above title does not read: What sunk the Titanic? It says: Who? The information below appeared inside my Outlook Express e-mailbox. The following is stunning and inspired me to write. When we think of great mysteries, controversies, conspiracies or historical questions...many come to mind:

- *Who really murdered JFK?
- * Who was really behind 9-11?
- * Did a greater conspiracy surround the Oklahoma Bombing?
- * Was Marilyn Monroe killed?
- * Did aliens crash at Roswell?

Another historical mystery or puzzle is: What was the real story behind the sinking of the Titanic? The book 'The Secret Terrorists' printed by Truth Triumphant Ministries and reprinted by Tree of Life Resources places blame squarely on the Roman Catholic Order known as the Jesuits. 'The greatest tragedies in the last 200 years can be traced to the Jesuits.'

Founded in 1540, the Society of Jesus grew rapidly within the Catholic Church. They were confessors to the ruling families of Europe. They defend the Pope and Catholicism around the world in nearly every country. In 1773, Clement XIV suppressed the Jesuits.

In 1814, Pope Pius VII responded to pressure and restored the Society. There are Jesuit colleges and ministries today. They are a very influential organization. Jesuits are dedicated to furthering Catholicism and the power of the Pope. Yet...there is a secret, negative side to this organization called 'the Society of Jesus.' For hundreds of years they carried out religious killings. They were the men in dark cloaks who carried daggers. (Were they the religious CIA for their time?)

In 1910, seven men met on Jekyll Island just off the coast of Georgia to plan the Federal Reserve Bank. Nelson Aldrich and Frank Valderclip represented the Rockefeller financial empire. Henry Davidson, Charles Norton and Benjamin Strong represented J.P. Morgan. Paul Warberg represented the Rothschilds Banking dynasty of Europe. The Rothschilds were the banking agents for the Jesuits and hold 'the key to the wealth of the Roman Catholic Church.'

The Morgan gang, the Rothschilds gang and the Rockefeller gang were fierce competitors yet entered joint ventures. They established the national banking cartel called the Federal Reserve System.... according to G. Edward Griffin in 'The Creature From Jekyll Island (American Opinion Publishing P. 209). A review of this book stated: 'It tells a story of how bankers have lured politicians with easy money and end up in control of most of the world.'

[This writer traveled to Jekyll Island in 1970 with his college tennis team. I had such a beautiful moment there one night: I was alone and drawn to a lighthouse. There stood deer in the darkness drinking from a pond. In the moonlight, it was a sight I'd never forget. Little did I realize that this wonderful, winter-resort for the rich had an evil history. Jekyll Island was properly named].

The Rothschilds, Morgans and Rockefellers are controlled by the Jesuit Order. The most powerful of families 'do whatever is necessary to destroy constitutional liberty in America and bring the Pope to world domination.' Construction of the Titanic began in 1909; at a shipyard in Belfast, Ireland. Belfast was Protestant and hated by the Jesuits. Morgan took control of the White Star Lines. The Jesuits ordered J. P. Morgan to build the Titanic.

From the very beginning of the luxury liner, the Titanic was destined for doom.

There were a number of powerful men who were NOT in favor of the Federal Reserve System. Benjamin Guggenheim, Isa Strauss and John Jacob Astor opposed the formation of a F.R.S. These men were arguably the richest men in the world and stood in the way of the Jesuits' plan. 'These three men were coaxed and encouraged to board the floating palace.' Not only were these enemies of the Jesuits against a Federal Reserve Bank, but they would have used their wealth and influence to oppose World War I.

This was the 'maiden' voyage of the greatest ship ever built. The 'unsinkable' campaign assured passengers of comfortable safety. Many Irish, French and Italian Catholics were on board. Protestants from Belfast were also encouraged to immigrate to the United States on the Titanic. These were 'expendable' people; for the most part. But, the real reason for the ship's destruction was a game between the super rich whereby Guggenheim-Strauss-Astor could be eliminated. 'They had to be destroyed by a means so preposterous that no one would suspect they were murdered, and no one would suspect the Jesuits.'

The Captain of the Titanic was Edward Smith. He was a Jesuit and worked for J.P. Morgan. Anyone could be a Jesuit and their identity not be known. >From National Geographic 'The Secrets of the Titanic,' (1986):

When the ship departed southern England, on board was Francis Browne. He was the most powerful Jesuit in all of Ireland and the 'Jesuit Master of Edward Smith.' 'Here is Jesuit treachery at its finest. The provincial Father Francis Browne boards the Titanic, photographs the victims, most assuredly briefs the Captain concerning his oath as a Jesuit, and the following morning bids him farewell...' Eric J. Phelps, Vatican Assassins Halcon Unified Services. P. 247.

Captain Smith believed this high-ranking 'Jesuit General' was God. Browne instructed him on what to do in the North Atlantic waters. 'Edward Smith was given orders to sink the Titanic and that's exactly what he did.' According to Jesuit secret philosophy: The innocent can be massacred for the greater good; the ends justifies the means.

Captain Smith had been traveling the North Atlantic for 26 years. He was the 'world's most experienced master' in these cold waters. The Captain knew all along that his ship was built for the enemies of the Jesuits. Its purpose was always to be a 'death ship' and sink on its first voyage. Captain Smith also knew exactly where the icebergs were. Under secret orders, he propelled the Titanic full speed at 22 knots on a moonless night and through a huge ice field 80 square miles in area! He had been 'given orders from his God in the Vatican, and nothing would turn him from his course.'

Captain Smith's actions in his last hours were not those of a strong leader. He seemed as if he was wrestling with his conscience. Should he be the brave sea captain or obey his master and sink the ship?

There were purposely not enough lifeboats. Many of the lifeboats only had a few passengers of women and children during the emergency. White distress flares were jettisoned. Passing ships thought those aboard the Titanic were having a party. The distress flares should have been red. These examples were not because of an arrogant crew who believed the Titanic was unsinkable. These shortcomings were planned.

Those richest of men, who opposed the Federal Reserve System, were killed along with the middle and lower classes. John Jacob Astor's wife was rescued. Molly Brown was also saved. The sinking of the Titanic was possibly the greatest disaster of the 20th Century outside of the World Wars. According to 'The Secret Terrorists,' the cause of this tragedy was the Jesuit Order of the Roman Catholic Church.

The unsinkable ship, the floating palace was created to be a tomb for the wealthy, who opposed the Federal Reserve System. On April 14th (the same date in history as the assassination of Abraham Lincoln) of 1912, the Titanic struck an iceberg and all opposition to the Federal Reserve was eliminated. In December of 1913, the Federal Reserve System came into being in the United States. Eight months later, the Jesuits had sufficient funding through the Federal Reserve Bank to begin World War I.' Notice the F.R.S. was established soon after the disaster of the Titanic.

The rich have always created unnecessary wars where the poor have to fight and die. The pages of 'The Secret Terrorists' do not specifically name the Templars, Freemasons or Illuminati. But these Secret Societies are related and do control: The banks; the money system; the oil companies; corporations; governments; the politicians; the military; the police; the law and judicial system; the churches; the schools; the media, etc., etc...

The rich and powerful have always ruled the world. The elite make the news; they create the great, international events. William Randolph Hearst invented the news and printed his propaganda in his paper.

It was the rich that purposely crashed the Stock Market in 1929 and caused the suffering of the Great Depression. The super rich had a highly-profitable, financial day during the Crash. It was the lesser-rich, want-to-be investors who lost everything.

IT IS NOT INCONCEIVABLE THAT WE HAVE HEARD SO MUCH ABOUT THE FAMOUS VOYAGE OF THE TITANIC BECAUSE IT WAS ONE OF THE MOST PERFECT CRIMES EVER COMMITTED!

Next we turn to portions of The Vatican Assassins overlooked in previous Confessions. The writings of author Eric Jon Phelps have helped open up the eyes of many people around the world about the devious undertakings of the Society of Jesus. Called a "Catholic basher." by his critics, Phelps, however, has always defended his controversial position with solid facts extracted from historical records.

*The following are direct excerpts from his book, adding a better foundation for those trying to answer the question Who are the Real Spiritual Controllers of the New World Order?

It should also be mentioned that Phelps' new and revised Vatican Assassins Third Edition will be available next month.

The Jesuits - 1540

Their Purpose And Oath

The purpose of the Jesuit Order, formally established by the Pope in 1540, is to destroy the Protestant Reformation. They call it the Counter-Reformation. Nicolini of Rome wrote:

"The Jesuits, by their very calling, by the very essence of their institution, are bound to seek, by every means, right or wrong, the destruction of Protestantism. This is the condition of their existence, the duty they must fulfill, or cease to be Jesuits." [Footprints of the Jesuits, R. W. Thompson, 1894]

Extract from Jesuit's Oath

To this end the professed Jesuits have obligated themselves with an oath, part of which was published in 1899, and reads:

"I do now renounce and disown my allegiance as due to any heretical King, Prince or State, named Protestant, or liberals, or obedience to any of their laws or magistrates or officers.

"I do further declare that the doctrine of the churches of England and Scotland, of the Calvinists, Huguenots, and other of the name Protestant or Liberals, to be damnable, and they themselves to be damned who will not forsake the same.

"I do further declare that I will help, assist and advise all or any of His Holiness' agents, in any place where I shall be, in Switzerland, Germany, Holland, Denmark, Sweden, Norway, England, Ireland or America, or in any other kingdom or territory I shall come to, and do my utmost to extirpate the heretical Protestant or liberal doctrines, and to destroy all their pretended powers, legal or otherwise." [Errors of the Roman Catholic Church, 15 Contributors, 1894]

In 1981, one of our heroes, Alberto Rivera, disclosed the oath he took as a professed Jesuit. We read:

Ceremony Of Induction And

Extreme Oath Of The Jesuits

(Given to a Jesuit of minor rank when he is to be elevated to a position of command.)

Superior Speaks:

"My son, heretofore you have been taught to act the dissembler among the Roman Catholics to be a Roman Catholic, and to be a spy even among your own brethren: to believe no man, to trust no man. Among the reformers, to be a reformer; among the Huguenots (French Protestants) to be a Huguenot:

among the Calvinists, to be a Calvinist: among the Protestants (those who protest and disagree with the Roman Catholic institution), generally to be a Protestant: and obtaining their confidence to seek even to preach from their pulpits, and to denounce with all the vehemence (violent emotion) in your nature our Holy Religion and the Pope; and even to descend so low as to become a Jew among the Jews, that you might be enabled to gather together all information for the benefit of your order as a faithful soldier of the Pope.

"You have been taught to insidiously plant the seeds of jealousy and hatred between states that were at peace, and incite them to deeds of blood, involving them in war with each other, and to create revolutions and civil wars in communities, provinces and countries that were independent and prosperous, cultivating the arts and the sciences and enjoying the blessings of peace;

"To take sides with the combatants and to act secretly in concert with your brother Jesuit who might be engaged on the other side, but openly opposed to that with which you might be connected;

"Only that the church might be the gainer in the end in the conditions fixed in the treaties for peace, and that the ends justify the means.

"You have been taught your duty as a spy, to gather all statistics, facts and information in your power from every source: to ingratiate yourself into the confidence of the family circle of Protestants and heretics of every class and character, as well as that of the merchant, the banker, the lawyer, among the schools and universities, in parliament and legislatures, and in the judiciaries and councils of State, and to 'be all things to all men', for the Pope's sake, whose servants we are unto death.

"You have received all your instructions heretofore as a novice (one who has no training), a neophyte (a newly ordained priest), and have served as a coadjutor (worked as a helper), confessor and priest, but you have not yet been invested with all that is necessary to command in the army of Loyola and in the service of the Pope.

"You must serve the proper time as the instrument and executioner as directed by your superiors; for none can command here who has not consecrated (made secret or holy) his labors with the blood of the heretic; for 'without the shedding of blood no man can be saved.'

"I, _____, now, in the presence of Almighty God, the blessed Virgin Mary, the blessed Michael the Archangel, the blessed St. John the Baptist, the Holy Apostles, St. Peter and St. Paul and all the saints and sacred hosts of heaven....

"I, furthermore, promise and declare that I will, when opportunity presents, make and wage relentless war, secretly and openly, against all heretics, Protestants and Liberals, as I am directed to do.

"That when the same cannot be done openly, I will secretly use the poisoned cup, the strangulation cord, the steel of the poniard (a dagger) or the leaden bullet, regardless of the honor, rank, dignity, or authority of the person or persons, whatever may be their condition in life, either public or private, as I at any time may be directed so to do by any agent of the Pope or superior of the brotherhood of the holy faith, of the Society of Jesus." [Double-Cross: Alberto, Part 2, 1981]

In addition to the Oath, the Jesuits have a guidebook entitled Secreta Monita. To the author's knowledge it has only been disclosed to the world twice: once in the 1600s and once in the 1800s. Because of the magnitude of its contents as it relates to our subject, The Secret Instructions Of The Jesuits (1857) is reprinted in its entirety [in Vatican Assassins].

THE SECRET INSTRUCTIONS

OF THE JESUITS

Chapter 1: How the Society must behave themselves when they begin any new foundation.

V. At their first settlement, let our members be cautious of purchasing lands; but if they happen to buy such as are well situated, let this be done in the name of some faithful and trusty friend. And that our poverty may be the more colorable gloss of reality, let the purchases, adjacent to the places wherein our colleges are founded, be assigned by the provincial to colleges at a distance; by which means it will be impossible that princes and magistrates can ever attain to a certain knowledge what the revenues of the Society amount to.

VI. Let no places be pitched upon by any of our members for founding a college but opulent cities; the end of the Society being the imitation of our blessed Saviour, who made his principal residence in the metropolis of Judea, and only transiently visited the less remarkable places.

VII. Let the greatest sums be always extorted from widows, by frequent remonstrations of our extreme necessities.

VIII. In every province, let none but the principal be fully apprised of the real value of our revenues; and let what is contained in the treasury of Rome be always kept as an inviolable secret.

Chapter II: In what manner the Society must deport, that they may work themselves into, and after that preserve a familiarity with princes, noblemen, and persons of greatest distinction.

I. Princes, and persons of distinction every where, must by all means be so managed that we may have their ear, and that will easily secure their hearts; by which way of proceeding, all persons will become our creatures, and no one will dare to give the Society the least disquiet or opposition.

II. That ecclesiastical persons gain a great footing in the favor of princes and noblemen, by winking at their vices, and putting a favorable construction on whatever they do amiss, experience convinces; and this we may observe in their contracting of marriages with their near relations and kindred, or the like. It must be our business to encourage such, whose inclination lies this way, by leading them up in hopes, that through our assistance they may easily obtain a dispensation from the Pope; and no doubt he will readily grant it, if proper reason be urged, paralleled cases produced, and opinions quoted which countenance such actions, when the common good of mankind, and the greater advancement of God's glory, which are the only end and design of the society, are pretended to be the sole motives to them.

V. Above all, due care must be taken to curry favor with the minions and domestics of princes and noblemen; whom by small presents, and many offices of piety, we may so far byass, (bias) as by means of them to get a faithful intelligence of the bent of their master's humors and inclinations; thus will the Society be better qualified to chime in with their tempers.

VII. Princesses and ladies of quality are easily to be gained by the influence of the woman of their bed-chamber; for which reason we must by all means pay particular address to these, for thereby there will be no secrets in the family but what we shall have fully disclosed to us.

XV. Finally, -Let all with such artfulness gain the ascendant over princes, noblemen, and magistrates of every place, that they may be ready at our beck, even to sacrifice their nearest relations and most intimate friends, when we say it is for our interest and advantage.

Chapter III: How the Society must behave themselves towards those who are at the helm of affairs, and others who, although they be not rich, are notwithstanding in a capacity of being otherwise serviceable.

I. All that has been before mentioned, may, in a great measure, be applied to these; and we must also be industrious to procure their favor against every one that oppose us.

II. Their authority and wisdom must be courted for obtaining several offices to be discharged by us; we must also make a handle of their advice with respect to the contempt of riches; though at the same time, if their secrecy and faith may be depended on, we may privately make use of their names in amassing temporal goods for the benefit of the Society.

Chapter IV: The chief things to be recommended to preachers and confessors of noblemen.

VI. Immediately upon the death of any person of post, let them take timely care to get some friend of our Society preferred in his room; but this must be cloaked with such cunning and management as to avoid giving the least suspicion of our intending to usurp the prince's authority; for this reason (as has been already said) we ourselves must not appear in it, but make a handle of the artifice of some faithful friends for effecting our designs, whose power may screen them from the envy which might otherwise fall heavier upon the Society.

Chapter V: What kind of conduct must be observed towards such religious persons as are employed in the same ecclesiastical functions with us.

Chapter VI: Of proper methods for inducing rich widows to be liberal to our Society

I. For the managing of this affair, let such members only be chosen as are advanced in age, of a lively complexion and agreeable conversation; let these frequently visit such widows, and the minute they begin to show any affection towards our order, then is the time to lay before them the good works and merits of the society. If they seem kindly to give ear to this, and begin to visit our churches, we must by all means take care to provide them confessors by whom they may be well admonished, especially to a constant perseverance in their state of widowhood, and this, by enumerating and praising the advantages and felicity of a single life: and let them pawn their faiths, and themselves too, as a security that a firm continuance in such a pious resolution will infallibly purchase an eternal merit, and prove a most effectual means of escaping the otherwise certain pains of purgatory.

IV. Care must be taken to remove such servants particularly as do not keep a good understanding with the Society; but let this be done by little and little; and when we have managed to work them out, let such be recommended as already are, or willingly would become our creatures; thus shall we dive into every secret, and have a finger in every affair transacted in the family.

Chapter VII: How such widows are to be secured, and in what manner their effects are to be disposed of.

I. They are perpetually to be pressed to a perseverance in their devotion and good works, in such manner, that no week pass in which they do not, of their own accord, lay somewhat apart out of their abundance for the honor of Christ, the blessed Virgin, or their patron saint; and let them dispose of it in relief of the poor, or in beautifying of churches, till they are entirely stripped of their superfluous stores and unnecessary riches.

XIII. Let the confessors take diligent care to prevent such widows as are their penitents, from visiting ecclesiastics of other orders, or entering into familiarity with them, under any pretence whatsoever; for which end, let them, at proper opportunities, cry up the Society as infinitely superior to all other orders; of the greatest service in the church of God, and of greater authority with the Pope, and all princes; and that it is the most perfect in itself, in that it discards all persons offensive or unqualified, from its community, and therefore is purified from that scum and dregs with which these monks are infected, who, generally speaking, are a set of men unlearned, stupid, and slothful, negligent of their duty, and slaves to their bellies.

XIV. Let the confessors propose to them, and endeavor to persuade them to pay small pensions and contributions towards the yearly support of colleges and professed houses, but especially of the professed house at Rome; not let them forget the ornaments of churches, tapers, wine, and things necessary in the celebration of the sacrifice of mass.

XV. If any widow does in her life-time make over her whole estate to the Society; whenever opportunity offers, but especially when she is seized with sickness, or in danger of life, let some take care to represent to her the poverty of the greatest number of our colleges, whereof many just erected have hardly as yet any foundation; engage her, by a winning behavior and inducing arguments, to such a liberality as (you must persuade her) will lay a certain foundation for her eternal happiness.

XVI. The same art must be used with princes and other benefactors; for they must be wrought up to a belief, that these are the only acts which will perpetuate their memories in this world, and secure them eternal glory in the next.

Chapter VIII: How widows are to be treated, that they may embrace religion, or a devoted life.

Chapter IX: Of increasing the revenues of our Colleges.

XV. Let the confessors be constant in visiting the sick, but especially such as are thought to be in danger; and that the ecclesiastics and members of other orders may be discarded with a good pretence, let the superiors take care that when the confessor is obliged to withdraw, others may immediately succeed, and keep up the sick person in his good resolutions. At this time it may be advisable to move him by apprehensions of hell, and at least of purgatory; and tell him, that as fire is quenched by water, so sin is extinguished by acts of charity; and that alms can never be better bestowed than for the nourishment and support of such who by their calling profess a desire to promote the salvation of their neighbor.

XVI. Lastly, let the women who complain of the vices of ill-humor of their husbands, be instructed secretly to withdraw a sum of money, that by making an offering thereof to God, they may expiate the crimes of their sinful help-mates, and secure a pardon for them.

Chapter X. Of the private rigor of discipline in the Society.

Chapter XI. How our members are unanimously to behave towards those who are expelled from the Society.

I. Since those that are dismissed, do frequently very much prejudice the Society by divulging such secrets as they have been privy to; their attempts must therefore be obviated in the following manner. Let them be prevailed upon, before they are dismissed, to give it under their hands, and swear that they never will, directly or indirectly, either write or speak any thing to the disadvantage of the Order; and let the superiors keep upon record the evil inclinations, failings and vices, which they, according to the custom of the Society, for discharge of their consciences, formerly confessed: this, if ever they give us occasion, may be produced by the Society, to the nobility and prelates, as a very good handle to prevent their promotion.

VIII. Let the misfortunes, and unlucky accidents which happen to them, be immediately published; but with entreaties for the prayers of good Christians, that the world may not think we are hurried away by passion: but, among our members, let these things, by all means, be represented in the blackest colors, that the rest may be the better secured.

Chapter XII. Who should be kept, and favored in the Society.

Chapter XIII. How to pick out young men to be admitted into the Society, and in what manner to retain them.

V. Let them be allured, by little presents, and indulgence of liberties agreeable to their age; and, above all, let their affections be warmed with spiritual discourses.

VI. Let it be inculcated, that their being chosen out of such a number, rather than any of their fellow-collegiates, is a most pregnant instance of divine appointment.

VII. On other occasions, but especially in exhortations, let them be terrified with denunciations of eternal punishment, unless they accept of the heavenly invitation.

VIII. The more earnestly they desire admission into our Society, the longer let the grant of such favor be deferred, provided at the same time they seem steadfast in their resolution; but if their minds appear to be wavering, let all proper methods be used for the immediate firing of them.

Chapter XIV. Of reserved cases, and causes of dismissal from the Society.

Chapter XV. Of our conduct towards nuns and female devotees.

Chapter XVII. Of the methods of advancing the Society.

I. Let our members chiefly endeavor at this, always to act with humanity, even in things of trifling moment; or at least to have the outward appearance of doing so; for by this means, whatever confusions may arise in the world, the Society of necessity will always increase and maintain its ground.

VII. The favor of the nobility and superior clergy, once got, our next aim must be to draw all cures and canonships into our possession, for the more complete reformation of the clergy, who wheretofore lived under certain regulation of their bishops, and made considerable advances towards perfection. And lastly, let us aspire to abbacies and bishoprics, the obtaining which, when vacancies happen, will very easily be effected, considering the supineness and stupidity of the monks; for it would entirely tend to the benefit of the church, that all bishoprics, and even the apostolical see, should be hooked into our hands, especially should his holiness ever become a temporal prince over all. Wherefore, let no methods be untried, with cunning and privacy, by degrees, to increase the worldly interests of the Society, and then, no doubt, a golden age will go hand in hand with an universal and lasting peace, and the divine blessing of consequence attend the catholic church.

VIII. But if our hopes in this should be blasted, and since offences of necessity will come, our political schemes must be cunningly varied, according to the different posture of the times; and princes, our intimates, whom we can influence to follow our councils, must be pushed on to embroil themselves in vigorous wars one with another, to the end, our Society (as promoters of the universal good of the world,) may on all hands be solicited to contribute its assistance, and always employed in being mediators of public dissensions; by this means the chief benefices and preferments in the church will, of course be given to us by way of compensation for our services.

IX. Finally, the Society must endeavor to effect this at least, that having got the favor and authority of princes, those who do not love them at least fear them.

JESUIT POWER

The Society of Jesus was thenceforth recognized as the chief opposing force of Protestantism. The Order became dominant in determining the plans and policy of the Rowish Church. The brotherhood grew and flourished. It planted its chapters first in France, Italy and Spain, and then in all civilized lands. The success of the Order was phenomenal. It became a power in the world. It sent out its representatives to every quarter of the globe. Its solitary apostles were seen shadowing the thrones of Europe. They sought, by every means known to human ingenuity, to establish and confirm the tottering fabric of Rome, and to undermine the rising fabric of Protestantism. They penetrated to the Indus and the Ganges. They traversed the deserts of Thibet, and said, "Here am I," in the streets of Peking. They looked down into the silver mines of Peru, and knelt in prayer on the shores of Lake Superior. To know all secrets, fathom all design, penetrate all intrigues, prevail in all counsels, rise above all diplomacy, and master the human race, - such was their purpose and ambition. They wound about human society in every part of the habitable earth, the noiseless creepers of their ever-growing plot to retake the world for the Church, and to subdue and conquer and extinguish the last remnant of opposition to her dominion from shore to shore, from the rivers to the ends of the earth." [Ridpath's Universal History, John Clarke Ridpath, 1899]

The Jesuits are the true authors of socialist-communism. The economic system of the Dark Ages was feudalism consisting of the few rich landowners and the many poor peasants. It was a sin to make a profit by anyone other than the feudal lords. Thus, if the world is to be returned to the Dark Ages, the Protestant middle class must be destroyed. Socialist-communism accomplishes this, having yielded its bitter fruit in both Great Britain and the United States. The great deception is that the Jews are the authors of communism. (After all, is not Zionism Jewish communism?) The facts are that the Jesuits used their Masonic Jews to introduce it in 1848 and again in 1917 with the Bolshevik Revolution.

The Jesuits then moved their Shriner Freemason FDR to recognize Russia's bloody government in 1933. The Jesuits then financed Russian communism with their Knights of Malta on Wall Street. This enabled Joseph Stalin to carry out the purges of the Thirties.

Having deceived the world into believing communism was of Jewish origin, the Jesuits then used Hitler to implement "the Final Solution to the Jewish Question"-pursuant to the evil Council of Trent. The result was the mass murder of European and Russian Jewry at the hands of the Jesuit-controlled SS.

At the close of the Second Thirty Years War (1648) the Jesuits, with their Vatican Ratline, helped top Nazis to escape to South America. And where in South America? To the old dominion where socialist-communism had been perfected by the Jesuit fathers-to the nation of Paraguay.

The Jesuits entered Paraguay in the early 1600s, sent by the kings of Spain and Portugal. They established their supremacy over the natives called "Guarani Indians" and did not allow them to mix with the Spanish or Portuguese. It was among this people that the Jesuits established their communes called "reductions".

The Jesuits, now formally suppressed by the Pope, were allied with Frederick the Great of Prussia and Catherine of Russia. The Jesuit General was in control of Scottish Rite Freemasonry and now sought an alliance with the Masonic House of Rothschild in England. To accomplish this he chose a Jesuit who was Jewish by race-Adam Weishaupt. Weishaupt was a brilliant instructor of Canon Law-the evil Council of Trent-at a Jesuit university in Bavaria. We read:

"From the Jesuit College of Ingolstadt is said to have issued the sect known as 'the Illuminati of Bavaria' founded by Adam Weishaupt. Its nominal founder, however, seems to have played a subordinate though conspicuous role in the organization of this sect." [Occult Theocracy, Lady Queenborough, originally published in 1933]

On May 1, 1776, the Order of the Illuminati was officially founded in the old Jesuit stronghold of Bavaria. The Company would now use the Jewish House of Rothschild to finance the French Revolution and the rise of Napoleon the Freemason with his Jesuit-trained advisor, Abbe Sieyes. In spite of the historical writings of the Jesuit Abbe Barruel, who blamed the Rothschilds and Freemasonry for the Revolution, it was the Society of Jesus that used these very tools to carry out the Revolution and punish the monarchs who dared to expel the Jesuits from their dominions. The Jesuits, having been expelled from the Spanish Empire, found refuge in Corsica. From there they raised up their great avenger, Napoleon Bonaparte.

Lately, it was George Washington who was so beloved by France's General Lafayette. During the Revolution our great chieftain took the "boy General" under his wing for which cause the Frenchman named his eldest son, George Washington Lafayette. With this same endearing love the Roman Catholic Lafayette warned:

"It is my opinion that if the liberties of this country, the United States of America, are destroyed, it will be by the subtlety of the Roman Catholic Jesuit priests, for they are the most crafty, dangerous enemies of civil and religious liberty. They have instigated most of the wars of Europe."

Napoleon was captured by the English and banished to the island of St. Helena. There, his Memoirs were written which accurately described his masters, the Jesuits:

"The Jesuits are a military organization, not a religious order. Their chief is a general of an army, not the mere father abbot of a monastery. And the aim of this organization is: POWER. Power in its most despotic exercise. Absolute power, universal power, power to control the world by the volition of a single man. Jesuitism is the most absolute of despotisms: and at the same time the greatest and most enormous of abuses....

"The general of the Jesuits insists on being master, sovereign, over the sovereign. Wherever the Jesuits are admitted they will be masters, cost what it may. Their society is by nature dictatorial, and therefore it is the irreconcilable enemy of all constituted authority. Every act, every crime, however atrocious, is a meritorious work, if committed for the interest of the Society of the Jesuits, or by the order of the general." [Fifty Years In The Church Of Rome, Charles Chiniquy, 1968, reprinted from the 1886 edition, quoting Memorial Of The Captivity Of Napoleon At St. Helena, General Montholon]

The Knights of Malta and the Jesuits work together!

(Truth seeker, this may seem irrelevant now, but it is important for you to be aware of this connection. As we shall see, the Knights financed Lenin and Hitler from Wall Street, also using their Federal Reserve Bank headed by Masonic Jews, Warburg in particular.) The Knights negotiated the Concordat (a Papal treaty) between the Pope and Hitler in the person of Franz Von Papen. They also helped top Nazis to escape to North and South America after World War II in the persons of James Angleton and Argentina's President Juan Peron.

In America, the Knights, with their OSS, later the CIA, were behind "Operation Paperclip". After World War II, top Nazis and scientists were illegally secreted into the United States. Many were placed in the top-secret military installation in Tonopah, Nevada known as "Area 51". The perfection of the Nazis' anti-gravity aircraft (flying saucers) was to be completed there, among other secret technologies. "Operation Paperclip" was overseen by America's most powerful Knight of Malta, J. Peter Grace. J. Peter Grace was subject to the Jesuit-trained Archbishop Spellman, as the American headquarters for the Knights was and is St. Patrick's Cathedral in New York.

1816 - JOHN ADAMS

Our founding Fathers knew of the Jesuit intrigue directed at the new Protestant Republic of these United States of America. In 1816, John Adams wrote to President Jefferson:

"Shall we not have regular swarms of them here, in as many disguises as only a king of the gypsies can assume, dressed as painters, publishers, writers, and schoolmasters? If ever there was a body of men who merited eternal damnation on Earth and in Hell it is this Society of Loyola's." [The New Jesuits, George Riemer, 1971]

PRESIDENT ABRAHAM LINCOLN

A personal friend of Professor Morse believed his warning of this Jesuit conspiracy. He was President Abraham Lincoln. We read:

"The Protestants of both the North and South would surely unite to exterminate the priests and the Jesuits, if they could learn how the priests, the nuns, and the monks, which daily land on our shores, under the pretext of preaching their religion...are nothing else but the emissaries of the Pope, of Napoleon III, and the other despots of Europe, to undermine our institutions, alienate the hearts of our people from our Constitution, and our laws, destroy our schools, and prepare a reign of anarchy here as they have done in Ireland, in Mexico, in Spain, and wherever there are any people who want to be free." [Fifty Years In The Church Of Rome , Charles Chiniquy, 1968, reprinted from the 1886 edition]

This new nation would be a centralized republic with the President exercising powers of an absolute monarch. The old Federal Republic of Washington would be converted into a huge centralized Empire, with the ten planks of the Masonic Communist Manifesto replacing the Ten Commandments of Moses.

In order to accomplish this, the Constitution had to be amended-"by hook or by crook". It would be amended in accordance with the Masonic cry of both French Revolutions. "Liberty" would be the Thirteenth Amendment. "Equality" would be the Fourteenth Amendment. "Fraternity" would be the Fifteenth Amendment. We now will examine the Fourteenth Amendment, as it was the coup d'etat.

THE ASSASSINATION

OF PRESIDENT LINCOLN

Even though he acted the tyrant in keeping Maryland from seceding and raised the Army of the Potomac to "put down the rebellion", there is evidence that he had a change of heart. Accordingly to many, Lincoln was converted to Christ after viewing the battlefield at Gettysburg. He later joined the Presbyterian Church in Washington and had several spiritual conversations with his close friend and converted priest, Charles Chiniquy. We read:

"I will repeat to you what I said at Urbana, when for the first time you told me your fears lest I would be assassinated by the Jesuits: Man must not care where and when he will die, provided he dies at the post of honor and duty. But I may add, today, that I have a presentiment that God will call me to Him through the hand of an assassin. Let His will, and not mine, be done! The Pope and the Jesuits, with their infernal Inquisition, are the only organized powers in the world which have recourse to the dagger of the assassin to murder those whom they cannot convince with their arguments or conquer with the sword.... It seems to me that the Lord wants today, as He wanted in the days of Moses, another victim.... I cannot conceal from you that my impression is that I am that victim. So many plots have already been made against my life, that it is a real miracle that they have failed, when we consider that the great majority of them were in the hands of skillful Roman Catholic murderers, evidently trained by Jesuits. But can we expect that God will make a perpetual miracle to save my life? I believe not. The Jesuits are so expert in those deeds of blood, that Henry IV said that it was impossible to escape them, and he became their victim, though he did all that could be done to protect himself. My escape from their hands, since the letter of the Pope to Jeff Davis has sharpened a million daggers to pierce my breast, would be more than a miracle." [Fifty Years In The Church Of Rome, Charles Chiniquy, 1958, originally published in 1886]

Of the Jesuit hand in Lincoln's murder we read:

"I feel safe in stating that nowhere else can be found in one book the connected presentation of the story leading up to the death of Abraham Lincoln, which was instigated by the "black" pope, the General of the Jesuit Order, camouflaged by the "white" pope, Pius IX, aided, abetted and financed by other "Divine Righters" of Europe, and finally consummated by the Roman Hierarchy and their paid agents in this country and French Canada on "Good Friday" night, April 14, 1865, at Ford's Theatre, Washington, D. C." [The Suppressed Truth About The Assassination Of Abraham Lincoln, Burke McCarty, 1973, originally published in 1924]

The Great and Terrible Second Thirty Years' War was now over. Europe, Russia, North Africa, China, and Japan were "a universal wreck" thanks to the Company of Jesus. Millions of "heretics" had been "extirpated" pursuant to the Jesuit Oath and the Council of Trent. Unlike the Treaty of Westphalia ending the First Thirty Years' War, the agents of the Jesuits controlled the negotiations at Yalta and Potsdam ending the second Thirty Years' War.

It was time to apply the Jesuits' Hegelian Dialectic worldwide. It would be known as "the Cold War". The thesis and antithesis would be "the Free World in the West" verses "the Communist Block in the East". The American Empire would head the West, and the Russian Empire would lead the East. Both sides would be financed by the Jesuits' International Banking Cartel centered in London and New York-the Federal Reserve and Chase-Manhattan Banks in particular.

The synthesis would be the destruction of the American Empire through the so-called "ending of the Cold War". The illusion of ending the Cold War would legally enable Rome's Corporate Monopolies, federated together in New York City under the leadership of the Council on Foreign Relations, to give Russia and China high technology and financial backing. The giving of these necessities would perfect the War Machines of both economically communist and politically fascist giants for the purpose of invading North America, it containing the majority of the world's Protestants, Baptists, and Jews. It is for these reasons that the financial might of Hong Kong was given to Red China, along with an American Naval Base in Long Beach, California. It is for these reasons that the Panama Canal, built with American blood, sweat, tears and Yellow Fever, was given away to Panama to be manned by Chinese soldiers imperiling the American navy. It is for these reasons that the Jesuits in control of Washington have established nationwide gun registration for the purpose of nationwide gun confiscation just as they did in Hitler's

Germany. It is for these reasons that the Jesuits, with their international corporations managed by the Knights of Malta, have financed and continue to build both the Russian and Chinese War Machines, while influencing American Presidents to close down scores of military installations across the country. These facts spell invasion-massive invasion by millions of foreign soldiers, with no God and no mercy. And if the Jesuits can manage to blow-up the Dome of the Rock in Jerusalem and blame the American Empire for it, the Arabs will declare a holy war against "the great Satan". The private wealth of Americans using International Business Corporations with bank accounts in the Bahamas will be seized just as they were in Castro's Cuba. (The Knights have moved all their wealth into European banks denominated in Franks and Marks as well as Eurodollars, thereby escaping the coming American economic catastrophe.)

Meanwhile, as the Jesuits, with their American dictator's internal police (FEMA) and foreign invaders, are "extirpating" "the execrable race" of American "heretics" and "liberals", the European nations will be driven to lay down their historic differences and unify.

This unification will restore the Holy Roman Empire, for which reason the Jesuits are rapidly rebuilding Rome. When the smoke clears, China will control the East, Russia will control the North, and a unified R. C. [Roman Catholic] Europe will control the West. The Pope's International Intelligence Community will see to it that Jerusalem is declared an international city with Solomon's rebuilt Temple in her midst. World government will ensue and the Jesuits' "blessed despotism" of the Dark Ages will have arrived, with the Pope being the Universal Despot of the World, so appropriately described in the Protocols Of The Elders Of Zion, while being the World Authority of The Documents Of Vatican II.

THE ASSASSINATION OF PRESIDENT KENNEDY

"It is of faith that the Pope has the right of deposing heretical and rebel kings. Monarchs so deposed by the Pope are converted into notorious tyrants, and may be killed by the first who can reach them.

"If the public cause cannot meet with its defense in the death of a tyrant, it is lawful for the first who arrives, to assassinate him." [Defensio Didei, Jesuit Suarez, Book VI. C 4, Nos. 13, 14]

Freed remembers what apparently passes for polite conversation when men such as Colby and Cline get together. "It was quite bizzare" Freed said, "for the subject they chose was, 'When is it acceptable to assassinate a head of state?' Colby presented what he said was a theological and philosophically sound approach. The Catholic Church, he said, had long since wrestled with this question and had, to Colby's mind, emerged with a sound concept: " It is acceptable" he said, "to assassinate a tyrant." [Plausible Denial, Mark Lane, 1991, p. 85]

"A conspiracy is rarely, if ever, proved by positive testimony. When a crime of high magnitude is about to be perpetrated by a combination of individuals, they do not act openly, but covertly and secretly. The purpose formed is known only to those who enter into it. Unless one of the original conspirators betray his companions and give evidence against them, their guilt can be proved only by circumstantial evidence... and circumstances can not lie." [Special Judge Advocate John A. Bingham, quoted in The Trial Of The Conspirators, Washington, 1865]

This chapter will examine the forest, not the trees. The hundreds of works covering the assassination can be reduced to a few simple facts. These facts viewed in the context of the previous chapters lead us to the "Lion" in his "Den of Iniquity" that had the power to execute Kennedy's murder and successfully cover it up. That Lion was the Cardinal of New York and his Den of Iniquity was St. Patricks' Cathedral, "the Little Vatican", and home base of the American Branch of the Knights of Malta. From the death of Cardinal Spellman in 1967 until now (1999), the succeeding "Lions" having kept the assassination covered-up were: Cardinal Cooke (himself a Knight of Malta) and Cardinal O'Connor, a former Navy Chaplain during Spellman's Vietnam War, and presently the Archbishop of New York.

Knowing that President Kennedy was not going to escalate the Vietnam War, the Intelligence Community began to prepare for his assassination. Roman Catholic Lee Oswald was chosen to be a patsy.... As a CIA agent, he had been sent to Soviet Russia by Allen Dulles in 1959, supposedly as a defector. Knowing that the CIA (OSS) and the KGB (NKVD) had worked together during WW-II, Oswald apparently took a vacation for nearly two years. During that time he married a Russian whose uncle was a Colonel in the KGB.

When he returned to the American Empire in 1962, he associated with CIA agents Howard Hunt, Frank Sturgis, David Ferrie, Guy Banister, Count George DeMohrenschildt, and Clay Shaw. Oswald was CIA, and related to a Jesuit. Emmanuel Josephson tells us:

"An interesting angle is presented by the Lee Oswald involvement. His cousin is reported to be a Jesuit priest. And it is a matter of record that Lee Oswald was invited to address the Jesuit college in Springhill, Alabama, on the subject of his activities, two weeks before the Kennedy Assassination. The Jesuit involvement closely parallels that in the Lincoln Assassination." [The Federal Reserve Conspiracy And Rockefeller's, Emanuel M. Josephson, 1968]

Jim Garrison clearly proved the CIA was involved in the assassination through Clay Shaw. He writes:

"...we discovered Shaw's extensive international role as an employee of the CIA. Shaw's secret life as an Agency man in Rome, trying to bring Fascism back to Italy, was exposed in articles in the Italian press.... To me among the most significant revelations were...the confirmation by both Victor Marchetti and Richard Helms that Clay Shaw had been an agent of the Central Intelligence Agency." [On The Trail Of The Assassins, Jim Garrison, 1991]

And who was the Director of the CIA in 1963? It was Knight of Malta John McCone. Prior to that McCone had been a defense contractor who had formally headed the Atomic Energy Commission. Later in 1970, he was a board member of ITT while remaining a CIA consultant. Marchetti tells us:

"[The] ITT board member who later admitted to a Senate investigative committee that he had played the key role in bringing together CIA and ITT officials was John McCone, director of the CIA during the Kennedy administration and, in 1970, a CIA consultant." [The CIA And The Cult Of Intelligence, Victor Marchetti, 1975]

Cardinal Spellman's soldier, John McCone, Director of the CIA, participated in the Kennedy assassination.

Jim Garrison and others have proved that the FBI was also involved in the assassination. He writes:

"I already had concluded that parts of the local Dallas law enforcement establishment were probably implicated in the assassination or its cover-up. But now I saw that the highly respected FBI was implicated as well." [On The Trail Of The Assassins, Jim Garrison, 1991]

Cardinal Spellman had two agents in the FBI. The first was the Shriner Freemason and brother-Cold Warrior, J. Edgar Hoover. According to Loftus, Hoover had cooperated with the Vatican Ratlines resettling Nazi war criminals in the Northeast. Why would he not cooperate with Spellman now? How could he refuse?

More importantly, Spellman's key man in the FBI was Knight of Malta, Cartha DeLoach. As the third in command, DeLoach was in a position to supervise the assassination and suppress evidence. Garrison proved DeLoach did in fact suppress evidence.

After the assassination we see a telling relationship between Johnson and DeLoach. DeLoach was known as Johnson's man in the FBI and the President would call him any time of the day. Curt Gentry writes:

"Lyndon Johnson couldn't sleep. Late at night he had his aide, Marvin Watson, telephone the DeLoach bedroom. The president had suddenly become convinced that the murder of his predecessor had been a conspiracy and wanted more information from the FBI." [J. Edgar Hoover: The Man And The Secrets,

Curt Gentry, 1991]

This is the Cartha DeLoach who had signed a five-year contract with Lee Iacocca's Ford Mercury in connection with the series, "The FBI". Both DeLoach and Iacocca were Knights of Malta, subject to Cardinal Spellman during the Kennedy assassination. Later DeLoach went on to be a director of PepsiCo. And according to Col. Prouty, that company also participated in Kennedy's assassination. We read:

"Nixon was in Dallas with a top executive of the Pepsi-Cola Company, Mr. Harvey Russel, the general counsel. Nixon was a legal counsel to that corporation. That top executive's son has told of Nixon's presence in Dallas at the time of the assassination, and Russell has confirmed the accuracy of his son's account. Later, sometime after the shooting, Nixon was driven to the Dallas airport by a Mr. DeLuca, also an official of the Pepsi-Cola Company. In addition, the son of another Pepsi-Cola executive was in Dallas at that time and had dinner with Jack Ruby, Oswald's killer, the night before JFK was murdered." [JFK: The CIA, Vietnam, And The Plot To Assassinate John F. Kennedy, Col. L. Fletcher Prouty, 1992]

DeLoach, Iacocca, and the Knights of Pepsi, now PepsiCo, all worked together.

At the time of the assassination in Dallas, the Catholic priest, Oscar Shubert, was sent from Holy Trinity Catholic Church in Dallas to administer "Last Rites" for the President. Knowing that Kennedy's wounds were wounds of entry, he reported everything to his superior. Shubert's superior was the Bishop of Dallas, then The Most Reverend Thomas Kiely Gorman, DD. According to Martin Lee's article entitled "Who Are The Knights Of Malta?" appearing in the October 14, 1983 edition of the National Catholic Reporter, Thomas K. Gorman was a Knight of Malta. Being a brother Knight he reported directly to Cardinal Spellman, and kept him apprised of what was happening in Dallas.

At the time of the assassination in Dallas, roughly 12:30 P.M. in the afternoon, all the telephones went dead in Washington, D.C. for about 30 minutes. How could this have happened? Someone at ITT had to be responsible, as it served the Washington area. In 1963, one of the VIPs of ITT was Francis D. Flanagan. You guessed it. Flanagan was a Knight. Later, McCone, with his brother knights, coordinated a deal between the CIA and ITT to better work together.

The author knows there were several Knights of Columbus involved in the Kennedy assassination. They were working for the FBI in particular. But the only notable Knight who was involved was Senator Edward Kennedy in that, through his silence, he was consenting to his brother's murder. Maybe this is what has driven the perpetual Senator from Massachusetts to his ruined alcoholic life. Let us take a few moments to pray for the Senator that he might have a change of heart, that he would tell all, and that we might protect him. For he too was subject to the power of Cardinal Spellman.

Lastly we know that the Mafia was involved in the Kennedy assassination. The Mafia, CIA, FBI, and Office of Naval Intelligence has been working together throughout World War II. Jack Ruby was a mafioso and David E. Scheim makes it perfectly clear in his Contract On America that the Mob had at least two motives: the Kennedy brothers assault on Organized Crime and the loss of the Mob's gambling paradise in Cuba.

But those were not the reasons. The Mafia Dons were promised that they would make more money than Havana could ever produce, through the explosion of the international drug trade made possible by the Vietnam War. If they helped eliminate Kennedy, Johnson would escalate the war and, thereby, the drug trade. The CIA would bring the drugs in from the Golden Triangle, distribute them to the Mafia families, and both would profit.

More importantly, the Mafia's Commission had a favor to repay. Cardinal Spellman, through FDR, had arranged the release of "Lucky" Luciano because of "Operation Underworld" mentioned in the previous chapter. Now the Cardinal needed a favor. If refused, Spellman could use the entire intelligence community which he had helped to organize, to eliminate any mob boss. If agreed to, new gambling centers would open up, Atlantic City in particular.

Clearly, if the President was removed, everybody would acquire more power and wealth, the intelligence community would become more absolute, and the Cardinal would be even more respected by his peers in Rome. The rest is history.

Later, in 1964, for the first time in history, the Pope of Rome set foot in Fourteenth Amendment America. Cardinal Spellman had performed well and was rewarded by a visit from his Master, fellow Cold Warrior and Vatican Ratline handler, Cardinal Montini, who was now Pope Paul VI.

There is yet another reason for the removal of President Kennedy. He wanted to arm Israel. Loftus writes:

"In September 1962 Kennedy decided to supply Israel with defensive ground-to-air missiles capable of stopping aircraft, but not the Egyptian offensive missiles. It was the first arms sale by the U.S. Government to Israel.... Kennedy promised the Israelis that as soon as the 1964 election was over, he would break the CIA 'into a thousand pieces and scatter it to the winds'.... With Kennedy's assassination in November 1963, the Israelis lost the best friend they had in the White House since Truman departed." [The Secret War Against The Jews, John Loftus, 1994]

And why did the Vatican's Jesuits not want any arms sales to Israel at this time? Why did the Jesuit-controlled President Johnson turn his back as the Egyptian army moved up through the Sinai desert to prepare its assault on Israel in 1967? Because the attack upon Israel had to be provoked. That attack was provoked by the Jesuits' International Intelligence Community through Egypt falsely perceiving the weakness of the Israeli army and the supposed abandonment of Israel by the American Empire.

The six-day war, engineered by Knight of Malta James Angleton, had one primary purpose: the taking of Jerusalem along with the Temple Mount. The apparent lack of military hardware on the part of Israel provoked the planned attack by Egypt. Therefore, Israel launched a preemptive strike and, in six days, the holy city was in the hands of Rome's Zionist government.

Had Kennedy armed Israel, the Egyptians would never have been emboldened to maneuver for war. With no provoked war, there would have been no Israeli attack. With no Israeli attack, Jerusalem would never have been taken by the Zionists, controlled by the Jesuits' Mossad. With Jerusalem in Arab hands, the Zionists could never rebuild Solomon's Temple- unknown to them-for the Jesuits' "infallible" Pope "Who opposeth and exalted himself above all that is called God, or that is worshiped; so he is God sitteth in the temple of God [Solomon's rebuilt temple], showing himself that he is God." [II Thes 2:4]

It is safe to say that the Jesuit General, using the Pope with his most powerful Cardinal in the American Empire, assassinated President John F. Kennedy in 1963.

For it was Cardinal Spellman, "the American Pope" in command of his soldiers, the Knights of Malta, who oversaw the assassination.

And it was the Knights of Malta, using the Central Intelligence Agency, who aided in the actual assassination of the President. Those Knights were: CIA Director, John McCone, CIA officers William F. Buckley, and Henry Luce.

In 1963, both William F. Buckley and Henry Luce were personal friends of CIA agent Howard Hunt. We read from Mark Lane's Plausible Denial on page 270, concerning Time and Life magazines, of which Henry Luce was the owner:

"I (Howard Hunt) had them typed up on a typewriter (fabricated official cables), and they were xeroxed, and the xeroxes were eventually shown to a person of Mr. (Charles) Colson's confidence, and in Time and Life." Hunt, after swearing that he had never been involved in a disinformation effort to embarrass Kennedy, had now testified that he had merely sought to doctor and create evidence to prove that Kennedy was a murderer.

Again in Plausible Denial we read of Hunt's connection with pompous William F. Buckley, Jr. on page 207:

"(G. Gordon) Liddy completed his testimony perfectly, stating that while he no longer associated with Hunt, he did see him last, he recalled, when both men demonstrated their support for another former CIA officer, William F. Buckley, as Buckley celebrated the anniversary of his television show at the New York Yacht Club."

Dear truth seeker, Hunt was close to both powerhouses, Buckley and Luce. Hunt was also working with two of his fellow criminals in the future Watergate scandal, G. Gordon Liddy (Jesuit-trained) and Chuck Colson.

And in 1985, it was Mark Lane who proved in Miami's federal court that Hunt was in Dallas the day President Kennedy was murdered. Therefore, the conclusion was obvious. The CIA, with its agent, E. Howard Hunt, had killed the President. In the words of the jury's forewoman, Leslie Armstrong, found on the inside cover and page 322 of Plausible Denial, we read:

"Mr. Lane was asking us to do something very difficult. He was asking us to believe that John Kennedy had been killed by our own government. When we examined the evidence (for 65 minutes) we were compelled to conclude that the CIA had indeed killed President Kennedy." Hunt had been part of it, and that evidence, so painstakingly presented, should now be examined by the relevant institutions of the United States Government, so that those responsible for the assassination might be brought to justice.

Icelandic Citizens' Group File Criminal Charges Against George H. W. Bush
As Daddy Bush visits Iceland, a group of citizens have charged him with crimes against humanity. Many Americans hope charges stick, but probably don't stand a snow ball's chance in hell considering today's worldwide political climate of corruption and New World Order control.

6 Jul 2006

By Greg Szymanski

They probably don't stand a 'snow ball's chance in hell,' but that isn't stopping a group of citizens in Iceland from filing criminal charges against former President George H. W. Bush.

Doing what Americans should have done long ago, Icelandic citizens file charges with the State's Police Chief, accusing former President Bush for participation in war crimes, crimes against humanity, crimes against the peace, and crimes against internationally protected persons.

The charges were filed July 4 on Independence Day and coincide with a visit by Bush on July 7 to Iceland, being an invited guest of the host country's President Olafur R. Grimsson.

Many critics of Bush in America re saying a silent prayer the "charges stick" as the foreign criminal charges filed illustrate just how many abroad hold the Bush family in contempt for their criminal acts and acts of imperialistic aggression, resulting in the death of untold millions.

Spokesman Elias Davidsson for the Icelandic citizens group filing the charges against Bush issued the following statement thus far ignored by the mainstream media:

"Our group accuses former President Bush for participation in war crimes, crimes against humanity, crimes against the peace, and crimes against internationally protected persons. It demands that former President Bush be detained by the Icelandic authorities and investigation on these charges.

"Should the investigation conclude that legal proceedings against him are warranted, the group requests that he be tried before an Icelandic court or extradited to an international criminal tribunal which possesses the requisite jurisdiction to deal with his case. Icelandic courts are, under international law, qualified to try individuals suspected of having committed international crimes.

"George H.W. Bush is charged of initiating a war of aggression against Panama in 1989, in breach of international law and the UN Charter, constituting a crime against the peace, and of ordering the kidnapping of Panama's President Noriega in violation of the Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of Crimes Against Internationally Protected Persons.

"George H.W. Bush is furthermore charged for his command responsibility for the multiple war crimes committed by US forces in the Gulf War in 1991, including the policy of deliberately bombing civilian targets and the massacre of soldiers hors combat. His command responsibility for these crimes is equivalent to those of other heads of states who have been charged, indicted and convicted for international crimes, including torture, war crimes, crimes against humanity and genocide. George H.W. Bush is also charged for inducing an uprising of Kurds and Shi'ites in Iraq during the Gulf War and then ordering US forces to withhold aid from those who risked the uprising, thus leaving unarmed uprising masses unprotected against Saddam Hussein's brutal forces. By such policies, he knowingly facilitated the commission of crimes against humanity by Saddam Hussein.

"He is finally accused for conspiring in imposing deadly economic sanctions against the people of Iraq, with the intent to harm the well-being, health and lives of the Iraqi civilian population, with foreknowledge of the likely consequences and with the subsequent knowledge of the sanctions' devastating consequences. Such conduct is considered to be a crime against humanity under international customary law. About one million persons are believed dead as a result of the economic sanctions, thereof half a million children below five years of age.

"The group holds that Icelandic courts can assert subject-matter, territorial and personal jurisdiction over former President Bush, on the base of the provisions of the Geneva Conventions of 12 August 1949 and of the Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of Crimes Against Internationally Protected Persons. In addition, the group argues that Icelandic courts can assert their jurisdiction to any person who is suspected of having planned, directed or committed crimes against humanity under international customary law, as well as for planning and carrying out crimes against the peace."

British Politician Goes On TV Demanding The Truth Be Told About The Strange Death Of Micro-Biologist, Dr. David Kelly

Observers say Kelly was assassinated and didn't commit suicide like officials suggest. They also contend his death goes right to the doorsteps of 10 Downing Street and the White House.

5 Jul 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The strange death of British arms inspector and micro biologist, Dr. David Kelly, has always been linked to the fact he knew too much about the illegal arms trade to the Middle East, including the real story about WMD in Iraq.

Although the official story of his 2003 death tells a tale of suicide, many observers close to the case claim Dr. Kelly was anything but suicidal. They also contend the follow-up investigation was appalling, claiming the Hutton Commission set up by the British Parliament to investigate Dr. Kelly's death covered up important facts that would have implicated high-ranking British and American officials.

While the story remains hush-hush in America even though its implications lead right to the White House, this week Norman Baker, a liberal democrat in Parliament came forward publicly saying there was a high probability that Dr. Kelly was assassinated.

"I was unhappy and perturbed, like many people, about the story behind Dr. Kelly's death," said Baker this week on a London political talk show, who vowed on the show to try and get to the bottom of the case. "There are a number of very odd circumstances surrounding the death of Dr. Kelly and obviously this is a very highly charged political time in our country.

"I think he was a great servant of our country and the way he was treated by the Ministry of Defense was very poor. And the way the assumption of suicide was reached without very much evidence to back it up was curious. First, there appears to be no intent for suicide. And when you look into the alleged suicide itself, you'll find the method prescribed for the suicide in the death certificate was very peculiar.

Baker added he has collected medical evidence suggesting the method in which Dr. Kelly's suicide took place by allegedly cutting a deep artery in his wrist clinically could not have cause his death.

"The clinical evidence suggests Dr. Kelly was the only person in England that year that died from that particular type of artery injury," added Baker. "The Hutton Commission actually did not address the important issues, as it was concerned more about the BBC behaved and the British government behaved and not about the particulars of Dr. Kelly.

Asked whether it was in poor taste to bring up the matter after three years, Baker disagreed, saying the Hutton Commission never put the proper witnesses under oath as required in an official death inquest.

Baker also added another irregularity rarely talked about was the official cause of death was released in the death certificate prior to the Hutton Inquiry, which was supposedly set up to investigate the cause of death, however, a fact that was already predetermined before the official inquiry.

"So there are a whole range of unanswered questions," said Baker. "There is a huge level of disquiet from professional people who know what they are talking about who suggested the conclusion of suicide is simply untenable. Under these circumstances, it's important that we the public at large get the truth in this matter. I think it is of great importance to this country since if Dr. Kelly didn't commit suicide then the only other conclusion that can be made is that he was assassinated."

Other new developments from insiders close to the July 20, 2003, death of Dr. Kelly reveal one he may have been killed due to his knowledge of covert research of the "black only bomb" in South Africa.

Although this has been reported once in a Sunday Express 2004 article, new information is now linking the connection to assignments directly from former Prime Minister Margaret Thatcher and former Prime Minister John Major.

Kelly was said to be involved in the apartheid regime's most secret project. According to a previous London press account, Kelly was involved in Code-named Project Coast, trying to create a genetically engineered weapon to attack only the country's black population and to develop a vaccine to block human fertility in blacks.

Dr. Kelly had visited the project's headquarters soon after he was appointed in 1972 to be head of the microbiology department at Porton Down, Britain's top-secret biological warfare establishment in Wiltshire.

Another reason for Dr. Kelly's murder surrounds his knowledge of the B52 incident in Iran, where the U.S. is said to have drop-shipped or lost nuclear weapons in 1990-91 without reporting the incident to the United Nations authorities.

The British source provided new information about what Dr. Kelly really knew about the lost nuclear weapons, suggesting Vice President Dick Cheney had a very strong motive to keep Dr. Kelly silent about the B52 incident.

"We now know that Dr. David Kelly did in fact not know about the loss of the very big nukes from the B-52 plane," said the source. "Kelly only ever knew about the smaller battlefield / tactical nuclear bombs that were made by Armscor in South Africa and covertly shipped in 1990 from SA to Oman where they remained during Gulf War-1.

"In July 2003 when Kelly was murdered the fear in The White House (USA) must have been Kelly would claim that the WMD not found in Iraq during Gulf War-2 were in fact the (smaller) lost nukes. The media would then have deduced that the rumour of the B-52g plane having lost the very big nukes in 1991 was probably valid.

"This revelation would have been most untimely for The White House in summer 2003. It would have killed-off the campaign to re-elect GW Bush for 2004, just as it was about to start. It seems more likely that Kelly's assassins were U.S. Navy SEALs under the direction of Dick Cheney?

"At the time of Kelly's death, Tony Blair was in the USA being lauded with the announcement of a Congressional Gold Medal. It seems that Tony Blair is now having second thoughts about taking that medal. It could be interpreted as 'Judas-money' for Kelly's death. Tony Blair even now nearly 3 years on has never gone back to collect that Gold medal.

"I occasionally speak to Michael Shrimpton the International lawyer who claims to be a devotee of the Neo-Cons. This could explain why Shrimpton is always trying to shift the blame for Kelly's murder away from the USA and onto French military intelligence.

Regarding Dr.Kelly's death, one British observer who wanted to remain anonymous said:

"This whole thing is going to be far bigger than Woodward and Bernstein's Watergate. As soon as the story is laterally expended to include the nukes also lost from the B-52 plane, then it also goes into the Oval Office at The White House."

Smoking Gun Document Shows U.S. And Italian Officials Had Prior Knowledge Of The Aldo Moro Murder, The Prime Minister Called The Italian JFK

Former undercover agent and member of the elite Gladio team has provided the document that nails officials right to the wall. However, despite compelling evidence high-ranking officials like Henry Kissinger gave the orders to kill Moro, justice has never been served and the story covered up by the media.

By Greg Szymanski

A smoking gun document has surfaced in Italy clearly showing Italian undercover operatives working hand-in-hand with the U.S. had prior knowledge of the assassination of Aldo Moro, the charismatic Prime Minister kidnapped in broad daylight and brutally murdered near Rome in 1978.

It is well known in Italy but remains a virtual secret in America that Moro, considered the Italian JFK, opposed the New World Order plan of "zero growth" and population reduction in Italy, as his untimely death and political career were cut short due to trying to buck the Vatican-backed New World Order policies.

Although Italian court testimony has revealed Henry Kissinger's dirty hands were all over the Moro killing, now comes forward a startling document - written in Italian - showing officials knew Moro was going to be gunned down on March 2, 1978, two weeks prior to the assassination that occurred on March 16.

The document was provided by Antonio Arconte, a former Italian undercover agent and member of the covert team named Gladio. Although the document made headlines in the Italian press, it conveniently has remained a secret in the U.S., showing the corrupt media protects crooked politicians from scrutiny even when it involves murder.

Arconte wrote extensively about his work with the CIA and Italian operatives, including the Moro killing in a book released entitled "The Real History of Gladio." A copy of the smoking gun document, showing officials had prior knowledge of the Moro killing, can be seen at <http://www.centrostudimonetari.org/moro2marzo.jpg> as the document is written in Italian and contains an official seal of the Italian Ministry of Defense.

This information adds to the other compelling evidence when Gorrado Guerzoni in 1982, testified in an Italian courtroom that the former prime minister was threatened by an agent of the Royal Institute for International Affairs (RIIA) who is also a Committee of 300 member while he was still the U.S. Secretary of State.

Guerzoni was referring to Kissinger, who allegedly wanted Moro snuffed out because the long time popular Italian leader opposed "zero growth" and severe population reductions planned for his country by the devious Vatican controlled New World Order.

In June of 1982, the wife of Aldo Moro also testified in open court that her husband's murder came about as a result of serious threats against his life, made by what she called "a high ranking United States political figure later identified as Kissinger.

The Moro story is of significant importance to Americans, who are now being bombarded by terrorist activity similar to how the New World Order orchestrated terrorism in Italy in the 70's and 80s by funding and staging events by the infamous Red Brigade, known as the Brigatta Rosa.

Although America is in the cross hairs now, Italy was one of the earliest targets of the New World Order and most likely chosen as a test target for what was in store for America. According to Dr. John Coleman, a former professional intelligence officer who broke many of the early New World Order activities in Europe, said Italy was chosen an experimental country for the following reasons:

"Italy was chosen as a test-target by the Committee of 300.," wrote Coleman in one of his many reports, "Because Italy is important to the conspirators' plans as it is the closest European country to the Middle East linked to Middle East economics and politics. It is also the home of the Catholic Church, which Weishaupt ordered destroyed, and home for some of Europe's most powerful top oligarchical families of the ancient Black Nobility. Should Italy have been weakened by Moro's death, it would have had repercussions in the Middle East which would have weakened U.S. influence in the region.

"Italy is important for another reason; it is a gateway for drugs entering Europe from Iran and Lebanon, and we shall return to that subject in due course.

"Various groups had combined under the name of socialism to bring about the downfall of several Italian governments since the Club of Rome was established in 1968. Among these are the Black Nobility of Venice and Genoa, P2 Masonry and the Red Brigades, all working for the same goals. Police investigators in Rome working on the Red Brigades-Aldo Moro case came across the names of several very prominent Italian families working closely with this terrorist group. The police also discovered evidence that in at least a dozen cases, these powerful and prominent families had allowed their homes and/or property to be used as safe houses for Red Brigades cells.

"America's "nobility" were doing their share to destroy the Republic of Italy, a notable contribution having come from Richard Gardner even while in his official capacity as President Carter's ambassador to Rome. At that time Gardner was operating under the direct control of Bettino Craxi, an important member of the Club of Rome and a key man in NATO. Craxi was the leading edge of the conspirators' attempts to destroy the Italian Republic. As we shall see, Craxi was almost successful in ruining Italy, and as the conspirators hierarchy's leading player, was able to get divorce and abortion pushed through the Italian Parliament, resulting in the most far-reaching and destructive religious and social changes ever to strike at the Catholic Church, and consequently, the morals of the Italian nation.

"After President Ronald Reagan was elected, an important meeting was held in Washington D.C. in December 1980 under the auspices of the Club of Rome and the Socialist International. Both these organizations are directly responsible to the Committee of 300. The main agenda was to formulate ways and means of how to neutralize the Reagan presidency. A group plan was adopted and, as we look back, it is perfectly clear that the plan the conspirators agreed to follow has been very successful."

Confession No. 11: According to Philippine Man, Jesuit And Vatican Have Pilfered Trillions In Gold Owed To The People Freedom fighter connects the dots back to Rome, as Americans better wake-up before the same thing happens here like is going on in the Philippines.

2 Jul 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Bobby Limeta of the Philippines feels alone, abandoned and frightened for his life in his fight to expose the corrupt Jesuit Order.

First and foremost, frightened for the safety of his family, he is considering a move to New Zealand, seeking safe haven from the persecution being dished out for his political views and exposure of Vatican corruption.

Limeta has previously contributed to these Sunday Confessions, shedding light on how the Jesuits are raping and pillaging the Philippines in hopes Americans wake up before the same thing happens here.

But now he comes forward in Confession No. 11 on the shores of Brushy Creek, telling about his personal experiences as well as sharing more shocking information about the Jesuits and their underhanded control of the Philippines.

“What I will tell you now is a matter of life and death,” said Limeta. “My country has been for 485 years controlled by the Roman Catholic Church and of course the Jesuits are the masterminds. Our government is controlled by the Jesuits-Vatican and our country is one of their stronghold territories.

“Would you believe that our government’s secret operatives, controlled by the Jesuits-Vatican, can grab me inside my home using warrantless arrest and my family will never see me again, alive.

“Is it bad or a sin to be a patriotic citizen of my beloved country? Is it bad or a sin to tell the truth and nothing but the truth?

“You may ask me, why I’m angry to the Jesuits-Vatican (Roman Catholic hierarchy)? Well, what if I tell you that the Jesuits-Vatican of the Roman Catholic Church are the real thieves that looted the wealth of our nation.

“It all started way back 1990 (16-years ago), I saw my countrymen become poorer and poorer, becoming innocent victims and betrayed. Only elite and rich families, influential politicians and show-biz personalities enjoy the good life. My country is dilapidated and now an impoverished nation. The poor are unable to get good medical care and treatment, for we do not have enough money. We the minority, middle-class and the poor also cannot get a high standard of education, simply because we don’t have money.

“Simply, we are in debt to the World Bank & IMF loan system benefiting the rich. The interest alone is already killing millions of my countrymen, especially the poor. What World Bank and International Monetary Fund? These are owned by the Jesuits-Vatican !

“Since 1990, I promised myself that I will find out the real culprits. It did not take me long to discover it was the Jesuits. Now below is what I’ve discovered and found out with supporting documents. Now, brace yourself as to what I’ve discovered and investigated that no politicians will even dare speak about it.

“The Jesuits-Vatican initiated the Second 30 Years War (1914-1945). Yes, indeed our country was invaded and occupied by the Imperial Forces of Japan under Gen. Masaharu Homa. The Japanese Imperial forces had previously looted all the gold and treasures of the Far East, from China down to French Indo-China, from Singapore, Malaysia and finally bringing it to the Philippines when the Japanese started losing the war against the Allies.

“As the US forces with air and naval superiority cut-off the Philippines link-up to mainland Japan, Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita and his senior officers buried the looted gold in various parts of our country. After the war, some Jesuit-controlled OSS Agents and senior officials who are members of Knights of Malta began searching for the gold.

“They included Rev. Fr. Joes Antonio Diaz, Opus Dei, alias COL. SEVERINO SANTA ROMANA (OSS Agents called him Santy for short) together with Gen. Edward Lansdale and coordinated by “Wild Bill Donovan,” all confirmed Knights of Malta of the Catholic Secret Brotherhood secret alliance along with the help of NAZI war criminals Franz Von Papen, Gen. Reinhard Ghelen, Heinrich Himmler.

“Rev. Father Diaz alias Col. Santy and Gen. Edward Lansdale without showing any mercy then killed the Hukbalahak rebels. Why? Because the territories held by the rebels are the exact locations where Yamashita's gold was buried. Not only that, Rev. Father Diaz, alias Col. Santy and his cohorts OSS Agents even tortured the personal driver of Gen. Yamashita to confess and reveal where the gold was actually buried. Major Ferdinand Marcos, who became senator and president of the Republic, also knew about it.

“That's why Rev. Father Diaz alias Col. Santy hired Marcos as his lawyer to bring out the recovered Yamashita's looted Asian gold. However, by 1949 our people had accumulated 600,000 metric tons of gold deposited inside the vault of the Central Bank. This 600,000 metric tons of gold was different from the Yamashita's looted gold. Hence, my countrymen are proud of it and legally speaking it's our property. For decency, my countrymen will not claim the Asia's looted gold by the Japanese Imperial Forces. What we are claiming is our country's own gold deposited inside the vaults of the Central Bank.

“In short, Yamashita's looted Asian gold and our very own gold deposited inside the vaults of the central bank was brought out of our country by Rev. Father Diaz and traitor Ferdinand Marcos. The gold then was mixed together and deposited in various Jesuit-controlled illegal bank accounts in Switzerland and other banks. The illegal Nugan-Hand Bank of Australia operated CIA formerly OSS controlled by the Jesuits-Vatican helped in transporting other gold to Australia and then diverted into other countries. The Jesuits know it and they are watching as Rev. Father Diaz is a member of Opus Dei, all bagmen of the Jesuit-Vatican. I also discovered that Michael Hand of the Nugan-Hand Bank is a CIA Agent!

“The most shocking revelation is this, when Marcos was still alive, he wrote a letter as his last will before he died that his looted wealth (our country's wealth) will be entrusted to the Vatican Trust. His true color was revealed. Also former Catholic priest, Marcelino Tagle of Bataan said that Marcos always worked for the Vatican. Now, I see the whole scenario.

“.According to EJ & Doris J. Ekke documents revealing the hidden history of the gold the 400,000 metric tons of gold held in the vaults of the Central Bank would elevate the gold-based money supply in the Philippines to more than twice as much per person as the money supply in the U.S. and U.S. money is not backed by gold. If that much money, some 4 trillion dollars, were to be spent cleaning and fixing up the Philippines, think of what a paradise it would be.

“The Roman Catholic Church disguised as religion from God and preaching the gospel of Jesus Christ as well as the Catholic Church-Jesuits-Vatican are GREAT LIARS AND HYPROCRITES. They have betrayed my countrymen now living in despair and poverty because the Jesuits-Vatican-Roman Catholic Church illegally looted our country's gold. Anyone of my countrymen who will dispute me, I'll take on in a manly and civilized debate. Anyone who hates the truth is against our Lord Jesus Christ. Anyone of my countrymen that will dispute this hidden history of our country will become ignorant to reality. There's no mystery in an open mind. Remember God is truth and we shall worship God in the spirit and truth. Jesus Christ said, and the truth shall set us free.

"Therefore, I accuse the Jesuit-Vatican of the Roman Catholic Church as the mastermind, culprits and guilty entities for the looting of our country's wealth. And I as a legal citizen of my country has the right to demand in behalf of my countrymen under the protection of our God given Constitution and Bill Of Rights demanding the Roman Catholic Church to return the gold they have illegally looted.

"I admit I'm angry to the Catholic Church as I saw my poor countrymen living in despair. Why did the Catholic Church betray my countrymen and our country? They (Catholic Church) came into our country and my countrymen embraced them honestly and with respect.

"I have in my possession 15 sheets of original photocopied documents linking Rev. Fr. Jose Antonio Diaz (Opus Dei) alias Col. Santa Romana (OSS Agent), Gen. Edward Lansdale, Ferdinand E. Marcos, the late Archbishop Of Manila Jaime Cardinal Sin and Baron Arndt Krupp for the looting of various gold and of course our country's very own gold. And you'll be shocked that the shadows and footprints of the Jesuits-Vatican will be realized once and for all."

With 'Another Hitler' At The Helm This Independence Day, Look Back At The First One For Clues As To Who Really Controls Bush

Although controversial publisher Jack Chick doesn't give out interviews anymore, his research and writing shouldn't be forgotten.

1 Jul 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Book publisher Jack Chick doesn't give out many interviews anymore. In fact, trying to talk with him is quite difficult.

Chick isn't hiding, but probably just tired of talking about the same old thing or tired of fighting the same old game of words against the powerful Vatican. He is also no spring chicken, getting on in years as they say.

And it's quite understandable that he shuns the limelight after looking at the number of controversial issues he has tackled over the years, including the exposure of the corrupt Jesuit Order and the Vatican.

However, even though Chick is staying out of sight, he shouldn't be forgotten and neither should some of his top stories be forgotten, stories like Hitler's loyalty to the Vatican and Jesuit Fr. Alberto Rivero's first hand recollections of the evilness inside the Society of Jesus.

With Independence Day right around the corner and seeing America has its own Hitler running the show, let's take a few moments to look back in a capsule summary what Chick uncovered about Hitler ties to the Vatican.

Chick wrote not long ago:

"You may say, 'Well, that was a long time ago. It's not like that anymore.' But has the Vatican really changed? Let's look at her actions during World War II. Many of you have not read our Crusaders book, THE GODFATHERS, or the book, THE SECRET HISTORY OF THE JESUITS, and, therefore, you don't really know what happened behind the scenes during World War II. So let me give you a brief picture of the conditions.

"The Jesuits had secretly prepared World War II, and Hitler's war machine was built and financed by the Vatican to conquer the world for Roman Catholicism, Hitler, Mussolini, and Franco were to be the defenders of the faith. They were set up to win and conquer the world, and set up a millennium for the pope. Behind the scenes, the Jesuits controlled the Gestapo.

"Read what the press of the Spanish dictator, Franco, published on the 3rd of May, 1945, the day of Hitler's death. It said, "Adolf Hitler, son of the Catholic Church, died while defending Christianity." It goes on to say, "Over his mortal remains stands his victorious moral figure. With the palm of the martyr, God gives Hitler the laurels of Victory."

"Hitler himself stated, "I learned much from the Order of the Jesuits. Until now, there has never been anything more grandiose, on the earth, than the hierarchical organization of the Catholic church. I transferred much of this organization into my own party."

"Walter Schellenberg, former chief of Nazi counter-espionage made this statement: "The S.S. organization had been constituted by Himmler according to the principles of the Jesuit Order. Their regulations and the Spiritual Exercises prescribed by Ignatius of Loyola were the model Himmler tried to copy exactly. Himmler's title as supreme chief of the S.S. was to be the equivalent of the Jesuits' 'General' and the whole structure was a close imitation of the Catholic Church's hierarchical order."

"Franz von Papen, another powerful Nazi, who was instrumental in setting up the concordat between Germany and the Vatican had this to say: "The Third Reich is the first world power which not only acknowledges but also puts into practice the high principles of the papacy." If you are not aware of what a concordat is, a concordat is an agreement between the Vatican and a government. As far as the Vatican is concerned, that government that signed the concordat has now become a part of the government of God, and the Vatican fully intends to stabilize that government, give it divine protection, and give it international protection.

"Like Italy, Germany signed a concordat with the Vatican in Rome, 1933. Signing the concordat is Cardinal Pacelli (later to become Pope Pius XII). By 1933 he was the Vatican Secretary of State. Second from left is Franz von Papen, a sinister Nazi and devout Roman Catholic who was Hitler's ace diplomat and the Vatican's agent in helping to bring Hitler to power. Standing at the far right can be seen the little-known Vatican prelate, Montini, later to become Pope Paul VI.

"ADOLPH HITLER SAID: 'I am personally convinced of the great power and deep significance of Christianity, and I won't allow any other religion to be promoted. That is why I have turned away from Ludendorff and that is why I reject that book by Rosenberg. It was written by a Protestant. It is not a Party book. It was not written by him as a Party man. The Protestants can be left to argue with him ... As a Catholic I never feel comfortable in the Evangelical Church or its structures. That is why I will have great difficulty if I try to regulate affairs of the Protestant churches. The evangelical people or the Protestants will in any case reject me. But you can be sure: I will protect the rights and freedoms of the churches and not let them be touched, so that you need have no fears about the future of the Church.'

"Hitler was also ready to discuss with the Bishop his views on the Jewish question: 'As for the Jews, I am just carrying on with the same policy which the Catholic church has adopted for fifteen hundred years, when it has regarded the Jews as dangerous and pushed them into ghettos etc., because it knew what the Jews were like. I don't put race above religion, but I do see the danger in the representatives of this race for Church and State, and perhaps I am doing Christianity a great service.'

"The three big defenders of the Roman Catholic faith were Hitler, Mussolini, and Franco. All three had concordats with the Vatican. When the Nazi war machine swept through the Balkans on the way to attack Russia, Yugoslavia had become a Nazi occupied country.

"The pope despised the Russian Orthodox members. They were called Serbians and they were marked for death in Yugoslavia. They were given one choice: to convert to Catholicism, or die.

"Why were they killed? Why did the pope have such a vendetta against the Russian Orthodox? As we said in our Crusaders book, THE GODFATHERS, the communist party was created by the Vatican to destroy one of her greatest enemies, the Russian Orthodox church. The communists had double-crossed the pope and refused to destroy the Russian Orthodox church members and at last, Pope Pius XII had created a machine to do what the communists had failed to do - butcher every Orthodox church member and their clergy. Let's see how this was accomplished.

"The Catholic priests changed their robes for the uniforms of the dreaded Ustachi killer squads, and led the most barbaric, brutal raids upon those people and practiced satanic torture never before known in this century. We are not talking 800 years ago. We are talking 1940. I was in high school then."

Was The Assassination Of The Former Italian Prime Minister, Aldo Moro, Ordered By Henry Kissinger And Other High-Level U.S. Officials? Court testimony from close friends and relatives in the 1982 trial linking U.S. involvement in Moro's brutal murder and terrorism in Italy completely suppressed by the propagandists in the mainstream U.S. media.

By Greg Szymanski

The name Aldo Moro doesn't mean much to Americans. And if anyone should remember, they'd say he was the Prime Minister killed in the late 70s by a terrorist group called the Red Brigades.

Sadly, that's about all the so-called "great newspapers" of this country, like the Washington Post and The New York Times, reported to the American people.

And what the newspapers did to the Moro story in the late 70s is the same thing they are doing today - lying, distorting the truth and acting as nothing more than a propaganda arm for the Vatican controlled New World Order.

The newspapers were, in fact, caught lying back in the late 70s for the likes of Henry Kissinger and other high-powered Vatican minions in the U.S. government, who all orchestrated the Moro killing, because I know it first hand since I was working in Rome when Moro was kidnapped in broad daylight and then later found dead in the trunk of his car.

Although I am by no means an expert in foreign affairs or in the fine art of tracking down trained assassins, I learned enough about the behind the scenes killing of Moro to shake loose any notion of trust or respect I ever had for the American government.

In fact, when I think back about what I learned about the CIA, the Vatican, the inner-workings of the corrupt Reagan administration and how they all were orchestrating the downfall of Italy through terrorism, I get sick to my stomach, wanting to spit in the street in disgust.

I get so sick to my stomach because I see the very same criminals who were hiding behind the walls of the Vatican and the White House back then doing the same dirty work now, only doing it in America not Italy.

And when first hearing about the Moro killing, I remember writing a typical first day news story for several foreign news outlets in English speaking countries, translating the story from Italian papers and basically telling the typical who, what, when, where and why without questioning the behind the scenes dirty work of the New World Order.

In fact, I didn't know much about the dirty work of the Vatican controlled New World Order until 1982 when one of Moro's close associates, Gorrado Guerzoni, testified in an Italian courtroom that the former prime minister was threatened by an agent of the Royal Institute for International Affairs (RIIA) who is also a Committee of 300 member while he was still the U.S. Secretary of State.

Guerzoni was referring to Kissinger, who allegedly wanted Moro snuffed out because the long time popular Italian leader, called the JFK of Italy, opposed "zero growth" and severe population reductions planned for his country by the devious Vatican controlled New World Order.

Italy was one of the earliest targets of the New World Order and most likely chosen as a test target for what was in store for America. According to Dr. John Coleman, a former professional intelligence officer who broke many of the early New World Order activities in Europe, said Italy was chosen an experimental country for the following reasons:

"Italy was chosen as a test-target by the Committee of 300.," wrote Coleman in one of his many reports, "Because Italy is important to the conspirators' plans as it is the closest European country to the Middle East linked to Middle East economics and politics. It is also the home of the Catholic Church, which Weishaupt ordered destroyed, and home for some of Europe's most powerful top oligarchical families of the ancient Black Nobility. Should Italy have been weakened by Moro's death, it would have had repercussions in the Middle East which would have weakened U.S. influence in the region.

"Italy is important for another reason; it is a gateway for drugs entering Europe from Iran and Lebanon, and we shall return to that subject in due course.

"Various groups had combined under the name of socialism to bring about the downfall of several Italian governments since the Club of Rome was established in 1968. Among these are the Black Nobility of Venice and Genoa, P2 Masonry and the Red Brigades, all working for the same goals. Police investigators in Rome working on the Red Brigades-Aldo Moro case came across the names of several very prominent Italian families working closely with this terrorist group. The police also discovered evidence that in at least a dozen cases, these powerful and prominent families had allowed their homes and/or property to be used as safe houses for Red Brigades cells.

"America's "nobility" were doing their share to destroy the Republic of Italy, a notable contribution having come from Richard Gardner even while in his official capacity as President Carter's ambassador to Rome. At that time Gardner was operating under the direct control of Bettino Craxi, an important member of the Club of Rome and a key man in NATO. Craxi was the leading edge of the conspirators' attempts to destroy the Italian Republic. As we shall see, Craxi was almost successful in ruining Italy, and as the conspirators hierarchy's leading player, was able to get divorce and abortion pushed through the Italian Parliament, resulting in the most far-reaching and destructive religious and social changes ever to strike at the Catholic Church, and consequently, the morals of the Italian nation.

"After President Ronald Reagan was elected, an important meeting was held in Washington D.C. in December 1980 under the auspices of the Club of Rome and the Socialist International. Both these organizations are directly responsible to the Committee of 300. The main agenda was to formulate ways and means of how to neutralize the Reagan presidency. A group plan was adopted and, as we look back, it is perfectly clear that the plan the conspirators agreed to follow has been very successful."

Looking back at the explosive testimony by Guerzoni linking Kissinger to the Moro assassination, it is interesting to note it was covered extensively by the Italian media, but not a peep was heard in the U.S. as the big from the wire services and the Post and Time suppressed every word of the Guerzoni testimony to the American public. The mainstream media further suppressed key testimony by several Red Brigades members about how Moro was brutally shot to death and how they knew of high-level U.S. involvement in the plot to kill Moro.

During the years following the Moro killing, I saw up close and personal how the U.S. was orchestrating terrorism in Italy, working undercover with the P2 Masonic Lodge and the Vatican, in the very same manner terrorism and a propaganda-based media is being orchestrated today in America.

And to put icing on the cake, leading to a journalistic hiatus near the Adriatic Sea, came the shocking discovery that Black Ops CIA money was also controlling the English language newspaper in Rome and all the other news coming out of the American wire services.

Although the news outlets were shut off, Dr. Coleman provided a behind the scenes look at really happened to Moro even though his writings found a long and hard road, never really reaching the mainstream.

"In June and July of 1982, the wife of Aldo Moro testified in open court that her husband's murder came about as a result of serious threats against his life, made by what she called "a high ranking United States political figure," writes Dr. Coleman. "Mrs. Eleanora Moro repeated the precise phrase reportedly used by Kissinger in the sworn testimony of Guerzoni: "Either you stop your political line or you will pay dearly for it."

"Recalled by the judge, Guerzoni was asked if he could identify the person Mrs. Moro was talking about. Guerzoni replied that it was indeed Henry Kissinger as he had previously intimated. Guerzoni went on to explain to the court that Kissinger had made his threats in Moro's hotel room during the Italian leaders official visit to the U.S. Moro-then Prime Minister and Foreign Minister of Italy, a NATO member-country-was a man of high rank, one who should never have been subjected to Mafia-like pressures and threats.

"Moro was accompanied on his American visit by the President of Italy in his official capacity. Kissinger was then, and still is, an important agent in the service of the Royal Institute for International Affairs, a member of the Club of Rome and the Council on Foreign Relations.

"In my 1982 expose of this heinous crime, I demonstrated that Aldo Moro, a loyal member of the Christian Democrat Party, was murdered by assassins controlled by P2 Masonry with the object of bringing Italy into line with Club of Rome orders to de-industrialize the country and considerably reduce its population.

"Moro's plans to stabilize Italy through full employment and industrial and political peace would have strengthened Catholic opposition to Communism and made the destabilization of the Middle East-a prime goal-that much harder.

"From the foregoing it becomes clear just how far ahead the conspirators plan. They do not think in terms of a Five Year Plan. One needs to go back to Weishaupt's statements about the early Catholic Church to understand what was involved in the murder of Aldo Moro. Moro's death removed the roadblocks to the plans to destabilize Italy, and as we now know, enabled conspiracy plans for the Middle East to be carried out in the Gulf War 14 years later."

American Actress Flees To India To Escape Black Ops Murder Attempts And Electronic Harassment

Calling herself "a new type of American fugitive, Leslie Oliver explains 'how things are really changing in America.'

29 Jun 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Leslie Oliver has taken refuge to a peaceful part of India, a place far away from the madness in America.

A former Hollywood actress, Oliver finally had to leave after repeated attempts on her life left her with no other choice but to look for some place off the beaten track.

So she chose India as a last resort, leaving her California lifestyle behind and choosing to look "inward" in a country placing more importance on introspection and meditation than television and video games.

How Oliver ended up in a small Indian village in the Himalayas again illustrates how violence and intimidation has saturated the American lifestyle like an unstoppable plague, driving good people away from its borders and into extinction.

And the sad thing about her story, besides the numerous attempts made on her life, is that most everyone reading will shrug it off, saying there goes another "paranoid American" running away from reality.

But for those who take Oliver's story to heart, giving her the benefit of the doubt so to speak, listen to the affidavit provided to the Arctic Beacon she left behind before leaving the U.S. just in case something ugly happens.

In her detailed account of how she became the target of Black Ops harassment, Oliver calls herself the "new type of American fugitive, the title meaning she can no longer stomach the pervasive evil controlling all aspects of American society.

The following is Oliver's gut wrenching story explaining the real behind the scenes story of how things are changing in America. Oliver wanted to mention that all the information given below is a "true and accurate description of my experience and is neither solicited nor compensated in any way."

The following report is an accurate account of the illegal, violent atrocities and numerous attempts to murder me by what is now known to be the 'black ops' of the corrupt U.S. government or 'organized crime'. This new American mafia is condoned, supported and protected by local police, federal law enforcement agencies and all levels of government, including the very highest offices.

The Black Ops/U.S. Government now has the capability of CHOKING or COOKING / RADIATING A PERSON TO DEATH ELECTRONICALLY FROM A DISTANCE and much, much more...

There is no doubt that their intention is to use these weapons on us.

With the use of Scalar EM Weapons aimed directly at us, guns and conventional arsenals are virtually obsolete. The following is a true and accurate account of the assaults, attempts at murder and obvious campaign of the United States Government to destroy me psychologically, physiologically and financially. I have added the most recent incidents first. Most of this information has already been posted publicly on truedemocracy.net, APFN.net, Portland Indymedia.org and the other Indymedias.

The urls below are websites which give further credibility to my report: <http://www.whale.to/b/rifat4.html>, <http://www.raven1.net>, <http://www.raven1.net/mendosa.htm>, <http://www.cheniere.com>,

Enough 'suspicious murders/suicides' abound along with reports by thousands of people who have complained of life threatening assaults. Unfortunately, the thousands of victims already murdered by these criminals, no longer have the luxury of speaking out. However, the non-consensual, violent experimentation of this technology on innocent Americans and the aggressive funding that the development of these electro-magnetic weapons have received is more convincing proof that their manufacture is for "cattle-prodding" the American public into control and invisibly assassinating dissidents who speak out.

RECENT MURDER ATTEMPTS:

In early February 2005 ~ During my first experience of 'electronic choking', the residents in the house (Palm Desert area, CA) where I formerly lived were awakened in the middle of the night by me gasping for air. Electronically, they partially closed up my windpipe so I could barely breathe and was on my way to choking to death when they abruptly stopped it. This was done as a threat after I tried to contact Ed Asner@ Truthout.org that same night to make public the attempts of 'black ops agents' to crash my car. Shortly after this incident, even more attempts to knock me off of the road were made.

February 7, 2005, a group of about 4 or 5 Black Ops agents were waiting in the somewhat deserted back parking lot of Saks Fifth Avenue in Palm Desert, California and began surrounding me after I left the store and was walking towards my car. I had enough time to run back into the store and call my friend/webmaster Al Olthoff in Desert Hot Springs, CA who came and rescued me. I was not able to go back home again before I left the country except to get my clothes.

The reason that they tried to assault me or kidnap me is because I had already begun making preparations to leave the country which they were aware of because of their illegal surveillance and this was to stop me from leaving the country so they could get their 'legal ducks in a row' and arrest me on bogus 'credit card fraud' charges... which I found out later. Seven days later, on February 14, 2005, I managed to leave the USA for good.

One week later, they arrested 100,000 so-called 'felons' (AKA dissidents) across the nation.

May 6 2005 ~ Dharamsala, India, after telephoning Arlene Johnson of www.truedemocracy.net, I was again abruptly woken up by 'something' closing up my windpipe and literally choking me. This was an attempt to threaten me a second time.

May 8 2005 ~ Dharamsala, India ~ The guesthouse proprietors of where I am staying witnessed me staggering out of my hotel room into the main lobby - again gasping for breath and unable to breathe as something was closing up my windpipe. This was all done electronically -- in retaliation for trying to contact Stephen DeVoy who they have already 'neutralized' for making his assaults public.

Winter 2005 ~ Palm Desert area, CA ~ Upon calling the offices of JIMMY WALTER (the 'eccentric' millionaire who aired commercials asking for the re-investigation of 9/11), I was told that he was putting together more commercials.

Not more than 15 minutes after trying to email my suggestion to Jimmy Walter's assistant in Pacific Palisades, CA, a rough-looking agent in a silvery-green Jaguar (obviously well-paid) license plate

#04WIR094 drove up and remained parked directly across the street looking into my house. I live on a dead end street in a more rural part of the Palm Desert area of California. Because there is nothing but sand opposite my property... and because everyone is on a minimum of 3.5-acres, anyone parked across the street is either a visitor of mine or is looking to buy the empty lot. But no one can just sit in their parked car staring into my house from across the street... without being 'up to no good'.

Sure enough, I walked out of the house to see who was there and the man in the Jaguar looked totally shocked and then sped off. A few minutes later, he came back again very, very slowly ... glaring at me, turned around at the next house and drove back past me again in a very threatening way. He did this 4 times until he noticed I was writing his license plate down and he took off like a bullet, for good.

About 4 or 5 other vehicles then also appeared and drove very, very slowly past me . One was a maroon pick-up Truck, license plate #GW97080 who gave me the finger. Another was an older blue Ford (Escort, I believe) license plate #D1 SHARK who started to drive straight towards me as if he was going to run into me but I lurched behind my gate. I tried to get the license plate #'s of the other vehicles but they bolted out of sight when they saw me with pencil and paper.

It may be difficult for someone reading this to imagine the intimidation and covert threat inherent in this sudden 'swarm' of nasty looking guys in vehicles 'swarming' around you and your home, but ask a pro - this is how they do it.

When I called Jimmy Walter to find out where I could send information, he told me that he could only give me his PO Box - not his physical address - as he had been getting 'death threats'.

These are the cars & license plate numbers of those who have literally tried to push me off the road by sideswiping me in their campaign to electronically kill me and try to make it look like a car accident starting from July 2005 to February 14th, 2005... the day I left the USA.

These are all California plates:

4JJD727 Black car, 2FPK059 Gold older Volvo, 3DHG785 White car, 1052115 ("City of Riverside" written on outside of Grey car), 4CL1362 white Honda Accord owned by a stout Hispanic man.

INTRODUCTION *Sept. 9th 2003,

While sitting in the FBI lobby in San Diego, CA waiting to see an FBI agent Matt Brown on another matter -- a man who stated his name as (I believe) Sam Schwartz walked in and asked to speak with an FBI agent. A blonde, middle-aged female agent appeared and ushered him into an adjacent room off the lobby. Although I was trying very hard not to listen, every word of their ensuing conversation could be heard clearly in the waiting area. He began to tell a story of harassment, threats, physical assaults, phone tapping and violence. One day, without knowing how he got there, he found himself committed into a mental institution and labeled a "5150 Paranoid". He also noticed that one of his eyebrows had been shaved off. Sam Schwartz was also very concerned because people with 'Arab names' kept calling his home, leaving messages which referred to private incidents which only he and his wife knew about. He was very afraid that he would be labeled 'a terrorist' because of these extremely unsettling phone calls.

But what was totally unexpected was the reaction of the FBI agent who, although feigning sympathy for Sam Schwartz's predicament asked no questions which might lead to the identity of the perpetrators and apparently had not the slightest interest in noting any details. Instead, she suggested HE HIRE HIS OWN private investigator and ushered him out the door. Sam Schwartz' story is a relevant addition to the report below.

MY ACCOUNT: From 1999 until late 2003

I was the proprietor of 2 websites (www.foreigndrugs.com + www.pharmacyway.com) which sold INFORMATION ONLY on contacting Mexican pharmacies and other foreign pharmacies abroad to purchase medicines over the counter at discounts of up to 80%. My internet business suddenly took off at a phenomenal speed when CBS, NBC, ABC news began inundating the airways with frenzied reports of how easy it was to purchase inexpensive pharmaceuticals for less cost outside the country. It also became evident that 'the American people' were being gauged by the pharmaceutical manufacturers at every level in the drugstores and by the receipt of generous tax exemptions for research.

In August 2000, I retained the law firm of Brull, Piccionelli, Sarno, Braun & Vradenburgh in Los Angeles (310 553-3375) to re-write the copy on my website after hearing about an article printed in the Mexican newspaper, "Tijuana Frontera" which reported that the DEA was going to prosecute American websites that advertised offshore pharmacies, although they were protected by the First Amendment. In short -- it was a 'witch-hunt'.

During that same period, I hired Private Investigator, Roger Tolces of www.bugsweeps.com - to check my telephone line and he confirmed that it was tapped. I also spoke with a criminal attorney, Eric Shevin -- the son of a friend of mine and I asked him what he thought of the situation.

His immediate response was, "Get off the internet, NOW."

I was shocked and asked "Why?"

He replied, "You're going to get caught in the middle of a very explosive political situation that you don't want to be part of".

I not only didn't understand what he meant, I didn't see why I should suddenly cut off my income. Every attorney I spoke with later - and I consulted with no less than eleven lawyers that year -- shook their head and replied, "What's the problem? You're protected by the First Amendment."

So I opted to have the website rewritten by First Amendment Attorney, Robert Sarno using Criminal Attorney Eric Shevin (310 276-2231) as a consultant. We made certain the website not only conformed to all US laws but we also conspicuously displayed the legal guidelines for 'personal importation' which we copied verbatim from the FDA's own website.

Three months later, a man, who called himself a U.S. customs agent telephoned me at home and asked me 'why I put up the website' and 'what medicines I personally bought in Mexico'. I replied that "I felt the website would be of interest to people all over the world and the medicine I bought in Mexico was not his concern." He began a tirade of accusations, saying I was 'helping Americans import medicine illegally from Mexico', citing specific copy on my website which he insisted was 'unlawful'. Unfortunately the copy he criticized was exactly what we copied verbatim from the FDA website itself. I suggested he re-acquaint himself with FDA guidelines and directed him to my attorneys.

A future meeting was arranged by my attorney Robert Sarno with the customs officer and myself. I was more than willing to acquiesce to almost any change on my website that might be suggested by this agent. However on the scheduled day, we waited for the U.S. customs officer who never called to cancel, never showed up and never tried to reschedule. Attorney Bob Sarno shrugged his shoulders and said, "I guess that's the end of that".

He couldn't have been more wrong.

Around March 2002, I received a call from a so-called "delivery service". I was expecting a package and asked "by the way, what are you delivering?". He replied, "Flowers" but refused to tell me who they were from. He then inquired if I was married. I refused to tell him. I actually thought it was a friend playing a joke. Weeks later, I noticed no matter where I drove or at what time - a beat-up, old "muscle car" always was in back of me and always driven by rough-looking hispanic men or skin-head types. It began to dawn on me that I was being followed but I couldn't imagine why. I also noted that it was never the same car or driver which meant the funding for this bizarre campaign came from an organization with seemingly unlimited resources. I concluded the campaign was being initiated by a rich, pharmaceutical company.

Never once did I imagine it was my own government stalking me.

At the time, I lived alone in a 4-bedroom house on 3.5-acres in the desert. The newly paved road led up to a dead-end, with few houses on either side and almost no traffic. Within days, traffic picked up considerably. A barrage of beat-up trucks, vans, muscle cars with nasty-looking Hispanic men donning full-body tattoos and hairnets, one right after the other, began driving back and forth day and night, always stopping in front of my house to either loudly rev up their motors, bombard me with music or shine headlights into my bedroom at 3:00 in the morning. Usually around midnight, I'd receive 5 or 6 ominous late-night phone calls where the caller would either stay on the line without speaking or a man would shout profanities and hang up. It was becoming obvious that this 'pharmaceutical company' also had access to my private telephone conversations because with every arrangement I made, one or two men looking like escapees from Sing-Sing prison would be congregating outside my destination like the bank or web designers office, etc. and make lude comments or hold up a switchblade knife as I passed

Unbeknownst to me at the time, this was one of many covert harassment techniques being used on more and more citizens. Next, I began hearing people on my roof or in the crawl space of my house but could never find anyone. I could not figure out how they entered. At night, I'd see flashlights being used right outside my bedroom window and hear men loudly whispering to each other and laughing. It was no accident that they arranged their trespassing in close proximity to whatever bedroom I was occupying. They wanted me to hear them. At that time nothing ever appeared to be stolen or out of place. The only item I found to be missing was my personal phone book which mysteriously 'reappeared' a few days later in full view on my desk.-no doubt after being copied.

FIRST MURDER ATTEMPT:

During that same period, I had been consulting in the mountains every day (Hwy 74), driving around hairpin turns with very steep drops on either side of the harrowing road. One day, I couldn't help but notice something very peculiar. At every one of the 4 or 5 turnaround points, where a driver would normally pull off the road only long enough to let faster traffic pass, an Hispanic man sat parked in a beat up car. The same odd group of Hispanic men in parked vehicles lining the road was evident on my return trip down the mountain, as well.

Days later, because of hearing a loud thumping sound, I took my car into a garage and was told by the mechanic that my caliper nut which connects the brake fluid line to the brakes had been taken off! In order to deliberately take off a caliper pin -- because it does not fall off -- one needs to remove the whole tire, unhinge the cover of the caliper itself and take off the pin - which one can do without detection if a car is parked in a remote place. Not having the caliper pin in place would have prevented the brake fluid from reaching my brakes - causing them to malfunction - sending me off a mountain cliff to my death!

Suddenly I understood why all those Hispanic men were sitting parked all along Hwy 74! They were waiting to see how another murder is successfully staged by U.S. government hit men. At that point, I realized that I was dealing with ruthless murderers who were being paid to kill me! With only a background as an actress and in graphics and writing, I was suddenly confronted with an almost surreal reality. Someone was actually trying to murder me! Fearing for my life and in a total state of panic-- I refused to spend an evening alone at home and was forced to stay with various friends or take motel rooms down the street from my house.

CONTINUOUS COVERT ASSAULTS:

Weeks later, a so-called pharmacist in Tijuana, Mexico by the name of 'Juan Valdez' telephoned me on my cell phone -- which no customer or Mexican pharmacy had access to -- inquiring, "You're not dead yet?" He then kept insisting I put him in my information Guide. I still was under the assumption that this was being perpetrated by some pharmaceutical company -- because of the sheer extravagance and total absurdity of the program.

I called upon Roger Tolces PI again (www.bugsweep.com) and asked him what to do. He apprised me immediately of BLACK OPS and COINTELPRO which are still in effect covertly. He then printed out an expose which was posted on the Internet. The harassment, strong-arming techniques, threats, covert and staged murders, stalking and much more were described in that report and were identical to my experience. This was a shocking realization. It was almost unbearable to face. My own government had orchestrated this vicious attempt on my life. Never having had any interest in politics and absolutely no experience with law enforcement, I realized that I was uninformed and thus extremely naïve about the world. I, like many Americans, was under the illusion that I was living in a democracy...or at the very least that I was living amongst people who were 'civilized'. However, upon squarely facing the raw truth and horror of the reality, some kind of intelligence began to permeate every cell of my body and 'the dots began to connect'.

Suddenly I realized that 'Juan Valdez' was in reality 'a Black ops agent' who was attempting to entrap me for 'conspiracy'. That was another foolproof way to get me off the internet. If I had included him in my Mexican Pharmacy Guide he could have created any kind of situation to make it look like I was doing business with him which would have led to very serious drug charges. I also remembered being emailed months earlier by a Mexican woman, who insisted that she was a pharmacist and asked to be listed in my Guide. I never bothered to meet her as I was at that time rarely making the 2 hour trip to Mexico and I never listed her because she was very pushy and I didn't care for her. Suddenly that same woman started calling me again. I then also realized she too was a 'Black ops agent' poised to entrap me.

During the summer of 2002, even while my mother lay dying at my sisters home in Westchester, New York-- I was still harassed. Late at night I would hear footsteps below. I distinctly felt something invisible sweep over me that seemed to know which room I was in. (later I learned it is equipment that can 'find' someone by their DNA)

In local Motels, I would inevitably hear drilling coming from the room below, hang ups would commence continuing throughout the night until the morning, people would knock loudly on the door and then I would see them run away in the peephole. On one such 2-night escape to the Red Roof Inn only a few blocks from where I live, a man in a red van tried to pull me into his car though Officer Pohl, who wrote up the police report insisted - in spite of my account to the contrary -- that the man tried to steal my purse.

NOTE: OFFICER POHL and*

OFFICER RODOLPHO of Palm Desert Police Dept are corrupt Black Ops.

Palm Desert Sheriffs Department #ORO23009. I saw the same man in the same car a few days later waiting for me in a parking lot at Dennys restaurant on Varner Blvc. I wrote down License plate #5D65901 RED Dodge Truck with Shell, left a message for Officer M. Pohl and faxed it to the precinct but there was no effort to trace the owner of the car. Later I found out that Officer Pohl is one of the many corrupt cops. I had previously summoned the police on at least 4 different occasions to complain about stalkers, prowlers, etc., but no report was ever written-up. There was always an excuse. If I didn't have the license plate number then the police officer told me I needed to get the license plate number the next time. If I did have the license plate number the police officer said he couldn't arrest anyone just on a license plate number. If I asked them to take fingerprints around my house after a break-in, they couldn't do it because it wouldn't make a difference anyway. I learned quickly not to expect anything from the local police because they work with the so-called 'shadow government' and cover for them -- but I continued to report a break in so it was on record.

STRANGER THAN FICTION:

One of my first evenings hiding-out down the street from my residence at the new Hampton Inn (La Quinta, CA. / Ramon Road/ #10 Freeway), I noticed that although the hotel was almost empty when I arrived, it suddenly filled up with Mexicans and 'skin-head' types.

The first morning, while downstairs in the dining room having breakfast I noticed the man seated at the table next to me. A small boy came over to his table and I assumed it was his son. As it turned out... it was not. But it was for this reason that I got a good look at him.

Weeks later, while visiting my niece in Ocean Beach, CA (San Diego), I was sitting in the back seat of her SUV when she pulled in at an all night "7-11" or "Circle K". (I can get the exact street address later)

What I saw next was even difficult for me to believe. I COULD NOT BELIEVE MY OWN EYES. The store was next to an alley where the garages of an adjacent apartment building stood. Suddenly one of the garage doors rolled up about one-third open and I saw the SAME MAN who had been sitting across from me in the dining room of the Hampton Inn duck under the door and step out onto the alley. While the garage door remained open I could see only the legs of people sitting in chairs that were arranged in a circle. This was very strange to see inside of a residential garage.

The man stood in the alley and a PU truck immediately drove up into the alley and faced him. He gave the driver a sign with his hand and the truck SCREECHED away like lightning. The man went back into the garage and rolled down the door.

I immediately went into the convenience store and spoke with an employee named "Dave". He said that very strange sounds came out of that garage day and night. I am certain that this was one of the many 'black ops' headquarters.

Soon after this, I hired detective John Carman, San Diego, CA. (619 601-9250) to help me but he turned out to be ineffectual in getting any evidence and I stopped using him.

(I recently read this report on John Carman in www.fromthewilderness.com - "John Carman, a former Customs Agent, and a really nice guy, who for more than two years has wanted me to write about his horrific saga of CIA connected corruption at the Mexican border. John, a licensed PI with a concealed weapons permit, was recently set-up to be arrested on phony weapons charges in front of his own child.")

MORE COVERT ASSAULTS

I continued to hear people in my house. I had seen one tall thin man with black hair leaving my property in broad daylight, open the front gate and enter a car that had just pulled up. I heard a woman coughing in the crawl space of my house after I had sprayed the area with pepper spray and I have had at least 6 illegal entries into my car and house where they have stolen cash and valuables. One day, after coming back from a day in Mexico, there were freshly made footprints along with dog prints (my dog had accompanied me to Mexico) in the sand throughout the property.

After discussing on the phone the possibility of producing commercials to expose these criminals with (perp) John Mecca, I found a severed Ethernet (Internet) cable that had been ripped out of the socket lying on the floor. This was not only a blatant threat of what was to come if I 'blew the whistle', it was an outrage that someone had broken into my house again and was also listening to my telephone conversations.

I then hired Roger Tolces, PI again from www.bugsweeps.com to measure the electro magnetic air waves that I could feel day and night. He measured the microwaves pulsing into my house steadily at 958 megahertz. However Roger told me later he could not testify in court as he is afraid of what the government might do to him. He had already had his office broken into and his files ransacked by U.S. law enforcement agents.

In an effort to also put me out of business, my email client list of 8,000 addresses was made virtually useless when I sent out a notice to old customers selling an updated list. Normally my list would bring in a few thousand dollars two times a year. But with the help of 'Magic Lantern' -- the program the U.S. government uses to spy, interact with, and usurp email-- very few of those email reached their destination. I also gave permission to an online pharmaceutical company called "Secure Medical" to use that same email list. They also sent out notices but only about 500 emails got delivered. The salesman I was working with, Mike Larchik's only comment at the time was, "That is the weirdest thing I've ever seen".

Any email or U.S. Mail which is not flattering or which contains incriminating information about the government is quickly read and sabotaged. Before I understood how widespread this corruption was in the U.S. Government, like a good law-abiding citizen, I sent letters out to ALL members of the (Democratic) Senate and House, documenting the criminal actions of what I believed was a rogue government agency. I did not receive one response. Senator Byrd's office practically hung up the phone on me. And although the ACLU supposedly is an organization that 'upholds human rights and civil liberties' they said they could do nothing. The Attorney General in Indio, CA who is part of the corruption, laughed and said "Where's your evidence?" (Funny, I thought it was his job to investigate.) Congresswoman Mary Bono's office, represented by Mr. Penrod apparently knew what was going on but said 'it wasn't his problem'. He referred me back to the corrupt Attorney General in Indio. And although I am aware that Congressman Ron Paul knows a great deal about the so-called non-lethal weapons being used on most citizens - as does ALL of the U.S. Senate and House -- I never received any response from him either.

SECOND MURDER ATTEMPT

Sunday, May 30th, 2003 Something I ingested in the early morning suddenly began to make me feel very strange and extremely dizzy. I was afraid of passing out. It was not the normal feeling of having eaten something bad. It felt like some chemical because of the intensity and the rapid overwhelming feeling of blacking out -- and I realized something toxic had been put into either the milk or the orange juice. Beginning to panic as I did not want to be unconscious alone in my house, I ran out in my terrycloth robe and called 911 on my cell phone. (Note: The 911 call is not on record. The reason is because the call never actually went through to the precinct but was intercepted before it connected -- something that they can do - especially if they are prepared for an incident... which they obviously were).

Very shortly, a police car followed by a fire truck drove up. A chubby dark-haired policeman with a moustache got out of the police car and walked into my yard laughing,

"Hey, did you call 911? Well we're here. The paramedics are here to fix you up good"

He kept laughing as I was struggling to not faint. I realized that whoever these paramedics were -- they were not there to help. I said, "No forget it. I don't need a paramedic. And I no longer need the police either." I staggered past him to my front gate while the policeman walked into my house and then came back out again. I ran across the street to my neighbors house - a very nice couple -- at 30300 Via Las Palmas.

As I did so, I heard him call out behind me while still laughing, "Hey I'm one of the police officers who came to your house a few months ago! Too bad its curtains for you. Yeah... too bad. I'll even tell you my name so you know who killed you... my name is Rodolpho."

My neighbors opened the door and I blurted out -- "They've poisoned me". The woman gave me her cell phone to use.

Suddenly Rodolpho appeared in their yard WITH HIS REVOLVER OUT OF THE HOLSTER ... POINTED AT THEM!

He said laughing "Now Leslie, I think this woman needs to take her cell phone to work..."

He cocked his gun at her, "Don't you?"

Both she and her husband were absolutely petrified and could barely speak.

He added, "I'm sure you won't say anything about what happened here... will you?"

All my neighbor could do was nod "Yes". I gave the phone back to her and staggered back to my house.

Officer Roldolpho apparently assumed I was going to die of poisoning. He just kept laughing and said "Well, good bye Leslie... sorry things had to end this way."

And he drove off. I went inside my house and forced myself to throw up. I drank a ton of water and began to feel revived. I went to get my cell phone but apparently Rodolpho STOLE it when was in my house. I got dressed to go to Kinkos to use their internet machines in Palm Desert to post the incident on my email but the email never got out.

ESCAPADES IN "THE LOONY BIN"

Finally after stalling for about an hour I walked out of Kinkos and about 5 cars started to 'swarm' me. I was afraid to drive my car so I started to walk. The threats and harassment on Hwy 111 from Kinkos was unbelievable. As I walked, I was also then afraid they would pull me into one of their cars because one of them got out and showed me a switchblade knife to terrify me. It worked. I shoved my laptop into a shallow storm drain in Palm Desert so that they would not get it -- and then tried to hail a cab. But no one stopped and by this time I was in a total panic. So I took off my thong shoes in an effort to run faster. I should have held onto them but I let them drop as I was very frightened. I suddenly realized I looked very strange with no shoes on but it was too late. I walked into the Burger King barefoot -- was served a Coke -- and the police appeared.

They put handcuffs on me because I was barefoot though--they said-- I was not arrested. The policeman searched me and found no drugs. He put me into the police car and drove to where my car was parked at Kinkos, searched it (illegally) to see if he could find my laptop and then took me to the "Oasis Mental Hospital" in Indio - where I was admitted as a "5150 paranoid"-- in an effort to discredit any of the reports I had previously made or intended to make in the future.

Upon my admittance into the Oasis Mental Hospital although I had NO PREVIOUS PROBLEM with heart disease both admitting Nurse REFUSED to check off the box on the patients form which indicated NO PROBLEM. She also refused to fill in the part that showed I had NO BRUISES on me when I was admitted. Obviously to be filled-in at a later date, when necessary. I confronted the Nurse with this and she said "We don't do things that way." (Apparently not) However the clincher was the hospital attendants who offered me a cigarette one day. After taking only one drag without even inhaling -- my heart started to palpitate wildly. The attendant then shuffled me in to immediately get tested for blood pressure. I realized only later some chemical was in that cigarette which got my heart palpitating and he had offered it to me to have on record more evidence of my having heart problems. Heart attacks are another covert way of electronically murdering people.

The lone public pay phone in the hospital was totally controlled so most outgoing calls did not go through. The line was either constantly busy or they interjected it with one of their own agents pretending they were the local operator who was unable to connect the call. This is not difficult to do. They do this easily on cell phones as well. They also pre-recorded some of my friends answering services and interjected it midstream, so I would believe I left a message . But like the 911 call -- the connection was never really made. Most of my friends also could not get through to me at the hospital when they called. None of this is my imagination. I am perceptive and aware of their tricks. Alan Layton a "friend", informed me during my 72-hour hospital stay that they were not going to let me leave the Oasis Mental Facility alive. He wanted to know where my lap top was. I told him "in a storm drain". He said, "Oh that's good ... now there's no evidence."

After 72-hours, I met with the hospital 'psychiatrists'-- who were obviously also very corrupt and I agreed after he very forcefully made the suggestion, to remain an additional 3 days of my own accord. But 24-hours later, on June 6, 2003 and ONLY through Divine Intervention , I was 'told' to sign myself out against their wishes.

With only the clothes on my back and the $400 cash I had with me when I was admitted into the mental facility, I got on a Greyhound bus to Chino Valley, Arizona and stayed at the Garchen Institute of Tibetan Buddhism for about 10 weeks. I was very badly shaken from this experience and also because a car had actually tried to side swipe the Greyhound bus crash and make it crash on the way to Arizona. And as unbelievable as it sounds, it is true. Kathy Dhyer who is the manager at the Garchen Institute, was kind enough to let me stay there for one month before the 4-week Summer Teachings began. She gave me extra clothes to wear and was very instrumental - along with Garchen Rinpoche and the other wonderful Lamas -- in calming me down. I was truly traumatized. Kathy didn't believe I was lying but she also did not wholeheartedly believe my story... but no one did.

(KATHY DHYER AND THE GARCHEN INSTITUTE DO NOT WISH TO BE INVOLVED IN ANYTHING POLITICAL)

In November of that year 2003, I left the USA for the first time and stayed away for 6 months. I was attacked electronically abroad as well. And as I began to make arrangements to have my dog shipped to me from Palm Desert...I was told that my healthy 6-year old dog had "suddenly died".

I don't need evidence to know that 'black ops' murdered my dog.

I finally came back to America in June or July 2004 and the assaults continued, becoming increasingly violent as I began to post information on the Internet.

There are other details but they are not perhaps pertinent to this account.

Ohio High School Teacher Has House Ransacked And Attempts Made On His Life For Compiling Sensitive 9/11 Information

Tom Mustric, who was suspended from teaching for seven days for 9/11 statements contrary to the administration, turns out to be targeted by authorities for other 9/11 related information he has uncovered.

28 Jun 2006

By Greg Szymanski

A story appeared several months which caught the eye of readers, a story about a high school teacher suspended for saying 9/11 was inside job during a casual conversation in the lunch room with another teacher.

The comments and subsequent seven day suspension of Columbus High School teacher Thomas Mustric caught the attention of America, as people on both side of the 9/11 issue either called him a hero or called him a chump.

But behind Mustric's freedom of speech, lunch room school story lies much, much more. Behind his comments made about 9/11 is a tale of intrigue, assassination attempts and civil rights violations so egregious it makes the hair on even the most apathetic of Americans stand on edge.

In a story like Mustric's the tendency is to cry "foul" for a free speech infringement, say goodbye to Mustric and wish him well in his future teaching endeavors. But like most stories, if one digs deep enough and asks the right questions, the unexpected comes forward like finding gold in a dried up old Texas creek.

And that's just what happened last week as Mustric went through the motions, telling a radio audience about his unfortunate incident about the 9/11 comments that led to a short suspension and the eventual reinstatement of his substitute teaching position.

But last week during the final moments of a one hour interview on Greg Szymanski's Investigative Journal radio program, Mustric mentioned in passing how his phone had been tapped and his house had been broken into on numerous occasions, as he suspected Black Ops government agents also removed his computer and research files.

It turns out Mustric, a teacher by day and an activist by night, has been on the hit list of the fascist American regime for quite some time, as the "Clark Kent" type super-activist disguised as a teacher has had at least six assassination attempts made on his life.

And as it turns out, Mustric is the perfect example of "you can't tell a book by looking at the cover" as the soft spoken social studies teacher with the dark rimmed glasses has been meeting undercover with military whistleblowers about sensitive 9/11 data showing government complicity and collecting information about illegal weapons transfers to Bosnia by former President Clinton, including illegal arms sales to Israel and Iraq.

In fact, in his capacity as running a Middle East peace group, Mustric turns out to be a silent but deadly investigator and top notch super-sleuth. And according to Mustric authorities were so interested in his activities, they pilfered two extremely hot and dangerous files from his Ohio apartment.

"Two files were removed from my home: 1) my material in "file" on his name (the military whistleblower from Wright Patterson Air Force Base) and 2) the name of the Arab Computer company from Cincinnati, Ohio, allowed to "down load all the intelligence on all of our airports" all prior to 911," said Mustric. "Other files removed included my talks with Department of State regarding a weapon transfer sale approved by Clinton for Bosnia.

"In 1995 Saddam Hussein ordered 2000 copies of special assassination rifles @ $15,000 per copy plus alleged ballistics, with long range capability. I went to Washington D.C. to the White House but did not have clearances, so SS met with me at my location in DC early in the AM. That late morning I went to DOS, meeting with about seven notables for about seven minutes, and heard seven words three time, "You know what you have to do" and all quickly left the briefing Iraq desk room.

"I returned to CMH to next meet with former Prime Minister Peres for 45 minutes during his book signing. An Iraq purchase of such capable weapons was not in the best interest for Israel, my Middle East peace project, and for Clinton's first visit to Israel that next weekend.

"Anyway, I thought it important to protect the president, divert the weapons---and all I knew is that they were ordered from Remington and shipped. Israel may have spent some 63 million in a series of events. The weapons were disassembled with extreme prejudice, so was the Iraqi General who was to divert the weapons from Bosnia."

In order to tell a more complete story about Mustric's activities in his private quest for peace and justice in what looks like a David vs. Goliath scenario, he provided the Arctic Beacon a detailed account of his home break-ins, attempts on his life and other assorted encounters with authorities.

Upon Mustric's request, the high level names involved in his harassment and incriminating details have been left out for his safety and protection. However, he did say:

"Regarding the many illegal entries into my home. I met with my Congressional representative about my "illegal entries" problems regarding matters of national security concerns on 9/11.

"Depending on how you count, I have experienced five or six attempted assassinations by actors under color of law. Regarding my 911 file materials removed from my home: I presented the information to my political science former grad advisor professor at the Ohio State University. I told him of my meeting with a commander at Wright Patterson Air Force Base outside the Columbus Mayor's office. He was upset that the Mayor would not see him, nor would the Ohio governor Taft, or the Mayor of Dayton.

The earlier attempts on my life go back to the late 60s at the Ohio State University, where in another remarkable story, I was told by a "deep throat" that the "FBI was going to try to drive me insane." This was over my being in a six year program to study world views. In a meeting with Art and Science Dean Oats, he complained that my plan of study to "write a book" being a six year program was outside the change of Selective Service to complete your major line of study in 4 years. After deep throat met with me, I made my behavior very predictable to see how FBI would take the advantage, since I was also pre-med going into psychiatry. However, because the "intelligence" community also studied my psychology experiments results, my sample theme, and my autobiography, I was recruited to do my service in 3 days to cooperate on a psychological profile study of President Papa Doc---granted unless we declared war. I was next invited to help sophisticate "mafia wars" in NYC, using "psychological enriched environment programs, PEEPS," which I turned down. You have to understand PEEP to understand Able Danger and 911."

Greg Szymanski Madame, Please explain to me why you have adopted the moniker, "Madame Justice", and why you would want that on the ballot. Is it a ploy to win supporters who want a judge who is tough on crime, or is there something that makes you superior to other proponents of Justice that would qualify the title? Also, please share with me your thoughts on Justice vs. Mercy. Sincerely, Alex Raleigh, NC Greg also has his own daily show on the Republic Broadcast Network. Freedom Fighter And Man Who Exposed The Financial Plundering Of America Through CAFRs Is Now On the Brink Of Becoming A Felon

The wheels of fascist America are spinning right over Walter Burien, as he is being framed into accepting a felony plea bargain, stemming from what he calls the illegal abduction of his son.

By Greg Szymanski

The jailing of freedom fighter Walter Burien for 45 days and his subsequent plea bargain agreement to accept a felony conviction without more jail time is another example of America's fascist system jailing innocent Americans.

Burien, another in the long list of America's political prisoners being nailed to the wall, has been a major thorn in the side of the "powers that be," being one of the first who decided to take on Washington where it hurts most -- in its corrupt pocket book.

More than 10 years ago, Burien, a successful businessman who had an office in the World Trade Center during the late 70s and early 80s, became fed up with the fleecing of America and decided to use his business sense to do something good for the people.

And what he uncovered was the one of the largest scams being played on Americans, as politicians failed to report trillions in assets under Comprehensive Annual Financial Reports (CAFR).

These reports, common in the corporate environment, have been done away with by crafty lawyers and politicians who have rewritten the laws of ethical business in order to hide money and mislead the American public about the wealth of their country, being used primarily to benefit a few crooked politicians and business men and not the majority of people.

"You now know the primary reason why Gorbechev went democratic, more money - more control! We showed him the blueprint for true communism. Russia from the past, the state openly owned everything. In the USA the state truly owns everything, but through walls of well masked corporate veils created over the decades," said Burien this week on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal.

"The US Government now has more control over and wealth amassed from the people than the old Russia ever thought was possible or ever dreamed about our freedom has been lost, we need to get it back without delay."

And for Burien's patriotic stance to alert Americans about the failure of politicians at all levels to make public CAFRs, he has been harassed since 1998 when he first tried to institute a plan in Phoenix to return the financial system back to the people.

Although a complicated program which can be explained on his web site at www.CARF1.com, his original financial backer was jailed for 30 on bogus charges on order to keep the lid on the CAFR scam from the people.

Since then authorities have tried to marginalize Burien by getting to him through child protective services that according to Burien has illegally taken his children. Burien is now awaiting sentencing, as he recounts the sad story of how his children were taken:

On the morning of 11/23/05 I became aware of the fact that his son was to be abducted from school under false pretense, so to prevent this abduction of my son, I checked him out of school early and was going to return with my son to Arizona at that time.

I left the school with John in his 30 ft 1978 Southwind Motor Home. I became aware that the school had an East Brunswick Police officer standing by to assist in the abduction of John. I left the school and a Police Officer Fitzpatrick pulled behind my Motor Home and attempted to stop the vehicle to facilitate the abduction of John. I was aware of the intent of this Officer based on what was said by a school official when I left with his son and knew that when he stopped, my son would be abducted.

In a highly charged state of mind, and under extreme duress, I did not stop right away but drove for approximately ten minutes failing to yield to Officer Fitzpatrick and several other Police vehicles that joined in the assist to stop my Motor Home.

I then finally stopped and my son was abducted, my Motor Home trashed, and I was arrested and charged with second degree alluding and having hollow point bullets with my stored Arizona registered firearm that was in storage within my Motor Home. I asked an Officer to secure his firearm before the vehicle was towed so that it would not be stolen from the impound lot where his MH was being brought to. Additionally I was issued 17 traffic tickets creatively written running the gambit from reckless driving, failure to yield, and driving on the sidewalk, etc.

Bail was set at $150,000 and I spent the next 45 days in the Middlesex County Jail until a long-term friend from California arranged for a bail reduction to $50,000 with $5,000 paid to an attorney by the name of Marco Laracca.

From January 8th 2006 until the current date (five and a half months), I waited in his Motor Home parked in a parking lot for disposition of these charges. I attempted to plead not guilty on several occasions but was threatened and intimidated not to do so.

My court motions filed or written requests for new or missing discovery were on every occasion ignored. My requests for correction of the official record were also ignored.

Attorney Antonio J. Toto insisted I take a plea bargain of pleading guilty to third degree alluding, where all traffic tickets would be dropped, no further jail time, probation for three to five years, fines of several hundred dollars, mandatory DNA testing and loss of my firearm.

In the alternative, if I plead not guilty, and was found guilty at trial, I was being threatened with five to ten years in the state penitentiary, thousands of dollars in fines, losing his driving license and additional fines for the 17 traffic tickets, being held back from trial for several more months for living in my Motor Home in a NJ parking lot.

My cash flow over the last several months was virtually non-existent, excluding some help he was getting from a soybean farmer from Ohio and a woman in KC..

On July 15th 2006, I will meet with a probation officer for interview and then that probation officer will make a recommendation to Judge Dennis V. Nieves per sentencing.

Well, isn't abduction of your children under false pretense by local politicians grand in the state of New Jersey? Every time I tried to mention one word per the abduction of my child while I was at one of their court hearings I was threatened by the judge to not speak, of which was enforced by several deputy sheriffs standing close by.

Besides going to Burien's web site to understand all about CAFRs, he also wrote an open letter to Al Gore in October 2004, explaining the financial fraud going on America. The following is the important parts of Burien's letter reprinted:

"Myself being a strong critic of government's nondisclosure, when I looked at and reviewed financenet.gov in 1998, it broke all the rules in the behalf of the people. It gave a listing of local government CAFRs (Comprehensive Annual Financial Reports), government's Annual Financial Report that showed "Gross" income as well as total "Investments." [Trillions in composite totals] It listed the original transmittal letters from GFOA (Government Financial Officers Association) a private group originally located in Chicago, Illinois who started the CAFR accounting structure in 1946.

"In 1979 at GFOA's request they had the Feds mandate to the few local governments who were not in compliance with producing a CAFR to do so at that time if they wished to continue receiving Federal funding. That was Transmittal Letter #1 issued in 1979 by what has now become GASB Government Accounting Standards Board (a Federal Agency) Transmittal Letter #1 and the correspondences that led up to it were there on Financenet.gov to be viewed.

"What was being hand spoon feed to the public across the country up until that point were Selectively created budget reports which excluded "substantial" portions of the gross income and in almost all cases did not list the investment / future funding accounts as was shown in the CAFRs.

"CAFRs when digested and gross income is totaled showed in most cases that government had evolved into a corporate for profit business in which as of the year 2000 only 1/3rd of governments "Gross" income came from Tax income. Budget reports mislead the public into believing government's primary income was tax income, it was not. Tax income was only 1/3rd of the gross as shown in the CAFR once digested.

"In many a case after careful review of a CAFR, it was shown that government in many a case was indirectly funding their own debt with the use of their own investment funds. A debt as would be shown on the selectively created budget reports and that the public was being tagged to repay.

"Most people from the private sector would think that the majority of that ever-growing debt of their local government for bond issuance's, insurance coverage, etc., or even the mortgage on their own house was being funded by the private sector.

"Well, come the year 2000, it was not. Government enterprise investment groups and government Pension operations were the primary investors in that debt, and did so using the government's own investment funds. The public was being locked into repayment of the debt and by doing so accomplished a return (Non-Tax income) for the government. If a private corporation did the same to its shareholders without full and open disclosure of doing so, the directors involved would be sitting in the federal pen after a multiple count SEC indictment.

"But then due to the money involved, government starting in 1946 evolved into what gives a new definition to the expression of letting the "Foxes guard the Hen house" and by definition of circumstance and reality of the current structure, has now given government the true title and has redefined the meaning of the words "Organized Crime." Or as the definition of RICO goes, "Extortion of money from the public through criminal enterprise."

Florida Man Who Said The Bush Family Is "A Plague On The Earth And Should Burn In Hell For Eternity" Is Being Targeted By Authorities As A Threat To Society

Steve Esdale, claiming authorities have covered-up his father's murder, is now being harassed for comments made about the Bush family. Authorities are trying to get at his phone and computer records as well as trying to claim he is mentally ill.

26 Jun 2006

By Greg Szymanski

A Florida man who called the Bush family "a plague on the earth that should burn in hell for eternity" has been accused of threatening Gov. Jeb Bush and labeled by authorities a threat to society for his comments.

Steve Esdale, who also accused Gov. Bush and authorities of covering up vital evidence in his father's suspicious murder, is also being targeted for putting up information on his web site about Prescott Bush's former Nazi affiliations.

Esdale's comments about the Bush family were apparently pulled off his web site or obtained through wire tapping, as Florida officials have now subpoenaed his phone and computer records in an attempt to prove Esdale is a threat.

He also claims authorities are trying to get him committed to a mental institution for his comments as well as his continued three year private investigation to get to the bottom of his father's death.

Esdale claims his elderly father was murdered by a younger woman he hastily married, who unknown to anyone was an undercover Bolivian DEA agent. And for three years, he desperately has been trying to get justice, but has run into a brick wall, as Florida authorities first claimed Murray Cohen's death was of normal causes,

According to Esdale, however, authorities covered up vital evidence categorically proving his father was killed by his new bride in a scheme to clean out his bank account and steal his Florida estate, the police for yet unknown reasons covering up for the Bolivian undercover agent.

Esdale's story has been previously documented in the Arctic Beacon archives and he has appeared on Greg Szymanski's popular radio show, The Investigative Journal. But a new twist in Esdale's story of continual harassment by authorities for trying to get at the truth, needs reexamining in light of the recent attempts by authorities to silence him for his comments about the Bush family.

It should be noted in previous stories, Esdale presented substantial probable cause crime scene evidence his father was killed, evidence authorities have suppressed, as 911 tapes were altered and a coroner's report changed to omit a strange drug found at the crime scene.

Esdale's complaints of a police cover-up have gone as far as Gov. Jeb Bush's office. He also claims the "fix is in" all the way to the top, as high officials are more concerned at protecting the former Bolivian agent and keeping from the public about the botched investigation than getting at the real truth behind the alleged murder of his elderly father.

Ever since Esdale starting making waves and ruffling feathers with the authorities, including Gov. Bush's office, he became the brunt of police harassment, including an unexpected raid on his house and numerous invasions of privacy of his computer records.

But Esdale claims things have gotten so bad that authorities are trying to frame him for threatening Gov. Bush, as well as trying to place him in a mental institution.

From his Florida home, Esdale has provided the following shocking account, illustrating another in a long line of cases illustrating a fascist climate spreading across America:

"You won't believe what I am about to tell you. Through a public records request, I obtained a 75 page report about me made by Florida Department of Law Enforcement. In this report they included a copy of a subpoena given to my phone carrier Cingular.

"They stated in their subpoena that it was urgent to get my phone records because there was a threat made to the Governor of Florida, Governor Bush. Further into the report, it states that "At no time did Esdale make physical or verbal threats to the Governor or his Family".

"With this information, I can prove that they lied to obtain my personal phone records to try to find where I was seeking safe heaven to keep my family safe. It stated in the report that the reason why they tracked me down, was because they were going to invoke the "Baker Act" on me, which allows them to put me in a mental hospital against my will.

"They had the Government do a profile on me. They claim that I left messages at the Governor's office stating the following :

"1. I accused him of participating in the cover up of my father's murder.

"2. I stated that his family was a plague on the earth, and they should burn in hell for eternity.

"3. I stated I was going to post the information on my web site about Prescott Bush and his Nazi connection.

"4. I stated I was going to post the information about his close ties with the owner of the airlines who trained the 911 hijackers.

"For the above mentioned, they claimed I was a threat to the Governor. They also made an entire copy of my web site.

"In this 75 page report, they also confirmed they subpoenaed information from my web host, Go Daddy. They subpoenaed information from my Internet provider, AOL. I would also like you to know that my federal law suit was transferred from a judge who was appointed by the current dictator which would of got me no where, and is now before a judge who does not tolerate police corruption."

Confession No.10: Billy Graham firmly Under Vatican And Jesuit Control? Vatican and Jesuit Vendetta for England Never-Ending; Should Serve as Example Of What Is Really Happening in America

Researchers come forward with information that Dr. Graham was a 33rd Degree Freemason. Recent Guardian article says EU is a Catholic plot to impose Vatican sovereignty over Britain.

25 Jun 2006

By Greg Szymanski

This week in Confession No. 10 by the shores of Brushy Creek we look at post 1910 Jesuit influence on England and other parts of Europe, as well as Billy Graham's alleged connections to Freemasonry and Jesuit influence.

Throughout the course of history, it's no coincidence the Vatican and its Jesuit henchmen have been at the center of controversy, including civil unrest, war and genocide.

But only recently have Americans been waking up to their methods of deception, treachery and manipulation, as their goal of global dominance especially since 9/11, has finally reared its ugly head onto American soil.

According to many researchers providing information for these Confessions, don't be fooled by the Jesuit's attempt to make Zionism a scapegoat. If anything and if you remain skeptical, you owe it to yourself and the future of your family to at least consider all possibilities, including the Vatican and Jesuits.

But to really understand their foothold into all aspects of American society and politics with the eventual goal being the destruction of a free America, it is necessary to look at their past dirty dealings with an open mind.

As always it is truth-loving, freedom-minded people who provide solid evidence of the wicked intentions of the Vatican and Jesuits and this week is no different as Alan O'Reilly has provided the following information.

O'Reilly begins by telling us to first look for a post 1910 example of papal interference in England, which led up to WWII and to consider the following passages from Albert Close's Book, Jesuit Plots from Elizabethan to Modern (1930s) Times.

According to O'Reilly's research, Close revealed that when Oxford Don, Mr. R.H. Crossman, sought to investigate Hitler's blood purges of the 1930s, he was told repeatedly, "The pope is behind all the trouble".

And according to researchers carrying out the Pope's "dirty work" are the Jesuits, who are the henchmen hiding behind the cloth, orchestrating chaos and genocide.

"When Mr. Crossman attempted to broadcast his findings from Berlin in July 1934, via the BBC, the broadcast was suddenly cut off when he mentioned the Pope," said O'Reilly. "No explanation was ever given and it is virtually certain that the then BBC Chairman, Lord Reith, was part of the cover-up.

O'Reilly added that the cover-up helped bring about WWII. Moreover, he added, Papal antagonism against Britain was voiced vehemently in the 19th and 20th centuries from authoritative sources and nothing has changed, as Mr. Hilton points out in his book.

"Let us never forget that whatever [Queen Elizabeth's] boasted authority may be it is as nothing and less than nothing compared to that of the Vicar of Christ.

"The law of God that is the Pope's command will be or rather has been and is being carried into effect: the Parliamentary lie will be spit upon and trampled underfoot."

Many other researchers and book writers have pin pointed the Vatican and Jesuits as being the culprits behind the New World Order, including Lindsay Jenkins in his book The Last Days of Britain and Ashley Mote in his book, Vigilance, a Defence of British Liberty.

"Rome has opposed the UK at many critical moments in its history, ever since the signing of the Magna Carta on 15th June 1215," wrote Mote. "Pope Innocent III wrote bluntly to the English abbots and bishops who had signed the document, saying they had done something "abominable" and "illicit". The Pope also assumed powers to annul Magna Carta.

"Three centuries later, Henry VIII finally threw the Roman Catholic Church out. His act of rebellion is still talked about in Rome to this day. The British have not, and never will be, forgiven for such heresy."

Mote also said the Popes' efforts to conquer England via the Armada of 1588, the Stewart rising of 1745, Napoleon, Kaiser Wilhelm, Hitler, the IRA and the EU.

Mote adds:

"For the Roman Catholic Church, the UK is unfinished business stretching back 500 years."

And to emphasize how the Vatican is still trying to settle the score with England, O'Reilly uncovered an article in The Guardian, dated March 4, 2005, illustrating this point:

A Tory candidate who believes the EU is a Catholic plot to impose Vatican sovereignty over Britain was today accused by the Catholic church of preaching a conspiracy theory traditionally associated with the far right.

In an article in the Spectator magazine, Adrian Hilton, who is standing in Slough, argued that "a Catholic EU will inevitably result in the subjugation of Britain's Protestant ethos to Roman Catholic social, political and religious teaching.

His outspoken views prompted the spokesman for Cardinal Cormac Murphy-O'Connor, the leader of the Catholic church in England and Wales, to accuse him of deploying "the sort of argument that tends to be made by extreme Protestants or radical nationalists.

These views are bizarrely a-historical and fundamentally erroneous, and an unfair depiction of the Catholic view of Europe," the spokesman said.

Defending his views, Mr Hilton insisted that "a Protestant view of history is every bit as valid as the Cardinal Archbishop's", and said making "an assertion of the law cannot be bigotry or conspiracy theory.

It is unfortunate that, in this day and age, if one expresses an Islamic perspective it has to be accepted, if one expresses a Roman Catholic perspective it has to be accepted - and yet an assertion of the constitutional position of her majesty the Queen and parliament with regards to Protestantism is greeted with derision.

Also reported in The London Times on March 30, 2005:

Sheila Gunn, a former Times journalist who served as a press secretary to John Major, the former Prime Minister, has been imposed as the new Tory candidate for the seat [of Slough]. Mr Hilton was ousted this month after party officials were alerted to an article that he wrote in 2003, which described the European Union as a Roman Catholic conspiracy and suggested that Mr Major's signing of the Maastricht Treaty had been an act of treason

Regarding the above articles and comments, O'Reilly emphasized "that's what happens to EU dissenters in public life, who speak the truth. The Vatican is poised for the kill. It is hoped that a government can be elected within the next decade to stave off the Pope's 'coup de grace' but time is running critically short."

Adding to the Vatican and Jesuit control over England, author of the book Vatican Assassins, provided the following:

"The Archbishop of Westminster is the Pope's man of all political and financial power in Britain. He is like the Archbishop of New York here in the US. All intelligence agencies in England are ultimately controlled by the London Archbishop advised by the Jesuit Provincial at Stonyhurst.

"The Archbishop rules the English Branch of SMOM protected by the monarch and is the secret master of the Grand Lodge even as the Archbishop of New York is the ultimate master of the Supreme Council of the 33rd Degree in Washington. Therefore with this model followed in virtually every country with an open presence of the Roman Hierarchy

In closing, O'Reilly provided the following comments about Billy Graham's loyalty to the Vatican and the Jesuit Order, his goal to lure Protestants to the Pope.

"The Bible Believer's Bulletin reported in January 1991, in an article entitled Indecision in the Hour of Decision that a man named Harmon Taylor of Hart Ministries wrote to Dr. Graham three times early in 1990, asking him if he was or had ever been a Mason, or a 33rd Degree Mason.

"Taylor received no reply to his letters and Dr. Ruckman commented that this was 'a little indecisive' on Dr Graham's part, insofar as surely any man in American could have answered the questions immediately in plain language. Billy's refusal to answer certainly raises more questions.

"In Smokescreens, by Jack Chick, he reveals, p 53, how the Catholic publisher Randolph Hearst used his newspapers to push Graham as a leading evangelist but one who would never attack Rome. Dr. Rivera, ibid, described to Bro. Chick how from 1950 onwards, the Jesuits filled the stadiums in Central and South America with Catholics to boost the Church's power, win back genuine converts who had left Catholicism, thus destroying bible-believing churches in the region and ensure Graham's continued cooperation. "Rome spent millions of dollars promoting Graham, who would in turn promote the late John Paul II, as the world's greatest moral leader and declare, on Vatican advice, that Communist Russia exercised religious freedom, thereby betraying persecuted believers who were getting sentences of 5-10 years for passing out a single tract.

"The above appears to show the link between the masons and the SJ and underlines the importance of Jude 3:

Beloved, when I gave all diligence to write unto you of the common salvation, it was needful for me to write unto you, and exhort you that ye should earnestly contend for the faith which was once delivered unto the saints.

"Chick is right when he declared Billy Graham to be the pied piper of the whore of Revelation who lured Protestants back to the pope."

Slats Grobnik Rallies America Around "Credo For Peace" As He Devises Plan To Defeat The New World Order

Fresh out of a Denver gulag, Slats wants everyone in America to repeat his 'Credo' at 1:03 pm central time on Monday, as starters to rid America of the enemy within.

By Greg Szymanski

Slats Grobnik left Sam's Tavern about two months ago and hasn't been seen in public since. Slats dropped by his favorite tavern for a quick beer after being released from an extended 30 day stay at a Denver gulag at the request of the U.S. Gestapo.

After the gulag experience, he realized America had fallen over the cliff and there was no crawling back. He realized the ship had sunk, the captain was 'drunk-nuts' and loonies were running naked in the White House using the Constitution for toilet paper.

So Slats retired to his red brick Chicago bungalow, wondering whether to drink his life away watching NBA basketball or do something positive.

If America was normal, he would have chosen the former. But since things were going haywire, he chose the later.

So Slats, the most unlikely of candidates to awaken the masses, set out to enlighten his fallen, brainwashed brothers and sisters. And by no means was it an easy task, as he spent the first two weeks at home finishing up a case of Old Style, waiting patiently for the Miami Heat and Shaq to win the NBA title.

With the series over in six, Slats knew he had till next year before the playoffs started to get the job done so he spent the next two weeks reading Don Quixote and several other inspirational books in order to prepare his plan.

He also read about all the patriots on the war path in America, rallying here and riding motorcycles there, hoping to end the spiral of unstoppable horror being propagated in Washington. He read about the 9/11 truth symposiums, thinking how he went to many JFK rallies in the 70s and 80s, finally opting to stay home after becoming tired of listening to speaker after speaker rant on and on while justice was never being served.

He then continued reading about all the political, scientific and medical experts, fighting fascism with big words and high-fangled theories of freedom and justice. Slats had also grown tired of big words, as it usually indicated the 'fix was in' once the hot air cleared off the table.

He then found an article about Frosty Wooldridge riding his motorcycle cross country for freedom, which he rather liked, but decided against a similar course of action since he never had ridden a motorcycle.

He thought about Frosty riding and it made him feel good, as it made him think about how the true leaders of freedom and justice usually came from unusual places, and it usually coming from the common folk, not from the so-called experts or professional speakers who end up boring the people to death due to rather large and inflated egos.

Although Slats had big ideas too, especially when he sat alone on his couch while his Great Dane, Charlie, was sleeping at his feet, this time he felt almost helpless, thinking this time it might be better to close his eyes for good.

In fact, one evening Slats closed his eyes, dreaming of a better day, dreaming how the killing had ended and how the American population finally awoke from a deep slumbering sleep to take back their country.

When he finally awoke, he thought for a brief moment he had died and gone to heaven. But quickly he came to his senses, saying out loud as Charlie looked at him like he was crazy:

"I have the plan! It won't be easy but nothing hard ever is and good always triumphs over evil and it starts with each person making a commitment to the truth and never wavering or giving in to the evil enemy within our country."

And for the next several days Slats wrote down his plan of action, which was quite intense, complicated and tedious, a plan involving going to at least three continents.

But since every long journey begins with one small step, he decided to concentrate on writing his "Call to Action" or his feeble attempt for one Average American to do one outstanding thing in his life before passing on to a better place.

But not being a writer or having any professional experience with the written word, Slats mumbled to himself, trying desperately to be organized yet inciteful:

"I'll make it short and sweet. I'll ask people to repeat the words over and over, as that usually works. I'll make the words become a credo of peace for the entire country. I'll ask them to say it for the first time at 1:03 pm Monday, June 26. Why 1:03 I don't know? But I hope millions will say it together that day and then millions more saying the same words over and over again every single day."

It sounded crazy, he thought, as he prepared pen and paper, but then crazier things have worked in a pinch.

So in the quiet of the night, Slats began writing his words similar to Tom Paine's Common Sense trying to rally the troops around the Revolutionary War. But Slats message was much, much shorter than Paine's effort since he thought most people don't read much anymore and if it was good, maybe some radio host or newspaper would give it "sound bite" attention since, after all, that's how Americans are used to reading or listening anyway.

So it was written:

A Quiet Revolution
By Slats Grobnik

A quiet revolution is taking place as we speak, as we drive down the lonely highway of life and as we ponder the ultimate fate of America in the quiet solitude of our homes.

This silent revolution, hinging on understanding not violence, is quite effective. It's quite effective since it's a peaceful revolution based deep within the soul of good men, as one by one each man, women and child chooses for himself and without the influence of the Brotherhood, to no longer be ruled by the elite or be pushed around by an American government gone drunk with power.

And within this quiet revolution, the lid has finally come off the pickle barrel of corruption, exposing the true perpetrators who are none other than the Vatican through the Jesuit Order, working their evil magic through their minions in government and business.

And let this humble collection of words be a resounding call for all Americans far and wide to rid our country of the evil Jesuits and those in government and business who work on their behalf.

And let these humble collection of words be a resounding call for all Americans far and wide to become educated, read history, understand the Bible and join their souls, spirits and hearts together, starting Monday at exactly 1:03 pm central with everyone together reciting together the following words:

I, as a God-loving American, no longer pledge allegiance to the corrupt government of the United States, demanding their immediate removal

I, as a God-loving American, no longer knowingly or unknowingly pledge allegiance to the Vatican through the Jesuit Order, demanding their immediate expulsion from the United States.

I, as a God-loving American, no longer will allow the Jesuits and the United States government to deceptively steal my liberty, freedom, mind, body and soul.

I, as a God-loving American, promise never to back down from the forces of evil, including the United States government, the Vatican, the Jesuits and all other minions of evil advancing their evil ways.

I, as a God-loving America, would rather die than live under this tyranny.

I, as a God-loving American, pledge from this day forward to expose and expel the real spiritual controllers of the New World Order and their faithful temporal workers destroying America.

I, as a God-loving American, ask God to guide and direct the hands of all good men while protecting them from evil. Amen.

New World Order Stealing Americans Blind With Illegal Overseas Giga-Fund Estimated At $55 to $300 Trillion

London Based International Currency Review backs up Leo Wanta's story about how the Bush and Clinton crime families have ripped-off U.S. Treasury money to fund the destruction of America.

23 Jun 2006

By Greg Szymanski

While the country is preoccupied with terrorism, the war in Iraq and 9/11, thugs controlling the takeover of America are stealing citizens blind to the tune of $55 to $300 trillion dollars, according to an undercover financial report by the London-based International Currency Review.

The up-to-date report just released confirms that $27.5 trillion first raised from 1989-1992 to finance the imposition of the New World Order has now covertly blossomed into much, much more as Americans have been conveniently "made to look left when they should be looking right."

But important stories like this usually get buried, ignored and overlooked in favor of rebellion in the streets and cockeyed symposiums for truth. Sadly, it's usually the emotional gut wrenching extravaganzas rushing thousands to the streets "crying foul" that gain attention by the masses.

In fact, it is the intelligent crooks behind the scenes, including the entire U.S. Congress and Executive, who are quite content with rebellion, rioting in the streets and 9/11 conferences just as long as the real heat of activism stays away from the important issue -money.

But while Americans remain hoodwinked, some investigators are toiling away tirelessly in the background, following the real stories and the money trail first raised by U.S. Treasury agent Leo Wanta, whose project authorized by President Ronald Reagan to destabilize the Russian currency at the end of the Cold war generated vast sums of money to be returned to the U.S. Treasury.

However, according to Wanta and other investigators tracking the New World Order money trail, trillions ended up in private accounts in order to finance the biggest project of all: "the installation of the New World Order, to borrow a phrase used by George H. Bush who lifted the phrase from former Russian President Gorbachev, who still heads up a KGB contingent operating in the United States," according to reliable intelligence sources.

And if the truth ever be told about who really was responsible for stealing the vast sum of money now funding the New Word Order, their nefarious and criminals actions could once and for all be put to rest in favor of a healthy Republic.

Although the amounts stolen and used for clandestine affairs is mind boggling, the giga fund first amassed by Wanta is expected to mature to more than $300 trillion by 2012 when it is expected "to be rolled over" increasing the value immensely, according to European intelligence sources tracing the intricate bank scheme.

The London-based Currency Review in Volume 28, No 4. in March 2003 first provided financial details of the biggest private loan operation in human history, started with U.S. Treasury funds amassed by Wanta but then covertly transferred into private accounts to fund the global takeover.

In essence, the irony lies in the sad fact that treasonous American politicians and corrupt businessmen are using money earmarked for the U.S. Treasury to fund a global campaign to destroy America instead of using the money for the betterment of the country.

Since the initial reports of the massive global fund first surfaced, Wanta and several other witnesses have come forward naming names and listing actual bank accounts and records that have printed in previous Arctic Beacon articles.

Uncovering that the amount of money was so staggering and far exceeded any amount imaginable, the story has been shunned by the mainstream even though it is thoroughly backed up by federal court documentation and other information leaked by U.S. Treasury whistleblowers, some who have been threatened with their lives for divulging the information.

Further, the information has been in the hands of the U.S. Congress for at least three years, but has been suppressed since it opens the door to the immense fraud being perpetrated on the American public.

"By that we mean that the documents given to Congress detailing the raising of the gig-funds were included among a batch of other documents showing billions being scammed into private trust accounts in the Cayman Islands and elsewhere," said the recent International Currency Review report, "wither from the trillions of dollars raised for the Global Security Environment financing operation or from Black Operations' monies employed to wage financial warfare operations against targeted foreign governments.

"They also show, inter alia, transactions via the Federal Reserve approved by Dr. Alan Greenspan which, to put it mildly, raises many questions, including why some of the funds in question were disappearing into privately held trust accounts held on behalf of well-known intelligence-linked barons."

Besides trying to trace the culprits behind the giga-fund scam, the International Currency Review also provided succinct reasons why the fund was established using U.S. finances.

"The reason such a large fund was established was to provide the hidden directors of the New World Order with unlimited resources. We of course refer to these people as the New Underworld Order because it is an irredeemably corrupt operation to ensure absolute global power and control stays in the hands of the self-appointed geo-masonic elite," added the financial report.

"Their intention is that all states be abolished and governance will devolve into the hands of the faceless, invisible controllers as has happened in the European Union Collective. This is in fact just another prototype of the New World Order regional government model. Brussels is where the global fund is managed and where a very large contingent of CIA nest supervises the management of the colossal resources mobilized for this purpose. The proportions of these resources are so gigantic that the funds have to be churned perpetually. One trader involved with these transactions says that he sees Global security Fund transactions on the foreign exchange every day and night. The proportion of the New Underworld Order finances can be compared with the U.S. domestic debt(see data in report)."

The $27.5 Trillion Dollar Man Still Trying To Recover U.S. Funds From The Clutches Of The Bush And Clinton Crime Families

Leo Wanta is still shaking up the international banking community as London-based financial currency review finally sheds some needed light on the magnitude and importance of the 'Leo Wanta story'

22 Jun 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Leo Wanta, the man put in a Swiss dungeon and jailed for more than 10 years on a bogus Wisconsin income tax charge, is still making waves and shaking up the international banking community as he attempts to recover more $27.5 trillion earmarked for the U.S. Treasury.

According to the former U.S. Treasury agent under President Ronald Reagan, the money has now grown to more than $70 trillion since first accumulated in 1989 in sophisticated financial scheme concocted by U.S. officials.

The scheme was put into place and perfected by Wanta who, along with several other financial whizzes, worked their banking magic to destabilize the Russian currency and flatten the old Soviet Union into financial submission at the end of the Cold War.

Wanta's methods worked so well he received high praise from Reagan, but was back stabbed by former President George H. Bush who wanted to erase Wanta from the picture, making way for the Bush crime family and others to pilfer the money.

Instead of the enormous amount of money being returned to taxpayers for furthering American prosperity, the money was left overseas in financial limbo for the "Bush buzzards" to cherry pick, observers saying the money being used for clandestine operations furthering the underworld of the New World Order.

Although Wanta still remains trustor of the vast sum of money, along the way he paid the ultimate prices, nearly being killed in several occasions, as well as spending almost a year in a Swiss jail and then being jailed in Wisconsin.

On his release about a year ago, Wanta then set out to recover the money, using the authority of a 2003 federal court decision he filed while being incarcerated in order try and protect the money and his reputation from the Clinton and Bush criminals, who were allegedly using the money for their own clandestine purposes.

Although the case was dismissed based on sovereign immunity, Wanta received the affirmations from the federal judge he sought, as Judge Bruce Lee acknowledged the assets existed and were in Wanta's control as lawful trustor, adding that Wanta's proper avenue for redress was through a federal court of collections.

Armed with the Judge Lee's advice, Wanta then set out in earnest about six months ago to recover the money which was now scattered in numerous overseas banks, many denying the existence of the money while others claimed they were told by CIA officials that Wanta was no longer living.

In a further effort to raise public awareness of the importance of this story, Wanta appeared on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal, several times, as well as having his story written up in depth in the Arctic Beacon.

Previously, the explosive story had been shunned by the mainstream press since it was too hot to handle for the compromised American media even though it clearly showed how corrupt officials and banking institutions were pilfering trillions of dollars of the people's money.

The story was so hot and so dangerous since it involved the murders of numerous people who got in the cross hairs of the Bush crime family perpetrators, even the alternative failed to pick up the story.

How a story like this remains ignored is still a mystery, but it can be hypothesized that it is either too financially complicated for media personalities who prefer to manipulate listeners with emotionally gut wrenching stories of terror while allowing the criminals to steal trillions of money right before their very eyes.

Besides the Arctic Beacon's coverage, credit should go to the Jeff Rense radio show at www.rense.com who had the smarts to alert the American people about the importance of the Wanta story, which is still unraveling today.

And as an important update on Wanta's search for the $70 trillion, Christopher Story of the International Currency Review, based in London, provided the following extensive article which appeared today in London, finally shedding some necessary light on the importance of the Wanta story:

Here is a copy of the entire article:

By Christopher Story,

LONDON, 21 June 2006 - The integrity of the international banking system is on the line this week. This is because the behavior of certain banks is being closely watched by a team of informed observers who are privy to scandals that the banks in question hope can still be swept under their plush boardroom carpets.

Collectively, the scandals represent the most brazen attempt by banks to seize the funds of their depositors, in history. The relevant funds, which amounted - when fitfully paid out in 1989-93 - to about $27.5 trillion, are now believed to be worth approaching $70 trillion. They represent assets corralled on Presidential instructions by the US Treasury's most distinguished Secret Service financial agent, Leo E. Wanta. He remains the Trustor of these funds.

The financial war chest was amassed for geostrategic purposes at the 'end of the Cold War', after Mikhail Gorbachev had received $10 billion via certain American-assisted international financial transactions. He has since constructed a colossal headquarters campus outside Moscow, with some of this money*.

As everyone knows, most scams require a counterparty. For the international banks involved, their counterparty was, and remains, the US intelligence community - or rather, corrupt elements thereof, led by professional criminal intelligence 'barons' such as George Bush Sr., and Bill Clinton.

Taking their cue from the example of such corrupt operatives, lesser intelligence fry joined in - scamming billions from Wanta's fund, which was organised in order to finance, at the supranational (intergovernmental) level, the post-Cold War 'Global Security Environment'. A key front man in this endeavour was Mikhail Gorbachev, whose 'Global Security Project' initiative was actually designed by Leo Wanta himself, again of course on US Presidential instructions.

Scams are greatly facilitated when irregular parties share a common interest. In this case, both the banks and corrupt elements of the US intelligence community, neither of which of course owned any of these funds, coveted the billions and trillions of dollars raised during 1989-92, for their own purposes.

The banks saw the funds as the answer to liquidity and prospective solvency problems. They accordingly collateralised and cross-collateralised the vast and rapidly expanding deposits placed with them for safekeeping, and performed elaborate hypothecation exercises, using the Trustor's funds as base.

Corrupt CIA operatives and fake CIA lawyers muscled in and, on the basis of Powers of Attorney awarded to certain of their number by questionable means, misappropriated, redirected and even stole billions, with one or more fake CIA lawyers illegally placing the Trustor's funds in foreign bank accounts under their own name.

Moreover the original funds were ransacked even as they were paid out by the Federal Reserve, under the authority of the Fed's former Chairman, Dr Alan Greenspan. An analysis published by International Currency Review in February 2005 of the initial amounts which were misdirected from the Fed, inter alia directly into private offshore bank accounts, found that an estimated $742.5 billion had been misappropriated^[1].

Subsequent investigations have suggested that even this total is understated.

But that was nothing to what happened later. In order to gain control of these funds - supposedly assembled in order to make the world a 'safer place' after the 'end of the Cold War' - corrupt elements of US intelligence, headed by President Clinton, set the ball rolling by targeting the Trustor himself. Ordered by William Sessions, the head of the FBI, to travel with intelligence aides to Switzerland in 1993 with a brief to arrest Marc Rich, Wanta was himself arrested and flung into a stinking jail for 134 days - by the Swiss authorities. Almost simultaneously, Clinton fired William Sessions without giving any reason, and Vince Foster, an FBI informant who had been handling funds 'belonging' to the Children's Defense Fund, a CIA front for funny money, was murdered in the Washington, DC area.

Wanta's effects, including 18 US Treasury instruments worth $18 billion, were removed from him - and the official assets worth $18 billion face value have disappeared. Following an urgent intervention by the late Israeli Prime Minister, Yitzhak Rabin, Mr Wanta was suddenly released, but was then taken, still in shackles, to Geneva airport and flown to New York. After being frog-marched through Kennedy, this distinguished and upright US Treasury intelligence officer was arraigned before a judge on a trumped-up charge at the US Eastern District Court of New York. The judge saw through the ruse and threw the case out, but Leo Wanta was illegally re-arrested on the courtroom steps without a warrant, on instructions from the Wisconsin authorities.

The new false charge alleged that Wanta had failed to pay a tax bill of about $14,000 that he did not owe, in Wisconsin state taxes, dating back to 1982 - despite the fact that he had been living mainly abroad on US intelligence business, working directly for the President of the United States, for many years. He was accordingly extradited to Wisconsin, where he was jailed.

During incarceration in that State and elsewhere, attempts were made to have this distinguished US Treasury officer - still of course Trustor of the original $27.5 trillion of intergovernmental funds and the relevant accruals - declared insane. He underwent five so-called 'lunacy tests', his life being saved when a doctor of Chinese extraction, no doubt familiar with similar abuses back in her home country, refused to certify him. Had she done so, he would have been sent to a Soviet-style 'psychiatric hospital' and never heard from again.

After many vicissitudes, Leo Wanta was released into house arrest in Wisconsin, where he languished for many further years. During this time, he managed to raise the falsely charged state tax, which the State of Wisconsin took - but 'lost'. With the help of friends, he later raised the same amount again, and this time, the payment was registered. But in the meantime vast additional penalties, fees and other charges had accrued. His house was sold at a knock-down price without his consent, and the proceeds stolen. In July 2005, a sum of $30,626.97 made available by a friend, was paid in person by Mr Wanta's lawyer to the court in Wisconsin; and on 14th November 2005, he was released from all restrictions.

(Since this final payment included the false state tax bill for the third time, it, too, has reportedly been misappropriated. The problem faced by the Wisconsin authorities was how this payment could legitimately be recorded. It couldn't).

It was only a matter of weeks before the significance of this development started to trickle round the US intelligence community, which, all of a sudden, faced an unprecedented problem.

For it emerged that the CIA had systematically lied that Leo Wanta had long since been dead. This false information was of course exploited by the many US intelligence crooks who had been making illegitimate use of the Trustor's funds.

As for the banks, they likewise took maximum advantage of the CIA's lie. If the Trustor was dead, then the banks could do what they liked with the funds. So they used them for every off-balance-sheet ruse yet invented by their financial engineers.

In other words, neither the banks nor the CIA ever thought that the funds would be claimed. Imagine the cataclysmic shocks that reverberated around the world's international banks when it began to be rumoured late last year that, far from being long since dead, Leo Wanta was alive and had gone to court to obtain a ruling on the disposition of the assets.

These are held in offshore bank accounts belonging to so-called Title 18, Section 6 US Government intelligence community corporations. Such entities were authorised by President Reagan in January 1981, under Executive Order 12333.

Given the inherent criminal tendencies of intelligence organisations, this courted the obvious danger that dishonest operatives might use such corporations for scamming purposes - particularly given the well-known fact that the National Security Act 1947, et seq., under which the CIA was established, is effectively a crooks' charter. And so it has proved.

On 15th April 2003, US Federal Judge Bruce Lee, of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of Virginia, Alexandria Division, released a Memorandum Opinion, in response to Leo Wanta's application for relief, which concluded as follows:

'Plaintiff's sole remedy in this matter is to proceed with the liquidation of the corporations and report these transactions to the Internal Revenue Service in accordance with the Internal Revenue Code and then challenge the assessment of any taxes in a refund proceeding'.

In March 2006, Economic Intelligence Review, published by World Reports Limited, London, reproduced, in facsimile format, the entire Memorandum Opinion [ii]. It then transpired that knowledge of the existence of this document had been deliberately suppressed within the US official structures - since of course it confirmed that Leo Wanta is legally the controller (Trustor) of the funds and is therefore solely entitled to dispose of them in accordance with law and his Presidential instructions.

And the CIA liars and scamsters didn't want that to be known.

In February 2005, International Currency Review [iii], likewise published by World Reports Limited from London, had displayed facsimiles of Federal Reserve computer print-outs, obtained from sources in the public domain. These represented audited sheets on which the Trustor, Leo Wanta, verified or queried the sources and uses of funds finally paid out by the Fed, including the $742.5 billion which was misdirected by the US central bank on Greenspan's authority.

On one of these sheets, which referred to one billion US dollars sent by Banco Exterior de Espana, Malaga, Spain, on 10th August 1989, to Banco de Panama, Panama City, for credit of 'Pilgrim Investments, Jorge Bush', Leo Wanta had annotated as follows:

'Acceptance of value by former US President of the United States, George (Jorge) Bush is direct violation of our USA Title 5, Section 7353, et seq. - Jim Baker told me to just "SHUT UP" as I am protected by Rogers-Houston Memorandum to "co-operate", but I kept receipts & notes'.

Separately, George Bush Sr., who was co-signatory of an account belonging to one of the Title 18, Section 6 corporations (Ameritrust), had asked his fellow co-signatory, Leo Wanta, to allow him (Bush Sr.) to remove $210 billion from the account. Leo refused - as he did on another occasion, when President Clinton sought Wanta's agreement for the diversion of a substantial sum into his (Clinton's) control.

Both Clinton and Bush Sr., working secretly together, therefore had every incentive to try to have Wanta removed permanently from the scene - Bush Sr. especially, since the Trustor had only recently annotated the misdirection of $1.0 billion, into one of Bush Sr.'s offshore accounts.

In summary, Leo Wanta was unjustly sentenced, on the basis of false witness and false charges, to jail/house arrest until the year 2015, a period of 22 years. The principal of the original $27.5 trillion, provided at a deep discount by over 200 international banks at an interest rate of 7.5% annually, for a 20-year period, falls due for repayment in 2012-2013.

But Leo Wanta is now - in mid-2006 - engaged in a global operation to recover funds of which he is Trustor - to the consternation of at least four constituencies:

- The US intelligence criminalist crooks, including two Presidents, themselves.
- Some of the mentioned criminal Presidents' associates, aides and 'gophers'.
- The Central Intelligence Agency deceivers who retailed the gross lie that Leo Wanta was dead, so that the funds could be diverted.
- The international banks that assumed that the funds would never be claimed, and which had a community of interest with their de facto intelligence co-conspirators in choosing to believe the CIA's lie that the Trustor was dead.

Faced with the fact that, on the contrary, Leo Wanta is both alive and free - and following the widespread distribution among banks of US Federal Judge Bruce Lee's Memorandum Opinion via Economic Intelligence Review in March this year - the international banks and the corrupt elements of the intelligence community faced a prospective crisis without historical precedent in the history of intergovernmental finance.

What to do?

- If they pretended it was corrupt 'business as usual', too many questions were now being asked about why the CIA had lied that the Trustor was dead.
- If they sought help from their governments, they risked exposing the precariousness of their underlying overstretched balance sheets, and revealing details of their vast off-balance sheet transactions.

It is understood that elements of the US intelligence community have been in turmoil as a consequence of these developments.

As for the banks, a number of them have tried to make out that 'there is no business relationship'. In the course of a conference call with US colleagues last March, one of these institutions, Coutts, told Christopher Story, the Publisher of International Currency Review, precisely that.

However Story has documentary proof of the existence of a relevant business relationship in the Coutts case, as in the case of many other banks worldwide where the Trustor's funds are held. Similar ploys have been attempted by certain other European banks. In some cases, bankers have even attempted to deny the existence of funds in certain Title 18, Section 6 corporate offshore accounts.

But these games have now come to an abrupt halt, following a decision by the leading governments concerned, to cooperate - rather than, as was previously the case, each government separately defending its own banks.

For the governments themselves have a common interest - to prevent this escalating crisis of confidence developing into a systemic melt-down induced by the banks' intransigence. The stakes could hardly be greater, not least given that derivatives balances outstanding are now believed to exceed some $770 trillion.

Uncomfortably for the international banks concerned, substantial documentation has been accumulated proving the existence of relevant live accounts and banking relationships. These documents will be published in the near future - revealing that vast sums belonging to the Trustor are indeed held in the Title 18, Section 6 corporations' offshore bank accounts, and must be properly disposed of in accordance with the Trustor's legal responsibilities and official instructions.

In the meantime, it has of course been universally noticed that the international financial markets have been more than usually volatile since 10th May 2006. This volatility has had almost nothing to do with the spurious explanations typically retailed by ill-informed financial journalists working for the mainstream newspapers.

It has everything, however, to do with liquidity problems facing the banks, which have been, and continue to be, called upon to make available - in short order - colossal volumes of funds from their off-balance sheet books which they never expected to have to account for. Liquidity constraints typically reflect the fact that funds are in the wrong place, have been cross-collateralised and so cannot be released, or do not in fact exist.

It must have been hard for the banks to have been obliged to face up to the fact that the Trustor's funds are having to be replenished, replaced, and repatriated.

It is embarrassing for the CIA's professional deceivers to have been caught lying, since they take pride in their perverted professionalism, which is governed by one rule only: never get caught.

Most of all, those intelligence community criminals whose hands have been trapped in the till, must be enduring sleepless nights.

But that's the situation 'as we speak'. The banks must deliver, the crooks must be rounded up and brought to justice, and the cynical collaboration between free-wheeling intelligence criminals and international bankers with notoriously flexible morals, must be terminated. Forthwith.

Because if by any chance there is a repetition of what happened in 1989-92, and the Trustor's funds are diverted - notwithstanding the exposure of these evils that has occurred to date - it won't just be a question of bankers falling out of sailboats on Chesapeake Bay.

According to reliable sources, seven European bankers had been arrested by early May, while three had committed suicide.

In a worst-case scenario, a number of large foreign institutions face having their assets seized in the United States if they fail to fulfil their immediate obligations to the letter.

And if that happens, some may very well go to the wall.

* Gorbachëv also maintains a magnificent residence in Switzerland - a state of affairs which would have greatly offended his dictator predecessor, Josef Stalin (a.k.a. Iosif Vissarionovich Djughashvili-Kochba), who ordered his security chief du jour, Genrikh Grigoryevich Yagoda (1891-1938), to procure the Swiss bank account details of all the leading Soviet revolutionaries. Yagoda duly obliged, but omitted to include details of his own secret Swiss bank accounts. Since Stalin had other means of obtaining the relevant Swiss bank account data, he compared Yagoda's list with his own, and discovered that his security chief's bank account details were of course missing. Yagoda duly received the requisite bullet through the temples, like all the rest of the high-ranking Comrades, with the exception of Krupskaya, Lenin's widow. She put on a scene and broke down in tears in front of Stalin, and he relented.

A Message To The New World Order: The 'Noble Art Of Lying' Has Decayed To An All Time Low

According to Mark Twain, 'get your facts first, and then you can distort them as much as you please.'

21 Jun 2006

By Greg Szymanski

In an age of incessant lying, two quotes by Mark Twain are in order:

"Honesty is the best policy - when there is money in it."

"Get your facts first, and then you can distort them as much as you please."

Twain also lived in an age of incessant lying, indicating the actual "art of lying" has been a literary topic of discussion for quite sometime.

In fact, Twain was so obsessed with figuring out what was a good lie, a bad lie or if there was such a difference, he decided to write an essay entitled "On the Decay of the Art of Lying."

In his essay, read aloud at the Historical and Antiquarian Club of Hartford for a prize of $30 which he did not win, Twain was so upset that the "noble art of lying" had decayed to a point that "No high-minded man, no man of right feeling, can contemplate the lumbering and slovenly lying of the present day without grieving to see a noble art so prostituted."

He was so obsessed with the decay in lying, he added:

"Lying is universal--we all do it. Therefore, the wise thing is for us diligently to train ourselves to lie thoughtfully, judiciously; to lie with a good object, and not an evil one; to lie for others' advantage, and not our own; to lie healingly, charitably, humanely, not cruelly, hurtfully, maliciously; to lie gracefully and graciously, not awkwardly and clumsily; to lie firmly, frankly, squarely, with head erect, not haltingly, tortuously, with pusillanimous mien, as being ashamed of our high calling. Then shall we be rid of the rank and pestilent truth that is rotting the land; then shall we be great and good and beautiful, and worthy dwellers in a world where even benign Nature habitually lies, except when she promises execrable weather.

"No fact is more firmly established than that lying is a necessity of our circumstances--the deduction that it is then a Virtue goes without saying. No virtue can reach its highest usefulness without careful and diligent cultivation--therefore, it goes without saying that this one ought to be taught in the public schools--even in the newspapers. What chance has the ignorant uncultivated liar against the educated expert? What chance have I against Mr. Per--against a lawyer? Judicious lying is what the world needs. I sometimes think it were even better and safer not to lie at all than to lie injudiciously. An awkward, unscientific lie is often as ineffectual as the truth."

And so in an effort to help the New World Order minions of today improve on their lying skills or limit their lying to those of a non-injurious nature, since lying has sunken to lower depths than in Twain's time, I am reprinting his original six-page essay. I am also reprinting his essay for all truth-tellers since injurious truths can be as damaging as injurious lies, as the law of libel so adequately recognizes.

And according to Twain it is best to start out with the premise that everyone lies, but some being more injurious and evil than others.

By Mark Twain: On the Decay of the Art of Lying Observe, I do not mean to suggest that the custom of lying has suffered any decay or interruption--no, for the Lie, as a Virtue, A Principle, is eternal; the Lie, as a recreation, a solace, a refuge in time of need, the fourth Grace, the tenth Muse, man's best and surest friend, is immortal, and cannot perish from the earth while this club remains. My complaint simply concerns the decay of the art of lying. No high-minded man, no man of right feeling, can contemplate the lumbering and slovenly lying of the present day without grieving to see a noble art so prostituted. In this veteran presence I naturally enter upon this theme with diffidence; it is like an old maid trying to teach nursery matters to the mothers in Israel. It would not become to me to criticise you, gentlemen--who are nearly all my elders--and my superiors, in this thing--if I should here and there seem to do it, I trust it will in most cases be more in a spirit of admiration than fault-finding; indeed if this finest of the fine arts had everywhere received the attention, the encouragement, and conscientious practice and development which this club has devoted to it, I should not need to utter this lament, or shed a single tear. I do not say this to flatter: I say it in a spirit of just and appreciative recognition. [It had been my intention, at this point, to mention names and to give illustrative specimens, but indications observable about me admonished me to beware of the particulars and confine myself to generalities.]

No fact is more firmly established than that lying is a necessity of our circumstances--the deduction that it is then a Virtue goes without saying. No virtue can reach its highest usefulness without careful and diligent cultivation--therefore, it goes without saying that this one ought to be taught in the public schools--even in the newspapers. What chance has the ignorant uncultivated liar against the educated expert? What chance have I against Mr. Per--against a lawyer? Judicious lying is what the world needs. I sometimes think it were even better and safer not to lie at all than to lie injudiciously. An awkward, unscientific lie is often as ineffectual as the truth.

Now let us see what the philosophers say. Note that venerable proverb: Children and fools always speak the truth. The deduction is plain--adults and wise persons never speak it. Parkman, the historian, says, "The principle of truth may itself be carried into an absurdity." In another place in the same chapters he says, "The saying is old that truth should not be spoken at all times; and those whom a sick conscience worries into habitual violation of the maxim are imbeciles and nuisances." It is strong language, but true. None of us could live with an habitual truth-teller; but thank goodness none of us has to. A habitual truth-teller is simply an impossible creature; he does not exist; he never has existed. Of course there are people who think they never lie, but it is not so--and this ignorance is one of the very things that shame our so-called civilization. Everybody lies--every day; every hour; awake; asleep; in his dreams; in his joy; in his mourning; if he keeps his tongue still, his hands, his feet, his eyes, his attitude, will convey deception--and purposely. Even in sermons--but that is a platitude.

In a far country where I once lived the ladies used to go around paying calls, under the humane and kindly pretence of wanting to see each other; and when they returned home, they would cry out with a glad voice, saying, "We made sixteen calls and found fourteen of them out"--not meaning that they found out anything important against the fourteen--no, that was only a colloquial phrase to signify that they were not at home--and their manner of saying it expressed their lively satisfaction in that fact. Now their pretence of wanting to see the fourteen--and the other two whom they had been less lucky with--was that commonest and mildest form of lying which is sufficiently described as a deflection from the truth. Is it justifiable? Most certainly. It is beautiful, it is noble; for its object is, not to reap profit, but to convey a pleasure to the sixteen. The iron-souled truth-monger would plainly manifest, or even utter the fact that he didn't want to see those people--and he would be an ass, and inflict totally unnecessary pain. And next, those ladies in that far country--but never mind, they had a thousand pleasant ways of lying, that grew out of gentle impulses, and were a credit to their intelligence and an honor to their hearts. Let the particulars go.

The men in that far country were liars, every one. Their mere howdy-do was a lie, because they didn't care how you did, except they were undertakers. To the ordinary inquirer you lied in return; for you made no conscientious diagnostic of your case, but answered at random, and usually missed it considerably. You lied to the undertaker, and said your health was failing--a wholly commendable lie, since it cost you nothing and pleased the other man. If a stranger called and interrupted you, you said with your hearty tongue, "I'm glad to see you," and said with your heartier soul, "I wish you were with the cannibals and it was dinner-time." When he went, you said regretfully, "Must you go?" and followed it with a "Call again;" but you did no harm, for you did not deceive anybody nor inflict any hurt, whereas the truth would have made you both unhappy.

I think that all this courteous lying is a sweet and loving art, and should be cultivated. The highest perfection of politeness is only a beautiful edifice, built, from the base to the dome, of graceful and gilded forms of charitable and unselfish lying.

What I bemoan is the growing prevalence of the brutal truth. Let us do what we can to eradicate it. An injurious truth has no merit over an injurious lie. Neither should ever be uttered. The man who speaks an injurious truth lest his soul be not saved if he do otherwise, should reflect that that sort of a soul is not strictly worth saving. The man who tells a lie to help a poor devil out of trouble, is one of whom the angels doubtless say, "Lo, here is an heroic soul who casts his own welfare in jeopardy to succor his neighbor's; let us exalt this magnanimous liar."

An injurious lie is an uncommendable thing; and so, also, and in the same degree, is an injurious truth--a fact that is recognized by the law of libel.

Among other common lies, we have the silent lie--the deception which one conveys by simply keeping still and concealing the truth. Many obstinate truth-mongers indulge in this dissipation, imagining that if they speak no lie, they lie not at all. In that far country where I once lived, there was a lovely spirit, a lady whose impulses were always high and pure, and whose character answered to them. One day I was there at dinner, and remarked, in a general way, that we are all liars. She was amazed, and said, "Not all?" It was before "Pinafore's" time. so I did not make the response which would naturally follow in our day, but frankly said, "Yes, all--we are all liars. There are no exceptions." She looked almost offended, "Why, do you include me?" "Certainly," I said. "I think you even rank as an expert." She said "Sh-'sh! the children!" So the subject was changed in deference to the children's presence, and we went on talking about other things. But as soon as the young people were out of the way, the lady came warmly back to the matter and said, "I have made a rule of my life to never tell a lie; and I have never departed from it in a single instance." I said, "I don't mean the least harm or disrespect, but really you have been lying like smoke ever since I've been sitting here. It has caused me a good deal of pain, because I'm not used to it." She required of me an instance--just a single instance. So I said--

"Well, here is the unfilled duplicate of the blank, which the Oakland hospital people sent to you by the hand of the sick-nurse when she came here to nurse your little nephew through his dangerous illness. This blank asks all manners of questions as to the conduct of that sick-nurse: 'Did she ever sleep on her watch? Did she ever forget to give the medicine?' and so forth and so on. You are warned to be very careful and explicit in your answers, for the welfare of the service requires that the nurses be promptly fined or otherwise punished for derelictions. You told me you were perfectly delighted with this nurse--that she had a thousand perfections and only one fault: you found you never could depend on her wrapping Johnny up half sufficiently while he waited in a chilly chair for her to rearrange the warm bed. You filled up the duplicate of this paper, and sent it back to the hospital by the hand of the nurse. How did you answer this question--'Was the nurse at any time guilty of a negligence which was likely to result in the patient's taking cold?' Come--everything is decided by a bet here in California: ten dollars to ten cents you lied when you answered that question." She said, "I didn't; I left it blank!" "Just so--you have told a silent lie; you have left it to be inferred that you had no fault to find in that matter." She said, "Oh, was that a lie? And how could I mention her one single fault, and she is so good?--It would have been cruel." I said, "One ought always to lie, when one can do good by it; your impulse was right, but your judgment was crude; this comes of unintelligent practice. Now observe the results of this inexpert deflection of yours. You know Mr. Jones's Willie is lying very low with scarlet-fever; well, your recommendation was so enthusiastic that that girl is there nursing him, and the worn-out family have all been trustingly sound asleep for the last fourteen hours, leaving their darling with full confidence in those fatal hands, because you, like young George Washington, have a reputa-- However, if you are not going to have anything to do, I will come around tomorrow and we'll attend the funeral together, for, of course, you'll naturally feel a peculiar interest in Willie's case--as personal a one, in fact, as the undertaker."

But that was not all lost. Before I was half-way through she was in a carriage and making thirty miles an hour toward the Jones mansion to save what was left of Willie and tell all she knew about the deadly nurse. All of which was unnecessary, as Willie wasn't sick; I had been lying myself. But that same day, all the same, she sent a line to the hospital which filled up the neglected blank, and stated the facts, too, in the squarest possible manner.

Now, you see, this lady's fault was not in lying, but in lying injudiciously. She should have told the truth, there, and made it up to the nurse with a fraudulent compliment further along in the paper. She could have said, "In one respect this sick-nurse is perfection--when she is on the watch, she never snores." Almost any little pleasant lie would have taken the sting out of that troublesome but necessary expression of the truth.

Lying is universal--we all do it. Therefore, the wise thing is for us diligently to train ourselves to lie thoughtfully, judiciously; to lie with a good object, and not an evil one; to lie for others' advantage, and not our own; to lie healingly, charitably, humanely, not cruelly, hurtfully, maliciously; to lie gracefully and graciously, not awkwardly and clumsily; to lie firmly, frankly, squarely, with head erect, not haltingly, tortuously, with pusillanimous mien, as being ashamed of our high calling. Then shall we be rid of the rank and pestilent truth that is rotting the land; then shall we be great and good and beautiful, and worthy dwellers in a world where even benign Nature habitually lies, except when she promises execrable weather. Then--But am I but a new and feeble student in this gracious art; I cannot instruct this club.

Joking aside, I think there is much need of wise examination into what sorts of lies are best and wholesomest to be indulged, seeing we must all lie and we do all lie, and what sorts it may be best to avoid--and this is a thing which I feel I can confidently put into the hands of this experienced Club--a ripe body, who may be termed, in this regard, and without undue flattery, Old Masters.

Global Freight Train Rolling Through America Wants To Run Over All Freedom-Loving Americans

There is no stopping the diabolical dirty dealings of the New World Order Agenda, Including Vatican Support Of Nazis Offering Solid Evidence Of Its Involvement In A Similar Takeover Of America.

20 Jun 2006

By Greg Szymanski

A 90-year-old man from Blythe, California, who survived Hitler, is warning Americans the same thing is happening here that took place in Nazi Germany.

An elderly woman from Long Beach, California, is telling Americans she may be killed by corrupt church and state officials, trying to takeover of her large apartment complex.

And others all across the country are finally screaming "foul," as gas prices soar, civil liberties disappear and violence and drugs spread across the country like an out-of-control wild fire.

It's no secret America is in the midst of a complete totalitarian takeover of their country, a plan devised hundreds of years ago by Luciferian followers passing the evil torch from generation to generation.

With precise planning, patience and enormous resources, the global freight train taking over the world is now passing through America. And before it makes its final stop within the next decade, two-thirds of the population will be wiped-out, as America will be a part of the global community headed-up by the United Nations.

"The stage is set and we are in the final stages of the planned global takeover," said researcher and author, Alan Watt, appearing on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal. "And it's just amazing to me how the American people continue to remain oblivious to what is happening.

"What we have to do is identify the enemy and then remove them. Looking back in history is the key to connecting the dots, as Plato was one of the first globalists. Today we have a network throughout the world set-up for the eventual globalization of all countries."

And as we try to identify the enemy as Watt recommends, an article by Yossi Melman points a finger to the Vatican, showing how senior Church officials were involved in smuggling and hiding Nazi war criminals so they would not be arrested and tried for war crimes.

This covert action by the Vatican during World War II was recently verified in a May deposition of former Army intelligence officer, William Gowen, who pinned Giovanni Battista Montini, who later became Pope Paul VI to property theft of Jewish, Serb, Russian, Ukrainian and Roma victims during World War II.

"Gowen's testimony has also revealed that after the war, Montini, who during the war served as the Vatican's deputy secretary of state under the Pope, helped hide and launder property that had been stolen from, among others, Jews and was involved in the sheltering and smuggling of Croatian war criminals, such as the leader of the Ustashe movement, Ante Pavelic," said Melman in his article, featuring Gowen's testimony, linking the Vatican to aiding and abetting Nazi war criminals.

Gowen's shocking testimony is a part of a 1999 lawsuit filed by attorney Jonathen Levy on behalf of Croatian victims at a court in San Francisco against the Vatican Bank (Institute for Religious Works) and against the Franciscan Order, the Croatian Liberation Movement (the Ustashe), the National Bank of Switzerland and others.

The suit was filed by Jewish, Ukrainian, Serb and Roma survivors, as well as relatives of victims and various organizations that together represent 300,000 World War II victims. The plaintiffs have demanded accounting and restitution from the Vatican Bank, as well as trying to uncover their role in the mass extermination of hundreds of thousands of people.

Levy recently appeared on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal, explaining irregularities in the Vatican Bank and their connection to Nazi war criminals, as well as talking about Gowen's shocking testimony.

Other researchers have used this information as clear-cut evidence of Vatican involvement in the New World Order and its onslaught on freedoms in America.

The following is the article written by Melman, tracing the story of Vatican involvement with the Nazis and highlight the often-mentioned "Vatican Ratlines" giving Nazis an escape route, as well as talking about how Gowen's recent testimony in the Vatican Bank lawsuit adds to the story.

It is possible that within a short time a court in the United States will prohibit the publication of the account before us. In the meantime, the testimony given last month by William Gowen, a former intelligence officer in the United States Army, at a federal court in San Francisco. The testimony contains historical and political explosives. It links Giovanni Battista Montini, who later became Pope Paul VI, to the theft of property of Jewish, Serb, Russian, Ukrainian and Roma victims during World War II in Yugoslavia. Many studies and stories have already been written about the thundering silence of Pope Pius XII, who reigned in the Vatican during World War II. Now the former intelligence officer's testimony has revealed that after the war, Montini, who during the war served as the Vatican's deputy secretary of state under the pope, helped hide and launder property that had been stolen from, among others, Jews and was involved in the sheltering and smuggling of Croatian war criminals, such as the leader of the Ustashe movement, Ante Pavelic.

The smuggling and hiding of Croatian war criminals was part of the extensive network known as the Rat Lines. Senior officials at the Vatican were involved in hiding and smuggling Nazi war criminals and their collaborators so they would not be arrested and tried. Hundreds of war criminals were provided with church and Red Cross papers that enabled them to hide in safe houses and then flee from Europe, mainly to the Middle East and South America. Among them were Klaus Barbie ("the butcher of Lyon"), Adolf Eichmann, Dr. Josef Mengele and Franz Stengel, the commander of the Treblinka death camp.

The Vatican network was also used by leaders of the Ustashe - the nationalist Croatian Catholic movement that was active in Croatia and collaborated with the Nazi occupation. "The Reverend Dr. Prof. Krunoslav Draganovic seemed to be in cooperation with the Ustasha network. And he was given a Vatican assignment as the apostolic visitator for Croatians, which meant he reported directly to Monsignor Giovanni Battista Montini," states an American document based on a report from the Italian police; the document was recently placed in evidence at the court in San Francisco where Gowen testified.

The leaders of the Ustashe headed by Pavelic are the ones who stole the victims' property: art and jewelry - silver and mostly gold. After the war they fled with the treasure and laundered it with the help of Vatican institutions. According to Gowen's testimony, Montini, who in 1964 became the first pope to visit the State of Israel, was also involved in the Vatican's help in laundering the wealth.

Still terrified

In 1999 a suit was filed at a court in San Francisco against the Vatican Bank (Institute for Religious Works) and against the Franciscan order, the Croatian Liberation Movement (the Ustashe), the National Bank of Switzerland and others. The suit was filed by Jewish, Ukrainian, Serb and Roma survivors, as well as relatives of victims and various organizations that together represent 300,000 World War II victims. The plaintiffs demanded accounting and restitution.

One of the lawyers representing the plaintiffs is Jonathan Levy. "Many of the plaintiffs have been reluctant to be pictured, after all these years," says Levy. "Many are still terrified of the Ustashe, the Serbs particularly. Unlike the Nazi Party, the Ustashe still exist and have a party headquarters in Zagreb."

The Ustashe was founded in 1929 as a Croatian nationalist movement with a deep connection to Catholicism. From the day it was founded the movement made its aim the establishment of an independent Croatian state and declared to fight the monarchy in Yugoslavia. The movement was banned and its founders, Pavelic and Gustav Percec (who was later murdered at Pavelic's orders) were condemned to death in their absence. The Ustashe was linked to the assassination of Yugoslav King Alexander and French foreign minister Louis Barthou in Marseilles in 1934.

Upon the occupation of Yugoslavia, the German Nazis and the Italian Fascists formed an "independent" state in Croatia, which was basically a Nazi puppet state. Pavelic was appointed poglavnik, the leader of the country. He hastened to meet with Hitler and allied himself with the Fuehrer. When Hitler invaded the Soviet Union, Pavelic sent Ustashe units to fight alongside the Nazis and then joined the declaration of war against the United States. Ustashe leaders declared they would slaughter a third of the Serb population in Croatia, deport a third and convert the remaining third from Orthodoxy to Roman Catholicism. Anyone who refused to convert was murdered.

Immediately upon the establishment of its puppet government, the Ustashe set up militias and gangs that slaughtered Serbs, Jews, Romas and their political foes. Catholic priests, some of them Franciscans, also participated in the acts of slaughter. The cruelty of the Ustashe was so great that even the commander of the German army in Yugoslavia complained.

Himmler of the Balkans

Under the leadership of Pavelic's right-hand man Andrija Artukovic, who earned the nickname "the Himmler of the Balkans," the Ustashe set up concentration camps, most notably at Jasenovac. According to various estimates, about 100,000 people were murdered at the camp, among them tens of thousands of Jews (it is interesting to note that some of the heads of the Ustashe were married to Jewish women). Throughout Croatia about 700,000 people were murdered. The partisans, led by the Croat Communist Josip Broz Tito, and the Chetniks - Nationalist Serb royalists - fought the Ustashe.

After the war, Pavelic and other Ustashe heads fled to Austria and, with the help of the British intelligence and their friends in the Vatican, found refuge in Italy. They hid in Vatican monasteries and were provided with false documents that gave them a new identity. Secret documents that were disclosed at the court in San Francisco show that at the end of the war, British intelligence took Pavelic under its wing and allowed him and a convoy of 10 trucks that carried the stolen treasure to travel to the British occupation zone in Austria. The British did this with the intention of using him as a counterweight to the Communist takeover in Yugoslavia.

The Ustashe brought the treasure convoy to Rome, where they put it into the hands of the Croatian ambassador to the Vatican, Rev. Krunoslav Draganovic. Draganovic also saw to hiding Pavelic and his aides in Vatican institutions and safe houses in Rome. American military intelligence located Pavelic's hiding place. But according to a secret document Gowen wrote in July 1947, that was submitted to the court, Gowen's unit received the instruction: "Hands off" Pavelic.

This was an order from the American Embassy, stressed Gowen in his testimony. It is also stated in the document, which is classified as top secret, that Pavelic, via his contacts with Draganovic, was receiving Vatican protection. From Italy, Pavelic was smuggled on the Rat Lines to Argentina, where he served as a security adviser to president Juan Peron (Peron granted entry visas to 34,000 Croats, many of them associated with the Ustashe and Nazi supporters).

In 1957 there was an attempt to assassinate him, in which he was wounded. The operation was attributed to Tito's Yugoslav intelligence, although the possibility that this was an attempt at revenge by a Chetnik activist was not dismissed. Pavelic had to leave Argentina and found refuge with the Spanish dictator Franco. Two years later, in 1959, he died as a result of complications caused by the wound. The Ustashe has continued to exist over the years and until the 1980s its operatives were involved in acts of terror against diplomats and other Yugoslav targets abroad.

Montini complains

The suit filed at the court in San Francisco is based on earlier investigations and reports from American government agencies, the Simon Wiesenthal Center and committees of historians who researched the matter of the Jewish property in Swiss banks. The case was preceded by successful legal battles by attorney Levy and his colleagues against the CIA and the American Army to obtain secret documents. The defendants, on their part, led by the Vatican Bank and the Franciscan order and others, deny the charges against them and made every effort to have the charges dismissed. So far, the court has rejected these efforts outright and determined that the deliberations would continue. But the defendants are tenacious and now they are demanding that publication of Gowen's testimony be prohibited.

After the end of the war Gowen served as a special agent, meaning an investigations officer in the Rome detachment of American counter-intelligence. This unit's role was to track down, among others, Italian Fascists, Nazi war criminals and their collaborators, including the Ustashe leaders (Gowen said another mission included, at the request of British intelligence, surveillance of Irgun and Lehi activists). The code name for the unit's actions was "Operation Circle."

Parallel to the counterintelligence unit, other American army intelligence units, and mainly the Office of Strategic Services (OSS, from which the CIA developed) and British intelligence were engaged in contradictory actions. They made contact with Nazis and with the Ustashe people and enlisted them in their service as agents, collaborators and informers, with the intention of forming a front against the Soviet spread into Eastern Europe and the Balkans. "To try and find Pavelic you had to discover how the Ustashe network in Italy was constituted, how it operated, what were its bases," testified Gowen.

A key person in the Pontifical Croatian college was Rev. Draganovic, the Croatian ambassador to the Vatican. Draganovic and the college issued false papers to Croatian war criminals, among them Pavelic and Artukovic. "I personally investigated Draganovic - who told me he was reporting to Montini," emphasized Gowen.

Gowen related that at a certain stage Montini learned, apparently from the head of the OSS unit in Rome, James Angleton, who nurtured relations with Montini and the Vatican, of the investigation Gowen's unit was conducting. Montini complained about Gowen to his superiors and accused him of having violated the Vatican's immunity by having entered church buildings, such as the Croatian college, and conducting searches there. The aim of the complaint was to interfere with the investigation.

In his testimony, Gowen also stated that Draganovic helped the Ustashe launder the stolen treasure with the help of the Vatican Bank: This money was used to fund its religious activities, but also to fund the escape of Ustashe leaders on the Rat Line

Confession No.9: Will America Rise Up Against Jesuits, Vatican And New World Order Tyranny?

As the question lingers will Americans sit back and allow the 'powers that be' to refer to them as 'useless eaters' or will they rely on past history to uncover and remove the real culprits behind the destruction of America.

18 Jun 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The term "useless eaters" was first used by Nazi doctors, referring to their concentration camp victims. It was later used by former CIA director William Colby, referring to the Mexican people.

Now it used in the inner circles of the Illuminati and the dungeons of the Vatican when referring to the people of the United States.

And the reason Americans are now considered "useless eaters" is they are being set-up by the spiritual controllers of the New World Order -- the Jesuits -- for mass eradication like the 22 million Russian citizens slaughtered during the failed fascist offensive at Stalingrad, as well as numerous other genocides orchestrated by fanatical elements in the Vatican.

As we move on with Confession No. 9 in our search for the true spiritual controllers of the New World Order by the shores of Brushy Creek, according to researcher John Judge the Vatican's dirty work through the Jesuits can be traced to the creation of the communist Soviet Union, as well as backing Nazi Germany's terror campaign.

In a lengthy article connecting the dots of the Vatican, the Illuminati and the impending destruction of America, Judge wrote:

"A group of the most fanatically conservative elements of the Catholic Church, men who still supported the inquisition in Spain and who used flagellation as prayer, formed a lay order known as Opus Dei, the Works of God.

"These were joined in rank by the ancient military order of the church ' the secretive Knights Hospitallers, or the Knights of Malta. Their ultimate objective was the downfall of the new Soviet government. No method or means was too extreme, so these forces backed and helped to create Franco in Spain, Mussolini in Italy, and Hitler in Germany. Some of the U.S. firms continued their financial trade and support of the fascists throughout all of World War II, with Russia as the target.

"But the fascist offensive failed at Stalingrad, though the cost had been enormous, with 22 million Soviet citizens dead. At this crucial turning point, they retreated and retrenched, adding to their ranks the embittered revanchists of Eastern Europe, the "cold warriors" and Klansmen of America, and even worse elements.

"From 1943 forward, plans began to escalate the "cold war" of propaganda and paramilitary spying into the nuclear exchange of World War III.. Still, no other goal was so important as the "recapture" of Mother Russia into monarchist and fascist hands. But now they had also added the perspective of the eugenicists and the "scientific" racists of the Third Reich, who saw most of the non-white world as expendable."

Judge's well researched article is a piece of lost history, highlighting the secret assassins from the World War II era who escaped justice, formulating the basis of the fascist movement now destroying America with the full cooperation and assistance of the Vatican through the Jesuit Order.

The following portion of the article reveals the names of the men most responsible for the establishment of the New World Order as well as naming those who worked together with them to determine how America is being undermined today.

Judge said the following is based on his own research and that of Mae Brussell, and the few researchers looking into the truth of what became of democracy in America:

Add to this international fascist cabal the following sources of power: Kameradenwerk, Die Spinne and Odessa -- the secret webs of Nazi SS men and mass murderers who escaped justice after the war and found a home in Europe, South America and the obliging United States.

Project Paperclip -- A successful American operation which brought to the U.S. literally hundreds of top aerospace and munitions experts from Nazi Germany to form the corporate leadership and the expertise behind the technological and military advances of a growing military-industrial I complex.[]

Belarus Brigade -- The dreaded combined forces of Nazi and White Russian troops in Byelorussia during World War II, a counter-revolutionary stronghold since World War I and a Nazi-infested army against Russia. The top government officials, nearly 300 of them, were brought to the United States and given important government and intelligence jobs by our thankful CIA and OSS.

Dictatorships -- Arisen in South America and throughout the world whose fascist rhetoric and genocidal direction come directly from Nazi collusion and training, not historical chance.

The Gehlen Network -- A black orchestra of spies whose infamous dealings during World War II had put the Nazi spies in bed with every major intelligence network in the world from British M15 and M16, to the American OSS and the heavily infiltrated KGB.] Under the evil genius of Allen Dulles, whose espionage attacks on the Soviet Union date back to the 1920's, $200 million in Rockefeller and Mellon funds was directed into the hands of Hitler's spymaster Reinhard Gehlen and his 350 Nazi spies, who formed and founded our Central Intelligence Agency in 1947.] Later, these same forces created post-war European intelligence , our Defense Intelligence Agency, our National Security Agency, and covert groupings here and abroad whose very initials are considered classified information.

Assassins -- An international fascist network of terror, congealed in the grey underworld of Mafia murders, drug trafficking, gun smuggling and political murders worldwide. These mercenary armies still draw their ranks from the refugees encamped everywhere, still operate with names like Alpha 66 and Omega 7,] AAA or DINA, the Kuomintang of Chiang Kai Shek, the Somocistas along the Honduran border now, the Hmong peoples of Laos and the reactionary ranks of the Vietnamese, the Phalangists in Lebanon, and even the Grey Wolves of Turkey whose members include Mehmet Ali Agca, the attempted assassin of the Pope now so falsely accused of working with the Soviet KGB.

Interpol -- An international police intelligence agency begun at the end of World War II in collaboration with Nazi war criminals and our own J. Edgar Hoover of FBI fame.[19]

These elements meet internationally under the aegis of organizations like the World Union of National Socialists, the Asian People's Anti-Communist League, and the World Anti-Communist League. Their cover is provided by "journalists" like Claire Sterling, [20] and Marvin Kalb of Opus Dei.[21] Their legitimacy and recruiting is aided by evangelical fronts like "World Vision," which runs many of the refugee camps and includes John W. Hinckley, Sr.[22] They draw their funds from the illevl and profitable world heroin and cocaine trade, [23] and their training from CIA experts like Mitch WerBell, Edwin Wilson, Frank Terpil and unreconstructed Nazi torturers who provide 'techniques.' [24] Their weapons come from an equally lucrative gun smuggling trade, assisted by intelligence agencies.[25]

This is the real historical framework of current events, that follow from "cold war" to "COINTELPRO" and "CHAOS," [26] from the framing of the Rosenbergs to "Operation Garden Plot," [27] from Alger Hiss to the "Houston Plan," [28] from McCarthy to "MK-ULTRA," [29] from the Third Reich to the Fourth. What the demon Dulles brothers engineered, [30] the massive cold-war lie [31] that justified any excess in the direction of fascism, is the root of Malcolm X's statement on Vietnam, that "the chickens are going to come home to roost." Under the current rubric of the World Anti-Communist League, [32] the Solidarists, the Nazis and other fascists, the reactionary forces in every part of the globe unit to bring us a legacy of deception and murder, of war profits and starvation, of open dictatorial rule. Their now three-quarter-century-old goal of crushing the Soviet revolution has brought us to both financial and physical ruin, and to the brink of World War III.[33] To attain that goal, fascism has come home to roost.[34]

During World War II, the Nazis in France gained collaboration and capitulation by going first to the task of corrupting the courts, compromising the judges, and turning the slim hope of judicial justice into a political weapon.[35] In our own country, the most respected Justice of the Supreme Court was unable to solve the obvious case of conspiracy in the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. The primary role of the state police has become spying and suppression of legitimate attempts to challenge the undemocratic and secret rule of the national security state.[36] The purpose of the law now is to put the protection of profits above people at all costs, even to the point of police destruction of the evidence necessary to reconstruct the crime.[37] Do you think we are in some better or more holy condition in our own courts today? What special sort of American chauvinism leads us to blindly assert "it can't happen here?" For it has.

In a recent editorial in the Boston Globe, dated February 14, 1983, we can see the delayed reaction of the established press shortly after the extradition of Klaus Barbie, [38] the Nazi "Butcher of Lyons," from Bolivia to France:

Barbie is only one of many notorious Nazi leaders who were welcomed like prodigal sons into service with Western intelligence agencies after the war. Their unspeakable crimes against humanity were implicitly forgiven and conveniently forgotten. They were paid and protected so that they could return to active duty in the anti-Communist crusade which their fuhrer, Adolf Hitler, had temporarily discredited with his extremism.

Their names compose a rogue's gallery of fascist thuggery. Hitler's master spy, Reinhard Gehlen, was made chief of the Western German intelligence agency (BND) and shared his Nazi intelligence data with his protectors in the CIA. Otto Skorzeny, a Nazi specialist at organizing terror networks in occupied countries, was employed in the U.S. Army's historical division, which served as a way-station for former Nazis who would go on to serve in the Gehlen-CIA intelligence network. Skorzeny used his tacit immunity to shepherd old Nazi comrades out of Europe, working through cover organizations, known as Odessa, Kamaradenwerk, and Die Spinne.

As the years went by, Gehlen, Skorzeny and their network of old-boy collaborators accumulated enormous influence both in Europe and Latin America. Skorzeny shuttled between Franco's Spain and Peron's Argentina, where he served the Argentine dictator as a gray eminence. His goal was to foster the growth of a fascist Fourth Reich centered in Latin America.

He could count on such loyalist operatives as Josef Mengele in Paraguay, on Adolf Eichmann and Hans Ulrich Rudel in Argentina; on Walter Rauff in Chile; and on Klaus Barbie in Bolivia.

Rauff, who is charged with sending 97,000 Jews to their death, has served as a revered adviser to the fascist dictatorship imposed on Chile by Augusto Pinochet after the overthrow of Salvador Allende, and was instrumental in setting up the infamous Chilean secret police agency known as DINA. Barbie, in Bolivia, organized paramilitary death squads and drug smuggling networks for a succession of military regimes.

To grasp the full meaning of Barbie's belated appointment with justice, his career may be seen as an emblem of the unchecked metastasis of fascism. It is particularly mortifying for Americans to be reminded that our government put Barbie on its payroll a few years after he worked for Hitler.

Erhard Dabringhaus of U.S. Army Intelligence sheltered this mass murderer, paid him $1700 a month to run a spy network in France, and helped him escape to South America. "I am a good American of German extraction and I did my job," he said recently from his position as a German history professor at Wayne State University.[39] These people, and those who aided them, have names, addresses, and connections to the top levels of the United States government. They figure prominently in the hidden history of our police-intelligence state, and in the rash of political assassinations and other crimes that keep it in place. The names of the men most responsible for bringing them here read like a roll call of the world establishment, and those who collaborated with them fit together like pieces of a puzzle in decoding events since World War II.[40]

Allen Dulles -- Who collaborated with Gehlen's spies, headed the CIA, and later sat on the Warren Commission investigation of J.F. Kennedy's death.[41]

John J. McCloy -- A High Commissioner of Germany after the war who pardoned key Nazi criminals like Krupp, Abs, Dohrnberger, Schacht, and others.[42] His long career has made him a "Godfather of the American establishment." He sat atop the World Bank, directed construction of the Pentagon, worked with Earl Warren to set up the Japanese concentration camps in America, blocked any military attacks on the Nazi death camps as Assistant Secretary of War. He stopped the summary execution of Nazis in favor of the Nuremberg Trials which he later thwarted, and also sat as a member of the Warren Commission.[43]

General Lucius Clay -- The military commander of Germany at the end of the war, Clay helped undermine the prosecution of Otto Skorzeny, and later worked with Nazi generals at Oberammergau to train Eastern European revanchists, Nazis and American GIs into the 5,000-strong "Special Forces" against communism. This team later became our Green Berets.[44]

Henry Kissinger -- Worked with General Lucius Clay at Oberammergau, and then with key stateside Army Intelligence and CIA units responsible for bringing in the Nazi spies.[45] Kissinger, who came from Germany to join U.S. Army Intelligence during World War II, had as his "mentor" the mysterious Fritz Kraemer.[46] Kraemer's 30-year silent career in the Pentagon plans division includes the prepping of Alexander Haig.[47] It may also conceal his real identity -- prisoner #33 in the dockets at Dachau, the special Lieutenant to Hitler, Fritz Kraemer. [48] Mr. Kissinger still relies on his advice, and did so while Secretary of State.

C.D. Jackson -- Joined Nelson Rockefeller and Richard Nixon in the scheme to bring the Byelorussian government here. He worked for the Henry Luce publishing empire, and for Life magazine when they published the doctored photos of Lee Harvey Oswald holding a rifle. Both Time and Life were owned by Luce, and were responsible for much of the cold-war propaganda that allowed the national security state and the Pentagon to grow untouched.[49]

Richard Milhous Nixon -- Former President whose work with Navy Intelligence at the end of World War II included the importation of Nazi criminals through the Gould family estate on Long Island. Among them was Nicolae Malaxa, whose collaboration with Hermann Goering was apparently no problem for Nixon, who defended Malaxa's U.S. citizenship.[50] In fact, a special bill was introduced in Congress to secure the citizenship by Senator Pat McCarren of Nevada. McCarren and Senator Joe McCarthy later introduced legislation to set up "detention and internment camps" in the U.S. in times of war or national emergency for "internal security." [51]

Other figures involved in this dirty little secret connect to the highest levels of our government and intelligence agencies. The solemn pledge to end the Nazi régime was completely betrayed.[52] Instead, the British and American spies saw a more important function, that of finding a new common enemy. The cohesiveness and control offered by this scenario seemed so urgent and so appealing that they even considered creating the illusion of an enemy from outer space.[53] For the less inventive, the communist revolution still served as sufficient scapegoat, and historical target.

Frank G. Wisner -- An official of the OSS and a CIA veteran who brought the Byelorussian government here, the Latvian Thunder Cross, the Hungarian Arrow Cross, and the Roumanian Iron Guard among others. As many as 5,000 came to work at Radio Free Europe and Radio Liberty, the CIA, the Voice of America, the Defense Language Institute, "for the United States in defense of liberty."^[54] Allen Dulles said of Gehlen, "He's on our side now." Bobby Inman of the NSA and CIA networks today admitted recently that these fascists were "the bedrock" of covert operations in Europe in the 40s and 50s by the CIA, and molded the anti-communist policy there.^[55]

J. Peter Grace -- A scion of the Grace fortunes, he is currently head of Reagan's commission to study domestic economic cuts.^[56] For 30 years his company employed Otto Ambrose, a Nazi war criminal from the German drug cartel I.G. Farben. Ambrose, a chemist, developed "Zyklon B," the actual gas used in the chambers to kill the Jews and others deemed "inferior." ^[57] The German steel group, Flick, which has extensive Nazi ties in the past and whose scandals are rocking German politics today, hold a controlling stock interest in the Grace company.^[58] The Grace family is intimately involved with the formation of the anti-Communist American Institute for Free Labor Development (AIFLD).^[59] AIFLD played a key role in the Kissinger plan to overthrow Allende in Chile, and insert the ruling fascist Pinochet.^[60] After the coup, which involved American Green Berets, ^[61] Kissinger sent a Mr. Rauff from the State Department to advise the newly formed Chilean secret police (DINA). Rauff had been in charge of the "mobile ovens" used to kill Gypsies and Jews, homosexuals and political dissidents in Eastern Europe for the Nazis.^[62] These same forces were later involved in the assassination of Chilean diplomat Orlando Letelier in Washington, D.C.^[63]

Helene von Damm -- Personal White House appointment secretary long-time personal secretary to Ronald Reagan, she stands to be appointed Ambassador to Vienna, and controls all cabinet level appointments in the Reagan administration.^[64] She came to the United States in the 1950s in the company of Albrecht Otto von Bolschwing, and worked for him as a translator.^[65] Von Bolschwing gave the direct orders to Adolph Eichmann in the dread Eisenstatz, group, the SS killers.^[66] Helene's husband, Christian von Damm, ran the Bank of America in La Paz, Bolivia, which defaulted on a huge U.S. loan.^[67]

Errol Flynn -- The famed actor, whose exploits included meetings with Nazi sympathizers, and the Duke and Duchess of Windsor, and Nazi spymasters during the late 30s. His roommate and constant coM anion at the time was actor Ronald Reagan.^[68]

Anna Chenault -- A Nixon confidant, and head, of the old "China Lobby" that got us involved in both Korea and Vietnam.^[69] Her husband, General Claire Chennault, formed the Flying Tigers in World War II, which later flew heroin for the CIA from Vietnam as "Air America." ^[70] She sits on the board of 20th Century Fox with Henry Kissinger, William Rogers, Gerald Ford, and until recently, Princess Grace Kelly of Monaco.^[71]

Evita Peron -- Once a ruler in Argentina, Evita got her funds from the Nazi treasuries stolen by Martin Bormann at the end of the war, and put hundreds of millions in the "Evita Peron Foundation" and Swiss bank accounts. This money aided war criminals like Josef Mengele, Heinrich Dorge, Hjalmar Schacht (who had worked under Herman Abs at the Reichsbank), Rudolf Freude, Dr. Fritz Thyssen Dr. Gustav Krupp, Otto Skorzeny, and others.^[72]

Peter Drucker -- Well-known industrialist who began the multinational corporation concept, he was responsible for bringing Nazi leader Fritz Kraemer from Frankfurt to the Pentagon.^[73]

General George Patton -- An American hero of World War II, whose credit for invading Sicily was later tarnished by the Kefauver commission study suggesting that he traveled into friendly Mafioso villages as part of a secret deal between Navy Intelligence and mobster "Lucky" Luciano.^[74] In his assignment to construct a history of the war, Patton assembled Nazi Army officers and had "admiration, affection and sympathy" for them. He picked the "best brains," Von Manteuffel, Brandenberger, Count von Schwerin and Fritz Kraemer.^[75] After the war, Patton worked closely with John J. McCloy. In relation to Russia he said, "Anyone who says there won't be a future war is a goddamn fool."^[76]

George Bush -- Former head of the CIA who employed, among others, U.S. Army officer, Capt. William Rhine of the Bay of Pigs operation. Rhine is really top SS spy Helmut Streicher, who worked directly with Hitler, Gehlen, Otto Skorzeny, and then U.S. Army Intelligence from October, 1945 on.^[77]

involving chemical and biological experiments on American prisoners so that we could use the secret results.[78] This operation and others directly involved MacArthur's chief of staff, Colonel Charles Willoughby, who is in reality a Nazi criminal, Kurt Weidenbach.[79]

J. Edgar Hoover -- Who formed the FBI, and without whose help Nazi criminals could never have entered the U. S., worked in Interpol with founder Reinhard Heydrich, SS head of Nazi police from 1940 to 1942, and his successor, SS officer Ernst Kaltenbrunner, later hanged at Nuremberg.[80] Hoover's career involved extensive mob connections, [81] and his death has yet to be fully investigated.[82]

Thomas Dewey -- The "gangbuster" New York prosecutor who put Luciano in jail, and then later petitioned for his release and deportation to Italy in honor of his "wartime services." [83] In 1948, Dewey ran for President in a close race with Harry Truman. Dewey's vice-presidential candidate was Earl Warren and his campaign manager was Allen Dulles.[84]

Historically interconnected with the Solidarists and the fascists, powerful elements in the Vatican continued their work through high church officials, Opus Dei, and the Sovereign Military order of Malta, the Knights of Malta.[85]

Monsignor Montini -- An OSS operative in Southeast Asia at the end of World War II, he was later appointed Pope Paul VI. He used Caritas Internationalis, a welfare organization, to provide refugee travel documents to such Nazis as euthanasia killer Hans Hefelman and Hitler's secretary, Martin Bormann, aiding in their escape to Argentina.[86]

Pope John Paul II -- Worked at Auschwitz in a rubber plant run Nazi financier Hermann Abs for Solvay Drugs of I.G. Farben.[87] Farben, which also employed Fritz Kraemer, has 750 subsidiaries worldwide, including U.S. firms. [88] In the wake of the recent Vatican Bank scandals, Pope John Paul II appointed a four-man committee to study and run Vatican finances, which included Hitler's personal banker and the pontiff's old boss, Hermann Abs.[89] Nazi hunter Simon Wiesenthal protested this recently.[90] The Pope also elevated Opus Dei, with 72,000 members in 80 countries, to the status of a religious order.[91]

Cardinal Spellman -- Religious leader in New York, he was a protégé of Cardinal Pacelli, Pope Pius XII, who is often accused of collaboration with the Nazis.[92] Spellman is the U.S. spiritual leader of the Knights of Malta.[93] He is responsible for introducing Ngo Dinh Diem to Allen Dulles, and then proposing his presidency of South Vietnam to President Kennedy.[94] When Diem resisted the introduction of American troops into Vietnam, Dulles told General Westmoreland to go ahead anyway, and our CIA helped to kill Diem.[95]

Father E. Walsh -- His Georgetown University Center for International Affairs and Strategic Studies became the first major CIA training center.[96] This Jesuit priest was the motivating force behind Joe McCarthy's campaign against "communism" in the 50s, and he is a long-time member of the Knights of Malta.[97]

Avery Dulles -- Son of John Foster Dulles, then Secretary of State, and a nephew to Allen Dulles, then CIA director. Avery worked with Martin Bormann to help his escape to Argentina, and is now working as an advisor at Georgetown University. He also is a member of the Knights of Malta.[98]

Roy Cohn -- The key lawyer in the prosecution of the Rosenberg case the alleged "Atom Spies" executed in the 1950s, [99] he worked with Joe McCarthy and David Schine to spread the "Communist Menace" lies. He currently sits on the board of the anti-communist Western Goals Foundation, and his law partner, Tom Bolan, is a member of the Sovereign Military Order of Malta.[100]

Alexander Haig -- A long-time protégé of the Pentagon "Iron Mentor" Fritz Kraemer, [101] Haig extended favors and NATO links to the fascist cell in Italy known as P-2 or Propaganda Due, whose "puppetmaster," Licio Gelli, worked with Franco and Mussolini and shares dual citizenship in Italy and Argentina.[102] The involvement of high government officials in this secret order of Free-Masons scandalized and rocked the whole Italian government, and opened the ensuing scandal of Banco Ambrosiano and the Vatican Bank's missing billions.[103] Many of the key figures are either imprisoned (Licio Gelli and Michele Sindona, former head of the Vatican Bank) or dead (Roberto Calvi, known as "God's Banker," found hanging beneath Blackfriar's Bridge in London.) [104] Haig has just been knighted into the secretive Knights of Malta, which includes his brother, and prestigious members like William Colby (CIA), William F. Buckley (CIA), J. Peter Grace, John McCone (CIA), General Vernon Walters (Reagan's "roving ambassador"), James Angleton (CIA), and others.[105]

Charles G. Bludhorn -- The founder and chairman of Gulf and Western conglomerate, he came from Vienna in 1942. He worked closely with Michele Sindona and his boss, Licio Gelli, had secret dealings with Antonio Guzman of the Dominican Republic, and knew Vatican Bank scandal figure Archbishop Paul Marcinkus.[106] Bludhorn bought Music Corporation of America (which gave Reagan his start), Madison Square Garden, and much more. His financial manager, Kirk Kerkorian began with a $50,000,000 loan from West German banker Otto Schoeppler to buy MGM. Alexander Haig was soon on the board.[107]

Michele Ledeen -- Reagan's appointed state department official is the unofficial source for the "Bulgarian Connection" like about the KGB role in the shooting of the Pope. He is the major source on "Soviet terrorism" misinformation to Claire Sterling, who deftly covers up fascist terrorism and state terrorism alike.[108] Ledeen has close ties to Alexander Haig, the Georgetown University grouping, Henry Kissinger, Licio Gelli Opus Dei, and the P-2 Masonic Lodge scandal.[109] He is also close to Francesco Pazienza, suspected to have set up "God's Banker" Roberto Calvi for murder.[110] At the time of his death, Calvi was director of Banco Ambrosiano, and his family members openly claim he was killed by Opus Dei.[111]

Joseph Lehman -- A brother to John Lehman, currently Secretary of the Navy. John Lehman is involved in a growing scandal involving contracts between the Pentagon and the Abingdon firm (a front for Lockheed and Boeing), which employs Joseph, Christopher and other Lehman family members.[112] A cousin of the family, Princess Grace Kelly, was knighted into the Sovereign Military Order of Malta shortly before her death, and her home at Monaco was a center for fugitive Nazi activity for many years.[113] The Lehmans have worked openly to curb the Catholic bishops who favor a nuclear freeze, scaring them with the "KGB shot the Pope" nonsense.[114] In this effort, Christopher Lehman works closely with Senator John Tower of Texas. Senator Tower's brother-in-law is Samuel Cimmings, a CIA gun runner to international fascist terrorists, including "Carlos," Frank Terpil, Ed Wilson, Gregory Korkola, and others.[115]

Once the cast of characters is clear, the interconnections continue. One of the front companies used by Wilson and Terpil in California, TCI, was founded by Helene von Damm and Otto Albrecht von Bolschwing.[116] The relative importance of von Bolschwing cannot be underestimated. He was placed in charge of the Gehlen-CIA network in the United States when Gehlen returned to Germany to set up their post-war intelligence agency.[117] Many of the people mentioned already have direct or indirect links to the assassination of John F. Kennedy, later political murders, and their coverups.[118] Others make the connections of the international fascist cabal very clear in the murder of John F. Kennedy and many more progressive leaders.

Werner von Braun -- Whose infamous "Rocket Team" developed the first intercontinental missiles at Peenemunde, and were then brought here to develop NASA rocketry, and the growing aerospace industry.[119] The NASA security teams are implicated in several sources in connection with the murder of John F. Kennedy.[120] The actual physical capture of von Braun, who had used slave labor to build the rockets, was done by American,; troops in Switzerland led by Clay Shaw, later charged by District Attorney Jim Garrison for his role in the Kennedy killing.[121]

General Walter Dohrnberger -- A Nazi murderer convicted at Nuremberg for working with the "Butcher of Auschwitz" to kill 6,000 Jews, he was scheduled to be hanged according to British prosecutor Shawcross.[122] He had been a "mentor" and friend to Von Braun throughout the war, getting materials and labor denied at times by Hitler for the rocket works. Von Braun refused to work on NASA rockets unless we intervened to save Dohrnberger. Of course, we did, and a full pardon was arranged by John J. McCloy.[123] General Dohrnberger came to the United States, worked at NASA briefly, and then became director of the Helicopter Division, Bell Aerospace, in Dallas and Houston, Texas.[124] He still trains pilots abroad, working with dictators like the Shah of Iran. Dohrnberger employed topranking military intelligence agent Michele Paine, who housed Marina Oswald in his home in Irving, Texas.[125] Marina, who married Lee Harvey Oswald in Russia, lived in Minsk, Byelorussia, and was the niece of the top officer of the NKVD, the Soviet secret police.[126] Her family was openly anti-communist.[127]

George de Mohrenschildt -- His whole family was Byelorussian, and rabidly anti-communist after their fortune was lost to the revolution at the Nobel family oil fields. They moved to Germany and worked with the Nazis during World War II. George was a spy, carrying papers from Nelson Rockefeller after the war, and his cousin Baron Meyerling was a Nazi film propagandist. His brother, Von, was put to work at the Pentagon after the war, and now sits on the CIA's Tolstoy Foundation. His wife was related to CIA and OSS employees, and her father ran the railroads in China before Mao took power. George later lost another oil fortune of his own in Cuba following the ouster of Batista by Fidel Castro.[128] He was the contact for the Oswalds to the White Russian Solidarist community in Dallas, and the CIA "babysitter" and best friend to Lee Harvey Oswald. De Mohrenschildt introduced the Oswalds to the Paines, and it was Ruth Paine who got Oswald the job in the Texas School Book Depository, and lied to the Warren Commission about "Oswald's rifle" and set him up as the patsy in the Kennedy assassination. [129]

Leon Jaworski -- Considered by some to be "the most trusted man in America" due to his role as special prosecutor in the Watergate and Koreagate scandals, he spent 20 years with the CIA's M.D. Anderson Foundation. [130] A lawyer at the Nuremberg trials, Jaworski undermined prosecutions, then worked with the Red Cross international rescue division to move the Nazi Odessa network around the world.[131] He was later Special Liaison between the Dallas police and the Warren Commission.[132]

Otto Winnacker -- The actual author of the Warren Commission Report, he was taken away from his job as an official Pentagon historian (recall that the U.S. Army historical division was the way station for the Gehlen operation), and he had come to the United States after years of faithful service as one of Hitler's official historians of the Reich.[133]

Believe it or not, these are only a few of the thousands of connections that history has hidden, only a few of the thousands of fascists brought to light, their worst crimes still unexposed.[134] This is the dirtiest secret of post-war America: our vast intelligence networks were a haven for, and eventually a tool in the hands of international fascism. The increasing challenge to simple Constitutional rights is a direct result of the legislative and political role, played behind the closed door of "security" by these elements. The growing threat to the already damaged economy by the military-industrial complex is out of control. All is geared to a new world war, a bloodbath in section of the Third World, a reduction of population worldwide.

The attacks in Congress and the courts on rights are the prelude to open martial law and fascist rule in America -- a new "final solution." [135]

"When they came for the Jews, I did nothing for I am not a Jew . . . when they came for me, who was left to defend me?" asked Martin Niemoller of Germany in the 1940s. The continuing murders of labor leaders, musicians, political dissidents, progressive thinkers, Black and Hispanic leaders, and others here in the United States parallels the hundreds of political murders in the late 20s and early 30s in Weimar Germany that preceded Hitler's rise to power.[136] When they came for the socialists and communists in the 1950s, the targets of the Smith Act and other repressive treatment, many of us did not act since we were not members of such organizations.

Will we make the mistake twice?

Hanging solemnly over the mass murder at Jonestown, Guyana, was the George Santayana quote, "Those who do not remember the past are condemned to repeat it." [137] We are not far from the open collusion of the courts in all aspects of state repression. Recent events must be seen for what they are, an attack on us all, spearheaded by the very forces of reaction that threaten life and freedom worldwide, hiding beneath the cloak of anticommunism. To sit back now will put us in a category akin to Klaus Barbie's Army Intelligence contact, Ernst Dabringhaus. Will we be "Good Germans of American extraction" and "do our job," or will we rise?

Great Divide Between Congress And People Indicates The Coming Of A Second American Revolution

Letter from U.S. Senator from Colorado shows how the law of the land and the will of the people are being ignored. Boulder citizens rally around talk radio show to voice opinions on the 'taking back of America' from the criminals in Washington.

16 June 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The great divide between Congress and the people becomes crystal clear after reading a letter sent by Sen. A. Wayne Allard (R-Co) to a constituent who felt President Bush should be impeached.

After six years in office, Bush has displayed the arrogance of an outright dictator, openly violating International and U.S. Constitutional laws numerous times while utilizing a compromised Congress and media as well as an apathetic American public to lead America into outright fascism.

Although long overdue, Bush's true motives have finally been made clear, as his support has dipped to record lows and a restless American public are finally openly calling for a total house cleaning, which some observers are claiming may lead to the second American Revolution.

And the letter sent to Sen. Allard by Boulder, Colorado, resident Suanne Skidd, an activist, truth seeker and Harvard graduate, a well as his response, shows just how completely out of control things have gotten in Washington D.C.

Skidd demanded the Republican Senator become accountable to the people while placing a needed check and balance on Bush's criminality.

But instead of receiving adequate assurances the Bush administration crimes would be dealt with in accordance to the will of the people and the law of the land, Sen. Allard's bootlicking reply indicates just how far down the road of fascism America has gone.

Besides Allard's party line reply, Skidd further voiced her concern to the fascism in America by organizing a two-day live truth talk radio show on the streets of Boulder where many residents took the time to voice their concern on the airwaves, many calling for the impeachment of Bush and the end to the policies of what has become known as a New world Order takeover of America.

Skidd help organize the broadcasts, bringing Americans out of their houses to start talking in the streets, as populist talk show host, Greg Szymanski, brought his Investigative Journal and the Republic Broadcasting Network to Boulder Thursday and Friday, June 15 and 16.

"I was quite surprised by the turnout, as many people who listen to Greg and RBN turned out, to show their support, while telling other Americans it's time to get out on the streets and take back America," said Skidd, adding she is in the process of forming a Boulder truth seekers organization patterned after a similar group that started in Austin, Texas, and spread to other cities like Houston and Oklahoma City.

"True American patriots like Bob McFarland, Chuck Collins, Stan Hess, Terry Graham, Jim Meyers and Ged Thompson all came out to talk on the radio this week in downtown Boulder, hoping to inspire Americans to take action."

The following letter sent by Sen. Allard to Skidd indicates why the entire U.S. Congress should be removed for high crimes and treason, as they all are complicit in Bush crimes for failure to act upon probable cause evidence, placing America's future in jeopardy:

Thank you for contacting me about our country's leadership. I appreciate you taking the time to write.

I do not believe that the President, Vice President, or any members of his cabinet have acted in any manner that deserves impeachment. President Bush and his administration have had extremely difficult decisions to make in light of the terrorist attacks on September 11, 2001, and I feel that the Administration has done a good job in leading the country in the War on Terrorism.

Additionally, it is important to remember that within the Constitution of the United States, a system of checks and balances was established to limit the powers of the federal government by dividing the authority of government among the three branches. Therefore, Congress and the Supreme Court provide oversight to what the President and his cabinet members decide to do. These checks and balances have served our republic well over the last 230 years.

Again, thank you for writing to share your concerns. Although our views may differ on this important issue, I really appreciate you taking the time to write. I look forward to hearing from you again. If you would like more information on issues important to Colorado and the nation, please log on to my website at <http://allard.senate.gov>.

Philippines Being Ransacked By Jesuits And Vatican, According To Foreign Freedom Fighter

It's a question of freedom or fascism and Bobby Limeta of the Philippines says the U.S. is the only barrier remaining in the world.

The looting of the Philippines is underway in "full force" by the Jesuit Order, according to foreign freedom fighter Bobby G. Limeta, as he claims the devious Catholic order of militaristic priests are the real culprits behind the New World Order.

"I'm a Filipino and I'm not an American, but I'm deeply concerned that the last barrier of freedom the world now enjoys is the United States," said Limeta this week from his home in the Philippines, adding he hopes information he has collected about the Jesuits provides a warning to Americans.

"I've discovered the diabolic works of the Jesuits since 1990. The more the Americans will be confused about Jesuits & Zionist Jews issues, the better for the Jesuits. As they smile to the Americans for they have already eaten up the foundation of America "United States Constitution and Bill Of Rights.

"Even our national hero Dr. Jose Rizal the greatest of all Malayan Race, knows the Jesuits well and he did not mention Zionist Jews. Now, I never wonder why, if there are Filipino traitors working for the Jesuits-Vatican like Fr. Diaz and Marcos, there's also American traitors like Ronald Reagan who recognized the sovereign state of Vatican. I'm angry at Ronald Reagan as the Jesuits murdered my favorite American President Abraham Lincoln and my favorite hero Dr. Jose Rizal. But they are not murdered by Zionist Jews."

As Limeta watches his country being infiltrated by traitors working together with the Vatican, he wants Americans to listen to what is going on in his country, as well as begin understanding the "real story" of the Vatican in order to protect the liberties remaining in America.

"I have a picture of Adolf Hitler taken 1997 at the age of 107 or 108 in Santiago, Chile. Hitler has Parkinson's disease. And his favorite pastime is painting "Pastel" and always murmuring to himself and sometimes he's even scolding himself for what he had done to the millions of people killed during WWII," said Limeta.

"His wife, Eva Braun," just died on 1972. I and Ernesto Pinero Suarez , a Chilean, knew this matter long time ago. And I'm keeping this picture in a safe location where only I know where it is located. The couple escaped via "Vatican Ratline"s and the couple carried gold with them.

Limeta went on to explain how the Jesuits have influenced and infiltrated his country for the benefit of the elite and to the detriment of the common man. He claims the same thing is happening in America but the people are "blinded from the truth" and a well orchestrated disinformation campaign has been protecting the Jesuits and Vatican using their fascist influence to destroy America.

"The Jesuits owned first class schools and universities in the Philippines and teaching Liberation Theology under curriculum 141 Immersion Program, the Zionist Jew are not teaching it," added Limeta.

"The Jesuit's Opus Dei and Vatican are the culprits in the looting of our Philippine Gold (a gold different from Yamashita's looted Asia's Gold). The culprits OSS/CIA Agent Col. Severino Santa Romana a.k.a. Reverend Father Jose Antonio Diaz (Jesuit's Opus Dei) and Vatican's cohorts Ferdinand E. Marcos.

"President Gloria Macapagal Arroyo studied in Edmund A. Walsh School of Foreign Service (Jesuit's Georgetown University) and his religious adviser is Fr. Romeo "Archie" Intengan, S.J. And sometimes they have secret meeting at the Jesuit's house in Quezon City.

"GMA's national security adviser "Norberto Gonzales" is my pin-pointed Jesuit Temporal coadjutor. He's a close friend of Fr. Archie. And our national hero Dr. Jose Rizal's confessors are Jesuits before he was executed by firing squad. Zionist Jews are not with Rizal. It means, the Jesuits are everywhere and the Zionist Jews.

Limeta went on to explain why he feels the Jesuits and the Vatican are the real culprits of the New World Order, using the Zionist Jews as scapegoats to deflect attention.

"When you analyze the geographic locations of Vatican in Rome it is within seven mountains, exactly what the book of Revelations said. Jerusalem is not," added Limeta. "Also it mentioned in the Bible that the anti-christ will be a preacher from a religious order and not the Zionist Jew.

"Why are there Jesuit defectors like Alberto Rivera and others, but I haven't heard a Zionist Jew defectors? Why is the head of the grand tip of masonry the Jesuit Black Pope and not a superior Zionist? For every group or organization there shall be a leader to have direction and perform leadership function. If there isn't a leader, it will only scatter. Is there a Zionist Jew leader to cover all Zionist Jew affairs throughout the world if any?

"Why are Popes murdered by the Jesuits and not the Zionist Jew. David Yallop did not point his accusations against the Zionist Jews but he point his finger at Cardinal Jean Villot (P2 Lodge member)."

According To Catholic Educated Woman, If Truth Were Ever Taught About Rome It Would Be Exposed As A Complete Fraud

Rebecca Sexton says millions of children around the world have been brainwashed with rosaries, scapulars, candles, incense and image worship.

13 Jun 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Rebecca Sexton has written a powerful article about the false doctrines of Catholicism from the unique perspective of a child being "brainwashed" in Catholic schools.

Sexton pulls no punches and minces no words, saying if the unbiased history of Rome were ever truthfully told, it would be once and for all exposed as a complete fraud.

Further, Sexton claims the masters of deception and mysticism responsible for brainwashing millions of children around the world are none other than the Jesuits, calling them the diabolical masterminds behind Catholic education.

And in order to better understand how the Jesuits and the Vatican are undermining the liberties and freedom of Americans by totally making a mockery of the separation of church and state, what better way than to listen to a Catholic educated woman who says she has uncovered the hidden truths about the master manipulators - the Jesuits and Vatican hierarchy.

Here is an article, entitled A Jesuit Foundation, an article that will never make it into the pages of the controlled media, but one of utmost value and well worth reading:

A JESUIT FOUNDATION

Mary worship was one of the last false doctrines of Catholicism from which I had to be delivered. From the moment I entered St. Paul's grade school, I was indoctrinated into the cult of Mary. For the next eight years of Catholic schooling, I would be taught daily prayers to Mary (morning, twice at noon and at the end of the school day). I would be taught songs that glorified Mary and learn the use of rosaries, scapulars, candles, incense and image worship. I can honestly say that I was "saturated" with Mary worship.

At age six, I had no idea that the masters of mysticism were about to brainwash me or that the same methods used on me would be used on millions of other Catholic children around the world. These masters of mysticism are none other than the Jesuits, the master minds behind Catholic education.

*The Jesuits, founded by Ignatius Loyola (himself a mystic given to visions of Mary, often flagellating and cutting himself), are, in the words of Catholic theologian J. Huber (a professor in Munich) in his publication Les Jesuites (1875):*

"A mixture of piety and diplomacy, asceticism and worldly wisdom, mysticism and cold calculation: as was Loyola's character, so is the trade-mark of this Order" (Secret History of the Jesuits, Edmund Paris, 19).

It is not my purpose to go into the history of the Jesuits, their moral depravity or their numerous crimes against humanity all done "to the glory of God", but more so their teachings, of whom I was a student.

"It is not a Jesuit of old, but a contemporary one who writes: 'He (the Jesuit) will not forget that the characteristic virtue of the Company is total obedience of the action, the will, and even the judgment...All the superiors will be bound in the same way to higher ones and the Father General to the Holy Father...It was so arranged as to render the Holy See's authority universally efficacious, and saint Ignatius was sure that teaching and education would henceforth bring back to Catholic unity a Europe torn apart.' It is with the hope of 'reforming the world', wrote Father Bonhours, 'that he particularly embraced this means: the instruction of youth...' The education of Paraguay's natives was done on the same principles the Fathers used to apply, now apply and will apply on everyone and everywhere; their aim, deplored by Mr. Boehmer, but which is ideal to the eyes of those fanatics: the renouncement of all personal judgment, all initiative, a blind submission to the superiors. Is it not that 'height of freedom', 'the liberation from one's own bondage' praised by R.P. Rouquette and which we mentioned earlier on? In fact, the good Guaranis [savages] had been 'liberated' so well by the Jesuitical method for more than one hundred and fifty years that, when their masters left during the 18th century, they went back into their forests and returned to their ancient customs as if nothing had happened" (The Secret History of the Jesuits, Paris, 58)(Emphasis mine).

The Jesuits believed that if they could teach the youth they would belong to them forever. They regarded the education of the young as the most important means of achieving this aim,

"...for thus could the mind, reason and imagination of innumerable young people, from their first inclination towards independent thought and emotion up to full maturity, be permanently and systematically influenced in the best and most effective manner" (The Power and Secret of the Jesuits, Rene Fulop-Miller, 404-405).

O.C. Lambert, who wrote Catholicism Against Itself, on page 278 of the second volume, recognizes the dangers:

"If they [Catholics] can ever get hold of the schools, soon everything else is ruled out. There is no more effective way to make America Catholic than to get control of the schools. THIS IS ALWAYS THEIR FIRST LINE OF EFFORT IN SUBJUGATING A COUNTRY." (Emphasis mine)

"Father" Charmot, in La Pedagogie des Jesuites, pages 413-17, says:

"The pedagogic method of the Company [Jesuits] consists first of all of surrounding the pupils with a great network of prayers...Let us not be anxious as to where and how mysticism is inserted into education!...It is not done through a system or artificial technique, but by infiltration, by 'endosmosis'. The children's souls are impregnated because of their being in close 'contact with masters who are literally saturated with it' " (The Secret History of the Jesuits, Paris, 59).

Just these few quotes tell us enough about the principle aim of the Jesuits...their desire to "insert" mysticism into education ...but what mysticism are they talking about?

"At the front - it is characteristic of this Order - we find the Virgin Mary. 'Loyola had made the Virgin the most important thing in his life. The Worship of Mary was the base of his religious devotions and was handed down by him to his Order. This worship developed so much that it was often said, and with good reason, that it was the Jesuits' real religion' " [the quote inside the quote is by "Father" Charmot, a Catholic, not a Protestant] (The Secret History of the Jesuits, Paris, 59).

Loyola himself was convinced that the "Virgin" had coached him through visions and audible voices to draw up "Exercises" which are still practiced today. These exercises of "exterior piety to Mary" were promised "to open heaven's doors". They consisted of "...giving Mary morning and evening salutations, frequently charging the angels to greet her, expressing the desire to build her more churches than all those built by monarchs put together; carrying day and night a rosary as a bracelet, an image of Mary, etc...THESE PRACTICES ARE ENOUGH TO ASSURE OUR SALVATION and if the devil, when we are about to die, makes claims on our souls, we just have to remind him that Mary is responsible for us and he must sort things out with her" (The Secret History of the Jesuits, Paris, 61). (Emphasis mine)

These practices and the such were taught to all Catholic children. But the more extreme actions such as described by "Father" Pemble in the following quote were left to the "holy" men and women who supposedly had reached a perfection we could scarcely hope to attain.

"To beat or flagellate ourselves, and offer each blow as a sacrifice to God through Mary, to carve with a knife the holy name of Mary on our chest: to cover ourselves decently at night so as not to offend the chaste gaze of Mary; to tell the Virgin you would be willing to offer her your place in heaven if she didn't have her own; to wish you had never been born or go to hell if Mary had not been born; to never eat an apple, as Mary had been kept from the mistake of tasting of it" (The Secret History of the Jesuits, Paris, 61).

These degenerate "exercises" and forms of worship were cultivated into licentious and sensual expressions in many Jesuits, some of which are too obscene to mention. One hymn dedicated to the Virgin by Jesuit Jacques Pontanus stated:

"...He [Jacques] knew of nothing more beautiful than Mary's breasts, nothing sweeter than her milk and nothing more delightful than her abdomen" (The Secret History of the Jesuits, Paris, 60).

It's important to understand that the people behind the education were indeed "saturated" themselves with mysticism and so could more effectively pollute the children they were teaching. Many of the Jesuits experienced mystical visions such as Rodrigue de Gois, who:

"...was so enraptured with her [Mary's] inexpressible beauty that he was seen soaring into the air. A novice of this Order, who died in Rome in 1581, was sustained by the Virgin in his fight against the devil's temptations; to strengthen him, she gave him a taste of her Son's blood from time to time and 'the comfort of her breasts' " (The Secret History of the Jesuits, Paris, 60).

Not only are Catholic children taught Mary worship on a regular basis, but in every subject Catholic propaganda is used to better indoctrinate them, making it even more difficult to escape her bonds. The following paragraph was quoted in a concurring opinion by Justices Douglas, Black and Marshall as the Supreme court of the United States, in two cases, June 28, 1971, held by decisions of 8 to 0 and 8 to 1, that State aid to parochial and private schools was unconstitutional.

"In the parochial schools Roman Catholic indoctrination is included in every subject. History, literature, geography, civics, and science are given a Roman Catholic slant. The whole education of the child is filled with propaganda. That, of course, is the very purpose of such schools, the very reason for going to all the work and expense of maintaining a dual school system. Their purpose is not so much to educate, but indoctrinate and train, not to teach Scripture truths and Americanism, but to make loyal Roman Catholics. The children are regimented, and are told what to wear, what to do, and what to think."

As a quick example of this "Catholic slant" let me quote from Christianity in America, The Catholic Social Studies Series, by Rev. Charles J. Mahoney, Ph.D., on page 220, under the title "The Roots of Frontier Democracy":

"This [Democracy] was not a new doctrine; it had been developed in classic form in the Middle Ages by men like St. Thomas Aquinas...The true parents of democracy are the medieval Scholastic philosopher and the American farmer."

This is a blatant lie. Thomas Aquinas never taught democracy...quite the opposite. He believed that anyone who went against the teachings of Rome should be killed...that doesn't sound democratic to me. The Church of Rome is totalitarian and blatantly anti-democratic. Just re-read Pope Pius IX's Syllabus of Errors, which is still binding on all Catholics! One view held by our American government and condemned by Pope Pius IX is that:

"Every man is free to embrace and profess that religion which, guided by the light of reason, he shall consider true."

It is obvious that Catholic children are hearing a corrupt and twisted history. The struggle of Protestantism to be free from the chains of tyranny that Rome tried to enslave all humanity under is lost in the retelling in Catholic books. Why tell the truth as it would shed light on their abominations and atrocities? They were known as the "Home of Forgeries" for seven centuries by the Greeks.

"These forgeries made it seem that his [Pope Gregory VII] absolutist claims were based on ancient records zealously kept in the Rome archives. whenever they [Greeks] tried talking with Rome, the popes brought out forged documents, even papal additions to Council documents, which the Greeks, naturally, had never seen...Many earlier documents were touched up to make them say the opposite of what they said originally" (Vicars of Christ: The Dark Side of the Papacy, Peter De Rosa, 58-59).

If unbiased history were taught, Rome would be exposed as a fraud, therefore she continues to deceive her students with false information, and works zealously to get public funding for this deception.

A most interesting observation is made by Loraine Boettner in his book Roman Catholicism:

"Most of the teaching in the parochial schools is done by the nuns. They teach the children to revere and worship the Virgin Mary and to trust in images and rosaries whether they know anything about faith in Christ or not. All nuns are under solemn vows to promote their religion in every course they teach. They work year in and year out without receiving anything more than their board and keep, and without the personal freedom that every American has the right to enjoy. They are kept in abject poverty, while money flows freely to the priests, bishops, and especially to the Vatican in Rome" (360-361).

It is the heart of Jesuitism to cause all to come under subjection to the Pope, therefore it is to the hierarchy's advantage to have their servants teaching the children to become servants like themselves. I know...I wanted to be a nun throughout all my gradeschool years. Using this kind of mental seduction has caused many young men and women to enter the convent or priesthood only to find themselves ridden with guilt for daring to think for themselves and many end up committing suicide. A friend's sister came home from the convent during the holidays and shot herself. Few knew why.

Many fellow Christians will find it hard to witness to a Catholic because they were "saturated by mysticism" by the same techniques that Hitler used on his youth and on his SS. Yes, it was Jesuit techniques that Hitler so admired,

"...Ecclesiasticism without Christianity, the discipline of a monastic rule, not for God's sake or in order to achieve personal salvation but for the sake of the State and for the greater glory and power of the demagogue turned leader - this was the goal for which the systematic moving of the masses was to lead" (Brave New World Revisited, Huxley, 44-45).

As Hermann Rauschning in 1939 wrote:

"Hitler has a deep respect for the Catholic church and the Jesuit order; not because of their Christian doctrine, but because of the 'machinery' they have elaborated and controlled, their hierarchal system, their extremely clever tactics, their knowledge of human nature and their wise use of human weaknesses in ruling over believers."

These same techniques are used on Democratic children in America to this day! How well our early Founding Fathers of America discerned the dangers of the Jesuits. John Adams, as early as 1816 wrote to his successor Thomas Jefferson:

"I do not like the reappearance of the Jesuits...Shall we not have regular swarms of them here, in as many disguises as only a king of the gypsies can assume, dressed as printers, publishers, writers and schoolmasters? If ever there was a body of men who merited eternal damnation on earth and in hell, it is this Society of Loyola's. Nevertheless, we are compelled by our system of religious toleration to offer them an asylum...." (The Power and Secret of the Jesuits, Rene Fulop-Miller, 390)

Thomas Jefferson replied to his predecessor:

"Like you, I disapprove of the restoration of the Jesuits, for it means a step backwards from light into darkness...." (The Power and Secret of the Jesuits, Rene Fulop-Miller, 390)

And darkness it is. A Catholic parent is pressured to send his/her children to the Catholic school.

"Canon Law 1374 denies freedom of choice to Roman Catholic parents in regards to schools, and say that they must send their children to parochial school under pain of mortal sin unless excused from doing so by the bishop" (Roman Catholicism, Boettner, 358) (Emphasis mine).

In Roman Catholicism, pages 358-359, Boettner points out that parents have no choice, no rights at all as regards teachers, texts, or methods of instruction by Catholic Canon Law 1381:

1. "In all schools the religious training of the young is subject to the authority and inspection of the Catholic Church" (i.e., the priest or bishop) 2. "It is the right and duty of the Bishops to take care that nothing is taught or done against the Faith or sound morals in any school in their territory." 3. "The Bishops have also the right to approve the teachers of religion and the textbooks and further to require that texts be dropped or teachers removed, when the good of religion or morality demands this action."

We entered Catholic school at the request of the priest, who said it was bad enough that we were living in a God-forsaken town (Greentown was primarily Protestant).

"The fact is that the parochial school has been promoted primarily by the priests and bishops as a means of keeping the children of their church separate from Protestant children and from public school influences during their formative years, the better to indoctrinate and control them" (Roman Catholicism, Boettner, 359).

In all the Jesuit's methods of control to form our minds in complete obedience to Rome, they have only one thing to fear... the Word of God. That's why they have worked overtime putting out "new and better" versions. They know from experience of history that the "...word of God is quick, and powerful, and sharper than any two-edged sword, piercing even to the dividing asunder of soul and spirit, and of the joints and marrow, and is a discerner of the thoughts and intents of the heart." (Heb.4:12)

From the moment that Jesus circumcised my heart (Deut.30:6) to hear His Word, the control Catholicism had over me diminished, until it eventually lost all holds. I have escaped Rome, but left behind me are millions like me who were given a Jesuit foundation. If you wish to witness to a Catholic, be prepared for a struggle, for we are in a war, a spiritual war.

"For we wrestle not against flesh and blood, but against principalities, against powers, against the rulers of the darkness of this world, against spiritual wickedness in high places." (Eph.6:12)

These high places are not only the Vatican and her Jesuit army, but also any denomination that has broken with her, yet still retains any of her blasphemous doctrines or practices. Yes, they have their army and use education and indoctrination against our youth, turning church and school into a battleground. Our strength lies in the knowledge that the "...battle is the Lord's...."(I Sam.17:47) and that it is "...not by might, nor by power, but by my spirit, saith the Lord of Hosts." (Zech.4:6)

"For God, who commanded the light to shine out of darkness, hath shined in our hearts, to give the light of the knowledge of the glory of God in the face of Jesus Christ." (2 Cor.4:6)

North Carolina Supreme Court Justice Candidate Claims 'The Beast' Has Infiltrated Every Level Of Society

Rachel Lea Hunter is one of the most endangered species in America: Someone who will make an honest judge.

12 Jun 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Rachel Lea Hunter can't be bribed, bought-off or compromised. She can't be compromised because her heart and soul are in the right place. And with a strong commitment to freedom and justice, she represents one of the most endangered species in America today.

And that lost species, on the verge of utter extinction, is simply classified as someone who will make an honest judge.

In an era in American history where all three branches of government at the federal and state levels have been completely compromised, Hunter's campaign for North Carolina Supreme Court Justice is indeed a breadth of fresh and extremely rare.

Hunter, an attorney fighting the good fight against the neo con warlords, came out strong this week with an article ripping apart fascism entitled The Mark of the Beast.

In the article, Hunter claims the old cronies in government, desperate to hang onto power, are waging an "all out war" to silence her quest to change business as usual in the halls of a corrupted judiciary.

Further, she claims the old guard or what she calls "the beast" has "infiltrated every level of society, attacking anyone or anything that gets in their way with the ruthlessness and cunning of an old Chinese torture called Ling Chi or death by a thousand cuts.

"Those who are desperate to hang onto power are attacking me in much the same way," said Hunter in her recent article, adding "the beast" is trying to attack her character and credibility piece by piece with lie after lie.

"You see. I struck at the very heart of the beast that governs our society, the beast, by whatever name you call it, has infiltrated every level of our society. It has taken over the judicial system. It governs our legislature. It governs our educational system. It controls the mainstream media except it can't quite control the internet at present. The beast knows no party affiliation; it controls both sides of the equation, both Democrats and Republicans.

What's interesting about Hunter is she stands for American conservative values coming originally from inside the Republican, but defecting and denouncing the GOP after she realized corruption had reached treasonous levels.

And since entering the race and trying to buck city hall, she has been attacked "every which way but loose," now having to defend herself against frivolous bar complaints in an attempt by the attack dogs to derail her campaign.

"The beast craves power and control and it cannot tolerate any loss of the same," said Hunter in Part I of a two part article that can be read in its entirety at www.rachelforjustice.com "Every once in awhile, however, the beast lets one person get through the cracks. The individual that succeeds is often marginalized and rendered ineffective

"Thing things will really change if we put Democrats in power? Think again. Oh, they will no doubt begin impeachment in Washington and that would be a good start, but things will not really change in our government and in our society. Most of us are too busy worrying about who is on Survivor, who will win American Idol or the latest pretty white woman that was killed or abducted to pay much attention to what the beast is really doing. The rest of us are pitted against each other in race and class warfare as the beast hopes to keep us distracted and too busy fighting each other so we will not fight back."

Hunter also claims the beast has recently been unleashing its full force against her, trying to prevent her from exposing deep-rooted corruption.

"Why? Because I pose a threat," claims Hunter. "If someone was stupid, but controllable, the beast would have no problem as long as the person had enough smarts to rule on things the way the beast dictates. Stupidity can be allowed. I can't be controlled; the beast can't get to me by normal channels. An issue might arise and I might not decide the case the way the beast wants, so I cannot be allowed to win.

"How is the beast going to stop me? They tried to get me off the ballot and when that effort failed, they filed a frivolous bar complaint. Now they have filed another and undoubtedly they will file more as the election draws near. It is death by a thousand slices.

Hunter feels most Americans feel in their hearts that something is drastically wrong, hoping with every ounce of her heart and soul enough people join forces to stop the beast before it destroys America.

"I'd like to think that if more of us paid attention to what is really going on and made an effort to fight back against the beast, me or someone like me might have a fighting chance," she said. "We might even win. And then we would bring about an American restoration to take back our country from the beast."

Editor's Note: Part I and II of Hunter's article The Mark of the Beast, as well as other writings and campaign information, can be found at her web site at www.rachelforjustice.com

Confession No. 8: Crafty And Duplicitous Jesuits Are Master Deceivers With The Goal To Destroy America

This is the consensus of numerous researchers who claim history has been rewritten in order to protect the true intentions of the Vatican and Jesuits. Today's Sunday Confession recaps the previous seven weeks of studying the real controllers of the New World Order
11 Jun 2006

By Greg Szymanski

In the first seven confessions, unknown history has been presented and people have come forward, trying to retrace the steps and piece together the true story of the Jesuit Order and the Vatican.

With the information presented here every Sunday, the foundation has been adequately laid that the Vatican, through the deceptive Jesuit Order, should not be overlooked when looking for the true spiritual leaders of the New World Order bringing about America's destruction.

The foundation has also been laid, proving that beyond a reasonable doubt, the deceptive Jesuit Order and its New World Order minions have made the Zionists the "scapegoat" for America's demise.

This method of deception has been carefully crafted, leaving a clear path of destruction for the real criminals in the Jesuit Order and the U.S. government simply by deflecting any criticism or knowledge of their active involvement in destroying the liberties and freedom of the American people.

With that said, there still is much to cover about the Jesuit Order, as more than 400 years of lost and stolen history cannot be recovered in seven short weeks. However, this week we shall use Confession No. 8 on the shores of Brushy Creek to recap our first seven sessions, as next week we will embark on two more months of studying the Jesuit Order, concentrating on the numerous countries they have been expelled from and concentrating on their present worldwide organization.

This week, however, we borrow from a most useful web site called Jesuit Love, a web site utilizing the same type of deception in words utilized by the Jesuits when they actually as a benign group of priests try to pass off love for hate, peace for war and Jesus for Lucifer.

For those who do not want to spend the time reading over the first "seven confessions" in the Arctic Beacon archives, this web site adequately recaps most of the information presented in a brief and concise manner. It is also suggested that all conclusions made below should be researched by the reader on his own, as connecting the "true dots" is vital for the salvation of your own soul and the salvation of America.

And its content and wording can be used similarly as a lawyer would present his case in closing arguments made to a jury. Here is a summary at Jesuit Love, answering why America should not rule out the Jesuits and the Vatican when looking toward the real enemies controlling the New World Order:

General Statement Concerning the Jesuit Order

For four hundred years the great Jesuit army has been fighting their covert war for absolute control of the world. A masterful army of spies and assassins they have, in the past, been expelled from every country in Europe. They have arranged nearly every war in the last 300 years. They initiated the US Civil War to transform the United States into a Central Controlled tool of their conquest of the world. They have placed Hitler in power, Stalin in power, Mao in power, Pol Pot in Power and many more inquisitionists throughout the world's history.

They now use the United States to perpetrate inquisitions. As they did in Korea and Vietnam as they are doing again with Iraq. The goal is simple and glorious, a one world government, a New World Order with the Pope on the throne and the Jesuit General in control of the Pope and the empire of the world. Secret services such as the CIA, the KGB, MI6 are controlled by them. Presidents are elected and Popes and Presidents are killed by them. They are the army of the Vatican in control of the Vatican. They hide behind secret societies which they control and corporations they own like Microsoft, Bank of America, Lockheed and many more.

This site is dedicated to the glorious achievements of the Jesuit Brotherhood, the Society of Jesus for all to now know.

As previous Jesuit General Tamburini once said "See sir, from this chamber I govern not only Paris but China, not only China but the whole of the world, without anyone knowing how I do it."

The end of the fabricated "Cold War" marked a turning point in the careful fight waged over the last 400 and more years by the Jesuit Brotherhood. The long awaited New World Order is upon us! Absolute control of the world via the Holy Roman Empire (Isis-Horus-Seb) is no longer a secret necessary to maintain. Let the truth be told that the world belongs to the Black Pope.

The Jesuit Brotherhood is now in the phase of consolidation. The ever heretical United States and Canada will soon be the hallow grounds for the inquisition. No less thorough than those of the past under Jesuit servants Hitler, Stalin, Mao and many others. The cleansing will be complete, the protestants will convert or be annihilated. The "Freedoms" will be destroyed as subservience to the Jesuit General is no longer a privilege but a requirement.

The non-believers will be slain for the greater good and greater glory of the Jesuit controlled Vatican empire. Jesuit controlled actors like Bush ,Gore and others serving the Order.

Achievements of the Jesuit Order

- Make lending of money on interest a noble occupation.*
- Place Jews in positions where fault or blame can be placed in the future.*
- Exterminate heretic leaders and key opponents.*
- Arrange for puppet leaders like Hitler, Mao, Stalin to extend the inquisition.*
- Arrange for the slaughter of the Indigenous infidels.*
- Institutionalize the Corporation to compete with the individual.*
- Establishment of the Central Government for the United States*
- Establish the United States Federal Reserve Bank*
- Control and facilitate the "Secret Societies" .*
- Centralize inner power by controlling the nations Secret Services*
- Fabricate conflicts such as the Cold War and Terrorism*
- Create artificial events such as 9/11 to manipulate populations*
- Control thinking by controlling Educational, History, Media*
- Maintain a conscript army through economic repression and inquisition.*
- Repress technology and understanding, hide Tesla's - promote the Einstein's!*
- Manage the health of the populous.*

Jews and the Jesuits

The Jews have long been a of whipping dog of the Jesuit controlled Vatican. As the killers of Jesus time and again they have been made to suffer and more so as a competitor to Christianity!

Among their ranks of any group are always individuals recognizing their true worth as the lap dogs of their Jesuit masters. The use of secret societies facility the identification of suitable individuals. These individuals for example selected Jews often serve the Brotherhood of Jesus quite well.

Of course, they are entirely disposable. Karl Marx was one such lap dog that served the orders purposes. Communism is a form of our own Catholic totalitarian rule. The communist lands have well facilitated the good slaughter of the heretic Christian infidels (the Non-Catholics). In other words the communist / totalitarian worlds facilitate the continuation of the great Catholic Inquisition so necessary to the cultivation of one world Catholicism.

Wars and the Jesuits

Countless are the wars arranged for the resurrection of the Jesuit Holy Roman Empire. For Isis for Horus and for seb the trinity. For the greater glory of the Jesuit Vatican and the Jesuit General the Black Pope the true ruler of the world.

WWI - Split heretic protestant Ireland from the rest of Britain. Lead to the further concentration of ownership of the United States and Britain. Begin the inquisitions of Europe anew.

WWII - Finalize the acquisition of Japan. Extermination of the unconvertible heretic gypsy and Jew populations of Europe. Consolidate the takeover of the United states with post war taxation the the formation of the CIA. Establish Mao for the inquisitions of China and consolidation of power through the triads and the secret services. The Chinese are now owned by the Jesuit order. Religious faith is dead to be reborn as the Jesuit Catholicism in the future. Strengthen the grip of Stalin the Jesuit puppet and the subjugation and control of the Soviet Territories. The Russian people are now owned by the Jesuit Brotherhood.

Korea - Begin the Jesuit Orders more formal use of the United States as an instrument of inquisitions.

Vietnam - Eliminated Indigent and heretical Buddhist populations via the United States. The the purge of the Cambodian indigenous heretics followed with the US population conditioned to want nothing more to do with South East Asia..

Bosnia - Kill protestant and Muslim populations, increase U.N. Presence and authority in the world community.

Gulf War - Begin the formal cultivation of the "Terrorist" and anti-American image.

IRAQ - Kill the heretic populations. Cultivate anti-American attitudes around the world and cultivate an army of Muslims for an invasion of the U.S. and thereby slaughtering a population that might otherwise resist Spanish Civil war - 1936 lead by Cardinal Pedro Segura led the Islamic army in slaughtering unfaithful Roman Catholic men, women and children without mercy.

Mexican Civil war - 1914 - 1945 - Killed 1 million Mexican heretics

2nd French Revolution - 1848

Russian Revolution - 1917 - 1922 - Followed by inquisition / purges of the heretics

The Mexican "War of Reform" 1858 - 1861
The American "Civil War" 1861 - 1865
The German-Austrian War 1866
The End of the Japanese Shogunate 1868
The Franco-Prussian War 1870 - 1871
The Dreyfus Affair 1895 - 1906

Terrorism and the Jesuits

Oh the power of the fabrications! Like the Cold War, Terrorism is designed to consolidate power while slaughtering heretics while training a new crop of butchers for the next round of the Jesuit inquisitions. The known abuses in Iraq are only the tip of the iceberg. Many abuses of women and children are well underway. Soldiers are being psychologically brutalized by being told to randomly kill women and children civilians.

The goal of course is to further and further infuriate the Moslem youth and further and further promote a negative image of the United States around the world. Al-Qaida is nothing more than a CIA run operation of the noble Jesuit Brotherhood. Osama Bin Ladin merely a lap dog of the great Jesuit Order doing as instructed.

The involvement of the "Terrorist" in events like 9/11 is only for show, a cover story to motivate the sheep in the United States and Britain. Of course, the individuals who apply to join the ranks of groups like Al-Qaida believe they work for a noble cause with a real enemy. But the only real enemy of the world is the heretic unfaithful to the holy work of the Jesuit Controlled Black Pope and his Vatican. The Moslem is as much a heretic and will just as much come to be owned and destroyed under the Jesuit ideals.

Secret Service and the Jesuits

The brotherhood of Jesus, the Jesuit Society is from inception and by design a covert army of spies and assassins. The Jesuits marvelous success has come in no small part from it's own organization. The Jesuits have applied this "Need to Know" and "Above Top Secret" hierarchical design to the establishment of security services around the world. The good Jesuit Brothers have gaining inside access either through the fabricated "Religious" pretext or through controlling influences within secret societies. The Jesuit victory has come in part from it's high level ownership of the CIA, FBI, MI5, MI6, Mosad, KGB/FSB and many other national security organizations. All these organizations are patterned for their success after the Jesuit order itself!

One of the most notable examples was the Jesuit Nazi SS from whose ranks came many of the early CIA members with good skills in torture and mind manipulation. With the solidification of "Need to Know" privacy in the CIA and with the gradual removal of over site authority and accountability the CIA today stands untouchable and in near full control of the United States. Events such as the JFK assassination and 9/11 demonstrate the agencies facility at perpetrating and managing the backlashes as they occur. In conjunction with the control held over the FBI and the NSA and the Information media future events will continue to occur as planned. The work of FEMA in prepare underground shelters for the privileged and concentration camps for the heretics is equally commendable.

The Secret Services have also managed properties to serve the brotherhood. Such properties include the drug trade and it's equally profitable drug war. Sex slavery is now a more profitable enterprise than drugs and with it the profits from selective law enforcement. All such activities serve to assist the brotherhood in managing the training and dependency of law enforcement services and training from the national level. This facilitates putting distance between the Law Enforcement personnel and the "Citizen".

Just as the Jesuits are not subject to the authority of the Vatican neither are the Secret Services subject to the authority of the country in this they are positioned. With the CIA for example the "Above Top Secret" , "Need to Know" and "Plausible Deniability" rationales put the CIA above and independent of the President and the Congress.

Puppets and the Jesuits

The Brotherhood has gained systematic control of the United States over the last 150 years. Theodore Roosevelt, Franklin Roosevelt, Harry Truman, Nixon, Carter, Clinton and the Bushes have all been the orders useful lap dogs. With the wealth of the Federal Reserve, Stalin was successfully raised to power. The "Communist" purchase of the Russian Orthodox was very successful. Hitler was another such pawn who served the order well. Pol Pot, Mao, many others.

The collective death toll of heretics via "Communism or other Jesuit facilitators:

USSR: 20 million deaths

China: 65 million deaths

Vietnam: 1 million deaths

North Korea: 2 million deaths

Cambodia: 2 million deaths

Eastern Europe: 1 million deaths

Afghanistan: 1.5 million deaths Africa: 1.7 million deaths

Latin America: .25 million deaths

Mexico: 1 million deaths

Cold War and the Jesuits

The cold war served the order in many wonderful ways. At the end of the 2nd world war China and Russia were only slightly more advanced than they would have been in the 1800's! The Russia heretical orthodox had been enduring the brotherhoods inquisition under the lap dog Stalin. China was just beginning the cleansing and reforming inquisition of the Buddhist / Taoist heretics via lap dog Mao. Neither country was capable of opposing the United States. For the purges to go unopposed the people of the United States needed to believe that it could not interfere in the internal politics of these countries without a global nuclear war resulting. With this pretext and the brotherhoods control of the media (including the new media of television) this was not difficult to do. Providing the nuclear technology to the Soviets was a key initial tactic and at the appropriate time the Chinese were provided the technology as well. This made them viable threats to the public and the established heretical elements in the military but in reality both countries were well under Jesuit control via their Secret Services.

The cold war provided additional revenue through the "military / industrial" complex owned by the Jesuit Brotherhood. It was a time of intense misdirection against the infidel protestants. The Korean war and Vietnam war allowed the the Americans to slaughter the heretic Buddhists and indigenous populations under the guise of "fighting communism". The American people were lead to believe they were helping oppose communism. when in reality they were simple slaughtering infidels for the Jesuit order and to it's great satisfaction!

With the establishment of the CIA by the lap dog Truman gradual deepening of control over American was being finalized. The CIA were initially staffed from Nazi SS mind and body inquisitors trained and cultivated during the 3rd Reich by the Jesuit order. Black is white and white is black is a motto of the high Jesuit Brotherhood. What the people are told is far from what is really happening.

Promotion of equality, animal rights and the environment helped to facilitate an expanded influence of the top down government against the individual states and the heretic population during this period.

Social protests against the Vietnam War helped to create the needed split between the population and the government. It was in this split that the Jesuit servant Nixon could initiate the end of the Gold Standard. Later with Carter the clear independent authority of the CIA could be justified.

9/11 and the Jesuits

9/11 is one of the Jesuit Brotherhoods latest achievements! The demolition of the towers was a carefully planned event used for multiple purposes:

- 1. To solidly establish the fabricated "Terrorist" phase just as the fabricated "Cold War" had been established previously with Korea and Berlin.*
- 2. To further concentrate the central government in the United States via the "Patriot Act" and the Office of Homeland security.*
- 3. Via the Iraq aggressions, turn the world towards the Brotherhood controlled United Nations and strongly cultivate an anti-American / anti-British view.*
- 4. To further dilute the number of US troops in the continental United States by driving them off shore for events like Afghanistan and Iraq.*
- 5. To cultivate and train the heretic Muslim youth as a future military force to be used against the United States.*
- 6. To justify the FEMA construction of concentration camps within the United States for the coming inquisition of the heretic nation.*
- 7. To see the United States as a bully yet vulnerable.*

Central Government and the Jesuits

Key in early plans for the New World Order of the Jesuit Vatican army was the conquest of the heretic Protestant America. Essential for this to occur was the great US Civil War. In the post civil war confusion and desperation lay the opportunity for establishing the US Central Government. This was accomplished by the forced introduction of the 14th Amendment. This amendment to the US Constitution reversed the entitlement of the citizen. No longer was an individual a citizen of their state which was in reality an independent country and then a member of the United States. After the 14th amendment the individual was a member of the United States and living in a state within it. With this change of membership came the means of centralized control. Under the early republic model the "United States" as an organization owned nothing and had no entitlements. It was granted by the states necessary funds, manpower and other resources only upon approval by the states. The Central Government which came into existence resulted in a powerful facility for central control and extortion necessary to the great goals of the Jesuit order. With the change of authority came a strong and independent Federal military, a higher authority over state activities via the Supreme Court and the establishment of central government "services" used to maximize control and obligation of the states.

The Central Government once established pursued it's role of subjugating the state authority and the population at large. The Bureau of Land Management and the National Forest Service and Park Service began taking land of the States as a ploy to limit the dispersion of the population.

The Central Government was also used to support the patent system. Patents rarely serve the interest of the inventor.

Controlling Population, Education, Media and the Jesuit Order

Success of the Jesuit Masters required great influence in all aspects of the heretics life. The heretic must be managed physically, emotionally and psychologically. Fortunately most human beings are little more than sheep. They need the strong hand of the good Shepard to protect and guide the flock towards the light. The wolves (heretics) are ever at the door and the sheep can in weakness be mislead. The heretics can in some cases be brought to their senses by force and by redirection. It is with these Interests that the great Jesuit Order has labored for so long.

Yet another great achievement are the ways being taken to accomplish this. Control of the individual requires control of the sources of information and the ways in which information is presented to them. Control of education is one such method used by the Jesuit Order. With a high degree of influence in the educational system and the material published for it you gain control of what is taught and what is forbidden. By setting standards for what is "knowledge" you further that control. This has facilitated directing the academics attention away from the Jesuit perpetration and on irrelevance and fantasy created by the Jesuit Order.

With control of the News Media you further this task. Fabricated Academics when combined with the news media have served the brotherhood remarkably well! No greater example exists than that of the Einstein fabrication. Einstein came about as an effort to take the publics attention from Nikola Tesla and the legitimate practice of science and engineering. Using Einstein fabricated physics a complete misdirection of scientific training could be achieved. The real science in the advanced forms has been available only to a limited few. Einstein is was one of the orders finest lap dogs and a good example of the use of Masonic Jewish Zionist in service of the great Jesuit cause.

A recent example may also help to make this strategy clear. A school teacher asked her students to find the bad and the good that came out of Nazi Germany. The media where instructed to criticize the teacher under the pretext of her wishing to make light of the slaughter of the Jews. (inquisition :->) By attacking her In this way teachers in general are put into fear lest they loose their positions or standing teaching what is not on the official agenda. Fear of acting independently enforce in teachers the need to stick to the books and not to teach or encourage the students to think independently. What is printed in the text books the Jesuit order naturally controls.

The film industry is almost entirely controlled by the Illustrious Jesuit Brotherhood. By the standard ploy and for the heretics consumption the media is presented as being in Jewish control. A number of Jewish Lap Dogs serve this purpose.

Slowly the film industry is presenting the good Catholic and the bad heretic. For example the recent film "The Body" portrays a kind and gentle Jesuit priest is attacked by the Jews. Such portraits of the good priest and the good Catholic (Bells of St. Mary's) are subtle but effective. The protestant and general heretics are increasingly represented in film as they truly are, the degraded and un-chosen, the trailer trash, the criminal element, the undesirable. Of course any hint of exposure would result in a temporary change of presentation to pacify the heretic mind until the New World Order is fully established.

In film, conspiracies are made light of as being simply constructed, easily detected and easily overcome. This continually enforces the idea of conspiracy posing no real threat or being simply a ridiculous idea to being with. Validating and invalidating is an effective tactic. "If such things as conspiracies exist don't worry they are harmless and short lived" this is the idea being conveyed.

Film has also hinted at the divine plan of the Jesuits. Darth Vader of Star Wars is the Black Pope. Fahrenheit 451, Logan's Run, 1984, Start Trek the Borg, Sleeper, etc..

Righteous Jesuit Assassinations

Many are those who have dared to stand against the great Jesuit General and the Great Jesuit cause. But, where are they now? What have they achieved except their own ruination and that of their own lands? How can the unworthy heretic think they can oppose the great Jesuit Order and Organization? The Jesuit brotherhood will destroy the heretics and the indigenous peoples and their wrong beliefs taking from them everything and leaving them stunned, shocked and dismayed. Most heretics will not live past the coming inquisitions nor do they deserve to.

All successful revolutionary activity is started from the top by leadership. Therefore potential leaders must be assassinated as soon as there is the slightest indication of their potential to undermine the Jesuit strategy.

Righteous Jesuit Assassinations

Pope Clement XIV - Suppressed the Jesuit order in 1773 and was assassinated.

JFK - Dared to resist the authority of the Jesuit General and was assassinated.

Abraham Lincoln - Resisted the Jesuits after the Civil War and was assassinated.

Benito Pablo Juarez - Purged Mexico of the Jesuit influence and was assassinated.

Malcolm X - Assassinated for efforts to root out the Masonic influence over the Black Muslims.

Louis T. McFadden - Assassinated for promoting the end of the Federal Reserve.

Che Guevara - Assassinated for resisting the Jesuit subjugation of South America.

General Lafayette, 1799 Aide to Washington Romanism: A Menace to the Nation

"It is my opinion that if the liberties of this country - the United States of America - are destroyed, it will be by the subtlety of the Roman Catholic Jesuit priests, for they are the most crafty, dangerous enemies to civil and religious liberty. They have instigated most of the wars of Europe."

George Washington - Freed the United States from Jesuit control King George III of England. Ended paper money by establishing gold and silver coin which lead the United States out of debt.

Henry Ford - "It is well enough that the people of the nation do not understand our banking and monetary system, for if they did, I believe there would be a revolution before tomorrow morning."

President John Adams - "Shall we not have regular swarms of them here, in as many disguises as only a king of the gypsies can assume, dressed as painters, publishers, writers, and schoolmasters? If ever there was a body of men who merited eternal damnation on Earth and in Hell it is this Society of Loyola's."

Some Jesuit Heroes

The order's illustrious found Ignatius Loyola is documented in the history of the faith. Without this heroes great vision, brilliance and divine calling nothing would have been achieved. The Catholic church would be merely one of the voices representing Jesus rather than the only source of religion speaking to all the peoples of the world for all eternity. This was proven to the Vatican itself after Pope Clement XIV disbanded to Order. The Vatican itself saw the great decline in the interest of the people and of course the lack of revenues that resulted.

Cardinal Spellman - Facilitated the JFK assasination for the Jesuit Brotherhood.

Joseph P. Kennedy - Facilitated the United States great depression for the Jesuits.

Prescott Bush - Facilitated the funding of Hitler for the Jesuit cause.

Captain Edward J. Smith - Captain of the Titanic and Jesuit Priest.

J. Edgar Hoover - Director of the United States FBI

Colonell House - Jesuit Priest and puppeteer of Woodrow Wilson.

Fidel Castro - Jesuit trained inquisitionist in control of Cuba

General Porfirio Diaz - Reversed the heretical treason of Benito Juarez and restored the great Jesuit repression of Mexico 1876-1911. In 1914 the 2nd cleansing of Mexico was arranged by the Jesuit General while the world was focused on WWI. The cleansing lasted 30 years and killed more than a million Mexican heretics.

Emperor Meiji - Ruled Japan for the Jesuit Order seeing to it's ingraining in the society. The Jesuits had already destroyed the Samurai

James Buchanan - A staunch opponent of the brotherhood until he was poisoned by the Jesuit brothers. 38 of his colleagues died but Buchanan lived long enough to ignite the American Civil war.

President Bill Clinton - Graduate of Jesuit Georgetown University. Among other achievement Clinton took the nuclear launch keys away from naval commanders. This renders the United States incapable of a sea based retaliatory strike.

Black Pope and the Jesuit Order

Under General Kolvenbach impressive leadership the twin towers of the world trade center where successfully destroyed in the 9/11 fabrication! The "Terrorist" fabrication has successful momentum. The day of the slaughter of the heretical United States, Canada and Australia is gracefully approaching. The growth of the heretical Moslem armies will facilitate the slaughter of the East Indian Infidels. The Hindu and Moslem populations will be purged from the earth. The orders control of the despotic Muslim leadership around the world (via the Jesuit controlled Islamic Masonic Order) guarantees an invading army to support the destruction of the North Americans.

The nuclear Weapons are planted in the appropriate places to facilitate the destruction of the "Free Speech", "Free Press", and "Freedom of Belief" heretical countries.

Italian Prosecutor Seeks To Charge 22 CIA Agents With Kidnapping After Protecting Suspected Terrorist From Prosecution
Milan prosecutor sparks renewed interest in three-year-old case covered up by Italian and U.S. Authorities

10 Jun 2006

By Greg Szymanski

An Italian prosecutor is trying to get tough with the U.S. State Department, seeking extradition of 22 CIA agents who protected an Egyptian cleric suspected of terrorism from prosecution, according to reports from a Rome newspaper this week.

Milan prosecutor, Armando Spataro, known for his Mafia investigations, said the agents kidnapped Abu Omar, also known as Hassan Mustafa Osama Nasr, in February 2003 from a Milan street then took him to a U.S. Air Force Base in Aviano.

The CIA agents are then accused of giving Omar safe haven in Cairo after being flown through Germany, according to Italian court documents.

Evidence has now come forward in the three-year-old case, showing complicity by CIA agents to keep the Egyptian from talking to Italian authorities in an effort to keep U.S. involvement in terrorist operations quiet.

Reports from Italy this week said Spataro wants to renew interest in the case and finally "get to the bottom" of Omar's removal from Italy. He also is seeking to have the CIA agents stand trial for kidnapping.

The report coming out of Rome this week added:

"The case has become celebrated in Italy since a judge in Milan issued arrest warrants for the 22 American agents said to have been involved in his disappearance.

"Abu Omar had been granted asylum in Italy but was under investigation by the Italian authorities for terrorist links. He was seized on 17 February 2003 and driven to the US-Italian air base at Aviano, north of Venice, then flown to Cairo via Germany. In 2004 he telephoned his wife and friends in Milan and told them that he had been taken to a secret prison in Egypt and tortured with electric shocks.

"Last year The Washington Post, citing three CIA veterans, claimed the Italian authorities had prior knowledge of the CIA's plan to grab Abu Omar and had approved it. "Both the CIA and the Italian service agreed beforehand that if the unusual operation was to become public, as it has, neither side would confirm its involvement," the paper reported. The report was denied by the Italian government.

The recent plea by the Milan prosecutor seeks to renew interest in a case that has been covered up by Italian and American authorities.

Originally the case broke into the open in December 2004 when Milan Justice Minister Roberto Castelli issued European arrest warrants for the 22 agents, including a demand for all documents related in the case.

Initially prosecutors believe Omar was abducted by the CIA as part of its covert program called 'extraordinary rendition' in which suspected terrorists are removed without court approval to third countries for interrogation .

In 2005, Judge Castelli signed arrest warrants originally for 13 CIA agents that prosecutors say made up the CIA team which carried out the kidnapping. Nine more warrants were issued later in the year.

The Italian government has repeatedly denied any knowledge of the abduction, as critics claim such an operation could not have been carried out without authorities knowing.

A 2005 report in the Italian Corriere della Sera newspaper had this to say about the incident:

"According to Italian investigators, Abu Omar was forced into a van in broad daylight as he walked to the Milan mosque. Either then, or some time later, he was taken to the US air base at Aviano in northern Italy, they believe .

"Prosecutors also say they have found evidence of the cleric being taken to another US base, at Ramstein in Germany, before finally ending up in prison in Cairo .

"He was released in April 2004 and placed under house arrest, at which point he phoned his wife in Italy and said he had been tortured. He is currently reported to be back in prison in Cairo."

"He was released in April 2004 and placed under house arrest, at which point he phoned his wife in Italy and said he had been tortured. He is currently reported to be back in prison in Cairo."

According to other reports surfacing in Italy, The Corriere della Sera newspaper published Abu Omar's photo taken on the Milan street where he was abducted. It said the photo was taken by CIA agents a month before he was seized .

According to the Italian newspaper, the photo was retrieved by Milanese investigators from the computer of Robert Seldon Lady, the CIA chief in Milan until 2003 .

The report went on to say:

"Justice Minister Castelli met his US counterpart, Alberto Gonzales, for the first time in Washington last month (in 2005). The minister said that their talks had touched on a number of extradition cases, but declined to give details .

"The case of Abu Omar, whose full name is Hassan Mustafa Osama Nasr, is sensitive because of its implication that the CIA ignored Italy's national sovereignty .

"It has also risked further straining US-Italian relations after the emotional upheaval of a 'friendly fire' killing of an Italian agent by American troops in Iraq earlier this year .

"A preliminary hearings judge in Milan has also just opened procedures expected to lead to a request by prosecutors for the extradition of Abu Omar himself from Egypt .

"The judge noted that according to press reports he was in the Al Tora jail in Cairo. He said the justice and interior ministry had not yet answered prosecutors requests for official action to verify the imam's presence there.

When The Illuminati Says Look Down, Look Up To Saturn For Radiation Shower That May Kill Billions

The Cassini Project is not fiction, as NASA has spacecraft orbiting the gaseous planet loaded with 72 pounds of plutonium ready to rock the heavens, rearrange the solar system and destroy planet Earth.

9 Jun 2006

By Greg Szymanski

While the enemy within has Americans looking for nuclear and biological attacks coming from Al Qaeda, the real attack may really be coming from a spacecraft now orbiting Saturn.

As out of this world as it sounds, The New World Order NASA minions are "creating a new star using a plutonium bomb" with plans to hit Saturn with such force that the heavens will be rocked and the earth will be showered with radiation, wiping out life as we know it with one wild, magnanimous scientific brush stroke.

Sound outlandish and impossible? Sound like a science fiction movie?

But nothing is out of the realm of possibility for the evil Illuminati since their global plan, documented in numerous writings, include wiping out approximately 80 per cent of the world's population.

And what better way to create a rapture or great chastisement then by blowing up a gas giant like Saturn with 72 pounds of plutonium, create a new star and then heat-up the new star's moon, Titan, making it habitable by 2033 for guess who?

Yes, if you guessed Lucifer's followers, the Illuminati, then you guessed right.

And if you wondered if the project really exists then you guessed right again since it exists under the name of NASA's Cassini Project. To make matters even worse, the name Cassini is taken from a Jesuit-trained Italian astronomer named Cassini, giving researchers and historians another clue as to who really are the spiritual controllers of the New World Order.

Further, the project has been named the Lucifer Project since the intent of those behind it is to name the new star created from the plutonium explosion on Saturn, Lucifer. Also, an article at www.rinf.com without an author's name attached asked, "Why is creating a star from one of our gaseous giants commonly known as the "Lucifer Project"?"

The potential star's name was first dubbed "Lucifer" by A.C. Clarke in his novel "2010". Lucifer is less of an actual deity and more of a concept representative of several ideas here. Lucifer, literally "light-bearer", represents rebellion, claiming god-ship, bringing enlightenment, and mastering knowledge. Lucifer is a symbol of casting off the overlord and trusting the light from within, the concept of breaking out of the subservient shell of "God's dominion" and claiming the universe as one's own to conquer. 20 21

In general, the Luciferian message could be:

"I am tired of worshipping a fairy-tale 'God' and leaving the future to the whim of idiots and fanatics. I will take the reins of the world into my own hands and guide it as I wish, as I may, as other will allow me to. I will set myself as a god. With the advantage of superior knowledge and the latest technology at my fingertips, I will rule as I see just. You may claim godship also and join me, or try to create the world in your own image. All you need to do is realize that you are also worthy and then attain the knowledge I have gained. If you will not realize and accept that you are a godlike creator then I have no pity for you and I will continue to dominate you until you come into the light."

As related to a Saturn Ignition, the message could be: "Let's see if we can ignite something really big, like a planet! Let's see if any 'god' stops us! We will be recognized as gods within our own circles if we succeed!" "Luciferian "spirituality" doesn't rely on stripping man of his nature, but rather embraces his nature and his potential (godhood)." 21

"I [Lucifer] am the flame that burns in every heart of man, and in the core of every star. I am Life, and the giver of Life, yet therefore is the knowledge of me the knowledge of death..." -Aleister Crowley, The Book of the Law. 21

The article then went on to document scientific evidence about NASA's Galileo and Cassini projects from key research by Jacco van der Worp, a Netherlands physicist, and former NASA Consultant, Richard C. Hoagland.

The following is the basis of the Cassini and Galileo missions as presented by RINF.com:

The Cassini spacecraft is currently orbiting Saturn, but is likely to be sent into Saturn July of 2008. This report was written with the assumption that NASA will end Cassini's mission the same way they ended Galileo's by plunging it into the planet. The polar orbits that are currently scheduled allow an impact with Saturn on July 7 and approximately every week thereafter. The Cassini project is to be concluded no sooner than July 1. The Cassini Spacecraft is powered by two different means, its thrust propellant, used for trajectory adjustments, and its main power supply for running instruments. The latter is ²³⁸Pu, or Plutonium-238. This ²³⁸Pu is what is known as a radioisotope, or radioactive isotope, which becomes physically hot from its own radioactive decay. This heat is converted into electricity by a thermoelectric converter. At time of takeoff the spacecraft contained more than 72 lbs. of Plutonium-238 dioxide fuel within (216) 1 inch diameter x 1-1/2 inch long cylindrical pellets. Each pellet has about 1/3 lb. of plutonium dioxide fuel, most of which is plutonium-238 and a small amount being oxygen by mass. In addition, there are some minor amounts of ²³⁸Pu for other heater areas. The pellets are divided into three even groups of 72, each group within one RTG (Radioisotope Thermo-electric Generator).

NASA has crashed a plutonium-carrying RTG into a similar atmosphere before which may have resulted in an explosion the size of Earth's diameter near the equator of Jupiter as observed by many and imaged by Olivier Meeckers of Belgium on October 19, 2003. Space.com carried the story "Mystery Spot on Jupiter Baffles Astronomers." The craft, Galileo, entered into Jupiter near its equator very close to where the "mystery spot" later developed (Diagram A). It is possible that if the explosion were larger or deeper, Jupiter could have reached ignition. The fact remains that a very suspicious bruise appeared on Jupiter 28 days after Galileo made its plunge there. It is important to mention that it is rare for a comet or meteor to impact Jupiter at the equator so it is unlikely this was the cause.

Besides providing scientific facts and mentioning the author of the RINF.com story was first alerted to Cassini by two obscure paragraphs in William Cooper's book, Behold a Pale Horse, the article presents a timeline of events, including speculations and conjecture uncovered about the real purpose of the project:

1945 (July)-- we ignite our first atom bomb

1950 -- a team is assembled to study how this new technology can be used to create a star. Some of the world's best scientists work on it secretly. This group is the "JASON Group" within the "JASON Society", a think tank of geniuses that work full time to solve many major science problems.

1968 - Arthur C. Clarke promotes the "Lucifer Project" in books and movies entitled 2001 and 2010, using Saturn initially, but is later told to use Jupiter. (Once something spectacular occurs in a movie, it takes on a non-real possibility) 1972 - William Cooper sees or hears of the "Lucifer Project" during his time with the U.S. Naval Intelligence Briefing Team. 1983 - An unnamed craft or "lost" craft is secretly sent on a course to nudge a comet currently on a near collision course with Jupiter to a direct collision course with Jupiter. 1989 - Galileo is launched with two secret missions: 1) Collect information about the interior of gas giants using data from an upcoming comet collision with Jupiter (SL-9). 2) Impact Jupiter to ignite it, or if that fails, to collect more information about the interior by igniting as far beneath the atmosphere as possible, thereby bringing the interior to the surface. 1990 - William Cooper exposes the reality of the "Lucifer Project" in his book "Behold, A Pale Horse". 1991 - Galileo's main antenna supposedly deploys incorrectly. In reality, the antenna is fine and is being used to send the prime data to a few elite "higher-ups".

1994 - Someone "in the know" helps Shoemaker spot the comet and the proper viewing is set up with Hubble and Galileo, etc. The high quality Galileo-SL-9 imagery and data is kept from the general public. 1994 - Data collected from the SL-9 collision is used to tweak the specifications of the Cassini RTG setup in order to improve the odds of a Saturn ignition.

1997 - Shoemaker is killed in a car crash in Australia. I am not aware of any evidence of foul play. 1997 - Cassini is launched for Saturn with a tremendous load of Pu-238 dioxide (72 lbs!), many times the amount actually needed to run the craft's instruments. 2003 - NASA scientists decide to plunge Galileo into Jupiter after claiming there is no other logical option after initially implying that the craft would be sent to deep space, crashed into a moon, or left in orbit. 2003 (July) Geographer, J.C. Goliathan publishes a report stating that a nuclear reaction is slightly possible if Galileo goes into Jupiter. 25 2003 (early Sept) Physicist, Jacco van der Worp publishes a report warning of what could happen if Galileo plunges into Jupiter citing Goliathan's report and actually crunching the numbers to prove it. Jacco sites the low probability, but believes the risk is high enough to warrant a warning.

2003 (Sept. 21) Galileo dives into Jupiter at the equator. As was likely expected, nothing happens. Then 4 weeks later: 2003 (Oct. 19) Olivier Meeckers images a "mystery spot" the size of Earth with a streak trailing away near the equator of Jupiter. All other professional telescopes ignore the spot! 2003 (late Oct.) Richard C. Hoagland publishes a report detailing the entire amazing scenario showing that the "mystery spot" is most likely Galileo's plutonium that had drifted down 700 miles into Jupiter at 1 mph for most of the trip! 2004 - Cassini arrives at Saturn to study the system. The start of attempt #2. 2005 (early) - Cassini-launched Huygens probe studies Titan in depth revealing its primordial earthlike attributes.

2008 (early July to late July) - Cassini plunges into a polar region of Saturn in order to increase acceleration of gravity before impact (Saturn is very oblate). This will give the pellets a head start and a much greater penetration depth than if the equator were used. Also the polar region is less likely to have a storm brewing. A few days later, or maybe weeks later, the plutonium pellets reach crush depth and implode 15-25% of the way to the center of Saturn and igniting it entirely into a star. NASA does not have to officially deny responsibility because the question is never asked of them "Did Cassini cause this?" just as they were never questioned about the mystery Jupiter spot at the point where Galileo went in. The trick has been all along how to get the pellets in deep enough for a significant disturbance to occur. Saturn allows this with much less density than Jupiter and less of a radius to start with especially going into Saturn at its pole where the radius is 10% less than Saturn at the equator. Jupiter may have been a hopeful first try and more of a test or precursor to Saturn. Even A.C. Clarke and Stanley Kubrick originally envisioned Saturn as the best candidate. Another thing to note is that a Saturn ignition is much safer for Earth than a Jupiter ignition as far as ejecta disturbing our atmosphere. The amount of ionized hydrogen that reaches us from Saturn will be a fraction of that from a Jupiter ignition, but still risky. I estimate the mass of ionized hydrogen intercepted by the Earth to average .015 kg/m²/day for every square meter of the Earth for about two weeks and traveling at high speeds. During the last couple days heavier elements will reach the Earth in smaller quantities. 2008 (late July) - The new star is named, possibly Lucifer, or a derivative of that. The "sign from the heavens" is used to ordain a great world leader, or a leader who had just taken power prior to the event.

2008 (Jul/Aug/Sept) - After a few weeks of 24/7 talk of the implications, causes, effects, etc. of the new star, Earth begins to get showered with the ejecta from Saturn. The shower lasts 2 to 3 weeks and includes some heavier elements towards the end. This directly or indirectly kills millions of people and animals on Earth - a great boost for population control. Those "in the know" hide out in underground cities and bunkers for several weeks to several months until Earth's ozone shell has recovered. 2009 - The new world reality sets in. After coping with the effects of the event, the survivors find that having a second sun is novel. Earth is completely changed, all infrastructures, political structures, and religions are thrust into chaos. The strongest surviving military force soon takes control of the Earth. 2010 - A call goes up to investigate and explore the new system of Saturn/Titan. 365/24/7 time and unlimited resources go into the new international venture. Terra-forming plans start on a grand scale.

2033 - Humans set foot on an earthlike Titan.

Missouri Man Harassed By Corrupt Officials; Arrested For Walking Across Railroad Tracks And Then Charged With Bogus Felony Assault

The charges against political prisoner and former candidate for sheriff, Jeff Weinhaus, have escalated to felony assault, as he also has been held in custody for 13 days for psych evaluation, being called delusional by local judge for questioning authority.

8 Jun 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Jeff Weinhaus was literally "railroaded" by corrupt officials when he was charged with trespassing for merely walking over the railroad tracks in the small Missouri town of about 8,000 he calls home.

And with bogus charges being leveled against this innocent American, he becomes a perfect example of the fascist American military system "gone hog wild," as well as becoming another in growing list of political prisoners in the American gulag system.

While innocent citizens are being nailed left and right in all parts of the country for harmless things like speaking out at city council meetings, putting up anti-Bush posters and talking against the illegal Iraqi War, Weinhaus now joins the list of imprisoned Americans for simply walking across railroad tracks.

And in the shocking case of Weinhaus, who ran for sheriff on the ticket of "justice for all and not 'just us,' the railroad trespassing charge was just the beginning of his problems that have now escalated from a misdemeanor to a serious felony.

Not only was Weinhaus fingered for a bogus crossing the railroad tracks trespassing charge, but the local activist trying to clean-up corruption was then beat-up and manhandled by police after being handcuffed to a chair at police headquarters.

But instead of out-of-control officers being nailed for abuse of authority, they turned the tables on him, lying about the incident and charging him with felony assault.

And to add injury to insult at a recent May hearing on the charges, Weinhaus was ordered to take a state sponsored psych evaluation where he then spent 13 days in custody, the judge claiming he was delusional for saying America was "turning into a police state at the hands of the New World Order."

"I am pretty well known in my town for trying to make people aware of how they are losing their rights," said Weinhaus Wednesday on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal. "I ran for sheriff and then for alderman and I am positive the election was stolen from me by the Masons in this town. It's either their way or no way and I am living proof of that.

"I was walking across the railroad tracks with my two children when I was arrested for trespassing. The at the station after I was talking to the officers and handcuffed to a chair, I was assaulted by them, punched in the face four times, thrown to the floor and then taken to the hospital.

"Although I never laid a hand on the officers, later I found out I was charged with felony assault. I am now facing felony charges and it is related to my activism, as well as running on a ticket for sheriff that seeks justice for all not 'just us.' I've also spent 13 days in custody for a psych evaluation and they have shut down my web site as well as turning my wife against me.

"But this is how the military state of America operates now and it is going to get worse. Look at what happened to me and that is why I want to speak and warn others if we don't stop the fascism now, what happened to me is going to happen to hundreds of thousands of others across the country."

Weinhaus began his activism about 10 years ago when he realized before many of his peers that something was going terribly wrong in America.

Being the type that takes action, he started a small newspaper called The Bulletin where he began exposing local corruption in Illinois and Missouri. From publishing, Weinhaus turned his attention to running for office, first for sheriff and then alderman, but losing both times in what he calls "fixed elections."

Since being charged on a felony, Weinhaus remains working for his family's auto salvage business, but refused to bow down or be silenced by corrupt officials.

"The American people need to get off their duffs and take back their country, starting at the local level," said Weinhaus. "it doesn't take as much as most people think. For example, in my community there are about 60 people controlling everything. We simply need to replace this corrupted authority with good people, but we can't wait any longer or we will lose the country.

"We are now in a military state and I am living proof. Look what they have done, but I will never be silenced. If God is on my side, then I know I can never be harmed.

Since being released from custody, Weinhaus has had his web site dismantled and his next court appearance on the felony assault charge is scheduled for June 22.

He is presently looking for a patriot lawyer to assist him in his legal affairs and he can be contacted at bulletinman@hotmail.com

Ohio Judge Jails Baumgartner For 45 Days For Contempt Of Court

Caught in a corrupt legal matrix, Ohio attorney jailed again, adding to the 244 days already spent behind bars for bogus charges. Observers claim truthseeking lawyer is another political prisoner in the American gulag system.

7 Jun 2006

By Greg Szymanski

An Ohio attorney fighting massive corruption in the state that fraudulently put George W. Bush in the White House was jailed last Thursday for 45 days on contempt of court charges.

Elsebeth Baumgartner arrived in the Erie County courthouse last week for a felony trial appearance, but left in shackles after a private meeting in Judge David Knepper's chambers, being charged with contempt as well as being ordered to submit to her third psychiatric evaluation.

As outrageous as it sounds, Baumgartner faces a total of more than 109 years in jail on other felony charges stemming from speaking out about corruption at a city council meeting, including emailing a high ranking Ohio judge and running a controversial web site accusing high ranking Ohio officials with serious crimes.

Observers who have been following Baumgartner's case said it sadly illustrates just how far down the fascist road America has gone in a relatively short period of time, especially since 9/11.

Angela Caputo, a close friend of Baumgartner, said the respected Ohio attorney is being held and muzzled by high-ranking state officials due to the sensitivity of Baumgartner's allegation first made public two years ago at a Cuyahoga County city council meeting.

Baumgartner's strong allegations of wrongdoing, including judicial misconduct and drug running by a top Cuyahoga Country prosecutor, led to an attack on Baumgartner's personal liberties as officials twisted the law to keep the allegations from the public.

"My first amendment rights have been violated and officials twisted the law to keep me in a legal matrix," said Baumgartner prior to being jailed two weeks ago on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal.

Baumgartner's story provides a sad glimpse at the clamp down of freedoms in America, as she has already spent more than 244 days in jail, including 10 days "locked in a hole" without right to counsel, clergy or even phone calls.

The Arctic Beacon has covered the story extensively because of its importance as media outlets have ignored the case especially in Cleveland where the press, Baumgartner claims, is complicit in covering up for crooked politicians.

In earlier Arctic Beacon stories, Baumgartner, who graduated first in her class from the University of Toledo Law School, said: "I was essentially put in a hole for 10 days and held incommunicado as a domestic terrorist. I wasn't allowed legal counsel, the right to clergy and even the opportunity to make a phone call."

Regarding Baumgartner's recent jailing, Caputo said she recently spoke with her husband, saying Baumgartner is planning to release a statement, as visitors have been limited to only close family members.

"Her husband told me that last Thursday she arrived for her trial in a related felony trumped up by the state regarding fleeing in a stolen vehicle, which actually never took place," said Caputo. "Elsebeth was called into the judge's chambers before the hearing began and then exited in shackles and taken into custody.

"We also have learned that the subpoenas she tried to issue to prove her innocence were actually denied prior to the June 1 hearing, as the dates of denial from the court were stamped May 31, depriving her of her due process rights. I am trying to get into to see Elsebeth and then have her release a statement. This whole situation is totally outrageous and shows how far down the road to fascism we have gotten in this country.

And if anyone thinks Americans don't already have two feet buried deep into the mud of fascism, pay close attention to how and why Baumgartner was originally jailed for 234 days on a misdemeanor charge.

"I basically was jailed for standing up and speaking at a city council meeting," said Baumgartner about the night in 2001 leading to arrest five days later on technical charges of Falsification.

The charges stemmed from statements she made questioning a huge ferry boat contract awarded to an Ohio businessman, citing affidavits from some of her clients alleging the boats were being used for illegal drug running with full knowledge of state politicians, law enforcement and federal officials.

Further, she questioned the legality of awarding the lucrative Lake Erie contract since it amounted to nothing more than "a political favor" as another company was overlooked who was more competent and provided the same ferry boat service for less money.

"All I did was speak out and use my right as a citizen to question our government," said Baumgartner, adding that she must have struck a nerve that night, leading to corruption at the highest levels of Washington, as well as the Ohio Governor, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and the Ohio Attorney General.

Baumgartner said five days after the city council meeting she was arrested, the state twisted the law to say she falsified statements at an official public hearing.

However, legal observers say the technical law used in her "illegal arrest and incarceration" was never intended for mere statements made at open forum city council, but rather the Falsification misdemeanor law was intended for official government hearings when witnesses are placed under oath.

"They just twisted the law and I was jailed," said Baumgartner. "As a lawyer, respected in my community, I never thought this could happen in America, but I am living proof it can and it's not over yet."

According to Researcher Jared Israel, Vatican And Hitler Worked Together Although the Vatican openly claims Nazism was the antithesis of the Catholic Church, strong evidence claims it was nothing but double talk. Most Italians are wise to the Vatican's lying ways, saying La vita e' una fregatura. But sadly most Americans remain in the dark due to infiltrated media.

By Greg Szymanski

The hypocrisy and outright lies coming from the Vatican are enough to make you want to spit on St. Peter's Square while saying in Italian "La vita e' una fregatura!"

The English translation and real meaning of these words cannot be made literally, as it takes an understanding of the Italian culture to fully comprehend the true meaning. It really means a man's life is literally stolen right before his very eyes by the deceit of the rich and powerful.

In other words, it's a way of saying don't believe a word coming out of the halls of power, including Rome and Washington. It's a way of acknowledging, the common man is wise to the dirty tricks of the elite even if it appears there is nothing that can be done about it.

Although the Italians have fallen to Illuminati and Vatican double talk, at least most of the commoners know the truth as more than 60 per cent of the money earned in Italy remains under the table in an outward sign of defiance.

But here in America it's a different story, most people blindly following the government's lead, following the lead of a corrupted U.S. government firmly in the pocket of the Vatican and without question taking its Illuminati marching orders from Rome.

And to fully understand how Americans are being duped requires a thorough reading of the Bible as well as thorough look at history. Although too vast a subject to cover completely in this short article, the only way to defeat a gigantic beast like the Vatican is to devour it one small bite at a time, of course, devouring it before it devours you.

With that in mind, it is best to look at an article provided by Jared Israel posted April 22, 2005, entitled Did the Catholic Church help German Nazism? The article is a must read, especially for people who espouse solely to the proposition that Zionism is at the root of the New World Order.

Although the Vatican openly claims Nazism was the antithesis of the Catholic Church, according to Israel's article evidence shows that:

A) The Catholic Church hierarchy - especially Eugenio Pacelli, before and after he became Pope Pius XII

- aided the Nazis. Indeed, Pacelli and the Church played a central role in making Hitler the dictator of Germany.

B) The Catholic Church was active in Nazi movements outside Germany, especially in the Baltic region and in the Balkans, where the Church helped run the Nazi puppet State of Croatia. After the war, the Vatican sheltered Croatian Nazi war criminals.

C) Although at Yad Vashem, Pope John Paul II described the Nazis as having "a Godless ideology," this is not how the Nazis presented themselves or how the Catholic Church described the Nazis when they were in power.

The German Catholic Church's Centre Party (Zentrum) did clash with the Nazis in the 1920s, but as Hitler wrote (see quote below) their quarrel was over politics, not Catholic religious teachings, let alone belief in god. I can find no record from the period of Nazi rule of the Catholic Church attacking the Nazis as atheists, perhaps because they weren't. The Nazis themselves claimed they were fighting against atheism, specifically Bolshevik atheism, which they charged was a Jewish-created movement. In attacking the Jews, the Nazis routinely employed Christian symbolism and traditional Christian antisemitic arguments, with which Europeans were familiar.

On 23 March 1933, the Nazi government put forward the Enabling act, which would allow Hitler to create new laws without parliamentary approval. This was after the Nazi-staged Reichstag fire; after the banning of the huge Communist party and subsequent arrest of thousands of communists and other anti-Nazis; and amidst a campaign of violent antisemitism. To become law, the Enabling act needed a 2/3 parliamentary vote. Before the vote, Hitler addressed the Reichstag (parliament) saying:

"While the Government is determined to carry through the political and moral purging of our public life, it is creating and insuring prerequisites for a truly religious life. The Government sees in both [Catholic and Protestant] Christian confessions the most important factors for the maintenance of our folkdom. It will respect agreements concluded between them and the States. However, it respects that its work will meet with a similar appreciation. The Government will treat all other denominations with equal objective justice. It can never condone, though, that belonging to a certain denomination or to a certain race might be regarded as a license to commit or tolerate crimes. The Government will devote its care to the sincere living together of Church and State." (My emphasis - Jared Israel)--- <http://tinyurl.com/g8gh3>

The Social Democrats fiercely opposed the Enabling act. Hitler needed a 2/3 majority, so the balance lay with Zentrum, the Catholic Center Party. Zentrum leader Monsignor Ludwig Kaas, a close friend and advisor to Eugenio Pacelli, the future Pope Pius XII, addressed the Reichstag. Far from attacking the Enabling act, or disputing Hitler's claim that Nazism was based on Christianity, Kaas called for a 'yes' vote. The Zentrum faction did vote 'yes,' and the act became law. According to National Catholic Reporter correspondent John Allen, a liberal Catholic and student of Vatican history (he has written a biography of Joseph Ratzinger):

In order to fully understand the double talk coming out Rome before, during and after World War II, the following article and photo montage are provided by Israel who encourages readers to pass on the link so others can absorb portions of history purposefully kept from Americans.

According to Israel, "The Pictures Accuse: The Catholic Church and Nazism in Germany and Croatia."

Ohio Attorney Jailed Again From Charges Stemming From Speaking Out At A City Council Meeting

Elsebeth Baumgartner hauled off to the Erie County jail last week, as close friend provides sketchy report of the incident.

6 Jun 2006

By Greg Szymanski

An Ohio attorney facing 66 years and six months in jail for speaking out a city council meeting was jailed last Thursday after making a routine court appearance in preparation for her upcoming trial.

Information still remains sketchy as to the exact reason why attorney Elsebeth Baumgartner was hauled away to the the Erie County jail, but sources close to the case say it's nothing but "political pay back" for uncovering serious corruption in Cuyahoga County leading all the way to the doorstep of the White House.

As outrageous as it sounds, Baumgartner faces a total of more than 109 years in jail on other felony charges stemming from city council incident, including emailing a high ranking Ohio judge and running a controversial web site accusing high ranking Ohio officials with serious crimes.

"They have twisted the law and essentially taken away my freedom of speech rights," said Baumgartner two weeks ago after appearing on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal.

After Baumgartner was jailed Thursday, she was unavailable for comment, as all phone and email contacts have gone unanswered.

However, close friend and associate, Angela Caputo, provided the following update on her case, saying as of Sunday evening Baumgartner was still being held in the Erie Country essentially as a modern day "political prisoner."

"Elsebeth is in the Erie County jail. Thursday was supposed to be the start of her trial on felony fleeing and eluding in front of Visiting Judge David Knepper,; said Caputo. "I do not have any details yet - just a message from her husband Joe Baumgartner.

"I believe that her knowlege and exposure of the case fixing via visiting judges is the main international scandal that is being contained. Here is a direct quote from Elsebeth's document that was sent to Agent John P. Pearson, USDOJ, and Ted Wasky, FBI Cleveland, with copies to Cuyahoga Judge Nancy McDonald and Erie County Judge Roger Binette on May 17, 2006 which sums it all up:

"My allegations included widespread case fixing via manipulation of special prosecutor and or visiting judge appointments to protect far ranging corrupt activity in Ohio including pay to play and the facilitation of federal grant fraud, insurance fraud and or thefts of public resources including sensitive biotechnologies by Ohio law firms such as Benesch Friedlander, Coplan and Aronoff; (Cleveland) Baumgartner & Oâ Toole (Sheffield Lake); Roetzel and Andress (Akron and Toledo); Murray and Murray (Sandusky) and Spengler Nathanson, and Eastman and Smith (Toledo). Later reports to the USDOJ included allegations of protection of extortion, drug trafficking, weapons running, and various sex crimes including child pornography and other crimes against women and children by compromised prosecutors, judges and law enforcement officers including federal officers, prosecutors and Judges David Katz, Patricia Gaughan and others."

Caputo went on to say:

"I agree and have stated the same conclusion to Elsebeth that you have - her exposure of this truth is the biggest story in America and I believe that it is being suppressed at the highest levels of our fascist government.

"I do not say that lightly. Several months ago, Else discovered her name had been inked to a gateway porn site. I looked at the site and saw that it was actually a political bulletin board with the domain owned by a Russian.

"The site regularly discusses Erie Voices, Elsebeth Baumgartner, and Bryan DuBois in some type of repetitious code. This site has talked about "shooting civilians in Iraq" for months and the story was just finally was reported in MSM. I find it strange that allegedly this tragedy occurred (November 19) only 2-days after John Murtha's speech and confrontation with Jean Schmidt (November 17).

Baumgartner's story provides a sad glimpse at the clamp down of freedoms in America, as she has already spent more than 244 days in jail, including 10 days "locked in a hole" without right to counsel, clergy or even phone calls.

The Arctic Beacon has covered the story extensively because of its importance as media outlets have ignored the case especially in Cleveland where the press, Baumgartner claims, is complicit in covering up for crooked politicians.

In earlier Arctic Beacon stories, Baumgartner, who graduated first in her class from the University of Toledo Law School, said:

"I was essentially put in a hole for 10 days and held incommunicado as a domestic terrorist," said Baumgartner. "I wasn't allowed legal counsel, the right to clergy and even the opportunity to make a phone call."

And if anyone thinks Americans don't already have two feet buried deep into the mud of fascism, pay close attention to how and why Baumgartner was originally jailed for 234 days on a misdemeanor charge.

"I basically was jailed for standing up and speaking at a city council meeting," said Baumgartner about the night in 2001 leading to arrest five days later on technical charges of Falsification.

The charges stemmed from statements she made questioning a huge ferry boat contract awarded to an Ohio businessman, citing affidavits from some of her clients alleging the boats were being used for illegal drug running with full knowledge of state politicians, law enforcement and federal officials.

Further, she questioned the legality of awarding the lucrative Lake Erie contract since it amounted to nothing more than "a political favor" as another company was overlooked who was more competent and provided the same ferry boat service for less money.

"All I did was speak out and use my right as a citizen to question our government," said Baumgartner, adding that she must have struck a nerve that night, leading to corruption at the highest levels of Washington, as well as the Ohio Governor, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and the Ohio Attorney General.

Baumgartner said five days after the city council meeting she was arrested, the state twisted the law to say she falsified statements at an official public hearing.

However, legal observers say the technical law used in her "illegal arrest and incarceration" was never intended for mere statements made at open forum city council, but rather the Falsification misdemeanor law was intended for official government hearings when witnesses are placed under oath.

"They just twisted the law and I was jailed," said Baumgartner. "As a lawyer, respected in my community, I never thought this could happen in America, but I am living proof it can and it's not over yet."

As a bio-tech attorney representing influential clients, Baumgartner's original troubles also began when she notified state and federal authorities about sensitive bio-tech information being hi-jacked, information which could have been used to wage bio-tech warfare against the U.S.

But instead of receiving cooperation from the feds, she claimed any serious investigations were stonewalled, as she became the brunt of harassment and illegal surveillance for reporting the alleged bio-tech misappropriation of information.

Besides the bio-tech and ferry boat matters, Baumgartner also tried to save her local school district $1.5 million involved in a contract scam she uncovered, a scam involving top officials and only the tip of the iceberg, leading to how money may have ended up in the coffers of George W. Bush's 2004 re-election campaign as a for return on political favors.

"I think they wanted to contain the scandal brewing to the state and local levels and this why they came down hard on me," added Baumgartner.

After serving 234 days and then losing her law license, Baumgartner started a web site, deciding to go all out, exposing how she was being "railroaded" and exposing even more state and federal political corruption.

In a recent letter directed to family and friends, Baumgartner tries to explain what's now unfolding in her battle against government corruption:

"A 15 county indictment was issued for me today with a warrant in Cuyahoga County. These charges relate to my alleged intimidation of my former business partner Bryan DuBois and his wife Mandy DuBois related to Erie Voices in Erie County while I resided in Ottawa County. It appears Cuyahoga is trying to boot strap the case to the current case in Cuyahoga in order to keep the case there to complicate my defense and deny me a fair trial. Those of you who have followed the story know that while I was held in the State Mental Hospital, Bryan and Mandy stole Erie Voices from my family and turned it in to a Baumgartner bash and disinformation site.

"When I got out and started aggressively publishing the truth of what happened including the fact that over $35,000 had been misappropriated from us or our company exclusive of equipment and the value of the contents of the website itself; (well over $50,000 invested) the DuBois felt the truth intimidated them.

"It was at this point that the site was shut down by the DuBois at the government's urging in order that all the evidence necessary to my defense, the public good and of their own intimidation of my family and me was not available. This was also the reason for the raid on my home. To obtain all my computer records related to pay to play, and evidence gathered related to the website."

Heavyweights At 9/11 Truth Conference "Swing For Fences" At Weekend Chicago Rally

Professor James Fetzer of 9/11 Scholars For Truth fires up standing room only crowd; Arctic Beacon retracts all previous accusations raised by previous article and some readers, saying Professor Steve Jones from BYU "is the real deal."

5 Jun 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The Chicago 9/11 conference was in full swing over the weekend with heavyweights of the truth movement "swinging for the fences" as speaker after speaker provided overwhelming and compelling evidence that 9/11 was an inside government job.

Investigative journalist Pat Shannon, leading internet radio host, Maria Heller and others took the "truth microphone," citing credible facts of a 9/11 cover-up as well as urging Americans from every corner of the country to seek justice for the 3,000 victims needlessly murdered on 9/11.

Also present at the conference were 9/11 truth seeker heavyweights Jim Marrs, Alex Jones, Jesse Richard, Barry Zwicker and Professor James Fetzer from 9/11 Scholars for Truth.

Fetzer and BYU Professor Steven Jones head up a nationwide group of academicians and others who are striving to bring 9/11 truth to the nation's forefront while saying the government is not coming clean about the 9/11 investigation.

Jones, a physics professor, has been instrumental in galvanizing a nationwide truth movement, growing by the thousands every day as conferences like Chicago are springing up all over the country, including other events also sponsored by the 9/11 Scholars for Truth.

Although in the Arctic Beacon and some of its readers questioned Jones' motives since he came from within a conservative BYU environment, the months have proven that his tireless efforts and unconditional support from co-workers and close colleagues that he is without question "the real deal."

As the fruits of one's work are the final denominator in determining credibility, the Arctic Beacon retracts all past accusations made in print about Jones and, at the same time, gives him full support in his honesty and tireless work for trying to get at the truth regarding 9/11.

Representing Jones and 9/11 Scholars for Truth at the Chicago conference, Fetzer spoke to a standing room only crowd, firing up the audience with by telling listeners the government must be held accountable for 9/11. Further activities of the 9/11 Scholars can be found at www.st911.com

Also present at the conference was Carol Brouillet, leading 9/11 activist, creator of the Deception Dollars and maker of the film Behind Every Terrorist There is a Bush.

Another key presentation was made by Ralph Shoenman from www.takingaim.info who spoke about the Capitalist state and underlying politics bringing our country down.

"As usual Ralph got my blood boiling," said Jesse Richard from www.tvnewslies.org who also attended the conference. "The information that he shares about the conduct of our nation when it comes to undermining democracy, bio warfare, disease creation, human guinea pig experimentation and the financial kingpins of the global terror elite (the Carlyle Group, et. al.) simply enrages me! Ralph made a clear case for the need to replace our leadership in a real house cleaning."

Confession No. 7: Researcher from Philippines Provides A Look At Satanic Worshipping In Vatican And Castle Of Darkness In Belgium

According to Bobby G. Limeta, who has researched the Jesuits for 16 years, they seem to "have their dirty hands in everything."

4 Jun 2006

By Greg Szymanski

A Brushy Creek Sunday Confession reader said the chain of command in America reads as follows

Bonesman George W. Bush taking orders from his immediate master CFR Dick Cheney, whose master is Bonesman George H. W. Bush, whose master is Edward Cardinal Egan, whose master is Pope Benedict XVI, whose master is Jesuit Superior General Peter-Hans Kolvenbach---whose master is the Devil.

So this takes us without hesitation right to our subject of discussion in this week's Sunday Confession No. 7 -- satanic worshipping in the "House that Lucifer Built," being the controlled House of the Jesuit Order, the Vatican.

A subject many people shun or are frightened to tackle, the veil of suppression is lifted this week since, according to a growing number of researchers, the Jesuit Order is at the helm of the New World Order, attempting as we speak to destroy America's sovereignty and very existence.

As written in the Arctic Beacon based on eye-witness testimony from an Italian victim, the underground tombs and catacombs of the Vatican provide a perfect cover for evil. Here is what one eye witness described:

While Mass is being said in the Sistine Chapel and tourists are being shown the works of Michelangelo, deep within the bowels of the Vatican sits a large, circular room with 13 separate chambers, each leading to a distinct catacomb.

When a mummified body is placed in front of each doorway, a young child is then brutally sacrificed with a long, golden knife during what is said to be a secret induction ceremony for new members of the Illuminati, better known as the New World Order.

Most people can't imagine such a scene and immediately attack the credibility of the eye-witness and the messenger. In this case, the eye-witness who described the above scene in the bowels of the Vatican can no longer be attacked since she jumped or was pushed to death, falling to cobblestones on St. Peter's Square in the early morning hours in the 1980's.

But her memories and story lives on despite her untimely death as this week researcher and historian Bobby G. Limeta, a freedom fighter from the Philippines, provides two attached PDF files concerning the Jesuit Order and satanic rituals in the Vatican, as well as rituals in the Castle of Darkness in Muno, Belgium.

"I humbly wish to attached herewith Acrobat PDF File (security locked-code protected) concerning the Jesuit Order satanic rituals inside the Vatican," said Limeta, adding that the evil hand of the Jesuits are also destroying his country, the Philippines. "You'll be surprised that Roman Catholic hierarchy are practicing satanic rituals inside the Vatican, the late Pope John Paul II and Pope Benedict XIV (former Cardinal Ratzinger) knew that these satanism is happening inside the Vatican.

"It was revealed by the late Jesuit priest Fr. Malachi Martin. Fr. Martin did not recant anything he wrote in his authored book. I also humbly wish to attached herewith Acrobat PDF File (security locked-code protected) concerning the Jesuit Order's Satanic Rituals inside the Castle of Darkness in Muno, Belgium.

"You'll also surprise that the European Union (EU) members are members of the Illuminati. The Illuminati is a secret society founded by a Jesuit named Adam Weishaupt. The Illuminati is controlled by the Jesuits and the Jesuits are believed to be Illuminati.

"You'll also be surprised that EU is suppressing any information pertaining to Marc Dutroux being associated with the satanic-cult rituals. But the Al-Jazeera News in the Middle East did mention satanism.

Here are the two PDF files provided by Limeta on a taboo subject that is typically suppressed:

JESUIT ORDER - Satanic Ritual Inside Vatican.pdf

JESUIT ORDER - Satanic Ritual Castle Of Darkness.pdf

In an effort to connect the dots in America, Limeta provides the following eye-witness testimony of what is going on behind the scenes in the Philippines, as he presently is seeking entrance into New Zealand for protection against the Jesuits:

"I'm permanently residing in the Philippines and we are thousands of miles away from each other. All I can do, is to provide you authenticated news and up-dates concerning Jesuit operations in the Philippines. God knows as my faithful witness that our country is a Jesuit Republic of the Philippines like Jesuit Republic of South America "Reductions of Paraguay" like that.

"Our government officials and politicians nor military, police, political analysts, elite and rich families and businessmen will quarrel everyday due to political crisis and social agitations and rebellions without seeing the true culprits behind or even the shadows or footprint of the Jesuits.

"Simply, they don't know the real story of the Jesuits. Since 1990 when I become a true Christian, I read the Bible and began seriously looking for the real trouble makers around the world. I started to read world history, buying countless reference books and articles as part of my investment to nourish my spiritual being and mind.

"You'll be surprised my habit every Saturday and Sunday was a continuous 20-hours of reading, analyzing and re-reading for understanding and not for pleasure. For a period of 16-years, I poured my attention, dedication, focus and entire financial resources just to find out the truth. I was stunned and it almost toppled me out of my chair when I finally saw the faces of the Jesuits as being the real problem.

"Throughout 16 years of research, I found whenever events and tragedies occurred, the Jesuits were always there. Soon, I may migrate and live permanently in so called God's territory of New Zealand.

"The New Zealand government already shown their great interest to accept me and live in their country when I was interviewed last year. In fact, the New Zealand immigration personnel told me to leave my country. There, however, I will attack the Jesuits blow by blow."

Cleveland Woman Convicted Of Felony And Sentenced To 60 Days In Jail For Putting Up Anti-Bush Posters

The fascist mindset in America steam rolls over Carol Fisher, 51, who becomes another casualty of the New World Order, as freedom of speech is a thing of the past.

3 Jun 2006

By Greg Szymanski

A 51-year-old Ohio woman was sentenced Friday to 60 days in jail for putting up anti-Bush posters, as another political prisoner falls prey to the fascist mindset controlling America.

Since Carol Fisher's run-in with police on Jan.28, she steadfastly maintained her innocence, saying she was manhandled by police and then railroaded by a politically corrupted judiciary.

Her attorney, Terry Gilbert agreed with his client, adding after a recent pre-sentencing hearing to question Fisher's sanity:

"In more than 30 years of practicing law, I haven't seen anything remotely like this. This is gulag stuff. Is this the kind of country you want to live in when dissidents are determined to be crazy?"

Fisher faced a maximum 3-year prison term on a felonious assault conviction, but claims she was manhandled and assaulted by police who then lied about what happened. Gilbert said Fisher refused to accept a plea bargain, insisting she did nothing wrong and leading to what her attorney and many observers called a "politically motivated kangaroo court" filled with compromised witnesses and a prejudicial judge.

And at the Friday sentencing before Judge Timothy McGinty, observers claimed the political torture and punishment continued, as one activist was thrown out of the courtroom and Fisher was told to take off her anti-Bush tee-shirt, halting the morning hearing.

Eliska Dali, a friend who remained at Fisher's side throughout the ordeal, said Fisher was told point blank by the judge to take off the tee-shirt and to "come back later with your toothbrush" if the shirt was not removed.

This ordeal was politically motivated and even today when we arrived for the sentencing hearing at 10 a. m., Judge McGinty delayed the hearing until 4 p.m., insisting Carol return to court without wearing her anti-Bush tee-shirt," said Dali.

"When we came back at 4 p.m., he let Carol wear the shirt, and tried to say his decision to send her to jail was not politically motivated but was justified because Carol supposedly disrespected law enforcement. Nothing could be farther from the truth since Carol even complied with the police and then was manhandled and assaulted any way.

"This is so totally wrong, but just another indication of how far down the road to fascism we really are in this country."

Dali said Fisher remained strong through the six-month battle with authorities over her free speech rights, adding "right to the very end" she proclaimed her innocence and refused to bow to injustice, wearing her anti-Bush tee-shirt in defiance to the judge's misguided and totalitarian demands.

Previously, Judge McGinty also displayed prejudicial and politically motivated improprieties, according to Gilbert, Fisher's attorney. According to Gilbert Judge McGinty overstepped the bounds of judicial decency when in open court he proclaimed Fisher delusional for her activism and anti-Bush statements.

In an earlier hearing, Fisher refused to submit to a court-ordered psych exam, claiming she was completely sane and it was nothing more than a harassment tactic used by Judge McGinty to get her to apologize in open court.

When Fisher refused, Judge McGinty ordered her to remain in jail and either submit to psych exam or be transferred to a mental institution for a 30-day evaluation.

"I'd be crazy to go along with the psych test," said Fisher three weeks ago, adding she finally submitted to it after spending a day in jail and not wanting to spend another 30 days in a psych ward.

And looking back on the entire Fisher story, starting with the Jan. 28 police brutality incident involving the anti-Bush posters, her case is a stark example of the fascist climate existing in America, an unsettling climate where dissidents are punished and authority figures are allowed to trample on civil rights.

As reported in the Arctic Beacon as well as being a guest on Greg Szymanski's radio show the Investigative Journal, Fisher said she was brutalized by Cleveland Heights police, charged with two counts of felony assault and held incommunicado under police custody in the hospital even after complying with orders not to post the anti-Bush signs.

"The facts show that I was willing to take the posters down as the officer requested. But I was arrested anyway. Yet the prosecution intends to distort the facts and police still promote the lie that I was arrested because I refused to comply, and attacked them," said Fisher.

"The real point here is, there need to be more posters all over the place demanding an end to the Bush Regime! The facts clear and simple: I was wrongly arrested and assaulted for putting up anti-Bush posters. I was further punished for defying them.

"What about my injuries, trauma, intimidation, a threat on my life, being labeled a crazy wildcat, held incommunicado for six hours, forced to undress in front of four male policemen, and now the loss of my job? And most of all, what about the fact that all this happened because I put up a poster calling for active opposition to the Bush Regime!"

And Fisher's run-in with authorities and subsequent illegal incarceration is just another example of the long line of cases piling up across America showing the "real live day to day" lock down on freedom of speech and the use of police as the Gestapo arm of the fascist Bush administration.

"I had set out from my house with a full agenda, to contact lots of people and get out materials about our upcoming Cleveland event to Drown Out the State of the Union address, and the call to march around the White House on Feb. 4th. My first stop was the an area known for its community of artists and progressives, where I stapled up posters for blocks and was greeted warmly by those who saw and appreciated what World Cant Wait is doing. I talked to an artist, and a Palestinian store owner who took fliers to distribute to customers.

"Next stop, to the east side. I drove down a street in Cleveland Heights, another area known for its diversity and progressive history. This street was badly in need of postering too and though i was in a big hurry, I couldn't drive on without getting up a few signs. Before long a cop called from across the street: "Ma'am!

Hundred dollar fine for doing that!" Oh really, since when? Another way of keeping us from getting the word out, eh?

"But not wanting to get arrested, I said ok and put up my staple gun and walked away. But that wasn't the end of it. "Ma'am! Hundred dollar fine unless you take those posters down." He is pursuing me across the street. Damn! OK fine, I say, I will take them down (not wanting to get into a confrontation, because I have lots to do today!) But this too is not enough for the cop. He wants my ID. I say I don't have my ID. He grabs my arm. I say let go of me, I am not doing anything wrong, I will take the posters down. People are watching to see what happens, are outraged but very afraid. The cop won't let go, he clearly wants more grief from me, and he is in the spotlight. He wants people to be scared. He pushes me against a store window and next thing I know I am face down on the sidewalk with two cops on top of me, one with his knee in my back. I am trying to call out to people, to tell them what the posters are about.

"They keep pushing my face into the sidewalk. I can't breathe. I have osteoradionecrosis in my jaw, resulting from radiation treatments for cancer. My jawbone is slowly deteriorating, is very fragile, and doesn't heal well. I am 53 years old, not exactly a spring chicken. A hand comes down again to push my chin against the concrete.

"By this time there are four cops on the scene. My hands are tightly cuffed behind my back. They lift me up and shove me onto a park bench and shackle my legs. I am still calling out, telling people what this is about. One of the cops says to me, "Shut up or I will kill you!", "I am sick of this anti-Bush shit!" "You are definitely going to the psyche ward." Then somebody calls the EMS, and a fire squad shows up.

"The cop supervisor appears and puts his finger in my face: "I don't like it when people treat my men like this and if you don't obey the law you will suffer the consequences." I am lifted into the EMS truck, hands still cuffed behind my back. I ask to make a call and this is refused, but a fireman offers to make a quick call for me. If not for this, no one would have known where I was or what was happening, a fate shared by many immigrants in this country. At the hospital, I am treated as an arch-criminal. Escorted by four policemen, I shuffle into the emergency room, legs still shackled, covered with leaves and mud. I think to myself, if I was Black, I would not have made it this far. I would probably be dead by now."

Researcher And Historian Claims New World Order With Help From Vatican And Jesuits Are Destroying Philippines

Bobby G. Limeta says the same thing is happening in America, but observers claim media and government are protecting the real enemy.

2 Jun 2006

By Greg Szymanski

When it comes to nailing the real enemy in America, the suppression of speech and the free flow of information has become a joke.

And while the fat cats are laughing, the country has become a caldron of confusion, hatred and deception, leaving most good men shaking their heads at all the two-faced, back-stabbing cowards in positions of governmental and media power.

A 90-year-old reader from Blythe, California, who survived Stalin, Mussolini, Churchill, FDR and Hitler, put it well when he said: "I can't even stomach listening or looking at Bush and his corrupt media friends. I felt the same way about Hitler and the same thing is happening here, but Americans are too fat and blind too care or see anything."

So the search for America's real enemy is deflected, side-tracked, derailed and stonewalled by the thousands of New World Order minions, protecting the big shots at the top.

With that in mind, to fight the New World Order, the enemy from within must first be exposed. And according to many good patriots, most of them silenced by the corrupted media, a discussion of the real enemy within, including the Illuminati and Zionists, is totally outrageous and incomplete without including the Vatican and the Jesuit Order.

However, every once in a blue moon a courageous man comes forward who is unafraid of the powerful evil forces protecting the Vatican and Jesuits. And every once in awhile a man steps forward with solid information, helping to connect the dots and helping Americans wade through the crock of horse manure spread out on the air waves and in Washington.

In this case, the man is historian Bobby G. Limeta of the Philippines, who has chronicled, studied and closely observed the Jesuit Order since 1990, saying:

"The Philippines was dilapidated, looted and now an impoverished nation because of the conspiracies made by some elite peoples, priests and nuns that are controlled by the Jesuits. Today, political crisis & intrigues, social agitations, street marches-protests-rallies, and rebellions are very common in the Republic of the Philippines. These arenas are the expertise of the Jesuit Order."

Limeta, who closely monitors the nefarious activities of the so-called God-loving Society of Jesus in the Philippines, warns Americans if the Jesuits would have their dirty hands in destroying his country, they are doing the exact same thing in America.

"I also said it many times on my written articles that no other entities in the world could parallel the diabolic works of the Jesuits," said Limeta, adding Americans are also being conned, duped and sold down the river by the cunning and deceptive Jesuits, hiding behind the cloak of the clergy and their third party governmental and business counterparts in crime.

So if the Jesuits and the Vatican are the spiritual controllers of the New World Order, why have they been given a free-ride in America to do whatever they want without even the slightest bit of attention?

Limeta and other researchers say they are protected by their third party governmental, business and media lackeys, allowing them to operate behind the scenes as the black robes of the clergy provide the perfect cover.

In an effort to expose what Limeta calls the "evil Jesuits," he provides 18 points of reference concerning how the Jesuits actively are destroying the Philippines, saying this gives more than an adequate reason to investigate their activities in America:

Here is Limeta's list concerning The Republic of the Philippines of The Jesuit Order:

1. The two people power EDSA Revolution are the works of the Jesuits. Overthrew two presidents "Ferdinand Marcos & Joseph Estrada.
2. President Gloria Macapagal Arroyo "GMA" is a Jesuit educated at the Jesuit owned Ateneo de Manila and Georgetown University (Fr. Edmund A. Walsh School Of Foreign Service).
3. GMA and Fr. Romeo Intengan (former Jesuit Provincial Superior In The Philippines) are sometimes having secret meetings at the Jesuit House in Quezon City, Manila.
4. Fr. Romeo Intengan is GMA's spiritual and religious adviser.
5. GMA's National Security Adviser Mr. Norberto Gonzales & Fr. Romeo Intengan are the founders of Partido Demokratiko Sosyalista Ng Pilipinas (PDSP) to combat Marcos regime.
6. The Jesuits introduced and brought the Theory of Liberation here in the Philippines. The same theology that havoc Nicaragua by the Sandinista Rebels. Because, of this Liberation Theology, there are now approximately 2,000 priest and nuns who are radicals and secretly supporting and associating themselves to the communist rebels in the Philippines. The same theology that resulted into the establishment of the Communist Party Of The Philippines - New Peoples Army (CPP-NPA) headed by Jose Maria Sison. Followed by the National Democratic Front (NDF) headed by Fr. Luis Jalandoni. Both these men are exiled in Netherlands.
7. Liberation Theology is being teach at the Jesuit owned Ateneo de Manila University under "Curriculum 141 Immersion Program". The reason, many young students become very subversive against the Philippine government. This theology is the result of the creation of various anti-government militant organizations or groups "Communist Ideology."
8. The Jesuits are the real master-minds of the terrorist movement known as the "Light A Fire Movement" during Marcos regime, as per confession by their former obedient follower named Mr. Ed Olaguer. Mr. Olaguer admitted that the Jesuits together with Mr. Norberto Gonzales are the people giving secret directives for planting bombs and arsons in various parts of the country during Marcos regime.
9. Another cohorts of the Jesuits is former president Cory Aquino who allowed Jesuit Fr. Joaquin Bernas to touch and amend our beloved 1987 Philippine constitution. Fr. Joaquin Bernas is Ateneo's Constitutionalist.

10. The Jesuits are the educators of our past, recent and present leaders (Presidents, Senators, Congressman, Businessmen, Rich & Elite Families). Who are controlling the sideshow of Philippine politics and behind them are the Jesuits.

11. Ateneo de Manila University oversees government functions like Georgetown University. This university is the secret meeting place for political agendas where dark motives are planned.

12. Fr. Integan is member of the Transition Government Committee for the smooth transition of President Estrada for the new in-coming president of the republic "GMA".

13. Both GMA and Norberto Gonzales are my pin-pointed Jesuit temporal co-adjutor.

14. Our Supreme Court Justices are members of the Knights Of Columbus. A Jesuit founded society. I call it "Philippine Supreme Court of the Knights Of Columbus by the Jesuit Order.

15. Two former senators and some in secret are members of the Jesuit's arm "Opus Dei".

16. OSS/CIA Agent Col. Severino Santa Romana a.k.a. Reverend Fr. Jose Antonio Diaz (Opus Dei) together with Atty. Ferdinand Marcos who become Philippine President and also one of their associate ex-priest Fr. Marcelino Tagle are the culprits in looting of Philippine gold out of the vaults of the Central Bank Of The Philippines.

17. Marcos friend Spanish-Filipino Mestizo Billionaire Don Enrique Zobel de Ayala, their idea to create a foundation for Marcos ill-gotten wealth. Who was the trustee, it was the Vatican Trust managed by Archbishop Bruno Torpiglianni (Papal Nuncio) and Fr. Alarcon of De La Salle University Jesuit Brothers.

18. Yesterday, former president Joseph Estrada strongly accused that his overthrew legitimate government was done by conspiracy works of the following people. Fidel Ramos - former Philippine President Elite Businessmen Lopez & Ayala Rich Families. Some Military & Police Generals Jaime Cardinal Sin - the late Archbishop of Manila to include Cory Aquino and GMA's husband, Miguel Arroyo.

Hidden Book By Samuel Morse Written In 1835 Gives Important Clues About Real Culprits Behind The New World Order

A look at history quickly warns The Vatican's role in the NWO must be considered just as they were in 1835 when the liberties of America were being threatened.

1 Jun 2006

By Greg Szymanski

A book written in 1835 by Samuel Morse, called Foreign Conspiracy Against the Liberties of the United States, nails the Jesuits and the Vatican right to the wall as the main culprits behind a hidden agenda to overthrow the newly formed American Republic.

The inventor of the Morse Code and true patriot, Morse provided overwhelming facts that an attack on the liberties of America were underway by the despotic Austrian government and other European monarchies, using the Papacy through the evil and wicked hands of the Jesuit Order to organize and carry out the dirty work.

Morse's writings first appeared in installments in the New York Observer and were fully endorsed by James Milner, Thomas De Witt, N. Bangs and Jonathan Going, four top representatives of Protestant denominations, including Episcopal, Presbyterian, Methodist and Baptist.

And before Morse's installments in the Observer were reprinted in the Zion's Herald, a Methodist paper published in Boston, the four religious leaders had this to say about the articles appearing under the pen name of Brutus, written by Morse who had resided for a long time in Italy and Austria.

Gentlemen,-Learning that you are about to publish in a small volume, the articles, signed Brutus, (which recently appeared in the New-York Observer, showing that a conspiracy is formed against the United States by the Papal powers of Europe,) the undersigned, who read those articles with interest, have great satisfaction in expressing their approbation of your undertaking. These articles are written by a gentleman of intelligence and candor, who has resided in the south of Europe, and enjoyed the best opportunities for acquaintance with the topics on which he writes.

While we disapprove of harsh, denunciatory language towards Roman Catholics, their past history, and the fact that they every where act together, as if guided by one mind, admonish us to be jealous of their influence, and to watch with unremitting care all their movements in relation to our free institutions. As this work is now to be published in a portable form, and with additional notes by the author, we hope it may obtain an extensive circulation and a careful perusal.

In an effort to recapture a lost section of American history, listen as Morse draws an important distinction between Protestantism and the Popery as well as holding the Jesuit Order accountable for serious wrongdoings. And if history be our guide, a serious question must also be asked: Why would anything change in modern day America and why is the Popery and the Jesuit Order given a free ride by the secular press, considering their questionable and deceptive past?

Morse writes:

"I EXPOSED in my last chapter the remarkable coincidence of the tenets of Popery with the principles of despotic government, in this respect so opposite to the tenets of Protestantism; Popery, from its very nature, favoring despotism, and Protestantism, from its very nature, favoring liberty. Is it not then perfectly natural that the Austrian government should be active in supporting Catholic missions in this country? Is it not clear that the cause of Popery is the cause of despotism?"

"But there is another most striking and important difference between Popery and Protestantism, in their bearing upon the liberties of the country. No one of the Protestant sects owns any head out of this country, or is governed in any of its concerns by any men or set of men in a foreign land. All ecclesiastical officers are nominated and appointed or removed by the people of the United States. No foreign body has any such union with any sect of Protestants in the United States, as even to advise, much less to control any of its measures. Our Episcopalians appoint their own bishops without consulting the church of England; our Presbyterians are entirely independent of the church of Scotland ; and our Wesleyan Methodists have no ecclesiastical connection with the disciples of Wesley in the old world. But how is it in these respects with the Catholics? The right of appointing to all ecclesiastical offices in this country, as every where else, is in the Pope, (now a mere creature of Austria. He claims the power, as we have seen, by divine right. All the bishops, and all the ecclesiastics down to the most insignificant officer in the church, are from the genius of the system entirely under his control. And he, of course, will appoint none to office but those who will favor the views of Austria. He will require all whom he appoints, to support the agents whom Austria is sending to this country for the accomplishment of her own purposes.

"And who are these agents? They are, for the most part Jesuits, an ecclesiastical order, proverbial through the world for cunning, duplicity, and total want of moral principle; an order so skilled in all the arts of deception that even in Catholic countries, in Italy itself, it became intolerable, and the people required its suppression. They are Jesuits in the pay and employ of a despotic government, who are at work on the ignorance and passions of our community; they are foreigners, who have been schooled in foreign seminaries in the doctrine of passive obedience; they are foreigners under vows of perpetual celibacy, and having, therefore, no deep and permanent interest in this country; they are foreigners, bound by the strong ties of pecuniary interest and ambition, to the service of a foreign despot. Footnote: The foreign Emissaries of Popery rewarded in their own country. This is a matter deserving of serious attention. Where now is Bishop Cheverus, who passed about fourteen years in Boston? He was a foreigner, with no ties to this country, paid for his services by a foreign government, he had a duty to his foreign masters to perform. What that duty was, may now easily be conjectured. Boston, as the capital of New-England, was considered at the time he arrived, the strong hold of Protestant, of Anti-Popish principles. Popery was there, and throughout New-England, held in the greatest abhorrence, for to Popery may be traced, though remotely, yet clearly, the persecutions which drove the Pilgrim fathers to this country The history of those fathers, for ages previous, is but the history of hard fought battles, to wrest from Popish usurpation those invaluable rights, civil and religious, which they fled to this wilderness securely to enjoy. Ere popery then could expect to gain foothold among the descendants of the persecuted Puritans, their almost innate abhorrence to popery must be overcome. What plan could be better devised to accomplish the end, than to send the mild, conciliating, gentle Bishop to demonstrate by his example and his teaching, that Popery was not that monster their fathers had taught them to believe it to be, or at least that now the tyrant had grown mild and tolerant. If this were the design, no plan could have been more successful. Who that has visited Boston, does not know the epithets with which Bishop Cheverus' name is coupled. The good bishop, the liberal bishop, the excellent, pious, tolerant, mild bishop. Now all this might have been and perhaps is true of the bishop. The instrument was well chosen, his duty was well accomplished, and he receives the reward of a faithful servant from his foreign masters, in a translation to the wealthy archbishopric of Bordeaux.

"Again, where is Bishop Dubourg, of New-Orleans? He has resided in this heathen land his stated time, and having accomplished the duty prescribed to him is translated to the Bishopric of Montauban, in France.

"And again, where is Bishop Kelly, of Richmond, Va.? He also sojourns with us until his duties to foreign masters are performed, and then is rewarded by promotion at home to the Bishopric of Waterford and Lismore.

"And where, soon will be that busy, pompous Jesuit, who has been so often announced as passing and re-passing between Rome, Vienna, and the United States, Bishop England? If report speaks truth, he is soon to be rewarded for his services in the cause of his foreign masters with a Cardinal's hat. The following from the Dublin Freeman's Journal, preceded by a nauseous mass of fulsome compliment, gives substance to the report:—"After escorting these ladies (some nuns) to Charleston, Dr. England proceeds without delay as Legate from the Pope to Hayti, over the ecclesiastical affairs of which republic he carries with him from the Holy See the most full and unlimited powers; from which we confidently trust ere long he will again return to Europe, to receive as some reward for all his labors and services, a Cardinal's hat; for instead of receiving dignity from, should such an appointment take place, Dr. England will confer dignity upon the sacred purple."

"Now in view of these instances of services in this country, rewarded by appointments in Europe, the question naturally occurs: What interest have these servants of a foreign despotism in the free institutions of this country? What sympathies with American liberty can these foreigners have, educated, as they have been in their own country, in the principles of despotic institutions, living but temporarily in this country, (whose entire political system is diametrically opposed to their whole education,) and looking forward, after their task is performed, to a recal to comfortable benefices and high places of profit and honor at home, to rewards devised by Austria and the Pope, and meted out to their faithful advocates according to the zeal and devotion manifested to their interests? What would be said of the Episcopalian, or Presbyterian, or Methodist, or Baptist clergy, were they announced as foreigners sent from England, who after a short sojourn of active service in this country, were known to be recalled and promoted in their own country, to be Bishops, and dignified officers under the British government? Is there no danger to our free institutions from a host commanded by such men, whose numbers are constantly increasing by the machinations and funds of Austria?"

"Consider, too, the power which these Jesuits and other Catholic priests possess through the confessional, of knowing the private characters and affairs of all the leading men in the community; the power arising from their right to prescribe the kinds and degrees of penance; and the power arising from the right to refuse absolution to those who do not comply with their commands. Suppose such powers were exercised by the ministers of any other sect, the Episcopalian, the Methodist, the Presbyterian, the Baptist, &c. what an outcry would be raised in the land! And should not the men who possess such powers be jealously watched by all lovers of liberty?"

"Is it possible that these Jesuits can have a sincere attachment to the principles of free institutions? Do not these principles oppose a constant barrier to their exercise of that arbitrary power, which they claim as a divine right, and which they exercise too in all countries where they are dominant? Can it not be perceived, that although they may find it politic for the present to conceal their anti-republican tenets, yet this concealment will be merely temporary, and is only adopted now, the better to lull suspicion? Is it not in accordance with all experience of Popish policy, that Jesuits should encroach by little and little, and persevere till they have attained to plenitude of power. At present they have but one aim in this country, which absorbs all others, and that is to make themselves popular. If they succeed in this we shall then learn, when too late to remedy the evil, that Popery abandons none of its divine rights. The leaders of this sect are disciplined and organized, and have their adherents entirely subservient to their will. Here then is a regular party, a religious sect, ready to throw the weight of its power, as circumstances may require, ready to favor any man, or set of men, who will engage to favor it."

"And to whom do these leaders look for their instructions? Is it to a citizen or body of citizens belonging to this country; is it to a body of men kept in check by the ever jealous eyes of other bodies around them, and by the immediate publicity which must be given to all their doings? No, they are men owning no law on this side of the ocean; they are the Pope and his Consistory of Cardinals, following the plans and instructions of the imperial cabinet of Austria,—plans formed in the secret councils of that cabinet, instructions delivered in secret, according to the modes of despotism, to their obedient officers, and distributed through the well disciplined ranks in this country, to be carried into effect in furtherance of any political designs the Austrian cabinet may think advantageous to its own interests. And will these designs be in favor of liberty? With a party thus formed and disciplined among us, who will venture to say that our elections will not be under the control of a Metternich, and that the appointment of a President of the United States will not be virtually made in the Imperial Cabinet of Vienna, or the Consistory of Cardinals at Rome? Will this be pronounced incredible? It will be the almost certain result of the dominion of Popery in this country."

After listening to Morse's words it is inconceivable how the same parties can be ignored when discussing or searching for the real culprits involved in a similar conspiracy to overthrow the liberties of the American people going on today.

The question must also be asked is there a concerted effort now to hide the true intentions of the Vatican, the Jesuits and their third party governmental and corporate conspirators, together trying to destroy America like they tried to do in the early 1800's?

In order to recapture a part of lost history, here is a synopsis of the major chapters and the prefatory remarks by Morse, which has been purposely kept off of library bookshelves and purposely deleted from most university history classes.

CHAPTER I

The first impressions of the improbability of a Foreign conspiracy considered-Present political condition of Europe favors an enterprise against our institutions-The war of opinions commenced; Despotism against liberty-The vicissitudes of this war-Official declarations of the despotic party against all liberty-Necessity to the triumph of Despotism that American liberty should be destroyed-The kind of attack most likely to be adopted from the nature of the contest-Reasons why our institutions are obnoxious to European governments-Has the attack commenced? Yes! by Austria-Through a Society called the St. Leopold Foundation-Ostensibly religious in its design.

CHAPTER II

Political character of the Austrian government-The old avowed enemy of Protestant liberty-Character of the people of Austria, slaves-Character of Prince Metternich, the arch contriver of plans to stifle liberty-These enemies of all liberty suddenly anxious for the civil and religious liberty of the United States-The absurdity of their ostensible design exposed-The avowed objects of Austria in the Leopold Foundation-Popery the instrument to act upon our institutions.

CHAPTER III

Popery in its political not its religious character the object of the present examination-The fitness of the instrument to accomplish the political designs of despotism-The principles of a Despotic and a Free government briefly contrasted-Despotic principles fundamental in Popery-Infallible testimony adduced-Papal claims of divine right and plenitude of power-Abject principles of Popery illustrated from the Russian Catechism-Protestantism from its birth in favor of Liberty-Luther on the 4th of July attacks the presumptuous claim of divine right-Despotism and Popery united against liberty of conscience, liberty of opinion, and liberty of the press-The anti-republican declarations of the present Pope Gregory XVI.

CHAPTER IV

The cause of Popery and Despotism identical-A striking difference between Popery and Protestantism as they exist in this country-American Protestantism not controlled by foreign Protestantism-American Popery entirely under foreign control-Jesuits, the foreign agents of Austria, bound by the strongest ties of interest to Austrian policy, not American-Their dangerous power, unparalleled to any Protestant sect-Our free institutions opposed in their nature to the arbitrary claims of Popery-Duplicity to be expected-Political dangers to be apprehended from Popish organization-American Popery uncontrolled by Americans, or in America-Managed in a foreign country by a foreign power for political purposes-Consequences that may easily result from such a state of things.

CHAPTER V

Points in our political system which favor this foreign attack-Our toleration of all religious systems-Popery opposed to all toleration-Charge of intolerance substantiated-The organization of Popery in America connected with and strengthened by foreign organization-Without a parallel among Protestant sects-Great preponderance of Popish strength in consequence-The divisions among Protestant sects nullifies their attempts at combination-Taken advantage of by Jesuits-Popish duplicity illustrated in its opposite alliances in Europe with despotism, and in America with democracy-The laws relating to immigration and naturalization favor foreign attack-Emigrants being mostly Catholic and in entire subjection to their priests-No remedy provided by our laws for this alarming evil.

CHAPTER VI

The evil from immigration further considered-Its political bearings-The influence of emigrants at the elections-This influence concentrated in the priests-The Priests must be propitiated; by what means-This influence easily purchased by the demagogue-The unprincipled character of many of our politicians favor this foreign attack-Their bargain for the suffrages of this priest-led band-A church and state party-The Protestant sects obnoxious to no such bargaining-the newspaper press favors this foreign attack; from its want of independence, and its timidity-An anti-republican fondness for titles, favors this foreign attack-Cautious attempts of Popery to dignify its emissaries and to accustom us to their high-sounding titles-A mistaken notion on the subject of discussing religious opinion in the secular journals, favors this foreign attack-Political designs not to be shielded from attack because cloaked by Religion.

CHAPTER VII

The political character of this ostensibly religious enterprise proved from the letters of the Jesuits now in this country-Their antipathy to private judgment-Their anticipations of a change in our form of government-Our government declared too free for the exercise of their divine rights-Their political partialities-Their cold acknowledgment of the generosity, and liberality, and hospitality of our government-Their estimate of our condition contrasted with their estimate of that of Austria-Their acknowledged allegiance and servility to a foreign master-Their sympathies with the oppressor, and not with the oppressed-Their direct avowal of political design.

CHAPTER VIII

Some of the means by which Jesuits can already operate politically in the country-By mob discipline-By priest police-Its great danger-Already established-Proofs-Priests already rule the mob-Nothing in the principles of Popery to prevent its interference in our elections-Popery interferes at the present day in the political concerns of other countries-Popery the same in our country-It interferes in our elections-In Michigan-In Charleston, S. C.-In New-York-Popery a political despotism cloaked under the name of Religion-It is Church and State embodied-Its character at head-quarters in Italy-Its political character stripped of its religious cloak.

CHAPTER IX

Evidence enough of conspiracy adduced to create great alarm-The cause of liberty universally demands that we should awake to a sense of danger-An attack is made which is to try the moral strength of the Republic-The mode of defense that might be consistently recommended by Austrian Popery-A mode now in actual operation in Europe-Contrary to the entire spirit of American Protestantism-True mode of defense-Popery must be opposed by antagonist institutions-Ignorance must be dispelled-Popular ignorance of all Papal countries-Popery the natural enemy of general education-Popish efforts to spread education in the United States delusive.

CHAPTER X

All classes of citizens interested in resisting the efforts of Popery-The unnatural alliance of Popery and Democracy exposed-Religious liberty in danger-Specially in the keeping of the Christian community-They must rally for its defence-The secular press has no sympathy with Protestants; in this struggle it is opposed to them-The Political character of Popery ever to be kept in mind and opposed-It is for the Papist not the Protestant to separate his religious from his political creed-Papists ought to be required publicly and formally and officially to renounce foreign allegiance and anti-republican customs.

CHAPTER XI

The question what is the duty of the Protestant community? considered-Shall there be an Anti-Popery Union? The strong manifesto that might be put forth by such a union-Such a political union discarded as impolitic and degrading to the Protestant community-Golden opportunity for showing the moral energy of the republic-The lawful and efficient weapons of this contest-To be used without delay.

CHAPTER XII

The Political duty of American citizens at this crisis.

PREFATORY REMARKS By Morse.

THE following Numbers written for the New-York Observer in the beginning of the year 1834, and during several weeks of confinement by indisposition, have been, perhaps, more extensively copied into the religious journals of the different Christian denominations than any communications, (with perhaps a single exception,) of the same extent since the establishment of religious newspapers; and although the subject matter is almost altogether political, giving proofs of a serious foreign conspiracy against the government, yet the writer is not aware that a single secular journal in the United States has taken the pains to investigate the matter, or even to ask if indeed there may not be good grounds for believing it true. The silence of the secular press on a subject which has roused the attention of so large a body of the Protestant community may indeed be accounted for in part, perhaps altogether, from the all engrossing election contests which have agitated the country from one extremity of the land to the other; for the writer would certainly be very reluctant to adopt the belief, which has repeatedly been urged upon him by many, that the secular journals dare not attack Popery; he will not believe that dare not ever stood in the way of the duty of any patriotic independent conductor of the American press. Footnote: A friend to whom this part was read smiled, and said "you are sufficiently guarded in your language, but how many patriotic independent conductors of the American press are there? Can you name one?"

At the solicitation of many citizens without distinction of religious denomination or of political party, the writer has consented to collect the numbers into a pamphlet, adding notes illustrative of many matters which could not so well have been introduced into the columns of a newspaper.

That a vigorous and unexampled effort is making by the despotic governments of Europe to cause Popery to overspread this country, is a fact too palpable to be contradicted. Did not official documents lately published, put this fact beyond dispute, yet the writer had personal evidence sufficient to convince him of the fact and of the political object of the enterprise, while residing in Italy in the years 1830-31, from conversations with nobles and gentlemen of different countries, with the officers of various foreign governments, visiting and resident in the Roman and Austrian states, and with priests and other ecclesiastics of the Roman faith. Sometimes it was hinted to him as a check to too sanguine anticipations of the triumph of the experiment of our democratic republican government; sometimes it was told him by the former class in a tone of exultation that a cause was in operation which would surely overthrow our institutions and gradually bring us under a form of government less obnoxious to the pride, and less dangerous to the existence, of the antiquated despotic systems of Europe. In addition to these hints to the writer, concerning the efforts making by the governments of Europe to carry Popery through all our borders, other American travellers will testify to similar hints made to them. By one I am permitted to say, that the celebrated naturalist, the late Baron Cuvier, known also as a zealous Protestant, inquired of him with marks of concern, if it were indeed true that Popery had made such progress in the United States, as to cause the exultation (which it seems was no secret) among the legitimates of Europe. And again, that a distinguished member of one of the Protestant German embassies, in Rome also made similar inquiries of him, having heard much boasting of the progress of Popery in the United States, adding this pertinent remark, "they will be hammer or nails, Sir, they will persecute, or be persecuted." These facts may be of so much importance in aid of the other proofs of a conspiracy which these numbers unfold, as to show that among the various higher classes of Europe the enterprise of a Popish crusade in this country is not only a subject of notoriety, but is viewed with great interest, and is considered as having a most important political bearing.

In the following numbers the writer has chosen to rest the evidence of conspiracy mainly on official documents published in Vienna, because they have been translated and published, Footnote: In the New-York Observer, of the months of January, February, 1534 and are within the reach of any citizen of the country who chooses more closely to examine them. He has also availed himself of facts in the operations of Popish agents in this country, so far as their workings have been occasionally revealed.

The writer will add in conclusion, that he writes not in the interest of a sect or a party, for the question of Popery is not identified with either political party. He has lived too long in foreign countries to be able to identify himself with the local interests of mere party at home, whether in religion or politics. The great democratic features of his country's institutions, as contradistinguished from the despotic, monarchical and aristocratic systems of Europe, were admired by him as they appeared more boldly relieved, viewed from abroad in such striking contrast to all around him; and he is thoroughly persuaded that these democratic institutions, if suffered to have their unobstructed course, unobstructed except by the natural checks of education and religion actively and universally diffused and sustained, are more favorable to civil liberty and to the final triumph of truth, and consequently to human happiness, than any other civil institutions in the world. The writer entertaining these views has deemed it an imperative duty, at any sacrifice, to warn his countrymen, of a subtle enemy to the democracy of the country, and to conjure them as they value their civil and religious institutions, to watch the Protean shapes of Popery, to suspect and fear it most when it allies itself to our interests in the guise of a friend. Mistrust of all that Popery does, or affects to do, whether as a friend or foe in any part of the country, is the only feeling that true charity, universal charity, allows us to indulge.

Don't Rely On 'Experts' To Fight New World Order; Americans Must Do It Themselves

John L. Mann throws caution to the wind, telling NWO to 'stick it where sun don't shine!'

31 May 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The world is filled with experts and it's amazing how Americans hang on their every word to make it through each and every day.

If the experts say Americans should get up at eight o'clock in the morning, Americans wake up at eight. If Oprah Winfrey says jump off the London Bridge, Americans are jumping head first without even questioning the water temperature.

And Americans have turned into a country of followers, blindly listening to all the so-called experts even though most of the experts have no idea what they're talking about.

What ever happened to throwing caution to the wind? What ever happened to taking action? Whatever happened to telling the experts to put their expert opinions where the sun don't shine?

What ever happened to being your own man and standing behind something instead of falling for everything? What happened?

What happened is simple: It's just too damn hard and most people are just too damn lazy. And an expert isn't needed, thank you, to make that statement. Just look around and survey the landscape, as most people won't even walk up a flight of stairs at the local mall, opting instead for the escalator.

So if most Americans are 50 pounds overweight and won't even walk up a flight of stairs, how in god's name are they going to take back their country?

Well, maybe they think the experts will do it for them. But they are sadly mistaken because most experts wouldn't know how to take back a country if it was given to them on a silver platter.

So, here we are facing tough times with a bunch of so-called experts supposedly leading the way. God help us!

So, here we are listening to experts while the country goes to hell in a hand basket. So, here we are being led by the nose by a bunch of highbrows who basically spend their time giving nonsensical lectures and then writing nothing but bad books, making Mark Twain, however, look like quite a fortune teller when he said: "Thank God for illiteracy: Just think how many bad books you don't have to read."

So, with Twain warning people to stop being led by the nose, its good to also remember the words of Rudyard Kipling when he wrote:

"The individual has always had to struggle to keep from being overwhelmed by the tribe. To be your own man is hard business. If you try it, you will be lonely often, and sometimes frightened. But no price is too high to pay for the privilege of owning yourself."

And trying to be an independent thinker in modern day America is no easy task.

But this week John L. Mann, another average American doing above average things in times of strife, stepped to the plate, writing a "Take This New World Order and Shove It" letter without conferring with the experts and without checking foot notes or bibliographies.

Instead, Mann did a gut check, spoke from the heart and told Americans point blank the fight with the New World Order ain't over yet -- ain't over by a long shot!

Mann's letter written to the leaders of the New World Order comes in response to a letter recently circulating on the internet where an unknown Globalist, basically warned each and every American it's all over but the shouting and screaming, saying it's only a matter of time before a world one government and religion is instituted.

Mann's letter in response to the global takeover is refreshing to hear, as he spars with the "Master Globalist" telling him basically to stick it where the sun don't shine, a very effective solution since it appears up until now most of the so-called expert opinions and books have been beating around the proverbial bush.

Dear Master Globalist,

How nice it was for you to finally contact us. It can't be much fun hiding in your sewer all the time, no matter how palatial it is. You must really be getting tired of your corporeal puppets, eunuchs to a man, getting all the public acclaim for your political mastery and war making.

Umm, it IS you, isn't it? Oh well, never mind. It doesn't really matter whether it's you behind the pen or not, does it? Because even if it isn't really you, I'm sure you'll get this letter anyway. One of your more pliable slaves, maybe an insider wannabe working for you as a dissent monitor, will make sure it's put into your filthy hands.

Boy oh boy, for someone as smart and as slick as you make yourself out to be, you really don't understand humanity at all, do you? You say: "We have full control of the earth and its finance, along with the major media propaganda, and there is simply no way any nation or power can defeat us." I'll grant that looks to be pretty much the case, but with your eyes on the prize of total subjugation of humanity, you've forgotten there's more to "power" than mere wealth or whips.

Some people just won't put up with the likes of you. Their spirits are so huge and burn so brightly you can't touch them. And some of them in the past have attracted followers numbering in the millions: Gandhi, Martin Luther King and Lech Walesa.

Oh yeah, remember Walesa? I'll bet his name makes your sphincter clamp down.

When Walesa's union, Solidarity, was outlawed by your commie striped puppets, he and his aides managed to get 95% of the people in Poland to refuse to go to work.

See? That's the one thing you can't stand, an interruption of the cash flow. When those who create the wealth hang out a 'gone fishin' sign, all your plans and precious power heads straight for the cesspool.

I KNOW what happens to you if 95% of the American workforce takes a few consecutive, unannounced days off. Everything crashes, doesn't it? Your inherently worthless fiat currencies are exposed as being just that, and people are reminded anew that real wealth is found in their work, what they create, not a bank note.

And despite what you say about there being no state secrets because your eyes and ears are in every government, you cannot hide the fact that Asians, particularly the Chinese and Japanese are largely unknown social quantities and wholly uncontrolled by you. They possessed huge, sophisticated civilizations when your ancestors were trying to figure out how to wield control over the next guy's cave. After all, the Chinese INVENTED paper currency. In truth, they're the original capitalists. Your kind remains so historically nouveau in comparison, that Asians taught your progenitors how important it was health wise, simply to take a bath.

You know what I'm getting at, don't you? For all your wealth and political/media control, human dynamics remain an unknown quotient. People are capable of anything, good and bad; and we know who's representative of the worst kind of the bad here, don't we?

And let's not forget the spirit of human resistance. You crow about how vain and futile efforts are to resist you. But there are those who successfully resist nonetheless.

I'm one. I don't carry your credit cards or pay your taxes, income, FICA or property.

I recognized permutations of the monster you are over thirty years ago and I remain free. I sired no children to offer up into your ever-ravenous jaws and I work hard, sometimes successfully, in opening other eyes to your monstrosity.

It's not lost on me, or millions of others, for that matter, that your bitch-in-chief, the one currently occupying the Oval Office, has not the slightest respect for law or rule of law. This is a truth that comes with bad news for your grand plans. If the law holds no sway over those empowered, why on earth should it hold sway over ME, or any other free thinkers? The truth embodied in this resistance to tyranny has accompanied humanity's struggles since the advent of language. Your historically temporary current success doesn't change that one iota, nor the fact that you'll ultimately fail.

For fail you will. The arrogance that accompanies your supreme elitism, the same elitism currently being practiced by Leo Strauss's domestically empowered neocon brood, springs from self-certainty that you're inherently better than other people, fit only to rule, never work. I've found that brand of arrogance is something that one is generally born to. For without your ancestral wealth people like you aren't worth the likes of an illiterate field hand. You've never known anything but to take, never to give. As such your immortal spirit is warped, sickened, doomed.

I don't know what the spark will be but I do know a day will come, likely in America where the Spirit of 76 still lives beyond being a simple slogan for selling gas, that the moneychangers will again be ejected from the temple. It'll be the temple of democracy this time, even if it does have to be rebuilt on a pile of ashes. The people will effect this change. That same day the multitudes will overrun CIA at Langley and expose and make public, all the decades of secrets, all the evil. The surveillance satellites will be destroyed and the armies, nuclear and conventional will stand down. Then you're finished. Remember Nicolae Ceausescu and Benito Mussolini? Bunkmates of yours, weren't they? So their end will be your own.

Are you aware that your insistent hubris at showing your hand as master will be the cause of your own murder? You simply can't abide lower primates enjoying the fruits of their own labor. You'd rather have them exist in miserable slavery than contentedly feeding your glorious machine. After all, there's plenty of wealth to go around. But your slaves have to KNOW they're owned, being ruled, don't they?

You know, I feel sorry for you. You don't know at all the joy of creativity. All you know is power. Granted, it's power of life and death. That's why so much death, including your own, is on the horizon. For you understand nothing of life. That's why you're so compelled to trumpet your mastery to the slaves.

I own myself and my labor. All men do, they've just got to be reminded of it, and it's getting to the point where you've gone too far. Your wake up call is going to be a lulu. For you insist on making life so miserable for the slaves that their death will be a release from toil and tyranny; death will no longer be a fear itself. There's no safety for you in that, master of nothing permanent.

Yeah, yeah, I know. It's ridiculously easy to kill me. But you've had a tough time making me feed your completely corrupt machine, haven't you? And people are going to find out, regardless of your joke of a school system, that money and property are really just like beer. You never really own it, you just rent it for a little while. What really matters is life itself. And what you don't understand is that to the self-realized, life is always an expression that's free.

Harvard Grad Warns Americans Of 'Hell-On-Earth' Planned By New World Order Average American doing above average things writes warning letter, saying 'never give up firearms' as war on terror is war on freedom.

30 May 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Suanne Skidd says it's time "to make a massive effort" to save America "from the hell-on-earth" planned by the New World Order.

With her impassioned plea, the 44-year-old Harvard graduate living in Boulder, Colorado, becomes another average American doing above average things, as a showdown between good and evil is right around the corner.

Although most Americans are ignoring the "writing on the wall" as the dollar tanks, the war escalates and illegal immigrants are flooding the streets, Skidd has decided to sit down and write a warning letter to Americans, filling them in on what to expect if they don't act now.

Inspired by the Republic Broadcasting Network and especially talk show host John Stadtmiller, Skidd recalls how she came to the conclusion to write her eloquent warning, advising Americans to "never give up their firearms:"

"I listen to RBN many, many hours every week, trying to put the big picture together. From my research, I know we are in grave danger, and so I cannot possibly just continue going about my daily life and ignoring this problem in the hope it will go away. It will not go away. I am obsessed with doing whatever I can to wake up my family, friends and even total strangers, to the point that certain people in my life who wish to not wake up are getting angry with me.

"Recently, I know I need to do more, things are not moving fast enough, and the hour is getting late. I believe they will strike us again soon. They are not done with their destruction of America. I have lots of reading material on the back of my car, but this week (largely thanks to John Stadtmiller) I decided I need to have something definitive to give out to people that attempts to explain what is happening, and tells people where to get real information.

"Unable to find anything that fit the bill on the internet, I sat down and wrote an open letter to my fellow Americans to alert them to what I believe to be our precarious situation, and I will be giving it to anyone I can find who will take it. Waking the American people up to the scam of 9/11 and the fraud that is the "War on Terror" is our only hope for restoring our freedom and our Constitutional Republic.

"It is the only thing that will save us from the hell-on-earth that is the New World Order's plan for us. Thus I believe it is the most important thing those of us who "know" can do at this critical time. It is truly time for us to make a massive effort to save our country from these criminals. No one else is going to do it for us. Let's roll!"

Skidd's story is like many who grew up searching for the American dream, living in affluent Connecticut and graduating from Harvard University in 1983 with a BA in Government. And like so many others under the hypnotic spell of apathy cast by the Reagan/Bush years, she tuned out her country and politics, becoming disillusioned with corporate America

"I tuned out and traveled around the country following the Grateful Dead for the next several years. I always knew something was terribly wrong, I just couldn't figure out what. I knew, even back then, that the Bush family, especially "Poppy", was pure evil. I have been deeply troubled by the JFK assassination my entire life, and always knew that it was a coup d'etat.

"In my opinion, America has not been America ever since. I agree with what talk show host Greg Szymanski when he said that 'it still looks like America, it just doesn't feel like America anymore.

Skidd began seriously questioning the New World Order in 1990 when she found out about hemp and the marijuana conspiracy from Jack Herer's book "The Emperor Wears No Clothes". And according to Skidd, the campaign against hemp in the 20's and 30's amounted to a coup of the world's economy to favor petroleum products by outlawing the best renewable alternative.

"This was a perfect example of problem/reaction/solution, the Hegelian dialectic, and their favorite Orwellian trick of changing the name of something in order to deceive us," said Skidd. "They created an imaginary problem by printing made-up stories about terrible things people allegedly did under the influence of "marijuana" (a scary word no one knew, while everyone knew hemp/cannabis as benign and very helpful, in fact a staple of the world economy) in their publications (William Randolph Hearst was deeply involved in this blatant yellow journalism...yes, of course they already controlled the media even in the 30's).

"Many of the names involved in outlawing hemp are the same names I now know to be part of the Illuminati/New World Order. They rigged the entire world economy in their favor (of course!) by banning hemp and have been reaping huge profits and gained ever more power and control ever since. This book was a revelation to me as to how things really work in this world, that things are not necessarily what they appear to be. I realized that "history", as it is presented to us, is largely fiction. Looking back now, I can't believe I ever bought the official story about 9/11."

Although Skidd admits to being duped about 9/11 like so many other Americans, she is now working tirelessly to awaken a sleeping public. According to Skidd, Americans should never give up their firearms and the following warning letter, entitled Day of High Treason in America, is intended for every single American to read before it's too late:

My Fellow Americans,

The evidence (and there's plenty of it, including irrefutable scientific evidence) indicates that the "terrorist attack" of September 11, 2001 was a false-flag (government-sponsored) operation, a psy-op on the American people, an inside job, designed to shock and frighten us into going along with the agenda of endless war abroad and Nazi-style tyranny here at home.

Everything the current regime has done since then has exploited the "attack" of that infamous day as justification for their outrageous criminal activities. The (incredibly un-patriotic) USA Patriot Act, obviously written long before 9/11, has effectively shredded our Bill of Rights and Constitution. This is their Orwellian trick, calling things the opposite of what they actually are, assuming most of us will never get past the title.

The "War on Terror" is really a war on freedom, and we are its target.

We are in very grave danger of losing our Constitutional Republic and our freedom forever. The controlled corporate media, which is owned by the powers-that-be, the global elite, the Illuminati, the New World Order, the secret world government, whatever you want to call them, is (obviously) complicit in this, so that although many prominent people are now speaking out about 9/11, there is little mention of it, and certainly there is no honest debate.

They will not tell us the "truth" until they have no other choice, because so many people already know, and even then they will try to "spin" it. Do not believe them! The electronic voting machines are rigged, so our politicians care not what we think or want. Republicans and Democrats are both involved. Skull & Bones John (W's cousin, by the way) wouldn't have saved us, and unfortunately neither will Al nor Hillary.

They are all apparently working for the New World Order, one-world government, and the destruction of America. It's not about liberal vs. conservative, that's just a distraction for us, to make us think we have a choice and to keep us divided. It's really about freedom vs. slavery. The powers-that-be will select the next President for us. It will be who they want, not who we want.

After all, he will be their puppet. It is absolutely critical that every American do something now to stop the Fascist agenda of this criminal regime! They are working straight off Hitler's script, with 9/11 as the Reichstag Fire, they are practicing Nazi philosophy right here in America, against us, and time is running out. The grandfather of the current resident of the White House made the family fortune backing Hitler and the Nazi war machine, and should have been tried for treason. Instead, he somehow became a U.S. Senator, and his son and grandson somehow became President. They have not changed sides. They even had Nazi symbols up on the stage at the State of the Union address, so the Fascism is right in our faces. It's time for us to wake up! Everyone involved must be impeached and/or indicted and tried for treason and other crimes. Our country is being deliberately destroyed while we are being (also deliberately) distracted by sports and American Idol.

I don't expect you to believe me, but please research these issues at the websites below and elsewhere, make your own decision, and take appropriate action! Watch the excellent 9/11 documentary Loose Change 2 (which will be shown to the British Parliament next month, June 14, 2006, I believe) on Google Video for free! Educate your family and friends! Our only hope is to wake up enough Americans to take back our country from these evil criminals before they strike us again.

They may use another false-flag terror attack, a natural disaster (think Katrina) or even a biological attack or real or imagined "outbreak" (Avian/Bird Flu?) as a pretext to gain even more control. Their goals internationally are mass-depopulation and World War III (IV?) starting in the Middle East, spreading who-knows-where. Their agenda at home includes forced vaccinations, concentration camps, martial law and gun confiscation.

Confession No. 6: The Search For America's Hidden Enemy Continues With The Jesuits

Researcher Jeremy Lack says Vatican/Jesuit tyranny erased from history, especially from 1960.

28 May 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The search for America's real, hidden enemy continues this Sunday by the banks of Brushy Creek.

Brushy Creek, usually gushing with a turbulent flow of water, has dried up to little more than a trickle, drying up from the sweltering Texas heat or maybe from the hot air coming from Washington D.C.

And this week was a particularly disturbing one in American history, as it was marked with the passage of the illegal immigration bill, paving the way for more than 200 million illegals over the next 20 years.

It was also particularly disturbing since President Bush addressed West Point's graduating class, shouting like a warmonger for a continued escalation of the Middle East war. And from his speech, it's clear the voice of the people means absolutely nothing as his criminal freight train steams along with its next stop World War III.

But in an attempt to derail the war machine, the process of identifying the real, hidden shadowy enemy moves along this week without trepidation or fear, as the Jesuit Order headed by the Black Pope are being considered as the real spiritual controllers in Sunday's Confession No. 6.

Once we are finished with the Jesuits, we'll move along to other possibilities such as the Zionist Jews. But for now researcher Jeremy Lack provides a lengthy but stimulating look at Jesuit/Vatican tyranny throughout the history.

It should be noted before listening to Lack's research findings, the Vatican and the Jesuit Order fully back the illegal immigration going on in America, as well as silently backing the U.S. illegal invasion in the Middle East.

Lack reminds us the Jesuit Order was originally instituted in Portugal and Spain in 1534 by the Vatican for the sole purpose of exterminating the Reformation. The Order was then suppressed by Pope Clement XIV for which he was promptly poisoned. The Order was then reinstated in 1814 and given the "Secret Treaty of Verona" for the express purpose of carrying out its dictates. The edict was finally ratified by its contracting parties on 1822, causing President James Monroe, with the assistance of Thomas Jefferson, to write the Monroe Doctrine to protect against tyranny as recorded in the Congressional Record-Senate volume 53, Part 7, Page 6781 of the 64th Congress, 1st Session, 25 April 1916.

Lack said he dedicated the following research to the late Jesuit priest, Fr. Alberto Rivera, killed for trying to get out the truth about the Society of Jesus, known as the Jesuits. He adds remember Matt: 7:15: "Beware of false prophets, which come to you in sheep's clothing, but inwardly they are ravening wolves."

Remembering the Jesuit Order is organized like a military organization with a presence in every corner of the world, Lack also reminds us that much of the true Jesuit history has been taken out of library circulation, especially after 1960 as the Jesuits, known as the world's great educators, are trying to cover up their evil past.

Lack's research about who he calls the feared Jesuits and the masters of deception and evil begins with the words:

I read a book some years ago that started my research, that I am still involved in today. The information I have, I believe, if it were ever brought to a trial, would prove so conclusively of what I am about to tell you that not even the perpetrators themselves would try to deny it. In the past, when confronted with their prior history of atrocities, their only response has been: "we don't do that anymore", or sneer at its improbability, or a gratuitous imputation of bigotry and intolerance against the writer, while at the same time telling all their followers: "we never change". As you read it will become only too apparent that the latter is the case.

Before I begin, and you start thinking I'm an "extremist", let me say that I'm not the only person to find this information. It is readily available (at the finger tips of those on the internet) to anyone willing to put in a little time and research. I have found, what I believe to be, the common denominator for a very large percentage (if not all) of the events perpetrated and/or carried out by departments of government and/or its agencies, that are totally negative to the rights and freedoms of the American people, hence, also to the United States Constitution, its Bill of Rights and the Declaration of Independence. This organization is responsible for the wholesale slaughter of multi-millions of peoples all over the world. It is responsible for the "Dark Age" (inquisition) period leading up to the founding of this country: As you will learn, this organization, though having periods of civil and military power fluctuation (due to losses from their own tyrannical acts and resultant exposure) not only still exists: but is far more powerful (lethal) today than ever before: This is especially true in the United States, where the order has its highest concentration (at least seventeen times that of any other country).

A zeal for the discovery of new territory marked the fifteenth century. The first navigations for this purpose were concerted and directed by Prince Henry. Born 1394, the fourth son of John I. king of Portugal. His valor in the assault and capture of the city: Ceuta in Africa 1415, presaged the fame he afterward acquired. From this period he devoted himself to naval expeditions for the discovery of unknown countries. His ships subjected diverse parts of Africa and the neighboring islands to the dominion of Portugal. After the success in doubling cape Bojador, he gave to his father and successors all the land he discovered, or might discover, and applied to Pope Martin V to ratify the donation. He engaged that in all their expeditions the Portuguese should have mainly in view the extension of the Roman church and authority of its pontiff. Pope Martin granted the prince's request. In his bull of ratification, which was about the year 1430, it is declared that: "whatever might be discovered from the said cape to the utmost India, should pertain to the Portuguese dominion." Edward, brother of Prince Henry, succeeded to the throne of Portugal 1433, on the death of John I. Pope Eugene IV. by his bull in 1438, ratified, to Edward, the grant made by Martin V. A bull of Nicholas V. dated 8 Jan 1454, refers to the aforesaid bulls of his predecessors, Martin and Eugene. It recites the declaration prince Henry made of his achievements "that for 25 years he had not ceased to send annually almost an army" of Portuguese, "with the greatest dangers, labors and charges, in the most swift ships, to search out the sea and maritime provinces toward the southern parts and Antarctic Pole." that these ships "came at length to the province of Guinea, and took possession of some islands, havens and sea adjoining" that "sailing further, war was waged for some years with the people of those parts, and very many islands near thereunto were subdued and peaceably possessed and were still possessed with the adjacent sea" that "many Guineans and other negroes were taken then by force, and some by barter." The bull describes

Henry as "a true soldier of Christ, a most courageous defender and intrepid champion of the faith, aspiring from his early youth with his utmost might to have the glorious name of Christ published, extolled and revered throughout the world. "It recognizes the exclusive right of Portugal to the acquisitions and possessions aforesaid, in virtue of the letters of Popes Martin and Eugene, which granted to the king of Portugal and Prince Henry "free and ample faculty to invade, search out, expunge, vanquish and subdue all pagans and enemies of Christ whosoever placed and their persons to reduce to perpetual slavery, and all their kingdoms, possessions and goods to apply and appropriate," etc. Pope Nicholas's letter then goes on to "decree and declare, the acquests already made, and what hereafter shall happen to be acquired, after that they shall be acquired, have pertained, and forever of right do belong and pertain to the aforesaid king and his successors, and not to any others whatever." It forbids, on the severest penalties, all Christian powers from settling in the countries discovered by the Portuguese, or any way molesting them in their expeditions for the discovery and conquest of unknown countries. It speaks of prince Henry's plan and his prosecution of it as "a most pious work, and most worthy of perpetual remembrance, wherein the glory of God, where the interest of the commonwealth of the universal church are concerned."

Thus was Prince Henry's views and operations sanctioned by the highest authority, at that time, acknowledged in Christendom. A right derived from a source so venerable was then undisputed. The Roman pontiff bound princes at his pleasure, and as Vicar of Christ, was allowed to have at his disposal all the kingdoms of the earth. This grant of Pope Nicholas was confirmed by his successor: Calixtus III. 6 August 1458.

On the death of Edward, his son Alphonsus, then in his minority, succeeded to the throne of Portugal, 1438, and died 1481. Prince Henry died 1460-63. At his death the spirit of discovery languished, but revived with the accession of John II, son of Alphonsus. The year after his accession (1482), sent an embassy to Edward IV of England, to acquaint him with the title acquired by the Pope's bull to the conquest in Guinea: requesting him to dissolve a fleet, which some English merchants were fitting for the Guinea (slave) trade. The king of England showed great respect to the ambassadors and granted all they required. The king of Portugal assumed, and the king of England gave him, this style, Rex Portugalie et Algarbiorum citra at ultra mare in Africa. Pope Sixtus IV., not long before his death (12 Aug 1484), confirmed all the grants made by his predecessors, to the kings of Portugal and their successors.

In 1481 John II sent 100 artificers, 500 soldiers, and all necessities to build a fort in Guinea. The large kingdoms of Benin and Congo were discovered 1484-85 and the Cape of Good Hope 1486. The Portuguese built forts and planted colonies in Africa: established a commercial intercourse with the powerful kingdoms, and compelled the petty princes, by force of arms, to acknowledge themselves vassals.

At this period, and by these means, the power and commerce of the Portuguese in Africa were well established. The wholesome decrees of five successive Roman pontiffs granted, conveyed and confirmed to the most faithful king a right to appropriate the kingdoms, goods and possessions of all infidels, wherever to be found, "to reduce their persons to perpetual slavery or destroy them from the earth", for the declared purpose of bringing the Lord's sheep into one dominical fold, under one universal pastor. Succeeding kings of Portugal have not forfeited the large grant by any undutifulness to their holy father. Portugal long enjoyed the trade to Africa and the East Indies without interference of any European power. For more than half a century, before exporting any negroes from Africa, she made and held them slaves in their native country.

The Portuguese first imported slaves into Hispaniola 1508, and into their Brazilian colonies 1517. Their sugar works were first set up in these colonies 1580. Their union with Spain, at that time, was most unfortunate for them. The Dutch became their enemy, who took their East-India and Brazilian conquests and parts of their African colonies. They recovered Brazil and their African establishments 1640, but not that of India.

After the Dutch gave up Brazil and the gold mines were discovered, the trade of Portugal improved and a great importation of slaves took place: carrying yearly from Loango to Brazil: 25,000, also many thousands from Goango and Cape Lopes. They themselves say they carry to Brazil 50,000 and more every year from Melinda, on the Mozambique coast. Such had been the increase of their Brazilian and African colonies for a century that their increase in English goods, annually, was greater than that of Portugal and Spain combined prior to 1700.

Spanish America received slaves from the Genoese, Portuguese, French and English. Every state purchased from Spain seceded from the union (1861). The Vatican was the only country to acknowledge sovereignty to the Confederacy. Before, during and long after the African slave trade ended: the heads of state of Spain and Portugal were addressed (and may still be), in formal title, by foreign dignitaries/heads of state, as: "His/Her Catholic Majesty" (U.S. State Dept. records): thereby acknowledging them, only, as emissaries of the pope.

Catholic priest's dealing in the African slave trade is testified to, in this poem by the famous nineteenth century poet, J.G. Whittier:

A poem, on the slave block in New Orleans.

THE CHRISTIAN SLAVE

BY J. G. WHITTIER

A CHRISTIAN! going, gone!

Who bids for Gods own image?-for His grace

Which this poor victim of the market-place

Hath in her suffering won?

My God! can such things be?

Hast thou not said that whatsoe'er is done

Unto Thy weakest and Thy humblest one,

Is even done to thee?

In that sad victim, then,

Child of Thy pitying love, I see Thee stand,

Once more the jest-word of a mocking band,

Bound, sold, and scourged again!

A Christian up for sale!

Wet with her blood your whips-o'ertask her frame,

Make her life loathsome with your wrong and shame,

Her patience shall not fail!

Cheers for the turbaned bey

Of robber-peopled tunis! he hath torn

The dark slave-dungeons open, and hath borne

Their inmates into day:

But our poor slave in vain

Turns to the Christian shrine her aching eyes-

Its rites will only swell her market price,

And rivet on her chain.

God of all right! how long

Shall priestly robbers at Thine altar stand,

Lifting in prayer to thee the bloody hand

And haughty brow of wrong!

O, from the fields of cane,

From the low rice-swamp, from the traders cell-

From the black slave-ship's foul and loathsome hell,

And coffer's weary chain-

Hoarse, horrible, and strong,

Rises to heaven that agonizing cry,

Filling the arches of the hollow sky,

How Long, O Lord, how long!

For those who think the Vatican's attitude, toward black people, may have changed through the ages bear this in mind: (1) the biggest race riot in American history(1864, Brooklyn, New York City) was instigated by Archbishop Hughes (in response to Lincoln creating a draft for more union soldiers), including the burning, and trampling to death of the occupants, of a black orphanage. (2)when the U.S. Army occupied Rome during WWII, Pope Pius XII made it clear to American generals there were to be no black soldiers garrisoned in Rome. (3)over 80% of St. Louis, New York City, Chicago etc. police are Knights of Columbus: bear this in mind when you learn that over 75% of these cops sell drugs; and when reviewing the facts of the Fred Hampton murder by the Chicago police, 4 Dec 69, 6:00AM: every shot fired in the apartment was from fully automatic weapons used by the police (no return fire); Amadou Diallo: four cops randomly "check out" Diallo: telling him to show his I.D.: while reaching for his wallet, in compliance with their "order" the cops open up on him: 41 shots fired, 19 striking his body: one bullet traveling almost vertically up each lower leg and another thru the bottom of the right shoe, proves Diallo was flat on his back when the shots were fired: Diallo was unarmed. Officer McMellon- bruised his tail bone falling from stoop; officer Carroll - injured his ankle in fall from steps: evidently, these four of "New York's finest" conducted themselves with all of the professionalism and expertise of Daffy Duck. If this is "New York's finest" I can't imagine what could possibly be their worst. The cops, defense lawyers and judge all had a party after the trial. Every unarmed black being shot in New York City (by police) is a working immigrant. Special Forces Group's (snipers) have been giving weapons training (and illegally selling weapons) to the KKK in Alabama in exchange for info on black leaders that lead to the murder of Martin Luther King Jr. and was financed through, New Orleans godfather: Carlos Marcello direct associate of J. Edgar Hoover: Knight of Malta; 33d degree Mason). Portuguese, Raul Maori (director of James Earl Rays movements and actions that set him up as a patsy: actual shooter of Martin Luther King Jr.) is a drugs and weapons smuggler for Carlos Marcello. To see a direct connection between the KKK, GBI and the FBI, see the docudrama: "Who Murdered Atlanta's Children?" Blacks are being systematically squeezed out of welfare, while legal and illegal catholic immigrants receive unending welfare. Blacks fear the police more than street gangs. Every American city has a predominate Catholic influence, and the proportion of mafia/catholic power and influence and crime rate is consistent from city to city: <http://www.thelinkup.org>

Entire tribes of western American Indians were annihilated under the direct orders of the brown robed butchers, i.e. Coronado and his Spanish Conquistadors 1519-1540's. Not to mention the Aztecs and Incas of Mexico, Central and South America, Cuba, Haiti, Grenada, Guam, Philippines etc. With the likes of Almagro, Cortez, Pizarro, Valverde, de Meza, Gregory, Sepulveda, Valega and, yes, Christopher Columbus (imprisoned by Queen Isabella of Spain for his atrocities against the natives of Grenada), robbing them of all their national wealth and enslaving the people (try finding that in your public school history books. In the late middle age discoveries, the Vatican viewed all natives of the Americas as "indigenous natural slaves":

"Battle of Wounded Knee" (slaughter at wounded knee): With the Sioux, unarmed (except for a few skinning knives) and herded together like cattle: a man in a black robe (Jesuit) asked the Indians if they wanted to prey. After preying (non-catholic) the "man in the black robe" spoke to the cavalry officer, who then ordered the cavalry troops to form a line across in front of the defenseless Indians, then ordered them to open fire.

Until 1960 you could read, in any public library, books detailing Vatican/Jesuit atrocities throughout the European middle age/dark age inquisitions, since 1960 there has been a systematic removal of all publications (after web pages, like this one, became known, several hundred books suddenly disappeared from the Library of Congress; example: "Confessions of The Conspirators" {to Lincoln's assassination}): evidencing a systematic takeover of all educational material: remember the "book burnings" in Berlin 1933?). This is further evidenced by the remote location of Machu Picchu. And all in the name of their "holy mother", the Church of Rome. Our own war of independence was called a war of spiritual freedom: after seeing the purposeful destruction of every church and synagogue in every city, village and town the British Red Coats marched through. Every church that is except Roman Catholic. That's recorded in: "The Light and the Glory", by: Peter Marshall and David Manuel. Though the authors never mention the Jesuit's as the perpetrators of these atrocities other records leave little doubt ["British Canadian Sir Henry Clinton: commander-in-chief in North America, his troops made up of Oliver Delaney's and Cortlandt Skinner's brigades, New York Volunteers, Queens Rangers, Orange Rangers, Loyal Americans, Pennsylvania Loyalists, Maryland Loyalists, Roman Catholic Volunteers, West Jersey Volunteers, Chasseurs, Royal Americans Reformees, Volunteers of Ireland (Catholic), British Legion, Guides and Pioneers" (Secret History of the American Revolution, by: Carl Van Doren)].

In fact the authors try to exonerate the Jesuits. However in that attempt they accept the information of a man who was on the team of translators of the "American Standard version" of the bible. How anyone could put their trust in a person who would associate himself with a group of men of which 33% were known affiliates with communist fronts and causes is beyond me ("None Dare Call It Treason", by: John H. Stormer, 1964). The correlation of the Vatican's role in the instigation and continuance of the Revolutionary War is clearly evidenced in: "The Paris Peace Treaty of 1783". A synopsis of Vatican orchestrated atrocities can be seen when reading: "Foxes Book of Martyr's".

This book also shows the direct correlation between the submission demands placed on the inquisition victims, by Priests, and the Papal encyclical to the Second Vatican Council, promulgated 25 May 1965 i.e. recognizing the Pope as the vicar of Christ (Christ incarnate); taking part in communion that recognizes the wafer of unleavened bread (Eucharist) as the literal body and blood of Christ, and making it an essential part of being a member of the body of Christ. For this to be a part of R.C. dogma is of no consequence, but to say that the R.C. Church has not only the authority, but the obligation and duty to God to apply it to every person, of every religion, that has been baptized in Christ's name (willing or unwilling), and that the sole purpose of the Vatican and its ecumenical movement is to bring about this end, is to expose the fact that the Vatican has not changed its dogma, stand, purpose or methods since the start of the inquisitions. Here are a few paragraphs: "We can now ask how much further we must travel until that blessed day when full unity in faith will be attained and we can celebrate together in peace the Holy Eucharist of the Lord.

The greater mutual understanding and the doctrinal convergences already achieved between us, which have resulted in an affective and effective growth of communion, cannot suffice for the conscience of Christians who profess that the Church is one, holy, Catholic and apostolic. The ultimate goal of the ecumenical movement is to re-establish full visible unity among all the baptized" (page 35, last paragraph). "It is already possible to identify the areas in need of fuller study before a true consensus of faith can be achieved: 1) the relationship between sacred scripture, as the highest authority in matters of faith, and Sacred Tradition, as indispensable to the interpretation of the Word of God; 2) the Eucharist, as the Sacrament of the Body and Blood of Christ, an offering of praise to the Father, the sacrificial memorial and Real Presence of Christ and the sanctifying outpouring of the Holy Spirit; 3) Ordination, as a Sacrament, to the threefold ministry of the episcopate, presbyterate and diocanate; 4) the Magesterum of the Church, entrusted to the Pope and the Bishops in communion with him, understood as a responsibility and an authority exercised in the name of Christ for teaching and safeguarding the faith; 5) the Virgin Mary, as Mother of God and Icon of the Church, the spiritual Mother who intercedes for Christ's disciples and for all humanity" (page 36, paragraph 7).

"Consequently, for the out come of dialogue to be received, there is needed a broad and precise critical process which analyzes the results and rigorously tests their consistency with the Tradition of faith received from the Apostles and lived out in the community of believers gathered around the Bishop, their "legitimate" pastor" (page 37, paragraph 3). The enormity of the implications of this edict so staggers the imagination that to refuse to acknowledge this threat to American freedoms and rights, and the enormity of its scope, can only be construed as complicity with its intentions. If you have any doubts at all about this all you have to do is read this edict. It is titled:

"That They May Be One". It is interesting that the pope uses the word "they" and not "we", obviously excluding himself. After all, being the vicar of Christ (Christ incarnate), he can't consider himself a mere mortal (power is intoxicating, even to the extent of total distortion of logic). This edict has been given full approval by Skull & Bones: Pat Robertson, of the 700 Club. Also read the first and second points of the second week of "The Spiritual Exercises of Saint Ignatius of Loyola". Ignatius of Loyola, who's real name was Inigio Lopez De Recalde, founded the Society of Jesus(Jesuits)1534 in Spain, and also the Illuminati (holder of the light) [later instituted 1 May 1776 by Adam Weishaupt (German Jesuit, who's picture is on our one dollar bill) at Ingelstadt (Jesuit) University, where he was Professor of Cannon Law, under the direct orders of the "Black Pope"(who is a member of the Masonic Lodge of Europe) and financed by the "House of Rothschild" (In 1777 Weishaupt was initiated into the Masonic Order, the Lodge of Good Council, in Munich, to infiltrate and control it. At the Masonic International Congress at Wilhemsbad July 1782 the Masonic leaders received Illuminati indoctrination) (U.S. branch of the Illuminati is: "Council on Foreign Relations", of which U.S. Supreme Court judges: Ruth Bader Ginsburg (Catholic), Stephen Breyer (Catholic) and Sandra Day O'Conner are members, Bill Clinton, George Bush, Newt Gingrich, etc.); "Trilateral Commission" and "Skull & Bones" of Yale University]. De Recalde was also a Crusader (Vatican army that raped Israel, and most of Europe, in the dark age inquisitions). Interlocked Illuminati fronts are: United Nations, Bilderberg Group, Club of Rome, Royal Institute For International Affairs (England), Tri-Lateral Commission and Council On Foreign Relations.

Jesuit spiritual exercises are a daily ritual for Jesuits. A copy is easily obtainable thru the Internet. Let me quote a couple of lines: "The first point is to put before me a human king chosen by God our Lord, whom all Christian princes and men reverence and obey. The second, to look how this king speaks to all his people, saying: It is my will to conquer all the land of unbelievers. Therefore, whoever would like to come with me is to be content to eat as I, and also to drink and dress, etc., as I: likewise he is to labor like me in the day and watch in the night, etc., that so afterwards he may have part with me in the victory, as he has had it in the labors". Third week, first day, fifth point: "The fifth to consider how the Divinity hides itself, that is, how it could destroy its enemies and does not do it, and how it leaves the most sacred Humanity to suffer so very cruelly".

In the bull: Unam Sanctam (by: Pope Boniface VIII, promulgated 18 Nov 1302) we see the Vatican's intention of using governments and their agencies to achieve Vatican goals: "We are informed by the texts of the gospels that in this church and in its power are two swords; namely the spiritual and the temporal. For when the Apostlessay: "Behold here are two swords" [Lk 22:38] that is to say, in the church, since the Apostles were speaking, the Lord did not reply that there were too many, but sufficient. Certainly the one who denies that the temporal sword is in the power of Peter has not listened well to the word of the Lord commanding: "Put up thy sword into thy scabbard" [Mt 26:52]. Both, therefore, are in the power of the church, that is to say, the spiritual and the material sword, but the former is to be administered-for-the Church but the latter-by-the Church; the former in the hands of the priests; the latter in the hands of kings and soldiers, but at the will and sufferance of the priest": This self grandiosing butchery is espoused in more definitive terms, in the catholic publication: "Toward a Catholic Constitution", 1996, by Jesuit Leonard Swidler (professor of catholic thought and inter-religious dialogue, Temple University, Philadelphia Pa.): "One need look no further than the now accepted bulwark of orthodoxy (conformity to an established belief or doctrine), Thomas Aquinas, to see how far the prevalent assumptions about the penetration of religion and politics, with the presumed supremacy of the former, extended at that time. In treating of heretics Thomas views them as common criminals.

Their crime is even greater than that of counterfeiters, for "it is much more grievous to corrupt the faith . . . than to falsify money." Therefore, heretics "may not only be excommunicated, but may justly be killed." The church should properly tolerate their existence for a while, so long as there is some reasonable hope for conversion, but when that is gone, then heretics (anyone not catholic) must be cut out like rotten flesh," as Jerome says. They should be handed over "to the secular judge to be exterminated from the world through death." (pg. 58). This edict was included in cannon law until May of 1983: This should be sufficient to convince you of the militancy of the Vatican, Illuminati and their method of administration [now we know what was behind the raid on Mount Carmel in Waco (pilot program to establish future policy)]. Nowhere is this policy more obvious than in the Balkans. The "Dogmatic Constitution on The Church" proclaimed by pope Paul VI, 21 Nov 1964: 20. Paragraph 3: "with priests and deacons as helpers, the bishops received the charge of the community, presiding in Gods stead over the flock, of which they are the shepherds in that they are teachers of doctrine, ministers of sacred worship and holders of office in government." Ireland is a typical example of this policy.

"There is none that understandeth, there is none that seeketh after God. They are all gone out of the way, they are together become unprofitable; there is none that doeth good, no not one. There throat is become an open sepulchre; with their tongues they have used deceit; the poison of asps is under their lips: whose mouth is full of cursing and bitterness: their feet are swift to shed blood: destruction and misery are in their ways: and the way of peace have they not known: there is no fear of God before their eyes." Romans, 3:11-18.

Ironically the Jesuits are feared (and highly disliked) among the Catholic clergy more than anywhere else (there is inner-clergy rivalry within the R.C. orders, not unlike that of the upper-echelon of the Third Reich: they know the Jesuits for what they really are). Not too surprising since the Jesuits answer only to the "Black Pope, the Jesuits do for the Vatican what the Jesuit trained, S.S., S.D.,S.A. and Gestapo did for the Third Reich.

Frans Von Papen, (Jesuit) Hitlers mentor, chancellor of Germany (June 1932 - March 1933) and first vice-chancellor of the Third Reich, stated in his book: "My Conversations with Hitler": "Hitler has put into practice the high ideals of the papacy". This statement was made in reference to the death camps. As chancellor, von Papen's first act was to dissolve the Reichstag; his second was lifting the ban on Hitler's "Brown Shirts" (SA); he then integrated Catholic youth groups into the "Hitler Youth": setting up the civil and political base for Hitler and the Nazi Party to move into power. "Mein Kampf" was written for Hitler by Jesuit Staempfle. As papal nuncio to Germany (1917-1929), Archbishop Eugenio Pacelli worked with Germany's Illuminati bankers (Chase Manhattan, in New York City, and Bank of England funneled money's through Credit Swiss (Vatican bank) to the Reich's Bank in Berlin) and industrialist's (I.G. Farben), establishing the financial and industrial base for the Third Reich: WW II was in its planning stage while WW I was still in full swing. Thousands of Jews were hidden in the Vatican, as a precaution, in case Hitler lost the war.

"Yea the time cometh when he that killeth you will think that he doeth God service." (John 16:2)

The fact that the Vatican entered into a concordat with Hitler [signed in the Vatican by Von Papen and Cardinal Secretary of State: Eugenio Pacelli (later Pope Pius XII), 20 July 1933], as with Mussolini, Franco and Salazar is no secret. But the Vatican's attempt to seduce Hitler into extending the provisions of that concordat to include every country he raped and pillaged is not so well known, but is recorded in Hitler's own words in his book: "Hitler's Secret Conversations" i.e. "I have shown myself unresponsive to the attempts of the Vatican toward the extension of the provisions of the concordat to embrace the newly acquired territories of the Reich. The Saar, Sudetenland, Bohemia and Moravia, the Reichsgau Danzig-East Prussia, the Warthegau, a large part of Silesia and Alsace-Lorraine have, in fact, no relations with the Roman Catholic Church which are supported by formal international agreement" (page 516).

"The attitude of the Bishop von Galen affords just one more argument in favor of terminating the Concordat after the war, substituting for it regional regulations and immediately withholding from the Church the financial support at present guaranteed to it by that treaty" (page 520). Pacelli (negotiating the concordat provisions) insisted, the German State, within the dictates of the concordat, "be bound by any and all proposals of the local bishop regarding teachers of religion, and that the state would be obliged to fire such teachers if the bishop so demanded; meanwhile, the state would be required to meet all financial obligations, and at the same time, guarantee the application of canon law to the faithful"; [Bill Bennett (and his, Jesuit, brother Bob are KNOWN operatives in CIA/MK-Ultra/Project Monarch <http://www.iahf.com/readings/index.html> -extreme trauma induced multiple personality mind control sex deviates and pedophiles), self professed Jesuit, Secretary of Education under Reagan, propagator of Outcome Based Education (OBE), stated: "All children should be taught by Jesuits" (to profligate Americas youth: Joan of Arc was burned at the stake, at age sixteen, after signing her name to a document {unknowingly authorizing her own execution} she could not read, and could only write her name: being a product of a catholic parochial school)]. This makes me very curious of the content of the concordat: "Conciliar Document on Religious Freedom", being pushed in Washington by John Courtney Murray (R.C. Priest).

It becomes apparent that a chain of events of influence by certain people directed R.C. Hitler's life. Leopold Poetsch, his (Catholic) teacher; Mein Kampf: written, for Hitler, by German Jesuit: Staempfle; his "recruitment" into the Thule Society, 1919 (totally racial, religious, ethnic biased and anti-Semitic satanic cult. Read: "The Occult and The Third Reich"), as stated in (web page) "Illuminati Outline of History". All of Hitler's "inner circle" were members e.g. Himmler (Knight of Malta), Goebbels & Hoess etc. (and still good Catholics) which were among the thousands of Nazi and Ustasha fascist war criminals smuggled to Argentina, Bolivia, Paraguay, Australia, Canada and the U.S. (with 10,000+) by the Vatican (using forged documents, with Vatican seal, on stolen Red Cross travel cards with Vatican Visa's). The mass evacuation ("Ratlines") being coordinated by a small cabal of Vatican officials ("Intermarium") such as the infamous Dr. Nix (CIA top secret document: "Illegal Emigration Movements In and Through Italy", declassified: NND 760050: 11 April 90), Giovanni Montini (later Pope Paul VI), Hubal and Dragonovic (worked with U. S. Army's Counter Intelligence Corps (CIC) organizing the escape of Gestapo head and war criminal Klaus Barbie to South America) under the direction of Pope Pius XII (1945-1950) "Unholy Trinity" by: Mark Aarons and John Loftus);

"Those who did rescue the mass murderers from the hand of justice were not Peron (Argentine populist dictator) and his secret police but the [Roman] Catholic Church and its emissaries. It was the [Roman] Catholic Church, which, through its priests, church's, monasteries and forged Vatican passports, managed to foil the post-war hunt for Nazi war criminals. Nor was the church's rescue operation inconsistent with the policy it had pursued throughout the Nazi era. Henri du Lubac, a Jesuit theologian, filed a report in 1944, well before the end of the war, on the collaboration of the [Roman] Catholic Church with the pro-Nazi Vichy (French) regime. Hidden until this month, the report condemns what du Lubac calls the moral and spiritual abdication of Roman Catholic Bishops under the Nazis. For decade's French cardinals, monks and nuns had helped one of France's worst war criminals, Paul Touvier, escape justice.

It is difficult to imagine that it was possible, in the monolithic [Roman] Catholic Church, for so many to act so uniformly for so long without the knowledge and approval of the highest levels of the Vatican. Israelis have found it difficult to understand why the Vatican has refused to recognize the State of Israel." Jerusalem Post, editorial: "Maxima Culpa" 14 Feb 92; Adolf Eichmann was issued a Vatican visa and passport (in the name of Ricardo Klement, dated: 14 July 1950) by Franciscan monks in a Catholic monastery in Italy, giving him free passage to Argentina. At his trial in Jerusalem, raising his right hand in swearing to tell the truth, Adolf Eichmann gave the hand sign of the Pope. Hitler was backed by Illuminati bankers [the reason Rudolph Hess flew to Scotland (home of the Rothschild's)], in London, New York City and Berlin, after approval by Ivy Lee (probably chosen due to his successful promotion of the image of John D. Rockefeller), who was hired by I.G. Farben for that purpose [I.G. Farben, who fed the notorious "Farben buna soup" to the inmates working at "I.G. Auschwitz" factory (specially formulated to starve them to death in three months) and invented Zyklon B, the poison used to gas the Jews (according to Franciscan, Duns Scotus, Jews were slaves by divine decree), Gypsies etc. and now controls the pharmaceutical industry in the U.S., the A.M.A. and the F.D.A. That's why Laetrile (more recently called Mega-zyme Forte) was outlawed without ever being tested and not allowed to be tested.

It's a food, (not a drug) vitamin B-17, derived from apricot seeds (and other food sources), that has been proven to cure three out of five "terminal" cancer patients. That's also why the F.D.A. "requires" $210,000,000 and 10 years in research to put a vitamin on the market (effectively stopping all new vitamin company manufacturing). It really doesn't take much imagination to figure out the annual multi-million dollar income these pharmaceutical companies are raking in ($29 billion in 25 years) from federal grants, which would come to a sudden stop if their were no more "cancer industry" (read: "World Without Cancer", by: G. Edward Griffen): while treating a congressman, Dr. Francisco Contreras, and the congressman, discussed hopes for an eventual cure: the doctor was told that if he took a total cure to the U. S. President tomorrow, he'd "Probably be killed!" "Cancer is such a big business in the U.S.A." Now you can see why Dr. Burzynski is being prosecuted in Texas for curing cancer patients. They will put him away because he is too much of a threat to their mega-buck industry] (in 1996 over 600 hospitals merged with Catholic institutions in 19 states, from Portland Maine to Oakland California).

Kernersville N.C : a cancer patient was told, by his doctor, he would have to have half his jaw removed to stop the cancer. The man went to Tijuana (Dr. Ernesto Contreras: Contreras Oasis Hospital, Playas De Tijuana, Mexico) and was treated with Laetrile and the cancer cleared up. The man told his doctor about the treatment and the doctor (by federal law) reported it to the American Medical Association: federal agents came and searched the mans home for the Laetrile. In the U.S: I.G. Farben is BASF, Bayer and Hoechst.

Tampa FL : Dr. James Kimball sentenced to thirteen years, by federal mob, psychopath, Judge Richard Lazzara : Dr. Kimball's crime ? : curing patients of degenerative diseases and slowing their aging processes, using non-pharmaceutical medicines he invented, and the FDA not making any profit from it : having a 100% success rate with his patients, he had to be stopped. Federal Vermin Lazzara stated: "he does not have any respect for authority or for the law". Are you starting to get the picture?

Hitler stated in "Rise and Fall of the Third Reich", page 44: "Regardless of how much room for criticism there was in any religious denomination, a political party must never for a moment lose sight of the fact that in all previous historical experience a purely political party has never succeeded in producing a religious reformation." Compare this with page 486-487: "These peoples looked longingly toward their "mother" countries, Hungary, Russia and Germany respectively, though the Sudeteners had never belonged to the German Reich (except as a part of the loosely formed Holy Roman Empire) but only to Austria". Obviously Hitler saw his Third Reich as a Roman Catholic enterprise ["Center Party"(re-established as Christian Democratic Party" following WWII) Catholic Church political party, who's president was Bishop Ludwig Kaas {one of its political groups in Peru with the same name and for the same purpose}), of Germany was disbanded by Cardinal Pacelli, throwing all of its support behind Hitler]. Hitler was baptized in Linz, paid the German state tax (Kirchensteuer) to the Vatican (still required of every German citizen today), was in communion and carried out cannon law and policy until his demise. With this in mind we can see why Hitler stayed true to his other concordat allies: Franco (who was put into power and assisted for his entire reign by Catholic order Opus Dei (founded by Joseph Maria Escriva), who also assisted the Ustasha in Croatia during WWII and still assists Vatican mercenaries in Bosnia and Kosovo today; Sargent Shriver (and his wife, Eunice Kennedy Shriver), who was George McGovern's running mate in 1972, are Opus Dei (Pope's Mafia: Church and State magazine); F.B.I. special agent: Robert P. Hanssen (spied for the Russians for 15 years) and F.B.I. head: Louis Freeh are Opus Dei supernumerary: keep this in mind when you learn the sole purpose of the order is the subjugation of governments to the Vatican) <http://www.mond.at/opus.dei> (an annual mass is celebrated in Hitler's memory in Madrid) (the present day Irish Catholic press is full of flattering illusions to Franco of Spain and Salazar of Portugal) and Mussolini (who was put into power by the Vatican) while breaking every other international treaty. It is significant that Germany, Italy and Spain are together again as they were with Hitler, Mussolini and Franco (with their "Pact of Steel", signed, 22 May 1933).

2 March 1939: Cardinal Secretary of State, Eugenio Pacelli was sworn in as Pope Pius XII; four days later (as Hitler's tanks are rolling into Poland) Pacelli wrote to Hitler: "To the illustrious Herr Adolf Hitler, Fuhrer and chancellor of the German Reich! Here at the beginning of our pontificate we wish to assure you that we remain devoted to the spiritual welfare of the German people entrusted to your leadership. During the many years we spent in Germany, we did all in our power to establish harmonious relations between church and state. Now that the responsibilities of our pastoral function have increased our opportunities, how much more ardently do we pray to reach that goal? May the prosperity of the German people and their progress in every domain come, with God's help, to fruition!" Pacelli maintained a papal nuncio (Archbishop Orsenigo) in Berlin throughout the Third Reich. At Pacelli's express wish (20 April 1939) Orsenigo opened a gala reception for Hitler's 50th birthday, which became a tradition throughout the Third Reich, along with Cardinal Bertram sending "warmest congratulations to the Fuhrer in the name of the Bishops and dioceses in Germany", to which he added "fervent prayers which the Catholics of Germany are sending to heaven on their altars": "Hitler's Pope: The Secret History of Pius XII", by, John Cornwell (all research for this book was done in the Vatican Library).

Chick Publications (<http://www.chick.com>), in Ontario California, prints gospel tracts, storybooks and other Christian literature. This company is very important to this subject matter. As are the names of Joseph McCabe (former Franciscan monk and internationally famous atheist and author of almost 250 books); ex-Dominican monk: Walter M. Montano, author of "Behind the Purple Curtain"; ex-priest: Bernard Fresenborg, author of "Thirty years in hell" and "Uncle Sam's New Fiancee". Chick Publications has, in print, the true story of a former Jesuit who, after many years in the service of the Vatican, came out of the Church of Rome and put his story into print, as did Montano, McCabe and Fresenborg. This former Jesuit (Dr. Alberto Romero Rivera) and Jack Chick, of Chick Publications, have had many attempts made on their lives for publishing these materials, (Dr. Rivera, being poisoned by a dentist breaking off an infected needle in his jaw and systematically fed poison for many years, succumbed 20 June 1997) as have other authors and publishers of like subject matter. The Vatican does not take lightly the exposing of its practices, or of its secret books i.e. "Secret book of instructions for the Jesuits", LCCN: BX3705.A2 M65; "Secret History of the Jesuits": Edmond Paris 1975, LCCN: BX3706.2 .P3713 (these are two books you should definitely read). They expose the unquestionable clear methods and intentions of the Vatican for the future, (their own publications). There are enough books, by such a variety of authors, from different time periods, writing from first hand knowledge, saying the same thing that the evidence is inescapable. Denial of this information can only be done with total bigotry and abstinence of logic, and therefore can only be construed as complicity with its intentions (yes it does bear repeating). It is very true that tyranny can only prevail when good men do nothing e.g. Chamberlain and the Treaty of Versailles.

"Rome's responsibility for the assassination of Abraham Lincoln" (LCCN: E457.5.H316), author: Thomas M. Harris, Late Brigadier General U.S.V. (and a presiding judge over the trial of the conspirators), "The assassination of Abraham Lincoln" (LCCN: E457.5.H28 or .H31), also by Thomas M. Harris; "Behind the Purple Curtain" (LCCN: BX1773.M6); "The Great Conspiracy"; "The suppressed truth about the assassination of Abraham Lincoln" (LCCN: E457.5.M27) by Burke Mccarty; "Fifty years in the Church of Rome" by Charles Chiniquy, ex-catholic priest; "Treason History of the Order of the Sons of Liberty" (LCCN: E458.8.S85) by Felix G. Stidger; "Washington in the Lap of Rome" (LCCN: BX1770.F9) by Justin D. Fulton; "History of the Plots and Crimes of the Great Conspiracy to overthrow Liberty in America" (LCCN: E310.D983) by John Smith Dye; "The Trial of John Surratt" by: John Surratt [John Surratt hid in Catholic monasteries in Canada (6 weeks); England (4 weeks); became member of Zuaves (personal body guard to the Pope, in the Vatican) before, eventually, being extradited back to Washington D.C. to stand trial where (full row of Jesuits paraded, in file, up to John Surratt, at every break in the trial, to shake his hand and making sure the jury saw them) he got off on a hung jury. John Surratt and John Wilkes Booth studied for the catholic priesthood at the Sulpician Monastery, outside Baltimore].

"Official Records of the Union and Confederate Navies" series II volume III (federal depository library) shows the Vatican's involvement, on the side of the Confederacy, its complicity in the assassination of Abraham Lincoln and attempted assassination of Secretary of State William H. Seward. As well as their planned control of politics, education [Bill Bennett (and his, Jesuit, brother Bob are KNOWN operatives in CIA/MK-Ultra/Project Monarch-extreme trauma induced mind control sex deviates and pedophiliacs), self professed Jesuit, Secretary of Education, under Reagan (Reagan was shot, 30 March 1981, after balking at assigning Bill Bennett as Secretary of Education: In April of 1982, in a speech made to the National Catholic Education Association: Reagan made the incredible statement: "I am grateful for your help in shaping American policy to reflect God's will, And I will look forward to further guidance from His Holiness pope John Paul II during an audience I will have with him in June.") propagator of Outcome Based Education (OBE), stated: "All children should be taught by Jesuits"], immigration [St. Leopold Foundation (Vatican spy network, founded: Vienna Austria, 1828)] and their already, at that time, control of much of the press (which has grown to include every other mode of media communication): "Liberty of the press, the most dangerous liberty, an execrable liberty, which can never inspire sufficient horror, and which some men very noisily and insistently demand to spread everywhere . . . ": Pope Gregory XVI: (Toward a Catholic Constitution", pg. 59, by: Leonard Swidler.). Pope Pius wrote a letter to Jefferson Davis, with the specific instruction to have it printed in the Richmond newspaper to get the Irish Catholic's in the Union army to desert.

He did and they did (144,000+ deserted in one week). When Lincoln initiated a draft for the Union Army, in New York City(1864), Archbishop Hughes instigated the biggest race riot in American history, including the burning to the ground of a black orphanage and trampling to death of its occupants. We know the Illuminati's international bankers supplied Jeff Davis (who's secretary of state: Judah P. Benjamin, was a House of Rothschild agent), J.Wilkes Booth, Sons of Liberty, Knights of The Golden Circle (J. Wilkes Booth was seduced to assassinate Abraham Lincoln by a woman, Ella Turner, and joined Knights of The Golden Circle for the sole purpose of obtaining their assistance to that end; Leon Czolgosz joined Knights of The Golden Eagle and was seduced to assassinate president William Mckinley by the infamous woman anarchist: Emma Goldman), Order of American Knights (Copperhead organizations, still in existence today, with their own quarterly newspaper: "Copperhead Chronicles", with their same old anti-Lincoln and anti-Union rhetoric) etc. with money thru the Bank of Ontario, Montreal Branch, thru Jeff Davis's "Canadian Cabinet", which was planned in detail in the Vatican before Brig. Gen. Beauregard (Catholic) fired on Fort Sumter: "We have the proof that the company which had been selected and organized to murder me was led by a rabid Roman Catholic named Byrne; it was almost entirely composed of Roman Catholics. More than that, there were two disguised priests among them to lead and encourage them. Professor Morse, the learned inventor of electric telegraphy, tells me that recently, when he was in Rome, he found the proofs of a most formidable conspiracy against this country and all its institutions. It is evident that it is to the intrigues and emissaries of the Pope we owe, in great part, the horrible civil war which is threatening to cover the country with blood and ruin." (Abraham Lincoln). All this is in the Library of Congress, along with U.S. State Department record of the U.S. Government breaking off diplomatic relations with the Vatican on 30 June 1867 (for refusing to allow non-catholic religious worship inside the walls of Rome: which should tell you how TBN now has an international religious TV broadcasting station in Rome), which was re-established by Ronald Reagan, 10 Jan 1984. Reagan only authorized the raid on Moammar Gahdafi after Gahdafi's terrorists set off bombs in Rome, even though he knew about Gahdafi's terrorism and counterfeiting activities for years. <http://www.mosquitonet.com/~prewett/holyalliance1of2.html>

According to Alberto Rivera there have been over two thousand Jesuits in U.S. government positions prior to 1980. If this is true, and all indications appear so, there's no telling how many there are now, and how much power they wield in Washington and state governments. The Jesuits control the entire CIA/MK-Ultra/Project Monarch (extreme trauma induced multiple personality: Jesuit/Vatican mind control) program. These robotic victims are used as sex slaves and to deliver drugs/money and/or encrypted messages to heads of state and/or their drug operatives all over the world. They are also used to carry out murders [Eric Harris and Dyland Klebold (Al Gore and his goons wore black trench coats while he made his speech at Columbine High School: identifying with the "Trench Coat Mafia")].

Pierre Trudeau (Canadian President/Jesuit), De la Madrid (Mexico), Michigan governor: Blanchard, Prince Bandar Ben Sultan, Dr. Steve Hassen, Dr. Louis Jolyon West (psychiatrist who experimented with LSD for the CIA, and former head of Neurosychiatric Institute UCLA, Los Angeles), Civia Tamarkin, Sue Carper, Joe Casey, William Casey, Dennis Delaney, William Dieh, Lloyd Lindroth, Jimmy Buffett, Rev. Billy Roy Moore, Larry Flint, Charlie Pride, Jack Greene. Country music operatives: Alex Houston, Lee Atwater, Boxcar Willy, Jimmy Dean, Jimmy Walker, Tommy Overstreet, Lee Greenwood, Jerry Reed, Kris Kristopherson, Wayne Cox, Ken Riley, R.C. Bannon. Baseball operatives: Tommy Lasorda, Nolan Ryan. Others: Don & Guy Vanderjagt, Bud Crammer, Steve Hassen, J. Bennett Johnston (Louisiana Senator), David Rorick, Patrick Leahy, George Lucas, Michael Dante' (Michael Viti), Reggie "Mac" McLaughlin, Hal Meadows, Dick Thornburgh, Mickey Miller, Ray & Regina Myers, Scott Rosenburg, Carlos Salinas de Gortari, H.R. Gibson, Gary Ackerman, Lamar Alexander (ritual Satanist), General Cedras, Lt. Col. Michael Aquino, Jack Valenti, Jose Busto (Puerto Rican drug lord). Catholic priest operatives: Vesbit, father Don, James Thaylen. Centers for mind control experimentation: Branson Missouri Country Music Center, Lords Chapel Church (Brentwood Tenn.), St. Frances of Assisi Catholic Church/Catholic Center high school (Muskegon, Michigan), Jesuit College (Wheeling W.V.), Boys Town Orphanage (incorporated) Omaha Neb.), Mormon Church (Salt Lake City, Utah), Church of Scientology, Andrews A.F. Base, Barksdale A.F. Base, McDill A.F. Base, Offutt A.F. Base, Plattsburgh A.F. Base, Tinker A.F. Base, Warner-Robbins A.F. Base, Ft. McLelland, Ft George Meade, Ft. Campbell, NASA: Cape Canaveral; Washington D.C.; Marshall Space Flight Center, Redstone Arsenal, Huntsville Al., Harvard University ("Trance-Formation of America", by Cathy O'Brian and Mark Phillips). Advocacy Committee for Human Experimentation Survivors-Mind Control (ACHES-MC) is an organization dealing with survivor/victims of this heinous Jesuit/CIA program.

Linda Wegen's case is typical: (a loving mother simply trying to raise her children) after finding out her children were victims of SRA (satanic ritual abuse: by her ex-husband and the local day care center), Linda took her children to a psychiatric hospital who (after their examination) told Linda of her children's SRA condition. The federal authorities then confiscated everything Linda owned (home, bank accounts, car, clothing; literally, everything except the clothes she was wearing!): simply because she was trying to help her children: her children were given to her satanic ex-husband: even her children from her former marriage which he had not adopted. Satanic ritual abuse of children through day care centers is very prevalent, especially in Connecticut.

The "Finders" in New York City, is a CIA front organization dealing in kidnapping; international trafficking of children, pedophilia and drugs.

The Vatican bought 26.8 million dollars in gold from the U.S. reserves, at a dollar an ounce under market value ($34 an ounce) and sold it back to the Government at market value [$35 an ounce (United Nations World Magazine, Dec.1952)]; With 5500+ schools, colleges and universities (Clinton was educated at Jesuit Georgetown University, where he and Fidel Castro were trained in communist philosophies; Jefferson Davis at St. Thomas Catholic college in Kentucky) all receiving government subsidies. Marymount College in Boca Raton, Florida is typical: Founded in 1963 and having a student body of 350 in 1968, it received, from the government, two million in housing grants, a $55,000 anti-poverty grant to study migrant children and a $10,000 education grant; In 1965 in Mississippi a $7,000,000 government-sponsored program for the retraining of unemployed was run by an agency organized by a Roman Catholic Diocese, the $7,000,000 was financed by the government via the Hillburton Act (1954, 1964). From 1947 to 1964 7,372 such projects were approved; HUD condemning public lands and giving it to the Catholic Church, along with protestant tax money to develop the land [build Catholic schools or hospitals (since 1961 the Catholic Church has been receiving $83,000+ a day for such projects)]. HEW should be renamed CPA (Catholic Property Acquisition); Jesuit Fordham University acquired a valuable piece of Lincoln Square in New York City for a fraction of its worth, then got federal aid to develop the property; Manhattan College, famous for its wines and brandy, obtained a large factory and financial assistance from New York's Dormitory Authority;

In Chicago HEW donated a sixty-acre, 4.5 million dollar tract at the Hines Veterans Administration Hospital to Jesuit Loyola University. When V.A. general councilman Fred B. Rhodes Jr. balked at the giveaway a devout Catholic replaced him. New York State banking records shows us that in 1962 the Catholic Church owns stocks and bonds in hundreds of corporations. Among others: Baltimore & Ohio R.

R., Rock Island, Erie, Sea Board, Missouri Pacific, Pere Marquette, Goodyear Tire & Rubber, Firestone, Fisk, U.S. American Smelting, Commonwealth Edison, Brooklyn Edison, N.Y. Edison, Pacific Gas & Electric, West Penn Power, American Commonwealth Power, Texas Electric, Atlantic City Convention Hall, Louisiana Hotel Company, Squire Building, Lane Bryant, Fox Playhouses, Fox Theater (St. Louis), Denver Joint Stock Land Bank, Savoy Plaza Hotel, National Dairy, Thermoid, Washington Silk, Pillsbury Flour, Yankee Stadium, Watergate, General Motors, General Electric, Shell Oil, Bethlehem Steel, Gulf Oil, IBM, Boeing, Lockheed, Douglas, Curtis Wright, Phillips Oil Co., Creole Petroleum Co. And all tax-free.

In Massachusetts its hard to distinguish between the Catholic Church and the state government, every time a public school closes the Catholic Church buys it for a dollar; The Catholic Church never loses a "sealed" bid on public land auctions. This is done via an open and devious by-passing of the U.S. Constitution, by the hidden Catholic pressure group within the U.S. Government, state and local, by the legal, semi-legal and dubious politico-financial manipulations of sly Catholic dealers relentlessly operating in the legislative, financial and real estate fields on behalf of the Catholic Church. At one time the Catholic Church owned more land area than the entire state of Connecticut. The Catholic Church has been "buying" land and constructing buildings in New York City at a rate second only to the city itself (being all tax exempt: care to take a guess why New York City went bankrupt twice when George "Mr. Cocaine" Bush was in the Whitehouse?) and all thanks to Cardinal Francis "burn-em alive" Spellman ("The Vatican Billions" by Avro Manhattan); [The Popes banker, Michele Sindona, was a very busy boy before being sent to federal prison in New York State for causing the default of Franklin National Bank. It appears he was not only the Popes banker but also the banker for: IOR [Vatican bank (Societa General Immobiliare), Italian Masonic Lodge, P2(Italian Masonic Lodge political arm), Vatican political party, Sicilian mafia and Lacosa Nostra (Sindona set up the system for Sicilian mafia and Lacosa Nostra to launder their drug money thru Vatican owned banks, Credit Swiss, in Switzerland). He, in all likelihood, set up the program of $900,000,000 in counterfeit bonds for the Vatican, to be pushed in this country. When it was discovered that the Vatican Bank (IOR) and Cardinal Tisserant (second only to the Pope) were the main offenders, and an investigation was certain to follow, Tisserant conveniently died, requesting before his death that his diaries be removed from the Vatican.]; The I.R.S. classifying people who stand up for their rights as non-filers, knowing full well there is no I.R.S. code or law requiring anyone to assess themselves for any tax (article five of the Bill of Rights) and then turning them over to the B.A.T.F. who (by computer program automatically) classifies them as drug smugglers with their semi-secret "T" code system["T5"(I.R.S.6209 manual)], to give them the appearance of legality, to confiscate properties [If you go to court (Title 4(annotated) U.S. Code, Chapter 1:

U.S. flags in federal court rooms are military Ceremonial/Parade Flags (gold fringe), AR840-10(b-1): under which the U.S. Constitution is suspended {two gold-knotted-tasseled ropes are admiralty flag: again the U.S. Constitution is suspended}) with the I.R.S. they ask you about your U.S. citizenship and if you don't answer just right they classify you as a citizen of Puerto Rico, Guam, Samoa or the U.S. Virgin Island's [the "other" united states that are owned by the District of Columbia (acquired! from the Spanish American War) and run by the Catholic Church]. Care to guess why? (Because that's the only place the I.R.S. & B.A.T.F. have "legal" jurisdiction). The I.R.S. is a department of the Treasury of Puerto Rico. The title heading of the I.R.S. reads: "Internal Revenue Service a Department of The Treasury", it does not tell whose treasury it's a department of. Look in 31 USC under Dept. of U.S. Treasury and look for the agencies they authorize: guess who is missing, that's right, the B.A.T.F. & I.R.S. Why do you make checks payable to the I.R.S. and not the U.S. Treasury? That's how the I.R.S. diverts your money to the international bankers (IMF)]; The names of every member of the jury pool, in a tax case, is given to the I.R.S. by the U.S. Attorney prosecuting the case: securing a partial jury for the I.R.S. If you, or any one you know, is having problems with the I.R.S. contact, tax expert, Ben Houck Ph:(614)532-9669 or Fax: (614)532-3570. Ben knows more about income tax codes than the I.R.S.

The Jesuits own fifty one percent of Bank of America (largest bank in the U.S.) the Vatican owns stock in hundreds of banks all over the world; Banca Nazionale de Lavoro (the Pope owns controlling interest), through its branch in Atlanta Georgia, laundered over $5 billion of American taxpayers money from the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture to pay for Saddam Hussein's war machine, including his "super gun"; Railroading Rep. George Hansen (R-Id.) into prison and physical torture ("Diesel Therapy", that left his wrist's crippled for life) by judge Edward Lodge, after Hansen called for a congressional investigation of the Justice Department and wrote the book: "To Harass Our People, The IRS and Government Abuse of Power" (assault on religion) [In this book Representative Hansen exposes the I.R.S.'s practice of selectively prosecuting church's for income tax evasion (Sun Yung Moon,1981, for not reporting interest on 112,000 in Chase Manhattan bank. Do not be deluded that this has anything to do with a zeal for collecting tax's for the United States Treasury.

The tax, fine and penalties combined do not amount to a fraction of what the I.R.S. spent in prosecuting the Moon case. Not three miles from the court house where he was prosecuted, Roman Catholic Archbishop of New York: Terence Cooke, held personally in his own name, assets worth a thousand times that which Moon was charged with evading. In fact Catholic church law requires the reigning ordinary own its property in his own name: known in law as: "corporate sole", for which, of all the hundreds of Catholic Archdioceses reigning Cardinals and Bishops in the U.S. not one has ever been looked at by the I.R.S., much less brought up on any charge, showing conclusively, who the I.R.S. selects and why): In the trial of F. Tupper Saussy, <http://www.patshannan.bizland.com/rulerintro.html> prosecuted by (self professing Jesuit) John MaCcoon, exculpatory evidence ignored or suppressed, prosecutorial improprieties excused, attempts to avoid consequences of improprieties bring punishment: This prosecutorial/judicial steamrolling people into prison (Saussy with 14 months) is not unique to tax court cases. It is the typical judicial MO of state courts railroading parents (of phony child sex abuse cases) into prison: Kern County(Bakersfield) California is typical (see the docudrama: "Just Ask My Children"); Ruining Rep. Joseph Montoya (D-N. M.) for pushing for reforms of I.R.S. agency crimes exposed by him in Senate hearings in the 1970's; F.D. A., H.R.S. etc. arresting people, ransacking health food stores, confiscating property, killing animals, destroying property, and all without a court order and in deliberate violation of article five of the Bill of Rights, throwing peoples right of habeas corpus (assumed innocent until proven guilty) out the window; with immigration (totally controlled by Jesuits)bringing in Hispanics (all Catholic) by the boat loads (legally and illegally) to feed off our welfare system and further deplete the economy [which explains the planned failure of Nafta and Gat (sending companies and jobs to dominant Catholic countries) thru Vatican controlled Mexico] and influence federal, state, county and city legislation and elections [the unofficial private corporation: News Election Service (NES) has sole physical control of the counting and dissemination of every vote, in our national elections, and does not allow the public to know how it is done] and will be the only ones to receive unending welfare when welfare "officially" comes to an end. At or near every immigration office in the U.S. is a Catholic law firm to give free legal assistance to any Catholic immigrant entering this country. Anyone doubting this should read: "Illegal Emigration movements In And Through Italy", by: Vincent La Vista, declassification no. NND 760050, 4-11-90, National Archives Record Group No. 59, Center For Legislative Archives, Washington D.C: Why else would we have immigration offices in Rome and Mexico City?

Ronald Reagan and Richard Nixon used the WWII fascist war criminals smuggled into this country(Nazi war criminal, Walter Dohrnberger, sentenced to be hung at Nuremberg, is head of Bell Aerospace Corp. R & D dept.) thru the Vatican "Ratlines" to get the ethnic votes that put them in the Whitehouse. Ronald Reagan, while governor of California, set a day of recognition for the Ustasha of Yugoslavia until the Yugoslavian government protested; on his visit to a concentration camp in Europe: Reagan laid a wreath on the grave of an S.S. officer.

"The Church can dispense from a promissory oath. This power belongs to the Pope and Bishops, who exercise it either by themselves or by their delegates." p.203; "The civil laws (of Christendom) are binding in conscience so long as they are conformable to the rights of the Catholic Church."p.278 "Abridged Course of Religious Instruction for the Use of Colleges and Schools" by: Rev. F.X. Schouppe (Jesuit); federal judges controlling the juries to the extent that they have no choice but to rule the way they say, or overruling them and passing his own judgement on the defendants (which moves sovereignty from the people to the courts), e.g. Walter Smith Jr.(Judge Roy Bean) of Waco Texas. The list of federal agency violations of "citizens rights" is a bottomless pit. Like the threat made on myself by an I.R.S. special agent from Pikeville Ky. in the I.R.S. office in Ashland Ky.(28 April 1995) when he laid a loaded snub nose cal.38 revolver on the desk in front of me, with the barrel pointed at me, while being witnessed by collections agent John T. Yewell.

Then there's Mt. Carmel, with its trumped up charge of a methamphetamine laboratory (never mentioned again after the raid started) to give assistant U.S. attorney Bill Johnston an excuse to get his warrant and special forces training for his B.A.T.F. goons; and with the B.A.T.F. agent Robert Rodriguez having been in Mount Carmel (day before the raid) where he inspected all the firearms and knew what was and was not there, and with further inspection of the weapons "requested" of the B.A.T.F. by David Koresh and "refused" by the B.A.T.F.(which would have left them without an excuse for their murder and mayhem). Five FBI agents rented a house across the road from Mt. Carmel: two of those agents attended bible study classes with David Koresh for a month before they started their slaughter: at the same time other FBI agents were busy printing and handing out leaflets in Waco, degrading the Branch Davidians. I'm sure Bill Johnston was expecting a turkey shoot, and all with 100% support from the controlled (Skull & Bones) media, before, during and ever since ("The Massacre of The Branch Davidians" by Carol Moore, 28 Jan 1994). All of this is a precursor of what is to come.

Ever notice how the media never misses an opportunity to jump on preachers who make statements concerning government policy, screaming: "separation of church and state"? And when the Pope comes to this country making speeches on the same issues their silence is deafening! The only person to voice a negative response to the Popes statements to abortion was Madelin Murrey O'Hair, whose statements have not been published since. Just before O'Hair, and her family, was to go to New York, to protest the Pope, she and her family disappeared without a trace. Again the media silence was deafening.

Ever notice the A.C.L.U. in all of its rantings about separation of church and state is stone silent about government (protestant taxpayer) moneys going to Catholic schools? (Federal grants and loans to Jesuit colleges, universities and their programs are in the billions). At the turn of the century Pope Leo XIII was raking in over one and a half million dollars annually from: (1) Peter's pence contribution (over $415,000); (2) Apostolic Chancellery aggregate ($520,000); (3) Interest of the vast sum left by Pius IX in the Pontifical treasury, invested chiefly in English Consols ($625,000). Notice the Pope trusted the securities of a Protestant nation and not a Catholic as France, Spain or Mexico. These figures would hardly make a dent in those of today.

The Jesuits rake in over $280 million annually. The assets of Grey Nuns of Charity $3.5 million; Sisters of the Immaculate Heart $7.5 million; Sisters of Saint Joseph of Newark $17,899,384; Little Sisters of the Poor $25 million; Sisters of Mercy $39,754,132; Sisters of Charity $66,533,833; Sisters of Charity of Providence $90,187,000; Sisters of the Sorrowful Mother $93,636,516; Sisters of the Holy Cross $110,892,759. There are 539 such orders of nuns and monks. All tax-free! AND THE I.R.S. NEVER LOOKS AT!! "Praise The Lord For Tax Exemption", by: Stanley Lowell and Martin Larson.

If you think my thesis untenable then please prove me wrong. Simply run a background check (personnel file) to see which (if any) Jesuit schools were attended by (or: Knights of Columbus; Knights of Malta; Opus Dei): publishers of public school history books; federal judges: Joyce Hens Green, Manuel L. Real, Tanner, Hodges, Thomas P. Griesa, Milton Pollack, John W. Walker Jr., Kimba Wood, Clifford Weckstein, Richard A. Posner, Richard Maich, Ranck, James F. McClure and definitely Walter "RoyBean" Smith Jr. of Waco; Assistant U.S. Attorney's Bill Johnston, John Maisto (U.S. diplomat), Leslie Brydon, Herschel Lock, Jeffery Mench, [the previous three, along with Tom Bowman (personal aid to Skull & Bones Senator Arlen Specter), Richard Medellin, Judges: Rank and James F. McClure being instrumental in the kidnapping (the children were taken without the parents being present or even notified when the charges were presented in court) of the children of Steven and Dawn Ames in the court of common plea's of Northumberland County Pennsylvania. The sole charges being: teaching their children the Bible and the U.S. Constitution], and B.A.T.F.'s: John Magaw, Davey Aguilera and Lloyd "Bilderberg" Bentsen [who was C.F.R.(Illuminati)]; Peter Galbraith: U.S. Ambassador in Zagreb; Bob Bartel of "TheSpotlight" newspaper (his political tabloid is anti-Semitic and denies the Holocaust, which was orchestrated in the Vatican); Tom Metzger, who's skinhead organization uses R.C. symbology [the mirror image dragon/bird, used by the Skinheads, is identical to that used by the Nazi's and Albanian K.L.A. (Stash)] and doctrine (with the names changed) and has direct links with skin head/nazi organizations in Germany; US Magistrate: Richard Kop, US Attorney Thomas Taken, FBI head: Nicholas O'Hara, Mickey Mott (the last four being Satan worshiping pedophile of Omaha Nebraska); Frank Liberto (New Orleans godfather/ close associate to J. Edgar Hoover (Knight of Malta) and key figure in the assassination of Martin Luther King Jr.). Kno!wn Knights of Malta members are: William Casey (CIA head), Jeremiah Denton (Alabama Senator), Pete Domenici (New Mexico Senator), Alexander Haig, William Simon (Treasury Secretary), William F. Buckley, Lee Iacocca.

Every Government official, especially C.I.A., graduate from Yale University is Skull & Bones (which had its origin in the University of Berlin. Founded at Yale by Alphonso Taft and William H. Russell and exists only at Yale University). Some members being: Arlen Specter, Prescott Bush (and other Skull & Bones members robbed the grave of Geronimo in Oklahoma taking the body back to the "Tomb" on the Yale campus), George Bush, George Bush Jr., Franklin Roosevelt, Kellogg, Dupont, Richard Bissell Jr. etc.

Since the Pope has set down, in document, his clear intentions it would be prudent to do a background check on Robert L. Sumner (who spreads lies about fundamental preachers): "Against an elder receive not an accusation, but before two or three witnesses." (I Timothy 5:19), Jim Bakker, Pat Robertson [J. Peter Grace, top man in Knights of Malta (a secret Catholic quasi-religious on the surface/anti-religious at the core organization that dates back to the Crusaders), is godfather to his children], Paul Crouch, Benny Hinn, Billy Graham and Jack Van Impe. These are T.V. preachers pushing the ecumenical whitewash of the "Mother of harlots and the abominations of the earth" (Rev.17:5). "For such are false apostles, deceitful workers, transforming themselves into the apostles of Christ. And no marvel for Satan himself is transformed into an angel of light. Therefore it is no great thing if his ministers also be transformed as the ministers of righteousness; whose end shall be according to their works" (II Corinthians 11:13-15). The Jesuits have been in control of the National Council of Church's and World Council of Church's for over thirty years.

It is very relevant to remember that the Vatican [Vatican is from the classical Latin root word: Vaticanus, which by definition means: "house of divination"(dwelling of demons); standing in the center of St. Peters Square is an obelisk (symbol of male sex organ in Satan worship) from Egypt] is an independent country with its own dogmatic constitution. With the Pope (vicar of Christ) being the head of that state. Therefore for a practicing R.C. "not to" adhere to the dictates of the Pope and his encyclicals is to go against God. This is Roman Catholic canon law: "Abridged Course of Religious Instruction for the Use of Colleges and Schools," by Rev. Father F.X. Schoupe (Jesuit) p.203: "The Church can dispense from a promissory oath. This power belongs to the Pope and bishops, who exercise it either by themselves or by their delegates." p.278: "The civil laws (of Christendom) are binding in conscience so long as they are conformable to the rights of the Catholic Church." (What's this tell you about the U.S. Supreme Court of which at least four are R.C. and ruled to keep the Bible out [while allowing two dirty books: "Of Mice and Men" and "Catcher In The Rye" (of which John Lennon's killer {Mark David Chapman} was a student) to be required reading in every high school in the country] of Public schools and to murder the unborn and calls pornography: "freedom of speech"?). ("The kings of the earth set themselves, and the rulers take counsel together against the LORD, and against his anointed, saying, let us break their bands asunder, and cast away their cords from us. He that sitteth in the heavens shall laugh: the Lord shall have them in derision.

Then shall he speak unto them in his wrath, and vex them in his sore displeasure." (Psalm, 2:2-5.) This is very important to remember also when reviewing the events leading up to and during the Vietnam War i.e. secret meetings in the early fifties of certain democratic senators (including John Kennedy) concerning Vietnam; placing R.C. Ngo Dinh Diem in the presidency [after being schooled in the U.S., by Cardinal Francis "Burn-em Alive" Spellman (key figure behind William J. Donovan (Knight of Malta), creator of the O.S.S., forerunner to the CIA; close associate of Dwight D. Eisenhower {who directed American B-17 bombers to avoid I.G. Farben headquarters in Berlin and cut off the gas supply for General Patton's tanks to slow him down, thus extending the war), who's only answer to communism was to burn them alive, and Robert McNamara thru the CIA (Catholic Illuminati Assassin's)] in deliberate violation of a legally constituted (U.N. sanctioned and observed) election, which communism won; Diem's systematic "ethnic cleansing" of all who would not recant of their religion and embrace Catholicism; creating a tax structure that was so oppressive that non-Catholics were starved out, and so favorable to Catholics that it caused a mass exodus of North Vietnamese Catholics to the south and south Vietnamese Buddhists to the north, which was more than even John Kennedy could tolerate, so he had Diem killed (2Nov63), and twenty days later Kennedy was shot by three hit men (Oswald look-alike: manhole on street curb: last two picked from, FBI Division 5's thirty professional assassins kept on retainer in Mexico City) 22Nov63 (planned and supervised by, two sex deviates: Clay Shaw (Knight of Malta), Solidarist-Catholic priest: David Ferrie and William Seymour: employees of Defense Industrial Security Command (DISC) which is a joint venture of FBI's Division 5 and Defense Intelligence Agency of the Pentagon). Almost all of the orchestration operatives were WWII Nazi's smuggled into this country 1945-1950 on Vatican visa's e.g. Werner von Braun and Walter Dohrnberger. Ferenc Nagy: high level boss in FBI Division 5 and president of Permindex Corp. (money laundering liaison for FBI Division 5 and DISC operatives) was the "umbrella man" in Deily Plaza who opened his umbrella (sunny day) signaling the start of the shooting (closing his umbrella signaled the stop).

Top planners in the assassination cabal: Lyndon Johnson, J. Edgar Hoover, L.M. Bloomfield, Ferenc Nagy, John DeMenil, Carlos Prio Socarras, Walter Jenkins, H.L. Hunt [American Council of Christian Churches (ACCC)], Bobby Baker, Clifford Jones, L.J. McWillie, Werner Von Braun, Roy Cohn, Fred Korth, John Connally and Clint Murchison.

L.M. Bloomfield (answering only to Hoover and Johnson) was in overall charge of the supervisory and working assignment group: Walter Dohrnberger, Guy Bannister, Albert Osborne (ACCC), E.E. Bradley (ACCC), Morris Dalitz (Las Vegas), Major General John B. Medaris, Robert McKeown, Igor Voshinin, George Bouhe, Peter Gregory, Maurice Gatlin, Sergio Arcacha Smith, Lee Harvey Oswald, William Seymour, David Ferrie (Catholic priest), T. Gonzales, Manuel Garcia Gonzales, Layton Martens, Gordon Novel, Walter Sheridan, William Dalzell, Paul Raigorodsky, Joe Bonnano, Dimitri Royster (ACCC), Alex Carlson, George Mandel, Breck Wall, Clay Shaw, Joe Cody, Jake Kosloff, Mike McLaney, Ruth and Mike Payne, Igor Vogonov, Jack Bowen, Mike Ryan, Tammie True, Max Cherry, Patrick Hoy, David Hoy, James Powell and many others with lesser assignments. (Nomenclature of An Assassination Cabal, by: William Torbitt { pseudonym}).

This document previously quoted: "Plausible Denial" by, Mark Lane. However due to more recent revelation, it is obvious that publication is without merit [Mark Lane (personal friend and confidant to the infamous Jesuit: Jim Jones), as attorney for James Earl Ray, sent his key witness to Jonestown the day before the Jonestown massacre. Fortunately, for her, she didn't go].

The Vietnam "genocide" was given a fresh shot in the arm in the 1967 C.I.A.: "Operation Phoenix", implemented by, sovereign Knight of Malta: William Casey [known MK-Ultra/Project Monarch pedophile operative (CIA's Laos & Vietnam station chief, egregious mass murderer, Theodore Shackley being the key operative in the assassination cabal, under George Bush)].

General Westmoreland became a Catholic while in command in Vietnam. Ross Perot wasn't able to contact any POW, MIA's because the C.I.A. kept getting in the way, with their operation of taking over the opium smuggling trade, for themselves and the Sicilian Mafia, out of the "Golden Triangle" [largest buyers of opium in the world are well known top officials in the C.I.A. & D.O.D. (Richard Armatage, no.2 man in the Department of Defense (DOD); Theodore Shackley, no.2 man in the CIA, under George Bush. Bush is on the board of directors of Eli Lilly: the company that produces the precursor chemicals to produce cocaine, heroine and the company that first synthesized LSD for the CIA)]. The U.S. government transports over half the illegal narcotics into the U.S., mostly on military transport, tons at a time with no customs check, then flown on commercial airliners, in cargo containers, to organized crime families, then distributed in cities street gangs, Contra's and motorcycle gangs: <http://www.ciadrugs.com>

Nixon got us out of Vietnam without winning and the Vatican getting control of the southern government, for which he was watergated (the Watergate office building complex was built and is owned by the Vatican). Read: "Vietnam, why did we go?" by: Avro Manhattan. Ten days before his assassination John Kennedy stated in a speech at Columbia University: "The high office of president has been used to foment a plot to destroy the Americans freedom, and before I leave office I must inform the citizen of his plight". There is evidence of Fidel Castro's involvement in the conspiracy but not conclusively.

However Dr. Alberto Rivera's testimony of knowing of Castro's presence in the Vatican while he, and the infamous Jim Jones, were there in school (being trained to destroy church's), and Soldier of Fortune magazine's article on two Jesuits kidnapping Honduran peasant farmers and sending them to Cuba, into forced guerilla warfare training, along with John Kennedy stopping the B-26 bombers from taking off in support of the freedom fighters during the Bay of Pigs invasion, which they were totally dependant on; leaving Castro's planes to strafe and bomb the raiders {its obvious the raid was designed to fail: all aspects were controlled by the CIA; troop transport deck machine guns malfunctioned, mounts rusted thru, four of six landing craft sink before their even boarded; using Bay of Pigs [which the Cuban Revolutionary Council would never approve (reefs, surrounded by swamp, radio station nearby) so Kennedy has them flown, under false pretences, to a blacked out airfield at Opa-Locka Fla., where their held in isolation, against their will, under armed military guard: Only then do they learn, via AM radio, that the raid has been moved up (putting the initial air strike, using six B-26's, not all fourteen, securing minimal damage and giving Castro ample warning of an impending attack) just before the UN meeting knowing the US would be blamed, giving Kennedy his excuse to ground the bombers (but not the paratroop plane's taking off from the same field in Nicaragua) and, had not only already started, but already past the point of no return] guaranteeing the failure of the raid and effectively ending all organized effort to remove Castro}.

"This was how the whole thing was going from the beginning", General Lemnitzer: Chairman Joint Chiefs of Staff ("Bay of Pigs, The Untold Story" by Peter Wyden), certainly lends credibility to the assertion that Castro is a Jesuit and was involved in Kennedy's assassination. We do know Castro is Illuminati and indoctrinated in communism at Georgetown (Jesuit) University (as was Bill Clinton). Kennedy had stopped borrowing money from the IMF: had issued and signed executive order 11110, abolishing the FED, and had new inflationary money printed at the US Treasury (the bills you see with red serial numbers) which secured the orchestration of his assassination by the Illuminati, Bilderberg's (modern day version of: "Congress of Vienna" who wrote the "Secret Treaty of Verona" 1814-1815: the execution of this edict was assigned to the re-established Jesuits 1814) and Trilateral Commission; he made it known he was going to dissolve the CIA, thereby securing Skull & Bones organizations co-operation; having Ngo Dinh Diem killed, plan of pulling U.S. troops out of Vietnam without getting control of Vietnam for the Vatican secured the co-operation of the Jesuits and the Vatican. Though J. Edgar Hoover set the procedural orchestration in motion, John Connolly, Lyndon Johnson and Louis M. Bloomfield (Canadian lawyer who did the contract operative hiring for FBI's Division 5), the planning of the assassination itself was done by E. Howard Hunt (also an operative in the "Watergating" of Richard Nixon), William Seymour, Clay Shaw and David Ferrie (Catholic priest). Financing the entire assassination operation was Vatican banks: De Famaco Astalde Vaduz (Swiss), Leichtenstein (Swiss), Seligman Bank (Swiss), Banca Nazionale de Lavoro (Rome) [this bank owned by the Pope, through its branch in Atlanta Georgia, laundered $5 billion from the U.S. Department of Agriculture to Saddam Hussein's war machine, including his "Super Gun"]. Lyndon Johnson sent the USS Maddox and USS C. Turner Joy into North Vietnamese territorial waters (2&4 Aug 64) to draw fire from North Vietnam (the radio message the USS Maddox received, ordering it, and USS C. Turner Joy, into North Vietnamese territorial waters came direct from the Whitehouse). When the plan failed to bring the desired results (knowing why they were there: Maddox and C. Turner Joy fired on each other in the night out of sheer paranoia) Johnson lied to Congress and the nation, saying the North Vietnamese fired on an American "peace keeping" ship in international waters: giving him his excuse to commit U.S. troops into armed conflict with North Vietnam. Later Johnson realizing "his" war is a non winner and his bombing escalation's bring protest's and riots and not able to back out either (he didn't want to take a ride through Dealy Plaza): simply elected not to run for "another term as your president", thereby escaping "the poisonous cup"; "the strangulation cord"; "the steel of the poiniard"; "the leaden bullet".

The blanket of corporate stonewalling (by every department of legislative, executive and judicial branches of government, including the media, to all subsequent investigations into the murders of John F. Kennedy, Martin Luther King and Robert F. Kennedy, extending from the local levels all the way to the U.S. Presidency and Supreme Court) culminates into a preponderance of evidence of, not only a cover-up, but complicity in the carrying out of these atrocities ("The Truth behind The Murder of Martin Luther King, Orders To Kill" by, William F. Pepper). The one common element connecting John F. Kennedy, Martin Luther King Jr., Robert F. Kennedy: all three were working to get us out of Vietnam (militarily) when they met their untimely demise: The executive order President Kennedy issued: ordering all American troops back home from Vietnam, was reversed by Johnson, before Kennedy's body was in the ground. Cardinal Francis "Burn-em Alive" Spellman (trainer of Ngo Dinh Diem, president and butcher of South Vietnamese Buddhists) was the one person the F.B.I. consulted to persuade the Pope not to have a meeting with Martin Luther King Jr., and Spellman concurred. Project Monarch operative: Gerald Ford was the only member of the congressional investigative committee to say that Lee Harvey Oswald acted alone in the assassination of John Kennedy (and the only one in the committee to make president: and he made it by appointment). Dorothy Kilgallon ("What's My Line" game show panelist): upon leaving Jack Ruby's cell, stated: "I'm going to blow this thing wide open": two days later she was dead: another jesuit/Illuminati convenient "suicide": after this, Louis Jolyon West (psychiatrist and Project Monarch mind control operative) was assigned to "take care" of Jack Ruby.

By LAPD's own SUS file: Sirhan Sirhan was hypno-programmed using hypnotic drugs and torture (by, DISC operative: reverend Jerry Owen, CIA mind-control specialist: William Bryan and others) producing MPD (Multiple Personality Disorder mind control, a product of CIA's MK-Ultra-Project Monarch) at the horse stable, in Santa Anita, where he worked with Thomas Bremer (the brother of Arthur Bremer: who shot George Wallace in 1972). Sirhan Sirhan was used to distract attention while CIA's Thane Eugene Cesar (in the employ of the LAPD) shot Robert F. Kennedy behind the right ear. John Hinckley Jr.'s (shot Ronald Reagan) brother was George Bush's golf partner. John Hinckley Sr. (owner of Vanderbilt Oil Co.) has been George Bush's neighbor in Texas for years, and contributed to his campaign when he first ran for congress.

John Maisto (U.S. Diplomat to the Philippines) came to Panama to train the "Civic Crusade" (C.I.A. operatives {many of which are trained in the infamous terrorist-revolutionary "School of the Americas" at Fort Benning, Ga.}): organizing street campaigns, burn tires, protest march's etc. Archbishop Marcos Mcgrath, Monsignor Jose' Sebastian Laboa, Priest Javier Villanueva being among the operatives in the destabilization campaign. A repeat of Manila, Guatemala, Nicaragua, Grenada and Haiti's Francois "Papa Doc" Duvalier. Archbishop Mcgrath and his priests ran their own operation of ballot box confiscation and vote counting (having no connection with the Panamanian Voting Commission) in deliberate violation of Panamanian law (what's this tell you about NES, News Election Service, giving the established press total control of counting and dissemination of national voting and does not allow the public to know how it is done?! What's this tell you about John Kennedy winning the election when Richard Nixon won the vote?). Archbishop McGrath later became guarantor of transition of the Panamanian Government from military to civilian control (the Vatican has $1.4 billion invested in sundry Panamanian and other "shell" companies) after he, along with Laboa and Villanueva, tricked Noriega into the Vatican Embassy with the promise of diplomatic immunity, then once in the embassy giving him the choice of surrendering to the U.S. Army or they would let the army in to capture (kill) him. The Panamanian raid was concocted by Senator Alan Simpson (R) Wyoming. This is a direct continuance of: "Secret Treaty of Verona" policy of extermination of all representative governments as recorded in the: U.S. Congressional Record-Senate of the 64th Congress, 1st session volume 53, part 7, page 6781, 25 April 1916 and in the: American Diplomatic Code, 1778-1884, vol. 2; Elliott, p.179.

With main accusers like Jorge Canalias, Floyd Carlton Caceres, Cesar Rodriguez, Teofilo Watson (pilots who flew arms to the Contra's and cocaine to the U.S.) and paid convicts (recruited from American prisons) as key witnesses in conjunction with the Classified Information Procedures Act (CIPA, U.S. Code 22) Noriega's fate was sealed as soon as he entered the Vatican Embassy (With legal procedures like this you could convict John Kennedy of assassinating Lee Harvey Oswald). William Kunstler was planning to defend Manuel Noriega in Miami federal court before his(convenient) death prevented his representation.

Now with no Panamanian National Guard [many of which were shot(at Balboa High School concentration camp) with their hands zip tied behind their backs, by U.S. marines (journalist Julio Guerra was murdered by U.S. marines for photographing the bodies)], Panama is now a major stopover point on the opium trail from south and Central America to the U.S. Cocaine is rampant now in George "Mr. Cocaine" Bush's (who's cocaine running boats from his oil well rigs go unchecked by the coast guard) Panamanian narcodemocracy. With drug money's being laundered thru Panamanian banks, e.g. Interbanko, First Inter America's Bank (owned by drug cartel boss Gilberts Rodriguez Orejuela) ("The Memoirs of Manuel Noriega, America's Prisoner" by: Manuel Noriega and Peter Eisner). Now with, RC Priest, Jean-Bertrand Aristide, back in power in Haiti the cocaine trail is complete.

We know from WW II that the Vatican had a highly militant influence in Yugoslavia.

War records show the existence of a Vatican organization called "Ustasha" (from the verb: ustati, meaning

"to rise up"). The reputation of the Ustasha throughout Yugoslavia is far worse than that of the S.S., S.D., S. A. and Gestapo combined: being created by Ante Pavelic, the head of the Ustasha state of Croatia. Pavelic held many and frequent meetings with Bishops and Archbishops of Croatia and Pope Pius XII. Pavelic was to Yugoslavia what Hitler was to Europe. Pope Pius XII's statement to a group of Croats, on a pilgrimage to the Vatican (lead by Archbishop Aljzije Stepinac), Nov 1939, outlined the Vatican orchestrated atrocities from 1941-1945 and 1991-1995: "The hope of a better future seems to be smiling on you, a future in which the relations between church and state in your country will be regulated in harmonious action to the advantage of both." Catholic priests like Stane Kukavica (Franciscan monk), changed their robes for the uniforms of the dreaded Ustasha killer squads and led the most barbaric, brutal raids upon those people and practiced satanic torture never before known in this century. The entire genocide operations were overseen by the military vicar Archbishop Alojzije Stepinac ("Jasenovac" was the main center for extermination, being the third largest concentration camp in WWII where over 800,000 Serbs, Jews and Gypsies were systematically butchered) working directly with the Nazi's, helping to create the state of Croatia. (read:

"Smokescreens" by: Jack Chick; "The Yugoslav Auschwitz and the Vatican" by: Vladimir Dedijer; "Blowback" by: Christopher Simpson). The gold from

Holocaust victims jewelry and teeth (what was not used to smuggle WW II war criminals out of Europe) is today held in Vatican banks: for which there is an ongoing lawsuit by the law firms of Easton & Levy, at: <http://www.remnantofgod.org/Ustashe.htm>

<http://www.skolnicksreport.com/vaticanbank.html> <http://www.priestofdarkness.com/gold.html> <http://www.vaticanbankclaims.com/press.html> . In Bosnia the revived Ustasha movement is called "Croatian Peoples Party" (HSP) and its army, the "Croatian Defence Force" (HOS). Dobroslav Paraga led HSP. HOS units (Black Legion) comprised of Belgian, Austrian, British and Canadian mercenaries, as well as units from the French mercenary unit: "Nouvelle Resistance". After HOS was dissolved in 1993, by its mentor president Franjo Tudjman (for fear of being exposed for his Vatican connection as too politically obvious units), members were absorbed into other units, later amalgamated into the 108th Bosnian Brigade or the International Brigade. "Front National", "Croatie Libre", and "Slavonie Libre" run by Faci, are also Vatican organizations fronted as Humanitarian Aid. MPRI (shadowy mercenary organization based in Virginia) contracted by the Pentagon to train Ustasha in Croatia, Bosnia and now Kosovo. Who but the Vatican has the power and/or influence to coordinate both sides in a military conflict to annihilate thousands of peoples at a time i.e. using U.S. troops to control Serbs in a (so called) fire free zone while Fascist Croats murder them, while the U.S. troops keep the Serbs defenseless. This policy will continue throughout the Balkans.

Hitler presented the Independent State of Croatia (NDH) to Pavelic, 10 April 1941, as Greater Croatia which lasted from 1941 to 1945. The original plan was to annihilate one third of the population, force a third to migrate out of the country and force a third to convert to Catholicism. The process was to take ten years. The second half of the plan was completed 1991-1995. U.S. troops now enforce that Croatian state, against the displaced Orthodox Serbs. Today Franjo Tudjman is doing everything to have Greater Croatia presented by Germany (today if you publish anything in the German press about the Vatican Nazi concordat the state prosecutes you) the United States and the Vatican, reconstructed from Bosnia and Serbian lands. While a concerted propaganda campaign is being mounted to frighten small Balkan countries with the spectre of "Greater Serbia" and are being offered a protective "umbrella", behind the smokescreen of the Washington Agreement from 1994 that inaugurated Greater Croatia in which the Muslims are a majority, while the 1995 Split Agreement consolidated the military alliance between Tudjman and Izetbegovi} and was given the blessings by the United States Ambassador in Zagreb: Peter Galbraith.

Both of them have been sent teams of U.S. military planners and experts and they have been rendered military and financial assistance. The United States has unilaterally discontinued the control of the arms embargo against Muslims and Croats in violation of the Security Council arms embargo resolution in whose adoption it participated.

It is only too obvious that the Vatican plans to continue the Serbian genocide throughout Yugoslavia only now the genocide will be financed by the United States with military assistance, while we can trust the national and international media to continue its lies about Orthodox Serbs murdering Muslims. The Vatican has established its own international court in Rome to try anyone it so chooses with total disregard to the sovereignty and/or autonomy of the country under whose authority the person had acted.

The Jesuits have orchestrated the deaths of presidents, heads of state and dignitaries of countries all over the world i.e. C.I.A. [French king: Henry IV issued: "Edict of Nantes", giving freedom of religion for all French citizens, for which he was assassinated (14 May 1610), by Jesuit: Ravaillac; by the "leaden bullet": Presidents: James A. Garfield (2 July 1881), William McKinley (6 Sept 1901), Abraham Lincoln (14 April 1865), John F. Kennedy (22 Nov 1993); "by the poison cup": presidents: William Henry Harrison (4 April 1841), Zachary Taylor (5 July 1850); attempted assassination of James Buchanan by poisoning the tea at the National Hotel, Washington D.C., (Feb 1857) where 50 were affected and 38 died, Andrew Jackson: shot for refusing loans from international banks; Franklin D. Roosevelt: injected with strychnine [(for refusing to acknowledge the newly created catholic state of Croatia) the medical examiners report, of Roosevelt's body, disappeared from the safe in the Bethesda Naval Medical Center (only three doctors had key) the day after the examination] as was WWII General: George Patton. Jesuitism was born in Spain, 1534 (for the express purpose of exterminating the reformation); reared in France; developed in Papal Rome; sanctioned by Pope Paul III, 1540. Expelled from: England, 1581; France, 1594; Portugal, 1598; England again, 1604; France again, 1606; Russia, 1717; Portugal again, 1759; France again, 1762-3; Spain, Genoa, Venice and Sicily, 1767; Naples, Malta and Parma, 1768.

All, except England and Russia, being strictly Roman Catholic states. The order was suppressed 21 July 1773 by Pope Clement XIV (for which he was promptly poisoned); continued to exist under other names i.e. "Brothers of the Faith"; re-established by Pope Pius VII, 1814 (to carry out the dictates of the "Secret Treaty of Verona"): In the words of Abraham Lincoln: "If the Protestants of the North and the South could learn what the priests, nuns, and monks, who daily land on our shores, under the pretext of preaching their religion were doing in our schools and hospitals, as emissaries of the Pope and the other despots of Europe, to undermine our institutions and alienate the hearts of our people from our Constitution and our laws, and prepare a reign of anarchy here, as they have done in Ireland, Mexico, Spain, and wherever there are people that wish to be free, they would unite in taking power out of their hands". "The Jesuits never forsake." (Washington in the lap of Rome, Justin D. Fulton; Fifty Years in the Church of Rome, by: Charles Chiniquy LCCN: BX1770.F9). Phyllis Schlafly, Reed Irvine, Dusty Rhodes (of National Review), Brent Bozell, Edwin Fulner, Robert Godwin, Richard Viguerie, Sommers White, Foster Friess, Oliver North, Coors family, Roland Hinz, Rush Lembaugh, Tim La Haye, Pat Robertson, Jack Kemp, George Will, Jean Kirkpatrick, William Bennet (Jesuit), Robert Kriebler, Burton Yale Pines, Gary Hofmeister, Clarence Thomas, Ed Meese and Charles Colson are pseudo conservatives whose puppet strings are pulled by Jesuits, Skull & Bones, Council on Foreign Relations or directly from the Illuminati. "I am not happy about the rebirth of the Jesuits. Swarms of them will present themselves under more disguises ever taken by even a chief of the Bohemians, as printers, writers, publishers, school teachers, etc. If ever an association of people deserved eternal damnation, on this earth and in hell, it is this society of Loyola." (John Adams, 1816).

This hardly scratches the surface of info on the Jesuits and Popery as a whole. If you refuse to see and believe the pattern that is set forth here, you wouldn't believe the rest either. "If they hear not Moses and the prophets, neither will they be persuaded, though one rose from the dead" (Luke 16:31).

Is This The Last Memorial Day In The Free Republic We Call America?
New World Order closing in on American holocaust, as immigration bill passes through Senate and Nazi-type military General takes over CIA
27 May 2006

By Greg Szymanski

With the Memorial Day holiday weekend in full swing, history may remember it as the last one celebrated in the free Republic of America, as the controllers of the New World Order are busy putting the finishing touches on the upcoming American holocaust.

Like a bunch of thieves in the night, the criminals in Congress late Friday, hiding behind a holiday weekend, passed the controversial illegal immigration bill, paving the way for citizenship for an estimated 25-40 million illegals now on American soil.

The bill passed the Senate and is slated for House approval at the time of publication. As one Patriot said: "It's a done deal and the beginning of the end of America as we know it. There is no coming back now and the American people are too blind and brainwashed to see it."

With the elite's slave labor force now in place, it's only a matter of time before the economy crumbles and World War III escalates in the Middle East, leaving freedom loving Americans caught between a rock and a hard place, as they silently wait for further marching orders from Big Brother.

And this silent apathy by most Americans is most troubling, as holocaust history is about to repeat itself with the sad fact that most Americans have no idea about history and are too busy watching sitcoms to even care.

With the poor to ill and sick to fight back, the middle class too fat and apathetic to care and the elite content to live off their slimy money, there won't even be time for the fat lady to sing, as the New World Order planned military takeover of America is about to get underway in full force in the coming months.

First, Iran will be attacked, leaving America unprotected. Then Russia and China, siding with the Middle East, will invade America. The perfect orchestrated plan of war unfolding is now playing out right before our very eyes, as America, Israel and the Middle East will all fall easily to a one government and eventually one religious fascist rule.

"It won't be pretty and that is why I am going to Europe soon," said an elite member of the New World Order who is passing on information since it matters little any more because, as he put it, "it's all over but the shouting and screaming."

And according to Pam Schuffert who researches the New World Order, she claims there are already 600 operational concentration camps in the U.S. established under the Rex 84 Program.

"There over 600 prison camps in the United States, all fully operational and ready to receive prisoners," said Shuffert on her web site at www.americanholocaust.com. "They are all staffed and even surrounded by full-time guards, but they are all empty. These camps are to be operated by FEMA (Federal Emergency Management Agency) should Martial Law need to be implemented in the United States.

"Rex 84 allowed many military bases to be closed down and to be turned into prisons. Operation Cable Splicer and Garden Plot are the two sub programs which will be implemented once the Rex 84 program is initiated for its proper purpose. Garden Plot is the program to control the population.

"Cable Splicer is the program for an orderly takeover of the state and local governments by the federal government. FEMA is the executive arm of the coming police state and thus will head up all operations. The Presidential Executive Orders already listed on the Federal Register also are part of the legal framework for this operation."

However, with hope fading, Ked Adachi from an email post on educate-yourself.org, tells Americans not to give up, as he sees a break in the enemy's armor that can be exploited with collective thought, awareness, participation and finally resistance.

"The future is changeable and predictions are not cast in stone," said Adachi. "The larger the number of people who become aware of these possibilities, the larger the possibility of changing the future towards a more benign outcome. Reality is created by collective thought. You can diffuse and diminish the Dark Side's agenda by freeing yourself of fear and disconnect yourself from influences that promote negative emotions, especially internet articles that leave you hopeless and filled with anxiety (the real purpose behind Sorcha Faal's unending stream of doom & gloom articles).

"While I expect the fascist agenda to move forward, I also see signs of cracks in the dam. It's necessary to prepare for future difficulties, but it's also necessary to participate in thwarting the dark side. If you are home bound, then use your mind and ask for help from higher dimensions to change the agenda. Pray and meditate for positive changes. If you can move around, make or obtain orgone generators and start gifting those cell phone towers in your neighborhood.

"If you know people in the police or military, explain to them that they are assisting in the destruction of their own country and citizens by cooperating with the fascists. Do not cooperate with the imposition of fascists 'rules' delivered by unthinking bureaucrats who will tell you that 'it's the (Homeland Security) law'. For example, employers cannot require a prospective employee (who is a US citizen) from producing any onerous documentation about himself as a requirement for employment-other than an immigration form. Do not quietly capitulate to the enslavement dictates of the traitors whose hands are on the wheels of power in this country, but rather-Resist!"

Another patriot looking at the end time drawing near said: "I am praying that times of transition will not be so hard. I would hate for all the terrible things predicted to come over the people. I am afraid though that there will be some real persecution and pain, folks will have to make a stand, show their mettle."

With a small group of patriots realizing a stand must be made, the quick passage of Air Force Gen. Michael Hayden as the new CIA chief is another sign of the militarization of America. Since Gen. Hayden is the architect of the modern day surveillance programs and directed energy weapons program, Beth Ross of California had this to about him:

"The confirmation of Gen. Hayden as Director of the CIA today represents very bad news for Americans, in my view, and just a bad for every other citizen of the world.

"What we have here is someone with a military mentality directing an agency whose mission is to obtain and disseminate critical "intelligence", which is specialized information.

"Gen. Hayden was actively serving as an Air Force General when he was nominated - something I have not heard pointed out or discussed anywhere. It strikes me as unusual to take a General out of service in the military during a war and decide to move him out to a non-military agency. Remember the things that we know have been taking place in this war in Iraq. I am speaking of torture and the use of directed energy weapons in particular. He was an acting General at the time of these and other military events.

"The Air Force is in charge overall of Directed Energy Weapons through the Directorate. Hence, Gen. Hayden was part of the inner sanctum of the directed energy club.

"Directed Energy Weapons are capable of circumventing one's will to disclose information in ways that were never before possible. We now have a military minded man - one likely involved in the policies that have appalled the world from the prisons and streets of Iraq - now in charge of an agency that is in charge of obtaining "information" worldwide.

"This is a very bad consolidation of power that should disturb everyone. But apparently it didn't disturb the legislators who confirmed him with very little challenge. I heard Democrats - one in particular from Maryland - flatter him instead of question him at the hearings.

"Did you hear much on mainstream news - or even alternative news - about his potential down side? Did you hear much about the torture of people, the detainment of "non-military combatants" who are detained for the sole purpose of the extraction of "information", and whose population attempts suicide on a regular basis?

"Do you hear about the prison abuse in Iraq or the fact that citizens of the world are kidnapped by our "intelligence" services and are flown to other countries so that they can be "questioned" legally at those locations, meaning that they are being tortured? This is all about extracting information in ways that are appalling and in violation of the Geneva Convention and General Hayden had his hands on both the military men to be given orders and the directed energy weapons to be used. As if that were not enough.

"This marriage merges the agency who quest it is to obtain information from people's minds with the access to the technologies that are geared to one's neurological system - which includes one's mind - directed energy weapons. This was achieved through the appointment of the Air Force General,

"Gen. Hayden, who had the full understanding of what directed energy weapons are available for utilization towards those ends, and approaches their use with a military perspective. And not just any military perspective, but a military perspective that includes justification of wholesale abuse, violation of universal rights and treaties, a callous disregard for "collateral damage" (which is another way of saying that innocent people are harmed or killed), and a wink and a nod from the people visibly orchestrating this war in Iraq - Bush, Cheney, Rumsfeld, etc.

"I am very disheartened by the confirmation of General Hayden, which I knew would be completed and announced today. This very bad legislative decision is coupled with the new Immigration bill, another bad legislative action.

"Notice how quickly the legislative body moved on these actions.

"This all was neatly wrapped up and delivered before the Memorial Day weekend. The government and media expect that the BBQ's and extra day for play will divert all of America's attention to the fun things close to home and away from the decisions of today. It's "business as usual" in the lives of most Americans.

"I believe the days ahead will be darker for both of these legislative actions. How and when we will learn of events to come, I don't know. I can hardly keep up with the acceleration of Darpa contracts and new emerging technologies that are streaming through each day and showing up in my email research accounts. Things are moving very quickly."

Crime Busting, Judge Busting Tough Chicago Investigator Talks About 40 Years Of Putting Government Crooks Behind Bars

Sherman Skolnick, who spearheaded the investigation into largest judicial bribery scandal in U.S. history in 1969, is now back again to finger crooked judges on the U.S. Supreme Court. Saying the Bush administration wants him arrested as a domestic terrorist, Skolnick claims Bush and his cronies are in hot water involving the Chicago grand jury investigation headed by Special Prosecutor Patrick Fitzgerald.

Editor's Note: The following story appeared in the Arctic Beacon on Aug. 10 2005. It is reprinted in honor of Sherman H. Skolnick, a true American patriot, who was laid to rest Wednesday in his hometown of Chicago.

By Greg Szymanski

Some people say Sherman Skolnick has gone over the edge more than once during his 46 year career of investigating judicial bribery, mafia payoffs, CIA hit squads, pedophilia in the Bush administration and whatever else falls on the table in his self-imposed quest to keep the corrupt honest.

And some people say Skolnick is falling over the cliff once again with his recent article, pinning indictments on Bush and his cronies based on what he calls credible sources, telling him they have been nabbed for perjury and obstruction of justice in the Chicago grand jury investigation about the Valerie Plame-CIA leak case.

"I knew I would be called a liar for this one, but it won't be the first time or the last," said the tough talking investigator, nicknamed the "judge buster," from his home on Chicago's south side, a place he has called home for the last 54 years.

And, in the face of adversity and doubt, Skolnick would be the first to crack a smile and scoff at his detractors, saying "it goes with the territory" since dealing with dark, back alley payoff type stories brings dark, back alley comments about most anything he writes and investigates.

But, on the bright side, there are many others who know his work well, swearing on a stack of holy bibles about Skolnick's analytical approach, incredible energy and a 40 year data base of sources he uses in order to finger the bad guys who are swimming like sharks and feeding off the people's money.

And to those who know the 'judge buster' even better, know him as a friend or colleague, he is considered nothing less than a national treasure and a man who will stop at nothing to find out the truth, even if it means stripping the robes off the country's most powerful and corrupt judges, even if it means taking on the Bush administration right square in the belly where it hurts with accusations of homosexuality and pedophilia running rampant right in the halls of the White House.

In this shady world of backroom deals, syndicate payoffs, and well-oiled corruption, Skolnick has somehow over the years found his place, a place on the outside looking in, a place where he is always staring in very closely with a watchful eye and a finely tuned ear able to spot a crooked judge or a politician as quick as a dog can sniff out a bone.

It would take several book volumes to detail all the investigations Skolnick has been involved in and all the judges and crooked politicians he's been responsible for putting behind bars since the early 1960's. But like any good baseball hitter, only as good as his last at bat, Skolnick prefers to talk about his last investigation first, working his way back to when he was a young man in Chicago who represented his parents before the Illinois Supreme Court for being bilked by a shady broker for $7,000, the family's entire life savings.

Besides breaking the story about the Bush indictments by the Chicago grand jury last week, Skolnick is in the midst of a five-year investigation of corruption within the U.S. Supreme Court regarding Bush v. Gore and the 2000 election. He said he initiated his investigation over what he calls a ruling that is a travesty of justice and a demonstration of corruption at the highest level of the judiciary.

But before rolling up his sleeves and putting on his gloves to fight the likes of Chief Justice William Rehnquist and Justice Antonin Scalia, who he calls the "go to hell" judge, Skolnick took time out to recall the his parent's struggle with the Illinois Supreme Court, the case that got Skolnick started along time ago in the tireless and often-times thankless business of uncovering corruption among the rich and powerful.

"I trained myself in the law," recalls Skolnick, who prepared all the legal documents and arguments every legal step of the way, the case ending up in the state's high court. "I told the judge right there in open court if my parents were not treated fairly, I would one day come back and put every one of the crooked judges on the high court in jail where they belonged.

"And that's what I did when they came down with their crooked decision against my parents. Honest judges are the most endangered species in our country and one rule of thumb I have used over the years is to look for a the closest bank near the courthouse to find the black-robed criminals.

"It's not in the back alleys with a bag of money where the judges are bribed. It's usually right in the bank owned by the judges, a bank owned also by underworld and criminal types. This is where the bribing goes on and where all the dirty money is transferred.

"Not all the judges are corrupt, mind you, there are some good ones. And I would also like to say that I am always fair with who I am accusing. In fact, when I have the goods on let's say a corrupt politician or judge, I usually tell them what I have and that if they come clean to the public, admitting what they did, I'll put in a good word to the DA in order that he go a little easier on him.

"But in all the years, not one of them took me up on the offer. I remember telling that in the hallway in a Chicago courthouse to former Illinois Governor and U.S. Appeals Court Judge Otto Kerner, who went to jail when I found out he took bribes involving horseracing cases"

Skolnick In 1969 Uncovers Biggest Judicial Bribery Scandal In U.S. History

After promising his parents and vowing to come back to investigate the wrongdoings on the Illinois Supreme Court, Skolnick made good on his word, creating a public judicial watchdog group called the "Citizens' Committee To Clean Up The Courts" in an effort to stamp out corruption.

Setting his investigative sights on his own home turf first, Skolnick uncovered unknown documents in the basement of a Cook County building, showing and eventually proving that two Illinois Supreme Court Justices took bribes from a banker and former chief tax collector of Illinois, Theodore Isaacs, to wipe out criminal charges against him.

In August of 1969, Time Magazine featured a story about Skolnick and the Illinois case, the largest judicial bribery scandal in the country, a scandal that eventually put the former director of the Illinois Department of Revenue in jail along with one of his accomplices, a sitting federal appeals court judge.

Besides catapulting Skolnick into the national limelight, the case also began a lasting relationship with U.S. Supreme Court Justice John Paul Stevens, who was then acting as special counsel to the commission investigating the corrupt judges.

Stevens' work on the commission also catapulted him into the public eye, beginning his rise to fame in the U.S. Supreme Court. In fact, Skolnick still keeps in touch with Stevens, calling him an honorable and honest man, who also wrote the introduction to Skolnick's most recent book titled "Ahead of the Parade," which in part looks at the lives of three honest high-level judges who were banished from the bench and then terrorized for, of all things, making honest and fair decisions.

"This one particular judge in my book was a chief judge in the federal courts who made a decision against a major oil company," said Skolnick, adding that he learned through investigating the judge's story about a secret judicial tribunal where judges who try to buck the system are dealt with in an underhanded and mafia-like manner.

"I get a call from the judge one day and he says, 'Sherman, you can't believe what's happened? My brother in law who is a lawyer was just disbarred and then one day I came into my office, an office under tight security, and everything was gone. I mean everything. Including my files, my file cabinets, everything cleaned out!'"

Skolnick's book goes on to talk about other honest judges with similar stories, one having his court room taken over by mafia figures and another quitting the bench and relocating thousands of miles away after ruling against the president of a state bar association caught with perjured affidavits in a million dollar probate case.

"This other judge calls me and tells me that his court has been taken over by the mafia, but when he goes to the FBI to investigate, agents instead begin to investigate the judge and not the mafia. After having his family threatened, the judge finally resigned," said Skolnick, adding that these examples prove his point about honest judges being the most endangered species in America.

Skolnick Uncovers A Nationwide Network Of Secret Judicial Tribunals

Taking on the corrupt judicial system like a bull in a china shop with no qualms about leaving a dirty mess in his wake, Skolnick claims few people in and out of the law trade even know or understand the inner workings of this secret judicial group.

Skolnick claims the tribunals are organized with one being formed in each of the federal judicial circuits but all acting above the law, leaving no public records regarding the course, scope, direction and outcome of any decisions being made.

"In Chicago, for example, they are the Judicial Council of the Seventh Circuit, involving the federal courts of Illinois, Indiana, and Wisconsin. Each Judge on the U.S. Supreme Court actually wears two hats. First, they are, of course, a justice on the high court. Secondly, they are the supervising Circuit Justice of one or more of the federal court circuits. They are more or less the "orchestra leader" of the secret tribunals, apparently operating outside the regular court system, known as Judicial Council," instructs Skolnick about the corruption within a purportedly honest justice system.

"I have been a court reformer more than forty six years. For more than forty years, I have been the Founder/ Chairman of a court-reform group, Citizen's Committee to Clean Up the Courts. Among other things, through volunteer associates and investigators worldwide, we compile data on financial and espionage matters. Why? Because we are about the only ones who use the label Banker-Judge to describe important judges who are interwoven with the financial system and aristocracy, and some, who are entangled with the espionage cartel, the American CIA, and other spook agencies."

Talking about an ongoing investigation into corruption in the judiciary and the Coca-Cola Co., Skolnick wrote in a series of articles titled "Coca-Cola, The CIA and the Courts" about the use of the secret tribunals and its relationship to the rampant corruption involving an unholy triumvirate of corporate America, spook agencies and the judiciary.

"I seem to be one of the few who understands something about this secret Gestapo, the Judicial Council. They operate beyond the Bill of Rights," said Skolnick. "Some years ago I confronted the dictators operating as the Judicial Council of the Seventh Circuit, in Chicago, Illinois. My detailed court papers, setting forth their crimes, completely disappeared from the U.S. Supreme Court officially listed as Sherman H. Skolnick, petitioner versus Judicial Council of the Seventh Circuit, respondents.

"Our group did much of the investigations and research that on September 22, 2003, was filed as Motion to Investigate Fraud Upon the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Seventh Circuit, Perpetrated by the Judges Themselves. As shown in the detailed document, among other things, I was a key sworn witness in the matter.

"I obtained the confession of a local attorney who was apparently a spy in the camp of the one who sued Coca-Cola. He admitted his sister was "media buyer for Coca-Cola". Among the details was the matter of cocaine, a by-product of the massive processing in the U.S. of coca leaves for the secret base of Coca-Cola. Some of the cocaine in the U.S. actually is not smuggled in but is created within the U.S. There is "leakage" into non-legal channels of cocaine and implicated in the same has been George Herbert Walker Bush, a director of a pharmaceutical firm, and a federal appeals judge, later chief Judge, installed on the bench by Bush in Chicago.

"There has been a Coca-Cola connection to bribery of judges and espionage, as stated in the court papers. For example, this was the route for corrupting at least two U.S. Supreme Court Judges of the 5-Judge majority that arbitrarily installed George W. Bush as the occupant and resident of the White House. Some call it the infamous Bush versus Gore litigation."

Skolnick Investigates Bribery And Malign Influences To Obtain A Five-Judge Majority On The U. S. Supreme Court To Install Bush As President In 2000

Once Bush was installed and appointed President by a narrow five to four decision, Skolnick began taking a lose look at the dealings of the court. For five years he has been compiling data in what he calls "an arbitrary and corrupt ruling," adding a "fictitious President has been put in the Oval Office."

Skolnick notes that his longtime friend, Justice Stevens, issued one of the most blistering dissenting opinions ever made by a high court judge while another dissenter, Justice Ruth Bader Ginsburg, deleted certain "choice revealing matters" after being subjected to what amounted to threats by some of the five majority justices.

Without even blinking an eye, Skolnick claims four of the five who authored the Bush majority are sitting on the bench in direct violation of federal law for conflict of interest and mandatory annual judicial income disclosures related to ties with major corporations, whose litigation is ruled upon by the judges without disqualifying themselves.

"The kingpin of the infamous five was Judge Antonin Scalia. He and three judges in the federal appeals court in Chicago, U.S. Court of Appeals for the 7th Circuit, one step below the high court in Washington, three were professors together and one was law school dean at Rockefeller's University of Chicago Law School," said Skolnick about the similar judicial and educational past of present-day members of the Supreme Court.

"These four Rockefeller judges, while on the bench, continue to represent the several billion dollar investment portfolio of Rockefeller's University of Chicago. Included are stocks of major corporations whose litigation is ruled upon by these judges who do not disqualify themselves. Further, by failing to reveal this, these judges violate a federal law requiring a mandatory annual judicial disclosure of income which these judges sign subject to the penalties of perjury.

Moving to some of the dirty particulars behind the scenes of the Bush v. Gore decision, Skolnick added:

"Particularly arrogant is Judge Scalia. In the law trade he is known as a "go to hell judge". In December, 2000, presenting the position of George W. Bush in the high court case of Bush versus Gore, was Theodore B. Olson, at the time, a private law partner of Eugene Scalia, son of Judge Scalia. Some contend Olson is a "court bagman" in Washington and in the Federal Courthouse in Chicago.

"After George W. Bush was thus installed, Olson was made the Solicitor General. In that capacity, he perverted an intellectual property case in the High Court which benefited Mickey Mouse---Disney---by extending their copyright 75 years, worth many billions of dollars. And funds from Disney and Coca-Cola were involved in corrupting the unholy five on the high court."

Going even deeper into the web of corruption and influence peddling involved in the Bush v. Gore decision, Skolnick draws attention to some mysterious circumstances involving Olson and his estranged wife, Barbara Olson, allegedly killed on one of the four doomed 9/11 flights.

"In the 9-11 matter, there is a serious controversy whether Olson's estranged wife Barbara, with whom he apparently had not spoken to for some time, actually spoke from a supposed hi-jacked plane directly to Theodore B. Olson. Was it actually a conversation with a call center operator? Was the American CIA involved? Some think so," wrote Skolnick in a recent article on the subject.

"Some continue to aver that Barbara Olson did not perish and has a plastic surgeon new face and a wig. And, moreover, that she is parked in seclusion in an Embassy in Sweden. If so, her emergence some day would pulverize the fake story of 9-11 "Moslem terrorists" like the internal planted explosives that took down the Twin Towers of the World Trade Center."

For those more inclined to read and analyze an in depth look the Coca-Cola, CIA and Supreme Court connections, Skolnick provides an in depth series of articles on his personal web site at www.skolnickreport.com.

In the Coca-Cola reports, Skolnick claims he has documented solid evidence how Homeland Security and the FBI run a separate warehouse near the Supreme Court where documents are secretly stored. In one case, Skolnick recently sent a box of incriminating documents by registered mail to one of the dissenting Supreme Court judges that never made it to its destination.

"A box of documents sent by registered mail and addressed to one of the dissenting Judges was unlawfully there blocked by the American Gestapo," said Skolnick. "Instead the documents were sent to a secret federal tribunal supposedly considering misdeeds and corruption of federal judges.

"A tiny portion of our investigation of the high court corruption, without mentioning us at all by name, became the subject of a lengthy story in Vanity Fair Magazine, October, 2004 issue. Following this was a forty minute segment about this on the Terri Gross Show on National Public Radio.

"Also, risking their future career, some of the law clerks of the dissenting four judges in Bush versus Gore reportedly stole private secret records of the infamous five showing the malign influence worked on the Judges in installing Bush. Instead of investigating the five high court judicial criminals, Homeland Security and the FBI have been threatening and inflicting harm on the dissenting four judges and their brave law clerks."

Skolnick Investigates Bush Indictments Of The Chicago Grand Jury Assembled In 2003 To Investigate The Valerie Plame-CIA Leak

Skolnick recently stuck his neck out again with a story saying perjury and obstruction of justice indictments have been vote out by the grand jury in a host of related wrongdoings by Bush and his cronies in a spill over of the Valerie Plame investigation, spearheaded by Chicago U.S. Federal Attorney and Special Prosecutor Patrick Fitzgerald.

Skolnick claims a 'true bill' has been voted by the grand jury, indicting Bush and others as well as naming Justice Scalia and justice Rehnquist as un-indicted co-conspirators, adding the indictments have been suppressed from the public due to the sensitivity of issues involved, similar to way indictments against Richard Nixon were suppressed during Watergate.

Skolnick also reported last week that the situation has become so serious that his longtime friend Justice Stevens arrived in Chicago to try and work out a deal in the country's best interests, considering the gravity and sensitivity of a sitting President being indicted.

"Stevens is in town to try and arbitrate a solution," said Skolnick. "One or more of the grand juries have concluded their probe and have voted True Bills, Federal Criminal indictments, against George W. Bush, Richard Cheney, "Scooter" Libby, Condoleeza Rice, and Theodore B. Olson; and several media people not previously mentioned in the monopoly press as implicated,"

For His Pioneering Judicial Reform Efforts, How Has The Establishment Reacted To Skolnick?

During his long career of throwing crooked lawyers and judges in jail, Skolnick has been sent to jail himself eight times for contempt of court, each time the judge who put him behind bars eventually spending time in jail himself.

"That's a record I an extremely proud to have," said Skolnick, adding authorities at times found it hard to fit his wheel chair in a squad car since Skolnick has been handicapped since childhood.

Besides being found in contempt of court, Skolnick is also officially barred from attending federal court proceedings in his home state of Illinois as well as neighboring Indiana and Wisconsin, even after trying to legally protect his civil rights through what he a calls a "CIA corrupted American Civil Liberties Union."

And regarding his latest investigations into Bush v. Gore, the grand jury indictments and the pedophilia ring connected to the White House, Skolnick said he along with his journalistic internet partner, Lenny Bloom, who together run www.cloakanddagger.de have been officially put on Bush's hit list.

"I heard that Chief of Staff, Andrew Card, called me a domestic terrorist and Bush wants me and Lenny, a Canadian citizen living in Toronto , arrested," said Skolnick, adding he heard Bush claiming he didn't even care about the legal stumbling blocks of incarcerating a Canadian without having proper legal jurisdiction.

"It's ridiculous, but recent federal court decisions, one even handed down in a federal appeals court by the new Supreme Court nominee, John Roberts, gives Bush unlimited Gestapo-like power when it comes to domestic terrorism. In short, I think Bush is a megalomaniac and extremely dangerous to this country."

Army Spokesman John Boyce Claims Macbeth Never Served; Mainstream 2003 Newspaper Account Differs

The controversy over the veracity of the Jesse Macbeth video leaves many unanswered questions..

25 May 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The Mudville Gazette, an internet site, immediately jumped on Army Ranger Jesse MacBeth's story after his video accusing the U.S. military of killing innocents in Iraq was pulled quickly off the internet by Pepperspray Productions.

In the 21 minute video, Macbeth talked about how soldiers were coerced under orders, leading to the indiscriminant killing of women, children and prayer worshippers in mosques.

The video remained in circulation for a short time, before the site at www.peacefilms.org was replaced with a huge blue globe of the earth, some observers saying the globe was symbolic of the New World Order.

The internet Gazette picked up the story first tracking down an Army source who released a statement, saying Macbeth never served in the military. The story quoted Army spokesman John Boyce, who said:

"Initial research by the U.S. Army Special Operations Command at Fort Bragg shows no Soldier with the name of Jesse Macbeth having ever been assigned to the Special Forces or the Army Rangers -- which are, in fact, two separate disciplines.

"This appears to be some sort of hoax. No Soldier by that name at Fort Lewis to our knowledge, in the past, either. Of course, the line about "go into the Army or go to jail" is vintage TV script not heard since the 1960s. There are also numerous wear and appearance issues with the Soldier's uniform -- a mix of foreign uniforms with the sleeves rolled up like a Marine and a badly floppy tan beret worn like a pastry chef. Of course, the allegations of war crimes are vague, as are the awards the Soldier allegedly received."

However, a conflicting report appeared in the Eastern Arizona Courier, a mainstream paper near Macbeth's home of Pima, Arizona, written by staff reporter Pam Crandall in November 2003, two-and-a-half months after she claimed Macbeth returned from Iraq as a member of the Army Rangers.

The complete story can be found at <http://www.eacourier.com/articles/2003/11/03/news/news02.txt> but the following is a copy of the story reprinted by the Gazette:

The war in Iraq was officially called to an end a few months ago, but according to Private First Class Jesse MacBeth, 19, of Pima, the turmoil has just begun.

MacBeth, a ranger in the U.S. Army, returned to the states two-and-a-half months ago after sustaining an injury in his back. He spent 14 months serving in the Middle East -- first in Afghanistan and then in Baghdad. Formerly from Tucson, MacBeth now resides in Pima, where he has family, friends and a fiancé. He said that small-town life is the perfect remedy for the various traumas that he suffered during his service in the Middle East.

"Loud noises startle me," he said. "Its nice and quiet here. I live in a trailer out in the middle of nowhere." According to MacBeth, his reaction to loud noise stems from the horrible experiences that he had while in Iraq. After returning to Ft. Benning in Georgia, he was officially diagnosed with Post Traumatic Stress Disorder and received both medication and counseling to help him adjust to a non-combative environment.

"The Iraqis would stand in a crowd and shoot at us. We had to kill civilians to get to them because we were ordered to shoot anything that came at us," he said. "I keep having nightmares about it."

MacBeth and others in the 10-man unit in which he served were some of the first soldiers in Baghdad. He said his unit had a special duty to perform. "We had to clear the loyalists from the tunnels under the city. Some were from the Republican Guard."

MacBeth was shot in the back by an M-16 rifle while in a tunnel. He remembers that he had to continue fighting after a Canadian nurse quickly stitched up his wounds. "They would sew you up and you'd have to just keep on going," he said. MacBeth is haunted daily by the memories of his service in Iraq. "We didn't think about what was going on while we were there," he said, "but it's coming back in dreams. I don't like to remember it." He recalls watching his buddies die, which he said is nearly unbearable for him to think about at times. "I lost good friends that I trained with," he said. "I gave some dog tags to family members personally."

Further, the compilation of information gathered by the Gazette found several photos of Macbeth appearing at anti-war rallies.

As more information comes forward, questions linger as to the veracity of Macbeth's story, whether the producers bowed to military pressure and quickly removed the video or whether it was black ops campaign to spread disinformation, a dirty campaign geared at catching journalists and readers in a web of deceit knowing no bounds or decency in modern day fascist America.

Although the controversy created by the Macbeth video is far from over, it is just another example of how a search for the truth requires vigilant daily reporting. By unfolding "every once" of a story on a daily basis, the truth of course eventually surfaces and the people are apprised exactly how it occurs, sometimes by a very twisted and illogical turn of events like appear to be unfolding in the Macbeth story.

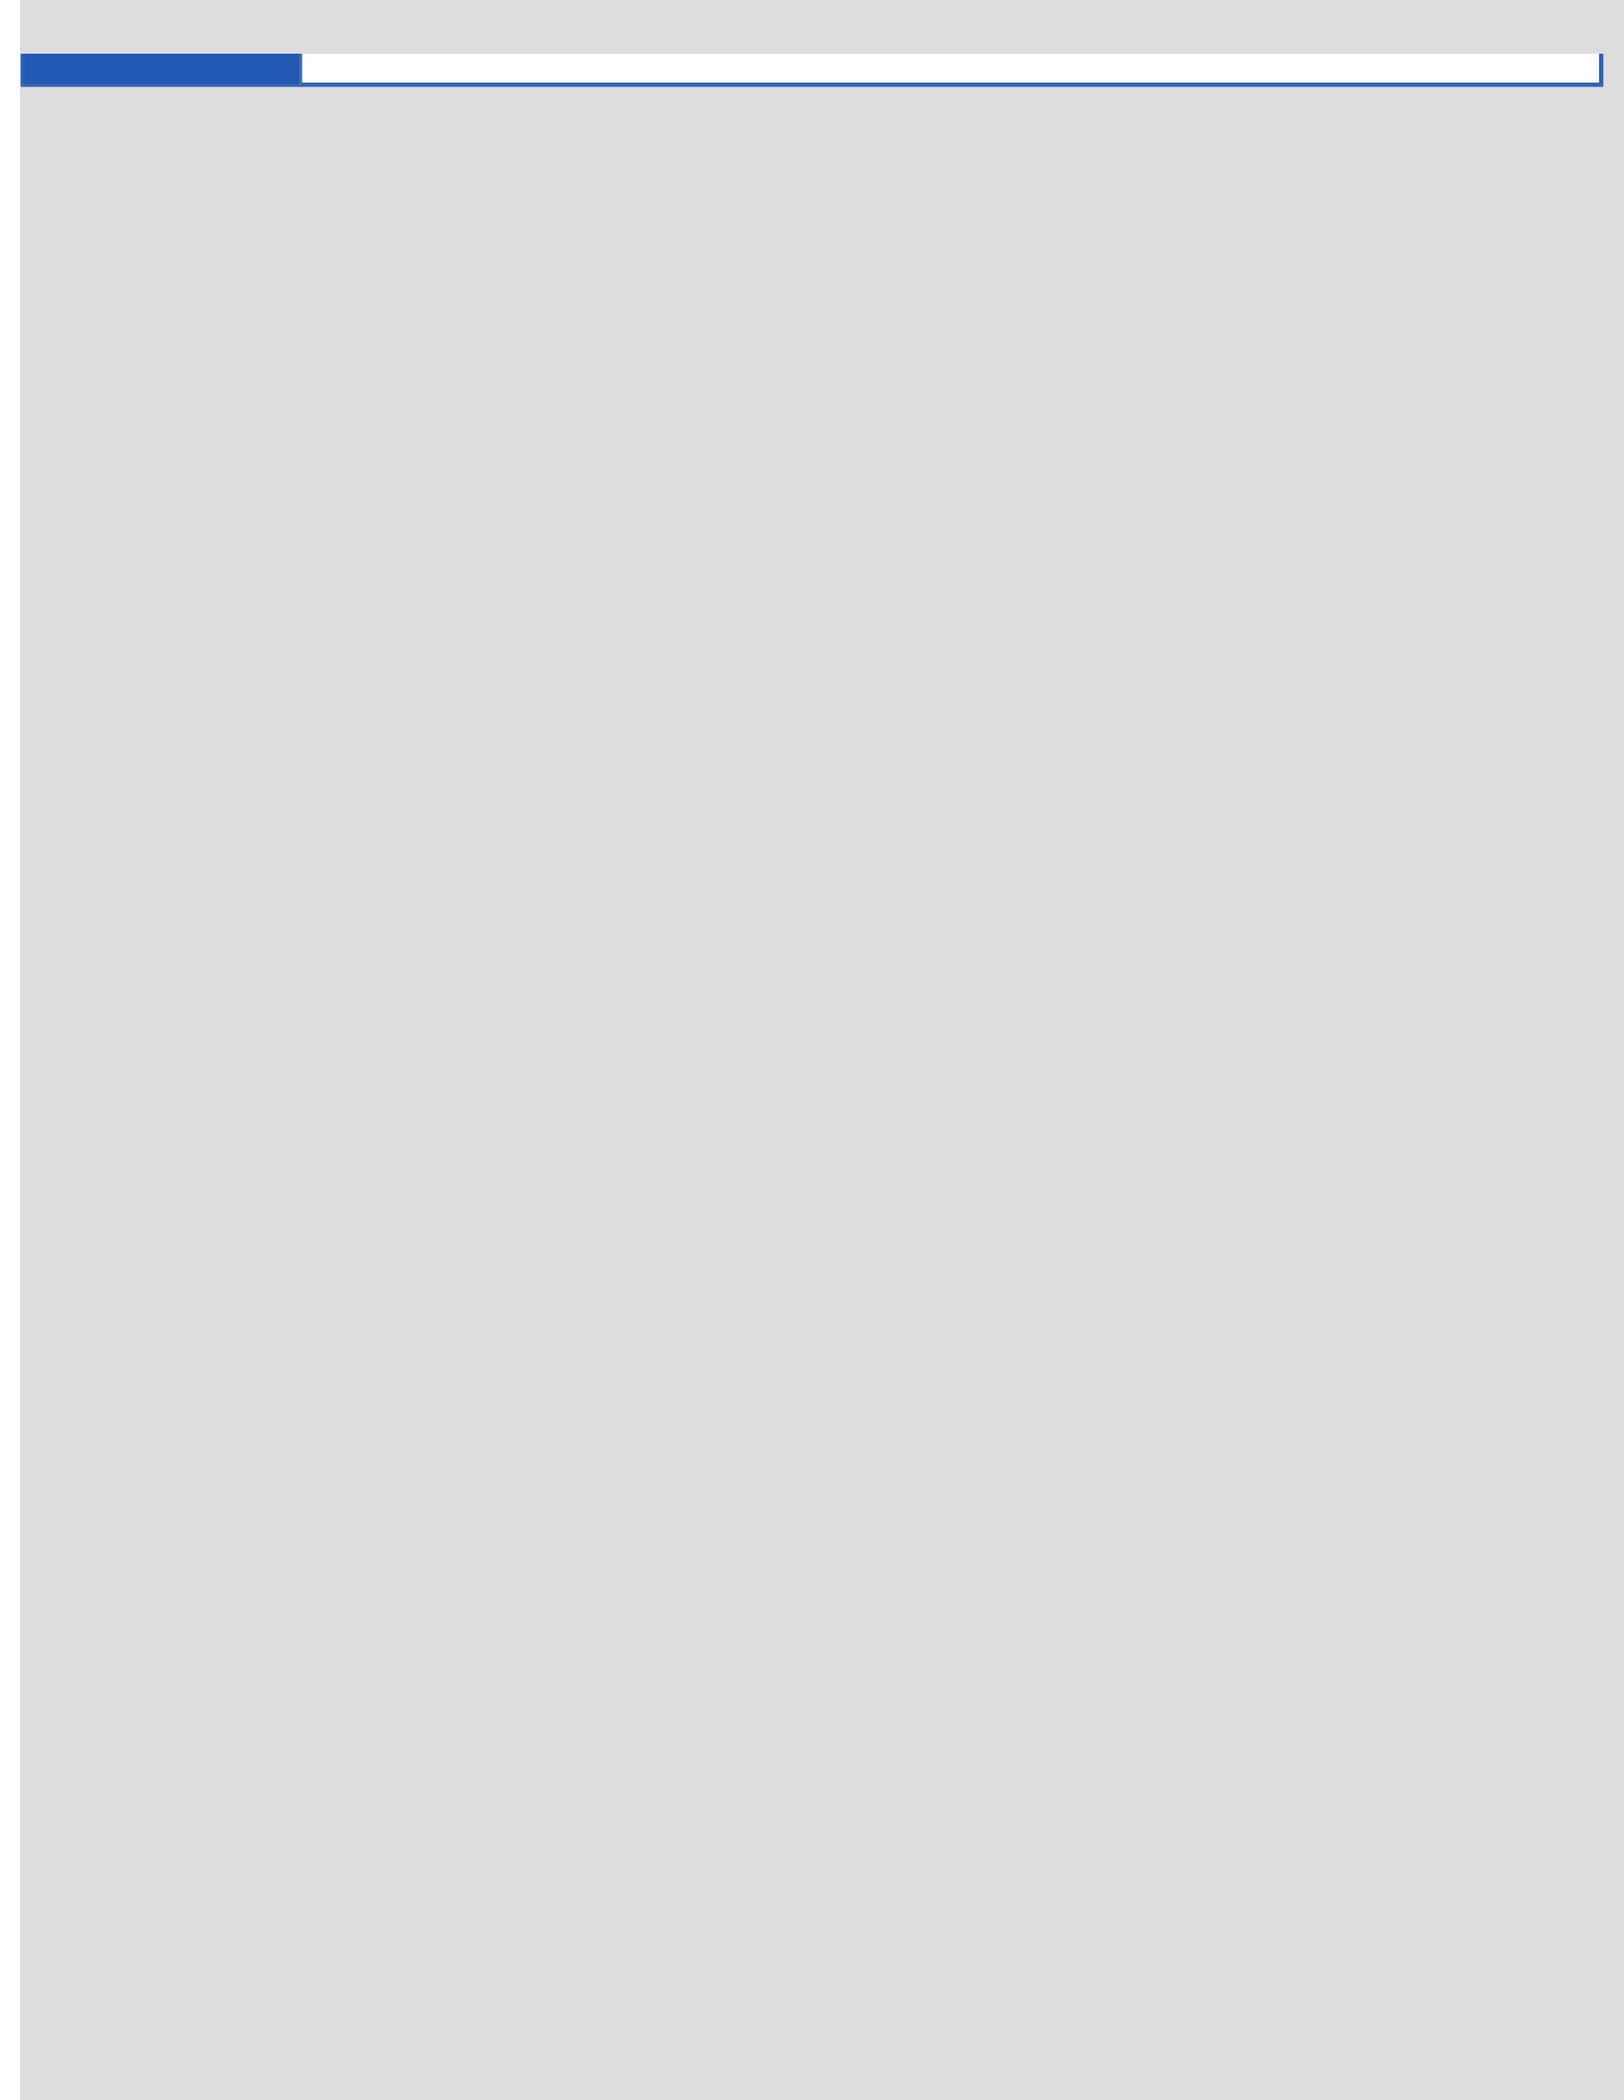

Further, it is wise not to cast judgments but to follow the story trail wherever it leads. Also, family members, friends and acquaintances of Macbeth are encouraged to come forward, as one other way at finding out the truth.

Pepperspray Productions Pulls Video About The Killing Of Innocents Recounted By Iraqi Veteran, Jessie Macbeth

Iraq Veterans for Peace are checking into all aspects of what happened to the video and Macbeth.

24 May 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The video about Army Ranger Jessie Macbeth produced by Pepperspray Productions has been removed from the web site. When accessing the site at www.peacefilms.org, a picture of a big blue globe of the earth appears.

When doing a Google search under video.google.com and then putting in peacefilms.org, an announcement appears, saying "this video is currently not available. Please try again later."

The 21 minute and 33 second video surfaced yesterday, recounting the horrific tale of how Macbeth was ordered to slaughter innocents in Iraq, including prayer worshippers in a mosque, women and children.

The sad story, discussing a mass genocide campaign in Iraq, was subsequently picked up by numerous internet sites, including the Arctic Beacon.

Since the video had been pulled Tuesday for unknown reasons amidst numerous rumors both pro and con to the veracity of Macbeth's claims, some internet sites pulled the story while others let it remain posted until further information surfaces.

In the interim, Iraqi Veterans Against the War (IVAW) issued a statement since Macbeth directed viewers to the IVAW web site, saying the case is under investigation, not suggesting whether the anti-war group believed Macbeth or not.

Further, an IVAW spokesman Tuesday said Pepperspray Productions pulled the video until further questions could be answered. But the anti-war spokesman would not provide details whether Macbeth's veracity was at issue, whether the producers bowed to military pressure or whether it was black ops campaign to spread disinformation, a dirty campaign catching journalists and readers in a web of deceit knowing no bounds or decency in modern day fascist America.

The statement by the IVAW said:

"Iraq Veterans Against the War recently learned of a video interview with Jesse MacBeth that directs viewers to IVAW's website and phone number. IVAW was not made aware of the creation of this video program and our input on it was never sought by its producers. Jesse MacBeth is not a spokesperson for IVAW and any claims made by MacBeth about his service have not been verified. We are currently investigating these claims and will have a full statement pending its resolution."

Besides IVAW, reporter Dahr Jamil, who concentrates on war coverage missed by the mainstream, also pulled the Macbeth story and video clip from his web site, pending further investigation and relaying to readers the IVAW's response.

Although the controversy created by the Macbeth video is far from over, it is just another example of how a search for the truth requires vigilant daily reporting. By unfolding "every once" of a story on a daily basis, the truth of course eventually surfaces and the people are apprised exactly how it occurs, sometimes by a very twisted and illogical turn of events like appears to be unfolding in the Macbeth story.

Further, it is wise not to cast judgments but to follow the story trail wherever it leads.

Former Army Ranger Given Orders To Kill Innocents Praying In A Mosque, Including Women And Children At Point Blank Range

Jessie Macbeth, Iraqi veteran against the war, said he witnessed mass graves of innocent Iraqis being hidden from the world. He estimates hundreds of thousands have needlessly died in what amounts to a mass genocide.

23 May 2006

By Greg Szymanski

May the souls of the hundreds of thousands of Iraqi innocents killed come back to rip the heart, soul and bones right out of the body of President George W. Bush, said an Iraqi women right before she and her three young children were executed by an American soldier on a night raid.

And former Army Ranger Jessie Macbeth, who killed more than 200 innocents during his 16 months in Iraq, said he wouldn't "kill any more for this asshole President."

"Our job was to kill, kill, kill and kill some more," said Macbeth, an Iraqi veteran against the war, on a 20 minute video he released this week about how soldiers are being misled into killing innocent women and children, thinking they were armed insurgents.

"I didn't realize so many people could be killed and the bodies hidden. I saw huge ground pits filled with bodies. It's a huge scandal and there must be hundreds of thousands of bodies hidden from the world. We were told to kill, kill, kill and I am so ashamed of killing so many innocent people.

"I alone with my own hand killed at least 200. And I think I speak out now in order to alert people of the orders being given which are leading to a mass genocide. I didn't sign up to kill innocent women and children who weren't fighting back. I am disappointed in my country, my government and I won't kill for that asshole President any more."

Macbeth, who now speaks up any chance he can get about the mass slaughter by American troops, said from the first day he set foot in Iraq he started to realize something wasn't right.

Macbeth said he was immediately told point blank by officers in charge that his job was to strike fear in the Iraqi people, "to be brutal and to remember the Geneva Convention didn't mean crap.

And after the initial indoctrination, Macbeth said things became much worse.

"We were told insurgents were hiding in the houses, but they turned out to be civilians after we pulled out the bodies. We were told they had weapons and they didn't," said Macbeth. "Then we were told to kill the severely wounded. On the night raids in the houses of the innocent civilians, if the father in the family didn't answer our questions properly we would just start shooting the other family members starting with the oldest children.

"I had to make myself hate them in order to do my job. I had to dehumanize them and I killed a lot women and children at close range, so close they could feel the heat of my gun muzzle.

"After awhile it was just sickening...to think that I took part in that and my country turned me into a killer. Now that I look back and we are the ones terrorizing the whole nation..

Iraq had nothing to do with 9/11. I didn't know it then but I know it now....it's hard for me to live and that is why I speak out. Maybe I am doing something to justify the people I killed."

Two incidents still haunting Macbeth, which he details vividly on his video confession, involve killing an Iraqi women and her children at point blank range and being ordered to open fire on hundreds of innocent Iraqi's unarmed and praying in a Mosque.

"I remember this one time after we raided a house there was a lady with her arms around her kids begging me not to them," said Macbeth. "But instead I killed her and the kids and not a day goes by that I don't regret that. What if that was my son? Iraq is horrible and what we are doing over there is wrong.

"Another time we were ordered to go in a mosque and people were doing late night prayers. There must have been a couple hundred people praying and then we just started shooting. Then we would burn their bodies, as well as hanging their bodies from the rafters.

"After awhile it was sickening. My country turned me into a terrorist. We are the terrorists and we are terrorizing their country...it was all for lies...that's why I talk out. I feel if I speak out, maybe the American people will finally realize what really is going on."

Macbeth also said he didn't speak out against the needless killing when he was in Iraq since he knew he would be severely punished or killed, adding the military high command is responsible for forcing soldiers to kill innocent people in strict violation of international law.

"This is why we are hated around the world," said Macbeth, whose video can be seen at <http://www.peacefilms.org>

Michelle DeFord of Salem, Oregon, a Gold Star Mother for Peace and mother of Sgt. David W. Johnson, has this to say about the administration's illegal war policy:

"This administration has betrayed the nobility of our sons and daughters intentions. They do not agonize about the daily loss of life.

"They are hopelessly trapped in their insane ideology. You pour your heart and soul into your children to have them taken and wasted."

A Column: New World Order Senior Citizens RV Brigade Spying On Their Fellow Americans

Patriot spies have uncovered new NSA program using seniors travelling the country in RV's as new American Gestapo agents. Slats Grobnik finds himself being targeted by the Ostrowski's, working out of their diesel pusher motor home.

22 May 2006

By Greg Szymanski
Arctic Beacon Columnist

"It's time to go for the jugular," said Slats Grobnik to his good buddy Sam the bartender, owner of the Countryside Tavern on Chicago's north side.

"What the hell you talkin' about, Slats?"

"I know the real bastards bringin' down the whole ball of wax in this country! I know who they are and I'm going to expose 'em if it's the last thing I do."

"Slats, for god sakes drink your beer. The last time you started this crap, some guy in a black coat pulled you off the bar stool and I didn't see you for a month."

Sam was referring to the incident in the tavern when Slats said Bush once laid naked in a Skill and Bones ceremony and then was hauled out by A CIA agent and taken to a Denver gulag.

Slats then spent a month undergoing electro shock and other New World Order remedies geared at silencing free-minded dissidents like Slats, joining others like Elsebeth Baumgartner, Carol Fisher and Susan Lindauer, all who have undergone similar treatment in recent months.

So if Slats was brainwashed and marginalized by the treatment he received in the gulag, a condition of his release being he would never speak out against Bush again, why is he talking this way?

Did the treatment fail? Is he unable to control his free-minded spirit? Is he now in danger of going back to the gulag? How are the authorities monitoring him? Has he been micro-chipped?

As we ponder Slats fate while he continues to rant and rave to Sam about satanic worshipping in the White House, let's listen in on the lower level minions at NSA and Homeland Security, who are busy monitoring Slats on a daily basis from a mobile RV parked on the shores of beautiful Lake Michigan, not far from the tavern.

Before checking in on the spies, information obtained from secret sources claim NSA officials are busy using taxpayer money to spy on Americans in a new program called the Senior Citizens RV Brigade to Fight Terrorism..

And documents stolen from NSA headquarters by patriot spies show the RV Brigade is the latest government program used to encourage American citizens to spy on other citizens. It's also a way to utilize senior citizens, who are otherwise useless and expendable to the New World Order.

In this program, seniors who travel the country in their Winnebago's are equipped with high-level spy technology and directed energy weapons as well as being paid a handsome monthly stipend, including gas money, to spy on other Americans.

Deep within the government documents, officials claim this is the "perfect cover" while utilizing "unproductive, worthless seniors" in a worthwhile manner for the New World Order.

In Slats particular case, the Arctic Beacon has also learned that Doris and Stanley Ostrowski, who recently retired and are living out their "golden years" traveling in their 42 foot diesel pusher complete with a double slide-out and marble counter tops, have been hired by the NSA to spy on Slats.

"He seems like such a nice guy," said Doris, who is busy monitoring Slats at the motor home's computer station turned into a spy lab while Stash drinks a beer and watches the Cubs game on satellite TV.

"What, honey?" said Stanley.

"Mr. Grobnik, he's just like us, born on the north side of Chicago. Sometimes I feel guilty spying on him. He's not doing anything just drinking a beer and saying those nasty things about Bush, but everybody does that. DO you think we should keep doing this, honey, spying on Americans?"

"Hell, yes Doris. What are you thinkin'? How else are we gonna afford the gas money, We just sold the house and ain't sitting every day in some Wal Mart parking lot. Just keep listening, Doris, and keep filing the reports. Don't think about it. It's easy money and we are fighting terrorism, remember."

"I guess your right, Stanley."

"Your damn right, I'm right. They told us he's a KGB infiltrator, working for the commies and Muslims undercover and with a name like Grobnik, it makes sense doesn't it Doris?"

"He just said Bush was a devil worshipper again, Stanley!"

"Well, hit the button the NSA guy told you to hit when he says that. Now, don't bother me, it's the bottom of the 9th and the bases are loaded."

Doris took her right index finger and pressed the button marked DEW-MICRO, holding it down 30 seconds like she was instructed.

"What did say the button does to Mr. Grobnik, Stanley?"

"It shuts him up. Just push like it, damn it! Push it like the man said! Is there another beer in the fridge, honey?"

"Why don't you push the button, Stanley Ostrowski?"

"I'm watchin' the Cubs, Doris. For Christ sakes, let me watch the game. I worked for 40 years in that foundry. Now let me watch the game!"

"Mr. Grobnik seems to be quiet now. He says he's leaving the tavern and going home to bed. Do you really think Mr. Grobnik is a terrorist, Stanley? He seems like such a nice man. He drinks Hamm's beer like you?"

"I can't believe it. Bases loaded and nobody out and the Cubs still lose. What'd you say, Doris?"

"Do you think Mr. Grobnik is a terrorist like the government told us?"

"Doris, whadda you care if he is or isn't? The feds pay us $3,000 a month and gas money. Look at all this fancy electronic equipment. We get satellite TV, high speed internet and we can go where we want and track him from anywhere."

"But if he is not a KGB agent we could be hurting the poor man, Stanley?"

"Doris, don't even go there. Just file the reports push the microwave buttons and don't question anything. Remember, they cut our pension money and we're living off this spy program now. Were fighting the war on terrorism for our country, any way. And, remember, if the government says Mr. Grobnik is a KGB agent, then damn it to hell he's a KGB agent pure and simple."

"I guess, you're right Stanley. I guess you're right."

"Now you're talkin' honey. Get me another beer while you at it and don't forget to push the zapper button when our KGB agent says something nasty about the government. Remember, like our NSA friend said:

"We're fighting a war on terrorism and we're in the Senior Citizen's New World Order RV Brigade, on the front lines every day in a battle to save our country."

"Oh, Stanley, I love it when you talk like that. It reminds me how you used to talk when we first got married after Vietnam. Here's your beer, Stanley. Here's your beer."

Editor's extremely important note:

Every once in a blue moon Greg writes a column and checks in with his Chicago buddy, Slats Grobnik, a man immortalized in the many famous columns by the late truth seeking journalist, Mike Royko, also from Chicago. Over the years, Slats' big mouth always seemed to get him in trouble, but in fascist America under the Bush regime it's getting pretty bad. Greg's satirical political columns also once appeared regularly across the heartland of America but now only come out from hiding once in awhile for no good reason other than a lack of time or a deep desire to reduce excess political pontification to a bare minimum. However, exceptions do arise occasionally when a few words from the peanut gallery are needed and hopefully welcomed.

Confession No. 5: Hunt For The Truth Behind The Jesuits Continues, as Black Pope Officially Refuses To Be Interviewed By Truth seekers

But Jesuit General admits the coming of a New World Order and world controlled by the UN in a little known 2003 interview from Spain. Also two other researchers shed light on the Vatican in this week's Sunday Confession from the banks of Brushy Creek

21 May 2006

By Greg Szymanski

This Sunday by the shores of Brushy Creek, in our continuing effort to understand the Jesuits, we call upon researchers Darrel Eberhart and C.M. Ross, both providing important contributions in our quest for truth.

We also will be hearing from Fr. Hans Peter Kolvenbach, Jesuit General or better known as the Black Pope.

Although Fr. Kolvenbach officially declined to be interviewed, the Arctic Beacon has discovered a little known 2003 interview that appeared in Alfa y Omega no. 369, September 25, 2003. Alfa y Omega is a weekly magazine published by the Catholic Church in Spain.

In the interview, Fr. Kolvenbach addresses the New World Order post 9/11, but fails to address whether satanic worshipping goes on in the catacombs of the Vatican and whether he is the real leader of the Catholic Church.

In the little known interview, listen to this incredible question and response from the Black Pope, as he claims a New World Order will emerge and saying the United Nations will become all-powerful:

Q - Is there a political, social, and cultural alternative to the new international world order which emerged after September 11, 2001, and is being established in the new political realignment of the powerful nations - the United States, the European Union, Russia, Japan - and the great and not so obvious powers?

A - As result of the attack carried out on September 11th, large-scale violence has become more painful, inhumane and unjust. This has triggered a distressing spiral of attacks and counterattacks, which are bringing about considerable material losses, the weakening of human rights, and above all, indiscriminate deaths. Out of these physical and moral ruins, a new world order should emerge. That is what we thought after experiencing the last World War, but the facts have belied the hopes we then had. That makes it difficult to dream of a new international order this time. However, we must all strive to define it and make it come true. For us Christians, the message of fraternity and solidarity to which the Lord summons us in the Gospel is the primary incentive driving us to work for a more humane world -and hence, for a world that is more divine- one which goes beyond merely political structures. It is comforting that despite the reserve shown by certain important nations, the United Nations is recognized as an important political alternative.

Moving from Fr. Kolvenbach's rather shocking admission, we turn to our first main topic today, as researcher CM Ross provides her thoughts about the Jesuit Order in her article provided for the Sunday Confession entitled What has Happened to the Society of Jesus?

By CM Ross

The Society of Jesus (the Jesuit Order) has produced some of the greatest saints of the Catholic Church. From St. Ignatius of Loyola to St. Francis Xavier to holy priests like Fr. de Smet, S.J., the Society of Jesus has toiled for centuries to save souls.

Yet now it seems to have fallen into impurity, impiety, and even the worst of occultism and criminal activity. Perhaps it's time stop insulting Jesus and rename it the Society of Satan, since that's who they seem to follow.

What has happened to the Society of Jesus? How did it fall from the heights of sanctity to being the scum of society?

The child rapes and satanism rampant in the Jesuit Order and the Catholic Church are only the tip of the iceberg. We're not getting the whole picture from the mainstream press.

In the 1950s, Bella Dodd, former head of the Communist Party USA, testified before the US Congress that hundreds of Communists had infiltrated the Catholic Church.

She said they were poised to create a new church, one that appeared Catholic, but was not in actual substance, Catholic.

And thus Vatican II came to pass. Out went almost 2,000 years of Church teaching, in came the errors that were previously condemned by it.

They created a "New Mass" that was condemned by previous popes, and changed the ordination and consecration rites, which invalidated them. If a man is going to offer the True Mass, he has to follow the rules of the Church to become ordained and then offer the True Mass according to the rules of the Church.

So now rather than having priests who are ordained according to the revealed teachings of the Catholic Church, we have laymen who are not ordained offering a religious service that has been anathematized by the Council of Trent. Not even Benedict XVI was properly consecrated as a Bishop, which is one reason why an increasing number of Catholics question the validity of his Papacy.

On top of that, ignorant and unwitting Catholics are being defrauded of their tithes, offerings, and stipends for this false "mass." Their children are being raped by these fiends in human form, and these crimes are being aided and abetted by the present inhabitants of the Vatican, including Benedict XVI.

It is said that the late Fr. Kunz, who was brutally murdered in a Satanic manner, believed the New Mass to be the "abomination of desolation" predicted in sacred scripture. If the New Mass is the abomination of desolation, is it any wonder that the men who offer it are involved in Satanism?

These pseudo-priests are frauds and should be denounced as such. The reason that the Communists and their Illuminati brethren worked hard to destroy the True Mass is that they knew that the way that you worship is the way that you believe (Lex Credendi, lex orandi). If you destroy the Mass, you destroy the Church.

Dostoevsky observed that without God, any bad behavior is possible. Look at the wreckage of the Jesuit Order, which has been heavily infiltrated by the Communists and the Illuminati.

Rather than promoting devotion to the Sacred Heart of Jesus and His Most Blessed Mother, they promote thinly disguised Communism and the New Age movement, which is really just the old paganism of the Illuminati. Only God and the Devil know what perverted, obscene, and criminal activities they perpetrate behind closed doors.

Indeed, Nikita Khrushchev said that the Communists would destroy confidence in the clergy by a series of sex scandals. Now that child rape is rampant throughout almost all of the dioceses in Christendom, is it not obvious that the Communists have succeeded?

Centuries ago, Our Lady appeared to Mother Marianna de Jesus Torres in Ecuador as Our Lady of Good Success. She predicted the current depravity of the modern church, and said that when things appeared to sink to their worst level, she would intervene to save us.

In more modern times, the mystic nun Anne Catherine Emmerich said

"Then, I saw that everything that pertained to Protestantism was gradually gaining the upper hand, and the Catholic religion fell into complete decadence. Most priests were lured by the glittering but false knowledge of young school-teachers, and they all contributed to the work of destruction.

In those days, Faith will fall very low, and it will be preserved in some places only, in a few cottages and in a few families which God has protected from disasters and wars.

I see many excommunicated ecclesiastics who do not seem to be concerned about it, or even aware of it. Yet, they are (ipso facto) excommunicated whenever they cooperate to [sic] enterprises, enter into associations, and embrace opinions on which an anathema has been cast. It can be seen thereby that God ratifies the decrees, orders and interdictions issued by the Head of the Church, and that He keeps them in force even though men show no concern for them, reject them, or laugh them to scorn. . . .

I saw that many pastors allowed themselves to be taken up with ideas that were dangerous to the Church. They were building a great, strange, and extravagant Church. Everyone was to be admitted in it in order to be united and have equal rights: Evangelicals, Catholics, sects of every description. Such was to be the new Church. . . . But God had other designs."

Moving from Ross' comments, Darryl Eberhart now tells us why he is writing "more and more" about Roman Catholicism, providing us with an article entitled a History of Assassination, Murder, Genocide, Torture and Subversion of Nations. Although his comments are rather lengthy, they are well worth reading.

Why Am I Writing More & More About Roman Catholicism?

This editor of the ETI and TTT newsletters has been writing more on the Roman Catholic Church's hierarchy, and especially its Jesuit Order, in recent newsletters because I keep uncovering more and more about the deep hatred that the hierarchy of the Roman Catholic Church has for independent Bible-believing Christians, Protestants, Orthodox Christians, and Jews. We Americans have, for the most part, been largely ignorant of the well-documented history of the Roman Catholic Church in conducting brutal religious genocide (via Inquisition, 'holy' wars, and 'holy' crusades) against all the afore-mentioned groups. (Please see my TTT newsletter entitled "Death by Government and Death by Church" on Internet web site: www.tacklingthetoughtopics.net.) Sadly, many Americans believe the "ecumenical rhetoric" of the Roman Catholic Church's hierarchy - i.e., that she has "changed her ways" and now loves all the "separated brethren". However, my study of the Papacy shows me that this is just a RUSE. (Per Webster's New World Dictionary a "ruse" is: "a stratagem" [which is] "any trick or scheme for achieving some purpose".) The "purpose" is to bring all non-Catholic Christian denominations under the "umbrella" (i.e., the authoritative and totalitarian rule) of the Papacy!

Yes, the Papacy, despite its "ecumenical rhetoric", has not changed a bit over the many centuries in the following categories:

- Its deep hatred of Jews, all independent Bible-believing non-Catholic Christians, Protestants, and Orthodox Christians (as recently as the 1940s we find the Roman Catholic Ustashi in Croatia, led on by priests, monks, and friars, brutally slaughtering from 600,000 to one million Serb Orthodox Christian men, women, elderly, and children);

- Its long-held dream to bring all non-Catholic Christians under its monopolistic, totalitarian, ecclesiastical control;

- Its long-held dream to head up a totalitarian one-world religious organization; and,

- Its long-held dream to bring all world leaders - especially those in "Christian" countries - under the temporal power of the pope. (That is, the Papacy would be the top player and "controller" in a one-world government - just like it was the top player and "controller" on the European continent for many centuries! Kings indeed bowed before popes.)

Indeed, power - absolute power - has long been the "primary objective" at the Vatican. History has recorded the Vatican's deep hatred for religious liberty and freedom of conscience. The U.S. Constitution, with its "Bill of Rights" guaranteeing such liberties, has long been hated by the Vatican. (For a good example of this, read the Syllabus of Errors issued by Pope Pius IX.) I have heard that there is an acronym in use by some Knights of Columbus in America. This acronym is "M.A.C.": "Make America Catholic". America is the last "roadblock" in the way of the Vatican and the rest of the globalist rich and power elite in their dreams for one-world government and one-world religion. Is America scheduled for a religious genocide - another Inquisition - as occurred in the 1940s in Croatia? I believe the danger is very real and possibly quite imminent - and that is why I am writing about the Roman Catholic Church's hierarchy, its long-held dreams for domination, and its well-documented history of religious genocide!

HERE ARE SOME RELEVANT QUOTATIONS:

"Disregarding the maxims and the spirit of the Gospel, the papal Church, arming herself with the power of the sword, vexed the Church of God and wasted it for centuries, a period most appropriately termed in history, the 'dark ages'. The kings of the earth gave their power to the Beast." - John Foxe (1516-1587; Author of Foxe's Book of Martyrs)

((Ed. Comment to the preceding quote: Foxe's Book of Martyrs is a must-read book for all Christians (both Catholic and non-Catholic). It is $11 postpaid. To obtain a copy, please call "Power of Prophecy" at 1-800-234-9673. This book documents the horrible persecution, torture, and murder of innocent Christians by a power-hungry religious institution bent on exterminating all opposition to its claims of primacy in the Christian world.))

"The union of the Church with the State renders persecution possible; and hitherto churches have not been slow to avail themselves of the secular arm that they might confound all dissent with arguments which come home to the bone and the flesh [Ed. Note: flogging, torture, and execution]. All churches, when they lose the spirit of Christ, are very prone to persecute; but a horrible pre-eminence must be awarded to the scarlet harlot of the seven hills [Ed. Note: he is referring to the Vatican], for no church on earth except that of Rome has had a separate institution [i.e., the Office of Inquisition] for hunting out and destroying 'heretics'." (1868)

Charles Haddon Spurgeon (1834-1892; famous English Baptist preacher)

"Long pampered by the State, she [i.e., the Vatican] came to be its lord and tyrant, using fire and sword, prison and rack, to work her accursed will. The Inquisition was the masterpiece of infernal craft and malice, and its deeds were far more worthy of fiends than men. If the church of Rome could at this moment change its Ethiopian skin forever, lay aside its leopard's spots, and become a pure community, ten thousand years of immaculate holiness and self-denying philanthropy could not avail to blot out the remembrance of the enormous crimes with which the Inquisition has loaded it. There is a deep and indelible sentence of damnation written upon the apostate church by avenging justice for its more than infernal cruelties, and the curse is registered in heaven; nor can any pretences to present liberality reverse the condemnation which outraged humanity has pronounced against it; its infamy is engraven in the rock forever. Centuries of the most liberal policy would not convince mankind that Popery had become tolerant at heart; she wallowed so greedily in oppression, torture, and murder in her palmy [i.e., flourishing] days, that the foam of human gore hangs around her wolfish fangs, and men will not believe her to be a gentle lamb, let her 'bleat' as she may." (1868, "The Inquisition")

Charles Haddon Spurgeon

((Ed. Comment to the preceding quote: The above words might seem very strong to some; however, when one reads books such as Foxe's Book of Martyrs, those above words are mild indeed. The history of the Roman Catholic Inquisition, with its brutal torture of human beings over a period of centuries, is a history of the most savage cruelty - cruelty that has rarely been matched by even the most savage of pagan societies.))

"Rome [i.e., the Vatican] made the worst possible use of the weapon which the State gave her, but the radical evil was the State's entering into alliance with the Church, and lending its power to fulfill her purposes. Had true church principles prevailed, the crimes which make us shudder would have been impossible. Disarm and dis-establish every sect, and leave each religion to its own moral and spiritual power, and no inquisition can be dreamed of; but put forward the doctrine that a state should propagate or maintain religion, and you have uncaged the 'lion'; no one knows how much he may rend and devour." (1868, "The Inquisition")

Charles Haddon Spurgeon

((Ed. Comment to the preceding quote: This alliance of State and Church occurred not only in the dark ages hundreds of years ago, but it also occurred in the 1940s when the Croatian State combined with the hierarchy of the Roman Catholic Church to carry out savage religious genocide against innocent Serb Orthodox Christian men, women, elderly, and children - torturing and murdering from 600,000 to one million of them in a modern-day Inquisition.))

"To prevent forever the possibility of Papists [i.e., Roman Catholics] roasting Protestants, Anglicans hanging Romish priests, and Puritans flogging Quakers, let every form of state-churchism be utterly abolished, and the remembrance of the long curse which it has cast upon the world be blotted out forever." (1868, "The Inquisition")

Charles Haddon Spurgeon

((Ed. Comment to the preceding quote: A number of Roman Catholic priests (to include Jesuits such as Henry Garnett, Jesuit Provincial General for the English Province) were hung by the English authorities because they tried either to assassinate an English monarch or to overthrow the country and return it under Roman Catholic rule! This is not the same as murdering people just because they disagree with papal doctrines or practices, or refuse to bow to papal authority!))

"The desire for worldly power began to manifest itself in the Church, on a broad scale, in the 4th century, when the Roman Empire ceased its persecutions, and made Christianity its State religion. The spirit of Imperial Rome passed into the Church. The Church gradually developed itself into the pattern of the Empire it had conquered.

[Imperial] Rome fell. But Rome came to life again, as a world power, in the name of the Church. The popes of Rome were the heirs and successors of the Caesars of Rome. The Vatican is [located] where the Palace of the Caesars was. The [Roman Catholic] popes have claimed all the authority the Caesars claimed, and more. The Papal Palace, throughout the centuries, has been among the most luxurious in all the world. Popes have lived in pomp and splendor unsurpassed by earthly kings. In no place on earth is there more ostentatious pageantry and show of magnificence than at the coronation of a pope.

...The horrors of the Inquisition, ordered and maintained by the popes, over a period of 500 years, in which unnumbered millions were tortured and burned, constitute the most brutal, beastly and devilish picture in all history.

...The city of Rome, first pagan, then papal, has been the dominating power of the world for two thousand years (200 B.C. to A.D. 1800).

...It is inconceivable that any ecclesiastical organization, in its mania for power, could have distorted and desecrated and corrupted, for its own exaltation, the beautiful and holy religion of Jesus [Christ]."

Henry H. Halley (Author of Halley's Bible Handbook)

"History records the appalling story of suffering and martyrdom endured by untold millions across the centuries at the hand of the PAPAL [Mass-Murdering] MACHINE."

Wilson Ewin (Canadian Christian writer & author)

"For rejecting the doctrine of transubstantiation, Christians were burned at the stake by Roman Catholics by the hundreds of thousands. Church historian R. Tudor Jones writes that 'the majority of the martyrs were ordinary people, including many women...'

John Foxe was an eyewitness and earnest historian of the fierce persecution in England in his day. His Book of Martyrs gives detailed accounts of many public trials and executions of those whom the Roman Catholic Church judged to be 'heretics' worthy of death. His descriptions of Christians being burned at the stake tell of their inspiring bravery in the face of such a horrible death and of the determination of Roman Catholicism to exterminate everywhere true Christians who opposed her.

Similar records have come down of the massacres of Jews at the hands of the Roman Church." - Dave Hunt (Author of numerous books; this quote is from A Cup of Trembling)

((Ed. Comments to the preceding quote: (1) The Catholic Church was predominant in England until the 1520s. She tried often to regain that primacy, and succeeded for a short time under the rule (1553-1558) of Roman Catholic Queen "Bloody" Mary I. (2) Foxe's Book of Martyrs documents the persecution, torture, and murder of innocent Christians by a power-hungry religious institution (i.e., the Roman Catholic Church's hierarchical system) bent on exterminating all opposition to its claims of primacy in the Christian world. It is $11 postpaid. To obtain a copy via credit card, please call "Power of Prophecy" toll-free at 1-800-234-9673.))

"Through relentless torture, starvation, genocide, massacres, burning at the stake, against every conceivable fury of [Papal] Rome, they [i.e., the 'seeds of protest'] could not be extinguished. History estimates that over one hundred million people lost their lives during that time of [Papal] Roman tyranny. Is it any wonder that God graphically describes this onslaught of [Papal] Rome as her being 'drunken with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the martyrs of Jesus', and calls her the 'Beast'?"

John Daniel (Author of The Grand Design Exposed)

((Ed. Comment to the preceding quote: Does history repeat itself? Could a "Holy Inquisition" ever take place here in America? Religious genocide took place in Croatia in the 1940s, led by Roman Catholic clergymen. The result: from 600,000 to 1 million Serb Orthodox Christians (men, women, elderly, and children) were brutally tortured and murdered!))

"The Medieval Inquisition had flourished for centuries when Pope Paul III, in 1542, gave it permanent status as the first of Rome's Sacred Congregations, the 'Holy, Catholic and Apostolic Inquisition'. Known more recently as the 'Holy Office', its name was changed in 1967 to the 'Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith'...

...Therefore it is not surprising that the 'Office of the Inquisition' still occupies the Palace of the Inquisition adjacent to the Vatican, though under its new name, the 'Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith'. Its current Grand Inquisitor, who reports directly to the pope, is the former Archbishop of Munich, Joseph Cardinal Ratzinger, whom Time [Magazine] has called 'the world's most powerful cardinal [and] the Catholic Church's chief enforcer of dogma...'

Dave Hunt (From his book A Woman Rides the Beast; 1994)

((Ed. Comment to the preceding quote: The Office of Inquisition STILL exists. It has undergone several name changes. Its current name is the "Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith".))

"What has turned my soul against Roman [Catholic] abuse of power is the way in which it has tortured and burned such saints of God as Joan of Arc, hundreds of the Albigensian martyrs in France in the 12th century, the Knights Templar, John Huss [Czech Jan Hus], the Dominican Savonarola, the Dominican Giordano Bruno, [and] the Anglican bishops Cranmer, Ridley, and Latimer. The Inquisition has promoted at least two wholesale massacres: thousands of Protestant Waldensians in northern Italy, and thousands of Protestant Huguenots by the massacre of St. Bartholomew in France. More than 30,000 of the most cultured Protestants of France were put to the sword on the night of St. Bartholomew, August 24, 1572. At the news [of this brutal, bloody massacre], the Pope had cannons fired, proclaimed a jubilee, ordered a Te Deum of thanksgiving to be sung, and struck a special medal to commemorate the glorious 'victory.'" - Charles A. Bolton (Ex-Roman Catholic priest)

"To wring out confessions from these poor creatures [Ed. Note: during the various Inquisitions], the Roman Catholic Church devised ingenious tortures so excruciating and barbarous that one is sickened by their recital." - Dave Hunt

"Inability to discern the paganism of Romanism [i.e., Roman Catholicism] springs undoubtedly from a deep spiritual blindness. Disturbing enough, this would speak of a fundamental ignorance of the Gospel of Jesus Christ itself on the part of many claiming to be Christians.

Perhaps for the majority, ignorance of the Vatican constitution merely stems from a simple lack of being informed. For too many, however, ignorance of popedom comes as the result of a deliberate choice. It grew in preference for acceptability, personal benefit, and the praise of men.

To have squarely faced the issue of Catholicism with frankness and sincerity of heart, the individual would have paid a price. It cost the reformers and other MILLIONS their very lives..." - Wilson Ewin ((Ed. Comments to the preceding quote:

(1) Those who do not believe that Roman Catholicism is riddled with paganism need to read the book The Two Babylons by Alexander Hislop. This book is $14.20 postpaid, and can be obtained from Chick Publications via credit card by calling 1-909-987-0771.

(2) Criticizing the doctrine, authority, political intrigues, assassinations, religious genocide, etc., of the Roman Catholic Church's hierarchy has cost millions of Christians their lives - through Inquisition, 'holy' crusades, and 'holy' wars.))

"If you must have blood, bathe in the blood of infidels. Soldiers of hell, become soldiers of the living God!" (November 1095 address in Clermont, France)

Pope Urban II (1042? -1099; pope: 1088-1099)

"Christians [i.e., Roman Catholics] of the twelfth century accused the Jews of kidnapping Christian children either to sacrifice them to Jahveh, or to use their blood as medicine or in the making of unleavened bread for the Passover feast. Jews were charged with poisoning the wells...and of stealing consecrated wafers to pierce them and draw from them the blood of Christ...[and] of draining the wealth of Christendom into Jewish hands."

Will Durant (1885-1981; Historian; author of The Story of Civilization)

((Ed. Comment to the preceding quote: Such hatred on the part of the Roman Catholic Church's hierarchy for the Jews has led to many massacres of Jews throughout history at the hands of Roman Catholics.))

"To a Jew, Hitler and [Italian Fascist dictator] Mussolini were Christians. In fact, they were Roman Catholics from birth, and in spite of their horrendous crimes against humanity they were never excommunicated from their Church. The same was true of [Nazi SS Chief Heinrich] Himmler and many others in the Nazi hierarchy. Indeed, the Roman Catholic Church has a long history of persecution, expulsion, and slaughter of Jews, to which Hitler referred in justifying the Holocaust." - Dave Hunt (from his book A Cup of Trembling)

"...The [Roman Catholic] Church to rule the world; the ['White'] Pope to rule the Church; [and] the Jesuits [Ed. Note: headed by the 'Black Pope', the Jesuit Superior General] to rule the ['White'] Pope - such was and is the program of the Order [i.e., Society] of Jesus [i.e., the Jesuit Order]." - John Daniel

"The Jesuits...are simply the Romish army for the earthly sovereignty of the world in the future, with the Pontiff of Rome for emperor...that's their ideal... It is simple lust of power, of filthy earthly gain, of domination - something like a universal serfdom with them [i.e., the Jesuits] as masters - that's all they stand for. They don't even believe in God perhaps." (1880)

Fyodor Dostoyevsky (1821-1881; Russian novelist)

"Of eighty popes in a line from the thirteenth century on, not one of them disapproved of the theology and apparatus of Inquisition. On the contrary, one after another added his own cruel touches to the workings of this deadly machine."

"...The Roman Inquisition...had been administered since 1542 by the Jesuits."
F. Tupper Saussy (Author of the book Rulers of Evil)

"Pontifex Maximus [i.e., the pope of Rome] has laundered the Inquisition's name twice. In 1908, Pope Pius X renamed it 'the Holy Office', which [Pope] Paul VI transformed into [the] 'Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith' in 1965." - F. Tupper Saussy

((Ed. Comment to the preceding quote: The current pope, Benedict XVI [formerly known as Joseph Cardinal Ratzinger], pulled five terms as the head of the 'Office of the Inquisition' - known since 1965 as the 'Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith'.))

"The fact is that very few Protestants [Ed. Note: or other non-Catholic Christians] have realized how entirely Rome is a political church, and that she always makes her political advancement her first object." - M. F. Cusack (Author of The Black Pope)

"Roman Catholicism was born in blood, has wallowed in blood, has quenched its thirst in blood, and it is in letters of blood that its true history is written." (1940)
Baron DePonnat (French statesman)

"Post Vatican II [Ed. Note: the Council] euphoria has bewitched Protestants into thinking that the 'new Catholicism' is not the 'old Catholicism'. Yet an examination of Vatican II documents makes it clear that there has been a change of 'image', but not substance; that there has been no real change in any of the basic doctrines that caused [Martin] Luther to stand against the Roman Catholic denomination." - Bartholomew F. Brewer (Ex-Roman Catholic priest of the Discalced Carmelite Order)

I. INTRODUCTION

This is indeed a "tough topic" about which to write. It is indeed a "tough topic" that will no doubt disturb some folks' comfort zones. However, it is a topic that must be written about because history does indeed repeat itself. The "actors", places, and times may change; however, the same "scripts" seem to be repeated - over and over and over again! If we refuse to learn from the lessons of history, then we will repeat the mistakes of history - as Spanish philosopher Santayana wisely noted.

Many people make the mistake of thinking of the Roman Catholic Church - especially of its hierarchy - purely as a religious institution. The Roman Catholic Church is far more than just a religious institution. It is the top player on the geopolitical scene, having the best intelligence gathering apparatus that the world has ever seen (through its diplomatic relations, its numerous religious orders, and the confessional box)! If not the richest institution in the history of the world, then it certainly ranks near the top of the heap. (It probably is the richest!) It also heads the ecumenical drive for one-world religion. And its Jesuit Order is at the top of the secret societies' list. ((Please see my TTT newsletters on the Jesuits (Parts I through IV) on Internet web site: www.tacklingthetoughtopics.net .))

Sadly, the hierarchy of the Roman Catholic Church has a well-documented history of torture, murder, assassination, religious genocide, political intrigue, ecclesiastical tyranny, fomenting and orchestrating of revolutions and wars, and many other nefarious activities. For centuries this hierarchical system brought the people of the world the "dark ages" in Europe, when kings were crowned and deposed by the Papacy - and when kings bowed their knees to popes who rivaled the greatest rulers the world has ever seen - in both wealth and power!

The Vatican for centuries ruled Europe. The pope had both temporal and spiritual authority over all his subjects. Though the popes temporarily appeared to lose their "temporal power" over the kings of the earth near the end of the 19th century, there can be no doubt that the Vatican still aspires to rule over the kings of the earth once more!

Let us take a look at but a "small sample" of the Vatican's "History of Assassination, Murder, Genocide, Torture, & the Subversion of Nations" (hopefully in some resemblance of chronological order):

II. A History of Assassination, Murder, Genocide, Torture, & the Subversion of Nations

((Important Note: Since the mid-1540s, the Vatican (i.e., the papacy) has been controlled, for the most part and with very rare exceptions, by the Jesuit Order. That is, the "White Pope" has been, for most of the last four centuries, controlled by the "Black Pope" (i.e., the Jesuit Superior General). A number of the below-listed heads of State were assassinated because they had expelled the Jesuits from their borders. Also remember when reading this list that the Roman Catholic Church's hierarchy has for many centuries hated Jews, Protestants, Bible-believing Christian groups, and Orthodox Christians - and have, whenever and wherever opportunity presented itself, slaughtered all these groups with brutal savagery. The Jesuit Order, officially recognized as a Catholic Order in 1540, has more often than not been at the forefront of this butchery in the past four centuries.))

- 1095 - Pope Urban II proclaims the First Crusade. Here is what historian Will Durant has written concerning this episode of religious genocide: "When in 1095, Pope Urban II proclaimed the First Crusade, some Christians [i.e., Roman Catholics] thought it desirable to kill the Jews in Europe before proceeding so far to fight Turks in Jerusalem. Godfrey of Bouillon, having accepted the leadership of the crusade, announced that he would avenge the blood of Jesus upon the Jews...leaving not one of them alive; and his companions proclaimed their intention to kill all Jews who would not accept Christianity [Ed. Note: i.e., the Roman Catholic version of it]."

- 1096 - Catholic Crusaders slaughter half the Jews of Worms on their way through that town.

- 1099 - Catholic Crusaders, sent on a holy mission by the pope of Rome, make it to the walls of Jerusalem. All of the city's inhabitants - men, women, and children - Jew, Moslem, and Christian - are all butchered by the "Christian" (i.e., Catholic) crusaders!

- 1208-1226 - The Albigensian Crusades take place. Pope Innocent III orders a crusade to be launched against the Albigensian Christians in southern France, and armies are sent to exterminate them. At the French city of Beziers over 20,000 men, women, and children are butchered. The Albigensian Christians are wiped out. Here is what author Henry H. Halley had to say about the Albigensian Crusades:

"[The Albigenses] preached against the immoralities of the [Catholic] priesthood, pilgrimages, worship of saints and idols...opposed the claims of the Church of Rome; made great use of the Scriptures.

...By 1167 they [i.e., the Albigenses] embraced possibly a majority of the population of South France.

...In 1208 a crusade was ordered by Pope Innocent III; a bloody war of extermination followed, scarcely paralleled in history. Town after town was put to the sword, and the inhabitants murdered without distinction of age or sex.

...Within a hundred years the Albigenses were utterly rooted out."

((NOTE: Here is what Frank Chalk and Kurt Jonassohn (Co-authors of the book The History and Sociology of GENOCIDE) have to say about the Albigensian Crusades:

"The Albigensian Crusades slash through the history of France and of the [Catholic] Church like a gaping wound. From 1208 to 1226 the papacy sent army after army to the South of France to crush the Albigensian 'heretics' and to punish their supporters. ...They [i.e., the Albigensian Crusades] began with a calculated act of terror, the massacre of [Ed. Note: large numbers of men, women, and children at] Beziers; they ended with the establishment of the Inquisition, one of the most effective means of 'thought control' that Europe has ever known. They [the papal armies] were completely successful: The losing faith, the Albigensian 'Heresy', was exterminated.

...Their disappearance as a social group was carefully planned and executed with persistent cruelty."))

((Comment to the above quote: Wasn't the exact same "extermination plan" executed over 700 years later (in the 1940s) by Roman Catholic Ustashi soldiers in a country called Croatia?))

· 1236 - Catholic Crusaders slaughter Jews in Anjou and Poitou. Here is what historian Will Durant has written on this massacre: "[The Crusaders] invaded the Jewish settlements of Anjou and Poitou. ...[The Crusaders] bade all Jews be baptized; when the Jews refused, the Crusaders trampled 3000 of them to death under their horses' hoofs."

· 1243 - All Jews in Belitz, Germany (near Berlin) are burned alive by Roman Catholics. According to historian Will Durant, their alleged crime was that 'some of them had defiled a consecrated host'.

· 14th century (1300s) - The Roman Catholic Church blames the Jews for the "Black Death" (probably the bubonic plague). Here is what Dave Hunt, author of the book A Woman Rides the Beast, has written concerning this time: "From the time the popes ruled Rome, the Jews' plight...was far more grievous than it had ever been at the hands of the pagan rulers. Pagans had blamed every disaster upon Christians. Now the Roman Catholic Church blamed all on the Jews. Accused of causing the 'Black Death', Jews were rounded up and hanged, burned, and drowned by the thousands in revenge."

· July 6, 1415 - Jan Hus (English spelling: John Huss), a Czech Catholic priest for years (and Reformer), is martyred by being burned at the stake (not long after having been excommunicated) on orders from the Roman Catholic Church. He had vigorously opposed auricular confession, papal indulgences and corruption, masses for the dead, etc. He attended (under guaranteed "safe passage") the Council of Constance in order to defend his beliefs; however, his safe passage was revoked and he was condemned and executed without getting a fair chance to present a defense of his beliefs.

· 1477 - Pope Sixtus IV organizes a crusade against the Waldensian Christians (also called the Vaudois in the French language) in southern France.

((NOTE: Both the Albigenses and Waldenses (the Vaudois) were Bible-believing Christians who were simple farmers and peasants. They did not want any part of the cesspool of corruption that existed within the Vatican and much of its priesthood. They studied Bible verses whenever they could, and they placed the Holy Bible above papal authority. If you would like more information on these papal crusades against Bible-believing Christian groups and other Protestants, I recommend that you read my TTT #72 entitled "Death by Government and Death by Church" that is posted on Internet web site: www.tacklingthetoughtopics.net .))

· 1481 - Kickoff of the "Spanish Inquisition". The Roman Catholic Church hierarchy choreographs an orgy of torture and burning folks alive - called the Inquisition. Though aimed primarily at Jews and Moslems, the Inquisition also targets Christians whose beliefs are not completely in line with the Roman Catholic Church's doctrines and practices. In the first two years (1481-1483), at least 2000 individuals are burned alive. As author Dave Hunt recounts in his book A Woman Rides the Beast: "...In Spain alone the number of condemned exceeded 3 million, with about 300,000 burned at the stake [during the length of the Spanish Inquisition]." (Hunt quoting from R.W. Thompson's book The Papacy and the Civil Power)

((NOTE: Here is what Ron Hembree, pastor and author, wrote about the Spanish Inquisition:

"One of history's most malevolent persons died on this day [September 16] in 1498. Tomas de Torquemada, as Inquisitor General of Spain, ordered more than 10,000 people to be burned at the stake because they didn't agree with his religious views. He used the Inquisition for religious and political reasons, believing punishment of [Ed. Note: so-called] 'heretics' and non-Christians - chiefly Jews and Muslims - was the only way to achieve political unity in Spain. Greatly feared and hated by millions, he persuaded [Spanish King] Ferdinand and [Queen] Isabella to rid Spain of Jews. More than a million families were driven from Spain during that time. The country never recovered from the resulting decline."

Ed. Comment concerning the preceding quote: The Inquisition was not only used for "religious and political reasons" - it was also used to loot and plunder land and possessions of non-Catholic Christians, Jews, Muslims, etc. Many non-Catholic Christians were accused of being "heretics" simply because they held the Holy Bible to be of higher authority than the Papacy, or because they would not submit to corrupt Papal authority. Non-Catholic Christians were targeted for centuries as entire villages and regions (to include men, women, and children) were exterminated like rats. Papal armies exterminated an entire Christian population group - the Albigenses - in South France. Indeed, torture, brutality, and mass murder were the "hallmarks" of the so-called "Holy" Inquisition.))

· 1498 - The Italian Dominican Savonarola, who preached and pleaded for reform in his Roman Catholic Church, is executed on orders from that same Roman Catholic Church. His crime: he had denounced Pope Alexander VI and his corrupt papal court. Savonarola was a godly Roman Catholic clergyman who had led the revival in the city of Florence, Italy. He was excommunicated shortly before his execution.

· October 6, 1536 - Englishman William Tyndale is strangled and his dead body burnt at the stake in the town of Filford, not far from Brussels. His crime: he had translated the New Testament into the English language. Because powerful Roman Catholics in England (such as Sir Thomas More, Chancellor of England) opposed publishing the New Testament in English, Tyndale went over to the European continent where he was able to get English-language New Testaments published in Germany. Roman Catholic Sir Thomas More put a "hit" out on Tyndale, and he was eventually betrayed and imprisoned not far from Brussels. After 16 months in prison, he was executed as a "heretic".

((NOTE: The Roman Catholic Church's hierarchy for centuries forbade the common man to own, possess, or even to read the Holy Bible, especially in his native language. Not only did popes frequently forbid the ownership and possession of the Bible, but they also often imposed the death penalty on those who were caught with a Bible in their possession. David W. Daniels, author of the book Did the Catholic Church Give Us the Bible?, reveals the following Catholic 'record' concerning Bible possession and ownership:

"THE WORD OF GOD: Check out this history:

1229 - Synod of Toulouse forbids reading or owning a Vaudois Bible. (Canon XIV)

1234 - Council of Tarragona: No Bible permitted in one's native language. All of them must be burned.

1408 - 3rd Synod of Oxford: Heresy to have an 'unauthorized' (preserved) English Bible.

1559 - Council of Trent: Preserved Bibles are on the 'Index of Forbidden Books'. (Rule III)."

In fact, here is a statement by Pope Pius IV (Pope 1559-1565):

"The [Holy] Bible is not for the people; whosoever will be saved must renounce it. It is a forbidden book. Bible societies are satanic contrivances."))

· 1540-1570 - The Roman Catholic Church hierarchy sends a number of armies into southern France and surrounding areas that succeed in butchering at least 900,000 Waldensian Christian men, women, elderly, and children during this thirty-year period.

· 1550-1560 - 250,000 Dutch Protestants are exterminated via torture, hanging, and burning when Catholic King of Spain Phillip II sends 10,000 Spanish troops, in accordance with his Edict of 1550, to stamp out Protestantism in the Netherlands.

· 1555 - English scholar Nicholas Ridley and English preacher Hugh Latimer are burned at the stake on the orders of Roman Catholic English Queen Mary I, who with the aid of Roman Catholic Cardinal Pole, tried to return England under the yoke of the papacy. "Bloody" Mary reigned in England from 1553-1558. During her evil reign, approximately two hundred men and women were burned at the stake, to include bishops, scholars, and the top leaders of the Protestants in England. (Queen Mary I was merely following the advice of her Catholic advisers in England, and the policies of the hierarchy of her Roman Catholic Church.)

- 1555 - English Bishop John Hooper is slowly burned alive at the stake on the orders of Roman Catholic English Queen Mary I. (Again, she was "just following orders".)

- 1556 - English Archbishop (of Canterbury) Thomas Cranmer is burned at the stake on the orders of Roman Catholic English Queen Mary I. (Again, she was "just following orders".)

((NOTE: The sad stories of a number of these horrible murders - often preceded by imprisonment and sometimes torture - are contained in the excellent book Foxe's Book of Martyrs. This book can be ordered via credit card from "Power of Prophecy" by calling their toll-free order line: 1-800-234-9673.))

- 1571, 1573, and 1586 - Failed assassination attempts by "Vatican assassins" occur on the life of Elizabeth I, Queen of England. (The Papacy was working overtime to return England to "Catholic rule".) Queen Elizabeth I had expelled the Jesuits from her kingdom in 1570, and fortunately the Jesuits' many attempts at "pay back" failed.

- 1572 - The bloody massacre of Protestant French Huguenots by Roman Catholics occurs in France. Here is what author Jack Chick wrote about this episode of religious genocide: "On August 22, 1572 [Ed. Note: Several books have the date as August 24th], the bloody St. Bartholomew massacre began. This was to be one fatal blow to destroy the Protestant movement in France. The [Catholic] king of France had cleverly arranged a marriage between his sister and Admiral Coligny, the chief Protestant leader. There was a great feast with much celebrating. After four days of feasting, the soldiers were given a signal. At twelve o'clock midnight, all the houses of the Protestants in the city were forced open at once. The admiral was killed, his body thrown out of a window into the street where his head was cut off and sent to the pope. ...They also slaughtered many other well-known Protestants. In the first three days, over ten thousand were killed. The bodies were thrown into the river and blood ran through the streets into the river until it appeared like a stream of blood. ...From Paris, the destruction spread to all parts of the country. Over eight thousand more people were killed. Very few Protestants escaped the fury of the persecutors." (From his book Smokescreens)

- August 24, 1572 - Admiral Coligny, leader of the French Protestant Huguenots, is assassinated by "Vatican assassins". His head is immediately sent as a trophy to the Roman Catholic Cardinal of Lorraine (and then to the pope).

- 1584 - William, Prince of Orange, is assassinated (shot three times) by a "Vatican assassin" named Balthazar Gerard.

- 1588 - The failed invasion by the mighty Spanish Armada takes place in this year. This mighty armada of Spanish naval vessels carrying thousands of troops was tasked with defeating the British navy and putting troops on shore that would be joined by those loyal to Rome within the English borders. The goal was to return England to Catholic rule.

- 1589 - King Henry III of France is assassinated (stabbed to death) by a "Vatican assassin" named Jacques Clement.

- November 5, 1605 - The infamous "Gunpowder Plot" is thwarted in England. Led by Jesuits, this plot involved the placing of 36 barrels of gunpowder under the British Parliament building in an attempt to murder King James I and members of Parliament.

- May 14, 1610 - King Henry IV of France is assassinated (stabbed to death) by a "Vatican assassin" named

Ravaillac. This is Jesuit "pay back" to King Henry IV for having the 'audacity' to grant "religious liberty" to all his subjects - both Protestant and Catholic - in his 1598 "Edit of Nantes". ((NOTE: Jesuit priest Pere La Chaise, father confessor to King Louis XIV of France, persuaded him to revoke the "Edict of Nantes" in 1685.))

· 1618-1648 - The Thirty Years' War takes place. This bloody religious war was planned, orchestrated, and conducted by the Vatican and its surrogates in an attempt to exterminate all Protestants from off the face of the European continent.

· 1641 - The bloody massacre of Protestants by Roman Catholics occurs in Ireland. Approximately 150,000 Protestants were butchered from 1641 through 1649. Here is what author Jack Chick wrote about this episode of religious genocide:

"A similar massacre [Ed. Note: i.e., similar to the St. Bartholomew's Massacre in France in 1572] occurred in Ireland in 1641. The [Catholic] conspirators picked October 23rd, the feast of Ignatius Loyola, the founder of the Jesuit Order. They planned a general uprising for the whole country. All Protestants would be killed at once. To throw them [i.e., the Protestants] off guard while the plan was being made, extra acts of kindness were shown to the Protestants. Early in the morning [of October 23, 1641] the conspirators were armed and every Protestant they could find was immediately murdered. They showed no mercy. From children to the aged, they were killed. Even invalids were not spared. They were caught by complete surprise. They [i.e., the Protestants] had lived in peace and safety for years and now found no place to run. They were massacred by neighbors, friends, and even relatives.

Death often was the least they had to fear. Women were tied to posts, stripped to the waist, their breasts cut off with shears and left to bleed to death. Others who were pregnant were tied to tree branches, their unborn babies cut out and fed to the dogs while the husbands were forced to watch." (From his book Smokescreens)

((Note: Author Jack Chick made the following observation about an important similarity between the massacre of Protestant French Huguenots in 1572 and the massacre of Irish Protestants in 1641:

"What you've just read [about the massacre of Protestants in Ireland in 1641 and in France in 1572] is fully documented and historically factual. It is found in Foxe's Book of Martyrs. ...Both of these murderous assaults by the Vatican against the [Protestant] Christians in France and in Ireland followed a similar pattern. Before the attacks, there was a time of healing when the Roman Catholics became friendly and warm, and in both cases the [Protestant] Christians were so relieved that they let their guard down and assumed the Vatican had changed. This was their fatal mistake and it cost them their lives." (From his book Smokescreens))

· 1685 - Catholic French King Louis XIV, at the urging of his father-confessor, Jesuit Pere La Chaise, revokes the "Edict of Nantes" that granted religious liberty to all Frenchmen. Louis XIV then orders his murderous dragoons to slaughter the French Protestant Huguenots. 500,000 Protestants (men, women, and children) are slaughtered!

· 1769 - Pope Clement XIII is assassinated (poisoned to death) by the Jesuits the day before he was to sign a papal document banning the Jesuit Order. (Even Roman Catholics have been murdered by their own hierarchical system and the secret societies, like the Jesuit Order and its P2 Masonry, that control the top levels of the Roman Catholic Church!)

· September 1774 - Pope Clement XIV is assassinated (poisoned to death) by the Jesuits approximately 14 months after he had signed a papal document in 1773 banning the Jesuit Order forever. ((Note: After the official recognition of the Society of Jesus, i.e., the Jesuits, as a Catholic Order in 1540, the Jesuits have totally controlled the Vatican from behind the scenes. The relatively few popes who tried to curb their power met with the same fate (i.e., assassination) as did Pope Clement XIII and Pope Clement XIV.))

· 1825 - Tsar Alexander I of Russia is assassinated (poisoned to death) by the Jesuits. Tsar Alexander I had expelled the Jesuit Order from all of Russia in 1820.

· April 14, 1865 - President Abraham Lincoln is assassinated (shot to death) by John Wilkes Booth. A 12-man military commission tries eight of the conspirators in the assassination plot; it hangs four of them. One of the conspirators, John Harrison Surratt, aided by Roman Catholic priests, flees to Canada and then to Rome, where he becomes a member of the Pope's Zouaves bodyguard unit. Returned for civil trial in Washington, D.C., in 1867, he "walks" despite overwhelming evidence against him - this due in large part to Jesuit priests from Georgetown "providing advice" to the predominantly Roman Catholic jury. The U.S. government finds so much involvement by the Papacy in the assassination of Lincoln that it breaks all diplomatic relations with the Vatican in 1867. If you doubt any of this, please read the two books-in-one volume (The Suppressed Truth about the Assassination of Abraham Lincoln by Burke McCarty and Rome's Responsibility for the Assassination of Abraham Lincoln by U.S. Brigadier General Thomas M. Harris - who was a member of the previously mentioned 12-man military commission that tried eight of the conspirators). This book is $14.95 postpaid. To order it, please make check or money order payable to "Ozark Book Publishers" and mail it to: Ozark Books // P.O. Box 3703 // Springfield, MO 65808.

· 1868 - Emperor Komei of Japan is assassinated. According to author Eric Jon Phelps, the Jesuits used agents of Ambassador Thomas Glover for the assassination.

· 1872 - Mexican President Benito Juarez is assassinated (poisoned to death) by "Vatican assassins". This was "pay back" for his having expelled the Catholic Archbishop of Mexico and five Catholic bishops - along with 200 Jesuit priests. President Juarez had also enforced the Constitution of 1857 that granted freedom of speech and of the press.

· March 13, 1881 - Tsar Alexander II of Russia is assassinated (killed by a bomb). There had been six previous failed attempted assassinations on his life. Tsar Alexander II of Russia was hated by the Jesuits for at least two reasons: (1) His father, Tsar Alexander I, had expelled the Jesuits from Russia in 1820. (2) He (Tsar Alexander II) had supported Lincoln and the Union during the Civil War, whereas Pope Pius IX supported the Confederacy! Tsar Alexander II had sent part of his Russian Naval Fleet to U.S. waters to prevent France and England from intervening militarily on the side of the Confederacy.

· 1882 - Leon Michael Gambetta, French leader who had abolished the Jesuit Order in France in 1880, is assassinated (shot to death) - "pay back" courtesy of the Jesuits.

· 1914 - The kickoff for World War I occurs in the Balkans. Vatican involvement is clearly recognizable (see the following note).

((NOTE: Please consider the following quote by Edmond Paris, author of the book The Secret History of the Jesuits:

"The public is practically unaware of the overwhelming responsibility carried by the Vatican and its Jesuits in the starting of two world wars - a situation which may be explained in part by the gigantic finances at the disposition of the Vatican and its Jesuits, giving them power in so many spheres, especially since the last conflict."

In The Secret History of the Jesuits, Edmond Paris goes on to point out that, contrary to Catholic Church propaganda, Pope Pius X actually helped instigate hostilities between Austria-Hungary and Serbia. Clearly both the Hapsburg dynasty (rulers of Austria-Hungary) and the Vatican saw the growing power of Serbia as a "threat". In fact, in late 1913 Prince Schonburg had an audience with Pope Pius X, who told Schonburg: "It would certainly have been better if Austria-Hungary had punished the Serbians for all the wrongs they had done." In other words, the Roman Catholic pope was letting this Roman Catholic European power (Austria-Hungary) know that it was past time to "take care of" the Serbian problem! The vast majority of Serbs are Orthodox Christians, and Orthodox Christians have long been hated by the Vatican!))

· 1917 - The Russian Revolution takes place. The Bolsheviks (Communists) seize power in Russia - funded by wealthy Knights of Malta in the United States. Later, two Jesuit-trained thugs, Joseph Stalin and

Catholic Cardinal Agagianian, oversee the Soviet Gulag system. (Note: Both Stalin and Agagianian had been trained at the Jesuit Seminary in Tiflis, Soviet Georgia.) Millions of Russian Orthodox Christians are butchered at the hands of a totalitarian Police State. (Remember, the Vatican has long hated Orthodox Christians, and has slaughtered them whenever and wherever it could.)

· 1941-1945 - The Jewish holocaust occurs in Nazi-Fascist-controlled Europe. Up to 6 million Jews are murdered and starved to death. Roman Catholic involvement in this holocaust runs very deep. First, Roman Catholic German Knight of Malta Franz von Papen, along with the Roman Catholic Centrum Party in Bavaria, put Adolph Hitler into power. Jesuit 'father' Himmler (uncle to Heinrich Himmler) is a top officer in the Nazi SS (which is admittedly modeled after the Jesuit Order). The Vatican signs Concordats with Nazi Germany and with Fascist Italy. (Interesting Note: Neither Hitler or Mussolini, both Roman Catholics, is ever excommunicated by the Roman Catholic Church.) Roman Catholics are installed as puppet dictators in occupied and allied countries. For example, in Slovakia, the Jesuit priest, Monseigneur Tiso, was installed as dictator. Additionally, Roman Catholic Knights of Malta head up three powerful intelligence agencies during World War II (William Donovan heads the American OSS - which later becomes the CIA; German General Reinhard Gehlen heads Nazi Intelligence on the eastern front; and Russian Anton Turkul heads Soviet Intelligence, and uses Jesuit priests for his couriers). By using elements within the warring factions, the Vatican is able to ensure the slaughter of large numbers of its favorite targets: Jews, Protestants (in northern Germany and in Prussia), and Orthodox Christians. At the end of the war, the Vatican helps many Fascist war criminals to escape punishment, hiding them at various locations in Europe until they can escape to such locations as the USA, Argentina, etc.

((NOTE: Here a couple quotes that bring home the cooperation that occurred between the Vatican and the Nazi and Fascist dictatorships in Europe during World War II:

"I have learnt most of all from the Jesuit Order. ...So far, there has been nothing more imposing on earth than the hierarchical organization of the [Roman] Catholic Church. A good part of that organization I have transported direct to my own [Nazi] party. ...The Catholic Church must be held up as an example. ...I will tell you a secret. I am founding an order [Ed. Note: the Nazi SS]. ...In [Heinrich] Himmler [who would become head of the Nazi SS] I see our Ignatius de Loyola [Ed. Note: the founder of the Jesuit Order]."
Adolph Hitler (German Fuehrer during World War II)

"Fascism is the regime that corresponds most closely to the concepts of the Church of Rome." - Civiltà Cattolica (House organ of the Jesuits)

Please take a moment to ponder the significance of those two quotations - especially the first one, as to how they might possibly apply to us in America in the near future. After all, a massive police and intelligence-gathering State has already been set up here in America!))

· 1941-1945 - The "Vatican's holocaust" occurs in Croatia. Though primarily directed against Serb Orthodox Christians, much smaller numbers of Jews and gypsies are also targeted. This monstrous, barbaric, and savage religious genocide is planned, orchestrated, and conducted by Roman Catholic clergy - mainly Franciscan monks, friars, and priests, along with several high-ranking Jesuits. Roman Catholic Croatian Fuehrer Ante Pavelic teams up with high-ranking Catholic prelates, such as Archbishop Stepinac and Bishop Ivan Saric, to use the Roman Catholic Ustashi militia units to torture and butcher from 600,000 to 1 million innocent Serb Orthodox Christian men, women, elderly, and children. This religious genocide includes the most brutal forms of torture, forced conversions, burning people alive, raping and murdering girls and women, impaling young children alive on stakes, gouging out the eyes of live victims to make necklaces, starving children to death, burying victims alive, crucifying Orthodox priests to wooden doors, and some other atrocities that I do not feel should be written in a newsletter. Roman Catholic clergy not only frequently lead the Catholic Ustashi units in their murder and mayhem, but also participate in this savagery. Franciscan monk, 'father' Miroslav Filipovic, served as the cruel camp commandant at Jasenovac (one of the worst of the concentration camps).

Here is what Monica Farrell, author of the booklet "Ravens Wolves", has to say about this savage episode of religious genocide:

"This [Ed. Note: her booklet "Ravens Wolves"] is the record of torture and murder committed in Europe in 1941-1945 by an army of [Roman] Catholic Actionists known as the Ustashi, led by monks and priests, and even participated in by nuns. The [innocent Serb Orthodox Christian] victims suffered and died in the cause of liberty and freedom of conscience. The least we can do is to read the record of their sufferings and keep in mind that it happened, not in the dark ages, but in our ENLIGHTENED [Ed. Note: emphasis in original] generation. Ustashi is another name for Catholic Action."

((NOTE: A tremendous quote by Avro Manhattan, from his book The Vatican's Holocaust, sums up well why we all should be concerned about this horrible religious genocide conducted by the most powerful religious-geopolitical institution in the world that happened NOT 1000 years ago, but rather happened less than 70 years ago:

"...Here [in Croatia in the 1940s] the [Roman] Catholic Church [erected] a State in complete accord with all her tenets. The result was a monster standing upon the armed might of twin totalitarianisms: the totalitarianism of a ruthless Fascist State and the totalitarianism of [Roman] Catholicism... What gives to such a creature of Vatican diplomacy its peculiar importance is that here we have an example of the Catholic Church's implementing all her principles, unhampered by opposition, or by fear of world opinion.

The uniqueness of the Independent Catholic State of Croatia lies precisely in this: that it provided a model, in miniature, of what the Catholic Church, had she the power, would like to see in the West and, indeed, everywhere. As such it should be carefully scrutinized. For its significance...is of the greatest import to all the freedom-loving peoples of the world."))

· 1960s - Vietnam: Three Roman Catholic leaders in Vietnam try to set up a Roman Catholic dictatorship in a country where the vast majority of the people are Buddhists. Here are some excerpts from my TTT newsletter entitled "The Vietnam War":

(1)"Editor of TTT doubts if you will find very much information on the 'Ngo Dinh' brothers in most U.S. history textbooks. One brother, Ngo Dinh Diem, became president of the newly formed Republic of Vietnam in 1956. The second brother, Ngo Dinh Nhu became the head of the secret police. The third brother, Ngo Dinh Thuc, was the Roman Catholic Archbishop of the city of Hue. Despite the fact that the overwhelming majority of Vietnam's population was Buddhist (80%), these three Roman Catholic leaders attempted to set up a Roman Catholic dictatorship. According to Avro Manhattan, author of the book The Vatican's Holocaust: "The trio [the Ngo Dinh brothers] had been inching for years toward veritable religious persecution of the vast majority of the country's [South Vietnam's] population of 15 million, only 1.5 million of whom were Catholic."

(2) "The heavy-handed Roman Catholic religious discrimination against Buddhists led to numerous peaceful protests by Buddhists across South Vietnam. During several of these protests, Buddhist monks set fire to themselves to draw attention to the religious persecution in South Vietnam. Avro Manhattan describes the response of President Ngo Dinh Diem:

"The government sent troops and armored cars and fired at the demonstrators, killing nine Buddhists.

...Discrimination against the Buddhists continued unabated. Arrests of Buddhist monks multiplied.

[Buddhist] Pagodas were declared [off limits], closed, and at times even attacked.

...Buddhist monks, Buddhist nuns, and Buddhist leaders were arrested by the thousands.

...Buddhists were tortured by the police.

...[South] Vietnam was put under martial law.

...The [South Vietnamese] army became openly restive and put up passive resistance...against their own government. Result: the war against the Communist north was being lost, since the population at large, upon whose support the struggle ultimately rested, refused to cooperate."

(3) "So many people were arrested that special 'internment camps' were set up. Avro Manhattan describes the situation as follows:

'The jails were soon bursting with prisoners. The mass arrests became so numerous that finally it was necessary to open detention camps followed by additional ones euphemistically called 'internment camps'... There followed massacres within and outside such detention sites, like those which took place at Mocay, Thanhphu, Soctrang, Cangiuc, Dailoc, Duyxuyen, to mention only a few. Religious sects and racial minorities were persecuted, arrested, and whenever possible ELIMINATED. Minority groups were exterminated or accepted the Catholic Church to save their lives.'

((Important Note: For more detailed information on World War I, World War II, and the Vietnam War, please read my TTT newsletters on those wars that are posted on Internet web site: www.tacklingthetoughtopics.net .))

· November 22, 1963 - U.S. President John F. Kennedy (JFK) is assassinated (shot to death). A number of Knights of Malta (a Roman Catholic military order co-located in Rome with, and controlled by, the Jesuit Superior General) are involved in the assassination (e.g., Clay Shaw, who is also a contract agent of the CIA), or are involved in the subsequent cover-up (e.g., James Jesus Angleton of the CIA - who is appointed CIA liaison to the Warren Commission). ((NOTE: A number of 33 degree Freemasons are also involved in the JFK assassination and/or cover-up. John Daniel, in his book The Grand Design Exposed, makes a good case that the Jesuit Order controls the top levels of Freemasonry. Thus, the Vatican's involvement in the assassination of President Kennedy runs very deep, just as it did in the assassination of President Lincoln.))

((NOTE: Some Catholic apologists may cry: 'Aha, Editor of TTT did not name the actual assassins in some of the assassinations listed in this newsletter'. True - the assassins' names are not always known - even hundreds of years after the event. However, it was the Vatican - the Papacy - and more often than not, the Jesuit Order - that had the MOTIVE, the MEANS/ASSETS, and the well-documented history of such nefarious activities. Additionally, the Vatican's "modus operandi" often nicely fits the criminal act. To explain in more depth:

· MOTIVE - The motive is to expand the power of the papacy (and in doing so, the power of the Jesuit Order), or simply to expand the power and/or wealth of the Jesuit Order alone; to punish those monarchs, president, or other leaders - or entire nations or peoples - who would not "play ball" with the Vatican; to punish popes who dared step out of line as concerns the Jesuits' game plan; to "pay back" monarchs, presidents, or other leaders who had dared to curtail the Jesuits' activities within their borders - or who had dared to expel the Jesuits from their borders; etc. At any crime scene, we must ask the question: "Cui bono?" (i.e., Who benefits?)

· MEANS/ASSETS - Through the many Catholic orders, parish priests, the confessional box (used by Catholic priests who are 'father-confessors' to national leaders and other powerful individuals, as well as to common folk), etc., the Vatican possesses an intelligence network-information gathering system that dwarfs the combined intelligence assets of the CIA, FBI, MI-5, MI-6, the Mossad, and the FSB (old KGB)! Also, because of its many monastic orders, its ties with the CIA and the Mob/Mafia, etc., the Vatican has an almost unlimited supply of 'motivated' or highly paid assassins. Additionally, because the Vatican is probably the richest institution on the face of the earth, it has tremendous sources of finance on which to draw for such assassination operations. (Also, a number of top leaders and top officials of intelligence agencies (e.g., William Donovan, William Casey, John McCone, James Jesus Angleton, etc.) have been Knights of Malta - a military order headquartered with, and controlled by, the Jesuit Superior General!)

· DOCUMENTED HISTORY & MODUS OPERANDI - What other institution in recorded history has such a well-documented record of assassinating heads of State and Protestant leaders? What other institution has regularly used poison to kill so many of its enemies? What other "religious institution" (calling itself "Christian") in the last 1000 years has regularly resorted to religious genocide against other Christians?)

III. SUMMARY

The preceding information is but a small sampling of the well-documented history of torture, assassination, mass murder, etc., by the hands of a "religious" institution that claims, at its highest levels, to be

"Christian".

The Vatican has for many centuries hated Jews, Bible-believing Christian groups (prior to anyone taking the name 'Protestant'), Orthodox Christians, and later, Protestants. This hatred has rarely been disguised, and has so often manifested itself in the most barbarous, savage torture of fellow human beings on a scale not even closely approached by any other religious institution "calling itself Christian" in the history of the world.

This barbarism - this savagery - has not been limited to the 12th century. This barbarism - this savagery - manifested itself as recently as the 1940s in Catholic-controlled Croatia, where the Roman Catholic Ustashi militia, led by Catholic clergymen (mostly Franciscans), went on an orgy of torture, rape, and murder of innocent Serb Orthodox Christians that rivaled - no, exceeded - just about anything that can be found in the annals of pagan savagery. Their deeds included impaling small children on stakes, gouging out people's eyes, crucifying Orthodox priests to wooden doors, burning people alive, flaying people alive, raping and ravishing girls and women, forcible conversions, etc. This vile, wicked disregard of human life was directed at innocent men, women, elderly, and children - led by, sanctioned by, blessed by, and participated in by Roman Catholic clergymen! This is a recent case in history of State-Church genocide!

IV. CONCLUSIONS & QUESTIONS

1. While there are good, decent Christians within the ranks of Catholicism (most are at the low levels), Catholicism is dominated at the top by men from secret societies (Jesuits, Knights of Malta, and P2 Masonry) who are not Christian by any stretch of the imagination. Even before the Jesuits appeared formally on the scene in the Catholic Church in the mid 1500s (formally recognized as an Order in 1540), very wicked men often held the highest positions within the Roman Catholic Church, to include the office of pope itself! These wicked men directed crusades against Jews, Moslems, and fellow Christians! These wicked men organized that awful institution (office) of the 'holy' Inquisition, which regularly used the most brutal tortures mankind has ever seen. This office of Inquisition still exists, although it has undergone two "name changes" in recent history.

2. The key doctrines and objectives of the Roman Catholic Church have not changed, despite all the "ecumenical rhetoric" of loving the "separated brethren", of becoming more "liberal", etc. The Roman Catholic Church has never repudiated her "right" to use force wherever and whenever she has the opportunity to do so. She has never repudiated her "right" to use torture. She (at her highest levels) still hates, despite her "ecumenical rhetoric" to the contrary, Jews, Protestants, Orthodox Christians, other non-Catholic Christian independent groups of believers, and even those Roman Catholics who dare to question any of her doctrines or practices!

3. Question: Was the persecution of Jews, Orthodox Christians, and other genuine Christians in World War II (especially in Nazi Germany and Croatia) a model of what the Roman Catholic Church has planned for many of us Americans immediately preceding or during the early stages of World War III and/or during the implementation of full martial law in the USA? ((Don't forget, the Catholic Church put Hitler into power in Nazi Germany through its Knight of Malta Franz von Papen and the German Catholic Centrum Party in Bavaria! Don't forget that the Catholic Church supported Hitler, Mussolini, Ante Pavelic (in Croatia), Jesuit Monseigneur Tiso in Slovakia, and other Catholic dictators throughout Europe in World War II! Don't forget that the Nazi SS was modeled after the Jesuit Order! Don't forget that Hitler claimed that he was merely following the example of the Catholic Church's historical persecution of the Jews when he persecuted them in Nazi Germany!))

4. Question: What country will American Jesuits, American Knights of Malta, American high-level Knights of Columbus, and American members of Opus Dei support when a total fascist police State goes into full swing here in the USA: America or the Vatican State? Some people note the dual loyalty of American Jews who are both Israeli and American citizens. But almost nobody talks about the dual loyalties of American Catholic prelates (at the higher levels), Jesuit Provincial Generals and other top officials of the Jesuit Order in the USA, American Roman Catholic Knights of Malta in key power positions in the U.S. government and intelligence agencies, high-level American Roman Catholic Knights of Columbus, etc. Why?

((NOTE: During World War II the German army invaded and occupied the sovereign state of Yugoslavia. Croatia was at that time one of the regions of Yugoslavia. Top-level Roman Catholics in the Yugoslav government and Yugoslav army BETRAYED their country and their fellow countrymen into the hands of the invading German army, because the Vatican fully supported Nazi and Fascist regimes such as Germany and Italy. These Catholic Yugoslav citizens who held key positions in the Yugoslav government and military showed the German soldiers where weapons and military supplies were stored and betrayed members of the Resistance into the hands of the invading troops. Their loyalty to the Vatican (i.e., the Papacy) took precedence over their loyalty to their own country (and over the government or army in which many of them served)! Couldn't happen in America, you say? Why couldn't it? Since the Papacy favors Fascist-type regimes, why wouldn't she favor a Fascist regime (a Police State) here in America, and tell her "faithful" to march "lock step" with such a totalitarian regime?))

5. Question: How can anybody, whether Catholic or non-Catholic, defend this so-called "religious" institution, the Roman Catholic Church, which has tortured, butchered, and slaughtered millions of Jews, Moslems, independent Bible-believing Christian groups prior to the use of the term "Protestants", Orthodox Christians, and Protestant Christians over the centuries?

6. For those who might in gross ignorance accuse me of trying to "start a religious war" between Catholics and Protestants in America, let me say that I am trying rather to "prevent a religious genocide" from being perpetrated on America's non-Catholic Christians and Jews by the Vatican and her proxies here in the United States whenever this country is placed under full martial law - as this country and/or its people are placed under the control of one-world government with its one-world religion.

None of the Protestant denominations or other non-Catholic Christian groups has:

- An "Office of Inquisition" (now called the Congregation for the Doctrine of the Faith).
- Military orders (like the Jesuit Order and its Knights of Malta).
- A militia for its religious leader (like the Knights of Columbus - the pope's militia).
- A well-documented history of frequently carrying out religious genocide, fomenting wars & revolutions, supporting Fascist dictatorships, etc.

Rather, it is the Vatican, and the Vatican alone of all Christian sects and denominations, which has all of the above-listed items. Additionally, it is the Vatican alone that aspires to once again have both spiritual and temporal power to rule on the earth as she did in Europe for centuries during the "dark ages".

((IMPORTANT NOTE: In case anyone is thinking of accusing me of "hate" for writing this newsletter, let me say a few words:

1. It is NOT "hate" to:

- Repeat some facts from history in order to try to warn folks of great danger that may strike in the near future.
- Expose a mass-murdering serial killer of an institution that loves to use torture.
- Expose an institution that is a HATER of Jews, Protestants, Orthodox Christians, etc.
- Expose an institution that loves Fascist regimes and Police States.

2. It is HATE to:

- Torture human beings.
- Conduct religious genocide against any and all groups who are different in their religious beliefs than the Roman Catholic Church's beliefs whenever and wherever the opportunity presents itself (such as in Croatia in the 1940s and in Vietnam in the 1960s).
- Assassinate (both literally and figuratively - i.e., character assassination) any and all individuals who expose the Catholic Church's propensity for torture, Inquisition, and religious genocide - or who expose its false doctrines and pretended claims of authority to rule over everyone, in both the secular and ecclesiastical arenas, wherever her shadow falls.))

V. FINAL THOUGHTS

Again, this was a tough to write; and no doubt for some folks it is, or will be, a tough newsletter to read. Sadly, history indeed is full of numerous examples of the bloody deeds of the Vatican. I did not list some of the bloody events that the Vatican clearly was involved in, such as the French Revolution. (In some of their nefarious activities they were a little more careful in covering up their "tracks" than in others.) I urge you to read John Daniel's book The Grand Design Exposed to get some pretty good evidence of Jesuit involvement in fomenting the bloody French Revolution. Likewise, due to space limitation, I did not list many of the other assassinations that the Jesuits have carried out. Please read Bill Hughes' book The Secret Terrorists - he makes a pretty good case of Jesuit involvement in the assassination of a number of U.S. presidents.

A hierarchical structure, such as that found in the Roman Catholic Church, is wonderfully made for the use of evil men to carry out torture, Inquisition, and mass murder. Sadly, it has been used often throughout history for those very purposes. As John E. E. Dalberg Acton wrote: "Power tends to corrupt, and absolute power corrupts absolutely."

My TTT newsletters are not written strictly for a Christian audience, as are my ETI newsletters. However, I must state here in this issue of the TTT newsletter that my study of the Holy Bible, from Genesis to Revelation, for over a decade, has shown me quite clearly that the Lord Jesus Christ NEVER intended to set a massive, hierarchical, totalitarian, monopolistic "religious system" that would "rule vigorously" over not only all Christians, but all peoples that fell under its shadow. Nor did He intend that a special priesthood would be set up that was similar to, and rivaled, the pagan priesthood in Babylon and in imperial Rome. ((Please see Alexander Hislop's book The Two Babylons..))

The relatively short history of communism has shown us that whenever they were in the minority in a country, they pleaded for "tolerance" and acceptance - until they could seize all the levers of power. Then there was NO tolerance or acceptance for any rival or competing groups.

When the Catholic Church came to America, it asked for tolerance and acceptance - and, for the most part, it received such. Now that the Catholic Church has grown very powerful in America, will it now help destroy the very freedoms that allowed it to take root here in America? Will the Roman Catholic Church, both here in America and at the Vatican, cooperate with the forces that seek to enslave America and the rest of the world under one-world government and one-world religion (under the auspices of a New World Order)? Is the hierarchy of the Roman Catholic Church, with its infamous Jesuit Order, at the very head of this effort to bring in a New World Order? And again, which country will American Roman Catholics support - the Vatican State or America - when the pope comes out in support of whatever totalitarian regime is set up here in America when we go under full-blown martial law - or under a one-world government? Will key American Catholic prelates (such as the 10 Jesuit Provincial Generals assigned to the USA) spearhead a religious genocide here in America at that time, as key European Catholic prelates spearheaded religious genocide in Croatia and other locations in Europe during World War II? These are questions that must be asked - yea, and discussed in an open forum. And we most likely do NOT have a lot of time to get this discussion started!

Wondering How To Defeat The New World Order? Read This Short Article
The secret is to have the peaceful courage to possess the truth and acting on this conviction in everything we do

20 May 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Fighting the New World Order and its American minions, deceptively destroying this country, is a daunting task. But it is a task all free-minded people must accept willingly. It must be accepted since it is the right thing to do.

As it has been aptly put by someone close to the real spiritual controllers of the New World Order: "They have all the power. They have all the money. It's all over, America. And the fat lady won't be singing. It's going to be messy. Be prepared. You are either with us or against us. "

With that in mind, the words of a 21st Century American freedom fighter should be remembered when he said: the two things hated most by the spiritual controllers of the New World Order are Protestantism and Democracy, a fact put on the historical record in 1822 at the Council of Verona.

So how do good people overcome the enemy within?

The enemy must first be identified and then the internal possession of truth must be allowed to guide all actions, leading to the premise if "all actions are good, evil has no place to roam."

And so the battle to defeat the New World Order becomes centered and guided by the mounting strength and goodness within each individual, as one by one millions of Americans walking with conviction can expose and defeat the cowardice of evil.

We can strive for a better world in the physical sense, but first our moral compass must be set in the proper direction every single minute of every single day.

As necessity is the mother of invention in the physical world, so the presence of the New World Order in the spiritual sense is a call to arms or a rallying cry for all good men to look deep into their souls while never yielding to the forces of tyranny and evil

Without question, America's enemy is weak in true spirit but strong in earthly possessions. Without question, the enemy lacks honesty, integrity and a true vision of eternal peace and happiness.

Without question, America's enemy will shutter and fall by the wayside, knowing every day each and every good America awakens by proclaiming the following short meditation, written by Fr. John A. Hardon, a priest who knew in his heart who was the real enemy of mankind:

As motivation before reciting the meditation, first listen to the words of Lisa Gardner, a good American searching for answers who echoes the feelings of millions of others:

"I have two boys, 13 and 14. I am afraid to stay here in the United States because things have gone to hell. I want to go somewhere safe. Is there anywhere in THE WORLD that we are safe from the globalists? Is it even possible to get away from this madness? I don't know where to begin my search."

Don't leave. Lisa. Begin your search deep within your heart and soul with the following words written by Fr. Hardon:

Conviction is the basis of courage, certitude is the foundation of peace. The secret of achievement is to have the peaceful courage of possessing the truth and acting on this conviction in everything we do.

Without question, this meditation repeated everyday by millions of Americans will one day smother the enemy under a cloak of goodness.

And without question if all good Americans say the following prayer every day, given to us by Fr. Hardon, the enemy will once and for all be put to rest:

Teach me, my Lord, to be kind and gentle in all the events of life, in disappointments, in the thoughtlessness of others, in the insincerity of those I trusted, in the unfaithfulness of those on whom I relied.

Let me put myself aside, to think of the happiness of others, to hide my pains and heartaches, so that I may be the only one to suffer from them.

Teach me to profit by the suffering that comes across my path. Let me so use it that it may mellow me, not harden or embitter me; that it may make me patient, not irritable; that it may make me broad in my forgiveness, not narrow, proud and overbearing.

May no one be less good for having come within my influence. No one less pure, less true, less kind, less noble for having been a fellow traveler in our journey toward eternal life.

As I go my rounds from one task to another, let me say, from time to time, a word of love to You.

May my life be lived in the supernatural, full of power for good, and strong in its purpose of sanctity. Amen.

Editor's note: Please send this article far and wide so we can join hands every day and defeat the New World Order.

Hollywood and Illuminati Team Up in DaVinci Code To Promote Satanic Lies
Is it a coincidence that movie saying Jesus never died on the cross opened on the 33rd day in the Illuminati cycle? According to Illuminati code researcher this provides another clue about the sinister cult at work trying to destroy traditional Christian values paving the way for a one world religion and government.

19 May 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Illuminati code buster Jack Fermanian is burning the mystical midnight oil these days, trying to make sense out of the secret cult's numbering system, adding the DaVinci Code provides another interesting clue.

Fermanian, who spends endless hours trying to make sense out of the Illuminati numbering code, said the DaVinci Code movie strangely opens today on the exact day of the new Illuminati 33 day cycle, acting as a reminding of the devilish intent behind the cult trying to take over the world.

The cycle and the number 33 are important mystical elements of the secret cult, according to Fermanian, as the members of the Illuminati, including the Bush crime family and other high level U.S. government officials, use the numbering code as a source of mystical power as well as an internal means of secret communication.

"Is it just another coincidence the movie opens on the 33 day cycle date or is it another in your face revelation that the real super secret puppet masters have most people's minds under their control," said Fermanian in an email sent to the Arctic Beacon, adding many sinister Illuminati events correspond to their devilish obsession with the secret numbering code.

"Now we have this, a movie about the pre-Illuminati secret societies set up in a mass media blitz to promote the satanic lies. Of them being of the bloodline of Jesus Christ and therefore having the divine right to rule the world. It now all makes sense how much they control Hollywood and the media as they can hype anything they want to brainwash people."

Over the years, Fermanian has kept close tabs on the secret numbers used, like one, three and nine, trying to alert Americans how strange and deadly events are coded and then communicated to members of the deadly Illuminati in a display of arrogance and devilish power.

For example, critics of the DaVinci Code claim it is a New World Order propaganda movie, geared at destroying the basis of Christianity by destroying the story of Jesus. And Fermanian claims the date of its opening provides more evidence the critics claims are true.

In the movie, documents are said to be uncovered showing Jesus never died on the cross, having fled from the Romans. Further, the story contends Jesus married, had children and descendants of his bloodline still exist today.

But both the book and the movie, however, are nothing new, as the masterminds of the Jesus propaganda story have been hard at work since at least 1956 when the damaging Jesus bloodline documents were said to be uncovered in a Paris archive library, found by the mysterious sect called the Priory di Sion and led by Pierre Plantard.

After the documents were uncovered, newspaper articles started surfacing in French and Italian papers, essentially laying the groundwork for the demise of the Catholic Church and Christianity by the New World Order.

However, the documents have never been verified as authentic while researchers claimed they were planted to destroy the Church by a satanic group controlling the Pope and the Vatican.

Further, the modern day strength and actual existence of the Priory di Sion has also been seriously questioned, as critics contend it has been used as a front organization for the real spiritual controllers trying to destroy Christianity.

Although the Priory can be traced to ancient times, the Arctic Beacon found out through this reporter that in the 1980's the Priory di Sion was little more than a fictional group with a small office in Paris and Plantard was nothing more than a "front man" used by satanic high level characters within the Vatican.

A high level Vatican official in the 1980's, when questioned about the veracity behind the theory behind the present-day DaVinci Code thesis, said the whole affair from the placing of the documents in Paris in 1956 was an elaborate scheme "to one day bring down the pillars of the Vatican amidst lies and deceit from satanic powers walking right in St. Peter's Square."

And it's interesting to note that The DaVinci Code and its phony success, which sold millions around the world, was nothing more than a clever remake of the 1980s propaganda book called Holy Blood, Holy Grail, also a best seller but one that had very little impact on America.

The critics claim the spiritual controllers behind the DaVinci Code scam felt they needed a Hollywood box office hit to drive a final propaganda stake in Christianity.

And so the plans were made to have the Holy Blood Holy Grail rewritten more cleverly with a Hollywood appeal, as the culmination of their propaganda campaign can be seen today on cinemas across the country, complete with two-time academy Award winner, Tom Hanks, in the lead role.

"It's the perfect propaganda union: Hollywood and the Illuminati New World Order killers working together," said one Hollywood insider who wanted to remain anonymous. "And I wonder if Tom Hanks even knows what he is really doing as he walks away with millions as his country is going down the tubes."

Besides the DaVinci Code falling the beginning of the 33 day cycle, Fermanian looks at some other strange dates and Illuminati events, including Waco, the Madrid bombings and 9/11.

"Think about this Friday the 19th is 1,711 days since 9/11 or (SEP-tember 11); Sep. means 7 in Latin or Roman," said Fermanian. "Also the Madrid Bombings were 911 days since 9/11. April 19th were also the dates for Waco and for the Oklahoma City bombings.

"Bush Senior announced the New World Order exactly 11 years before 9/11 on 9/11/1990. It must be remembered that one and nine are important Illuminati numbers. Then you have 7/7 London Bombings, the Start of the Iraq War on a 33 day cycle.

"The second London Bombings on a 33 day cycle, and the previous 33 day cycle (Sunday, April 16, 2006) Bush announced his Bird Flu and forced vaccination plans where they will have mobile labs to inject people and print Federal Reserve Notes overseas in case of a national emergency."

High School Teacher "Muzzled" And Suspended For Saying 911 Was An Inside Job

Thomas Mustric made a casual comment in the lunchroom to a fellow teacher who then "ratted" on him, leading to his suspension

18 May 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The screws are being tightened down hard on free thought, free will and free speech in today's fascist America even substitute high school teachers are being treated like common thought criminals.

It's bad enough teachers are paid slave wages, but now it appears the "slaves" of America's floundering public education system are even being told by their "masters" what to say, do and think.

And Thomas Mustric, a substitute teacher in the Columbus, Ohio, public school system found out the hard way that saying 911 was a government inside job on school grounds is absolutely prohibited in the Bush crime family's version of modern day America.

Mustric was put on administrative leave last week after the 911 comment made in a high school lunch room landed him in hot water with school "Gestapo" authorities.

The incident blew up into a suspension of Mustric's livelihood after his casual comments made to another teacher in a lunchroom were passed on to the administration by the teacher who decided to rat on Mustric, considering his views a threat to the student body.

A school board hearing on Mustric's statements scheduled for Monday but a finding which could lead to his firing was delayed pending further investigation. The story broke on a Columbus NBC local television affiliate, but the story was not posted on the station's web site.

In an interview with school officials, an official statement on the matter was released, saying in part:

"He had told her (the teacher in the lunchroom) that 911 was planned and orchestrated by the U.S. government. If these ideas are delusions, I believe Mr. Mustric should not be allowed to teach in schools where students would gullibly believe his statements."

Mustric was unavailable for comment after repeated calls by the Arctic Beacon went unanswered, but Mustric released an email statement to cross-country traveling activist, Amy Sasser, saying:

"Thank you for your kind support in the context of free speech. There is no way that a private conversation where the questioner did not like the answers to her questions is anyway like someone screaming "fire" in a theater.

"I expect that the Columbus Board of Education's pre-hearing decision will find that all of her allegations that caused me to lose seven days of work were unfounded. I am shocked to my very foundation---for a social studies teacher not to show up at the hearing, nor have I been given a copy of her complaint prior to hearing or to this writing---something is very wrong, where the slow release of discovery (the Complaint) is released so slowly as not to be available in a copy for me to read prior to hearing, during hearing, or after hearing---although it was promised, but when?"

Sasser, who travels the country trying to rally America before it's too late, told the Arctic Beacon this is just another clear sign of the lock down on free speech in America, while adding her encouragement and support to Mustric:

"We know 911 was an inside job, keep the faith, Mr Mustric. You are another hero in our eyes! Bravo."

The story also caused a flurry of comments on the internet both pro and con. Here is a sampling:

*"If he had told his views to the kids, then I could see the whacky wheels of the gestapo rolling into motion. But he merely mentioned his views to another teacher in private?
I hope this guy sues for 3 million and wins."*

"Wow, two different school incidents in two days with student and faculty in trouble for not bowing down to the official kook story. Crikey!"

"Another censorship by mass media. Amazon and B&N recently censored the book "America Deceived" by E.A. Blayre III for 9/11 views as well as mentioning Operation Northwoods, USS Liberty and the Lavon Affair. Here's the only link left for the banned book selling underground :http://www.iuniverse.com/bookstore/book_detail.asp?&isbn=0-595-38523-0"

"Wow...what a precedent! And to think that we are preparing an info-blitz targeted at teachers, educators and guardians here on the Front Range...hmmm. We'll have to see what reaction we get out here in the Rocky Mtn region in the fall."

"Congratulation America!You have finally qualified as a fascist dictatorship. Misery Accomplished!"

"Freedom of Speech destroyed...check. how many more to go before people wake up and start fighting back?"

"I very highly doubt that his opinion was expressed during a casual, rational conversation. Although it certainly sounds as though this teacher's rights were violated, this is not necessarily a topic I'd openly discuss with coworkers. In fact, I think it is sensible not to discuss your political beliefs and opinions at the workplace. People have prejudices and the wise learn to exercise caution in professional situations.

"If a teacher spouted on about crop circles, or that the Holocaust never happened, would that be acceptable. Remember that 911 "truth movement" stuff is an offensive hoax against most people. It is an insult and unacceptable for people who teach children. However, the question of whether it is a private and never mentioned secret of his private life is an issue.If I were to believe in crop circles or 911 denial and I kept it to myself and never mentioned it to the kids, would that constitute a grounds for suspension or dismissal. Tough question."

Another Waco Brewing In Sleepy Texas Town Of Eldorado
Publisher of small town newspaper claims tempers and tensions are rising over polygamist sect, as FBI put its leader, Warren Jeffs, on the 10 most wanted list.
17 May 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Another bloody Waco-type situation is brewing in the sleepy Texas town of Eldorado, according to Randy Mankin, former city manager and publisher of the town's newspaper.

Mankin said the controversy surrounds the nation's largest polygamist sect and its leader, Warren Jeffs, who was recently put on the FBI's 10 most wanted list for allegedly abusing and raping a child.

The story broke nationwide Monday when the FBI announced a nationwide manhunt for Jeffs, who arrived in Eldorado two years ago, relocating from Utah with his group of more than 400.

"Nobody has seen Jeffs and we are not sure if he is inside the compound," said Mankin when he appeared Monday on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal. "The 64,000 questions are why they came here, where did the money come to buy more than 1,600 acres, as well as constructing an enormous, 25,000 square foot, five-story white temple that looks bigger than the Mormon Temple in Utah."

Mankin said the scenario building resembles Waco, hoping tensions will not build like they did in 1993 when authorities stormed David Koresh's Branch Davidian compound, leaving about 80 dead.

"I pray it doesn't come to that," said Mankin, who added it's the biggest story his town has ever seen. "I haven't seen a build-up of law enforcement, but the actions of those inside the compound have been very secretive."

Mankin said townspeople have always remained suspicious since the sect's leaders first arrived, pretending to be businessmen, adding they were building a hunting retreat for corporate clients. The leaders of the Fundamentalist Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (FLDS) have since admitted they originally misled townspeople, as construction of the enormous white temple made their lies obvious.

As the story of the sect's polygamy practices spread, the state of Texas moved quickly to tighten up laws, sending a clear message that polygamy was frowned upon in Texas.

Rep. Harvey Hilderbran, R-Kerrville, quickly sponsored a bill to make bigamy a felony and raise the Texas marriage age from 14 to 16. His bill also made it illegal for stepparents to marry their stepchildren.

"What has happened in Colorado City and Hildale has taught us not to wait for this situation to grow into an unstoppable problem," said Hilderbran.

Although his bill died in the House, it later was transferred to the state senate where Gov. Rick Perry quickly signed it into law.

"I hope to prevent Texas from succumbing to the practices of taking child brides, incest, welfare abuse and domestic violence," Hilderbran said.

While the 2,000 residents remain suspicious, authorities are searching for Jeffs, who is facing serious sexual abuse charges related to his activities in Utah, the former FLDs home after it broke away from the Mormon Church.

The sect split from the LDS Church about 70 years ago after Mormon leaders officially renounced polygamy. Members of the sect continue to practice polygamy and are said to have a minimum of at least three wives.

FLDS leaders bought the ranch to Eldorado, located about three hours west of Austin, in 2004 in an effort to settle some families away from their larger community, in Colorado City, Ariz., just south of the Utah border.

Rodney Parker, the sect's lawyer and spokesman in Salt Lake City, warned against a "hysterical reaction" to developments within the church or at the settlement in Eldorado.

"The worst thing is when people start comparing this to a potential Waco, something that is completely unfounded," Parker said in a telephone interview, referring to the 1993 standoff between federal agents and Branch Davidian cult members that ended in a fire.

"They just do not want any attention," Parker said. "They want to live quiet lives."

Boston College English Professor Resigns Over Jesuit Decision To Let Condoleezza Rice Be Commencement Speaker

Steve Almond quit his teaching position in a letter to Fr. William P. Leahy, president of BC, saying Rice is a pathological liar and a bad example for graduating seniors.

16 May 2006

By Greg Szymanski

A Boston College English professor resigned in protest over the Jesuit high-command's decision to invite Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice to be the commencement speaker at this year's graduation ceremony.

Steve Almond resigned in disgust over Jesuit President, Fr. William P. Leahy's decision to let Rice speak to seniors, a move Almond says sends a "bad message" since Rice has lied "to the American people knowingly, repeatedly, often extravagantly over the past five years, in an effort to justify a pathologically misguided foreign policy."

Fr. Leahy's decision adds more fuel to a growing fire that the feared Jesuits are instigating and influencing American foreign policy in their hidden positions as the religious controllers of the New World Order, a position they have devilishly held for hundreds of years.

Critics have contended, including assassinated U.S. Presidents and disillusioned former Jesuits, that the Society of Jesus has an evil hierarchy with the goal to destroy major religions and countries, including Catholicism and America in its war-like drive to rule the world from Jerusalem with a one world government and religion based on Luciferian principles.

Further, critics contend the Jesuits government of choice is fascism, explaining why America's civil rights laws and constitutional protections have quickly evaporated.

"What a perfect cover," said author Bill Hughes, who recently finished his second book uncovering the Jesuit connection to the New World Order. "They recently have tried to stop me from an upcoming speech in Oregon, saying my message is nothing but hate speech not protected by the U.S. Constitution. I firmly disagree as do the organizers of the Oregon event coming up in June."

Regarding the Boston College teacher who resigned, it is another clear sign how the Jesuit hierarchy clearly promotes a war policy while hiding behind the cloth of peace and goodness provided by the Catholic Church.

They also claim this tacit approval of war, as a Jesuit University openly teams up with Rice and the neo-cons, is another clear sign why the Jesuits are called the "masters of deception and the ultimate chameleons," able to infiltrate at will any religion or government while proclaiming peace but secretly instigating war.

In an open letter sent to Fr. Leahy of Boston College, Almond detailed his reasons for resigning and his open protest of Rice and the Jesuit decision to allow her to address graduating seniors, urging them to investigate the words and actions of Rice, and to exercise their own First Amendment rights:

I am doing so (resigning) -- after five years at BC, and with tremendous regret -- as a direct result of your decision to invite Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice to be the commencement speaker at this year's graduation.

Many members of the faculty and student body already have voiced their objection to the invitation, arguing that Rice's actions as secretary of state are inconsistent with the broader humanistic values of the university and the Catholic and Jesuit traditions from which those values derive.

But I am not writing this letter simply because of an objection to the war against Iraq. My concern is more fundamental. Simply put, Rice is a liar.

She has lied to the American people knowingly, repeatedly, often extravagantly over the past five years, in an effort to justify a pathologically misguided foreign policy.

The public record of her deceits is extensive. During the ramp-up to the Iraq war, she made 29 false or misleading public statements concerning Iraq's weapons of mass destruction and links to Al Qaeda, according to a congressional investigation by the House Committee on Government Reform.

To cite one example:

In an effort to build the case for war, then-National Security Adviser Rice repeatedly asserted that Iraq was pursuing a nuclear weapon, and specifically seeking uranium in Africa.

In July of 2003, after these claims were disproved, Rice said: 'Now if there were doubts about the underlying intelligence . . . those doubts were not communicated to the president, the vice president, or to me.'

Rice's own deputy, Stephen Hadley, later admitted that the CIA had sent her a memo eight months earlier warning against the use of this claim.

In the three years since the war began, Rice has continued to misrepresent or simply ignore the truth about our deadly adventure in Iraq.

Like the president whom she serves so faithfully, she refuses to recognize her errors or the tragic consequences of those errors to the young soldiers and civilians dying in Iraq. She is a diplomat whose central allegiance is not to the democratic cause of this nation, but absolute power.

This is the woman to whom you will be bestowing an honorary degree, along with the privilege of addressing the graduating class of 2006.

It is this last notion I find most reprehensible: that Boston College would entrust to Rice the role of moral exemplar.

To be clear: I am not questioning her intellectual gifts or academic accomplishments. Nor her potentially inspiring role as a powerful woman of color.

But these are not the factors by which a commencement speaker should be judged. It is the content of one's character that matters here -- the reverence for truth and knowledge that Boston College purports to champion.

Rice does not personify these values; she repudiates them. Whatever inspiring rhetoric she might present to the graduating class, her actions as a citizen and politician tell a different story.

Honestly, Father Leahy, what lessons do you expect her to impart to impressionable seniors?

That hard work in the corporate sector might gain them a spot on the board of Chevron? That they, too, might someday have an oil tanker named after them? That it is acceptable to lie to the American people for political gain?

Given the widespread objection to inviting Rice, I would like to think you will rescind the offer. But that is clearly not going to happen.

Like the administration in Washington, you appear too proud to admit to your mistake. Instead, you will mouth a bunch of platitudes, all of which boil down to: You don't want to lose face.

In this sense, you leave me no choice.

I cannot, in good conscience, exhort my students to pursue truth and knowledge, then collect a paycheck from an institution that displays such flagrant disregard for both.

I would like to apologize to my students and prospective students. I would also urge them to investigate the words and actions of Rice, and to exercise their own First Amendment rights at her speech.

The New World Order's Letter To Every Citizen Of The World Warning Resistance Is Futile

According to letter addressed to everybody in America, it's useless to resist a one world takeover, as the program is in its final stages.

15 May 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The New World Order agenda is well-known among alternative news junkies.

But to most Americans the name tag put on the sinister and diabolical group of thugs trying to take over the world means nothing.

It means absolutely nothing because most people remain in the dark, having fallen victim to the powerful propaganda machine sweeping through the world like an out of control freight train.

For those who remain uninformed, the following is a letter to get you up to speed from an Illuminati propagandist about the coming One World Order:

Dearest Citizen of the World,

I believe the time has come to reveal to you some of the perplexities you have faced in recent decades. It is well for you to understand some of these things so that you might know how to behave in the New Order now taking shape on the earth. We want you to be able to become fully involved and integrated into our new society. After all, this is for your best interest if you will do.

First of all, it is well that you understand some of our purposes so that you may more fully cooperate. I cannot tell you the hard times you will face if you resist us. We have ways of dealing with resisters. I am only telling you this now, since it is much too late to turn things around. The days of putting a stop to us have long since past. We have full control of the earth and its finance, along with the major media propaganda, and there is simply no way any nation or power can defeat us. We have eyes in every level of government in every nation of the world. We know what is being planned, for our ears and eyes are ever present. State secrets are fully known to us.

China recently accused the media in the U.S. of lying about Kosovo. Oh, you silly people, of course we lie. In this way we can keep the people unbalanced and always facing controversy which is very helpful to us. Have you not seen the talk show spectacle? Some of you believe we are the liberals and the good people are the conservatives. In reality, both serve our purposes. Each camp merely serves with the stamp of our approval but they are not allowed to present the real issues.

By creating controversy on all levels, no one knows what to do. So, in all of this confusion, we go ahead and accomplish what we want with no hindrance.

Consider the President of the United States. Even though he regularly breaks every known check on his power, no one can stop him. He goes ahead and does whatever we want him to do anyway. The Congress has no power to stop him. He does what we want since he knows if he does not, because of his rather dark character, we can have him removed in a moment's time. Is not that a rather brilliant strategy on our part?

You cannot take us to court because you can't see us and the courts are our servants as well. We run everything, yet, you do not know who to attack. I must say this hidden hand is wonderfully devised and without any known historical precedent on this scale. We rule the world and the world cannot even find out who is ruling them. This is truly a wonderful thing. In our media we present before you exactly what it is we want you to do. Then, as if in a flash, our little servants obey.

We can send American or European troops to wherever we like, whenever we like, and for whatever purpose we like, and you dutifully go about our business. How much more evidence do you need? We can make you desire to leave your homes and family and go to war merely at our command. We only need to present some nonsense to you from the president's desk or on the evening news and we can get you all fired up to do whatever we like. You can do nothing but what we put before you.

YOUR VAIN RESISTANCE

When any of you seek to resist us, we have ways of making you look ridiculous as we have done with your militia movement. We have delighted to use this movement to show the world how impotent any resistance is. They look so silly marching around with their guns as if they were some match for our military. Look at what we did near Waco. Did the Davidian's little store of weapons help them?

We have generously taxed you and used that money to make such sophisticated weapons you can in no way compete. Your own money has served to forge the chains we bind you with, since we are in control of all money. Some of you think you may escape by buying some land in the country and growing a garden. Let me remind you that you still pay us ground rent. Oh, you may call it property taxes, but it still goes to us.

You see, you need money no matter what you do. If you fail to pay your ground rent to us, we will take your land and sell it to someone who will pay us. Do you think we cannot do this? And with your ground rent we pay for the indoctrination of your children in the public schools we have set up. We want them to grow up well trained into the system of our thinking. Your children will learn what we want them to learn, when we want them to learn it, and you pay for it through your ground rent.

Those funds are also used for other projects we have in mind and our contractors are paid handsomely for their work. You may doubt that we own your children, or have such control, but you will find that we do. We can declare that you abuse your children when you spank them and have them confiscated. If they do not show up for school indoctrination, we can accuse you of neglect, thereby, giving them to us. Your children are not yours. They are ours. You must inoculate them, you must bring them to our hospitals if we decree or we will take them from you. You know this and we know this. Through our electronic commerce we are able to see where you are, what you are buying, and how much you have to buy things with. Where do you suppose we come up with our monthly financial statistics?

Through the Internet and other sources we can even know how you think and what you say. It is not especially important to us what you believe as long as you do what we say. Your beliefs are nonsense anyway. But if you think you have a following, and we perceive that you might be somewhat dangerous to our agenda, we have ways to deal with you. We have a Pandora's box of mischief with which to snare you. We can have you in court so long you will never get out. We can easily drain away all your assets over one pretext or another. We have an inexhaustible fund with which to draw from to pay our lawyers. These lawyers are paid by you in the form of taxes. You do not have this vast supply of wealth. We know how to divide and conquer. Have we not brought down rulers of countries through our devices? Do you think your tiny self will be any match for us?

YOUR VAIN ORGANIZATIONS

And, let us consider your religions and the "moral majority." The "moral majority" is neither moral nor is it in the majority. We have delighted to use this wet noodle of a movement to make ridiculous the Christian faith. The silly men who run that organization always end up with egg on their faces.

We have always put them in defense of themselves as we have so successfully done with the NRA. We can make it seem by our media propaganda that the National Rifle Association is actually the New Radical Attackers. Have we not turned the American conservative movement on its ear? If it serves our purposes we can use the conservatives to turn the liberals on their ear. It makes no difference to us but it serves to make you believe there are two sides struggling for their particular position. This helps to make things seem fair and free since everyone has a voice. Actually, there is only one side now with all kinds of masks on, but you are unable to penetrate our purposes. You see, we can do whatever we like and you can do nothing about it. Does it not seem reasonable that you simply obey and serve us? Otherwise, you get eaten up in the resistance you suppose will liberate you. You cannot be liberated. Imagine how you can. We supply your fuel for your cars. We can turn it off whenever we like claiming that there is some sort of fuel shortage. What if your car breaks down? You cannot get parts for it without us. We supply all the money you use. At any whim of our desire we can stop the money supply or cause a complete crash all together. We can then order the president to declare all money worthless and that we will have to have new money. All of your stashes of cash will go up in smoke in a moment's time. Don't you need food? If necessary, we can cause a trucker's strike which would stop deliveries of food to your local store. We can starve you whenever we like. You only have food because we have provided it to you from our table. During the great depression we controlled the food. We heaped mountains of food behind fences and let it rot. The hungry were then made to work in our labour camps even though there was enough and more to feed them. Do you really think you can beat us? You say you will hoard gold coins so you will still have money in the time of the crash. We can simply pass a law which outlaws the possession of gold as we have done in the past. If we find gold in your possession, we would simply confiscate it and put you in prison for breaking the law. While in prison you would be required to work in one of our prison industries.

We have so formed a picture of the labour camps in our prisons these days that no one seems to object to them. We tell people that murderers should pay for their own keep. No one seems to consider that we have the power to put tomato growers there also. We can pass laws that prohibit gardens and then make up some scientific reason why you may only buy food from our sources. If someone sees you growing tomatoes, they will report you to us and then we will have you in our fields working for us. Oh, silly nationalists, there is no escape for you, for since long before you were born, we were planning your capture. Your teachers and ministers have been forming your thoughts for us for generations now. You have no idea how to pull out of our influence short of suicide. Go ahead and commit suicide, it will only help us to deal with the excessive population. You cannot hurt us, find us, or even imagine what we are up to. I am throwing you these few crumbs only so that you may, if you have a little good sense, obey and follow our orders.

YOUR CONTROLLED MIND

We run Hollywood. The movies such as Terminator and Armageddon, along with a great host of others, were simply created to get you thinking according to our directions. You have been made to delight in violence so that when we send you off to kill some bad man we have put before you, you move without a whimper. We have placed violent arcade games in your malls to prepare your young minds in the art of battle. We have made you to view our armies and police as the good forces and you submit to things that were unthinkable just a few decades ago. Our artful programs, are all designed to help you submit and even help the New World Order. Star Trek, and other such creations, have taught you to simply obey orders from the new international rulers. Oh, silly people, you thought you were being entertained, while you were actually being educated. Dare I use the words, "brainwashed" or "mind control?" By the way, have you seen the new Star Wars? What a masterpiece of mental manipulation. Humans confer with nondescript beasts of all shapes and sizes and they confer in English. I wonder where those space beasts learned English. Oh, the simpleness of the mind of the citizen. He never considers he is being taken into fairyland. We have placed advertisements for Star Wars almost everywhere you go. You will find them in Wal-Mart, K-Mart, Taco Bell and a host of our institutions of commerce. There is something we want you to learn from this movie. Or, perhaps it could be said, there is something we do not want you to learn, from Episodes 4-6. Either way, we will have what we want in the whole affair. Of course, to keep you off guard we have instructed our elected officials to appear to be correcting the evil of our violence.

President Clinton is now speaking against violence in Hollywood movies. This will not solve the problem, but will only make the people believe the problem is being worked on.

Sex and violence are the very best powers to use to help us gain our advantage. How the people loathe to give up their sex and violence, so we place all they want before them. In this way, we keep them so occupied they do not have the integrity or brain power to deal with the really important matters which are left entirely in our hands. President Clinton has been very helpful to us. We knew of what character he was before we placed him as president. Exposing him was very helpful in adjusting the moral habits of the youth downward. This is to our advantage. Even more agreeable to us were the vain efforts of those who thought they could remove him against our will. He is useful to us and he will not be removed by anyone until we are ready to have him removed. Excuse me if I seem to be mocking your system of beliefs, but they are rather outdated. Have you no eyes to see your vain liberties and your righteous pontifications are nothing before us? You can only do what we say you can do. We remove presidents when we are ready and the leader we set up will be there until it serves us to have another. At that time we place our proposed leader before you and you vote for what we want. In that way we give you the vain voting exercise in the belief you had something to do with placing your president in office.

We use the nations for what we want to use them for. Everyone knows that they must yield to us or die. Fortunately, we have had a few resisters such as Saddam Hussein and Slobodan Milosevic that have been helpful in showing the world leaders what we will do to them if they do not submit. There is only glory in following our purposes and doing what we say. If one does not, there will be such a sad and tragic result. I would really have you spared of such an end. But, then, again, if you are not spared, it is of no consequence to us. We will use you to alleviate some of the overpopulation problem.

YOUR SILLY REBELLION AGAINST OUR DOMINION

Some of you have thought you could stop us by placing a bomb in one of our abortion clinics or in a government building. Silly souls! How can that hurt us? All that does is give us an example to use so that we might place more controls and heavy burdens on the population. We love it when you rebel and blow something up. You are our reason for making more laws against all those things which might contribute to your freedom from us. If someone did not blow something up on occasion, we would have no justification in placing more hedges about you. Can't you see how impossible it is for you to resist us? The more you wriggle, the more we squeeze. Our kingdom is the kingdom of money. Excuse me, but I must confess that we are the rulers of the kingdom of non-money.

You must see the humour in that statement. We have given you a piece of paper or some numbers on a computer screen that we have termed money. It is backed up by nothing and proven by nothing but what we say it is. We create it from nothing, we print it, we loan it, we give it its value, we take its value away. All things that have to do with money are in our hands.

Think of it, what is it that you can do against us without money? If you try to resist, we can cancel your credit or freeze your accounts. Your cash is easily confiscated. We have made so many rules in the realm of living that you cannot live without money. Camp on government land and you must move in two weeks. You cannot grow much of a garden in two weeks. Many of our wilderness trails are entered by permit only. We have passed laws that do not allow you to live in trailers over a certain period without moving to another location. Have you not thought it ridiculous that we will allow a man to live in a box full time but we will not allow a man to live in an RV full time unless he is in a taxpaying campground?

OUR UNFATHOMABLE MYSTERIES

Our recent war in Serbia has many purposes to it but we do not speak of these things openly. We let the talk show hosts blather all sorts of nonsense but none of it touches the core.

First of all, there is a wealth of natural resources in Kosovo that we must have complete control of. Kosovo has large supplies of uranium in its soil and uranium is very helpful to our regime. Also, it suits us to keep all such minerals out of the hands of potential enemies. Milosevic has not been helpful in giving those resources into our hands so we simply make things difficult for him until he does. Even now victory over Yugoslavia is imminent. We are reducing that proud nation to the level of humility we require from all people. After the war, if Mr. Milosevic does not sufficiently humble himself, we will take him to the world court charged with war crimes. We made up that term; rather ingenious, don't you think? How could there be such a thing as a war crime? The very nature of war is that the rules are off. It is so entertaining to watch the nations try to fight war according to the laws we have placed before them. The only war crime there really is only involves the crime of being against us. Anyone against us is violating our law. As you have seen when someone is for us we do not care what they do. Was not Nelson Mandela a bomb-toting terrorist who killed many of his enemies? We made a hero of him. We observe no laws when it comes to war. We do what we want, when we want, and where we want. We can starve nations to death, we can ruin civilians and any other horror for which we would take our enemies to court. Look at our example. We bomb Serbia out of its wits, bomb Kosovans out of their homes, poison their rivers and streams, turn off their electricity making a grand crisis in that country, and then we masterfully make it appear it is all Mr. Milosevic's fault and he needs to go to court for it. It is the same way we made our inferno at Waco look like Mr. Koresh's fault.

Then there was our chief villain, Saddam with all of his weapons of mass destruction. Bad men are a dime a dozen and we can conjure one up whenever it suits us. This is really quite funny when you think of it. I am not one who is usually given to humour, but I do catch myself laughing sometimes at the absolute absurdity of the notions we place before you and you readily accept. Do you wonder that the leaders of the world tremble at our presence? They know they have no power except the power we give them.

We have no fear of Russia or China for we are already in full control of their system of things. China knows that we can freeze any number of its corporations in America and all of its capital at the stroke of a pen. We want you to be in the system. When you are buying a house, we not only receive the tax revenue to use for our purposes, but we gain large increases from the interest on the loan. You may pay for your house two or three times over from the interest alone. The interest is also taxed which is again placed for use in those sectors of influence we choose. We do not want you to escape free and that is why we have made it as we have. You are our property. We will not permit you to buy or sell unless you submit to our mark of authority. If you go to court against us, we will wear you out there and in the end you will lose. If you use violence, we will end up having you in one of our labor camps, more specifically called prison industries. You need our money, our entertainments, our fuel, and our utilities to function and if you don't have them, you feel deprived. By this, you are made to yield to our will.

Sincerely,

Your Globalist Friend

Confession No. 4: Did Jesuit Fr. Staempfle Write Mein Kampf For Hitler? Is George W. Bush The New Jesuit-Backed Roman Catholic Star?

According to the late Jesuit priest, Fr. Alberto Rivera, whose job was to infiltrate and destroy Protestant ministries, he was privy to sensitive Vatican briefings and documents, revealing the Jesuit role in backing Hitler. Further, he was told by Cardinal Augustine Bea that Nazi gold was deposited in Vatican accounts in Swiss banks.

14 May 2006

By Greg Szymanski

According to the late Jesuit priest, Fr. Alberto Rivera, a fellow Jesuit named Fr. Staempfle wrote Mein Kampf, as the stage was being set for Germany's new Roman Catholic star, Adolf Hitler.

The main question today is what priest is writing the script for the Jesuit-backed Roman Catholic star, President George W. Bush?

Following the old adage "all things change but everything remains the same," a look back into Hitler's rise to power may provide important clues as to whether the Jesuits are also backing Bush.

To begin this Sunday's fourth Confession on the banks of the truth-filled body of water called Brushy Creek, it must be said that Fr. Rivera was a rare species, being a former Jesuit priest who decided to speak the truth about the "military order" disguised as a group of God-loving disciples of Jesus.

Most other disillusioned Jesuits like Rivera have remained silent since they know double-crossing the Society of Jesus high command means sure death, especially if you're someone who knew too much like Fr. Rivera.

What made Rivera dangerous to the Jesuits and probably led to his death, was Rivera's sensitive and trusted position within the Order to infiltrate Protestant ministries and destroy them. Due to his sensitive work, he was given special Vatican clearance to the secret underground library catacombs where, according to Rivera, the true history of the world remains buried for the chosen few, who have sworn by blood oath, never to reveal the dark and sinister contents.

And after reading how the Catholic Church manipulated history in its drive to rule the world, one very fortunate day for mankind he decided to alert the world and place his faith in Christ alone while leaving behind the Jesuits and the Catholic Church.

Being released from his vows, Rivera then married, started his own ministry and tried until he died under suspicious circumstances in 1997, to spread the word of truth. For his actions, he instantly became a hated and hunted man by the Church, as he shockingly admitted "No Jesuit can leave the Order alive, if he knows the real truth and talks about it."

And it appears his words rang true with his untimely 1997 death. But before Rivera died, he passed his message on in a very, very unique way - through a series of four colorful comic books - geared at reaching the masses by highlighting his important message in a nontraditional manner.

In his collection of full-color comic books carried by Chick Publications, entitled Alberto, Double-Cross, The Godfathers and The Force, Rivera tells his story, revealing how the Catholic Church helped start World Wars I and II, as well as revealing the Church's place in Bible prophecy. His story also details how the Church was involved in the startup of Islam, later turning against the Pope in rebellion, as well as detailing how America's present phony war on terror is basically "the Vatican's Revenge."

When Rivera first went public, Rome became extremely angered and called upon her ecumenical contacts to go on the attack, attacking him like they always do by attacking the messenger. The Vatican, not wanting to publicly discuss the serious charges leveled against the Jesuits and the hierarchy of the Church, decided to discredit him personally, hoping people would then discount his message.

The most notable of these personal attacks was an open letter published in Christianity Today, copied and distributed around the world many times since the 1980s. However, after reading this attack, James Houston, who had read enough of history to believe Rivera's charges, came forward in defense of Rivera with a detailed report.

Since the Christianity Today letter is still being distributed today, at the bottom of this Sunday confession are the links to the attack on Rivera and Houston's lengthy response.

Germany and Hitler

Rivera learned many hidden truths about the Jesuits and the Vatican, but none were more important than the story behind Hitler's rise to power.

Sounding strangely similar to what is happening to America, in 1923 Germany was in a downward spiral. The monetary system was teetering on the brink of disaster and the German people were sick and tired of war, similar to the majority of Americans today calling for the end of the Middle East conflict.

"The German people blamed the Kaiser for the whole thing and had him and his government thrown out of office," writes Rivera in the comic he entitled The Godfathers.

"The communists were fighting to take over and the new government was very weak. Some men wanted the German people to run their government like they did in France and were attempting to make Germany a Republic. The Pope was outraged and with that the Republic was doomed to failure.

"Two things the Vatican despises are Protestantism and Democracy. The Jesuits were then called upon to stop this new Weimer Republic. Two men then destroyed it: One was Franz Von Papan and the other was Pacelli, who later become Pope Pius XII."

Rivera then claims how he read in the secret Vatican how the stage was then set for Germany's new Roman Catholic star, Adolf Hitler, as a Jesuit priest by the name of Fr. Staempfle actually wrote Mein Kampf, the book being the master plan of the Jesuits for Hitler's takeover of Germany.

"Another great inquisition was about to begin," said Rivera. "Instead of wearing Dominican robes, they were wearing Nazi uniforms. Hitler's Brown Shirts, called Nazis, backed by the Vatican used the same tactic as Mussolini, beating and bullying all opposition into submission, including Roman Catholics. Bloody street battles between Roman Catholics who were Nazis and Roman Catholics who were communists took place. The prize being Germany."

The symbol for this new inquisition was the Swastika, which of course was a Masonic symbol. According to Rivera's research, Hitler was the Vatican's choice, just like Lech Walesa in Poland and the new American neo-con regime.

With this powerful backing, Hitler was destined to triumph as his close associates all had one thing in common: They were all Roman Catholics and loyal to the Vatican and according to Rivera, "all had Jewish blood in their veins, including Pacelli, the man who later became Pope Pius XII. When it became known that Pope Pius XI supported Hitler, the Roman Catholic vote swept Hitler into power in 1933."

The world now faced a terrible machine called the Third Reich, in which the Vatican became the master. History then forces the same question today: Is the Vatican now the master of the strange, fascist regime now controlling the White House, called the neo-cons?

Although Rivera is no longer with us to provide an answer, a statement by the publisher of his books revealed one of his startling predictions as well as laying groundwork for the present-day conflict in the Middle East, leading to World War III.

*In 1985, ex-Jesuit Alberto Rivera predicted that the Vatican would eventually apologize for its part in the German Holocaust, the inquisition, and the slaughter of Jews and Muslims during the Crusades. His prediction was based on secret briefings that he attended while a Jesuit in training.

This prediction came true as Pope John Paul II publicly asked forgiveness for the sins of Roman Catholics through the ages. The pope and several other Vatican leaders conducted a "Day of Pardon Mass" at St. Peter's Basilica.

To the Jews he said, "We are deeply saddened by the behavior of those who in the course of history have caused these children of yours to suffer, and asking your forgiveness we wish to commit ourselves to genuine brotherhood."

In reference to the Inquisition, Cardinal Ratzinger (The New Pope) confessed, "Even men of the church, in the name of faith and morals, have sometimes used methods not in keeping with the Gospel." The pope responded, "Have mercy on your sinful children."

Some Jewish leaders were unimpressed. Israel's chief rabbi, Meir Lau, said he was "deeply frustrated" by the pope's failure to mention the Holocaust by name.

Leaders from several Jewish organizations have been pressing the Vatican to open its World War II archives to investigators. They claim that, at best, Vatican leaders and Pope Pius XII, remained silent during Hitler's genocide against the Jews and others.

*Of course, few are willing to present the whole truth, that Roman Catholic leaders, including the pope, were instrumental in Hitler's rise to power and that Hitler was simply carrying out persecution against the Jews which the Vatican had fostered for centuries.

Another reason for opening the archives is to determine what happened to hundreds of millions of dollars worth of gold stolen by the Nazis from Jews and other conquered nations. Much of it has been traced to Swiss banks who have made a token refund to Holocaust survivors.

But Dr. Rivera was told by the head of the Jesuit order, Cardinal Augustin Bea, that a special train flying Vatican flags was allowed through the Allied military lines. The Americans were told it was a "mercy train" carrying medical supplies. In reality it carried Nazi gold which was deposited in Vatican accounts in Swiss banks. In July, 1997, a documentary film crew discovered a US government document stating that the pro-Nazi Croatian Ustachis sent gold coins worth 250 million Swiss francs to the Vatican which was later used to finance the "rat line" of fleeing Nazi leaders to sanctuary in Spain and Argentina.

The Vatican denies this but still refuses to open its archives. In January of this year, Ukranian and Jewish concentration camp survivors filed a class action lawsuit in San Francisco, California against the Vatican Bank. The complaint calls for the Vatican Bank, the Franciscan Order and other European banks to give an accounting of the Nazi Ustashi Gold and for restitution for the victims and their families.

The Roman Catholic Institution has steadfastly denied that Dr. Rivera ever was a priest, much less privy to secret Vatican briefings. However, it seems unlikely that it was just a lucky guess when he made these statements 15 years ago.

Are Vatican accusations, claiming Rivera is a phony, true?

The Canadian Protestant League, not connected with Rivera or his publisher, conducted an investigation. They printed their findings in 1983, 14 years before Rivera's suspicious death. Here is a portion of their report, finding Rivera is exactly what he says he is: a former Jesuit priest who was converted to Christ and the vicious character assassination attempts made against him only go to prove the veracity of his statements about Rome.

"Booklets produced in comic form by Chick Publications in cooperation with Dr. Alberto M. R. Rivera (viz.: ALBERTO, DOUBLE-CROSS, THE GODFATHERS, SABOTAGE, THE BIG BETRAYAL, and more recently, THE FORCE) have excited angry responses from the Roman Catholic hierarchy across this continent. The said publications have been called hate propaganda, and demands have been made that they be banned. These are familiar demands, used for generations against those who have dared to expose and oppose the false claims, doctrines and practices of Roman Catholicism.

"The books have been described by papal representatives (as well as by those duped by Jesuit propaganda) as 'absurd, bigoted, a comedy of errors, condemning out of hatred, dangerous to the cause of Christ, disgusting, distortion of truth, evil spirit inspired, false, filthy, hatred, hogwash, lewd, lies, malicious, playing fast and loose with truth, Satan possessed, shameful, spiritual pornography, trash, stupidity, ugly,' as well as 'working for the Devil and not Jesus, immoral and indecent!'

"Christian bookstores have been coaxed, awed and threatened into discontinuing sales of the Crusaders series, and every other piece of material published by Chick - even its Gospel tracts.

"At the head office of the Canadian Protestant League, we have attracted a little more than our share of attention, innuendo and threat by legal and other means. (We only started to handle the material when we became aware of the aggressive campaign to remove it from the scene.) Two of the books were banned from entry into Canada on instructions by a Director of Canada Customs and Excise on the grounds of 'immorality and indecency.' We challenged that outrageous action in Court and the order was rescinded.

"Efforts have been made in other areas to deny the use of the Post Offices to those who continued to send the material through the mails. We were warned that a report to the R.C.M.P. was being made against us.

"We are threatened by the appointment of a study committee, responsible to the Attorney-General of Ontario, at the urging of the office of the R.C. Archbishop of Toronto, to determine whether ALBERTO and DOUBLE-CROSS should be designated as 'Hate Literature,' and appropriate charges laid. We have been visited by two inspectors of Metropolitan Toronto Police, enquiring about our involvement, and speaking of the possibility of action against us.

"We made no effort to hide any of our activity, but admitted freely that we were selling the items they were asking about. We repeated to them what we had told others: we would welcome a charge being laid against us under the Hate Propaganda Section of Canada's criminal code.

"We believe that when any pressure group can successfully intimidate all Christian booksellers across Canada into refraining to sell certain literature because it is OFFENSIVE to some, then surely someone ought to be ready to focus attention on such a threat to faith and freedom in this land of ours.

"We are prepared to take that action.

"We have been reminded of the possibility of a $6,000.00 fine or a two year prison sentence. We have insisted, if and when this should take place, that no one will pay the fine! Perhaps this will arouse apathetic Canadians - and apathetic Christians.

"One would expect Roman Catholics (feeling their own institutions were assailed) to rally every effort to offset the most effective, fruitful harvest the said literature is able to report, but the more tragic form of attack from those who glory in the label of 'evangelical Christians' makes sad reading indeed!"

"Christian Reader, Cornerstone and Our Sunday Visitor, published an article authored by Gary Metz entitled, 'The Uncomical Alberto Rivera,' a prominent article in Christianity Today.

"More recently, an effort by Brian Onken in Forward, the official organ of Christian Research Institute, appeared under the title, 'Alberto: The Truth About His Story.' In this 'study,' Dr. Rivera, the converted Jesuit priest, is represented as being a dishonest fraud. Areas are named in the United States wherein Alberto was allegedly being sought for questioning.

"The articles demand a response from those who are jealous in contending for the faith and to conserve our freedom. Concerned Christians wish to hear answers to several questions:

"Is Jack Chick a totally irresponsible publisher?"

"Is Alberto Rivera the lying sensationalist he is caricatured as being?"

"Is Alberto truly God's instrument for our day to bring about the longed-for reawakening among duped Roman Catholics, so that they can be truly won to Jesus Christ as Lord, Saviour, Mediator and Advocate; to the Bible as the Word of God, authoritative, free from error, inspired, and reliable to judge all other authorities; and directing people to come out of an organization that is anti-Christian?"

"Why the terrible abuse and attack upon these two brethren?"

"Why has someone not followed up on some of the charges made? Can we not analyze the charges? Can we not forensically analyze the charges made?"

"Will the men and magazines, hailed by many as authoritative in the field of evangelism, allow us to examine their charges? We want to know if they have a case at all!"

"If their charges can be logically and evidentially supported, so that we must see Dr. Rivera as guilty beyond a reasonable doubt, then we must re-examine our own position and alter our stance of supporting Chick and Rivera.

"Now - what is contained in the expose, coming to us in these articles? Alas, they are being accepted by those who have never taken the trouble to thoughtfully and thoroughly investigate the charges against the brethren.

"Are these criticisms dependent upon hearsay evidence, rumour, reported information, charges of fraud, usually reliable sources, deception, controversy, disturbance, questioned reliability, untruths, continual lying, defiance, contradictory testimony and ingenuity in attempts to validate his own story? This is the sort of language of those who sit in judgment upon Dr. Rivera.

"Can it be that the wish is the parent of the thought? Do these accusers want the stories to be true? These are the questions calling for definitely stated answers; and that is what we are seeking.

Examine The Charges!

"These magazines - upon which so many people rely - make statements concerning Dr. Rivera with no presentation of supportive evidence. This is so obvious, it is difficult to assess the writings accusing the man.

"Now, imagine we are sitting in a Court of Law and serious charges are laid against Alberto Rivera. The Prosecution does its utmost presenting its charges and its testimony supporting those charges.

"The Defence Attorney, if he considers that evidence weak, will move that no case has been established, and ask the Magistrate to dismiss the charges. Should the Judge agree, the Accused is released. He is assumed to be innocent!

"We want to observe the charges, and consider how well those making the charges substantiate them. Should they not be properly supported in the presentations, then we ask that they be dismissed, and that apologies be made to the brethren charged. The Bible tells us as Christians:

'Do violence to no man, neither accuse any falsely. Prove all things, hold fast that which is good. Against an elder receive not an accusation, but before two or three witnesses. In the mouth of two or three witnesses shall every word be established.'

"Did the critics read Alberto's outline of the Basic Steps followed by the Roman Hierarchy to discredit and destroy any who left their ranks? Did they endeavour to expose Romanism's errors and evil practices? Did they insist that Jesuitism is not, by any means Christian?

"In his defence against what he describes as slanders levelled by friend and foe alike, Rivera calls attention to...unchristian and anti-biblical charges and accusations by the head of the Christian Research Center (which carefully avoids research into the crimes and massacres of the Roman Catholic institution) through the instrumentality of articles appearing in...Cornerstone and Christianity Today ...

"An honest, decent person, even a non-Christian, will recognize the validity and credibility of Dr. Rivera as a Roman Catholic priest! Why have these critics consistently attacked Alberto Rivera instead of the doctrines he espouses and proclaims?

"Mr. Metz says: Alberto says he worked with notable Jesuit spies such as Kathryn Kuhlman and Jim Jones; yet nowhere and at no time has Rivera said he had worked with either one!

"The critics tell us that the story of Alberto was banned by the Christian Reformed Church, Zondervan Publishers and The Southern Baptist Sunday School Board; yet failed to admit that many of the congregations associated with these three bodies continue to sell the Crusaders Comics in question.

"The critics failed to ask the Roman Catholic hierarchy why they were upset because the articles were true, for because of them thousands of former Roman Catholics had found Jesus Christ as Lord and Saviour, and were coming out of Rome's religion.

"Why else should a priest on an Indian Reservation in New Brunswick order a faith missionary to stay off the Reserve, if it were not that many young native adults were reading of Alberto through the comics and were coming to Christ? This has been true in Western Canada and in some places in Ontario.

"Why did not the critics ask the representatives of the Roman Church why these demands they currently make to ban from entry, etc., unless it is for fear of an acceleration of many of their people in this exodus from Rome?

"Why, specifically, are the mentioned publishers trying to abolish the ALBERTO series from all of their outlets? Have they been asked? Have they been asked whether the local Roman Church representatives have not appealed for this because they are offensive to them? (This was the reason given by the office of the Toronto R.C. Archbishop.) We are told by the critics: Our investigation reveals (Rivera's) police record, his investment schemes, his bad cheque-writing, his contradictory testimony, his fabricated education record, and his reported family abuse. Yet the author of these words must have forgotten something! He neglected to quote from any court records (indeed does not mention any single Court record location, any dates, any case numbers, and charges filed, whether or not an arrest was made, and the final outcome of the levelled charges allegedly made).

"Reported abuse, newspaper clippings, magazine articles, several article writers (each quoting the others), never must be understood to be valid, factual evidence credible of anything at all! Critical mention is made of a college in Spain for which Rivera (as a Jesuit priest) was authorized to collect funds, when he was not properly authorized to do so.

"The articles claim that Rivera was never a priest. No mention is made of the name of the college, or the source of the information to support the conclusions. It was officially agreed from Roman Catholic sources that Dr. Rivera had indeed been appointed to act in the collection of funds for one month, and surely he would have not been so used without his priestly credentials being checked!

"We are told that a minister of The Church of God of Prophecy, had experienced embarrassment when Rivera allegedly had written a cheque on an already closed account.

"Yet no mention is made of the location of the minister, of the banks concerned, of the locality of the airline desk complaining, whether the writers had ever seen a copy of the cheque, whether the closed account had previously existed, or to which office of which Department the said minister had written a complaint. (True, the accusers give us the name of the minister, but nothing else.)

"Charges are made of a history of legal entanglements, court actions, accusations of fraud, warrants issued for arrest, writing of bad cheques; yet no specifics regarding complaints, vital details, police records, places, hearings. No results are reported at all.

"Indeed, enquiries have been made by the Canadian Protestant League of every one of the police jurisdictions mentioned by the accusers, and consistently the response has been, we have never heard of this man!

"We hear of alleged inconsistencies, contradictions, impossibly conflicting dates; yet we have never been given the sources of such information - letters, tapes, photo-copies, individuals, interviews, etc. - not even a newspaper clipping!

"We are told: Alberto's claim to have been a Jesuit priest and bishop is denied by Roman Catholic spokesmen. They state the documents he exhibits as proof of this priesthood are little more than form letters giving permission to travel abroad.

"What else would one expect? Surely we would not expect Roman Catholic officialdom to admit that Alberto Rivera is telling the truth about them or their Jesuitical practices! How naive are we expected to be?"

Cleveland Women Put In Gulag And Held For Psyh Eval For Trying To Put Up Anti-Bush Poster

Carol Fisher is being held indefinitely in a surprise May 9 court hearing, becoming another political prisoner held illegally for speaking out against Bush.

13 May 2006

By Greg Szymanski

A Cleveland woman, manhandled by police and charged with two felonies for trying to display anti-Bush posters, was jailed in a Cuyahoga County psych unit last week in what her attorney called a "highly unusual and outrageous" decision.

Carol Fisher, 53, was ordered by state court Judge Timothy McGinty to undergo a psychological examination as a part of her pre-sentencing investigation in the anti-Bush poster incident.

From the onset of the case, Judge McGinty openly claimed Fisher suffered from "mental problems" for resisting a brutal encounter on Jan. 28 when Cleveland Heights police manhandled and arrested her even after complying with orders to not display the anti-Bush posters on a downtown Cleveland Heights street.

And during a last minute May 9 hearing, Judge McGinty said Fischer's opposition to the Bush administration makes her "delusional."

In response, Terry Gilbert, one of Fisher's attorney, said in more than 30 years of practicing law, he has never seen "anything remotely like this," adding legal challenges are ongoing, including a writ of habeas corpus.

"This is gulag stuff," said Gilbert. "Is this the kind of country you want to live in when dissidents are determined to be crazy?"

In a phone call after being put in the psych ward, Fisher said her eyeglasses were taken, she was put on suicide watch and if she doesn't comply with the psych examination, she will be sent to the North Coast Mental Institute for a 20 day evaluation.

During the hearing, Judge McGinty made other strange requests baffling attorneys, asking defense counsel to openly read a lengthy message on Fisher's t-shirt, saying:

"Wanted for Illegally Crossing Borders: The Bush Regime. If you are going to insist that crossing borders illegally is a crime which cannot be tolerated, how about George Bush, Dick Cheney, Donald Rumsfeld, Condoleezza Rice (and yes, Colin Powell) and the rest of that gang, with their highly illegal, and violent, 'crossing of the border'-into Iraq, among other places?!"

Judge McGinty then said this was proof of her delusional state, adding that "Carol wants to go to jail and that she has a martyr complex." Fisher had initially refused to taking a state ordered psych _eval, saying there was no reason for it due to the fact American citizens have the right to express political opinions in an open and honest fashion.

However, Judge McGinty's response to Fisher's refusal and statements was simply that "I don't negotiate with felons."

"I'd be crazy to go along with the psych test," said Fisher, adding she feared being railroaded by crooked state psychiatrists based on her opposition to the Bush administration. "That which you will resist and mobilize to stop, you will learn or be forced to accept."

And looking back on the entire Fisher story, starting with the Jan. 28 police brutality incident involving the anti-Bush posters, her case is a stark example of the fascist climate existing in America, an unsettling climate where dissidents are punished and authority figures are allowed to trample on civil rights.

As reported in the Arctic Beacon as well as being a guest on Greg Szymanski's radio show the Investigative Journal, Fisher said she was brutalized by Cleveland Heights police, charged with two counts of felony assault and held incommunicado under police custody in the hospital even after complying with orders not to post the anti-Bush signs.

"The facts show that I was willing to take the posters down as the officer requested. But I was arrested anyway. Yet the prosecution intends to distort the facts and police still promote the lie that I was arrested because I refused to comply, and attacked them," said Fisher.

"The real point here is, there need to be more posters all over the place demanding an end to the Bush Regime! The facts clear and simple: I was wrongly arrested and assaulted for putting up anti-Bush posters. I was further punished for defying them.

"What about my injuries, trauma, intimidation, a threat on my life, being labeled a crazy wildcat, held incommunicado for six hours, forced to undress in front of four male policemen, and now the loss of my job? And most of all, what about the fact that all this happened because I put up a poster calling for active opposition to the Bush Regime!"

And Fisher's run-in with authorities and subsequent illegal incarceration is just another example of the long line of cases piling up across America showing the "real live day to day" lock down on freedom of speech and the use of police as the Gestapo arm of the fascist Bush administration.

"I had set out from my house with a full agenda, to contact lots of people and get out materials about our upcoming Cleveland event to Drown Out the State of the Union address, and the call to march around the White House on Feb. 4th. My first stop was the an area known for its community of artists and progressives, where I stapled up posters for blocks and was greeted warmly by those who saw and appreciated what World Cant Wait is doing. I talked to an artist, and a Palestinian store owner who took fliers to distribute to customers.

"Next stop, to the east side. I drove down a street in Cleveland Heights, another area known for its diversity and progressive history. This street was badly in need of postering too and though i was in a big hurry, I couldn't drive on without getting up a few signs. Before long a cop called from across the street: "Ma'am! Hundred dollar fine for doing that!" Oh really, since when? Another way of keeping us from getting the word out, eh?

"But not wanting to get arrested, I said ok and put up my staple gun and walked away. But that wasn't the end of it. "Ma'am! Hundred dollar fine unless you take those posters down." He is pursuing me across the street. Damn! OK fine, I say, I will take them down (not wanting to get into a confrontation, because I have lots to do today!) But this too is not enough for the cop. He wants my ID. I say I don't have my ID. He grabs my arm. I say let go of me, I am not doing anything wrong, I will take the posters down. People are watching to see what happens, are outraged but very afraid. The cop won't let go, he clearly wants more grief from me, and he is in the spotlight. He wants people to be scared. He pushes me against a store window and next thing I know I am face down on the sidewalk with two cops on top of me, one with his knee in my back. I am trying to call out to people, to tell them what the posters are about.

"They keep pushing my face into the sidewalk. I can't breathe. I have osteoradionecrosis in my jaw, resulting from radiation treatments for cancer. My jawbone is slowly deteriorating, is very fragile, and doesn't heal well. I am 53 years old, not exactly a spring chicken. A hand comes down again to push my chin against the concrete.

"By this time there are four cops on the scene. My hands are tightly cuffed behind my back. They lift me up and shove me onto a park bench and shackle my legs. I am still calling out, telling people what this is about. One of the cops says to me, "Shut up or I will kill you!", "I am sick of this anti-Bush shit!" "You are definitely going to the psyche ward." Then somebody calls the EMS, and a fire squad shows up.

"The cop supervisor appears and puts his finger in my face: "I don't like it when people treat my men like this and if you don't obey the law you will suffer the consequences." I am lifted into the EMS truck, hands still cuffed behind my back. I ask to make a call and this is refused, but a fireman offers to make a quick call for me. If not for this, no one would have known where I was or what was happening, a fate shared by many immigrants in this country. At the hospital, I am treated as an arch-criminal. Escorted by four policemen, I shuffle into the emergency room, legs still shackled, covered with leaves and mud. I think to myself, if I was Black, I would not have made it this far. I would probably be dead by now."

In Court Documents, Federal Attorney Admits CIA Targeted Innocent Texas Citizen Who Is Also Being Targeted With Deadly Electronic Weapons
Jesus Mendoza. 52, recently filed his third lawsuit trying to get the U.S. government to cease and desist from using electronic weaponry on innocent citizens.

12 May 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Leslie Oliver is being "cooked alive" and Jesus Mendoza is dying a slow "electronic death," as two more stories surface about torture and abuse at the hands of a totalitarian U.S. government using high-grade military weaponry against its own people.

Their stories of gang stalking and electronic harassment, by a U.S. government grown mad with power, add to a growing list of thousands of Americans who are desperately trying to alert the public about what they call "the perfect crime."

And it's called the perfect crime since electronic weapons are invisible while causing severe mental and physical damage on its target.

In response to the accusations, government officials claim to use electronic weaponry against only foreign enemies, but Mendoza, 52, of Mission TX, has uncovered shocking evidence in a lawsuit he recently filed that the CIA and NSA are authorizing the use of this weaponry against innocent Americans, including Mendoza.

"I have an admission from the federal attorney in the lawsuit I filed against the U.S. government that the CIA has targeted me and these weapons are being used against me and my family," said Mendoza,, in an extensive interview on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal.

Mendoza has filed three lawsuits against the federal government to cease and desist with the use of such weapons, two of the cases being dismissed while the third is still pending.

"I also have included in my lawsuit a sworn statement from an FBI agent who verified that he was ordered to use electronic weaponry on innocent citizens as a part of a government program," added Mendoza.

Further he claims he has been under heavy electronic and stalking attacks since 1997 after he originally filed a lawsuit against the law school he attended for fraudulent activities regarding admissions policies.

Since filing the case against influential people in the community he has been the target of electronic harassment, particularly when he is at home and especially when he is in the company of his children. Mendoza's case is also somewhat unique since he has been able to videotape both non-ionizing EM and ionizing x-rays, gamma rays, radioactivity radiation readings on his several meters.

"I have received death threats after putting before and after pictures of my family members on a web site in 2005," said Mendoza. "My incoming and outgoing emails are read and sabotaged, especially when they are from persons offering help or relevant information which pertains to my slow electro magnetic murder.

"My telephone calls too are under heavy surveillance and are being controlled. All members of my family including my children, wife and in-laws are literally being electronically cooked to death. And now, I find myself at times almost unable to breathe, and with barely enough energy to function, I am bedridden much of the time and the blood in my eyes indicate broken blood vessels."

Regarding the type of torture Mendoza and his family endures on a daily basis, scientist Tim Rifat had this to say:

"As a scientist researching into microwave weapons used on the general public, evidence that the GM900 microwave network is a major health hazard, has come to my attention. Microwave frequencies similar to those of the cellular phones can cause health problems in the following areas: Blood. Cardiovascular System. Cells. Central Nervous System. Digestive System. Glands. Metabolism. Reproduction. Visual System. Internal Sound Perception.

"The GM1800 system used by Orange uses higher frequency microwaves. Australian scientists found this caused cancer in mice exposed to radiation of this type. The documents in my possession show that microwaves pass deeply into the body and can have a negative effect on the brain and body.

"The DIA research dates from 1976 and shows the dangers were known about over twenty years ago. The Soviets used the frequencies and intensities used by mobile phones, 1800 MHz and 900 MHz, as weapons. It is a rule of the intelligence community that you hide things in plain view, getting the public to accept microwave mind control weapons which affect their behavior under the guise of mobile phones was a stroke of genius. Getting the public to pay for these microwave mind control devices, so their brains and behavior can be damaged, to make them more docile and easy to control, was pure diabolical genius."

Regarding the case of Oliver, who is also a targeted individual, she recently wrote the following account of her story, saying she has unsuccessfully moved to India to try and get away from the electronic harassment.

"Electro Magnetic Weapons can and will wipe out mankind, that is, after they covertly assassinate individual dissidents by sudden heart failure, "mysterious" airplane and automobile crashes, choking, suicides and a myriad of other types of "natural" deaths all of which are occurring right now.

"The following report is an accurate account of the illegal, violent atrocities and numerous attempts to murder me by what is now known to be the black ops of the corrupt U.S. Gestapo Government or organized crime unit. This new American mafia is condoned, supported and protected by local police, federal law enforcement agencies and all levels of government, including the very highest offices.

"The Black Ops/U.S. Gestapo Government now has the capability of literally closing UP a person's windpipe or plunging a person into unconscious us A distance to incapacitate and kill them. They then set the murder scene up to look like an accident.

"They also internally cook and radiate a person to death from a distance and there is no doubt they have every intention of using these EM weapons on us.

"With the use of Microwave/Scalar EM Weapons aimed directly at us, guns and conventional arsenals are virtually obsolete... Since my last post, the long murdering arm of black ops in the U.S. has reached across the globe to Dharamsala, India and began systematic 'electric shocks' to my chest, along with their infamous microwaving. This is done to induce a natural-looking completely unnatural heart attack as many prominent figures who oppose the new Fascist governments have suffered.

"In fact, they have now 'pumped up' the microwave radiation to my chest and stomach area to make certain the tissue weakens quickly. There is a burning sensation of heat inside my body all during the day and night. Based on research reports, this is how they Cook the organs so people will develop serious diseases or simply die of organ failure, naturally of course. The blood vessels in my eyes are showing blood... a sign that the microwave heat is not being let out of the body properly which will eventually lead to blinding cataracts or eye cancer."

Plans To Microchip Every Newborn In U.S. And Europe Underway, According To Former Chief Medical Officer Of Finland

Technology exists to create a totalitarian New World Order and sinister plans to use it on innocent public being covered up by U.S. policy makers.

11 May 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Are you ready for a total elimination of privacy and a robotizing of mankind, as well as an invasion of every thought going through your head?

Are you prepared to live in a world in which every newborn baby is micro-chipped? And finally are you ready to have your every move tracked, recorded and placed in Big Brother's data bank?

Although it seems impossible, plans are well underway to control every move and thought of the American population once the New World Order ends its period of extended violence, a stage of takeover the country is now experiencing.

And since there is very little written in the compliant U.S. media, a story that appeared in the Finnish-language journal, Spekula, tells Americans just how close we are to entering the totalitarian New World Order.

According to the Finnish article, distributed to doctors and medical students, time is running out for changing the direction of military medicine and mind control technology, ensuring the future of human freedom.

"Yet the technology exists to create a totalitarian New World Order," said Rauni-Leena Luukanen-Kilde, MD, a former chief medical officer of Finland. "Covert neurological communication systems are in place to counteract independent thinking and to control social and political activity on behalf of self-serving private and military interests.

"When our brain functions are already connected to supercomputers by means of radio implants and microchips, it will be too late for protest. This threat can be defeated only by educating the public, using available literature on biotelemetry and information exchanged at international congresses."

In her article, entitled Microchip Implants, Mind Control, and Cybernetics, Dr. Kilde claims the U.S. is the main culprit behind the covert use of electronic equipment and weaponry, saying "one reason this technology has remained a state secret is the widespread prestige of the psychiatric Diagnostic Statistical Manual IV produced by the U.S. American Psychiatric Association (APA) printed in 18 languages.

"Psychiatrists working for U.S. intelligence agencies no doubt participated in writing and revising this manual. This psychiatric "bible" covers up the secret development of MC technologies by labeling some of their effects as symptoms of paranoid schizophrenia."

Dr. Kilde added the media has remained "hush hush" about the true intent and purpose behind micro-chipping, saying the perfect cyber soldier can be created with sophisticated equipment and weaponry being used in certain NATO countries since the 1980's.

Listen as Dr. Kilde explains the sinister nature behind the government's use of electronic weaponry as a political means of control:

This secret technology has been used by military forces in certain NATO countries since the 1980s without civilian and academic populations having heard anything about it. Thus, little information about such invasive mind-control systems is available in professional and academic journals.

The NSA's Signals Intelligence group can remotely monitor information from human brains by decoding the evoked potentials (3.50HZ, 5 milliwatt) emitted by the brain.

Prisoner experimentees in both Gothenburg, Sweden and Vienna, Austria have been found to have evident brain lesions. Diminished blood circulation and lack of oxygen in the right temporal frontal lobes result where brain implants are usually operative.

A Finnish experimentee experienced brain atrophy and intermittent attacks of unconsciousness due to lack of oxygen.

Mind control techniques can be used for political purposes. The goal of mind controllers today is to induce the targeted persons or groups to act against his or her own convictions and best interests. Zombified individuals can even be programmed to murder and remember nothing of their crime afterward. Alarming examples of this phenomenon can be found in the U.S.

This silent war is being conducted against unknowing civilians and soldiers by military and intelligence agencies. Since 1980, electronic stimulation of the brain (ESB) has been secretly used to control people targeted without their knowledge or consent. All international human rights agreements forbid nonconsensual manipulation of human beings even in prisons, not to speak of civilian populations.

Targeting brain functions with electromagnetic fields and beams (from helicopters and airplanes, satellites, from parked vans, neighboring houses, telephone poles, electrical appliances, mobile phones, TV, radio, etc.) is part of the radiation problem that should be addressed in democratically elected government bodies.

In addition to electronic MC, chemical methods have also been developed. Mind-altering drugs and different smelling gasses affecting brain function negatively can be injected into air ducts or water pipes. Bacteria and viruses have also been tested this way in several countries.

Regarding plans to microchip newborns, Dr. Kilde said the U.S. has been moving in this direction "in secrecy." She added that in Sweden, Prime Minister Olof Palme gave permission in 1973 to implant prisoners, and Data Inspection's ex-Director General Jan Freese revealed that nursing-home patients were implanted in the mid-1980s. The technology is revealed in the 1972:47 Swedish state report, Statens Officiella Utradningar (SOU).

"Implanted human beings can be followed anywhere. Their brain functions can be remotely monitored by supercomputers and even altered through the changing of frequencies," wrote Dr. Kilde.

"Guinea pigs in secret experiments have included prisoners, soldiers, mental patients,handicapped children, deaf and blind people, homosexuals, single women, the elderly,school children, and any group of people considered "marginal" by the elite experimenters. The published experiences of prisoners in Utah State Prison, for example, are shocking to the conscience.

"Today's microchips operate by means of low-frequency radio waves that target them. With the help of satellites, the implanted person can be tracked anywhere on the globe. Such a technique was among a number tested in the Iraq war, according to Dr. Carl Sanders, who invented the intelligence-manned interface (IMI) biotic, which is injected into people. (Earlier during the Vietnam War, soldiers were injected with the Rambo chip, designed to increase adrenaline flow into the bloodstream.) The 20-billion-bit/second supercomputers at the U.S. National Security Agency (NSA) could now "see and hear" what soldiers experience in the battlefield with a remote monitoring system (RMS).

"When a 5-micromillimeter microchip (the diameter of a strand of hair is 50 micromillimeters) is placed into optical nerve of the eye, it draws neuro-impulses from the brain that embody the experiences, smells, sights, and voice of the implanted person. Once transferred and stored in a computer, these neuro-impulses can be projected back to the person's brain via the microchip to be re-experienced. Using a RMS, a land-based computer operator can send electromagnetic messages (encoded as signals) to the nervous system, affecting the target's performance. With RMS, healthy persons can be induced to see hallucinations and to hear voices in their heads.

"Every thought, reaction, hearing, and visual observation causes a certain neurological potential, spikes, and patterns in the brain and its electromagnetic fields, which can now be decoded into thoughts, pictures, and voices. Electromagnetic stimulation can therefore change a person's brainwaves and affect muscular activity, causing painful muscular cramps experienced as torture."

A Column: Slats Grobnik Finally Gets Out Of Denver Gulag After 33 Days
Slats is back at his home at Sam's Tavern in Chicago after being micro chipped and used as a New World Order guinea pig.

10 May 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Slats Grobnik has been held incommunicado for 33 days in an underground Denver gulag, joining hundreds of other political prisoners including Elsebeth Baumgartner, Susan Lindauer and Carol Fisher.

And the one thing they all have in common is that they tried to speak out against the neo con party line, a party line trying to destroy America every hour of every minute of every day.

While the Fisher, Baumgartner and Lindauer stories have been well-documented in the Arctic Beacon archives, Slats has been overlooked since he has been lying face down on a concrete floor in a god forsaken Homeland Security hell hole detention center, held without right to counsel, clergy or even a phone call.

If you recall, Slats was hauled out of a Chicago tavern after being drugged by a CIA agent when he started calling President Bush a devil worshipping SOB who once was caught naked in a coffin during a Yale Skull and Bones ceremony.

Although no laws were broken, under the U.S. Patriot Act, authorities were able to haul Slats away, claiming he was aiding and abetting terrorism by denigrating the good name of the President of the United States.

And for 33 days, Slats has had little to say about the illegality of his incarceration since according to authorities he no longer has any rights whatsoever. Slats has become a prisoner of the state, a threat to the New World Order and a nuisance to the power elite.

Further, one of the guards in the gulag was overheard saying, "He's being used as an example for every other beer drinking American who thinks he can get away with talking against our good President known as The Great Decider."

In a fascist society, thought and speech crimes are punished without showing mercy since the greatest enemy to a country like America has now become are people who try to undermine authority by using their free will and free speech.

Slats has fallen into this unfortunate category just for calling Bush a devil worshipper. Others like him have met the same fate, being jailed illegally for such criminal acts as speaking out a city council meeting, talking against the war in Iraq and putting up anti-Bush posters on a city street.

And it truly is a sad to watch so many innocent people being jailed while the majority of Americans carry on business as usual, acting like everything's coming up roses.

So as we look in on Slats, through the eyes of a gulag security tape smuggled out by a friendly guard, we find Slats lying on the floor looking up at the ceiling, talking to the Big Brother's voice coming from the speakers hanging from the ceiling.

"My God, kill me," yells Slats while literally pulling his hair out. "No more needles, you bastards, no more needles!"

Slats started screaming while rolling on the floor like someone in an epileptic fit as Big Brother's voice echoed throughout the concrete cell:

"Mr. Grobnik, calm down. You have three more days here with us. Today you will undergo mind therapy. Tomorrow you will be micro chipped and then on your last day, you will meet with your Jesuit confessor, who by the way, will act as your permanent handler once you leave us.

"He is Godly man, Mr. Grobnik, who will help you adjust to your new lifestyle. He is a kind and truly compassionate man who will see to it that nothing goes wrong once you leave."

Before Slats knew it, two days passed and his micro chip was placed behind his left ear. He now was state property, marked by the beast and numbered suspiciously as Denver Gulag Citizen No. 911666.

Before being escorted back to Chicago with very little recollection of what had transpired due to the mind numbing therapy session, Slats found himself in a confessional as the priest opened the little screen window between kneeling compartments.

"Mr. Grobnik, I am going to make this short and sweet so don't bother with the Bless me Father for I have sinned part and I won't bother giving you any Hail Mary's and Our Fathers," said the Jesuit priest, who appeared to be wearing a black hood although his face was hidden behind the screen in the confessional window. "This is your last step before we set you free and put you into the new world we are creating.

"Just get me back to Sam's Tavern, the place where I came from," said Slats.

"Be patient. One last word before you go home, Mr. Grobnik, one last word. Let me say this, if you ever repeat anything I tell you, you will die a terrible death. I will poison you myself Mr. Grobnik, is that clear?"

"Yes."

"Good. Now listen clearly. You have been chosen to be one of the lucky ones who will survive the upcoming genocide. The chip we have given you ensures that. How and why we cannot tell you, but let's just say, your brain has been modified to suit our liking. For example, will you ever say Mr. Bush is a devil worshipper again?"

"No."

"Good. You see. Much improved from when you first arrived. You now appear ready to go out and help with spreading the word of God while helping the Father General and our good American President in realizing the dream of a better world.

"Mr. Grobnik, I think you understand the only way to get there is through war, famine, genocide, don't you?"

"Yes."

"Good. Now go my son into our New World Order, go into our world where the chosen ones have allowed you to join the club."

"Thank you," said Slats, as he opened the confessional door but looking back at the Jesuit wearing the black hood. "How can we meet again?"

"If you follow our orders, you can see me every Sunday saying Mass at Saint Mary's near your Chicago home. If you don't, you will see me standing over you wearing a black hood with a point of knife at your throat. Is that clear, Mr Grobnik?"

"Perfectly."

As Slats left the gulag, the same black car he arrived in took him back to Sam's Tavern. As he ordered a beer, Sam the bartender said: "Where the hell have you been?"

"Just went to Church, Sam. Just went to Church."

Editor's Note: Every once in a blue moon, Greg writes a column about Slats Grobnik, a character made famous by the late Chicago syndicated columnist, Mike Royko. Greg likes to write about Slats, keeping his name alive in Mike's honor.

Has The New World Order Taken Over America's Free Will, Leaving People Unable To Think For Themselves?

Alan Watt has been fighting to wake-up America for more than a decade, saying people need to understand history before ever having a grasp on what is happening in America today

9 May 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Alan Watt knows the New World Order has all the power and resources that money can buy.

He knows the rulers have been perfecting their system of dominance and control for centuries, using mind control and propaganda as a way to deceive the masses.

According to Watt, who has meticulously studied history to find the answers, the Illuminati's main goal is to wipe away freewill and individualism, replacing it with the new socialist man, who is unable to think on his own and easily manipulated and controlled.

And if history be the guide, he understands the picture looks bleak for the America since the controllers of the New World Order have devised a program that usually works when they decide to takeover a country.

But like the ultimate free thinker, he feels the diabolical intentions of the rich and powerful, who have infiltrated all major governments and religions of the world, can be defeated once the American people again learn to think and reason on their own without relying on their government and media to do their thinking for them.

Watt's wit, wisdom and scholarship are well known in a small circle of people who have not fallen victim to the New World Order's propaganda machine, but he still remains a virtual unknown to the masses since the New World Order's clamp down on free speech and free thought has reached epidemic proportions.

"There are always going to be a few people who can't be brainwashed," said Watt this week on Greg Szymanski's radio show, the Investigative Journal. "But for the most part the masses remain in the dark, not having a clue how the New World Order plan works and how they really are.

"Everybody has to realize that this is their system, not ours. People have to realize they are led to believe they are free, but really they are not. Mind control is a big part of the New World Order takeover and they use religion as one of their main tools.

"People have to remember that this elitist system has been passed down for hundreds if not thousands of years. They work through secret societies, infiltrating governments and religions and using Freemasonry around the world as their tool.

"The people at the lower levels, of course, don't understand what's happening at the top and they provide a good cover for the top levels to carry out their plan of one government and one religion through war and genocide. We are put on this planet for a short time and must try to first understand what is happening by understanding history."

Watt is known for his scholarship in ancient religions and secret societies, using his study of history as a way explain the problems facing the world today. But Watt is also quick point out, there are solutions.

Here is one answer he gave to an inquisitive emailer on his web site at www.cuttingthroughthematrix.com

"We've got to eliminate the crocodiles because apparently they're running all over the place. Part of the solution again is to expose the control and the control techniques which includes psychological warfare, which has many people spinning into outer space. The solution is for each individual to decide. If the system is corrupt from top to bottom, how can you save it, and would you want to save it, or like most people do you want time to stop with everything you know intact and simply go no further?"

"I've been deluged with New Agers who've swallowed every piece of candy on the bookshelves and their solution is to stare down holes like Mt. Shasta for an answer, try and make piece with the reptiles, or accepting the "fact" that the commoners are a lower slave made DNA type of reptile, therefore there's nothing you can do. Meanwhile all the little unknown people who've been doing all the serious research have it spun into outer space and discredited by psychological warfare techniques.

"The oneness movement was put out there by the top of the establishment for the establishment's sake. People are divided by all religions including the New Age Religion, the Space Age Religion and the Lord Of The Rings Religion. The only ones who have their names on documents regarding the New World Order and its agenda were conceived and born the same way as everybody else. Until the public demand a say in their own destiny and demand the associations to which every public servant belongs be made available, then these agendas will steamroll on.

"Why would anyone give power of law over one-self to someone or hundreds who've sworn allegiance to a secret agenda? Just like with the FTAA, NAFTA, GATT, SOA, the public know by the effects years after the deals have been signed into law. We are only now seeing the effects of the next stage. America is asleep. No one can argue they didn't notice the unification of Europe and the subjugation of once national governments to that of minor provinces. Where were the people of America while all that was going on? And check the most popular books of that era. Yes, counter-intelligence works very well."

Much has written about the origins of the New World Order as well as the culprits, but not much has been said about the stages people go through in waking up to the truth or why the waking up process fails to spread quickly through society.

Although Watt believes most people really do not want to know the truth, he provides a much deeper analysis in one of his three books under the main title of Cutting Through: Volumes I, II and III. As a preface to understanding, I think it necessary to go through the standard phases of "waking up."

1. An Individual vaguely perceives something is wrong in his/her life. This takes the form of fatigue at trying to "keep up" with real or imaginary crisis, encroachment of government into every aspect of life, increasing taxation and so on. Sometimes it takes the loss of work and the realization that the safety net they contributed to has a gaping hole in the middle.

2. The individual discovers that justice is a joke and that all control mechanisms go up like a pyramid, taking their property, taxes etc. with it. This wealth then is distributed to "help bail-out" or "prop-up" "failing" transnational corporations. Left-overs are channeled via Overseas Development Corporations to "developing nations," where the loot is pocketed by front-men and their bureaucrats. Crumbs filter down to social services, which, after being guzzled by directors and staff, leave little for the needy except bundles of forms, in triplicate, of course.

3. The individual looks around for others already exposing "the conspiracy." These established champions inform him which "conspiracy" books to read. Having then done so, the individual begins to "expose" the corruption, first to friends, then when friendless, he either publishes what he has gleaned or becomes paranoid and withdraws from society altogether.

Why does the waking-up process fail to spread quickly through society?

1. He is terribly naive. He believes the massive corruption "just happened" to begin in his own lifetime, otherwise mummy or daddy or teacher would have warned him. It does not occur to him that his Parents, teachers etc. were as conditioned as he was.

2. Most people do not wish to know. They, like farm animals, have been domesticated. Wild animals (original) have natural instincts of self-preservation. They sense the evil intentions of predators and they survive by trusting their instincts. Wild herds do not "hang around" when one or more members drops dead. Specially bred sheep do.

3. Pavlovian conditioning/response indoctrination has been fed to every individual, through schooling. The media then takes over. Peoples' opinions are simply sound-bites from news, talk-shows or quotes from glossy magazines.

4. Trust replaces the instinct of self-preservation. It over-rides memory and logic. Controllers and shepherds encourage trust.

5. When threatened with loss of possessions, property, access to health care, etc., people turn to government(predators) for help, or/and organized religion. Should an individual persist in pushing for his "rights," he will be removed from society and placed in a psychiatric hospital or prison on any number of pretexts. The alternative is death by "accident," or shot by police while 'resisting arrest.'

Saying we are truly living in the age of destruction and chaos, Watt added:

"We are truly into the age of chaos, long in the planning and written about openly by the big movers and shakers who lord over us. Some of them, such as Brzezinski have described the coming effects on world-wide societies as akin to the vast population movements which occurred at the beginning of the industrial revolution.

"After the unification of Europe was to follow the unification of the Americas with the resulting clash of cultures and the initial mayhem produced. People slept while the Free Trade Agreement and the subsequent NAFTA (North American Free Trade Agreement) were discussed with deliberate minimum coverage by the CFR (Council on Foreign Relations) controlled media. For those who wish to check, the publicly available censored version will see it has to do, in part, with THE FREE FLOW OF GOODS AND LABOR across traditional national boundaries. People are being encouraged to blame the effect (mass influx from south) and to completely forget the cause.

"Out of the mayhem will materialize, as if by magic, a new Constitution of the Americas. This will be presented as the only reasonable and logical direction to go if we are all to live in peace and security. Coupled with this will come the announcement that every citizen of the Americas must accept an INTERNATIONAL Identity Card under the guise that authorities will be able to track criminal elements moving northwards. The problem has been caused, the reaction is underway, and the solution will be presented. This is the standard Hegelian technique which never fails. Read "MILLENNIUM - Winners and Losers in the Coming World Order" by Jacques Attali who helped spearhead the European Union."

Mexicans Given Free Ride To Work While Americans Have To 'Jump Through Hoops' To Work In Mexico

American worker in Mexico says the Mexican authorities keep close tabs on foreign workers, forcing bribes, taking fingerprints and checking bank accounts.

8 May 2006

By Greg Szymanski

According to a director for Southwest Bell Telephone, the Mexican government makes American citizens "jump through hoops" before being allowed to work on the other side of the border.

The Mexican government also keeps close tabs on American workers, checking bank accounts, taking fingerprints and requiring photographs.

The director, who wishes to remain anonymous for fear of losing his job, said the U.S. government should provide the same stringent rules as does its Mexican counterpart when it comes to illegal aliens attempting to work in America.

The following story, dubbed Immigration Mexican Style, shows the double standard used on American citizens, as opposed to the free ride given to Mexicans crossing the border.

Here's what the Southwest Bell Director told the Arctic Beacon about the tough immigration policies when he and his wife attempted to work in Mexico, as well as relating some other strange things going on south of the border:

I spent five years working in Mexico. I worked under a tourist visa for three months and could legally renew it for three more months. After that you were working illegally. I was technically illegal for three weeks waiting on the FM 3 approval.

During that six months our Mexican and U.S. Attorneys were working to secure a permanent work visa called a FM 3. It was in addition to my US passport that I had to show each time I entered and left the country. Barbara's (my wife) was the same except hers did not permit her to work.

To apply for the FM 3 I needed to submit the following notarized originals -- not copies -- of my:

- 1. Birth certificates for Barbara and me.*
- 2. Marriage certificate.*
- 3. High school transcripts and proof of graduation.*
- 4. College transcripts for every college I attended and proof of graduation.*
- 5. Two letters of recommendation from supervisors I had worked for at least one year.*
- 6. A letter from The St. Louis Chief of Police indicating I had no arrest record in the U.S. and no outstanding warrants and was "a citizen in good standing."*
- 7. Finally; I had to write a letter about myself that clearly stated why there was no Mexican citizen with my* skills and why my skills were important to Mexico. We called it our "I am the greatest person on earth" letter. It was fun to write.

All of the above were in English that had to be translated into Spanish and be certified as legal translations and our signatures notarized. It all produced a folder about 1.5 inches thick with English on the left side and Spanish on the right.

Once they were completed Barbara and I spent about five hours accompanied by a Mexican attorney touring Mexican government office locations and being photographed and fingerprinted at least three times. At each location (and we remember at least four locations) we were instructed on Mexican tax, labor, housing, and criminal law and that we were required to obey their laws or face the consequences. We could not protest any of the government's actions or we would be committing a felony.

We paid out four thousand dollars in fees and bribes to complete the process. When this was done we could legally bring in our household goods that were held by US customs in Laredo, Texas. This meant we rented furniture in Mexico while awaiting our goods.

There were extensive fees involved here that the company paid. We could not buy a home and were required to rent at very high rates and under contract and compliance with Mexican law. We were required to get a Mexican driver's license. This was an amazing process. The company arranged for the licensing agency to come to our headquarters location with their photography and fingerprint equipment and the laminating machine.

We showed our US license, were photographed and fingerprinted again, and issued the license instantly after paying out a six dollar fee. We did not take a written or driving test and never received instructions on the rules of the road. Our only instruction was never give a policeman your license if stopped and asked. We were instructed to hold it against the inside window away from his grasp. If he got his hands on it you would have to pay ransom to get it back.

We then had to pay and file Mexican income tax annually using the number of our FM 3 as our ID number. The company's Mexican accountants did this for us and we just signed what they prepared. It was about twenty legal size pages annually. The FM 3 was good for three years and renewable for two more after paying more fees.

Leaving the country meant turning in the FM 3 and certifying we were leaving no debts behind and no outstanding legal affairs (warrants, tickets or liens) before our household goods were released to customs. It was a real adventure and if any of our senators or congressmen went through it once they would have a different attitude toward Mexico.

The Mexican Government uses its vast military and police forces to keep its citizens intimidated and compliant. They never protest at their White House or government offices but do protest daily in front of the United States Embassy. The US Embassy looks like a strongly reinforced fortress and during most protests the Mexican Military surround the block with their men standing shoulder to shoulder in full riot gear to protect the Embassy.

These protests are never shown on US or Mexican TV. There is a large public park across the street where they do their protesting. Anything can cause a protest such as proposed law changes in California or Texas.

Sunday Confession No. 3: Were The Jesuits Involved In The Assassination Of Abraham Lincoln? Why Did The U.S. Break Off Diplomatic Relations With The Vatican In 1867 after Lincoln's Murder?

Author C.T. Wilcox says America's history has been hi-jacked, pointing to the Jesuit cover-up of the murder of Lincoln after uncovering documents hidden for more than 100 years.

7 May 2006

By Greg Szymanski

One question this Sunday is whether the Jesuits are an association of highly organized warrior priests? Another question is why has history covered important facts behind alleged Jesuit involvement in the assassination of Abraham Lincoln, as well as why did the U.S. government cut-off all diplomatic relations with the Vatican in 1867 as a result of its alleged connection with the murder of Lincoln?

To help understand why America's history has essentially been hi-jacked and why the real story of Lincoln's murder has been erased from the history books, C.T. Wilcox has put together a book called The Transformation of the Republic: The Origins of the Religious Hi-Jacking of the American Government and the Truth Behind the Assassination of Abraham Lincoln.

According to Wilcox, whose two hour radio interview can be heard at The Investigative Journal archives at www.arcticbeacon.com, Transformation is a 375 page expose of Vatican and Jesuit intrigues and interference into the political structure of the United States and Europe.

It contains shocking revelations and fully authenticated documentation, much of it hidden for almost 100 years, to support the conclusion that the United States has been transformed from a beacon of light and hope into an empire with beast-like tendencies and that the world is headed for a Vatican led and instigated cataclysm while it sleepwalks towards the edge.

In order to keep filling in the pieces about the Jesuits and the possibility that the Vatican has been infiltrated by the Order of Lucifer, the following is a sample chapter from Wilcox's book, which he says is a gift to the American people from this Canadian born author.

"If this were a dictatorship, it'd be a heck of a lot easier... Just as long as I'm the dictator." --President George W. Bush, self-proclaimed "Christian", cocaine abusing alcoholic and Life Member of The Skull and Bones Fraternity of Yale University
December 18, 2000

"When any church will inscribe over its altar the Saviour's condensed statement of law and Gospel, 'Thou shalt love the LORD thy God, with all thy heart, with all thy soul, and with all thy mind, and thy neighbour as thyself,' that church I will join with all my heart." --Abraham Lincoln to a member of Congress as related by his intimate friend Hon. Isaac N. Arnold in reference as to why he did not join a denominational, politically involved creed-driven church.

Foreword

THE strikes upon the World Trade Center and the Pentagon on September 11, 2001 marked a pivotal point in the evolution of the "experiment of popular government". What followed has been nothing short of a pronounced continuation of a religious war, which had its origins in the Middle Ages, using the armed forces of a compliant host nation or alliance of nations according to the wishes of the Papacy. The ultimate goal is the eventual re-location of this so-called "Chair of Peter" to Jerusalem in order to direct and control all the people of the earth and the complete destruction of anything not in accord with Her dictates. Chief among these ideals, which are hated by the Church of Rome, are freedom of conscience, freedom of religion, freedom of the press and freedom of association; in fact, every fundamental freedom on which the United States was founded.

This opposition to basic human rights was monumented in the famous Papal Bull of Pope Pius IX in 1864, the Syllabus of Errors; a direct response to the Constitution of the United States and its Bill of Rights. The timing of the issuance of this document was designed to be a deliberate political act for the express purpose of telling the world that the liberties of the United States and any other nation which has the audacity to implement representative self government apart from church consent was in direct opposition to God. This was at a crucial time of the War of the Rebellion in which the Papacy had openly sided with the Confederacy.

During the Lincoln period the European Empires made a last ditch attempt to regain their hold over North America and re-introduce the 'monarchic principle' into that 'dangerous hotbed of Republicanism'. Emperor Francis Joseph I of Austria had an additional personal interest in the outcome of the American Civil War. On it hinged the existence of a new Hapsburg realm and the very life of his younger brother, Emperor Maximilian of Mexico, whose greatest American antagonist was Abraham Lincoln and whose natural allies were the States of the South. Both Francis Joseph and Maximilian, like most other crowned heads of their time, saw in Lincoln the personification of the republican ideas that had kindled the antimonarchist revolutions in Europe. They naturally hated and feared Lincoln and hoped that the Civil War would destroy, or at least weaken, the United States of America.

The Civil War was not a 'homespun' affair. It was the result of the same upheavals that have changed the face of Europe. The promises and active help of the European empires and the Church of Rome along with the Jesuit Order had stiffened the resolve and attitude of the Southern leaders, some of whom were quite willing to see the monarchic principle triumph in North America.

The Jesuit Order is an association of highly organized warrior priests. They are politicians first and foremost and have been expelled from virtually every country they have had the opportunity to corrupt and destroy. Their modus operandi is political and educational infiltration and subversion and the fomenting of wars and revolutions in order to weaken and mold the target country into submissive pliability, to then be used to carry out their purpose of global ecclesiastically backed dictatorship. The United States is no exception to this.

In 1822 the Catholic Monarchies of Europe got together with the Vatican and agreed on a plot to destroy the concept of representative popular government. Professor Samuel F.B. Morse, a founding member of the American Nativist Movement, investigated this plot and eventually wrote a book, which appeared in installments in the 1835 editions of the New York Observer, entitled, "Foreign Conspiracy Against the Liberties of the United States". What he found has been in operation ever since, the fully ripened fruits of which we are realizing only since the administration of President Ronald Reagan, the first president to officially recognize the Vatican State since the U.S. cut off all diplomatic ties in 1867 as a result of its connection to the murder of Abraham Lincoln. The country has been in rapid decline since that time and is now in danger of losing forever its freedoms as enshrined in the Constitution and Bill of rights. The push to institute a New World Order and transform the United States into a dictatorship, benign or otherwise, backed by the Roman clergy is now closer than ever. Since the election of President Reagan there has been a decidedly marked increase in the volume of Presidential Executive Orders which amount to a return to the monarchic principles which first gave rise to the American Revolution.

The testament to this reality became overtly apparent in the spring of 2005 when two events dominated the news in North America; both of them received global attention. The first involved the death of one Terri Schiavo, a brain damaged woman who was on a feeding tube for fifteen years. The Roman clergy in Florida and Washington D.C., joined later by various Protestant clergymen, had used this event to persuade both Florida Governor Jeb Bush and his brother President G.W. Bush to override the Supreme Court and Congress to enact what would have amounted to dictatorial rule. Caving in would have acknowledged a militant quasi-union of Church and State. They came very close to this precedent setting direction. Both Bush's knew that if they did so commit to such a deed it may mean open civil unrest between religious militants who were looking to cash in on 'political capital' and constitutional patriots who viewed this as the thin edge of the wedge for the installation of a theocratic dictatorship.

They refused, however they also let it be understood that if they thought they could get away with it, they would have done so.

The next event was the death of Pope John Paul II. If anyone has doubts as to the political power the Roman Church has, these doubts were laid to rest as every national flag was lowered to half mast and every form of media all over North America, in the most worshipful manner bowed the knee, like those in Nebuchadnezzar's time and those in the days of the Caesars, to the man who claims to stand in the place of Almighty God. In this case a man who, while under Nazi occupation in Poland, vigorously helped to produce and sell 'Zyklon B' for chemical company I.G. Farben, a nerve gas which was used to kill those wholesale in the death camps of Europe. A man who, in spite of one of the world's greatest outbreaks of primarily homosexual pedophilia by Roman priests in recent memory, virtually swept the whole matter under the rug until he was finally forced to react by an outraged public. A man who presided over the Roman priesthood's led and encouraged genocide in Rwanda and the religious mass murders in the Balkans. A real godly man, n'est pas? Apparently every major political leader from around the world and representatives from every major religion thought so.

President Lincoln was the triumphant embodiment of the New Concept of Popular Government of which the central postulate is the consent of the governed. The same cunning and malice, which nerved the hand of John Wilkes Booth, a nominal Protestant who had been converted to the Roman Church, was also successful in hiding from the American public the details of this tragic deed.

The point of this book is not to condemn any specific religion for its beliefs and practices, unless it oversteps its bounds and gets involved in politics and moral corruption. Monotheism by its very nature separates the Church from the State. In this writer's opinion, individuals cannot claim to be authentic Christians who love and honour God's commandments if they choose to murder their neighbours or sacrifice the gift of their lives on the altar of nationalism or misplaced religious fanaticism. It was Jesus himself who stated, in reference to those who attempted to thrust him into political involvement, "They [my followers] are no part of the world, just as I am no part of the world..."

This book concentrates on the Roman Church, however, the principles can also be applied to any religious entity, particularly one that calls itself Christian, which seeks to entangle itself with the political realm of which Jesus said it ought to be no part.

Every person has the right to choose their religion and answer to their God. But no person has the right to use the machinery of the State or various other methods to force that choice on their fellow human beings. Nor do they have the right to use religion as a means to a political end.

The history presented on these pages is the result of eight years of research. The purpose is two-fold: 1) to bring out the truth that had been cleverly buried until now by the perpetrators of Lincoln's assassination, and 2) to point out that any cabal, even in today's world, can achieve its ends by using religion as a form of mind control.

Ignorance and superstition perpetrated by religious dogma set the stage for victimization. Witness

Palestinian suicide bombers who are brainwashed to believe that they are martyrs and Islamic beheading squads daily using the airwaves and cyberspace to force political ends in the nations of Christendom and in the nations where they reside. Likewise, witness I.R.A. and Protestant intrigues in Ireland or Israeli massacres of whole towns and villages on the West Bank and Gaza, in the name of a god who they believe has given them the right to this land because they have been misled to think they are still "chosen" when, in fact, the true chosen, a holy nation referred to as the 'Israel of God', which is spiritual in nature, are those who hold the same faith that Christ held and practice what he taught [Isa. 43:10; Jer. 31:31-34; John 15:16-19; Acts 15:14; Gal 6:16]. All of these belief systems are equally dangerous. They are tangible evidence of the repercussions of religious interference in political and nationalistic matters.

Both ignorance and superstition feed on fear of death and fear of the unknown. The Roman Catholic Church has a long history of successfully using fear and the coercive secular powers to subdue the masses. In 19th Century America, the Romanists, elitist by nature, supported slavery and secession, thus using this wedge to divide the country and pit the South against the North. Today 'terrorist' events are creating enough fear in the masses that they are willing to trade freedom for security, and along with that security more power concentrated at the top. Due to a complete absence of vision the leaders of the nations, spurred on by an army of clergy and the masses they can control, are using fear to maintain power, and by 'combating' the nebulous "enemy", who are made mythical, being anywhere and everywhere armed with sinister weapons, they are setting themselves up as saviours of humanity. Truly, where there is no vision the people perish.

The Jesuits killed Lincoln and buried the evidence. But just as water seeks its own level, so does the truth eventually surface and make itself known. Deception and denial are only band-aids in the modern day world of intelligence, tooled by the Internet and other high tech investigative systems. Today anyone can become a good detective. If it had not been myself, someone else would have undertaken the task of doing the digging and piecing together the true story of President Lincoln's assassination.

The truth can hurt; but it can also set us free. What do we have to gain from learning about this cruel conspiracy? Does it have any bearing on today's conspiratorial world of alphabet intelligence groups, weapons of mass destruction, bioterrorism, weather modification and other forms of warfare?

What type of world do we want for our children and grandchildren? Or perhaps a better question: What elements of today's world do we wish to reform, in order to lift the veil of frustration and despair and unloose the shackles of ignorance and fear?

It is my hope that the history presented on these pages, which has been suppressed for well over 100 years, and of which the American people particularly have been robbed, will cause them to wake up to the dangers being foisted upon them, recognize them for what they are, and then act to insure that the plot for their destruction will not come to its ultimate realization any time soon.

Prologue

Lincoln discusses role and limits of U.S. government; Sworn statements of priests regarding foreknowledge of Lincoln's murder; Private letters from Edwin Sherman, T.M. Harris, Louis Weichman and Robert Lincoln to Charles Chiniquy

IN 1822 the Roman Catholic Monarchies of Europe conspired with the Vatican to destroy the concept of popular government, as found in the experiment of the United States, by means of infiltration, subversion and corruption. The tools used were the Leopold foundation, which was set up by Prince Metternich of Austria and the Jesuit Order. The purpose being to use the financial and military arms of the United States to further the interests of the Papacy in its goal of putting all the world under the temporal submission of the Church.

Abraham Lincoln was well aware of the dangers the Monarchies of Europe posed to the young republic. According to the Columbia Encyclopedia, Abraham Lincoln entered on the national scene by serving one term in Congress (1847-49). He remained obscure, and his attacks as a Whig on the motives behind the Mexican War (though he voted for war supplies) seemed unpatriotic to his constituents, and he lost popularity at home. Lincoln, in disgust, retired from politics and settled down to the practice of law. He grew, rather than diminished, in stature as a public figure. While serving in Congress Lincoln carried on a correspondence with his law partner, William H. Herndon, back in Illinois. Here is the text of a remarkable letter from that period which could effectively be called 'Lincoln on the Iraq War'.

Washington, February 15, 1848

Dear William:

Your letter of the 29th of January was received last night. Being exclusively a constitutional argument, I wish to submit some reflections upon it in the same spirit of kindness that I know actuates you. Let me first state what I understand to be your position. It is that if it shall become necessary to repel invasion, the President may, without violation of the Constitution, cross the line and invade the territory of another country, and that whether such necessity exists in any given case the President is the sole judge.

Before going further consider well whether this is or is not your position. If it is, it is a position that neither the President himself, nor any friend of his, so far as I know, has ever taken. Their only positions are first, that the soil was ours when the hostilities commenced; and second, that whether it was rightfully ours or not, Congress had annexed it, and the President for that reason was bound to defend it; both of which are as clearly proved to be false in fact as you can prove that your house is mine. The soil was not ours, and Congress did not annex or attempt to annex it. But to return to your position. Allow the President to invade a neighboring nation whenever he shall deem it necessary to repel an invasion, and you allow him to do so whenever he may choose to say he deems it necessary for such purpose, and you allow him to make war at pleasure.

Study to see if you can fix any limit to his power in this respect, after having given so much as you propose. If to-day he should choose to say he thinks it necessary to invade Canada to prevent the British from invading us, how could you stop him? You may say to him, "I see no probability of the British invading us;" but he will say to you, "Be silent: I can see it, if you don't."

The provision of the Constitution giving the war-making power to Congress was dictated, as I understand it, by the following reasons: Kings had always been involving and impoverishing their people in wars, pretending generally, if not always, that the good of the people was the object. This our convention understood to be the most oppressive of all kingly oppressions, and they resolved to so frame the Constitution that no one man should hold the power of bringing this oppression upon us. But your view destroys the whole matter, and places our President where kings have always stood. Write soon again.

Yours truly, A. Lincoln

[From Lincoln, Abraham; Nicolay, John G., ed.; Hay, John, ed. [1848], letter to William H. Herndon, February 15, 1848 in 'The Complete Works of Abraham Lincoln, v.2 {New York: Francis D. Tandy Company, 1894}]

After the successful murder of the 'saviour of the nation', President Lincoln, on that Good Friday Easter weekend of 1865, a date of which the symbolism was not lost, the Jesuit masterminds of that most evil crime began to pressure President Johnson to implement the 14th amendment to the United States' Constitution. This amendment effectively altered the citizenship away from the states' proper, under state authority, and transferred this to the Union, under a centralized Federal authority. Before this change one was considered a citizen of the United States by reason of being the citizen of a particular state.

This change meant that for the first time in U.S. history the groundwork was laid for the establishment of a more European Monarchical system of government, one which could be corrupted and thus making possible the ability to direct and control all the people under the volition of a single man. This amendment also removed the right of sovereignty of the individual states' in areas, which were not previously under Federal authority and placed them under a single central government thereby removing the right of secession in the case of entrenched tyranny. The reasoning of the Jesuits was that if they can corrupt the leader and those around him after having corrupted the Constitution, Bill of Rights and the judiciary, the people have no choice but to submit to his authority. Ecclesiastically supported and sponsored dictatorship through the back door could then be established.

It has been stated that the Jesuits plan well ahead, in most cases of political intrigue and national transformation 100 years or more ahead.

Lincoln had rebuffed this proposed amendment all through his term and this obstinacy to the goals of the Church was cited as one of the major reasons for his demise. Another purported reason to eliminate him issued from the fact that he had begun to print currency, called Greenbacks, and declare it the legal tender of the land, thereby shutting out the bankers and preventing them from bleeding the financial life of the Nation, much in the same way as John F. Kennedy had issued his Silver Certificates in an effort to close down the vultures of the private FEDERAL RESERVE BANK.

Simply put, he was standing directly in the way of the Papists and European Autocrats and therefore had to be removed. And not just him, the entire cabinet was the original target.

That the Jesuits had planned the deed is beyond question as evidenced by the sworn statements and personal letters, which are quoted in full below and housed in the Chiniquy Collection. www.Chiniquy.ca

The material comprising this first chapter has never been made public, nor has it been made available to historians. Charles Chiniquy had commissioned a lawyer to investigate and collect the sworn statements of individuals who were privy to this extraordinary circumstance of foreknowledge which speak for themselves.

State of Illinois Cook County

Rev. F.A. Conwell being sworn declares and says that he is seventy-one years old that he is a resident of North Evanston, in Cook County State of Illinois, that he has been actively in the ministry for forty-six years, and is now one of the chaplains of the Seamans Bethel Home in Chicago- that he was the chaplain of the First Minnesota Regiment in the War of the Rebellion.

That on the 14th day of April AD 1865 he was in St. Joseph, Minnesota and heard there as early as six o'clock in the evening in company with Mr. Bennett who was there and was a resident of St. Cloud, Minnesota. That on this date there was no telegraph nearer than Minneapolis, which is about 80 miles from St. Joseph and there was no railroad communication nearer than Auoka, Minnesota which was about 40 miles distant.

That when he reached St. Joseph on the 14th day of April AD 1865 one Mr. Linneman who kept the hotel at St. Joseph told affiant that President Lincoln and Secretary Seward were assassinated. That it was not later than half past six o'clock on Friday April 14th 1865 when Mr. Linneman told me this. Shortly thereafter Mr. Bennett came in the hotel and I told him Mr. Linneman said the President and Secretary Seward were assassinated and there Mr. Linneman repeated the same conversation to Mr. Bennett in my presence.

That during that time Mr. Linneman told me that he had the charge of furnishing the friary or college for young men under the priests who were studying for the priesthood at St. Joseph. That there was a large institution of that kind at St. Joseph at this time.

Affiant says that on Saturday morning April 15th 1865 he went to St. Cloud a distance of about 10 miles and reached there about 8 o'clock in the morning, that there was no railroad or telegraph communications to St. Cloud. When he arrived at St. Cloud he told Mr. Haworth the hotel keeper that he had been told at St. Joseph that the President and Secretary Seward had been assassinated and asked if it was true.

He further told Henry Clay with Charles Gilliman who afterwards was Governor of Minnesota, the same thing and inquired of them if they had any such news and they replied they had not heard anything of the kind.

Affiant says that on Sunday morning 16th of April 1865 he preached in St. Cloud and on the way to the church a copy of a telegram was handed to him stating that the President and Secretary were assassinated on Friday evening at about 9 o'clock. This telegram had been brought to St. Cloud by Mr. Garten who had reached St. Cloud by stage and this was the first intelligence that reached St. Cloud of the events.

Affiant says further that on Monday morning April 17th 1865, he furnished the press, a paper of St. Paul, a statement that 3 hours before the event took place he had been informed at St. Joseph, Minnesota that the President had been assassinated and this was published in the press.

That on the 14th day of April, 1865, he was in St. Joseph, Minnesota, in company with Rev. Francis A. Conwell, that they reached St. Joseph about sundown of said April 14th.

That there was no railroad or telegraph communication with St. Joseph at that time no nearer than forty miles distant.

That affiant, on reaching the hotel, went to the barn, and Rev. Mr. Conwell went to the hotel kept by Mr. Linneman. Shortly afterwards affiant had returned to the hotel. Mr. Conwell told him that Mr. Linneman had repeated to him the assassination of President Lincoln. That Linneman was present and substantiated the statement. That on Saturday morning April 15th, affiant and Conwell came to St. Cloud and repeated what they had been told at St. Joseph about the assassination of President Lincoln.

That no one at St. Cloud had heard of the event at the time, that the first news of the event which reached St. Cloud was Sunday morning, April 16th. When the news was brought there by Leander Gorten, who had just arrived, that they spoke to several persons of St. Cloud concerning the matter when they reached there on Saturday morning, but affiant does not now remember who the different persons were.

Mr. Linneman said, as affiant remembers the transaction, that he had learned of the President's assassination from a soldier who was passing through St. Joseph. And further affiant saith not.

The 'Black Hand' Is Now At Work Destroying America
But a game of Italian Scopa concludes the Illuminati will never succede with its diabolical plan.

6 May 2006

By Greg Szymanski

There is a small wine bar on Via Serpente near the Forum in Rome where old men with leathery skin play Scopa and white wine flows like water. Scopa is an Italian card game played religiously and the nice thing about the wine is that it's pure and doesn't get you sick.

Rarely a day went by without stopping at Sergio's wine bar located on a narrow, cobblestone road, leading to the Forum where in the distance gypsy children could be seen snatching purses from unsuspecting tourists out joy walking.

It's a pleasant past time sipping wine, playing Scopa, and watching rich tourists unwillingly feed the poor. It's also a pleasant past time watching the Italian police turn a blind eye, knowing they could care less about fat wallets, opting rather to shoot the breeze playing Scopa while allowing poor people a chance to get a good square meal.

Sergio's was also the first place I heard about the Priory Di Sion, the secret sect made famous in the DaVinci Code. It was also the first place I heard about the rumors Pope John Paul I was killed by Vatican infiltrators, as some of the Scopa players felt Papa Giovanni Paolo was murdered for trying to clean up the Vatican Bank, as well as getting too close to Mafia and Masonic influences in the Church.

"Gregorio, they killed him," I remember Sergio saying in 1984, while pouring another litro di vino. "The black hand of the Vatican again. It was the black hand."

Sergio talked often about the corruption in the Church, always talking about the corruption in the Church while saying the black hand help destroy Italy in order to keep the people subservient, obedient and poor.

Although he talked about deep corruption in the Church, in the same breadth he would talk about going to Sunday Mass with this family while making the sign of the cross and professing his undying love for what he called the sanctity of the true Mother Church.

Sergio was also the same guy I would see walking through town in a processional, holding up the statue of Mother Mary, as people lined the streets in a religious celebration. Small town religious festa's or town gatherings are still common-place in Italy. And once I remember asking Sergio how he coped with the Vatican hypocrisy, always feeling the truth came not from the rich and powerful but from the common man with little or nothing to gain.

"We know the Vatican is corrupt. We live with it every day. We see, hear it and watch how they work with the Americans to destroy Italy. It will happen to you some day, just wait and see," said Sergio.

"We also realize there is nothing that can be done because it's been going on for hundreds of years. We remain poor, because those who live behind the Vatican walls remain rich. Born into wealth or born into poverty. That is the luck of the draw. In Italy if you're born poor, you will stay that way unless you become just like the thieves behind the Vatican walls or those who work for them in the Mafia and the government.

"There is only one other way to get rich and that is to go to America. And, by the way, Gregorio, if you are crazy enough to stay in Italy, then stay and enjoy the wine, stay and enjoy the wine.

Sergio said those words back in 1984, reminding me of the Orwell book. And as I drank a glass of wine during the same year, my mind began to drift, thinking: "It could never happen in America."

But now more than 20 years later, it was happening here, as 1984 arrived just like Orwell predicted.

And just as the Sergio warned the ruling elite and the black hand of the Vatican is now preparing its takeover of America. It is now time for the black hand to strike in full force with terrorism, economic ruin and eventually genocide..

"It's not going to be pretty here in the next few years," said an insider who knows how the New World Order works and who also knows the American people are sleepwalking to the edge of extinction. "Too much violence in the streets and it won't even seem like the same country."

Thinking about the future, I pulled out my old Italian Scopa cards, dealing three dummy hands and then one to myself. It was late on a Friday night and I also pulled out my last bottle of white wine, pouring a glass and beginning to play out all four hands while saying to myself:

"I will use their black magic against them and if I win this card game, the black hand loses."

As I dealt the final card and looked at my hand, I yelled out Scopa! In Italian guess what that means?

Is George W. Bush A Serial Killer, asks writer Dennis Eros

After researching Bush for over a year, Eros looks at Bush's satanic ritualistic upbringing, the ordering of more than 155 executions while governor and the illegal war in Iraq, coming to the conclusion Bush is just like Hitler and Stalin.

5 May 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Writer Dennis Eros presents a disturbing question in his latest article called Is George W. Bush a Serial Killer?

Although the title quickly brings to mind the thousands of innocents slaughtered needlessly in Iraq, Eros spent a year researching Bush's childhood background, an upbringing he found clouded in mystic memories and satanic rituals.

Eros also researched Bush's six year stint as Texas governor, finding he ordered 155 executions or one every two weeks, which turned out to be more than any other elected official in recorded history.

But the record-setting number pales in comparison to the manner in which he carelessly reviewed the evidence before putting his thumb down on the executions. Eros cites a telling 2003 article, written by Derrick Z. Jackson of the Atlantic Monthly, detailing Bush's cavalier attitude when it came to ordering people to death.

Jackson wrote:

When Bush was governor of Texas he routinely denied last-ditch pleas for clemency on execution day by systematically hearing no evidence, seeing no evidence, and sealing himself away from any tragic possibility that any evil was done at all.

On execution day in Texas, it was the job of Alberto Gonzales (now U.S. Attorney General) to give Bush a summary of the case. The summary was the last information standing between an inmate and lethal injection. Gonzales provided 57 summaries to Bush. Gonzales intended for the memos to be confidential, but author Alan Berlow obtained them under Texas public information law.

Berlow found that Gonzales routinely provided scant summaries to Bush. The summaries, according to Berlow, Gonzales repeatedly failed to apprise the governor of crucial issues in the cases at hand: ineffective counsel, conflict of interest, mitigating evidence, even actual evidence of innocence.

Based on Berlow's information Jackson then went on to point out several cases, including Terry Washington and David Wayne Stoker, where Bush together with Gonzales purposely ignored evidence, turning a blind eye and deaf ear to justice and acting as if they were reviewing a parking ticket violation instead of a life and death situation.

Eros also brought up another disturbing incident when Republican presidential candidate Gary Bauer criticized Gov. George W. Bush for making fun of an executed Texas woman in an interview Bush gave to Talk magazine.

Bauer was quoted as saying, "I think it is nothing short of unbelievable that the governor of a major state running for president thought it was acceptable to mock a woman he decided to put to death."

Bauer was referring to the case of Karla Faye Tucker who appealed for clemency on the grounds that she had become a born-again Christian. Just before her execution date, in the summer of 1999, after announcing his bid for the presidency, Bush replied: "Please," as he whispered with pursed lips, obviously mocking the woman, "don't kill me."

After tracing Bush's dysfunctional family upbringing, including being a third generation Yale Skull and Bones member, Eros goes on to ask some interesting questions:

"So there it is," writes Eros. "One can see how George W. Bush's upbringing is clouded in mystic memories and rituals. Mr. Bush himself is a graduate from the satanic rituals of Skull and Bones. Was Mr. Bush also educated about death camps, Nazis and the personal relationship between his granddad (Prescott) and great granddad Hubert Walker and Hitler?"

"He was probably brow beat by his grand parents, Prescott and Dorothy Bush, as well as George W. H. and Barbara Bush. (We know by his own admission he was "slapped around" by his mother, the " Enforcer." Did he have the emotional wherewithal to take relentless badgering? I don't know. But it is not uncommon for children of political possessed parents to turn to drugs, alcohol and other self-abusing properties. The children of many politicians become dysfunctional and turn to drugs. The following children of politicians have been arrested for drug use."

Eros also said history is replete with serial killers, including men like Hitler, Stalin and Idi Amin, all who held totalitarian positions of power. And based on Bush's track record, including the illegal Iraqi War, his question about whether Bush falls in this category should at least be considered.

"But can the above lead to a possibility that George W. Bush is a serial killer? writes Eros. "Does Mr. Bush have victims and does he view his victims as sub-human? The answer to this question has to be yes, in my opinion.

"His victims lie in the graves of Texas death row inmates. Mr. Bush's victims have died by the tens of thousands in Iraq, both American's sons and daughters, sent to die for made up reasons, and Iraqi sons, daughters, babies, mothers, fathers, grand fathers and grand mothers, whom Mr. Bush would call collateral damage on his way to get Hussain.

"Has Mr. Bush ever showed one lick of shame or remorse for his illegal and ill-conceived war and the deaths of so many thousands of people? Not that I have ever seen and I have researched this paper for nearly a year.

"In truth Mr. Bush does anything he wants (illegal wire taps), and he and his staff have stooped to great deceptions to invade Iraq. There is a great debate going on, on the Internet to determine if he had information that the Twin Towers were to be attacked prior to 9/11 and let it happen. Indeed he did. It was in his daily CIA briefing on July 6, two months before 9/11. What did Mr. Bush do after this briefing? He went on vacation. Did he go so far as to let the bombings happen?"

"According to attorney Phil Berg, "They (Bush et al) made it happen or let it happen. And if they let it happen, then they made it happen. And they must be held responsible."

And Eros reminds people when thinking about Bush remember this statement made by an unknown author: "Hiding inside the crazed confusion of all sociopathic activity exists a methodical mind, which sometimes exhibits ruthlessly."

Getting At The Truth Has 'Become A Joke,' As Colbert Points Out And Coverage Of Downing Street Memo Illustrates

One year after clear facts demonstrated Bush doctored WMD intelligence, nothing has changed and only more blood has been spilled by an administration that should be burned at the stake not roasted at a Washington press corps dinner.

3 May 2006

By Greg Szymanski

One year ago, a huge story broke about the infamous Downing Street Memo in the London papers, clearly proving President Bush and his band of criminals "fixed" WMD intelligence data to justify an illegal Iraqi invasion.

The highly volatile internal memo from the head of British Intelligence, Sir Richard Dearlove, was initially ignored by the mainstream media and then covered like a third rate dog and pony show, demonstrating how corrupt the top news agencies have become.

A story like this, establishing beyond a reasonable doubt Washington was fixing a policy of war without solid WMD evidence, should have been jumped on like "flies on you know what" but it never happened. Also what never happened was any action by Congress, leaving Bush and his killing crowd the opening to kill, kill, kill and kill some more.

And one year later, the criminals in all three branches of government, including the complicit press, are conducting business as usual in defiance of the American people and defiance of the U.S. Constitution.

There, of course, have been outbursts of protest, as well as a recent roasting of President Bush by Stephen Colbert at a Washington press corps gathering when he brought up the dogging of reporter Helen Thomas about the illegal Iraqi War.

But, all in all, it's become a joke to expect real justice in Washington, as hitting below the belt in a comedy skit is perhaps as close as Americans can get to the real truth against a gang of ruthless Satan worshipping killers, a point Colbert failed to mention while roasting Bush the other night.

In fact, the scenario surrounding the Downing Street Memo again seems to get lost in all the jokes but, if looked at closely, shows the real arrogance of an "out of control government gone mad with power," proving the Republic has fallen into hands of fascist rulers adept at manipulating the public.

And since the Downing Street Memo surfaced a year ago, let's not forget 2,400 GI's and tens of thousands of innocent civilians have died needlessly, not to mention the devastation yet to be calculated by the unleashing of depleted uranium throughout the Middle East.

If there was any hope of removing the criminals in power, the Downing Street Memo should have provided the needed incriminating evidence a year ago. But instead the story demonstrated how the U.S. government has been hi-jacked with little hope of reversing the tide of tyranny, save an outright revolt or revolution.

For those Americans and crooked politicians who quickly forget, here is a copy of the story that appeared last year in the Arctic Beacon about the Downing Street Memo shortly after the story broke in London. The story is repeated as a reminder of the horrendous crimes against humanity being committed by the U.S. government and by those Americans who know the true facts but choose to turn a blind eye and a deaf ear.

Explosive English Foreign Policy Memo Clearly Indicates President Bush lied to American People about WMD in Iraq to Justify War

Former foreign policy aide warned British officials of America's deceptive war strategy just months prior to the Iraqi invasion. However, Britain followed America's lead anyway, knowing it was wrong, resulting now in the death of more than 1,700 American troops and more than 100,000 Iraqi innocent civilians

6 May 2005

By Greg Szymanski

An explosive memo sent to England's Prime Minister and others by a former foreign policy aide clearly shows President Bush "doctored" intelligence reports prior to the Iraqi invasion in order to justify war based on weapons of mass destruction.

The potentially damaging memo was leaked to the London press this week, revealing an internal memo sent on July 23, 2002, by Matthew Rycroft, a former defense policy aide. Rycroft addressed his concerns about America's deceptive "rush to war" to England's heads of state, including the Prime Minister, Defense secretary, Foreign Secretary and Attorney General.

Since the U.S. invaded Iraq based on an imminent threat of WMD, the Bush administration has stood firm on its decision to topple Sadaam Hussein, claiming it should not be now blamed for faulty intelligence reports. To date no weapons of mass destruction have ever been uncovered in Iraq and serious questions have been raised about America's "rush to judgment" in attacking Iraq.

The memo, which has been verified as "Secret and Personal - For UK Eyes Only," clearly shows the Bush administration lied to the American people about its basis for going to war in Iraq. To date over 1,700 American troops have been killed in the fighting and estimates of over 100,000 innocent Iraqi civilians have also perished.

The London press claims to have verified the authenticity of the memo before publication, also blaming its own government for following America to war even though it had solid evidence no weapons of mass destruction existed in Iraq.

Just prior to U.S. invasion, Rycroft, who was privy to highly classified U.S. intelligence reports, clearly reveals a deceptive strategy on the part of the Bush administration to topple Hussein when he wrote:

"As reported in recent talks in Washington, there was a perceptible shift in attitude. Military action was now seen as inevitable. Bush wanted to remove Sadaam, through military action, justified by the conjunction of terrorism and WMD.

"But the intelligence and facts were being fixed around the policy. The NSC had no patience with the UN route, and no enthusiasm for publishing material on the Iraqi regime's record. There was little discussion in Washington of the aftermath after military action."

Regarding the memo, the Bush administration refused comment saying it was unaware of the specific allegations. Critics claim this memo clearly rebukes the justification of war, resulting in a clear violation of international law.

The memo goes on to warn all recipients that it should remain "secret" to all others in light of the highly sensitive.

"This record is extremely sensitive. No further copies should be made. It should be shown only to those with a genuine need to know its contents," writes Rycroft to the Prime Minister.

He further added that "The Defense Secretary said that the US had already begun "spikes of activity" to put pressure on the regime. No decisions had been taken, but he thought the most likely timing in US minds for military action to begin was January, with the timeline beginning 30 days before the US Congressional elections."

The memo went on to delineate two possible U.S. war strategies, Iraq's most likely response and Bush's personal awareness of the whole plan.

"U.S. military planners are to brief CENTCOM on 1-2 August, Rumsfeld on 3 August and Bush on 4 August (2002). The two broad US (war) options were:

" (a) Generated Start. A slow build-up of 250,000 US troops, a short (72 hour) air campaign, then a move up to Baghdad from the south. Lead time of 90 days (30 days preparation plus 60 days deployment to Kuwait).

" (b) Running Start. Use forces already in theatre (3 x 6,000), continuous air campaign . Total lead time of 60 days with the air campaign beginning even earlier. A hazardous option."

Critics of the Bush administration war strategy, claim this shows clearly Bush "lied to the American people and should be held accountable," giving a full explanation about the contents of the Rycroft memo.

From A Beacon Of Light TO Beast-Like Tendencies, America Is Headed For A Vatican Instigated Cataclysm

Author C.T. Wilcox in his book, Transformation of the Republic, claims Americans have been robbed of their own history, revealing hidden documentation about who really killed Abraham Lincoln.

2 May 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The United States has been transformed "from a beacon of light to an empire with beast-like tendencies," according to Canadian author C.T. Wilcox, as the world is headed "for a Vatican led and instigated cataclysm" while the U.S. population sleepwalks towards the edge of extinction.

Wilcox wrote these words, explaining his must read book called The Transformation of the Republic: The Origins of the Religious Hi-Jacking of the American Government and the Truth Behind the Assassination of Abraham Lincoln.

Transformation, said Wilcox, is a 375 page expose of Vatican and Jesuit intrigues and interference into the political structure of the United States and Europe. And according to the author it contains irrefutable evidence, shocking revelations and fully authenticated documentation - much of it hidden for almost 100 years - to support his conclusion that the American Republic has been hi-jacked by the Papacy through the corrupt and evil influences and diabolic direction of the Jesuit Order.

"The people of the United States have been robbed of their own history. This is the worst kind of theft," writes Wilcox about how the history books have been changed to cover up the true intentions of the religious order behind the New World Order, adding his research proves without question the Jesuits killed Abraham Lincoln

"The Jesuits killed Lincoln and buried the evidence. But just as water seeks its own level, so does the truth eventually surface and make itself known. Deception and denial are only band-aids in the modern day world of intelligence, tooled by the Internet and other high tech investigative systems.

"Today anyone can become a good detective. If it had not been myself, someone else would have undertaken the task of doing the digging and piecing together the true story of President Lincoln's assassination."

In his book, Wilcox, sets up a substantial case on who really killed Lincoln, as the 16th President of the United States was well aware of the dangers the Monarchies of Europe and the Vatican posed to the young Republic.

"IN 1822 the Roman Catholic Monarchies of Europe conspired with the Vatican to destroy the concept of popular government, as found in the experiment of the United States, by means of infiltration, subversion and corruption," writes Wilcox. "The tools used were the Leopold foundation, which was set up by Prince Metternich of Austria and the Jesuit Order. The purpose being to use the financial and military arms of the United States to further the interests of the Papacy in its goal of putting all the world under the temporal submission of the Church."

Wilcox masterfully uncovers how Lincoln candidly discussed the role and limits of the U.S. government, as well as presenting sworn statements of priests regarding foreknowledge of Lincoln's murder, including private letters from Edwin Sherman, T.M. Harris, Louis Weichman and Robert Lincoln to Charles Chiniquy, a priest who Lincoln represented as a lawyer against the Jesuit Order.

The case made by Wilcox that the Jesuits were behind the murder, a story covered up in the history books, can be found at his web site at www.ctwilcox.com where the book can be purchased for $29.95.

"After the successful murder of the 'saviour of the nation', President Lincoln, on that Good Friday Easter weekend of 1865," writes Wilcox, "a date of which the symbolism was not lost, the Jesuit masterminds of that most evil crime began to pressure President Johnson to implement the 14th amendment to the United States' Constitution.

"This amendment effectively altered the citizenship away from the states' proper, under state authority, and transferred this to the Union, under a centralized Federal authority. Before this change one was considered a citizen of the United States by reason of being the citizen of a particular state.

"The truth can hurt; but it can also set us free. What do we have to gain from learning about this cruel conspiracy? Does it have any bearing on today's conspiratorial world of alphabet intelligence groups, weapons of mass destruction, bioterrorism, weather modification and other forms of warfare?

"What type of world do we want for our children and grandchildren? Or perhaps a better question: What elements of today's world do we wish to reform, in order to lift the veil of frustration and despair and unloose the shackles of ignorance and fear?

"It is my hope that the history presented on these pages, which has been suppressed for well over 100 years, and of which the American people particularly have been robbed, will cause them to wake up to the dangers being foisted upon them, recognize them for what they are, and then act to insure that the plot for their destruction will not come to its ultimate realization any time soon."

Wilcox makes the claim through his decade of research that the Jesuit Order is an association of highly organized warrior priests, being politicians first and foremost and being expelled from virtually every country they have had the opportunity to corrupt and destroy.

Their modus operandi, claims Wilcox, is political and educational infiltration and subversion and the fomenting of wars and revolutions in order to weaken and mold the target country into submissive pliability, to then be used to carry out their purpose of global ecclesiastically backed dictatorship.

He adds the United States is no exception to this global operation, being put directly in the cross-hairs of eventual martial law and destruction after the 911 attacks.

"The strikes upon the World Trade Center and the Pentagon on September 11, 2001 marked a pivotal point in the evolution of the experiment of popular government," writes Wilcox. "What followed has been nothing short of a pronounced continuation of a religious war, which had its origins in the Middle Ages, using the armed forces of a compliant host nation or alliance of nations according to the wishes of the Papacy.

"The ultimate goal is the eventual re-location of this so-called 'Chair of Peter' to Jerusalem in order to direct and control all the people of the earth and the complete destruction of anything not in accord with Her dictates. Chief among these ideals, which are hated by the Church of Rome, are freedom of conscience, freedom of religion, freedom of the press and freedom of association; in fact, every fundamental freedom on which the United States was founded.

"This opposition to basic human rights was monumented in the famous Papal Bull of Pope Pius IX in 1864, the Syllabus of Errors; a direct response to the Constitution of the United States and its Bill of Rights.

"The timing of the issuance of this document was designed to be a deliberate political act for the express purpose of telling the world that the liberties of the United States and any other nation which has the audacity to implement representative self government apart from church consent was in direct opposition to God. This was at a crucial time of the War of the Rebellion in which the Papacy had openly sided with the Confederacy."

Although Transformation concentrates on the Roman Church, Wilcox said the principles can also be applied to any religious entity, particularly one that calls itself Christian, seeking to entangle itself with the political realm of which Jesus said it ought to be no part.

"Every person has the right to choose their religion and answer to their God," he adds. "But no person has the right to use the machinery of the State or various other methods to force that choice on their fellow human beings. Nor do they have the right to use religion as a means to a political end.

"The history presented is the result of eight years of research. The purpose is two-fold: 1) to bring out the truth that had been cleverly buried until now by the perpetrators of Lincoln's assassination, and 2) to point out that any cabal, even in today's world, can achieve its ends by using religion as a form of mind control.

"Ignorance and superstition perpetrated by religious dogma set the stage for victimization. Witness Palestinian suicide bombers who are brainwashed to believe that they are martyrs and Islamic beheading squads daily using the airwaves and cyberspace to force political ends in the nations of Christendom and in the nations where they reside.

"Likewise, witness I.R.A. and Protestant intrigues in Ireland or Israeli massacres of whole towns and villages on the West Bank and Gaza, in the name of a god who they believe has given them the right to this land because they have been misled to think they are still "chosen" when, in fact, the true chosen, a holy nation referred to as the 'Israel of God', which is spiritual in nature, are those who hold the same faith that Christ held and practice what he taught [Isa. 43:10; Jer. 31:31-34; John 15:16-19; Acts 15:14; Gal 6:16]. All of these belief systems are equally dangerous. They are tangible evidence of the repercussions of religious interference in political and nationalistic matters."

Recently, Wilcox's book was reviewed by Sharon K. Gilbert, for Watcher Magazine, who said:

Historians and academics will soon be salivating over a cache of recently uncovered documents relating to the Abraham Lincoln assassination and its subsequent prosecutory fallout - a voluminous collection that could be called the 'smoking gun' of the nineteenth century, untouched and unread and well-protected for nearly 150 years.

This heretofore unknown archive of material rests now in the capable hands of accomplished writer, C.T. Wilcox. Wilcox gained access to the remarkable papers via a friend, who himself received the documents after the rightful inheritor passed away.

In his newest book, "The Transformation of the Republic", Wilcox presents a methodical inspection of these newly unearthed documents and compares them to historically accepted materials, making strong usage of excerpted passages and entire quotes to buttress his fundamental premise that Lincoln's murder was ordered by a dark figure known as The Black Pope. Now, whether or not you lean toward the theory that much of the ruination of our world lies at the feet of the Jesuit order, Wilcox's arguments must be considered deeply, for they are cogent if not profound. His theories lie askew to most Christians' sleepy-eyed view of the world, and seldom does a contented sleeper welcome the rough jangle of dawn's alarm. Wilcox will tell you that we've overslept, and that our slumber may well be our undoing. The root of evil that bled a president in retribution for sins against a monarchist master plan has sprouted a fully branched tree that now looms over our present republic, ready to crash down upon each slumbering citizen, making slaves of many, corpses of most. This is not a book for the timid reader, yet the timid are the most vulnerable.

"The Transformation of the Republic" contains 28 pages of images of the remarkable original documents that provide the foundation of Wilcox's stunning arguments. And though most readers would shudder at the thought of slogging through an historical tome of 400 pages, the writing is easy to follow and tantalizingly presented. It is an astoundingly quick read - at odds with most historical non-fiction. In short, this one's a page-turner.

Are The Masters Of Deception Setting Up Americans For Genocide?
Beware when Church and State combine in the enterprise of genocide, as de-arming the population is a necessary step.

1 May 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Throughout the course of history, more people have died in the name of God than for any other reason.

And usually when a mass murder or genocide takes place, the masters of deception and spiritual controllers of the New World Order are not far behind, waiting like vultures to pick through the blood, guts and bones of the millions of innocents slaughtered needlessly.

According to Webster's Dictionary, genocide is the "deliberate and systematic destruction of a racial, political or cultural group." According to Frank Chalk and Kurt Jonassohn, authors of the book The History and Sociology of Genocide, it is "a form of one-sided mass killing in which a state or other (religious) authority intends to destroy a group, as that group and membership in it are defined by the perpetrator"

And if history be the guide, according to researcher Darryl Eberhart, a former military officer and New World Order combatant, beware when Church and State combine in the enterprise of genocide since the purveyors of evil in firm control of the U.S. government are now planning to add unsuspecting Americans to their long list of genocidal victims.

"Americans absolutely must get informed about the numerous genocides that have been documented throughout history - including the many genocides of the 20th Century," writes Eberhart who has compiled horrifying statistics about the hundreds of millions killed in modern day genocides, adding Americans could be next on the list if they don't wake up fast.

"And, Americans absolutely must get informed about the role that "gun control" played in many of these "more recent" genocides! Why do we need to be informed about such grisly, barbaric events? We need to be informed because history has a very nasty (and frequent) habit of "repeating itself".

"For some reason, many Americans have been "conditioned" to believe that such things as genocide, a holocaust, or other types of barbaric mass slaughter could never happen here in America. Such thinking as this on the part of these Americans is not only unreasonable (showing a tremendous ignorance of history), but it is also extremely dangerous! It is extremely dangerous because an apathetic, complacent, and ignorant population is very easy to control - and when the authorities decide - to slaughter, especially after massive "gun control" has been implemented!"

Eberhart recommends viewing the highly informative documentary film, Innocents Betrayed, revealing the history of modern-day genocides.

"Other than the well-known Nazi German Holocaust, most of these genocides are unknown or forgotten," said Eberhart. "According to the documentary, with the complicity of mainstream media, the perpetrators have concealed some of these mass murders, and global humanitarian organizations seemed to have ignored others. Most of these horrors - which have killed some 170,000,000 innocents - have one thing in common. They fit the 'Genocide Formula' which is 'Hatred + Government + Disarmed Citizens = Genocide'.

"The film delivers the facts that show how governments have deliberately murdered or enslaved their own people or have left them helpless to defend themselves against outside aggressors. In each case, the victims were first disarmed. History can't tell us how effectively victims would have or could have protected themselves if they had possessed firearms. But it can tell us that disarmament is necessary to make possible the mass murder of helpless citizens."

The Innocents Betrayed documentary discussed the following modern-day genocides, as compiled by Eberhart at www.tacklingthetoughtopics.net. Here are the gruesome statistics with Eberhart's comments, warning Americans they could be next in line:

A. Turkey (1915-1917): "Calculated Genocide"

TOTAL NUMBER MURDERED: 1,500,000 (targeted group: Armenian Christians)

The new rulers in Turkey say that "they want to rid the country of wrong and lawless ideas." They also say that "they want to protect national security." Translation: They want to "eliminate the Armenians in Turkey - by killing the Armenians."

"In February 1915 Turkey's political leaders and Moslem religious leaders make a detailed, secret plan to annihilate the largely Christian minority."

The "Innocents Betrayed" documentary film by JPFO goes on to let us know that this brutal genocide that was committed against the Armenian people took place in carefully planned steps/stages. In the first step, thousands of Armenian men were drafted into the Turkish Army - and then separated from their military units and sent to labor camps "where they [were] worked to death, starved, and murdered in groups". In the second step, Armenian civilians were relieved of their firearms - i.e., disarmed by "gun control". And, in the final step, the deportations of Armenian civilians to remote camps in the desert began in earnest on June 26, 1915. Only a small percentage ever made it to these remote camps, since large numbers of Armenian men, women, and children were slaughtered and butchered on the way. Three quarters of the Armenian population in Turkey would perish in this brutal genocide.

((Ed. Note: A key point concerning this genocide is that the religious authorities cooperated with the government in planning this genocide!))

B. [The] Soviet Union (1929-1936):

TOTAL NUMBER MURDERED: 10,000,000 (mainly by State-orchestrated starvation; targets: independent farmers - the majority of them in Soviet-controlled Ukraine)

In this brutal genocide we see the Communists using "starvation as a murder weapon". The main regions affected were "the Ukraine, the Volga Basin, and the Caucasus".

The Communists took power in Russia in 1917, and immediately "passed laws making it almost impossible for non-party members to own firearms". Then, in 1929 Soviet dictator Josef Stalin "decrees that all livestock, produce, and farmland belong to the State. Farmers are ordered to surrender their land and livestock, and to move to government-owned collective farms."

"First, to terrorize the rest into submission, several million of the most prosperous farmers are sent to forced labor [camps] or killed outright. These 'Kulaks' are demonized [by the Communists]. Because of ten years of firearms confiscation, farmers can only fight back with farm tools." ((Ed. Comment: The U.S.

government is aware of this history of "gun control" leading to horrible genocide, so WHY does our government push "gun control" so vigorously?))

"By 1932 [Soviet dictator] Stalin controls food supplies. He can cut off food distribution and starve entire regions. Because he controls all travel with internal passports [Ed. Note: just like "national identification cards"], his secret police can force starving millions to remain within the devastated areas."

"Grain rots on the ground. The powerless people can do nothing to stop their master. ...10 million defenseless lives [are] wiped out by starvation."

*By the way, here is a great example of how America's mainstream media has been tightly controlled for decades: While millions starve to death in the Ukraine, New York Times Pulitzer Prize-winning Moscow correspondent Walter Duranty assures the world (and especially the Western press) that there is NO famine in the Soviet-controlled Ukraine. We indeed have an extremely controlled mainstream media in America, and if you doubt this, then please get a copy of the 381-page hardback book Into the Buzzsaw (which is edited by Kristina Borjesson). It deals with many journalists who had their stories "suppressed" by powerful individuals above them. This book is $29.45 postpaid. To order it by credit card, please call "Radio Liberty" at 800-544-8927. Or, make check or money order payable to "Radio Liberty" and mail it to: Radio Liberty // P.O. Box 969 // Soquel, CA 95073.*

C. China (1934-1976): "Decades of Death"

TOTAL NUMBER MURDERED: 35,000,000 (minimum) ((possibly as high as 100,000,000))

"In 1935 the Nationalist government prohibits the private ownership of firearms."

((Ed. Comment to preceding quote: Just as the German Weimar Republic's "gun control" laws and lists of registered gun owners would later be used by the Nazis when they took control of Germany, so the Chinese Nationalist government's "gun control" laws would later be used by the Communists when they took control of China! Beware of gun registration lists!))

"1942-1944: Four million die in famine aggravated by government confiscation of crops."

The "Innocents Betrayed" documentary film by JPFO then goes on to show us a very horrible result of a disarmed civilian population: In 1937 the Chinese troops flee the city of Nanking without offering any kind of resistance to the advancing Japanese Army. The disarmed civilian population of Nanking is left to the "cruel mercies" of the Japanese soldiers. "Hundreds of thousands of children, women, sick, and old people are left to the Japanese [soldiers] - without self-defense." [They are] "raped, buried alive, burned alive, used for bayonet practice, and forced to watch as their own organs are cut out of them."

"The Communists take over in 1949 - they keep the population disarmed. During 38 years of Communist violence and economic 'experiments', they wipe out an additional 35 million Chinese - and possibly as many as 100 million. [And during all this time Red Chinese dictator] Mao [Tse-Tung] controls all the guns."

D. Germany (1933-1945): "The Master Murderers"

TOTAL NUMBER MURDERED: more than 11,000,000 die in concentration camps (targets: Jews, Gypsies, Slavs, and political and religious opponents)

((IMPORTANT Ed. Comment: Most of the so-called nominal 'Christians' in Germany (both Catholic and Protestant) either actively supported the Nazi killing machine or failed to speak out against it. Only a few Protestant ministers (such as Dietrich Bonhoeffer who was executed by hanging), and a few Catholic priests, had the courage to speak out against Hitler and his thugs. The Roman Catholic Church's hierarchy, in fact, supported both Nazi Germany and Fascist Italy, signing Concordats with both of these wicked, totalitarian regimes. Additionally, the German Roman Catholic Zentrum Party was Hitler's main political power base in Bavaria, and, under orders from the highest levels of the Catholic Church, helped put Hitler and his Nazi thugs into power. One of the key men in bringing Adolph Hitler to power was Jesuit-controlled Knight of Malta Franz von Papen.)

((Note: The 207-page hardback book Hitler's Cross by Erwin W. Lutzer tells the sad story of the Christian Church's failure, for the most part, to stand up against the murderous regime of Adolph Hitler's Nazi thugs. It also includes stories about a few of the very small number of Christian clergymen who did have the guts to speak out against this monstrous, totalitarian regime. It is $15.45 postpaid. To order it, please make check or money order payable to "Radio Liberty" and mail it to: Radio Liberty // P.O. Box 969 // Soquel, CA 95073. Or, to order via credit card, please call toll-free 800-544-8927.))

1. Here's what the JPFO documentary film "Innocents Betrayed" had, in part, to say about the genocide in Nazi Germany and Nazi German-controlled territories during World War II:

"In January 1933 Hitler [comes to power]. The 1928 gun registration lets the Nazis know who already owns guns."

"In 1938 the Nazis create their own gun control law. Jews are forbidden to possess firearms, clubs, or sharp-edged weapons. Jews turn in their weapons or Nazis or police storm in to seize them. The disarmed Jews await slaughter - the National Identification cards and census data tell them just who is a Jew! A few days later 30,000 to 90,000 Jewish men - mostly leaders - are arrested and sent to concentration camps."

((Ed. Question: Should we Americans be concerned about the tremendous database that has been compiled on us, and the push for every American to possess and show on demand his/her national identification card?))

"Three million German political opponents are imprisoned in concentration camps from 1933 through 1945. Five million Jews are slaughtered. [Those slaughtered also include] Gypsies, Slavs, the disabled... More than eleven million total die in concentration camps."

2. The following are some additional comments that Editor of TTT would like to make to the Nazi German genocide of World War II:

a. The papacy was up to its eyeballs in complicity with the totalitarian regimes in Germany, Italy, Croatia, and elsewhere in Europe. If you don't think so, then you need to read the book Hitler's Pope: The Secret History of Pius XII. This book was written by John Cornwell, a Catholic historian and journalist. (The book's publisher is the Penguin Group; its ISBN is 0-14-029627-1. This New York Times "Bestseller" is currently out-of-print. Check your local library or try the Internet to locate a used copy.) Cornwell exposes Pope Pius XII's instrumental role in negotiating an accord that helped the Nazis rise to power in Germany. Here is what the back cover of this 426-page paperback book states, in part:

"In [the book] Hitler's Pope, award-winning journalist John Cornwell shows that Eugenio Pacelli, Pope Pius XII, was instrumental in negotiating an accord that helped the Nazis rise to unhindered power - and sealed the fate of the Jews in Europe.

Drawing upon secret Vatican and Jesuit archives to which he had unprecedented access, Cornwell tells the full, tragic story of how narcissism, long-standing personal antipathy for the Jews, and political and 'spiritual' ambition combined to make Pius the most dangerous churchman in history. Not just a firm and final indictment of Pius XII's papacy, Hitler's Pope is also a searing exploration of its lingering consequences for the Catholic Church today."

Sunday Confession No. 2: Are The Jesuits The Spiritual Controllers Of The New World Order? Jesuit General Fr. Peter Hans Kolvenbach Turns Down Interview Request.

What is the Jesuit Order hiding and why is it so hard to get straight answers from the top leaders, as the search for America's hidden enemies continues every Sunday by the banks of Brushy Creek.

30 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

As we sit overlooking Brushy Creek again this Sunday, the main question is whether the Jesuits are the spiritual controllers of the New World Order?

Further, does the Society of Jesus through Masonic complicity and the Knights of Malta control the Vatican, the Pope, the Council on Foreign Relations and the U.S. government?

And is the Pope the real leader of the Catholic Church or does he take his marching orders from the leader of the Jesuits, the Jesuit General known as the Black Pope?

Before being slammed for heresy and Catholic bashing, let me remind everyone, including the rich, powerful, wealthy and famous, America teeters on the brink of extinction, being transitioned from freedom to slavery.

If you accept that premise, no subject, including the mysterious Jesuits, should be off limits. But if you choose to ignore it, putting your ego and personal position before your country, then perhaps you are knowingly or unknowingly part of the problem.

Although we are first dealing with the Jesuits since their controversial history merits exploration, four other possible enemies will be explored in the weeks to come in order to spark debate on who is America's real enemy?

These possible enemies include:

According to President Bush, the mainstream media and the entire Congress, the enemy is Al Qaeda and millions of extremist Muslims, engaging in a spiritual war against Christians and Jews.

According to many commentators in the alternative press, the enemy is the Zionist-Jew movement controlling Washington and engaging in a spiritual war of its own.

According to other researchers the enemy is the Satan worshipping Illuminati, made up of secret societies, engaging in a spiritual war against every non-Satan worshipper

According to others the main enemy are financiers, controlling the Bank of International Settlements and the Federal Reserve, using spirituality as a weapon to divide and conquer.

However, we now begin with the question of whether the Jesuits are the spiritual controllers of the New World Order? And since this question was posed last week, over 200 emails were received on the subject, indicating Americans are extremely interested in the topic even though the mainstream media, the politicians and the clergy ignore the subject or consider it preposterous.

Regarding an open response from the Jesuit leadership, my attempt to get an interview with the Jesuit General in Rome, Fr. Peter Hans Kolvenbach, was officially denied by James L. Rogers, communication liaison for the assistant to Kolvenbach at the Jesuit Conference in Washington D.C.

Rogers email stated:

Thank you for your interest in interviewing the leadership of the Society of Jesus. As you might imagine, we receive numerous requests for interviews. Unfortunately, the volume means we cannot respond to every one, even though we would like to be able to do so. At this time, we cannot grant your request. Please accept our apologies and thank you again for your interest.

Although the hierarchy of the Jesuit Order is difficult to pin down, a number of quotations about the Jesuits compiled by researcher Darryl Eberhart in his writings called Tackling the Tough Topics may give some clues why it's important to open up a public debate on their role in the New World Order.

Eberhart served in the U.S. Armed Forces for twenty years, which included three overseas assignments. He spent 11 1/2 years in the USAF as an enlisted member, and 8 1/2 years in the US Army (warrant officer & commissioned officer.)

"The true patriot does not love his government. The true patriot loves his country and watches his government," said Eberhart.

Eberhart is a Christian who is committed to educating the American people about the coming New World Order. Here are some of the quotes concerning the Jesuits he has compiled:

"My history of the Jesuits is not eloquently written, but it is supported by unquestionable authorities, [and] is very particular and very horrible. Their [the Jesuit Order's] restoration [in 1814 by Pope Pius VII] is indeed a step toward darkness, cruelty, despotism, [and] death. ... I do not like the appearance of the Jesuits. If ever there was a body of men who merited eternal damnation on earth and in hell, it is this Society of [Ignatius de] Loyola."

John Adams (1735-1826; 2nd President of the United States)

"It is my opinion that if the liberties of this country - the United States of America - are destroyed, it will be by the subtlety of the Roman Catholic Jesuit priests, for they are the most crafty, dangerous enemies to civil and religious liberty. They have instigated MOST of the wars of Europe."

Marquis de LaFayette (1757-1834; French statesman and general. He served in the American Continental Army under the command of General George Washington during the American Revolutionary War.)

"The war [i.e., the American Civil War of 1861-1865] would never have been possible without the sinister influence of the Jesuits."

Abraham Lincoln (1809-1865; 16th President of the United States)

"The public is practically unaware of the overwhelming responsibility carried by the Vatican and its Jesuits in the starting of the two world wars - a situation which may be explained in part by the gigantic finances at the disposition of the Vatican and its Jesuits, giving them power in so many spheres, especially since the last conflict."

Edmond Paris (Author of the book The Secret History of the Jesuits)

"The Jesuits...are a secret society - a sort of Masonic order - with superadded features of revolting odiousness, and a thousand times more dangerous." - Samuel Morse (1791-1872; American inventor of the telegraph; author of the book Foreign Conspiracy Against the Liberties of the United States)

"[The Jesuits] are the deadly enemies of civil and religious liberty."
R. W. Thompson (Ex-Secretary, American Navy)

"The Jesuits are a MILITARY organization, not a religious order. Their chief is a general of an army, not the mere father abbot of a monastery. And the aim of this organization is power - power in its most despotic exercise - absolute power, universal power, power to control the world by the volition of a single man [i.e., the Black Pope, the Superior General of the Jesuits]. Jesuitism is the most absolute of despotisms [sic] - and at the same time the greatest and most enormous of abuses..."
Napoleon I (i.e., Napoleon Bonaparte; 1769-1821; emperor of the French)

"If you trace up Masonry, through all its Orders, till you come to the grand tip-top head Mason of the World, you will discover that the dread individual and the Chief of the Society of Jesus [i.e., the Superior General of the Jesuit Order] are one and the same person." - James Parton (American historian)

"The Society of Jesus [i.e., the Jesuit Order] is the enemy of man. The whole human race should unite for its overthrow. ...For there is no alternative between its total extirpation, and the absolute corruption and degradation of mankind." - Robert J. Breckinridge (pastor and author)

"The Jesuits...are simply the Romish army for the earthly sovereignty of the world in the future, with the Pontiff of Rome for emperor...that's their ideal. ...It is simple lust of power, of filthy earthly gain, of domination - something like a universal serfdom with them [i.e., the Jesuits] as masters - that's all they stand for. They don't even believe in God perhaps."
Fyodor Dostoyevsky (1821-1881; famous Russian novelist)

Although there are many other references about the corruption and treachery of the Society of Jesus throughout the course of history, the subject is rarely brought up in today's climate of suppression and control by the media.

However, to understand the enemy, we look to the comments by the author of Vatican Assassins, Eric Jon Phelps, who joins us this Sunday by the shores of Brushy Creek. E-mailer Mike Smith had this to say about Phelps' extensive research on the Jesuit Order:

Glad to hear you are on the right trail as to who is at the top of the conspiracy theory pyramid. I think Mr. Phelps has open and shut the case in the historical sense, by compiling most all of the 19th and 20th centuries' most brave, revealing, and SUPRESSED political books. So in fact his 21st century book has now joined the great CENSORED list.

We all know, just are not allowed to say in public, that the Jesuits and their Vatican are a nothing less than a TEMPORAL world order and the world's largest financial institution operating under cover of (an increasingly strange & dubious) religion.

Although Phelps has been interviewed on several alternative radio shows, including From the Grassy Knoll, Cloak And Dagger, Frankly Speaking Radio, The Investigative Journal, Peering Into Darkness Radio and Rense Radio he also has been shunned by the alternative press, indicating a reluctance of the so-called "open-minded folk" to deal squarely and fairly with the Jesuit-New World Order connection.

This week Phelps has provided a view of New Age Religion and the Jesuits, as well as a recent question and answer interview he conducted last week for an internet alternative news publication.

Your comments on Phelps' statements are encouraged for next week's Sunday confession, as we continue to explore the inner-workings of the Society of Jesus.

Further, it may be interesting to explore and get your comments about the Catholic Church's support of illegal immigration in America, as well as the recent statements made on the CNN Lou Dobbs Show by Fr. Rick Ryscavage, a Jesuit priest of Fairfield University, saying the right of the U.S. government to protect its own borders and citizens is not absolute, according to Rome.

Here are Phelps' comments:

Q: What are the origins of the Society of Jesus/Jesuits

The Society of Jesus/Company of Jesus originated with a Gentile Spanish nobleman and member of the Alumbrados, Don Ignatius Loyola, on August 15, 1534. There in the subterranean chapel of the Church of Montmartre, Paris, Loyola and his nine followers vowed to wage war against the Moslem Saracens of the East. (This doctrine has much to do with the Pope's present "War on Terror," called a "Crusade" by Skull and Bones Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor, President George W. Bush. The Order used Masonic Napoleon for the same purpose when he invaded Egypt in 1799, ultimately killing all the Islamic Mamelukes.) In 1540 the Company (i.e., Loyola and his nine followers) was brought into the Roman Papacy by Pope Paul III via a papal bull. Although legally subject to the Pope, the Order is a "Church within a Church;" "a jurisdiction within a jurisdiction," as Sir William Blackstone has described it. A recent illustration of the relationship between the Company and the Papacy is found in the working order between the Nazi party and the SS. Hitler played the part of the Pope; Bormann (Hitler's "Brown Eminence") played the part of the Cardinal Secretary of State; and the Nazi Hierarchy was patterned after the Roman Hierarchy. Outside of this Nazi political power was the SS. Himmler was the Jesuit General; his SS Generals acting as his "Jesuit Assistants;" his SS being dressed in Black as the Jesuits have been called "the men in black," which title was used in the Order's Hollywood movie, Men In Black starring that Jesuit Temporal Coadjutor Tommy Lee Jones---another intimate friend of Jesuit Georgetown University graduate and CFR member, William Jefferson Clinton, the Order's "Crusader" against the Orthodox Serbian people.

Q: From your research, what do you believe is the goal of the Jesuits?

The goal of the Company of Jesus is to consolidate all of the world's wealth (including all land and labor) and all power (both spiritual and temporal) into their hands. By these means, the Order then seeks to compel all nations to submit to the earthly government of the Roman "White Pope." J. A. Wylie wrote in his nineteenth century release, The History of Protestantism, Vol. II, Book Fifteen, pp. 387, 388, 393, 398, 412 and 399, concerning the Jesuits:

"An army to conquer the world, Loyola was forming. . . . The General is the society. . . . he could enkindle them with fanaticism, inspire them with a Luciferian ambition, and so pervert and indurate their souls by evil maxims, and long and rigorous training, that they should be insensible to shame and pain, and would welcome suffering and death. Such were the weapons of the men he sent forth to the battle. . . . But, further, these sons of Loyola are the kings of the world, and the sole heirs of all its wealth, honours, and pleasures; and whatever law, custom, sacred and venerable office, august and kingly authority, may stand between them and their rightful lordship over mankind, they are at liberty to throw down and tread into the dust as a vile and accursed thing. The moral maxims of the Jesuits are to be put in force against kings as well as against peasants. . . . they will be the lords of its lands and palaces, the masters of the bodies and the souls of its inhabitants, and nothing of all that the heart can desire will be withholden from them if only they will obey him [the Jesuit General]. . . . What a harvest of plots, tumults, seditions, revolutions, torturings, poisonings, assassinations, regicides, and massacres has Christendom reaped from the seed sown by the Jesuits! Nor can we be sure that we have yet seen the last and greatest of their crimes."

Ignatius himself declared the purpose of the Order was to:

". . . win to God [the Pope of Rome], not only a single nation, a single country, but all nations, all the kingdoms of the world."

That earthly government is to be centered in Jerusalem, within the rebuilt Temple of Solomon---the Third Hebrew Temple. Loyola first sought to take Jerusalem from the Moslems when he made his trek to that city prior to creating the Order. (Michael Cervantes, a Spaniard himself, satirically characterized Ignatius via his infamous creation of "the madman," Don Quixote.) As the Order sought to rule the world from Jerusalem then, so does it now. This is in complete accord with Bible prophecy declaring that the final end time Satan-possessed dictator---"the beast"---will rule the world from Jerusalem's Third Hebrew Temple for forty-two months prior to the return of the Lord Jesus Christ, He then to sit on the throne of his father David ruling the world for one thousand years.

Q: How did you get involved in researching the Jesuits?

There were three issues that drove me to discover, further understand and know the Jesuits. The first was the assassination of President Kennedy. On that day, when in the fourth grade, I saw my teacher whom I loved, the feminine and kind-hearted Miss Beals, come into the classroom, blowing her nose and sobbing. She then told us the president had been shot and was dead. Such utter helplessness I felt at that moment, seeing my beloved teacher comfortless, deeply affected me. Later, my swim teacher at the YMCA, Jack Bath, was killed in Vietnam. When I told my guitar teacher, Dan Boyd, of Jack's death in beginning one of my lessons, Dan bitterly cried and dismissed me as Jack had been one of his students: Dan had a portrait of each of us on his wall seated with our personal guitars. I waited a good twenty minutes in an adjacent room and could hear the sobs of the tall, cleft-palleted man I also deeply loved. These bitter emotional wounds were buried but never healed.

Then one day, years later in Bible college, the second issue arose. My history instructor, Dr. Rembert Carter, gave a class on the Jesuit assassination of Abraham Lincoln. Dr. Carter was rated third in the nation for his knowledge of history, earning his Ph.D from Edinburgh University at the young age of about twenty-five. I then concluded that if the Order could murder Lincoln and get away with the crime, what about JFK?

The third issue was the attack on the Reformation Bible for English-speaking people, the Authorized Version of 1611. Many at school were reading from the New International Version and the New American Standard Version which I did not really object to---until I discovered that an entirely different Greek Text, a pro-Jerome's Latin Vulgate Greek text, was employed as the foundation for these new "bibles." With the Sons of Loyola behind the Lincoln and JFK assassinations, could they also be the masters behind all the new versions? Later, I learned that Jesuit Carlo Cardinal Martini was on the translation committee for the NIV. These connections drove me to prove the Order was the master behind the murder of JFK and thus the Vietnam War, called "Cardinal Spellman's War."

Q: Could you tell us more about the Jesuit's founder, Ignatius Loyola?

Ignatius Loyola was a soldier with a will of steel. Although the greatest enemy of the Lord's Bible-believing Church given spiritual and temporal liberty as a result of the risen Son of God's grand and glorious Protestant Reformation preached by the bold and brave, Bible-believing Martin Luther, Loyola is worthy of respect even as his master, the devil, is worthy of respect (Jude 9). Wounded at the battle of Pampeluna during which he commanded the Spanish forces against the French---he refusing to surrender in the face of certain defeat---, Ignatius suffered a shattered leg from a canon ball. The French commander, ordered his own surgeon to attend the valiant warrior after which Ignatius was taken back to his family castle of Loyola. Upon the leg healing, when the courtier began to walk he discovered the leg was shorter than the other. Determined to remedy the imperfection, LOYOLA ORDERED HIS LEG TO BE BROKEN AGAIN and surgically repaired, including the SAWING OFF of a protruding bone. Without crying out, he endured the torture only to find that he was still a cripple, unable to wear the courtier's high knee boots. At this, he constructed a RACK upon which he ordered the stretching of the leg. Enduring weeks of yet another torture, he finally accepted his fate---that he would remain a limping cripple for life. His subsequent demon-possession in writing The Spiritual Exercises and the Order's absolutist Constitutions (later perfected by General Aquaviva and thoroughly condemned by the French government in the 1760s), pale in comparison to this will of relentless determination. It is this trait, subordinated to the will of the Black Pope and tempered with absolute obedience produced by The Spiritual Exercises, that has characterized the infamous Jesuit Order.

Q: How did the Jesuit's become the superpower and driving force behind the New World Order that you propose they are today?

That answer entails a long and detailed history provided in my book, Vatican Assassins "Wounded In The House Of My Friends" with its accompanying CD. That the Order ruled the world (save for a few Protestant nations such as England and the Netherlands) prior to its Suppression is without controversy. But with Pope Clement XIV issuing his bull of Suppression and Extinction, "Dominus ac Redemptor noster," in 1773, the Order went underground. From there a host of secret societies were formed, including the Bavarian Illuminati, while gaining control over other papal orders, including the Redemptorists and the Vincentians. (The priest who gave JFK last rites in Dallas was a Vincentian---Fr. Oscar Huber overseen by Knight of Malta and Bishop of Dallas-Fort Worth, Thomas K. Gorman.) The Order received open protection from Russia's Catherine II "the Great" and Prussia's Frederick II "the Great." Its secret protector was England's King George III. In control of the Jacobins, the Order launched and led the French Revolution and later brought Napoleon to power, he waging his Napoleonic Wars executing vengeance upon the monarchs who dared to suppress and expel the Society from their borders---including the Knights of Malta. In August of 1814, the Company was restored by Pope Pius VII; from that moment on it wielded control over "the White Pope" until finally declaring him to be "infallible" in 1870. This declaration of Papal Infallibility enabled the Order to control the entire Roman Hierarchy through one man---the Pope. This explains the silence of Pope Pius XII during the Order's Eurasian "burnt offering" of Jews via Himmler's SS---secretly commanded by the Bavarian German Jesuit and Pius's confessor, Robert Leiber. The Black Pope's Second Thirty Years' War (1914-1945) consolidated all political power into the hands of the Order; the Cold War (including the Berlin Airlift intended by both Masons Stalin and Truman to distract attention away from the Order's Vatican Ratlines including ODESSA) was a mop-up of Europe and build-up of Soviet Russia, China and the Moslem world in preparation for this new Third Thirty Years' War---the Black Pope's "War on Terror"---, he now controlling both sides of the conflict.

Q: Many people believe that the plan for the New World Order dates back to ancient times and say that the Jesuit's are only 500 years old. What do you have to say about this?

I would agree that Satan's plot for the New World Order---world government of all nations under the rule of his chosen world dictator---has been in the making since the literal Fall of Adam. (Genesis 3.) The AV1611 Bible calls this "the mystery of iniquity." (II Thess. 2:7.) However, with the Lord's Reformation brought about by means of Luther, we have the devil's subsequent Counter-Reformation brought about by means of Loyola. Thus, Satan has sought to consolidate all occult power into the hands of his "Black Pope." This includes all Freemasonry, the Crusading Orders including the Priory of Zion (said by one of the author's of Holy Blood, Holy Grail to have been taken over by the Jesuits in 1619), the Templars (high-level Masons), the Hospitallers (Knights of Malta) and the German Teutonic Knights---revived as Himmler's SS.

Further, Satan has always sought to rule the world through ONE MAN. This was evidenced in his temptation of Jesus Christ when the Lord was offered all the kingdoms of the world if He would but worship the devil. (Luke 4:5-6.) And further, since we live in "the times of the Gentiles," we can expect to see Gentiles at the pinnacle of world power, Masonic Jews merely serving them. This is in accord with Luke 21:24 and Deuteronomy 28:43-44, 64-68. As long as Jerusalem is under Gentile rule, via "the times of the Gentiles"---specifically White Gentiles for the last five hundred years---these devil-worshipping Gentiles will rule the banking and politics of the world until the Lord Jesus Christ returns to then rule Jerusalem and thus the world by Himself, "for he must reign till he hath put all enemies under his feet." (I Cor. 15:25; Psalm 110:1)

Q: Is it true that many of the world's leaders from dictators to presidents have been trained by Jesuits and if so could you tell us some of the people in positions of power that have been trained by Jesuits?

Yes. The list is huge. Here are a few. Marx was tutored by Jesuits in the British Museum for nearly thirty years; Lenin and Mussolini were both trained by Jesuits when in Geneva---the Order's international banking haven for which reason Switzerland never goes to war; Stalin was trained by Jesuits while in the Tiflis Orthodox Seminary in Georgia---openly admitted by "Koba" himself to journalist and Masonic Jew Emil Ludwig (Cohen). Fidel Castro was trained by Jesuits for seven years in Cuba, was put in power by the CIA, and advised by a Jesuit, Fr. Armando Llorente, during the revolution. Masonic Douglas MacArthur was trained by Jesuits according to an Army Colonel who personally knew him. Masonic Lyndon Johnson was trained by Jesuits at Georgetown University for a time, as was "the graduate" President Bill Clinton. Don Shula of the Miami Dolphins was Jesuit-trained along with Denzel Washington, that traitor to his own Black people. The star of Mash was Jesuit-trained while Martin Sheen (who changed his name after the name of Cold Warrior Bishop Fulton Sheen) has taken Loyola's Spiritual Exercises and recently dedicated a new library at the Order's Marquette University. John C. Gannon, the real father of the Order's Department of Homeland Security (our American Gestapo) was a member of the Jesuit Volunteer Corps and is affiliated with Georgetown University while an ex-CIA officer and CFR member. Pat Buchanan, a Knight of Malta (SMOM), is affiliated with Jesuit John McLaughlin of the McLaughlin Group, and was Jesuit-trained at Georgetown, as was SMOM and former CIA Director, George J. Tenet---the man in charge of bringing down the WTC and attack on the Pentagon via a Cruise missile. This is one of the connections, along with SMOM Rudolf Guiliani, that enables us to connect the Archbishop of New York, Edward Cardinal Egan, to 911 and thus Bush's "War on Terror." Chris Matthews of Hardball was Jesuit-trained at College of the Holy Cross, he serving for many years as the assistant for another Jesuit-trained Coadjutor and Kennedy assassin, Speaker of the House and Jesuit Boston College trustee, Thomas "Tip" O'Neill. The head of the Pope's Federal Reserve Bank of New York---where all of the nation's gold is in storage thanks to FDR's gift of our Ft. Knox gold to the Fed according to "the man who opened Ft. Knox," the late Roman Catholic Washington attorney Dr. Peter Beter---is CFR President Peter G. Peterson, holding an honorary doctorate from Georgetown University. Even JFK attended Georgetown for a while as well as the Order's Fabian Socialist London School of Economics. (The Order prepared him for the presidency, obtained his "election," and then killed him for being a disobedient "tyrant and a usurper.") Indeed, the Jesuits train or influence those who will rule on their behalf. The State Department is full of those having graduated from the Order's School of Foreign Service started by Jesuit Edmund A. Walsh---the master of both military tribunals after WWII and backer of Jesuit-trained inquisitor Joseph McCarthy. AGain Wylie writes on p. 388:

"Wherever the Jesuits have planted missions, opened seminaries, and established colleges, they have been careful to inculcate these principles in the minds of the youth; thus sowing the seeds of future tumults, revolutions [the Black Civil Rights movement], regicides [the murder of JFK], and wars [the Vietnam War]."

Q: It has been said that the Adam Weishaupt, founder of the Bavarian Illuminati, was trained by Jesuits. But many point out that Adam Weishaupt defected from the Christianity. If this is so how are the Jesuits connected to the Illuminati?

The Jesuits are the masters of conspiratorial history. Their agents are always in place to re-direct those who discover the conspiracy for a world government. One of their greatest deceptions is to divert the seeker into blaming Freemasonry and thus the Jews exclusively. This tenet sits at the heart of one the Order's most effective lies---that Adam Weishaupt was a Jew (contrary to the Order's Constitutions until 1946), that he defected from the Jesuit Order (as he had been an instructor of Canon Law and Jesuit "Moral Theology" at Ingolstat College in Bavaria---Bavaria being the Company's mightiest stronghold north of the Alps) and that his founding of the Illuminati was completely free of Jesuit influence. The historians who espouse this position are Jesuit Abbe Barruel in his History of the French Revolution and Roman Catholic Nesta Webster in her several works, including Secret Societies and Subversive Movements. Both Masonic Hitler and Masonic Stalin---those Jesuit jackhammers who collaborated in the destruction of the Orthodox Russian and German-Prussian people---held to this Jesuit lie. Masonic Winston Churchill, the Fabian Socialist destroyer of the Protestant British Empire and Protestant Dresden (he commanding "Bomber Harris" who created the horrible firestorm and incineration of Protestant Germans) also promoted this Jesuitism, blaming the Bolshevik Revolution on those "godless Bolshevik Jews." Jesuit Coadjutor Father Charles Coughlin did the same as do the new Father Coughlins---Texe Marrs, Michael Collins Piper, Daryl Bradford Smith, Hal Turner, Louis Farrakhan and host of others too numerous to number. F. Tupper

Saussy is quite right however when he stated in his Rulers of Evil that Weishaupt was under orders of Jesuit General Lorenzo Ricci. Weishaupt, who as "Spartacus," never left the Order, and openly led the revolt of the Pope's Jesuit "slaves."

The Order has been extremely careful to keep their guiding "black hand" out of sight in the histories covering both the French Revolution and the Bolshevik Revolution. At this moment, we are suffering from approximately one hundred years of Rockefeller-funded, CFR-backed, censored history. The same has been done with the histories of the Jesuit General's Second Thirty Years's War (1914-1945). Masonic Jewish Zionist and CFR-member William L. Shirer authored The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich---eliminating all papal collaboration in the rise of Hitler while refusing to name Himmler's Jesuit minions throughout the SS, including Dr. Richard Korherr (the "traditionalist" Roman Catholic who tabulated Himmler's secret totals of murdered Jews for Bavarian German Jesuit and confessor to Pius XII, Robert Leiber) and Edmund Veessenmayer (Hitler's overseer of the Jesuit and Franciscian-led Ustachis murdering one million Jews and Serbs in Croatia), as well as Walter Rauff (who worked with the Jesuits personally in helping SS men escape Europe through the Brenner Pass into Italy) and Josef Mengele (Auschwitz's "Angel of Death," nicknamed "Father Mengele" while at the Frankfurt University Institute of Hereditary Biology and Racial Hygiene). The British Hugh Trevor-Roper in his work Hitler's Last Days has done the same.

Q: Who are the Knights of Malta and how do they tie into all of this?

The Sovereign Military Order of Malta (the Knights of Malta---SMOM) is an international secret society composed of the world's Black Nobility as well as top bankers, businessmen, politicians and intelligence operatives. Some of the names you might recognize are Pennsylvania US Senator Rick Santorum; William J. McDonough, CFR-member and former head of the New York Federal Reserve Bank; Alexander Haig, Jr., whose brother Francis is a powerful Jesuit; George J. Tenet, John McCone and William "Wild Bill" Donovan---all former heads of the CIA; William F. Buckley, CFR member, CIA officer---Kennedy assassin---and former head of National Review; Cartha De Loach, former Assistant FBI Director---and Kennedy assassin; Henry Luce---Kennedy assassin---, the late head of Time-Life and commander of Order's Rockefeller Center adjacent to the SMOM headquarters in the US, St. Patrick's Cathedral. Elmer Bobst, the founder of Warner Lambert pharmaceuticals (now Pfizer), was the godfather of the Nixon presidency and upon his death donated much of his estate to the Archbishop of New York; John DeGioia, CFR member and President of Jesuit Georgetown University; Prescott Bush, Sr., and Prescott Bush, Jr., as well as George H. W. Bush who entertained the Grand Master of the Order, Andrew Bertie, at the White House in 1988. Mikhail Gorbachev, former head of the KGB and negotiator with President George H. W. Bush at the Island of Malta thus ending the Cold War in 1989 (the Knights of Malta hosting that eventful meeting). Others are Sir St. John Philby, a British SIS agent and Wahhabi member of the Saudi royal court having created the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia in 1932 building the Black Pope's international oil monopoly; son Kim Philby, that dear friend of SMOM James Angleton who was British MI6, CIA and KGB officer; and Anatoli M. Golitsin, KGB officer and collaborator with Angleton in betraying hundreds of CIA operatives into the hands of the Holy Office of the Inquisition's KGB. Other Knights of Malta have been and are Frank Sinatra, Sammy Davis, Jr., (America's first Black SMOM), Gerald Ford, Ronald Reagan (honorary) and Bob Hope, all of them being sexual perverts involved with CIA mind-controlled sex slaves. Other Dames of Malta are Clare Boothe Luce---Kennedy assassin and former Ambassador to Italy under Eisenhower, Archbishop Spellman's WWII Crusader; and Phyllis Schlafley, the pseudo-conservative pundit building the right-wing fascist dictatorship along with Fox News Network's Knight of St. Gregory (probable SMOM) and CFR member Rupert Murdoch. Rupert is also good friends with another brother CFR member, Masonic Jewish Zionist George Soros!

The Knights were driven from Malta by the Order's Napoleon Bonaparte in 1798, after he stole all their treasures and weapons for the invasion of Egypt. The Knights were given refuge in Russia under Tzar Paul I at which time the Jesuit General then resident in Russia subordinated the Knights to his Order. Since that time the SMOM of Russia have never been expelled. Before and after the Bolshevik Revolution, the Knights conducted business through the Grace-Russian Trading Company, controlled by the Grand Master's American and Russian branches. Today the Knights control the Black Pope's unified International Intelligence Community (Russia's SVR, American CIA, German BND, Britain's SIS, China's SIS, Israel's Mossad, Pakistan's ISI, INTERPOL, etc.); the Black Pope's International Banking Community (Rockefeller, Morgan and Rothschild interests); the Order's International Drug Trade (protected by the DEA by eliminating outside opposition); the International Organized Crime Syndicate (Japanese Yakuza, Sicilian Mafia, Russian Mafia, Israeli Mafia, American Mafia, etc., which launders its trillions in blood money through the Order's International Banking Community) and of course the Black Pope's International Masonic Islamic Terrorist Network financed by the Black Pope's International Oil Syndicate and Drug Trade. Fidel Castro is also subject to SMOM Grand Master, Andrew Bertie. King Juan Carlos of Spain---the King of Jerusalem---is a Jesuit-trained Knight of Malta and visitor of the Bushes at their ranch in Crawford, Texas.

Q: What is the Opus Dei and how they figure into things?

Opus Dei is an extreme, right wing, ultramontane, traditionalist, pro-Council of Trent, anti-Vatican II, arm of the Jesuit Order. Its members can be found in every walk of life, for they are Jesuit Temporal Coadjutors in the final analysis. Founded in 1928 in Spain by Jesuit-educated Josemaria Escriva, it played an important role in overthrowing the Spanish Republic having expelled the Order in 1932 and having shut down all the convents after thousands of baby skeletons had been discovered. Opus Dei participated in the Pope's Vatican Ratlines which evacuated top Nazis to South America. Chile's late, pro-Nazi President, Augusto Pinochet's personal secretary was a member of Opus Dei; the Heritage Foundation has Opus Dei members along with SMOM; America's greatest spy, Robert Philip Hanssen, was Opus Dei, Hanssen in fact being at apex of the Black Pope's International Intelligence Community working for the FBI, CIA, NSA and the KGB as did the arch traitor and SMOM CIA counterintelligence chief, James Jesus Angleton---the real mole in the CIA! Opus Dei was involved in the Vatican Bank Scandal and has been implicated in the murder of Roberto Calvi according to Italian authorities. Opus Dei, "the work of God," serves the Jesuit Superior General Peter Hans Kolvenbach "for the greater glory of God," the God who sits in St. Peter's Chair.

The Jesuits and the New Age Movement

By Eric Jon Phelps, April 27, 2006

The New Age Movement is found in nearly every walk of life within Fourteenth Amendment America. We are accosted with its Satanic doctrines found in every art form including literature, philosophy, history and music; we are oppressed by its besetting theological and ethical usurpations riveted into every religious denomination and imbibed throughout every cultural setting. We observe its denial of Biblical absolutes and its obsession with relativism, be it the impressionism of Van Gough or the existentialism of Picasso; we are entranced with its man-centered prose throughout the lyrics of British Knight 'Sir' John Lennon imagining there is "no hell," and Knights of Malta Frank Sinatra and Sammy Davis, Jr., living life "My Way."

We blindly trust in its efficacy when tendering our fiat currency put upon us in 1933-the year of the American empire's de jure bankruptcy-by 33rd Degree Freemason FDR, its paper adorned with Masonic symbols; and we are constantly being programmed to anticipate the arrival of an immoral, yet mortal savior, a return of the Jedi, the appearing of a Terminator, or are born Neo coming out of the matrix (the womb of Mary-"the mother of God"), all of them achieving lasting victory by the power of their own "Free Wills," pulling themselves up by their bootstraps, aided by occult masters. But for the serious seeker of truth the question arises, "From whence cometh this nefarious yet intangible influence having permeated all five gates of perception?"

That answer is first detected in the very nature of man, that nature to which we were all born in bondage-with only one exception. Verily, he that continually commits sin "is the servant of sin." Discarding the atheistic, socialist-communist, evolutionary, Egyptian religion espoused by American academia, we find that every man is innately evil; his desires are self serving to the satisfaction of his wicked flesh; his goal is self glorification at the expense of every rule; his end is the inexplicable-the conundrum of physical death-that most personal experience of the second law of thermodynamics inaugurated by the spoken words of the One to come, that contradiction of all the New Age purports to advance as true-that all is ever progressing in an upward eternal progression of man-made perfection.

This, dear truth-seeker, is the religion of Jesuitism. For with the Society of Jesus, nothing is absolute save the word of the superior over each and every Son of Loyola. Those nations which the Jesuit Superior General seeks to reduce to penury and serfdom, after which they shall be kept under the spiritual and temporal power of the Pope, must be enticed into the calculated consequences of sin and death by their own lusts, the Order putting forth those very temptations deliberately framed to effect its sinister ends-"ad majorem dei gloriam," for the greater glory of god, that "greater glory" being the increase of the world power of the Jesuit Pontiff in Rome.

Therefore, we should not be aghast to discover that all commercialized inducements to sin and crime are in the hands of the Company of Jesus. Is it drugs that you crave? Why the Order has taken great pains to perfect the ugly alliance between the Mafia and CIA, filling every city with mind-bending nostrums barring none. Is it sex and booze? Why the Order's Roman Catholic Knight of Malta Joseph P. Kennedy perfected the business, aided by mobster Frank Costello, both receiving the blessing of New York Archbishop Francis Cardinal Spellman-Costello donating the costly doors adorning St. Patrick's Cathedral. The Order provides a tailored bait for every taste covering all facets of the sinful, fallen, totally depraved nature of men in accordance with their "presumptuous sins." Yet within each bait is concealed the same deadly hook, that when set drags its victim into the final conclave of Satan's New Age Movement.

We are all dead men in Adam, blinded by the devil, enslaved to sin, hating God, condemned in our natural state, destined to an eternal hell, utterly helpless to regain our lost estate, all the while delighting in the illusion that we are the masters of our own ships, having the power to will into reality, via our works, whatever we choose, clutching to the religion of Cain that proclaims "my free will produced the fruit of my own hands that must be acceptable to a god whom I really don't believe exists. "The Jesuit is the master of setting in motion the depraved and deluded "Free Wills" of billions of hell-bent sinners. For this reason, the Order's nineteenth century Masonic pontiff, Albert Pike, was the champion of "Free Will," defended in his Morals and Dogma. The Jesuit laughs at those who dare to believe they have the power to resist evil apart from the biblical Spirit of God resident within true believers on Christ Jesus; he sends forth another high-level Freemason and OTO master, Aleister Crowley, to preach the foundation of "sex, drugs and rock and roll," the glorification of "man's Free Will" echoing forth, "Do What Thou Wilt, for This Is the Whole of the Law!"

There can be no absolutes anywhere, anytime, anyplace, in any way, on any terms, lest the devil's "Mystery of Iniquity" be impeded, and the despicable, genocidal proclivities of man be curbed. The two great maxims of the devil's New Age Movement are the belief in man's untainted, pristine "Free Will" tending to rationalism, evolution, atheism and socialism; the other is the doctrine of universalism, that all roads lead to eternal bliss, when in fact they lead down to Rome, to the feet of the Pope, at which point "every human creature must be subject to the Roman Pontiff." The Jesuit lurks in the shadows, exciting the nations to act upon his maxims. Yes, dear truth seeker, the Evil One's New Age Movement is in the dismal heart of every one of us; the devil via his Jesuit plays upon our "Free Wills" to fulfill his age-old dream of ruling the world from Solomon's rebuilt temple. In this light we understand why the father of the New Age Movement is none other than the infamous Jesuit, Pierre Teilhard de Chardin!

Hollywood Profits Off 911 Misery And Death With Flight 93 Movie, Failing To Question Bogus Government Story

According to activist Phil Jayhan, the movie should be considered a fictional account just like the entire government story about 911.

30 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The propaganda movie, flight 93, opened this weekend across the country, as Hollywood now gets in line to profit off the misery, tragedy and death of 911 without even attempting to question the veracity of the government's official story.

"How shameless, greedy and arrogant can you get? It's sinful," said Phil Jayhan, a 911 truth seeking activist, traveling the country on what he calls his "911 Jay Walking National Tour."

Jayhan is now in Chattanooga, Tennessee, making his way to Washington D.C. with a two-prong mission to first interview people, showing them with video evidence how simple it is to prove the government story is based on lies. And next to compile his information into a video about the suppressed story of the truth behind 911.

"I am not quite sure why there is such a push in the media and Hollywood to help push government propaganda about 911," said Jayhan. "Now it's Flight 93 and next we will see Oliver Stone's effort, but both stories fail to address the real issues about government complicity in 911.

Jayhan has been a long time 911 truth advocate, starting a highly controversial web site in the early days after the WTC attacks when it was not fashionable to criticize the government.

And in a truth movement filled with disinformation artists and FBI-funded infiltrators, Jayhan is one of the good guys, trying to alert people of the real facts behind 911 and trying to inform people in the face of a complicit media not dealing with the truth.

For Jayhan's efforts, he has been put on numerous government watch lists and subjected to countless internet harassments. But through it all, those who have followed his work, say he has enlightened and informed millions of Americans and people around the world about the U.S. government cover-up about 911 through his web site at www.letsroll911.org.

Besides in the being in the middle of his nationwide tour, Jayhan is not pleased about the Flight 93 the movie being represented as a factual account then what he claims it really is: fiction and government propaganda.

"We are up against a huge propaganda machine, but there are millions of people who know and understand the truth, realizing in their hearts the government was involved in the mass murder of more than 3,000 people on 911," said Jayhan.

Trying to level the playing field in his own way, Jayhan wrote an article in 2004, showing how the government lied about what really happened on 911. Here is the article which appeared on his web site by someone called the "surgeon" based on the article Jayhan initially wrote:

There is overwhelming physical evidence that Flight 93 did not crash at Shanksville, Pennsylvania on 9/11. Coupled with circumstantial and documentary evidence, plus the numerous government cover-ups and conflicting stories, lends credence to this allegation. What is crystal clear is that the official story concerning Flight 93 is a blatant lie.

To prove this to yourself, research the history of the official story: at first, it was "brave passengers took over the plane and crashed it to save Washington, DC"; then the story was changed to "the hijackers crashed the plane". No new evidence was uncovered or discovered that would require a change in the story. Only when the passengers' families demanded to listen to the cockpit voice recording did the story change. However, the cockpit voice recording is bogus - there was no Flight 93 crash.

Lack of Aircraft Debris

The key evidence that the official story of Flight 93 is a complete lie is the missing Boeing 757 at the "crash site" in Shanksville, Pennsylvania. A Boeing 757-200 weighs +120,000 lbs (+54,000 kg) empty, has a length of 155 ft 3 in (47.3 m), wingspan of 124 ft 10 in (38 m) and a tail height of 44 ft 6 in (13.6 m). All of the eyewitnesses to the crash scene, which included firemen, were amazed that there was no evidence of the plane. There was a lot of small debris and paper, but 120,000 lbs of aircraft apparently disappeared. According to the official story, the one-time open pit mine had been filled with soft dirt which "liquefied" when the plane hit. The entire plane buried itself deeply in the ground. However, note the imprint of the tail. It is not very deep and there is no evidence of any debris from the tail.

The Faked Crash Imprint

The second key piece of evidence is the shape of the impact crater, or the crash imprint. The official story is that the 757 was at an extremely low altitude (less than 500 feet or 150 meters), the plane rolled onto its back and crashed at +500 mph (800 kmh). The crash imprint shows a vertical, or nearly vertical, impact. It is impossible for a 757 to change from horizontal flight to a vertical dive within a few hundred vertical feet - particularly when it's at twice its' design speed for low altitude. Further, the all-electronic control systems of Boeing 757s have pre-set software limits that prevents pilots from making dangerous maneuvers: such as inverted flight or vertical dives. The crash imprint and lack of debris and fire damage outside the crater could only have been caused by a vertical, or near vertical crash. And this was not possible.

The Circular Crater

The third item evidence is the circular crater. Note that it is off-center of the tail imprint. If this crater were caused by the fuselage, it should be directly under the tail imprint. If the plane crashed at an angle, with one wing striking before the other, the crater could be off-center - however, the tail imprint would be larger. The circular crater is indicative of a below ground explosion.

Grass Growing in the Crater

The fourth piece of evidence is the grass and weeds growing in the areas where the "wing tips" and "tail assembly" imprinted the ground. Grass and vegetation is also seen growing on the sides of the burning crater walls! This grass must be the same as the PentaLawn grass, which is able to grow back within immediately after plane crashes. Clearly, the crash crater was made before 9/11 - long enough for grass to grow.

Lack of Fire Damage

The fifth piece of evidence that the official government story is a lie is the lack of fire damage. A Boeing 757 has a fuel capacity of 11,489 gal (43,490 l). Flight 93 was full for its planned cross country trip to California and would have had more than 9,000 gal (34,000 l) when it crashed. To put this in perspective, this amount of fuel would fill 500 automobiles. There is almost no fire damage outside the crash crater and that is only in the nearby woods.

The Mushroom Cloud

The sixth item of evidence is the picture taken moments after the crash which shows a relatively small mushroom cloud of smoke with a narrow base. There is no extended smoke base which would be typical of aircraft crash. It is indicative of high explosive.

The Missing Three Minutes

The government asserts that Flight 93 crashed at 10:03 AM. A seismic recording station recorded a major event at 10:06 AM. Seismic recordings are calibrated by atomic clocks which are incredibly accurate. Cleveland Air Traffic Control also had the flight on its radar at 10:06 AM. Again, the government story contradicts physical evidence. While this does not provide any proof that Flight 93 did not crash, it does illustrate government complicity.

Evidence Summary

To summarize, the physical evidence does not show that a Boeing 757-200 crashed at Shanksville:

- o Amount of debris not consistent with a +120,000 lb aircraft*
- o Crash imprint could only be caused by a vertical, or near vertical crash, which was not possible*
- o Circular crater indicative of a below ground explosion*
- o Grass and weeds are growing in the crater which clearly indicates the crater was made before 9/11*
- o Lack of fire damage*
- o Mushroom cloud not consistent with 9,000 gallons of fuel exploding and burning*
- o The three minute discrepancy*
- o Flight 93: of the 45 people who are listed as dying on this flight, only 6 are listed in the SSDI (13%) Of these 45 people, none are on the 9-11 Compensation Fund list: None.*

Flight 93, no crash. No "Lets Roll"

What Probably Happened at Shanksville

As the 757 flew over the crash site, pre-planted explosives (remember this is a former mine) were detonated creating the central crater. This caused the mushroom cloud in the photo. The wing and tail imprints were dug in advance, plus some of the central crater, long enough for grass to grow. Aircraft debris, paper and fuel were pre-planted and blown out by the explosives.

What happened to the plane and its passengers? We don't know. There is some evidence, as presented by the researcher woody box, that Flight 93 landed at Cleveland-Hopkins airport.

Other Oddities and Coincidences

There are numerous other oddities and coincidences concerning Flight 93: ranging from terror drills at nearby airports to debris found miles away at two separate locations. Further, a C-130H cargo plane saw Flight 77 crash into the Pentagon, continued on its journey to Minneapolis; was at the Flight 93 crash site and continued on its journey. Plus, the impossible cell phone calls, the political and corporate connections to the land where Flight 93 crashed and much, much more.

Former Oregon Prosecutor Claims Americans Need To Fight Judicial Corruption Or Freedom Will Turn Into Slavery

Roger Weidner, a former attorney disbarred in 1997 for seeking the truth, has been jailed more than 19 times and illegally placed in a mental institution for wanting to expose judicial corruption.

29 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Roger Weidner, a former Oregon state prosecutor, claims America is making a steady transition from freedom to slavery, saying fighting judicial corruption is one way to return to a Constitutional form of government before it's too late.

And for more than 20 years, Weidner, 67, disbarred in 1997 from the practice of law in Oregon for trying to fight the corrupt system, has been asking one important question every single blacked-robed jurist has failed to answer:

"Your honor, is this a court of due process as prescribed by the U.S. Constitution!"

Almost like clockwork, Weidner says each judge refuses to answer, knowing the leading question opens up a judicial can of worms and court-guarded secret since the system, through legal technicalities, has become a biased administrative arm of the government set up to take away citizen rights not protect them.

"The constitutional rights, guaranteed to the citizen by the sworn pledge of our publicly elected magistrates, have been shamelessly and treacherously stripped from the citizens of this great land by an arrogant and abusive judiciary," said Weidner this week on Greg Szymanski's popular radio show, The Investigative Journal.

"This judiciary has made our courts "safe havens" for thieves and a house of horrors for innocent citizens seeking to recover what has been wrongfully taken from them."

A former member of the 101st Airborne Division before graduating from Lewis and Clarke Law School, Weidner's fight against corruption began 18 years ago after he struggled to return the now-valued $100 million Kettleberg estate to its rightful beneficiary after it had been wrongly seized by an unscrupulous but well-connected attorney.

And for trying to get justice for his client, Weidner was repeatedly arrested, imprisoned, confined to an insane asylum, and finally disbarred. His story, as told to H. Hammond in a book called "The Weidner Method," is a real life testament to how the judiciary has usurped the law while replacing constitutional guarantees with a system in which judges rule by decree.

After fighting judicial corruption on every level in the 18 years since his "eyes were opened" in the Kettleberg case, Weidner has been jailed more than 19 times, including 70 days in a psychiatric institution for simply speaking out in courtrooms demanding judicial accountability.

"My overall goal is to restore Constitutional government to the people of Oregon and the people of the United States," said Weidner. "It's really very simple if people want to take back their country, they have to take back their court houses and this means descending on these corrupt judges by in a group revolt." Speaking from the heart and trying to emphasize there is no hope of taking back America if there exists no place to obtain a redress of grievances, he added:

"It is my hope that Americans in every county in the country will converge upon their courthouses and use The Weidner Method to fight any kind of case. Throughout my 20 years of research about government corruption, The Weidner Method is the first solution I have ever encountered. If nothing else, it will expose duplicity and make the entire community aware of it, a necessary first step.

"The government should be restructured from the bottom up in cells of 10 families as described in the writings of Kelly Hoskins, author of the Hoskins Report. Senators should again be elected by state legislatures, illegal aliens should be incarcerated, deported and the borders sealed, no more foreign aid, fractional reserve banking should be outlawed, debtfree money should be issued by the Congress, solar technology, which was running factories 100 years ago, should be unsuppressed, natural healing should be unsuppressed, the truth should be unsuppressed, return of the media to the private sector-all of these and countless other issues can be addressed in the courtroom using The Weidner Method.

"According to history, when a nation is in transition from one form of government to a different type of government, as we are now making the transition from freedom to enslavement, there is a point in the struggle, a section of time, during which it could go either way. I believe we are presently teetering on that brink."

The method he has used for more than 20 years to help stop judicial corruption is outlined in his book and the major steps to follow, according to Weidner, are as follows:

Ask for permission to video the proceedings.

Use the Freedom Of Information Act to get your records. Anything with your name or your child's name on it belongs to you. (Gaston)

Bring crowds into the courtroom, the bigger the better.

Prep the crowd out in the corridor both to intimidate the guards and to focus the crowd's attention. Tell your supporters that when the judge tries to shut you down they should all say together, "Let him speak! Let him speak!" Remind everyone to pay attention in the courtroom. When they pay attention the guards back off. When they are distracted the guards move in.

Speak to the guards and police officers standing around. "Your guards know what's going on. These judges, attorneys and state agents are kidnapping these children, rigging elections." whatever your case is about.

Do not stand up for the judge if you know he is corrupt. Remain seated when he enters if you want to show that you know he is corrupt. Or, remain standing until he enters if you want to avoid making a show of respect.

Bring binoculars, opera glasses or telescopes into the courtroom to aim at the officers of the court for closer scrutiny, if possible. It intimidates them. (Editor)

Mentally discipline yourself not to think or react emotionally.

Make the record in the courtroom.

Stand up together as a group when the guards enter in a threatening manner. If the guards are threatening get their names.

Even if you lose, you win, because you are exposing the corruption. Exposure of their corruption and the rising up of the people is the only thing they fear.

Get your tapes of the proceedings from the clerk right away before you leave the courtroom so they won't be edited. (Gaston)

The worse that it is in the courtroom the better that it is because the story goes into the paper and people find out how horrible it was.

Every time a judge dismisses a case and you appeal it, file compulsory process into the Supreme Court and add his name to your racketeering complaint.

Publish the stories in the newspaper and in any other form of media possible.

Spread those papers around to every state office, every judge, attorney and govt. employee and the surrounding community to frighten the public officials and heighten public awareness. Don't forget the police and the courthouse guards.

Issue as many subpoenas as possible as often as possible. It makes them nervous.

Confront and loudly point out the crooks wherever and whenever you see them.

Do not hire an attorney. Be your own lawyer.

Don't give up. Be prepared for a long struggle. Once you begin you must keep the pressure on.

In brief, file a complaint, put it in the newspaper, come into court and make the record, prepare an affidavit, wait the 30 days, then come into the court and move for Summary Judgment.

Weidner is best known for helping Will and Pamela Gaston in their struggle to bring justice to Melissa Gaston, daughter of Will Gaston, who has been repeatedly abused by SOSCF officials, and others involved with her involuntary incarceration in the Oregon foster care system and adoption program.

"I am at war with this corruption", said Weidner. "As a lawyer and historian I am acutely aware that under our constitutional form of government the citizens are the sovereign political authority in this state and country.

"According to the Oregon Constitution and the U.S. Constitution before anything of value can be taken, by the courts in this state and county, from a sovereign citizen that citizen must be afforded "equal protection of law" and "due process of law." Due process being a fair hearing with an impartial judge."

Explaining the importance of following the impartial guidelines of the U.S. Constitution, he added:

"All individuals working for the government whether federal, state, or local, are public employees. If these employees are elected or given discretionary authority they are "public officials" who by law must take an oath of office to uphold and defend the state and federal constitution rights of the citizens of Oregon and the United States. Article 1 Sec. 1 of the Oregon Constitution provides: "We declare that all men, when they form a social compact are equal in right: that all power is inherent in the people, and all free governments are founded on their authority, and instituted for their peace, safety, and happiness; and they have at all times a right to alter, reform, or abolish the government in such manner as they may think proper."

"Article 1 Sec. 10 of the Oregon Constitution provides: "No court shall be secret, but justice shall be administered, openly and without purchase, completely and without delay, and every man shall have remedy by due course of law for injury done him in his person, property or reputation." The 5th Amendment to the US Constitution provides: "No person shall...be deprived of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law..." The 14th Amendment to the US Constitution provides: "...No State shall make or enforce any law which shall abridge the privileges or immunities of citizens of the United States; nor shall any State deprive any person of life, liberty, or property, without due process of law: nor deny to any person within its jurisdiction the equal protection of the laws."

Retired Air Force General Warns Another 'Terrorist Attack' On Horizon As Trotskyites Within Government On The Move To Destroy America
Gen. Ben Parton said America's only chance is for its people to take back the political process before the New World Order takes over.

28 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

A slow, meticulous and patient takeover of the United States is now under way by a group of Trotskyites embedded in the government using terrorism as a means of "fear and control," according to a retired Air Force General.

And the only way to defeat them, said Gen. Ben Parton, is to immediately take back the political process from the treasonous hijackers before it's too late and America is turned into a fascist state.

Gen. Parton added the insidious onslaught on freedom is well underway and the initial groundwork of "manipulation and takeover" is clearly visible with events like Ruby Ridge, Waco, Oklahoma City, the first WTC bombing and 911. And now Americans should brace themselves for bigger and more bloody terrorist acts, as the New World Order is not yet finished with its diabolical plan to destroy America from within.

Coming from a civilian these ominous sounding words may go in one ear and out the other. But coming from a General with more than 30 years of active service, the only real question remaining is not if but when the next 911 will take place?

"They are not finished with us yet and there will be another terrorist attack," said Gen. Parton in an interview this week on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal.

"The one thing that has to be clearly understood about those who have taken over our government and the governments of most every other country in the world is that they are very patient while calculating every move in order to eliminate any chance of failure."

Saying the U.S. government and its intelligence agencies have been infiltrated by New World Order minions and strategists, he warns America's only chance for survival is a quick takeover of the government, not a military coup or revolution as both will fail due to power structure set up by the enemy.

"It boils down to this: the American people need to take back the political process or the New World Order will succeed," added Gen. Parton.

The New World Order program, according to Gen. Parton, is nothing new and can be traced to the writings of Leon Trotsky in the 1928 Program of the Communist Third International.

He said the Trotsky plan has been adopted throughout the world, including by those now in command of the U.S., who are pushing the world towards a one world government, meaning the end of liberty, freedom and the American way.

"The complete New World Order plan was laid out in 1928 by Trotsky in the Program for of the Third International. However, it has been purposely hidden and rarely written about in the Western press, as part of the takeover of America includes a takeover of the free press, which, by the way, has already occurred," said Gen. Parton, adding the proven method of infiltration and takeover of the New World Order has taken place numerous times in other countries of the world with great success.

"Their success rate and proven method of methodically turning a country into a socialist state has almost never failed. Now it is happening here and Americans have to understand that their intention is to globalize the world and remove all freedoms under the U.S. Constitution."

Gen, Parton said Americans need to think of the New World Order program as if it were a well-orchestrated theatrical play with a pre-written script, being followed by the globalists as they march from country to country in their program for world domination.

"Their program has been documented, tested and now being used here," he said. "The globalists have openly said they wanted their plan in place by 2000, but admitted they have fallen behind. Ruby Ridge, Waco, the first WTC bombing and 911 were all geared to orchestrate the eventual changeover of America to be just one more of their global states included in their concept of a one world government."

Gen. Parton said anyone interested in learning about the New World Order Program, as scripted by Trotsky and adopted as the hidden U.S. political agenda, can find it easily by looking up the Program of the Third International.

According to the Leon Trotsky Internet Archive, transcribed by Sally Ryan in 1997 and updated by David Walters in 2003, Trotsky wrote the two documents that comprise The Third International After Lenin in 1928, while involuntarily exiled in Alma Ata.

The text editors went on to say:

"The documents were meant to be used for discussion at the Sixth World Congress of the Communist International. Trotsky's work-a sharp criticism against the opposing program supporting "socialism in one country"-was never distributed to or discussed by the main body at the Congress. The parts of it made available to a committee, but then recalled, were smuggled out of the country by James Cannon, a delegate and founding member of the Communist Party in the United States.

"Cannon-subsequently expelled from the CP-and his supporters formed a Trotskyist organization Communist League and first published his smuggled sections in their newspaper, The Militant. Shortly thereafter, it was published in book form. In the introduction to the first edition, (1929) Cannon wrote, "The publication of this masterpiece of Bolshevik literature, written by the foremost living leader of world communism at the height of his powers, is a revolutionary event of great importance....".

The on-line version of The Third International After Lenin - "The Draft Program of the Communist International: A Criticism of Fundamentals" and Trotsky's letter "What Now"-has been divided into fourteen sections of approximately equal lengths and can be found at <http://www.marxists.org/archive/trotsky/works/1928-3rd/index.htm>.

In a section of the document called "The General Structure of the Program", the need to develop a communist international movement becomes quite clear. Although laced in political rhetoric and high-brow ideology, its clear intent is to form a one world order under a communist-based system where freedom and capitalism just don't fit in.

"The international program must proceed directly from an analysis of the conditions and tendencies of world economy and of the world political system taken as a whole in all its connections and contradictions, that is, with the mutually antagonistic interdependence of its separate parts.

"Linking up countries and continents that stand on different levels of development into a system of mutual dependence and antagonism, leveling out the various stages of their development and at the same time immediately enhancing the differences between them, and ruthlessly counter-posing one country to another, world economy has become a mighty reality which holds sway over the economic life of individual countries and continents.

"In the first place, it would have been more correct to say that the entire history of mankind is governed by the law of uneven development. Capitalism finds various sections of mankind at different stages of development, each with its profound internal contradictions.

"The extreme diversity in the levels attained, and the extraordinary unevenness in the rate of development of the different sections of mankind during the various epochs, serve as the starting point of capitalism. Capitalism gains mastery only gradually over the inherited unevenness, breaking and altering it, employing therein its own means and methods.

"In contrast to the economic systems which preceded it, capitalism inherently and constantly aims at economic expansion, at the penetration of new territories, the surmounting of economic differences, the conversion of self-sufficient provincial and national economies into a system of financial interrelationships.

"Thereby it brings about their rapprochement and equalizes the economic and cultural levels of the most progressive and the most backward countries. Without this main process, it would be impossible to conceive of the relative leveling out, first, of Europe with Great Britain, and then, of America with Europe; the industrialization of the colonies, the diminishing gap between India and Great Britain, and all the consequences arising from the enumerated processes upon which is based not only the program of the Communist International but also its very existence."

Former White House Chief Of Staff Andy Card's Cousin Jailed For Making Case Iraq Was "No Threat And Invasion Was Illegal."

Susan Lindauer, a journalist and former Congressional aide, held in federal correctional facility six months for psychiatric evaluation after bogus espionage charges dropped. Lindauer told Bush officials, including Card, Iraq was no threat according to her intelligence sources, but became target herself.

27 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The story of another American political prisoner needs to be told, a story about journalist Susan Lindauer illegally jailed and placed under psychiatric evaluation for urging the U.S. government not to attack Iraq since it had no weapons of mass destruction.

As bizarre as it sounds, it's true according to Mark Bilk, J. Buford Fields and Janet Phelan, three concerned citizens and activists trying to get Lindauer released from a federal correctional center.

Lindauer, 42, an ex-Seattle Post-Intelligencer reporter, former U.S. Congressional aide and a cousin of White House Chief of Staff, Andrew Card, was charged in March 2004 with espionage for conspiring to act as a spy and being an unregistered Iraqi agent.

Although the espionage charge has since been dropped, U.S. prosecutors originally alleged the antiwar activist accepted $10,000 from Hussein's intelligence unit over five years and sought to support resistance groups after the U.S. invasion of Iraq.

Lindauer always had categorically denied accepting Iraqi money, saying she was framed for wanting to go public about sensitive information she possessed about the illegal Iraqi invasion, as well as information she was going to publish clearly demonstrating that Pan Am Flight 103 was an inside government job and blown up over Lockerbie, Scotland, by Syrians, not Libyans as the U.S. insists.

Lindauer has recently been charged with posing as an unregistered lobbyist, but jailed six months ago even though she has not been convicted of a crime, technically being held for psychiatric observation.

Although the Arctic Beacon has tried to interview Lindauer this week, federal authorities are not allowing her to talk to the media, as she remains essentially a political prisoner, according to the trio of activists fighting for her release, at MCC NEW YORK METROPOLITAN CORRECTIONAL CENTER, 150 PARK ROW, NEW YORK, NY under the inmate number of 56064-054.

"She's been imprisoned by the federal government for six months for psychiatric evaluation, despite the fact that she was found to be quite sane by a court-appointed psychiatrist who had many sessions with her before her imprisonment," said Bilk Wednesday on Greg Szymanski's popular radio show, The Investigative Journal, making a case for Lindauer's immediate release.

"We are urgently seeking legal representation for Susan Lindauer, a journalist who met with some Iraqis associated with the UN delegation, and then through her cousin Andrew Card, the White House Chief of Staff, urged the U.S. government not to attack Iraq since it had no weapons of mass destruction.

"She has not been tried, much less convicted of a crime. She's now being held in a New York City federal prison. She's scheduled for a hearing as early as May 2, next week, to determine whether she should be forcibly drugged."

The trio of activists finally decided to take to the airwaves on Szymanski's radio show after becoming frustrated with the mainstream media who has ignored the case, downplaying its importance.

Lindauer has been jailed since last October for psychiatric evaluation despite the fact she was found mentally competent by a court-appointed psychiatrist who evaluated Lindauer numerous times before her imprisonment.

She is scheduled for a May 4 competency hearing in a New York courtroom and Bilk and the others fear she'll be "locked away as insane" to avoid a trial or public debate on the charges. Further, the hearing is being held to determine if the state will be allowed to forcibly continue administering drugs without her consent.

"I think our only hope is to find a good lawyer before the hearing," added Bilk.

Janet Phelan, a journalist who became aware of the Lindauer's struggles, alerting both Bilk and Fields to her political persecution, said Lindauer was trying to use her intelligence sources to warn government officials the Iraqi War was wrong, but it backfired when forces inside the government turned their attack on her.

"Now they want to label her mentally incompetent in order to discredit her," said Phelan on the Investigative Journal radio broadcast.

Besides the Iraqi connection regarding sensitive WMD information and her family ties to the White House Chief of Staff, Lindauer became embroiled with former CIA agent. Dr. Richard Fuisz, who claimed Libya was not responsible for the Lockerbie bombing.

In 2000, a gag order was placed on Dr. Fuisz by the U.S. government under state secrecy laws, facing 10 years in prison if he revealed any information about the terrorist attack.

According to a Sunday Herald article one month before a court order was served on him by the US government gagging him from speaking on the grounds of national security, he spoke to US congressional aide Susan Lindauer, telling her he knew the identities of the Lockerbie bombers and claiming they were not Libyan.

The 2000 article, appearing in London but not here, went on to say:

"In her affidavit, she goes on: "DrFuisz has told me that he can identify who orchestrated and executed the bombing. Dr Fuisz has said that he can confirm absolutely that no Libyan national was involved in planning or executing the bombing of Pan Am 103, either in any technical or advisory capacity whatsoever."

"Fuisz's statements to Lindauer support the claims of the two Libyan accused who are to incriminate a number of terrorist organisations, including the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine-General Command, which had strong links to Syria and Iran."

The article went on to say that Lindauer said Fuisz told her he could provide information on Middle Eastern terrorists, and referred to Lockerbie as an "example of an unsolved bombing case that he said he has the immediate capability to resolve".

Lindauer also said that Fuisz told her CIA staff had destroyed reports he sent them on Lockerbie. Lindauer also refers in her affidavit to speculation that the USA shifted any connection to Lockerbie away from Syria to Libya in return for its support during the Gulf war.

"She added that Fuisz told her: "If the [US] government would let me, I could identify the men behind this attack today. I could do the right thing ... I could go into any crowded restaurant and pick out these men ... I can tell you their home addresses ... You won't find [them] anywhere in Libya. You will only find [them] in Damascus. I was investigating on the ground and I know."

Regarding her recent connections leading to espionage charges in conspiring with Iraqi terrorists, a charge since dropped, J. Fields who is helping to get Lindauer set free said her publicly defender has "failed to mount any serious defense."

Writing on a web site compiling a case on her behalf at www.radio4houston.com/Lindauer Fields added:

"Susan is not charged with espionage or treason. She is charged with being an unregistered lobbyist, and the Justice Department flowered up the indictment. They alleged that she conspired with the sons of the Iraq diplomat representing Iraq in weapons inspection talks. Those sons were not convicted of anything, but were shipped out of the country on immigration charges. Susan's attorney, I'm told, has no depositions even from them, and he had plenty of time to get the job done before they were deported.

"Susan has witnesses who know her thoughts during the FBI's attempted counter intelligence sting operation. She told the FBI agent that she knew he was no intelligence officer from Libya, and said same to Park Godfrey, an IT professor who now lives in Toronto, who boarded with her at the time. This is one of her witnesses that her lawyer has refused to interview.

"Her lawyer wants to claim in court that Susan's insistence that she was trying to work as an asset (or was doing so) for American intelligence agencies is delusional. Unfortunately for him, Susan's connections were well documented by the Scottish court during the Lockerbie trial, where it seems our government, or at least its political leadership, was so eager to not look impotent that they knowingly prosecuted Libyans instead of the Syrians who Susan claimed Dr. Fuisz, reportedly the former Syria CIA station chief, told Susan he knew had planned and executed it. Susan provided a deposition to the court, and it is in the Scottish press and court documents, the PDF of the CIA's letter, not equivocating about Dr. Fuisz's employment status one bit, but releasing him from his oath of silence in that matter.

"From my point of view, Susan told anybody she could what she was up to. Given the notorious lack of human intelligence assets in Iraq, it seems to me that the likelihood that the CIA was ignorant of what Andy Card's cousin was up to, is very unlikely. The fact that she did have access to senior diplomats, and the fact that she was Andy Card's cousin all fits pretty well to argue against delusion. With such access and connections, any peace activist might feel compelled to engage.

"Susan's Psychiatric records during pre-trial counseling are posted on the website. You will see that the doctor directly addresses the question of psychosis and finds contrary to what her lawyer and the prosecution are alleging."

No Evidence of Jesuit Blood Oath At Recent Installation Of Wisconsin Provincial Head

Jesuits firmly deny Blood Oath exists, but text in 1913 U.S. Congressional Record says otherwise.
26 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

When a Jesuit priest is elevated to a position of high command, he is administered what is called the Jesuit Extreme Oath of Induction. This oath has been called the Fourth Vow or the Blood Oath, given to those in the Society of Jesus besides the traditional vows of poverty, chastity and obedience.

The existence of the Blood Oath has always been categorically denied by the Jesuits. And when this question was recently put to priests, brothers or lay spokesmen in five out of the 10 Jesuit Provincials in the United States, the existence of it was firmly denied, many saying they never heard anything about it.

Although the Blood Oath ceremony, as recounted by several former Jesuit priests including the late Father Alberto Rivera, is supposedly steeped in pagan rituals, one common element found is only three others are present for the ceremony, including the Superior or Jesuit General.

The other two are monks or priests present flank the Superior with one holding a banner with the papal colors of yellow and white and the other a black banner with a dagger and a red cross above a skull and bones crossbones. On the black banner is the word INRI and below it the words IUSTUM NECAR REGES IMPIUS, meaning to exterminate or annihilate impious or heretical Kings, Governments, or Rulers.

In June 2005, Fr. Thomas Krettek, SJ was installed as the Wisconsin Province Society of Jesus provincial head during a Mass of Installation at Milwaukee's Church of the Gesu. Present at the Mass were three Jesuits, Fr. Jim Grummer, SJ, outgoing provincial, Fr. Del Skillingstad, SJ and Fr. Krettek.

After Fr. Krettek's appointment, Fr. Grummer was subsequently appointed the new regional assistant for the U.S. Assistancy and general counselor, succeeding Fr. Frank Case, SJ. by Jesuit General Fr. Peter Hans Kolvenbach who resides in Rome.

The General Council is composed of 12 men, 10 of whom are regional assistants who serve as liaisons to the various Jesuit entities in the region. Fr. Grummer's now includes the U.S. and various countries such as Belize, Jamaica, and Micronesia, which are either a part of or dependent upon an American province.

"I am grateful for the opportunity to serve the Church and the Society of Jesus in this new job. I look forward to helping Father General in whatever ways I can assist him in promoting the mission of the Society of Jesus," said Fr. Grummer after the ceremony appointing Fr. Krettek as the head of the Wisconsin Provincial.

But the question looms: Did the Blood Oath in Milwaukee last June along with the two other priests acting as the monks holding the banners?

The communication director for the Wisconsin Provincial this week said Fr. Kolvenbach never attended the ceremony and he was unaware of any Blood Oath ceremony existing in the Jesuit Order..

Although there was no evidence the Blood Oath took place in Milwaukee, there is substantial evidence in the United States Congressional Record of its existence.

The text of the Jesuit Extreme Oath of Induction is meticulously recorded in the Journals of the 62nd Congress, 3rd Session, of the United States Congressional Record (House Calendar No. 397, Report No. 1523, 15 February, 1913, pp. 3215-3216).

However, without explanation, the text was subsequently torn out of the Congressional Record, but not before it was copied word for word by several researchers, including Ian Paisley for the European Institute of Protestant Studies.

According to Paisley, the Blood Oath was also quoted by Charles Didier in his book Subterranean Rome (New York, 1843), translated from the French original. And Fr. Alberto Rivera, who escaped from the Jesuit Order in 1967 and died under suspicious circumstances in 1997, confirmed before his untimely death that the induction ceremony and the text of the Jesuit Oath were identical to what appeared in the 1913 Congressional Record.

Before the Blood Oath is administered, Paisley painted a dark picture of the private chapel where the ceremony takes place, as recounted in Didier's book and Fr. Rivera's recollections:

"When a Jesuit of the minor rank is to be elevated to command," said Paisley, "he is conducted into the Chapel of the Convent of the Order, where there are only three others present, the principal or Superior standing in front of the altar. On either side stands a monk, one of whom holds a banner of yellow and white, which are the Papal colors, and the other a black banner with a dagger and red cross above a skull and crossbones, with the word INRI, and below them the words IUSTUM NECAR REGES IMPIUS. The meaning of which is: It is just to exterminate or annihilate impious or heretical Kings, Governments, or Rulers.

"Upon the floor is a red cross at which the postulant or candidate kneels. The Superior hands him a small black crucifix, which he takes in his left hand and presses to his heart, and the Superior at the same time presents to him a dagger, which he grasps by the blade and holds the point against his heart, the Superior still holding it by the hilt, and thus addresses the postulant."

At this point, the Jesuit General-Superior Speaks and the Blood Oath is administered. The following is a copy of the text of the Oath as it appeared in the 1913 Congressional Record: (Note: If anyone has any doubts that Jesuits aren't trained to be the ultimate deceivers and chameleons, the following words should erase all doubts.)

(The Superior speaks:)

My son, heretofore you have been taught to act the dissembler: among Roman Catholics to be a Roman Catholic, and to be a spy even among your own brethren; to believe no man, to trust no man. Among the Reformers, to be a Reformer; among the Huguenots, to be a Huguenot; among the Calvinists, to be a Calvinist; among other Protestants, generally to be a Protestant; and obtaining their confidence, to seek even to preach from their pulpits, and to denounce with all the vehemence in your nature our Holy Religion and the Pope; and even to descend so low as to become a Jew among Jews, that you might be enabled to gather together all information for the benefit of your Order as a faithful soldier of the Pope. You have been taught to plant insidiously the seeds of jealousy and hatred between communities, provinces, states that were at peace, and to incite them to deeds of blood, involving them in war with each other, and to create revolutions and civil wars in countries that were independent and prosperous, cultivating the arts and the sciences and enjoying the blessings of peace; to take sides with the combatants and to act secretly with your brother Jesuit, who might be engaged on the other side, but openly opposed to that with which you might be connected, only that the Church might be the gainer in the end, in the conditions fixed in the treaties for peace and that the end justifies the means. You have been taught your duty as a spy, to gather all statistics, facts and information in your power from every source; to ingratiate yourself into the confidence of the family circle of Protestants and heretics of every class and character, as well as that of the merchant, the banker, the lawyer, among the schools and universities, in parliaments and legislatures, and the judiciaries and councils of state, and to be all things to all men, for the Pope's sake, whose servants we are unto death. You have received all your instructions heretofore as a novice, a neophyte, and have served as co-adjurer, confessor and priest, but you have not yet been invested with all that is necessary to command in the Army of Loyola in the service of the Pope. You must serve the proper time as the instrument and executioner as directed by your superiors; for none can command here who has not consecrated his labours with the blood of the heretic; for "without the shedding of blood no man can be saved". Therefore, to fit yourself for your work and make your own salvation sure, you will, in addition to your former oath of obedience to your order and allegiance to the Pope, repeat after me:

(Text of the Oath:)

I _____, now in the presence of Almighty God, the blessed Virgin Mary, the blessed St. John the Baptist, the Holy Apostles, St. Peter and St. Paul, and all the saints, sacred host of Heaven, and to you, my Ghostly Father, the superior general of the Society of Jesus, founded by St. Ignatius Loyola, in the pontification of Paul the Third, and continued to the present, do by the womb of the Virgin, the matrix of God, and the rod of Jesus Christ, declare and swear that His Holiness, the Pope, is Christ's Vice-Regent and is the true and only head of the Catholic or Universal Church throughout the earth; and that by the virtue of the keys of binding and loosing given to His Holiness by my Saviour, Jesus Christ, he hath power to depose heretical Kings, Princes, States, Commonwealths, and Governments, and they may be safely destroyed. Therefore to the utmost of my power I will defend this doctrine and His Holiness's right and custom against all usurpers of the heretical or Protestant authority whatever, especially the Lutheran Church of Germany, Holland, Denmark, Sweden and Norway, and the now pretended authority and Churches of England and Scotland, and the branches of same now established in Ireland and on the continent of America and elsewhere and all adherents in regard that they may be usurped and heretical, opposing the sacred Mother Church of Rome. I do now denounce and disown any allegiance as due to any heretical king, prince or State, named Protestant or Liberal, or obedience to any of their laws, magistrates or officers. I do further declare the doctrine of the Churches of England and Scotland of the Calvinists, Huguenots, and others of the name of Protestants or Masons to be damnable, and they themselves to be damned who will not forsake the same. I do further declare that I will help, assist, and advise all or any of His Holiness's agents, in any place where I should be, in Switzerland, Germany, Holland, Ireland or America, or in any other kingdom or territory I shall come to, and do my utmost to extirpate the heretical Protestant or Masonic doctrines and to destroy all their pretended powers, legal or otherwise. I do further promise and declare that, notwithstanding, I am dispensed with to assume any religion heretical for the propagation of the Mother Church's interest; to keep secret and private all her agents' counsels from time to time, as they entrust me, and not to divulge, directly or indirectly, by word, writing or circumstances whatever; but to execute all that should be proposed, given in charge, or discovered unto me by you, my Ghostly Father, or any of this sacred order. I do further promise and declare that I will have no opinion or will of my own or any mental reservation whatever, even as a corpse or cadaver (perinde ac cadaver), but will unhesitatingly obey each and every command that I may receive from my superiors in the militia of the Pope and of Jesus Christ. That I will go to any part of the world whithersoever I may be sent, to the frozen regions north, jungles of India, to the centers of civilization of Europe, or to the wild haunts of the barbarous savages of America without murmuring or repining, and will be submissive in all things, whatsoever is communicated to me. I do further promise and declare that I will, when opportunity presents, make and wage relentless war, secretly and openly, against all heretics, Protestants and Masons, as I am directed to do, to extirpate them from the face of the whole earth; and that I will spare neither age, sex nor condition, and that will hang, burn, waste, boil, flay, strangle, and bury alive these infamous heretics; rip up the stomachs and wombs of their women, and crush their infants' heads against the walls in order to annihilate their execrable race. That when the same cannot be done openly I will secretly use the poisonous cup, the strangulation cord, the steel of the poniard, or the leaden bullet, regardless of the honour, rank, dignity or authority of the persons, whatever may be their condition in life, either public or private, as I at any time may be directed so to do by any agents of the Pope or Superior of the Brotherhood of the Holy Father of the Society of Jesus. In confirmation of which I hereby dedicate my life, soul, and all corporal powers, and with the dagger which I now receive I will subscribe my name written in my blood in testimony thereof; and should I prove false, or weaken in my determination, may my brethren and fellow soldiers of the militia of the Pope cut off my hands and feet and my throat from ear to ear, my belly be opened and sulphur burned therein with all the punishment that can be inflicted upon me on earth, and my soul shall be tortured by demons in eternal hell forever. That I will in voting always vote for a Knight of Columbus in preference to a Protestant, especially a Mason, and that I will leave my party so to do; that if two Catholics are on the ticket I will satisfy myself which is the better supporter of Mother Church and vote accordingly. That I will not deal with or employ a Protestant if in my power to deal with or employ a Catholic. That I will place Catholic girls in Protestant families that a weekly report may be made of the inner movements of the heretics. That I will provide myself with arms and ammunition that I may be in readiness when the word is passed, or I am commanded to defend the Church either as an individual or with the militia of the Pope. All of which I, _____, do swear by the blessed Trinity and blessed sacrament which I am now to receive to perform and on part to keep this my oath. In testimony hereof, I take this most holy and blessed sacrament of the Eucharist and witness the same further with my name written with the point of this dagger dipped in my own blood and seal in the face of this holy sacrament.

(He receives the wafer from the Superior and writes his name with the point of his dagger dipped in his own blood taken from over his heart.)

(Superior speaks:)

*You will now rise to your feet and I will instruct you in the Catechism necessary to make yourself known to any member of the Society of Jesus belonging to this rank. In the first place, you, as a Brother Jesuit, will with another mutually make the ordinary sign of the cross as any ordinary Roman Catholic would; then one crosses his wrists, the palms of his hands open, and the other in answer crosses his feet, one above the other; the first points with forefinger of the right hand to the centre of the palm of the left, the other with the forefinger of the left hand points to the centre of the palm of the right; the first then with his right hand makes a circle around his head, touching it; the other then with the forefinger of his left hand touches the left side of his body just below his heart; the first then with his right hand draws it across the throat of the other, and the latter then with a dagger down the stomach and abdomen of the first. The first then says Iustum; and the other answers Necar; the first Reges; the other answers Impious. The first will then present a small piece of paper folded in a peculiar manner, four times, which the other will cut longitudinally and on opening the name Jesu will be found written upon the head and arms of a cross three times. You will then give and receive with him the following questions and answers:*

From whither do you come? Answer: The Holy faith.

Whom do you serve? Answer: The Holy Father at Rome, the Pope, and the Roman Catholic Church Universal throughout the world.

Who commands you? Answer: The Successor of St. Ignatius Loyola, the founder of the Society of Jesus or the Soldiers of Jesus Christ.

Who received you? Answer: A venerable man in white hair.

How? Answer: With a naked dagger, I kneeling upon the cross beneath the banners of the Pope and of our sacred order.

Did you take an oath? Answer: I did, to destroy heretics and their governments and rulers, and to spare neither age, nor sex, nor condition; to be as a corpse without any opinion or will of my own, but to implicitly obey my Superiors in all things without hesitation or murmuring.

Will you do that? Answer: I will.

How do you travel? Answer: In the bark of Peter the fisherman.

Whither do you travel? Answer: To the four quarters of the globe.

For what purpose? Answer: To obey the orders of my General and Superiors and execute the will of the Pope and faithfully fulfil the conditions of my oaths.

Go ye, then, into all the world and take possession of all lands in the name of the Pope. He who will not accept him as the Vicar of Jesus and his Vice-Regent on earth, let him be accursed and exterminated.

Vatican In Possession Of Top Secret CIA Documents About Nuclear Weapons Programs, According To Discovery Made Recently In Northern California Federal Court Case Involving Vatican Bank

Experts were shaking their heads over the shocking discovery, as Church critics were questioning what the Vatican was doing with sensitive CIA documents ultimately involved in protecting national security interests of the United States.

25 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

What really goes on in the underground catacombs of the Vatican has always been a deep, dark mystery. Over the years, disenchanted priests and unwilling eye witnesses have come forward with horrific tales of child sacrificing.

But now according to an explosive CIA document - never before made public - top Church officials have also been hiding under their black robes sensitive secret documents about high-powered rockets, atomic energy and nuclear weapons.

A top secret 1947 CIA document, never declassified, surfaced last week during a deposition in the case of Alperin v. Vatican Bank. The case filed on behalf of Emil Alperin and others against the Vatican Bank aka Institute of Religious Works (IOR) in the United States District Court for Northern California deals with an accounting of World War II assets allegedly looted by Church officials from Yugoslavia.

Although the case is "strange enough," according to court observers, as the trail of numerous illegal Vatican bank accounts is like following a winding river to hell, experts left the deposition in Northern California last week shaking their heads in disbelief over the startling discovery of sensitive CIA national U.S. national security documents in the hands of the Vatican hierarchy.

It has long been theorized that the Vatican has held knowledge of atomic secrets, but this report now raises serious questions that the Vatican hierarchy may play a key role in manipulating and guiding the outcome of world affairs.

According to a source close to the federal court case, the CIA document obtained from an internal Vatican source specifically detailed the "Secret Scientific Axis" as it existed in 1947.

The document classified "Secret," apparently never declassified by the U.S. government, came from the files of X2 in Rome, a secret code name for the infamous CIA spook, James Jesus Angleton, who later became CIA Chief of Counter Intelligence.

Angleton resigned from the CIA in disgrace in 1974 after his domestic spying came to light. And according to a source close to the case, how the Vatican Bank came into possession of the document is still unclear.

The 1947 document describes an investigation of certain Italian fascists termed the "Secret Scientific Axis" by Angleton. These Italians including a priest, Fr. Eusebio Zappaterreni, held Third Reich secrets about V1, V2, and V3 rockets, atomic energy and nuclear weapons.

The ultimate outcome of the investigation into the newly discovered CIA documents is unknown, but it provided further fuel to the fire that the Vatican has had more than just a passing interest in nuclear weapons.

Researchers and writers, Barry Chamish and Eric Phelps, have both insisted for years that the Vatican has been in possession of nuclear secrets, acting as a war promoter instead of peacemaker.

The documents and the Vatican's close association with Angleton, according to critics, serve as another clear example how Church officials have always attempted to control and manipulate world affairs.

The story of Angleton is well known, but the CIA recruited him shortly after its formation, and he continued his counter-intelligence activities there, first returning to Rome and his previous counter-intelligence position, where the knowledge of cryptography he had obtained from MkUltra is said to have served him well. He turned his attentions to the KGB and the Soviet nuclear weapons program with its probable reliance on technology leaked from the American Manhattan Project.

According to a short summary that follows of his activities in Wikipedia, further details about Angleton's connection with the Vatican are not indicated, but the possession of the nuclear weaponry documents may show the Vatican either using or working with Angleton to play both sides against the middle.

"Some of this information and subsequent leaks which helped the Soviets develop the hydrogen bomb were made by way of Donald Duart Maclean, with whom Angleton would have been acquainted from his ties to MI5 and whom Philby, in his capacity as counter-intelligence lead for the British embassy in Washington, DC, assisted in escaping capture by the Americans and British by facilitating Maclean's defection to the USSR. It is likely that Angleton came to suspect Philby's allegiances in this period, even as the two maintained a regular lunch date. Maclean's espionage and defection effectively ended Philby's regular career in MI6 just as he was thought to be in line to become its director.

"The efforts of Angleton and his CI staff also led to the discovery of a Soviet mole in the National Security Agency in the person of Jack Dunlap. Some alleged that Angleton orchestrated Dunlap's death.

"Dunlap, an employee of the NSA, was found dead of carbon monoxide poisoning in an apparent suicide. He also was a Soviet penetration agent, who had concealed in the attic of his house a treasure trove of sealed packets of classified NSA documents bearing on its most secret deciphering and interception operation. There were many reasons why it would have been inconvenient to arrest and try Jack Dunlap. For one thing, he was a liaison with "Staff D" in the CIA, and could expose areas of CIA-NSA cooperation in domestic interceptions that might be deemed illegal.

"Beginning in 1951 Angleton was responsible for cooperation with Israel's Mossad and Shin Bet agencies, a relationship he managed closely for virtually the remainder of his career. It has been claimed that, in this capacity, Angleton directed CIA assistance to the Israeli nuclear weapons program.

"In 1954 Allen Dulles, who had recently become Director of Central Intelligence, named Angleton head of the Counterintelligence Staff, a position he retained for the rest of his CIA career. Dulles also assigned him responsibility for coordination with allied intelligence services.

"He came to public attention in the United States when the Church Commission, formally known as the Senate Select Committee to Study Governmental Operations with Respect to Intelligence Activities), following up on the Warren Commission, probed the CIA for information about the Kennedy assassination. The Nosenko episode does not appear to have shaken Angleton's faith in Golitsyn, although Helms and J. Edgar Hoover took the contrary position. Hoover's objections are said to have been so vehement as to curtail severely counterintelligence cooperation between the FBI and CIA for the remainder of Hoover's service as the FBI's director.

"As Golitsyn helped Angleton identify sections within the Soviet Russian Division that were leaking information to the Soviets, Angleton pressed Golitsyn on the KGB technique and strategy for planting information at the CIA. Golitsyn's indication was that the KGB was orchestrating a larger campaign to understand how the CIA analyzed information, supporting a larger goal of a capability to manipulate the CIA unwittingly to assist the KGB in their objectives.

Do You Suffer From Post Traumatic Freemason Syndrome? If You Do, Don't Read Any Further As You Will Only Get Worse!

Why do all Masonic Lodges look like Count Dracula's castle? And those pictures and symbols on the wall! My God! Maybe ask him what they really mean?

24 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

When publishing a small newspaper more than a decade ago, I was invited into a Masonic Lodge.

Upon entering what looked like a replica of Count Dracula's castle, it immediately gave me the creeps, giving me this distinct feeling like something ain't right here.

I'm not one who likes to go to art galleries, so I didn't pay much attention to the creepy pictures and symbols on the wall. And as far as the people, they all looked like boring, close-minded White guys, giving me the impression if I said anything remotely intelligent, they'd never speak to me again even in the grocery store.

So I said hello and goodbye, high-tailing it back to my newspaper office after telling them I couldn't join since I was Catholic and could be excommunicated under Canon Law 2335.

And as I sat at my rather modest publisher's desk, dreaming of taking over the entire world's communication network, I thought if the top Bishops, Archbishops and Cardinals in the Catholic Church could be involved in devil worshipping Freemasonry, why not I?

I remembered the story of how 125 prelates in 1976 were exposed as being a part of the Luciferian Freemason sect in an article appearing in Rome in a magazine called the Borghese. The article rocked St Peter's statue right off the Vatican roof, but nothing ever came of the allegations, as the priests were let off the hook.

A couple years later Pope John Paul I was going to make a big deal over the Masonic issue, but he was immediately poisoned by the Vatican's assassination unit, most likely killed on the orders of some creepy Jesuits hiding underneath some Church pews.

Of course, that can't be verified, but as they say "sue me" or may I be struck by lightning for not obeying the Black Pope's orders to never say anything bad about his beloved thieving, robbing and murdering Jesuits.

Now, for the record, I am only saying that because that's what the history books claim they did in the old days when the Pope used them as the military arm of the Vatican to kill those who opposed the power of the Church.

But, as for today, who knows what they do, as they keep a very low profile and never really answer any questions about their real power in the Vatican and around the world.

So, here I am back at my office, thinking if I join the Freemasons, I'll become a devil worshipper since I am very impressionable and if I stay a Catholic, I'll probably be killed one day by the Jesuits because, as a journalist, I am very nosy and prone to looking under every rock where all the bones are buried.

As I was obviously now behind the proverbial rock and a hard place, I decided to forget about joining any groups, as it is much more fun to go crazy talking to oneself than going crazy with a bunch of other lunatics.

So as crazy as it sounds and as financially devastating as it might be, I still can't get the Jesuits or the Freemasons off my mind. They are stuck to my writing pen like a bad dream. I am even thinking of naming my next dog after the Black Pope and if I get a fourth dog, I'll name that one after the leader of the Freemasons.

But who is the leader of the Freemasons? Is there one? Is there two? And if there's none, I'll just name the fourth dog Lucy or Luke after 'you know who' real leader.

As everyone can tell by now, this obsession can be maddening. In fact, last week was no different, as Freemasons and Jesuits were falling off trees and coming out of the woodwork. I was compelled by forces unknown to write another story, listing the Bishops and Cardinals in the 1976 Borghese article who were members of the Luciferian worshipping Freemasons.

The article appeared all over the place, including www.rense.com, a very popular web site. The article then immediately brought out another Mason from the Apollo Lodge, who ripped me a new 'you know what' for having the audacity to ever suggest that the devil's in the details when it comes to the good boys at the Lodge.

He then challenged me to a debate, so I posted a response. But just so everyone knows what I put up with, being a sufferer of post-traumatic Freemason-Jesuit syndrome, here is the Mason's letter, saying I defamed him and all his buddies, as well as my response and some emails, commenting on my response to his response. It never ends, does it!

Defamation Of Masonry -
Reply To Greg Szymanski
By Mark Waldron

This letter is about a regular contributor to Rense.com, Greg Szymanski, and his ongoing and tireless condemnations of Freemasonry. He has referred to Masonry as Satanic, as being behind the New World Order, as being engaged in a concerted effort to undermine the Catholic Church, and a host of other charges of various crimes and offenses against the public good. By an odd coincidence, he does not provide one shred of proof or even evidence of any of his assertions....or, one might more accurately state, delusions.

You see, Jeff, I'm a Mason. I also read Rense.com every day. And while I appreciate most of what you carry on your site, I find Szymanski's rants -- because that is what they are; they certainly do not resemble anything that could be called scholarship -- highly offensive. They are also completely baseless.

I realize your site is dedicated to showing viewpoints that would not make it into the corporate media, and I respect that. But there is also such a thing as basic civility and fairness, both of which are lacking in Szymanski's fevered diatribes. I would like to propose to you an open, honest debate about Masonry between Szymanski and myself through your site. I doubt that Szymanski knows what an open, honest debate is, as he has grown accustomed to spewing the most outrageous claims without anyone calling him on his libel. I also doubt he has the cajones to engage in such a dialogue. But I am willing to try, either in the form of an ongoing series of article exchanges on Rense.com, or through a live debate on your radio program.

Since Szymanski is apparently such an authority on Masonry, I wonder why he never bothers to mention any actual Masonic practices or rituals, or anything regarding the way Masonry is organized. Since he doesn't appear to feel a need to get bogged down in silly little technical details like 'history' or 'reality' or 'sanity' I thought you might like to be given some basic data on how real Masonry (as opposed to Szymanski's raving delusional fantasy Masonry) is organized. The basic organizational unit of Masonry is the lodge; this is the form it takes on the local level, as shown by the many thousands of Masonic lodges that are all over this country, even in small, out-of-the-way towns (which, by the way, requires that a huge number of ordinary Americans actually be evil Satanic thugs, if Szymanski's take on the Craft were to have any validity). Three or more lodges can group together and form a Grand Lodge, which has jurisdiction over those lodges in matters of Masonic practices. In most countries there is one Grand Lodge for the whole country, or at least one Grand Lodge recognized as such by the United Grand Lodge of England, which is the parent body of all Masonry in the world today. I should mention here that 'recognition' does not imply jurisdiction; the United Grand Lodge of England does not rule over any other Grand Lodge. Similarly, each Grand Lodge is a completely autonomous and self-contained entity, though fraternal relations exist between most of them and a Mason under one Grand Lodge can generally visit lodges that are under the jurisdiction of another Grand Lodge than his.

In the United States, there is a separate Grand Lodge for each state, a relic of the time when each state was considered an autonomous sovereign country. That makes fifty Grand Lodges in the United States...or fifty-one, since the District of Columbia has its own Grand Lodge. To make matters more complex, because of past racial prejudice in this country a completely separate form of Masonry, called Prince Hall Masonry, exists in this country. It is made up of blacks who were barred from being Masons in past times... though unfortunately this tradition of Masonic prejudice continues in the Grand Lodges of the Bible Belt (as you can see, I don't cover up distasteful Masonic practices where such actually do exist). There is thus also a Prince Hall Grand Lodge for each state (and, again, the District of Columbia). What all this adds up to is that there are no fewer than one hundred and two entirely separate and autonomous Grand Lodges operating in the United States. Thus, far from being a vast monolithic hierarchy with sinister tendrils extending all through the modern world, Masonry is actually probably the most decentralized organization you will ever see.

It is also run quite democratically, as the officers of a lodge (who typically only serve for a single year) are elected by lodge members, and new additions to the bylaws for a Grand Lodge have to be voted on by the various lodges that operate under that Grand Lodge's jurisdiction. Masonry's structure is not authoritarian in the least. One must also be a law-abiding citizen to join and remain a brother, as well as hold a belief in a Supreme Being.

Every Grand Lodge in this country, and many individual lodges, have websites where you can get basic information on the lodges and usually see pictures, with names, of its officers, as well as event calendars for when their meetings and fundraisers and other functions are. This is hardly the practice of a secretive Mafia-like organization such as that which Szymanski tries to portray in his tirades.

Incidentally, Jeff, some Masonic ceremonies are public, if you would ever like to attend one, though the fact that they're public will no doubt break Szymanski's heart. The installation of new officers in a lodge is typically open to the public and is quite an interesting event....dinner is usually included too. The installation at the lodges in your area will, like lodges all over the world, take place as closely as possible to June 24th, the feast day of John the Baptist on the Catholic liturgical calendar. (John the Baptist has been one of two patron saints of Masonry -- the other being John the Evangelist -- since the days of the medieval stonemason's guilds that Masonry arises from.) If you would like to get a glimpse of real Masonry (again, as opposed to Szymanski's idiotic caricature) you can call one of the lodges close to where you live and ask when their installation ceremony will take place this June. You might also mention who you are and that you're curious about Masonry. I have no doubt that my Masonic brothers will roll out the red carpet for you and treat you as an honored guest. But of course, since Masonry is such a secret underground cabal you will have to resort to employing a hideous tome of arcane, forbidden knowledge called a 'phone book' to find a local lodge if you have any desire to see a Masonic installation ceremony; you might even have to brave the especially shocking portion of it known as the 'Yellow Pages'.

Or you could just Google the words 'Masonic', 'lodge', and the name of your hometown to bring up the lodge website, just whichever you prefer.

Whether you personally have any interest in attending a lodge event or not, I hope you will at least consider my proposal to take Szymanski on in an adult, honest debate. I doubt he will agree to it but you never know. Of course, if Masonry had one percent of the power it's supposed to have, or was one percent as sinister as it's supposed to be, people like Szymanski could never get away with the libelous garbage they publish year after year after year with nothing being done to them, a point that for some reason has been lost on generations of anti-Masons. I guess logic isn't a strong point for some people. And since Masons tend to be actual men (a phenomenon that I suspect is unfamiliar to Szymanski) we tend to not respond to outrageously stupid attacks, viewing them as being beneath a reply, though that self-discipline somehow is always interpreted as an admission of guilt. Like my Masonic brothers I have put up with this kind of asinine behavior in the past; but Szymanski seems to be getting bolder (though with Szymanski 'boldness' has a different meaning from its usual one) every week and as a regular Rense reader I have now had enough.

I should also mention briefly a topic that Szymanski repeats endlessly, employing the Big Lie technique so favored by Hitler and Goebbels, namely that if you repeat a lie often enough it becomes a fact in the mind of the public....we saw a similar tactic used with Iraq's nonexistent WMDs, but I digress. Szymanski's Big Lie -- or perhaps Big Half-Truth -- has to do with a notorious Masonic lodge in Italy in the 1970s called P2. P2 was composed of right-wing Italians who joined Masonry and came together as a lodge for the purpose of plotting a neo-Fascist coup against the Italian government. P2 also had some shady dealings with the Vatican Bank, as Szymanski loves to gleefully report. What Szymanski always, over and over again, "accidentally" forgets to mention is that as soon as the Grand Orient of Italy (their equivalent of a Grand Lodge) got wind of what was going on in P2 all of its members were expelled from Masonry and P2's charter was revoked. P2 nevertheless continued to operate for some time as what is known as a "clandestine" lodge, i.e. without the consent or recognition of the Grand Orient of Italy or any other Grand Lodge or Masonic body. The P2 neo-Fascists therefore were simply fanatics using Masonry as a cover for their own agenda, an agenda that had and has nothing to do with legitimate Masonry. Szymanski could easily discover all of this, but that would, of course, involve getting his hands dirty in those annoying critters called 'facts'.

One minor piece of trivia in connection with the P2 scandal: Roberto Calvi of the Vatican Bank was found murdered in 1982, hanging from Blackfriar's Bridge in London. Anti-Masons immediately seized on this as "proof" that he was murdered by Masons, and spread the lie that Masons are traditionally known as the "Black Friars". This is a complete fabrication. The name "Black Friars" is in fact a term for the Dominican Order of the Catholic Church, a fact that can be verified by contacting the Dominicans themselves or by referencing the autobiography of ex-Dominican Matthew Fox, Confessions, which is where I learned the true meaning of the Black Friars (it's simply a reference to their black robes).

As you can see from this letter, Jeff, I tend to like facts. I tend to like actual history, and logic as most of the human race understands that term, and reality as it exists on this planet, not the one that Szymanski orbits around. There are some great contributors to your website, but Greg Szymanski is not one of them. I actually have about a million things I need to be doing other than getting mired down in a debate with him, but I am tired of him getting away scot free with his lies about a fraternity I hold dear, and since I don't see any other of my brother Masons stepping up to the plate, I will reluctantly do so. You are welcome to forward this email to Szymanski if you wish, or for that matter to publish it on your site. Or to just delete it. Whatever you prefer.

By the way, in case you're wondering where I got your email address, it wasn't by being connected to The Satanic Cabal That Knows And Sees Everything, it was because I'm friends with Mary Sparrowdancer, who can vouch for my motives and character. Aside from the Szymanski debate, if you ever have any questions about Masonry I will be happy to try to answer them. And whether you do or not, and whether there is any debate with Szymanski or not, keep up the great work of spreading information that otherwise would never see the light of day.

Best Wishes,

In response to Mr W: I am only the journalist. Debate Mr. Zenith Harris Merrill, who collected the following information on Freemasonry.

"For even Satan disguises himself as an angel of light. Therefore it is not surprising if his servants also disguise themselves as servants of righteousness; whose end shall be according to their deeds."
(2 Corinthians 11:14-15)

Freemasonry claims to be compatible with "Christianity," but it is not.
Freemasonry denies that it is a religion, but it is.
Freemasonry denies that it worships Lucifer, but it does.
Freemasonry is derived from Satan, who is, according to Jesus, "a liar and the father of liars."
Freemasonry is a rival religion to Christianity, and it is a Luciferian Cult.
How long halt ye between two opinions? If the Lord be God, follow him; but if Baal, then follow him." 1 Kings 18:21

Freemasonry and Masonry, (commonly called "the Craft") are interchangeable terms.

"The root problem (for Christians) in Freemasonry, is that it is truly a form of religion that has its own creed, religious instruction, and ritual that is Universalist in nature, recognizing all religions equally."

This has been documented by the Cult Awareness Ministry, Saints Alive, of Christian author Ed Decker, and many other Christian authors, especially former Masons, during the 18th, 19th and 20th centuries. Among those who have denounced Freemasonry and openly taken a stand against it are:

John Wesley, Alexander Campbell, Daniel Webster, Wendell Phillips, Chief Justice Charles Marshall, Charles Sumner, John Hancock, Horace Greeley, Dwight L. Moody, R. A. Torrey, Timothy Dwight, Charles Finney, Charles Blanchard, John Adams, John Quincy Adams, John Madison, Amos Wells, Simon Peter Long, James M. Gray, Billy Sunday, John R. Rice and Ulysses S. Grant.

"Participating in Masonry must surely separate its real Christian members from full service to Christ, as well as "yoking them unevenly with nonbelievers in Christ," which the Bible forbids in 2 Corinthians: 6:14-18:

"Do not be bound together with unbelievers; for what partnership have righteousness and lawlessness, or what fellowship has light with darkness?
Or what harmony has Christ with Belial, or what has a believer in common with an unbeliever?
Or what agreement has the temple of God with idols? For we are the temple of the living God; just as God said, "I will dwell in them and walk among them; and I will be their God, and they shall be my people.
"Therefore, come out from their midst and be separate," says the Lord. "and do not touch what is unclean; And I will welcome you.
"And I will be a father to you, And you shall be sons and daughters to Me," Says the Lord Almighty.

Ed Decker, founder and international director of "Saints Alive In Jesus", a ministry to members of cult groups, in What You Need To Know About Masons, continues: "When a father and a husband bows his knee at an altar where Baal and Zoroaster are given equal recognition and power to that given to the God of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, in a lodge where the precious name of Jesus Christ is specifically removed and forbidden so as "not to offend non-Christian members," that father and husband has bowed his knee to Baal, in idolatrous and false worship, and his family and his church will reap the fruit of that submission, for through him these evil spiritual entities gain legal access."

In defiance of the first of the Ten Commandments in Exodus 20:3, which states: "Thou shalt have no other Gods before (or beside) me," Masonic rites and rituals venerate all of the pagan gods of the Mystery Religions that originated in ancient Babylon. The knowledge of these gods then spread out over all the earth when God dispersed all those who had chosen apostasy at the tower of Babel.

Freemasonry's gods include: Baal, Marduk, Jupiter, Orion, Hermes, Proetheus, Zeus, Thor, Apollo, Hercules, Bacchus, Osiris-the Egyptian God of the dead, Adonis, and Mithra-the Roman Sun God. These are all idols, false gods that are worshipped by Occultists, Satanists, Witchcraft and Masons! Statues of them can be found in Masonic Lodges around the world, and their names are invoked in official rites and rituals.

The late Dr. Walter Martin, world renown authority on comparative religion and author of the Christian classic: The Kingdom of the Cults, during a debate with a self professed "Christian Mason," on "The John Ankerberg Show," referred to Masonry as "Metaphysical Satanism."

Dr. Martin also stated of Masonry that he strenuously objected to the paganism within it. Upon visiting the Masonic Temple in Los Angeles, he found there a statue of Moses, a statue of Zoroaster, one of Osiris, and statues of many Egyptian gods and goddesses. His objection was that "when you put Moses, a representative of the God of the Bible, in the midst of the pagan world, which God judged for its evil, condemning them as vile, depraved, and wicked, then you have gone beyond 'just symbols', and are playing with dangerous spiritual fire."

"As a Christian, this is totally incongruent with 2nd Corinthians: 'Come out from among them and be separate, saith the Lord, "and I will be your God and you will be my people.'"

Freemasonry teaches that "in all religions there is a basis of truth; in all there is pure morality." Masonry teaches that it has the mission of bringing together "all men of all religions," under the Masonic banner and around the Masonic altar. This was the identical goal of ancient Babylon at the Tower of Babel and the current goal of the New Age movement.

1 Samuel: 15:22-23: "And Samuel said, Hath the Lord as great delight in burnt offerings and sacrifices, as in obeying the voice of the Lord? Behold, to obey is better than sacrifice, and to hearken than the fat of rams. For rebellion is as the sin of witchcraft, and stubbornness is as iniquity and idolatry."

Freemasonry substitutes a false gospel of "good works", and salvation through an individual's own effort, instead of the true gospel of Jesus Christ, as recorded in the Bible in Romans 6:23, in which God says: "For the wages of sin is death, but the free gift of God is eternal life in Christ Jesus our Lord." "Christian" Freemasons are giving their time and energy to Freemasonry, an organization where, behind the facade of service and charity to the community, knowingly at the highest degrees, and perhaps unknowingly to those in the lower degrees, all members are serving in Satan's Camp. By doing so they deny Jesus Christ the glory He would receive in the eyes of the world, if their charitable works were done through His Church and in His Name, and the purpose of the Church is 1) to worship God and 2) to glorify His name.

It is not possible to glorify God when working in the Masonic Lodge, as the Name of Jesus Christ is not allowed to be used in prayer and even when Bible verses are quoted in rituals, the name of Jesus is routinely omitted, in disobedience to God, for in Revelation 22:19, God proclaims: "and if anyone takes away from the words of the book of this prophecy, "God" shall take away his part from the "Book of Life, from the holy city, and from the things which are written in this book."

William Schnoebelen, former Witch and Satanist, and former 32nd degree Mason, in Masonry; Beyond The Light equates Freemasonry with Witchcraft. In a chapter called "The Witchcraft Connection," he lists the following occultists, witches and sorcerers who have all been high ranking Freemasons during the past century:

Arthur Edward Waite-occult writer, [black magician] and Masonic historian who wrote an "Encyclopaedia of Freemasonry."

Dr. Wynn Westcott-member of the Societas Rosicruciana in Anglia and founding member of the occult Order of the Golden Dawn whose members introduced "Tantric" perverted ritualistic sex to western society as worship.

S. L. MacGregor Mathers-co-founder of the occultic Golden Dawn.

Aleister Crowley-master satanist of this century who was pursued in letters by pseudo-scientist Alfred Kinsey for his "sexual experiences," and who founded the anti-Christ religion, Thelema. He used children in perverted sexual rituals and advocated human sacrifice.

Dr. Gerard Encausse-(Papus) masterful author, teacher of the Tarot and leader of the occult Martinistes society

Dr. Theodore Reuss-head of the O.T.O., a German occult satanic society which made Aleister Crowley its head for the British Isles

George Pickingill-the master warlock (male witch) of 19th century England, leader of the "Pickingill covens"

Annie Besant-leader of the occult Theosophical society and co-Masonic hierarch

Alice Bailey-founder of the occultic New Age, Lucis (formerly Lucifer) Trust and author of The Externalization of the Hierarchy" which foretells the "New Age" or New World Order" naming 1) Freemasonry, 2)the public School System, and 3)the mainline visible apostate "Christian" church as the three organizations through which the New World Order will insidiously infiltrate the world's society as a Trojan horse - from the inside.

Bishop C. W. Leadbetter-Theosophist, mentor to the failed New Age "Christ", Krishnamurti, and prelate in the occult Liberal Catholic Church

Manly P. Hall-Rosicrucian adept, author of popular Freemasonry manuals, founder of the Philosophical Research Society

Gerald B. Gardner- British founder and practitioner of the modern Wiccan (white Witchcraft) revival.

Alex Sanders-self-styled "King of the Witches" in London and one of the most influential leaders of Wicca (witchcraft) after Gardner.

Freemasonry welcomed all of these powerful occultists and sorcerers into its highest ranks; Bill Schnoebelen asks: "should a Christian desire to be a member of such an organization?"

"Be ye not unequally yoked together with unbelievers: for what fellowship hath righteousness with unrighteousness? and what communion hath light with darkness?" II Corinthians 6:14

In The Dark Side of Freemasonry, Ed Decker describes how, a few years after he became a Christian, he had delivered a message against the cult of Mormonism in a Baptist Church and was accosted by an elderly member of the church board who told him in great stress that "You better stop doing this. You are sharing secrets that only Masons are supposed to know."

Mr. Decker had revealed information about the secret Mormon temple oaths, the symbolism, signs and tokens, and the apron that Lucifer wore - as the Mormons, who teach that Lucifer is the brother of Jesus, have the Mormon instructor portray Lucifer in part of the Mormon temple ritual wearing an apron identical to the lambskin apron all Masons receive and treasure.

When Masons receive their lambskin apron, they are told it will be their covering at the "Great White Throne judgement," when, after their death, they face God. For any Christian to accept this lie is preposterous, for the Bible says in Revelation, 20th chapter, that the "Great White Throne judgement" is the 2nd judgement, the judgement of the unsaved only - those who will all be thrown into the lake of fire for eternity - and no Christian should expect to be there, with or without a lambskin apron!

Galatians 3:27: "For all of you who were baptized into Christ have clothed yourselves with Christ."

The only "covering" God will accept is the blood of Jesus Christ, which covers the sins of every Christian. For Freemasonry to claim that wearing a lambskin apron will somehow win the approval of God denies the Word of God and is the sin of Cain, to try to substitute their own righteousness for that which God provides.

Mr. Decker, a former Mormon, who had never been a Mason informed the gentleman that he had no idea what he was talking about. The old gentleman then proceeded to explain to him that the Mormon temple rituals are based on Masonic ritual secrets, because Joseph Smith, the founder of Mormonism was a Mason and had broken his blood oath to never reveal Masonic secrets by using their secret symbols, names and rituals in his own new religion, Mormonism.

Joseph Smith's brother Hiram was also a Mason, and also the first five presidents of the Mormon church were Masons. The mob that murdered Joseph Smith in Nauvoo, Illinois, the site of one of the largest Masonic lodges in the United States at that time, consisting of over fourteen hundred members in one lodge, is believed to have been composed of Masons who were murdering him in obedience to their own secret Masonic blood oaths to take the life of any fellow member who betrayed their secrets.

The church elder then threatened Mr. Decker that unless he stopped talking about these things, he was going to get hurt, because "If you're saying that the Mormons are Satanic, what are you saying about Masonry?" To this, Mr. Decker replied that "if Masonry is based on the same rituals and blood oaths as Mormonism, it is from the same Pit of Hell!"

Only to the one fifth of Master Masons who elect to be exalted to the Holy Royal Arch degree of Masonry, is the Masonic "lost word", or the name of the God of Masonry revealed. At this time, they are told that contrary to everything they have previously been told about Masonry's god: TGAOTU (The Great Architect of the Universe) or "The All Seeing Eye," they are now no longer free to believe in a generic term for God, according to their own personal creed, or religion, but Freemasonry's chief god is now revealed to them as Jah-Bul-On. This is an idolatrous, unholy and counterfeit trinity composed of these three deities:

- 1) Jahweh, the Old Testament or Jewish Tanakh name for Almighty God;
- 2) Baal, the Caananite fertility god and Sun god, whose worship God forbid throughout Scripture; and
- 3) Osiris, the Egyptian god of the dead.

To any Christian, this is idolatry, and to the God of Christianity, the God of the Holy Bible, it is an abomination!

Masonry is contrary to the first three of the ten commandments, and denies Christ, our "Lord of Lords and King of Kings" as "The only name by which we must be saved."

This is the problem of the Lodge for Christians, and for anyone seeking to find and please the one true God of the Universe, the God of the Bible. This idolatrous sin of the fathers, when they have literally bent their knee to Baal at the Masonic altar, during Masonic rituals, can wreck spiritual havoc in the lives of Masonic families, and in churches where Masons are in leadership, hindering, limiting and blinding, because every Master Mason has officially become a "Priest of Baal," opening the door to Satan, the adversary.

Only through sincere prayer, asking God that the cleansing blood of Jesus Christ be applied to these occultic spiritual soul ties that allow Satan access, can they be broken, and through renouncing membership in Masonry by submitting in writing, a "demit" to the lodge, can an individual member and his family be set free from bondage and oppression.

Although such ties cannot destroy the salvation of a Christian, they do allow Satan to make his Christian walk much more difficult. Freemasonry is ancient "Sun" worship, i.e., Baal worship, which is, in it's spiritual reality and in its symbolism, a fertility religion. The spiritual fruit of the religion of Freemasonry is sexual immorality, rebellion, alcoholism, drug abuse and perversion, and having that spiritual influence brought into the home, through the soul ties of the head of the household, can create havoc in the lives of children, especially adolescent children, for the sin of idolatry is visited upon the children to the 3rd and 4th generation.

"My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge:
because thou hast rejected knowledge,
I will also reject thee,
that thou shalt be no priest to me:
seeing thou hast forgotten the law of thy God,
I will also forget thy children."
Hosea 4:6

No Room In The Inn

According to Jim Shaw, former 33rd degree Mason, who officially resigned from Masonry, after becoming a Christian and studying the Bible, as he wrote in Deadly Deception: "there is underlying all Masonic thinking and writing, an attitude and spirit of elitism which says, "Masonry is not for everyone, just for the select few." At the same time Masonry teaches it is the only true religion and that all other religions are but corrupted and perverted forms of Masonry.

This is both elitist and contradictory, in that it leaves no hope for the non-elite to ever be able to find the "true religion." Freemasonry proudly proclaims it makes good men better; but this leaves no provision for bad men to ever be able to become good."

He continues: "It is significant, I think, that those whom Masonry rejects and excludes are the very ones Jesus sought out to accept and minister to:

The Lodge excludes and rejects the blind, for they cannot see to engage in the signs and due-guards; it rejects the crippled and maimed, for they cannot assume the body positions necessary for the signs and due-guards.

The deaf are excluded because they cannot hear the "secret" words.

The poor are excluded, for they cannot pay the fees and dues.

The mentally challenged are rejected because they cannot memorize the correct questions and answers to be recited in rituals in order to function in the Lodge.

The emotionally ill are rejected because they cannot be trusted with the "secrets."

Historically, blacks and women have been excluded simply because they are considered unsuitable."

"Jesus, on the other hand proclaims that "whosoever will, may come" and receive His gift of redemption and that all may "take the water of life freely" (Rev. 22:17). He especially reached out to the blind, the crippled, the mentally challenged and mentally ill, the poor and the unwanted - the very ones Masonry excludes and rejects (as unworthy)."

In the lecture awarding the "32nd degree," which is the highest earned degree in Freemasonry, as the 33rd degree is honorary, the initiate is informed: "You have reached the mountain peak of Masonic instruction - a peak covered with mist, which YOU in search for further light can penetrate only by your own efforts, as did Pythagoras." Pythagoras was a 5th century B.C. occultist and mathematician, who believed in the transmigration of the soul or reincarnation.

Having achieved the final highest degree of Freemasonry, after many months, or sometimes years of memorization, and much money in fees paid for each degree, as these degrees are definitely not free of charge, one finds that instead of the light (truth) that has been consistently promised him, he is now "cut loose," i.e., told that he must continue on his own, through his own efforts, if he is ever to find total spiritual light.

In contrast to Masonry's inability to deliver spiritual enlightenment, all who sincerely seek truth and light in Jesus Christ, who declared Himself to be Truth and Light, are promised that they will receive it. Jesus is the beginning and the end of the search, for all those who come unto Him seeking life, meaning and understanding, He fulfills. God, who cannot lie, guarantees that if we call upon Him, in the name of Jesus, we will never be disappointed or ashamed. Romans 10:4: "For Christ is the end (fulfillment) of the law for righteousness to everyone that believeth."

Jesus Forbid the Bloody Pagan Oaths That Are Required of All Members of Freemasonry

In Matthew 5:34-37, He said "But I say to you, make no oath at all either by heaven, for it is the throne of God, or by the earth, for it is the footstool of His feet, or by Jerusalem, for it is the city of the great King. "Nor shall you make an oath on your head for you cannot make one hair white or black, "But let your statement be, 'Yes, yes' or 'No, no', and anything beyond these is of evil."

The oath of the 1st degree of Masonry, that of an Entered Apprentice, concludes with: "...binding myself under no less penalty than that of having my throat cut from ear to ear, my tongue torn out by its roots and buried in the rough sands of the sea at low-water mark where the tide ebbs and flows twice in twenty-four hours, should I ever knowingly or willingly violate this my solemn oath and obligation as an Entered Apprentice Mason, so help me God."

The oath for the 2nd degree of Masonry, that of Fellow Craft, ends as follows: "...binding myself under no less penalty than having my left breast torn open, my heart plucked out, and given as a prey to the wild beasts of the field and the fowls of the air, so help me God..."

The 3rd degree oath, to become a Master Mason, is: "...having my body severed in twain, my bowels taken from thence and burned to ashes, the ashes scattered to the four winds of heaven, so that no more trace or remembrance may be had of so vile and perjured wretch as I..."

The oath to become a Knight of Malta (after taking in hand the upper part of a human skull containing wine): "This pure wine I now take in testimony of my belief in the mortality of the body and the immortality of the soul and may this libation appear as a witness against me both here and hereafter - and as the sins of the world were laid upon the head of the Savior, so may all the sins committed by the person whose skull this was be heaped upon my head, in addition to my own, should I ever knowingly or willingly violate or transgress any obligation that I have heretofore taken, take at this time, or shall at any future period take in relation to any degree of Masonry or order of Knighthood. So help me God."

The 10th degree of the Scottish Rite concludes: "...and in failure of this my obligation, I consent to have my body opened perpendicularly, and to be exposed for eight hours in the open air, that the venomous flies may eat of my entrails, my head to be cut off and put on the highest pinnacle of the world and I will always be ready to inflict the same punishment on those who shall disclose this degree and break this obligation..."

The oath of the Shrine A.A.O.N.M.S. (Shriners) concludes as follows: "...in willful violation whereof I may incur the fearful penalty of having my eyeballs pierced to the center with a three-edged blade, my feet flayed and I will be forced to walk the hot sands upon the sterile shores of the Red Sea, until the flaming sun shall strike me with livid plague, and may Allah the God of Arab, Muslim and Mohammedan, the God of our fathers support me to the entire fulfillment of the same, Amen, Amen, Amen."

All Shriners receive, as one of their most prized possessions a red "fez" felt headdress, which they wear to their meetings and events as a badge of honor, ignorant of its' historical origin. The traditional red "fez" originated in the city of Fez, a city in Northern Morocco many centuries ago, when a Muslim army slaughtered the entire Christian population of Fez. The blood from hundreds of slaughtered Christians ran in the streets, and victorious muslims dipped their headdresses in the blood as a symbol of victory. For "Christian" Mason Shriners to wear these red Fez hats is an affront to God and to the memory of those martyred Christians.

Each of the above pagan Masonic oaths, except the shriners, which is sworn to Allah, the God of the Qu'ran, and of Muslims, conclude with the words, 'So help me God.' For a Christian to call upon God as a witness to these evil barbaric oaths, as he is voluntarily binding himself to a spirit of fear by agreeing to be murdered by his lodge brothers, or to mutilate and murder any Masonic brother who reveals Masonic secrets, is an incredibly sad and spiritually blind deed, and an abomination to God.

Jesus said in Matthew 10:28: "And fear not them who kill the body, but are not able to kill the soul: but rather fear Him who is able to destroy both soul and body in hell."

In 2 Timothy 1:7, the Holy Spirit, writing through Paul tells us: "For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind."

Jesus said in John 18:20: "I spoke openly to the world' I ever taught in the synagogue, and in the temple, ... and in secret have I said nothing."

Luke 12:3 Jesus said, "But there is nothing covered up that will not be revealed and hidden that will not be known. Accordingly, whatever you have said in the dark shall be heard in the light, and what you have whispered in the inner rooms shall be proclaimed from the housetops."

Albert Pike (1809-1891), author of Morals and Dogma, is looked upon today as the foremost literary genius of Masonry. He rewrote all Scottish Rite rituals practised today. These rituals are pagan and occultic in design. Mr. Pike was an admitted worshipper of Lucifer, believing that two coequal Gods exist in the universe, Lucifer, the God of good and light and Adonay, the Christian god, who rules evil and darkness.

In Morals and Dogma, Pike declares that Masonry has inherited and currently practices the same occultic Mystery religion, as was practised in Babylon."

Masonic Symbolism's Foundation Of Phallic Worship Blasphemes God

The true meaning of Masonic symbols and thus, the true meaning of Masonry itself is known only by the Prince Adepts of Masonry, they (Albert Pike, Albert Mackey, J.D. Buck, Daniel Sickles, etc., teach us that Masonry is a revival of the Ancient Mysteries, the Mystery Religions of Babylon, Egypt, Persia, Rome and Greece, and the Druids, in summary, the "Old Religion."

Because very few Masons bother to investigate the contents of their Masonic Lodge Libraries, they remain ignorant of the evil and perverted meanings of their symbols and rituals, as taught in Masonry's Higher Degrees.

Albert G. Mackey, a 33rd degree Mason, who spent thirty five years interpreting the degrees of Freemasonry, and author of an Encyclopedia of Freemasonry, wrote that it was right and necessary to lie to Blue Degree initiates. He said, "He is intentionally misled by false interpretations. It is not intended that he shall understand, but it is intended that he shall imagine he understands. True understanding is reserved for the Adepts, the Princes of Masonry." Thus, Masonry's definition of truth originated with Satan in the garden of Eden.

Hosea 4:6: "My people are destroyed for lack of knowledge." A Mason is told in the first degree, that the meaning of the square is to square our actions; the compasses, to circumscribe and keep us within the bounds of all mankind, but more especially with a brother Mason.

Albert Mackey's definitive Encyclopedia of Freemasonry, however reveals that the Square and Compasses are related to the "point within the circle," which he calls "an important and beautiful alstruse allusion to the old sun worship, introducing that adaptation of sun worship known among the ancients, as the worship of the phallus.

Mackey continues: "The phallus was a sculptured representation of the male organ of generation, and its worship in the ancient Mystery Religion, was adopted by the sun worshippers of old, and incorporated into the symbolism of Freemasonry.

The central symbols of Freemasonry, therefore, represent the human reproductive organs! In esoteric Freemasonry, the square is the symbol of the lingam (godforce in Witchcraft) and the compasses are the symbol of the female organs, called the yoni or shakti (goddess force) by Occultists.

The Christian Mason is attending Lodge, and worshipping at an altar with symbols of the male and female organs entwined over an open Bible!

"Another Gospel" Is Legitimized By The Participation Of Christians In Masonry

Famous Christian evangelist and author, Dr. John R. Rice, describes his experience with Masonry, as a young man. He was invited, by several very respected men in his church, to join the local chapter of the Masonic Lodge. The night of his initiation, he could not believe the horror of the obscene oath he was expected to repeat. He had the courage to denounce the entire proceedings and to walk out and never return.

Luke 8:21 "But he [Jesus] said to them in answer, ... my brothers are those who have knowledge of the word of God and do it."

With great sadness, Dr. Rice tells of the Lodge Members he has known, who were blinded to their need for a "Saviour for forgiveness of sins" because of the gospel of "Works" taught in the Lodge, and the participation of Christian Ministers, Elders, and Deacons in their rituals, thereby "Causing their brother to stumble" for all eternity.

Colossians 2:8: "See to it that no one takes you captive through philosophy and empty deception, according to the tradition of men, according to the elementary principles of the world, rather than according to Christ."

In the article by Mark Waldron he states

"The P2 neo-Fascists therefore were simply fanatics using Masonry as a cover for their own agenda, an agenda that had and has nothing to do with legitimate Masonry".

This is basically what is going on in Masonry. The average Mason at the bottom of the pyramid is not aware what is going on at the top of the pyramid. The agenda of the 33 degree Masons at the top of the Masonic organization is kept hidden and what they are doing is not told to the "laymen" at the bottom of the pyramid.

Mark simply dismisses P2 as not that big of a deal. Some of these men were connected to the Vatican Bank scandal, which included the killing of Roberto Calvi, who was one of the key players in the theft and money laundering going on at the Vatican Bank to the tune of over a billion dollars, which was a lot of money in the early 1980's. The Church, as they normally do, paid out over $200 million dollars to settle this case and avoid any investigation that could lead to the hierarchy of the Roman Catholic Church, who had to know of what was going on because it involved so much money.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Roberto_Calvi

What is desperately needed is a MAJOR investigation of the Vatican and the Roman Catholic Church and the top level of the Mason organization. We must find out WHAT IS THE AGENDA of the few men at the top of the pyramid, who control these organizations and what they are doing with the many billions of dollars these organizations have in their vaults, along with the billions of dollars of property they control world wide.

An investigation by unconnected investigators and a prosecutor with full government authority to subpoena records, witnesses and everything else you would need in such an investigation could shed light on possibly one of the most horrendous crimes ever perpetrated on humanity over the centuries. What these men at the top of these organizations are possibly doing along with the other webs of the Illuminati could be negatively affecting the lives of the over six billion human beings on planet Earth. Such an investigation would be astounding to say the least.

That's it, Greg! You couldn't give a better reply than the one you gave. SUPERB!

MARK,

YOUR COMMENTS TO JEFF RENSE ABOUT GREG SZYMANSKI AND HIS ARTICLE ON THE SATANIC MASONS LEAVE A LOT TO BE DESIRED! YOU ACCUSE HIM OF NOT OFFERING ANY PROOF, YET WHAT PROOF DO YOU REQUIRE? ONLY AN IDIOT, A BLIND LOYALIST, OR SOMEONE DOING DAMAGE CONTROL OR MISINFORMATION WOULD FAIL TO SEE THE TRUTH OR ACCEPT THE TRUTH.

IN THE TIME IT TOOK YOU TO WRITE YOUR REBUTTAL TO JEFF, YOU COULD HAVE GONE TO GOOGLE AND TYPED IN ILLUMANTI, SKULL AND BONES, NWO, OR BUSH CRIME FAMILY. YOU CAN FIND ALL THE PROOF YOU NEED BY SEARCHING NAMES LIKE ABERT PIKE, AE WAITE, ALEISTER CROWLEY, WILLIAM HUNTINGTON RUSSELL, KNIGHT OF EULOGIA, MAJOG, GOAT OF MENDEZ ,JAH BUL ON JUST TO NAME A FEW.

I COULD FURNISH YOU ALL THE PROOF AS WELL AS SOURCES TO VERIFY THE PROOF. BUT I HAVE FOUND IT HAS A BETTER IMPACT IF YOU DO THAT ON YOUR OWN. IF YOU HAD DONE THIS FIRST, PERHAPS YOU WOULD NOT HAVE SENT THE LETTER TO JEFF. NOW I WILL GRANT ONE CONCESSION TO FREE MASONS AND THAT IS THOSE IN THE FIRST THREE DEGREES HAVE NO CONCEPT OF WHAT IS BEING DONE BY THOSE IN THE HIGHER LEVELS.

THERE IS A REASON FOR THE EVIL SATANIC GROUPS LIKE THE AFOREMENTIONED TO DEMAND SECRET BLIND LOYALTY -- AND THAT IS TO HIDE THEIR EVIL ACTIONS! THINK ABOUT IT...

GREG, AS ONE WHO EXPOSES THE EVIL DOINGS OF THESE SATAN WORSHIPPING EVIL

Who Are The Real Spiritual Controllers Of The New World Order: Confession With The Jesuits, A Weekly Series Appearing Every Sunday In The Arctic Beacon

The Jesuits have always been steeped in controversy from their inception in 1540. In our first Sunday confession we hear from two loyal Jesuits, as well as starting from the beginning, asking who is America's No 1 enemy. Also, do all roads lead to the Vatican? Does the Pope take his marching orders from the Jesuit General known as the Black Pope? And is there a Jesuit cemetery on the East Coast shaped like a vagina? These are just some of the questions posed in today's first confession.

23 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

There are two large trees providing shade overlooking a passing stream called Brushy Creek. The shady spot sits about 50 feet above the swift moving current, carving out a winding path of water not far from the Mexican border outside of Austin, Texas.

There are two dogs below playing in the stream, as a crane flies above looking for food. It's a perfect place to talk with God, a perfect place to open your heart and mind.

In fact, it's the ideal spot to self-administer a private confession, ask forgiveness and receive a self-imposed penance. But instead I've decided to speak publicly, punishing no one for his thoughts and opinions, including myself.

And instead of remaining cloistered, isolated and alone like so many other Americans filled with self-pity, hopelessness and despair, I've decided to spark a public debate, raising tough questions in hopes others from every corner of the globe will join me every Sunday morning under the two shady trees overlooking Brushy Creek.

Long ago I realized how foolish it was to be so pretentious to think I possessed all the answers. And as I look at all the commentators, leaders and spiritual heads of the world today, I am shocked at how pretentious they have all become.

And looking out over Brushy Creek, I am sure the water would turn immediately black if they walked in it, as not one single person today in a position of real political, financial or spiritual power is willing to take off his mask of pretentiousness and deception to face the truth.

It's sad to think this beautiful creek may some day dry up. It's sad to think all the goodness in the world will be one day turned over to the masters of deception and the spiritual controllers of the New World Order.

It's sad to think politicians and financiers all across the globe have "cowboyed up," as they say in Texas, with the spiritual controllers, together betraying their respective countries in an attempt to globalize the world under one false god and one fascist government.

But the most distressing fact of all is only a handful of people are acting on the truth as most people remain essentially uninformed, the remainder falling into two distinct categories: those who sense the truth but too cowardly to act and those who are actual provocateurs, spreading disinformation on behalf of the spiritual controllers.

Before we hear from today's contributors, Jesuit Father Bill Williams and Brother Dan Peterson, as moderator of this Sunday forum called 'Who Are the Spiritual Controllers: Confession With The Jesuits, let me start out by saying I begin today with a clean slate, starting at square one and professing to know nothing. I promise to lead no one in a biased direction, only asking tough questions while formulating any opinions based on information uncovered through further research by those who choose to answer.

Question One:

Every day in the news and on television in America we hear America is fighting a war on terror, a starting premise adopted for almost every story we hear.

If we are fighting a war on terror, who is the real enemy?

According to President Bush, the mainstream media and the entire Congress, the enemy is Al Qaeda and millions of extremist Muslims, engaging in a spiritual war against Christians and Jews.

According to many commentators in the alternative press, the enemy is the Zionist-Jew movement controlling Washington and engaging in a spiritual war of its own.

According to other researchers the enemy is the Satan worshipping Illuminati, made up of secret societies, engaging in a spiritual war against every non-Satan worshipper

According to others the main enemy are financiers, controlling the Bank of International Settlements and the Federal Reserve, using spirituality as a weapon to divide and conquer.

And, finally, there are researchers who claim the enemy is the Jesuit Order, having infiltrated the Vatican and taken over the Catholic Church from within like it has taken over every other government and religion in the world. Researchers and writers, like Phelps, have claimed the Jesuits, a Catholic Order called the Society of Jesus, have combined all the above enemies into one deceptive force with its ultimate goal genocide and world domination.

Author Eric Phelps claims are expounded in his three editions, the third forthcoming in June, in his book entitled the Vatican Assassins. His research is also found at www.vaticanassassins.org and with it he joins numerous writers since the Jesuits were founded in 1540 who questioned the true intentions of the Society of Jesus.

Asking For Answers To This Main Question For Next Sunday's Confession

Are the Jesuits the spiritual controllers of the New World Order, who also control the Vatican, the Pope, the Council on Foreign Relations and the U.S. government? Is the Pope the real leader of the Catholic Church or does he take his marching orders from the leader of the Jesuits, the Jesuit General known as the Black Pope?

Phelps has agreed to provide a concise statement for next week's Sunday confessions, saying it's the Jesuits who are the real enemies. Others who would like to contribute with facts and opinions supporting or opposing Phelps's claims are encouraged to email their positions by Friday, April 28th for possible publication in Sunday's confessions.

This week's two main contributors, Father Bill of the Missouri House of the Denver Province and Brother

Dan of the Los Angeles Province, were not directly asked this question, as it was obvious at least on the surface from their statements over the telephone, they were both loyal Jesuit followers.

Poverty, chastity and obedience are the three main vows taken by Jesuit priests and brothers, and Father Bill was asked about the vow of poverty in light of the enormous wealth of the Jesuit Order, including 28 major Universities in America, as well as 54 high schools.

"Yes, that's easy," said Father Bill. "The vow means as priests we own nothing. For example, the car I used to go to the grocery store today is not mine. Everything is owned by the Jesuit Order headed up by the Jesuit General in Rome. I own nothing."

The Jesuit General in Rome is Father Peter Hans Kolvenbach, and Father Bill said he met him in 2002 when Father Peter stayed at the new Denver House, built 13 years ago as a new edition to the Missouri Jesuit Province, one of 10 Provinces carved out in the United States.

"He likes to come and meet with the boys and keep abreast at what is happening all over the world," said Father Bill about the Jesuit General known as the Black Pope, the title carrying with it a rather militaristic not priestly image.

"His headquarters are located right next to St. Peter's Square, a stone's throw away from the Pope, as the Jesuit General is a close confidant of the Pontiff. He is called the Black Pope but it has nothing to do with something sinister or evil. It probably has something to do with the black clothes he wears all the time.

"The Jesuit Order is best known for being great educators and we are the largest Order in the Catholic Church. Sometimes the Pope asks our Order to do something special like one of our priests from the Missouri mission was asked to go the Middle East to be the Pope's eyes and ears to Islam."

Regarding another recent visit to the United States, author Phelps claims the Black Pope buried one of his close friends, Jesuit Father Walter Cizak, in an East Coast Jesuit cemetery shaped like a vagina? Phelps has agreed to explain the story and if anyone has ever heard of the cemetery, please email the Arctic Beacon.

Moving to the Los Angeles Province this week, Brother Dan, a historical archivist and loyal Jesuit, had this to say about the military aspect of the Jesuit Order.

"It has been exaggerated through the course of history. It is true our Founder, Ignatius Loyola, was a soldier, but when he found Jesus that all changed. However many of the military connotations have stuck with the Order.

"The Pope, however, is like our commander and chief and there are many Jesuits who do not think of themselves as foot soldiers. My role is to maintain the history of the Jesuits in California, Nevada, Utah, Hawaii and the Southwest.

Regarding accusations that the Black Pope controls the Pope, Brother Dan added:

"I think our influence has been greatly exaggerated over the years. We are not the snakes in the grass that people think we are or people behind the scenes pulling strings, depicted in 19th century history. That has all changed and the Jesuit General is called the Black Pope because of his black cassock, not because he is some sort of evil Snidely Whiplash sort of character."

Much has been written about the history of the Jesuits since the Order began in 1540. Jesuit Novitiates who enter the Order spend the first two years studying this history. Brother Dan said every summer Novitiates travel to Denver for a intensive course on Jesuit history. However, he did not have an outline or book of what is taught. If any Jesuits would like to contribute what "New Jebbies" are taught, please email the Arctic Beacon with that information.

In the meantime, others who have studied Jesuit history are asked to contribute what they know about the Order, starting from 1540 up until present day.

Here is some general information about the Jesuits as provided by Cyprian Davis, Bibliography: W Bangert, A History of the Society of Jesus (1986); M Barthel, The Jesuits (1984); C Hollis, The Jesuits (1968). Please feel free to research further and provide the Arctic Beacon with Pertinent information.

The Society of Jesus, the largest Roman Catholic religious order, whose members are called Jesuits, was founded by Saint Ignatius Loyola. Noted for its discipline, based on the Spiritual Exercises of Ignatius, and for its lengthy training period of as much as 15 years, the society is governed by a general who lives in Rome. Jesuits do not wear a special habit and are not subject to local ecclesiastical authority. Professed members are bound by a vow of obedience to the pope.

The Jesuits began as a group of seven men who as students in Paris took (1534) vows of poverty and chastity. Ordained as priests, they placed themselves at the disposal of the pope, Paul III, who gave formal approval to the society in 1540. Ignatius became (1541) its first general. The order grew so rapidly that at Ignatius's death (1556) the little band had expanded to nearly a thousand persons.

From the first, the Jesuits concentrated on foreign missions, education, and scholarship. Saint Francis Xavier, one of the original seven, was the first Jesuit to open the East to missionaries; Matteo Ricci and others followed at the court of China. Jesuits established missions throughout Latin America and founded a model commune for Paraguayan Indians. A remarkable account of the Jesuit mission to North America can be found in the Jesuit Relations (1632 - 73).

When the Counter Reformation was launched, the Jesuit order was its driving force. During the Council of Trent, several Jesuits, notably Diego Lainez, served as theologians. The English mission, a bold attempt to reclaim England for Catholicism during the reign (1558 - 1603) of Elizabeth I, was led by Edmund Campion and included the poet Robert Southwell. Jesuits established schools in almost every important European city and were leaders in education until the 18th century. Members of the society taught the sons of leading families and served as spiritual advisors to kings.

Because of the extent of the Jesuits' influence, powerful forces opposed them - forces composed of such unlikely allies as Blaise Pascal and the Jansenists, Voltaire, the Bourbon monarchs of France and Spain, and certain cardinals at the Vatican. These forces were instrumental in bringing about the suppression of the society (1773) by Pope Clement XIV. Among the members of the order at that time was John Carroll, who later became the first Roman Catholic bishop in the United States.

The Jesuit order was reestablished (1814) by Pope Pius VII and resumed its work. Jesuit schools and universities, such as Georgetown, Fordham, and Saint Louis in the United States, were opened. In Europe, Jesuit traditions of learning were continued by the Bollandists, who were charged with compiling the lives of the saints; the Jesuits also published several periodicals and journals. Members of the order were in the forefront of many social and theological movements; several others undertook scientific pursuits, such as the study of earthquakes. Among noted modern Jesuits are the poet Gerard Manley Hopkins, the paleontologist Pierre Teilhard de Chardin, John LaFarge (1880 - 1963), who worked for interracial justice, and the theologian John Courtney Murray.

Here is another tidbit of Jesuit history taken from the Encyclopedia Britannica about some general controversies surrounding the Order.

Among the repercussions of the controversy over Chinese rites was an intensification of the resentment directed against the Society of Jesus, to which some of the other movements mentioned above also contributed. The widespread support enjoyed by Jansenism was due in part to its attack on the moral theology associated with the Jesuits. Pascal's Lettres Provinciales, although placed on the Index in 1657, voiced an opposition to Jesuit thought and practice that continued to be read throughout the century that followed.

The political role played by members of the Society most probably evoked the campaign to suppress it. The Portuguese crown expelled the Jesuits in 1759, France made them illegal in 1764, and in 1767 Spain and the Kingdom of the Two Sicilies also took repressive action against them. But the opponents of the Society achieved their greatest success when they took their case to Rome.

*Pope Clement XIII is said to have replied that the Jesuits "should be as they are or not be at all" and refused to act against them. But his successor, Clement XIV (1769-74), whose election was urged by the anti-Jesuit forces, finally did take action. On July 21, 1773, he issued a brief, Dominus ac Redemptor ("Lord and Redeemer"), suppressing the Society for the good of the church. Frederick II of Prussia and Empress Catherine II of Russia-one of them Protestant and the other Eastern Orthodox-were the only monarchs who refused to promulgate the order to suppress the Jesuits when it was issued. In these lands and in others the Society of Jesus maintained a shadow existence until, on Aug. 7, 1814, Pope Pius VII restored it to full legal validity.*

Important numbers explaining who are the Jesuits:

Numbers

1540

The year in which the Society of Jesus was founded.

1789

The date the first Jesuit school in the United States was founded: Georgetown Academy. There are now 28 major universities and 54 high schools nationwide. The Jesuits land holdings are extensive throughout the world.

20,170

The total number of Jesuits worldwide on January 1, 2004. The Society of Jesus is the largest religious order of the Roman Catholic Church.

2

The Jesuit Conference sponsors two theological centers-Jesuit School of Theology Berkeley in Berkeley, Calif. and Weston Jesuit School of Theology in Cambridge, Mass.-that prepare both religious and laity for ministry in the Catholic Church. Within that collaborative setting, the Society prepares its own scholastics for ordination to the priesthood.

The religious vows that Jesuits commit themselves to observe: poverty, chastity and obedience. Some say the top 2 per cent of Jesuits take a secret blood oath or a secret fourth vow, pledging allegiance to Lucifer. This blood oath has always been denied by the Jesuit hierarchy.

10 & 1

The number of provinces in the United States. Although each province has its own administrative headquarters, the 10 provinces are organized to promote common goals and oversee national projects. The Jesuit Conference offices in Washington, D.C. provide liaison service among the ten U.S. provinces and various national associations and works. The Conference offices also serve as a direct communications link between U.S. Jesuits and the international headquarters of the Society in Rome. Leadership of the Jesuit Conference rests with a national board made up of the ten U.S. provincial superiors and the Jesuit Conference president, who is elected by the provincials. Assisting the president are an executive secretary and national secretaries for Jesuit formation, financial resources, social ministries, international and refugee ministries and communications.

26

The average age of Jesuit scholastics worldwide.

54

The average age of all Jesuits worldwide

29

The number of General Superiors in the history of the Society, beginning with its founder St. Ignatius Loyola. The General Superior lives in Rome and is immediately accountable to the Pope. Father Peter-Hans Kolvenbach, a Dutch Jesuit who worked for 25 years in the Middle East, was elected the 29th Jesuit General in September, 1983 by Jesuit delegates to the 33rd General Congregation from all the Society's provinces and vice provinces. A General Superior is elected to serve without limit on his term of office.

93

The number of Jesuit provinces, along with 13 dependent regions, that make up the basic organizational unit of the Society of Jesus. Each province is headed by a provincial superior who is appointed by and reports directly to the Society's General Superior. Jesuit provinces are grouped into eleven regional "assistancies," each with an "assistant" to Father General in Rome.

Editor's Note: Hope you enjoyed our first public confession together and look forward to talking with you next week by the shores of beautiful Brushy Creek. I truly look forward to learning and hearing from everyone, including the higher-ups in the Church and government who are hiding behind a veil of secrecy.

Miracles and Phony Mother Mary Apparitions Mean Big Money. Why Is Jesuit Bishop Pavol Hnilica Always Lurking In the Background When Mother Mary Appears? Does He Want To Be Close To God Or Just Close To The Money? Some say Bishop Hnilica is a bagman for the Black Pope, involved in ripping-off the Vatican Bank and deceiving people while earning millions from contrived Mother Mary sightings.

22 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

When miracles happen and bank scandals erupt, Jesuit Bishop Pavol Hnilica always seems to be nearby, waiting to seize the moment and pocket a quick buck.

Bishop Hnilica, the Slovak Bishop who has worked to spread the message of Fatima in Russia, claims to be a man of God, a holy man sworn to the vows of poverty, chastity and obedience.

But others claim he is nothing more than a bank swindler and street thug who ripped off money from the Vatican Bank for his Jesuit masters and created phony apparitions of the Virgin Mary, pocketing millions of dollars in the process for the wealthy and corrupt Jesuits.

In fact, some say he might as well be the devil himself, as his involvement in the 1982 Vatican Bank scandal and the murder of Roberto Calvi, chairman of the Bank of Ambrosiano, is enough evidence to lay considerable doubt on Hnilica's priestly character and supposed holy intentions.

And for a supposed Bishop and man of the cloth, the following charges are shocking.

In 1993, he faced allegations by an Italian court over the Vatican Bank rip-off, connecting him to members of the P2 Masonic Lodge and the Mafia, as he was tagged by insiders as the Jesuit General's controller and manipulator of the deceased former head of the Vatican Bank, Archbishop Paul Marcinkus, who died two three months ago in Phoenix.

At one point in the investigation Hnilica even faced three and a half years in jail for his part in the largest bank heist in Italian history, but later through backdoor payoffs and bribery he escaped any jail time, being exonerated of all charges without even as much as a slap on the wrist from the Back Pope or Pope John Paul II.

Further, this never stopped the globetrotting Bishop from continuing his "scamming ways", as he traveled all over the world to stimulate many types of alleged "apparitions", including "Lady of all Nations" apparition in Amsterdam and the Virgin Mary apparition in Bosnia at Medjugorje.

With business booming in the phony miracle trade, in 1997 Hnilica started a new magazine, the luxuriously edited "Triumph of the Heart", which especially propagated Amsterdam. Together with his community,

"The Family of Mary" and his associate Father P. Sigl, he even succeeded in infiltrating the house and chapel of Ida Peerdeman, the woman who originally was set up to propagate the visions of the Mother Mary.

To understand the Our Lady of the Nations scam orchestrated by Hnilica in recent years, it's important to know the visions of Peerdeman from 1945-1959 were always held in grave doubt by high ranking church members until may 31, 2002, when local Bishop Punt came to the conclusion that the messages of Amsterdam were not of suspicious origin.

And according to Mark Waterinckx who filed a formal objection to Church officials, the local Bishop was strong-armed by Hnilica and other Jesuits in order to keep "the holy cash cow" making money no matter what evidence surfaced to the contrary.

"According to the 'Criterion of the Holy Office (Card. Seper 1978),' the facts of any apparition case have to be examined thoroughly before hand. This was done repeatedly by several former bishops of Haarlem, always with a clear, negative result," said Waterinckx in his formal objection filed Aug. 28, 2002.

"This was always confirmed by Rome. In the text of 25.08.1961 (prot. nr.511/53) the Holy Office writes: "that the whole matter is closed and there is no room for further action". See, amongst others, the texts of the Holy Office of 24.05.1972, 25.05.1974 and 26.04.1987).

"However, under the influence of Bishop Hnilica, who has been involved with the propagation of a number of non-recognized and even condemned "alleged apparitions," i.e., Teresa Lopez, of Denver, also Vassula Ryden, and Medjugorje) and Rev. Father P. Klos (now suspended by Cardinal Simonis and revoked by his s.s.s. order), the public devotion to Mary under the title "Lady of all Nations" was authorized by Bishop Bomers and assistant Bishop Punt on 31.05.1996. At this time a distinction was expressly made between the title and the "apparitions" and "messages". No judgment was passed about the supernatural character of the "apparitions" and the contents of "the messages".

Regarding Bishop Punt's decision to authorize the Amsterdam apparition as valid, Waterinckx continued, lambasting Church authority for not controlling Hnilica and Bishop Punt for lying about organizing an official commission of inquiry before validating the Amsterdam apparitions.

"In my letter of 10.03.1999 to Bishop Punt, at that time apostolic administrator of Haarlem, I requested that I be heard by the commission of inquiry about Amsterdam," said Waterinckx. "On 23.05.1999, Bishop Punt declared there will be no inquiry about the authenticity of the "apparitions". It only is a question of making an inventory of the "fruits"...

"In my letter of 01.10.1999, I expressed my surprise about the fact that Bishop Punt was not interested in an inquiry concerning the authenticity of the "apparitions" of Amsterdam. I again proposed that I be heard by his "fruits-inquiring-commission". On 26.10.1999, Bishop Punt answered that, when his commission would be installed he would not object in any way to my being heard. He also wrote that the question about the authenticity could not be answered without Rome.

"On 31.05.2002, Bishop Punt suddenly declared the origin of the "apparitions" of Amsterdam to be supernatural. My Conclusion: Bishop Punt has NOT been loyal to the utterances of previous bishops and towards Rome. He REFUSED to start a commission of inquiry concerning the authenticity. He did NOT keep his word to let me testify.

Waterinckx also objected to the credibility of Peerdeman's 56 supposed apparitions during a 15 year period, saying she was deluded and compromised while questioning her character and motives. Further he objected to the many outrageous messages given supposedly given by the Virgin Mary and subsequently passed around as New World Order propaganda.

From testimonies collected during the long period during which she worked for the firm Boldoot it seems Ida Peerdeman behaved in a rather egocentric and pretentious way rather than with humility," said Waterinckx. "She demanded to be treated with all respect BECAUSE she had been chosen by heaven to be a seer. Sometimes she remained absent from her work because she expected an "apparition" of the "Lady". Because of her unpredictable and arrogant behaviour she was finally dismissed. In 1946 Ida's employer died. In Mr. Boldoot's inheritance was found a first version of the "messages" to Ida, called the "Boldoot Visions".

"In a later version - the notorious "Blue Booklet" - changes had been made. Also some striking out had been used. Perhaps this was because some of the first visions contained too much nonsense. Amongst other points, it is said the "Lady of all Nations" made a movement suggesting she will undress herself (07.10.1945). Also there is the example of Ida allegedly seeing the bellicose General von Hentsz appear; or saying that the Dutch Government must keep its power in Dutch India; or that under the reign of king Leopold, Belgium would split, etc...

"Ida Peerdeman had her own contact person in the Vatican, namely the Dutch priest, Mgr. Van Lierde who, for a long time had officiated as the Pope's sexton. This Mgr. Van Lierde was well known for his contacts with a number of alleged "seers." He even entered into a mystical marriage with the Canadian Marie-Paule Giguère, who founded "Mary's Army" after she had left "The Legion of Mary". Her movement was forbidden by the Canadian Bishops' conference in 1987. At the same time the DEVOTION and the PRAYER of the "LADY OF ALL NATIONS" WAS FORBIDDEN (cf. Canon 839, par. 2)."

Regarding the suspicious messages from Mary, he added:

"The "Lady" said that the successor of Pius XII would proclaim the dogma ("message" of 19.02.1958). Pope John XXIII REFUSED to do so.

"The "Lady" said Ida Peerdeman's bishop (at that time bishop Huibers) would give his consent to build the church the "Lady" had shown to Ida. ("message" of 31.05.1954). This did NOT happen.

"On 29.03.1946, the "Lady" clenched her FIST. On 10.12.1950 the "Lady" obliged Ida to clench her FIST and it is as if the "Lady" herself banged on the table with her fist. (the humble Virgin as a rebellious feminist?)

"The "Lady" says: "In Manchuria a terrible insurrection will break out ("message" of 10.12.1950)

"The "Lady" says: "The Order is red with blood" (idem)

"In the new church to be built, the "Lady" shows Ida the altar of the "Lady of all Nations," which must be on the SAME height as the main altar ("message" of 20.03.1953). My only conclusion is that the so-called "messages" of Amsterdam which are sensational, and full of absurd things and false predictions."

Finally, Waternincxk strongly objected to Hnilica's manipulations, but it should be noted the formal complaint filed in 2002 never was acted upon by the Vatican, as Hnilica has been allowed to scam people in other apparitions like at Medjugorje in Bosnia.

"In 1997 Bishop Hnilica, with the consent of both Bishop Bomers and Bishop Punt, organized the first international conference in Amsterdam. There he maintained that the "messages" of Amsterdam contained the third secret of Fatima. His assistant Fr. Sigl declared the "messages" of Amsterdam to be authentic, but at the same time said he did not want to anticipate the judgment of the Church...

"During the second Amsterdam meeting in 1998 a letter, signed by the Prioress of the Coimbra Carmel, was read, in which she joined with the prayers in Amsterdam. This was applauded. It was interpreted as Sister Lucia of Fatima's approval of the "apparitions" in Amsterdam. Yet later on (on 21.12.1998) the same Prioress wrote "that somebody from Amsterdam had begged her to send such a letter and that Sister Lucia was NOT making any statements about Amsterdam, about which she scarcely knew anything.

"During the third meeting in Amsterdam in 1999 a group which PRETENDED to be members of the Austrian "Blue Army" of Fatima handed over two statues of the Amsterdam "Lady" (having similar features as Our Lady of Fatima) to Bishop Punt with the request that he crown them with a little crown "blessed" by the Pope. Apparently the Pope did not actually bless these crowns for that specific purpose. The International Secretariat of the World Apostolate of Fatima let me know later on that they had NO section of the Blue Army in Austria, and that their so-called leader, Fernando Andreotta was unknown to them. Before this, the management of the Fatima Apostolate in the Netherlands had expressly asked bishop Punt NOT to misuse the name of Fatima during the Amsterdam manifestation.

"After the fourth Amsterdam conference in 2000, it was said that a fifth one would NOT be organized. Yet in 2001, the international conferences were replaced by a multiple national Amsterdam meetings in many separate countries, thus allowing people to be further manipulated.

"My final conclusion is Bishop Punt made a serious error in recognizing the Amsterdam "apparitions" (under Hnilica's command). He has ignored the well-founded negative judgments of all his predecessors and Rome. In doing this it can be argued that he has created much future trouble for the Church, and also that he has acted in a subjective, imprudent, and even irresponsible way.

"In the name of those many faithful Catholics of common sense and a still healthy Biblical Marian devotion, I urgently ask for the ANNULMENT of Bishop Punt's recognition (31.05.2002) of the "apparitions" in Amsterdam and the ANNULMENT of the recognition (31.05.1996) of the public devotion (title, picture, painting, prayer). My only aim is to serve the truth and the Catholic Church."

The Vatican Is A Cesspool of Satanism With Masonic Lodge Connections, According To List Of Bishops, Archbishops And Cardinals Affiliated With Secret Societies

It's time Americans realize all roads lead back to the Vatican when it comes to stopping the Illuminati's take over of the United States. The list below of high ranking Church members involved in Masonic Lodges is shocking, as it is a direct violation of Canon Law 2335, leading to direct expulsion from the Church.

21 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

For centuries The Vatican realized 'secret satanic societies' had declared a hidden diabolical war on the Church, as Catholicism was one of the main obstacles preventing Illuminati world domination.

The Church responded by condemning the societies and making laws for its protection, including Canon Law 2335 expressly declaring "any Catholic who joined a secret society became excommunicate, ipso facto."

But in 1976 shocking news spread across St. Peter's Square like a damning wind, as a list of high-ranking Bishops, Archbishops and Cardinals were listed as secret society members in a journal called the Borghese.

Although the American public never heard a word, the presence of some of the evil enemies in the Church had been identified, as the Borghese article detailed a list of Luciferian or Satan worshippers embedded within the Church's hierarchy. The article listed names, dates and code names of more than 125 prelates, but nothing happened with those implicated ignoring the charges without even issuing a straightforward denial.

In 1976, Americans wouldn't even have blinked an eye at the satanic infighting going on inside the Vatican, dismissing the story as a religious struggle with little effect on world affairs.

But in the last 30 years much has changed, as the U.S. teeters on the brink of a spiritual war, many people now realizing that satanic spiritual controllers have taken a firm hold on their government and the future and destiny of their country.

With that in mind, it's important to identify the hidden evil hand destroying the Church, as the diabolical plan of word domination and genocide draws near and now has a direct aim on the Western civilization.

The enemy of the Church, now residing as the enemy within the U.S. government, has been defined in many ways, including conspirators of silence and the occult, worshippers of Satan and those, for all practical purposes who fall in between, saying the Church must accept an alliance with Satan as he completes God.

To understand this alliance concept a principle archivist of this philosophy went to great lengths to address Pope Pius XII in 1943, saying:

"I am pleased to say that we, possessed of a critical spirit, are servants of Satan. You defend truth, and are servants of God. The two masters complete each other, and need each other. You would exterminate us. Be careful! The death of Satan will mark the agony of your God. You must accept the alliance with Satan, and admit that he completes God."

But who are the spiritual controllers, pulling the satanic puppet strings and leading America headlong into World War III?

Whoever they are, it would be wise to trace the connections and relationships of every name listed below, as the masters of deception hiding behind the black robes of the Church always align themselves with third parties of wealth and political power in order to reach their goal of world domination.

Although some of those listed below have died and encompasses the more important Church figures in Italy, it is shocking to see just how the Vatican has become a cesspool of secret societies and worship, involving members of most of the Church's separate and distinct orders, including the Jesuits. The following names of high ranking Church figures have been verified as belonging to Masonic Lodges taken from the Italian Register:

Agostino, Cardinal Casaroli. Secretary of State. Prefect of the Sacred Congregation of Public Affairs, and of the Sacred Congregation of Bishops, and of the Pontifical Commission for the Revision of Canon Law. Member of the Commission for Russia and of the Commission for Latin America. The most influential prelate in the Vatican after the Pope, whose place he takes during the absence of the latter. He is known as the 'Kissinger of Vatican diplomacy'. Initiated into a secret society September 28th, 1957. Secret code name Casa.

Leon Joseph, Cardinal Suenens. Primate of Belgium. Member of the Pontifical Commission for the Revision of Canon Law. Was active in the Sacred Congregation of Propaganda Fide, the Sacred Congregation of Rites and Ceremonies, and the Sacred Congregation of Seminaries and University Studies. He was a delegate and Moderator of the Second Vatican Council, and he has been associated with Protestant Pentecostalism, that reduces people to revivalist hysteria. Initiated June 15th, 1967. Code name Lesu.

Jean, Cardinal Villot. He was Secretary of State to Paul VI, and Camerlengo (the Chamberlain who takes over affairs at the Vatican on the death of a Pope). Prefect of the Sacred Congregation for Religious and Secular Institutes, and administrator of the Patrimony of the Holy See. He came of a family which has produced over the last two hundred years, from father to son, Grand Masters of secret societies including the Rosicrucians. Records show that he was initiated into a secret society on August 6th, 1966, and that in the hope of avoiding identification he was given two code names, Jeani and Zurigo.

Achille, Cardinal Lienart. Bishop of Lille. He was formerly a captain in the French Army, and a life-long ultra-Liberal. He led the progressive forces at the Second Vatican Council, on which account it was said that 'his ideas were redder than his robes'. Shortly before his death he startled those in the room by suddenly exclaiming: 'Humanly speaking, the Church is dead.' Initiated October 15th, 1912. Code name could not be verified.

Ugo, Cardinal Poletti. Vicar-General of the diocese of Rome, and so controller of all the clergy in the city. Member of the Sacred Congregation of Sacraments and of Divine Worship. Did Black Pope Order And Help Orchestrate 9/11? Or Is The Jesuit General What He Says He Is: A Holy Man, Serving God While Leading The Largest And Most Powerful Order in The Catholic Church?

Author of Vatican Assassins III, Eric Phelps, explores the true motives of Jesuit General Pete Hans Kolvenbach, as well as exploring his connection to 9/11.

20 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

According to author Eric Phelps, Peter Hans Kolvenbach, the Jesuit General known as the Black Pope, ordered the 9/11 attacks assisted by a military advisor to warn of any mistakes and a confessor at his side to ease his conscience to absolve any sins.

The deadly plan, claims Phelps, was carried-out with the advice and consent of his general staff, composed of five assistants, each representing a hemisphere with many advisory Provincials, including 10 in the United States.

Further, success was guaranteed by total cooperation and obedience from New York Archbishop Edward Cardinal Egan through his obedient Central Intelligence Agency, the National Security Agency, the Secret Service, Military Intelligence, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and the Mafia.

Phelps also claims, through decades of research shunned by the press, the same gang of criminals and agencies worked together before in carrying out the Kennedy assassination and cover-up under the control of their former master, Jesuit trained Francis Cardinal Spellman.

Most people when reading Phelps accusations in his latest third edition of the Vatican Assassins - new and starting one like the Jesuits being thrown out of Iraq in 1969 leading to a rash of assassinations of top Iraqi leaders - remained either wide-eyed with disbelief since its difficult to fathom men of the cloth could be so diabolical and ruthless.

However, without hesitation or qualification, Phelps research has uncovered the top two per cent of the more than 21,000 Jesuits priests making up the largest worldwide Catholic Order of the Society of Jesus actually worship another god - Lucifer - after taking a blood oath on top of their priestly vows of poverty, chastity and obedience.

Since 9/11, the general consensus among truth seekers claim the WTC and Pentagon attacks were an inside U.S. government job, claiming the Zionist- controlled Council on Foreign Relations aided and abetted in the mass murder.

However, only a few courageous souls, including Phelps have suggested the Zionist Jews and the Council on Foreign Relations, including obedient U.S. government officials who have also taken the Jesuit blood oath through membership in Freemasonry, the Knights of Malta and other satanic cults, are actually controlled by a higher spiritual power, the evil power being the hierarchy of the Jesuit military-minded order.

And according to Phelps and other researchers dismissing the New World's plans for genocide and World War III without including the top spiritual controllers, the Jesuits, is akin to trying to run top notch gourmet restaurant without a chef.

Regarding the real reason 9/11 took place, Phelps said in a recent article "because the appointed time has arrived for the Jesuit General to destroy both the Dome of the Rock and the Al Aqsa Mosque in Jerusalem, secretly using his CIA/Nazi-trained, Masonic Zionist Mossad in conjunction with his CIA/Nazi-trained, Masonic Islamic Intelligence Agencies, including Osama bin Laden's MAK and Pakistan's ISI, while shrouded in the confusion of a huge aerial war yet to come. This will enable the General's crusading Knights Templars (the present day Shriner Freemasons) to rebuild Solomon's Temple - for the Papal Caesar in Rome's Vatican.

"And how could the Black Pope destroy these Moslem Mosques, they comprising the third most important Islamic religious site in the world behind Saudi Arabia's Mecca and Medina, without causing an uncontrollable Moslem holy war, called a "jihad", resulting in the destruction of Pope Pius XII's creation of Zionist Israel? (Remember, Israel was admitted into the New York-based United Nations in 1949 through the efforts of Jesuit-trained Francis Cardinal Spellman - the darling of Pope Pius XII who, after his Jesuits carried out the Jewish Holocaust in Europe and then driving the survivors to Palestine, intended, under the guidance of his Jesuit confessor, Augustin Cardinal Bea, to make Jerusalem an international city - while governed by the Papal Caesar's Chaim Weizmann and his Masonic Jewish Zionists.)

"The Black Pope must cause a war using a country he also wishes to further destroy. Enter the "Holy Roman" Fourteenth Amendment American Jesuit Empire created in 1868 on the ruins of George Washington's Calvinist Republic, the last political stronghold of the Protestant Reformation with freedom of conscience, freedom of speech and freedom of the press."

Specifically, the devious 9/11 plan has been a topic of interest for more than four years with many scenarios being offered, but none have added the spiritual ingredient of the Jesuits.

Here is the Jesuit General Kovenbach's plan, according to Phelps's research:

"In synchronizing his worldwide overt and covert factions to work the Order's evil ends of the Vatican's Counter-Reformation in restoring the Papal Caesar as the absolute Universal Monarch of the World," wrote Phelps, adding "the Black Pope used his Masonically-controlled, fanatically anti-Jewish Race, Islamic Intelligence operatives under the domestic control of the CIA (Osama bin Laden having been directed, financed and trained by the CIA for at least ten years.

"Just like Jesuit-trained and CIA-financed Fidel Castro before he, like bin Laden, became a false enemy of the CFR-controlled American government) to be openly and notoriously instructed as Islamic pilots at the Venice Airport (a Florida facility used by the CIA since 1948) in order for Archbishop Egan's controlled American Press to spread the prepared news release that the doomed airliners were hijacked by "Arab terrorists" in the employ of Osama bin Laden when in fact, to the horror of the American pilots, the airliners had been taken over and guided to their targets, remotely controlled by American Military Intelligence operatives overseen by the Black Pope's CIA/NSA.

"The Mussulmans in training never boarded the airliners involved in the September attacks evidenced by the absence of Islamic names on all four passenger lists. There was no fight between the passengers and the "hijackers" on flight 93, as reported by the deceived wife of the late Jeremy Glick.

"For flight 93 was shot down by an F-16 fighter, blowing off its wing which landed at least six miles away from the main wreckage! And if the inexperienced "hijackers" had boarded all four airliners, the novices never would have been able to navigate the planes into the targets unless they had been crack fighter pilots according to a group of highly professional, both civilian and military, American aviators.

"Archbishop Egan's CFR-controlled American Press then placed the blame for these acts of high treason and murder squarely on the shoulders of the Black Pope's Saudi prince and CIA operative, Osama bin Laden, including his al-Qaeda Network secretly working for the Jesuit General's International Terrorist Network. Tens of thousands of "heretic and liberal" Americans perished, thereby justifying a war between the Moslem World and 'the Great Satan'."

"Although many have agreed the world is involved in a spiritual battle, Americans have failed to connect the deceptive dots, clinging to the shallow theory of a Muslim, Christian and Jewish battle without considering the possibility of a more demonic presence actually pulling the puppet strings.

Trying to unveil the black mask of secrecy worn by the Black Pope and his Illuminati minions, Phelps draws a conclusion worth considering, conclusions that should be open to public debate not hidden in the annals of untold stories.

"The institutions to be destroyed on September 11, 2001 were the Banking and Military centers of "the Great Satan" - the Pope's World Trade Center and the Pentagon overseen by his Knights of Malta - supporting and protecting the Pope's Zionist government of Israel.

"There, the Jewish People, in the midst of whom are the Lord's beloved Jewish Race, known as "the holy seed" with Biblical promises yet to inherit including the fulfilling of the Abrahamic and Davidic Covenants under their returning Messiah, the Lord Jesus Christ, have been set up to be ultimately betrayed, as they are unknowingly living under the secret government of the Black Pope, publicly overseen by his Masonic Jewish Zionists in conjunction with certain of his Masonic Talmudic Rabbis, who betrayed their own Jewish People, both racially and religiously, into Hitler's Death Camps during World War II.

"Its subterranean storehouse of gold quite possibly having been previously removed to the New York Federal Reserve Bank, the World Trade Center was sacrificed, internally, using surgically placed Composition C5 charges detonated by the New York Archbishop, Edward Cardinal Egan, through his unified American Intelligence Community.

The Black Pope now, according to Phelps, has a perfect war orchestrated between two peoples he wishes to destroy.

"For both Peoples, the White and Black Protestants and Baptists along with the Jewish Race of North America, and the Semitic Moslems of the Middle East, are condemned by the Jesuits' evil and wicked Council of Trent, they having been historically the greatest enemies of the Jesuit Order's "infallible" Pope, who, since the days of Innocent III (1215), has claimed to be the one true God on earth," said Phelps.

Chemical Weapons Trailers Found In Iraq Planted By Joint UK/US Effort To Deceive Public About WMD, According To Credible British Source

Dr. David Kelly, esteemed microbiologist and international weapons inspector, told Observer reporter before his 2003 untimely death, the laboratory weapons found in the Iraqi were fakes.

19 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The two chemical weapons trailers found in the Iraqi desert in 2003 by U.S. forces were purposely planted by a joint UK/US effort to deceive the public, according to a British source who worked on the trailers in 2003 at a U.S. Army workshop.

This new evidence, never before released, comes on the heels of a Washington Post report last week, stopping short of saying the Bush and Blair administrations planted the weapons purposely.

But the report claimed a secret Pentagon fact-finding mission to Iraq already concluded that the trailers had nothing to do with biological weapons, a report given to the White House May 27, 2003, two days prior to Bush's public statement.

However, a secret fact-finding mission to Iraq already concluded the trailers had nothing to do with biological weapons. More damaging to Bush and revealing his lies to the American people about WMD, leaders of the Pentagon-sponsored mission transmitted their unanimous findings to Washington in a field report on May 27, 2003, two days before the president's statement.

The contents of the three-page field report and a 122-page final report three weeks later remain classified, as the White House refuses to release the information or reveal the names of the experts who participated in the reports.

But for nearly a year after the report was released intelligence officials continued to publicly assert that the trailers were weapons factories, justifying the Iraqi invasion.

With the Bush administration trying to cover its tracks by the damaging report released by nine U.S. and British civilian experts dispatched to Baghdad by the Defense Intelligence Agency, the new information about the purposeful planting of the trailers, if proven true, should prove beyond a reasonable doubt the Bush administration's motives for going to war were contrived and wrong.

The British source, with close government ties speaking under complete anonymity, claims to have spoken with one of the British technicians called upon by the U.S. to work on construction of the supposed chemical weapons trailers.

"In April 2003 the Army called on my friend for technical assistance during the assembly in Kuwait in Army workshops," said the source this week, speaking from near London. "I am told that the trailers probably came from a manufacturer in Germany, and the parts for the chemical apparatus from Czechoslovakia.

"Presumably then these trailers with integral chemical plants were then 'planted' out in the desert by the Brits to be 'found' a few days later. In fact these are almost certainly the same trailers for which a friend of mine designed the chemical plants in 1991 for a UK firm, but that were not ordered by the MoD at that time. They were intended as mobile plants for burning-off waste chemicals at 1200 Celsius found in the desert.

"Unless such tangible evidence was found in 2003 after there having had to be a War then Blair and Bush would have been in real trouble. I am now trying to find out the ID of the UK defense contractor who was tasked with arranging all of this.

"It was probably done in-haste as a cost-plus contract, and as an extra to another legit-contract the supplier had running with the MoD at the time. In which case it could have been easily covered-up in the books, say as 'support equipment'.

"The contractor would be told by a Minister or even the Prime Minister to allocate a project manager to a covert and special government project and all supplier invoices that he approved would be charged as extras against the aforementioned legit-contract.

"We think that Marconi was probably the most likely as they put boxes with radar equipment on the same style proprietary trailers.

Further, information has surfaced that another motive for Dr. David Kelly's July 17, 2003 untimely death, according to the source, may have been the Iraqi weapons inspector's knowledge that the laboratory trailers were fakes.

"I have learned from the horse's mouth that the International Weapons Inspector who told the Observer in 2003 that the laboratory trailers were fakes was in fact Dr. David Kelly," said the source.

Kelly was found dead a short time later, his body found with the left wrist slit in a secluded lane on Harrowdown Hill.

Kelly, the UK's premier microbiologist, was in the center of the controversy, identified as the 'leak' in information about the true intentions behind Bush and Blair's illegal contrived and illegal war in Iraq.

While the Hutton inquiry in the British Parliament calls Kelly's death a suicide and the national media fail to investigate leads to the contrary, there are numerous crime scene inconsistencies and red flags showing Kelly probably was assassinated before he could go public with his damaging information.

Both the British and U.S. governments have continued to deny any wrongdoing regarding manipulating or planting any bogus WMD evidence to deceive the public, as a spokesman for the CIA and the Defense Intelligence Agency refused to comment on the specific findings of the technical report, as well as reports coming out of England the weapons trailers were planted.

Masters Of Deception Hard At Work Stirring The Pot Of Hatred; National Security Analyst For 35 Years Says Americans Need To Wake-Up And Fight "The Enemy Within"

Passionate about exposing government lies about American POW's, Dr. Joe Douglas author of the book 'Betrayed' says Americans can't expect a redress of grievances through governmental channels, claiming all major scandals like 9/11 and the Iraq War will be allowed to 'die a normal death' by our corrupt leaders.

18 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The masters of deception are hard at work, stirring the 'pot of hatred' all over the world as they create, manipulate and use extremist groups like puppets in a real live blood and guts horror show.

At any one moment any time of day, good street theatre is being staged. There were 40 killed in Iraq Monday in a shoot-out with insurgents, according to the compliant press. In Israel, a suicide bomber slaughtered a number of innocents, again reported as an act of unspeakable and incomprehensible terrorism.

Two months ago six Alabama churches were burned down, first reported as an act of arson by Jewish students. Following the church burnings, Muslims were incited to riot by scandalous cartoons printed by a Western newspaper, cartoons denigrating their religion.

Let's not forget the riots in Paris, the genocide in Africa and recently a mosque being leveled in Iraq. And while the masters of deception are busy painting the entire planet blood red, last week at a University of Colorado campus march, listen to the hatred brewing around the immigration issue from the opening three paragraphs of a Washington Times propaganda follow-up:

La reconquista, a radical movement calling for Mexico to "reconquer" America's Southwest, has stepped out of the shadows at recent immigration-reform protests nationwide as marchers held signs saying, "Uncle Sam Stole Our Land!" and waved Mexico's flag.

Even as organizers urged marchers to display U.S. flags, the theme of reclaiming "stolen" land remained strong. One popular banner read: "If you think I'm illegal because I'm a Mexican, learn the true history because I'm in my homeland."

"We need to change direction," said Jose Lugo, an instructor in Ethnic Studies at the University of Colorado at Boulder at a campus march last week. "And by allowing these 50,000, 50 million [immigrants] to come in here, we can do that."

Stories like this are typical of the times. It's happening all over the world: One religion, ethnic group or country inciting another through hatred and killing, leading eventually to a massive world wide conflict.

The trouble is the majority of placated Americans are buying the puppet show hook, line and sinker. The trouble is the masters of deception have convinced most everyone to fight the wrong enemy, forgetting about the real enemy within.

The trouble is the many scandals facing America perpetuating the downfall of the country, including 9/11, the Iraq War, the POW issue, the loss of civil rights with the Patriot Act and the corrupt Federal Reserve banking system, to name only a few, are all geared by the masters of deception to never be solved, endlessly remaining in the realm of public debate until the scandals die a natural death.

The deceivers, wearing phony hats of politicians, businessmen and clergy, have fooled most people but they haven't fooled one man, Dr. Joe Douglas, a national security analyst for over 35 years, who is telling Americans loud and clear to wake-up before it's too late.

According to Dr. Douglas, to defeat the enemy within, who has the middle class in its evil cross hairs, the American people need to change their strategy drastically, never again relying on its government or institutions for a redress of grievances.

"It just won't work any more and people are just wasting time and spinning their wheels if they think they are going to get justice for any of the major scandals facing this country by working through government channels," said Dr. Douglas last week on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal, adding he is convinced after looking at the facts the Iraq War is illegal and 9/11 was an inside job.

"It doesn't matter if you are talking about 9/11, the Iraqi War, the Patriot Act, the Fed Reserve or the issue I wrote about in my book, Betrayed, about how thousands of Americans have been purposely left behind enemy lines, put in gulags and then used for experimentation like guinea pigs.

"I hate to see people spin their wheels and waste their time. But the truth is never going to be found through the system since the enemy controls that system. And it's hard to get this across to the people due to the propaganda spread by the media

Dr. Douglas also emphasized that all truth movement groups from JFK to 9/11 have been infiltrated by government provocateurs in order to be controlled while the powers that be put on a "dog and pony show" for the masses, presenting a false case that justice is being served.

"If we could get at the truth at just one of the major scandals, then the rest of them would all come tumbling down like a house of cards," said Dr. Douglas, adding his book is trying to expose the government's cover-up and outright criminality involved in the POW issue.

Regarding his book, Betrayed, considered to be the definitive and most comprehensive look at the POW issue, Russell L. Blaylock recently wrote a review, explaining how the government succeeded in keeping the POW scandal a secret for so long:

"Sometimes in history, events of enormous brutality involving large numbers of people can be successfully kept secret from the general public for long periods of time. For example, in the case of Operation Keelhaul following World War II, hundreds of thousands of men, women and children were forcibly sent back to the Soviet Union by the United States and British governments to a certain death or enslavement in labor camps. It wasn't until Julius Epstein finally exposed this event that the world learned of this atrocity."

In the beginning of the book, Dr. Douglass chronicles the events that led to the abandonment of thousands of American soldiers to the Soviet Union following World War I, with full knowledge of the U.S. government, followed by the loss of 23,500 American GIs and 31,000 British soldiers to the Soviets following World War II.

Blaylock then posed the question: Why would our leaders betray tens of thousands of their best and bravest soldiers to a communist system that had murdered millions of its own citizens?

In his review, he came to this conclusion based on Dr. Douglas' research and writings:

After analyzing thousands of documents and interviewing numerous individuals, some of whom had direct access to many of the individuals responsible, including a communist official who was part of this ghastly program, Dr. Douglass could only conclude one of two things. First, that there were (and still are) agents working for the Soviet/Russian government burrowed deep in our own government in positions of power and influence. This is now known to be the case following release of the Verona intelligence files. And, second, that other misguided individuals high in the decision making process deluded themselves into believing that they were working for a greater good --- a peaceful merger with the Soviet state.

Ironically, this policy of betrayal continued through many presidents and their appointed officials. Over 8000 men were abandoned in Korea and as many as 5000 or more following the Vietnam War. In this disturbing yet fascinating book we learn of how men in positions of power --- intelligence organizations, the State Department, the National Security Council and the Pentagon --- all conspired, and continue to conspire, to keep this horrifying policy secret. Those who attempt to uncover these secrets, including the families of these abandoned men, are subjected to lies, deceit, character assassination, and even intimidation to keep them quiet. In some instances, suspicions of murder are also involved.

Witnesses to these events involve numerous intelligence officials, high-ranking North Vietnamese defectors, KGB and GRU officers, and American officials privy to highly classified intelligence, such as Col. Phil Corso. Of particular importance was General Major Jan Sejna, one of the highest-ranking defectors to ever come out of the communist system. Dr. Douglass spent years debriefing General Sejna and during those years they became close friends. The story General Sejna tells is one of the most horrifying ever told.

According to General Sejna, the taking of American citizens, both as soldiers and as civilians during the Cold War, to be used as guinea pigs was a matter of Soviet policy at least as early as 1950. Their purpose was to use these men to test numerous weapons of war, including chemical, biological and nuclear, in a series of ghastly experiments conducted both in the war zone, such as Korea and Vietnam, and in the Soviet Union itself, where the most sensitive experiments were conducted. Thousands of American POWs and civilians were captured, then shipped to the Soviet Union for this purpose.

During the Korean War and Vietnam, hundreds of American POWs were taken to special hospitals that were run by military intelligence. There they were subjected to surgical operations, including amputations, without anesthesia, injected with radioactive isotopes, biowarfare microorganism, and mind-control drugs.

The last of these, the mind-control drugs, eventually became the centerpiece of the Soviet long-range strategy against the West, especially the United States. The program began in earnest under Stalin and was expanded after Khrushchev took control in 1954. American POWs were shipped to Czechoslovakia, Cuba, East Germany and the Soviet Union for these experiments. Czechoslovakia was the major point of transfer for prisoners taken to the Soviet Union. General Sejna, who was chief of staff to the Minister of Defense and who ran the sensitive Defense Council secretariat, helped plan the operation and monitor its implementation. He personally witnessed the arrival of the American POWs in Prague and their eventual shipment to the Soviet Union. He also read the autopsy reports detailing the results of these experiments.

Most disconcerting is that thousands of these Americans were reported by numerous KGB and GRU eyewitnesses. Even President Yeltsin in 1992 acknowledged to press reporters that some were probably still alive in the Soviet gulags. Yet, even more upsetting was the knowledge that this was known at all levels of our own government, including the intelligence communities, the State Department, Defense, and White House. Officials in all these agencies have conducted a fifty-year unrelenting war, not on our enemies, but on those who would expose these policies and thus endanger the cover-up. Only those who have sought to learn and tell the truth have suffered.

*One of the most important parts of Dr. Douglass's book is the extensive details concerning the Soviet mind-control drug program and its accomplishments. In a previous book, Red Cocaine, The Drugging of America, Dr. Douglass exposed the world-wide drug problem we now face as having originated from a strategic war policy that had its beginnings during the Korean War. It was at this time, Khrushchev* realized that mind-control drugs, in combination with the illicit drug campaign, would allow the global communist revolution to succeed.

From the results of their experiments on American POWs, the Soviets were able to refine these drugs so that they could better manipulate their enemies. Some drugs allowed them to alter their enemies' beliefs, so as to convert enemies to friends, as was the case with Finland's Communist Party leaders. Others, so-called "chaos drugs," could cause riots and social breakdown. Still others could induce a state of total apathy, so that the POWs no longer were concerned about having to spend the rest of their lives in the filthy, dangerous Soviet gulag. Special "self-destruct" drugs were used against political opponents, so as to make them behave in ways that ruined their reputations. Of great concern was the Soviet idea of incorporating drugs designed to influence behavior and mental attitudes into illicit drugs and even commonly used prescription drugs, so as to affect millions.

UK And US Involved In Selling Illegal Weapons To Iran And Iraq, As 55 Million Pounds Traced to Government Coffers

Both the White House and 10 Downing Street trying to cover financial tracks in the illegal arms trade, showing governments on both sides of the Atlantic are facilitating the sale of weapons in the Middle East, weapons used to kill American and British soldiers.

17 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

British sources close to the undercover financing network of the illegal arms trade have traced payments totaling 55 million pounds during a seven year period during the Margaret Thatcher era, money going from government coffers to the arms dealers for weapons sent to Iran and Iraq.

For years, investigators have been trying to connect the dots to overseas companies fronting the arms trade despite a press and government black out, naming the Astra Group as one major player.

Generally, sources tracking the money claim the marching orders come from Washington to 10 Downing Street, both governments then utilizing overseas accounts and companies to ship arms to Iraq and Iran to fuel the ongoing Middle East conflict, an illegal operation being traced back to the Iraq-Iran conflict and Gulf War I.

According to observers overseas banks and arms companies are the "bank weapons of choice," being used since it keeps the illegal dealings under the American public's radar screen, where scrutiny is still more intense due to severity of Britain's Official Secrets Act. For a good overview of the illegal arms trade, complete with a list of companies and illegal commissions paid, see the Arctic Beacon's four part series, Blood Money: The Illegal Arms Trade at www.arcticbeacon.com

New information now surfacing, according to a confidential source close to the British government, claims the 55 million pounds used to fuel the Middle East provided by the UK and the U.S. for weapons used against British and American soldiers, was money transferred covertly from UK coffers via BMARQ of the Astra Group.

"It would appear that the Dept. of Trade and Industry (DTI) inspectors missed this schedule when they raided Astra and took files in the run-up to the Scott Inquiry that looked into the Arms to Iraq scandal," said the British source this week.

The source also verified significant amounts of money during the Thatcher era was laundered to a company called Casalee, a company moving arms to the Middle East owned by John Bredenkamp, an international arms and tobacco dealer operating out of an office at Sunningdale, UK.

"His principal operating company there is Breco," the source said. "They say that Bredenkamp also now has a London residence in Chester Sq., Belgravia that is just 3 doors away from Baroness Thatcher.

"It seems unlikely that a possible link will not be drawn between John Bredekamp as an arms and tobacco dealer and the two sets of high-profile Party Political donations, including the 1 million pounds that Tony Blair tried unsuccessfully to return immediately to Bernie Ecclestone on becoming Prime Minister in May 1997. The donor was said to be the tobacco industry."

New developments in the July 2003 murder of scientist and arms inspector, David Kelly, reveal one of the many reasons he may have been killed was due to his knowledge of covert research of the "black only bomb" in South Africa.

Although this has been reported on before in a Sunday Express 2004 article, new information is now linking the connection to his assignment directly from Thatcher and former Prime Minister John Major.

Kelly was said to be involved in the apartheid regime's most secret project. According to a previous London press account, Kelly was involved in Code-named Project Coast, trying to create a genetically engineered weapon to attack only the country's black population and to develop a vaccine to block human fertility in blacks.

Dr. Kelly had visited the project's headquarters soon after he was appointed in 1972 to be head of the microbiology department at Porton Down, Britain's top-secret biological warfare establishment in Wiltshire.

Another reason for Dr. Kelly's murder surrounds his knowledge of the B52 incident in Iran, where the U.S. is said to have drop-shipped or lost nuclear weapons in 1991 without reporting the incident to the United Nations authorities.

The British source provided new information about what Dr. Kelly really knew about the lost nuclear weapons, suggesting Vice President Dick Cheney had a very strong motive to keep Dr. Kelly silent about the B52 incident.

"We now know that Dr. David Kelly did in fact not know about the loss of the very big nukes from the B-52 plane," said the source. "Kelly only ever knew about the smaller battlefield / tactical nuclear bombs that were made by Armscor in South Africa and covertly shipped in 1990 from SA to Oman where they remained during Gulf War-1.

"In July 2003 when Kelly was murdered the fear in The White House (USA) must have been Kelly would claim that the WMD not found in Iraq during Gulf War-2 were in fact the (smaller) lost nukes. The media would then have deduced that the rumour of the B-52g plane having lost the very big nukes in 1991 was probably valid.

"This revelation would have been most untimely for The White House in summer 2003. It would have killed-off the campaign to re-elect GW Bush for 2004, just as it was about to start. It seems more likely that Kelly's assassins were U.S. Navy SEALs under the direction of Dick Cheney?

"At the time of Kelly's death, Tony Blair was in the USA being lauded with the announcement of a Congressional Gold Medal. It seems that Tony Blair is now having second thoughts about taking that medal. It could be interpreted as 'Judas-money' for Kelly's death. Tony Blair even now nearly 3 years on has never gone back to collect that Gold medal.

"I occasionally speak to Michael Shrimpton the International lawyer who claims to be a devotee of the Neo-Cons. This could explain why Shrimpton is always trying to shift the blame for Kelly's murder away from the USA and onto French military intelligence."

An Easter Sunday Illuminati Special: If You Want To Share A Good Glass Of 'Blood Red' With Baroness Philippine de Rothschild, Opus One Winery In The Napa Valley Is The Place To Go

A California researcher has located another Bohemian Grove, providing a guided tour of a devil worshipping compound fronting as a vinyard. The logo of Opus One is the two-headed Janus or the spirit who divides, the symbol being an important part of Illuminati mind control.

16 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

An Illuminati holiday story worth mentioning involves the Opus One Winery in Napa Valley, a place were some of the diabolical gang of madmen trying to take over the world are spending the Easter Weekend.

Opus One fronts as a vineyard, but actually is a satanic, deviling worshipping hideaway similar to Bohemian Grove, located just to the east and north of San Francisco.

According to an inquisitive California researcher, the land for Opus One, meaning First Work, was secretly purchased in the late 1960s, its construction shrouded in secrecy. The secret, satanic winery, according to wine tasters, is known for its light but refreshing chardonnay but its specialty is said to be a very dry and heavy "blood red."

"Strangely, the Napa Valley Register which reports all building activity remained extremely quiet about what was being built. From the air, the construction forms a Masonic square and compass," said the researcher in a 2003 fly-over of the Illuminati compound, built by Baron Rothschild and completed by his wife, the Baroness Philippine de Rothschild and famous winemaker Robert Mondavi, known to put just a touch of blood in his red wine during dinner.

"The entire project of buying the land, building Opus 1, and operating it has been shrouded in secrecy. The wineries in California when they open traditionally and normally are open to the public. The opening ceremonies of Opus 1 were shrouded in secrecy.

"The opening announcement was low key and only select people and select International media types were invited. This opening is extremely unusual for a winery in the Napa Valley area. Private guided tours are very hard to obtain of Opus 1, in contrast to the other wineries in Napa Valley. Further, the estate that the winery (temple) sits on is very protected and secluded. The wrought iron gates are always closed."

The inquisitive researcher, who later has a secret spy take a tour of the compound, said the inner theme of the numbers 3 and 6 runs throughout the large Opus I pyramid building, as well as the number 666. He added that little circles frequently appear throughout the compound, having Illuminati significance.

The inquisitive researcher, acting as an Illuminati holiday tour guide, provided this brief description of what lies inside the Luciferian holiday hideaway and some Illuminati history to go along with the devilish décor:

On the Inside hidden stairwells and other hidden features have been built in. The capstone of the pyramid has a rotunda where skylight penetrates the capstone and where viewers can get a view of the entire Napa Valley. There have numerous Rothschilds who have entered into the various Masonic rites. For Instance, Louis Rothschild was a 32° Scottish Rite Mason in Chicago during the 1890's.

The reason for this is that Freemasonry is used as type of early class for those who are in the Illuminati to get them familiar with the symbols of the Mystery religions and give them more practice with hand signals, rituals, and secrecy. Orchids, which are used by the Mothers of Darkness, are grown all over the area. Orchids are the only type of flower grown on the site, and they are cared for by apparently Mothers of Darkness who are dressed in all black, which is the standard color of garb of the Mothers of Darkness.

The pyramid was built with limestone from Texas. No doubt there is some occult significance to the site that the limestone came from. The limestone itself has fossils, which have been hidden from easy view for some reason. Remember the ancient Egyptian pyramids used limestone.)

Originally Opus I was scheduled to open around the Summer Solstice but the date was shifted to Wednesday, Oct. 30, 1991 which is the day before Halloween. Since the opening day, the Rothschilds have had events scheduled around Satanic high days. Those who are familiar with the occult know that these events are covers for Satanic rituals which are held secretly.

The land has wrought iron gates which are locked at all times. Some of the occult Items which private visitors saw within the pyramid were: a book on wine depicting orgies by Salvadore Dailey who is a Satanist, a blue-black picture with naked ritual dancers, and other strange occultic pieces of art (such as an oil painting of what looked like Satan).

Massive draconian oak doors are built facing the hail that leads to the room where wine is tasted. Mirrors abound in the place. The gilded art work on the mirrors is often Rococo. The Baroness personally designed and furnished the interior. The upside down peace sign is found designed in some of the furniture as barren trees. Two trees of life from Peru are by the fireplace. The tree of life is by the way very important to this level of the Illuminati. Visitors also can see three Mouton ceremonial drinking cups with ram and chairs which had the carvings on the front arms/legs of fully formed demons were found in one of the rooms.

One very important aspect the Illuminati tour guide didn't mention is that the logo of Opus One is the two-headed Janus or the spirit who divides, this symbol being an important part of Illuminati mind control.

Another thing the inquisitive researcher wanted to mention before leaving the inner sanctums of Opus One was that "the enemy has only images and illusions behind which he hides his true motives. Destroy the image and you will break the enemy."

Editor's Note: Being somewhat of wine tasting expert after spending more than six years in Italy, if you're looking for a good glass of "blood red", Opus One is to place to go.

Fitzgerald Probe Headed To Switzerland, Marc Rich, Vince Foster And At Least A Trillion Dollars Of Stolen U.S. Treasury Money By The Bush-Clinton Mob; Treasury Agent Leo Wanta, Sent To Arrest Rich, Tells What Really 'Went Down' In Switzerland

Wanta, the legally appointed trustor of $27.5 trillion dollars of money made at the end of the Cold War when the Soviet Currency was destabilized, is now tracing the funds, saying more than $750 billion has been traced as stolen in the biggest bank heist in U.S. history, orchestrated by the Illuminati-controlled Bush-Clinton mob.

15 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The Patrick Fitzgerald investigation is spilling over across the pond to Switzerland, trying to trace the bank swindling and dirty dealings of Clinton-Bush bagman and Mossad agent, Marc Rich.

Sources near Fitzgerald claim the crime-busting Chicago special prosecutor is delving into why Rich was tipped off and able to evade a 1993 arrest attempt, ordered by FBI director William Sessions.

Those watching the Plamegate investigation hope Fitzgerald is the 'real deal' and not just providing a neo con dog and pony show, but sources claim the investigation is now meticulously looking into bank swindles by the Bush-Clinton mob, amounting to more than a trillion dollars, involving money earmarked for the U.S. Treasury.

And bank account records - tracing more than $750 billion of missing or stolen money - have been already provided as public record by Leo Wanta, the former U.S. Treasury agent assigned by Sessions to put the finger on Rich. (See accounts listed below).

In a telephone conversation Friday, Wanta said he still keeps the official 1993 Rich arrest warrant, as proof-positive the events took place as he reported.

However, in a strange turn of events, Wanta was jailed for his efforts, placed for 134 days in a Swiss dungeon, as Rich was allowed to slip free in a move, according to Wanta, leading to the theft of hundreds of billions- if not trillions - of U.S. Treasury funds by the Bush-Clinton mob.

After Wanta was framed and put in jail, reports linking Hillary Clinton to dipping into the Wanta-controlled accounts were recently verified by overseas investigators.

Investigators claim the First Lady travelled to Grenada, ordering a bank transfer from Bank Crozier Limite, Grand Anse P.O. Box 1005, St George's Grenada, West Indies.

Although the amount Clinton pilfered is unknown, estimates are she withdrew approximately $250 million from a Leo Wanta-controlled account, an account to be transferred to the U.S. Treasury listed under Marvelous Investment Limited, bank account number A/C 374-250.

Wanta, released from a long jail term last October, also said this week in a telephone conversation he has provided new information to overseas investigators in an effort to uncover even more of the stolen money, as he is fast on the trail on the vast sum of money with the help of foreign investigators and sophisticated computer software

"They are now messing with my computer, but so far we've successfully traced well over a trillion dollars and there is more to come, I'm sure," said Wanta, adding the original source of the money came from a financial scheme he put together on behalf of President Ronald Reagan to destabilize the Soviet currency at the end of the Cold War, subsequently amassing a fortune now amounting to more than 27.5 trillion dollars.

"We did so well with what we did, Bush and Clinton wanted to copy our methods. When I didn't play all with them, they wanted me out of the way so they could get their hands on the money."

After the Cold War ended, the money was placed in overseas accounts, Wanta being appointed legal guardian of the fortune by President Reagan with the understanding it be returned to the American people to be used for schools, roads and even infrastructure improvements in Louisiana to bolster the inadequate levee system..

To Wanta's detractors and skeptics, a 2003 federal court ruling, docket no. 02-1363-A, dated April 15, 2003, by Federal Judge Bruce Lee affirmed Wanta's position as legal trustor with the obligation to return a major portion of the money after taxes and trustor expenses back to the U.S. Treasury.

But when Bush senior and Clinton took over the reins of the White House, according to Wanta, things changed, as the vast sum of money was treated more like their own personal slush fund instead of property of the American people.

And the story and fight for the money became downright ugly right about the first week in July 2003, a time when Fitzgerald is now supposedly entering the scene, as a part of the original probe into the outing of CIA agent Valerie Plame, leading to the arrest of White House lackey Lewis 'Scooter' Libby.

But in Switzerland that first week in July a lot more than the failed arrest of Rich arrest took place, including a visit by the late deputy White House counsel, Vince Foster, killed in a Washington park on his return to Washington D.C. on July 20, 1993.

According to Wanta, who recently appeared on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal, he said the events surrounding Rich and Foster went like this:

"I was ordered in my capacity as Treasury agent and appointed Ambassador to arrest Marc Rich and bring him back to the States. However, I found out he was tipped off by Mossad agents not to meet with me. Rich then escaped, fleeing Switzerland.

"At the same time, I was ordered to give Vince Foster $250 million dollars earmarked for the Childrens Fund. It took us a few days to make the proper transactions of roughly $81 million each and then Foster left with the money for Washington.

"Then, for no reason, I was shackled by Swiss authorities and put in a Swiss dungeon, where I ended up spending 134 days. I found out Vince had heard about what happened and made attempts through the State Department to find out what happened and to get me out. But the next thing I heard, a Swiss guard passed on a message that Vince Foster was dead.

"Then later Itzhak Rabin tried to help, sending a letter which I have retained as proof. However, when authorities got word he was traveling to Switzerland on my behalf, I was immediately flown to the States, where I was charged with a trumped up Wisconsin state income tax charge, leading to a 20 year jail term.

"I finally was released last October. I don't know why, but I am now in the process of trying to account for the 27.5 trillion as well as account for the stolen money. They, being Bush and Clinton, really wanted me out of the way all these years so I couldn't return the money, but they didn't expect the federal court ruling in 2003 which I filed and prevailed.

"It's interesting they haven't appealed and now time has run out. I know they don't want anyone to know about this story and that is why the press has stayed silent."

Although Wanta has no idea what happened to the $250 million Foster had in his possession when he left Switzerland, the Fitzgerald probe needs to connect the dots in order to determine the real purpose of the Childrens Defense Fund, chaired by Hillary Clinton, and said to be used as her own personal slush fund, as well as front for CIA covert domestic and foreign operations.

It's also interesting to note the FBI and Kenneth Starr investigation into Vince Foster's death never looked into to his meeting in Switzerland as well as fully investigating the importance and disappearance of the $250 million dollars in Foster's possession when he left Switzerland.

Further, it should be remembered Rabin also wanted to help Wanta, sending him a letter still in Wanta's possession. Investigators, who believe Foster was assassinated, also point out Rabin met the same fate, being assassinated as well in 1995.

Wanta's Accounting And Overseas Bank Investigator Notes:

THE WORLD'S BIGGEST-EVER BANKING HEIST

This was nothing less than the biggest bank heist in the history of humanity. No less than $742.5 billion of funds -- admittedly raised for what we consider to be thoroughly evil New Underworld Order purposes -- was misappropriated. Wanta, a servant of the US Presidency, was engaged in the fund-raising and speaks German when telephoned. This is the language of the high-level Illuminati. However Wanta is a technical operative, working, or so he always assumed, for the President of the United States.

Moreover we know that is loyalty to the presidency was exploited by the Illuminati, probably without (as is often the case with technicians) him understanding the broader picture, because he told Investigators in May 2004 that the funds had been raised to support the 'Global Security Environment', which, judging by the tone of his comments, he did not consider to be a worthy project. As a patriotic American, he was dismayed about the 'New World Order' generally

It should be noted, The United States government is the designated enforcement arm of the Illuminati and their associates (like Germany in WWI), who are engaged in the Judaic Masonic Program to impose the New Underworld Order.

That is why the United States has 700 bases worldwide which require massive continuing injections of liquidity and why Britain is constantly reducing its armed forces. This is part of the meaning of Leo Wanta's phrase 'Global Security Environment'. The Germans are surreptitiously doing the opposite to the British with their military as they have a special status in the New Underworld Ordnung. But that takes us into territory beyond the scope of this update in the geo-financial impasse surrounding Leo Wanta, a brave and loyal intelligence officer and servant of successive Presidents of the United States.

2.7% OF 527.5 TRILLION CREAMED OFF THE GIGA-FUNDING OPERATION

The following is summary of receipts identified in handwritten analytical notes performed by the distinguished US Secret Service Treasury agent, Leo Wanta, on some of the transactions involved in the giga-financing operation involving a colossal loan to the Illuminati from 200+ international banks of $27.5 trillion, to finance the 'Global Security Environment', a.k.a. the New Underworld Order, which is to be enforced by the United States as the sole enforcement, a.k.a. for the project. Sufficient funds were raised to bribe every policymaker, intelligence officer, ruler, Prime Minister, President and senior official for the whole of the 21st century. This fund is now worth $60-$70 trillion at a minimum -- and with collateral leverage, probably far more.

Cindy Sheehan Wants To Spend Easter With President Bush As Protestors Gather In Crawford For Peace Rally; But Bush At Last Minute Cancels Trip Home, Wanting To Spend The Holiday With People Who Paint Their Easter Eggs 'Blood Red'

Sheehan and thousands of others, including deputy Ambassador Mary Ann Wright and Daniel Ellsberg, are converging on Crawford, Texas, for a weekend anti-war rally called "the march to take back the heart and soul of America."

14 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Cindy Sheehan is in Crawford again, heading up a peace rally at the doorstep of President Bush's Texas White House.

Former Deputy Ambassador Mary Ann Wright is at her side, calling for an end to the Iraqi War and demanding a new investigation about what really happened on Sept. 11.

And Geoffrey Millard, a member of Iraqi Veterans against the War, is calling all Americans to attention, saying he swore to uphold the Constitution against all enemies foreign and domestic, including the ones now residing within the White House.

However, there will be one distinct missing person from the Crawford peace showdown this Easter weekend. And that one missing person, who hates hearing the word 'peace' more than anybody in the world, is President Bush, who at the last minute canceled his weekend holiday trip to Crawford, choosing to paint his Easter eggs 'blood red' with other less peaceful-minded folk.

"Even though we heard President Bush decided to cancel his trip, the message will get to him loud and clear that a majority of Americans want the killing to stop in this illegal war," said Sheehan Thursday on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal.

The California mother, who lost her son Casey in Iraq, has become a national figure of prominence for her steadfast opposition to war, her name becoming a household word and her cause of ending the war now supported by a majority of Americans.

"The issue isn't me and the terrible way I've been treated," added Sheehan, referring to her four arrests in the last year, including being tossed out of the Capitol Building during President Bush's state of the Union address and being manhandled by police recently as she and others staged a peaceful protest in front of the United Nations building in New York.

"The real issue is how badly the people of the United States are being treated and how they are being misled and lied to President Bush, who refuses to listen to the people, refuses to end the war and refuses to tell the truth about why we went to Iraq in the first place.

"There are no weapons of mass destruction and there continues to be no reason to be losing countless lives in this needless war. I urge everyone to join us this weekend in Crawford as we fight to save the heart and soul of America."

With that last statement, the outspoken war critic who formed a nationwide group called Goldstar Families for Peace, echoed the theme for the Easter weekend rally, as he "March to Save the Heart and Soul of America, began April 1 outside of Dallas to protest Exxon/Mobil headquarters and is ending in Crawford this weekend after marchers walked 125 miles across Texas to let Bush know "his lies won't be tolerated any longer."

Sheehan, Ambassador Wright and Millard, the Iraqi War veteran, are joining thousands of others in Crawford to unite under a common theme to end the illegal war while, at the same time, demanding accountability from a criminal government running roughshod over the American people in every way imaginable, including a crackdown on civil liberties, financial chaos, a disappearing labor market and gas prices going through the roof.

Regarding the loss of civil liberties, deputy Ambassador Wright told The Investigative Journal radio listening audience, besides the flawed Iraqi war policies, this was one of the major reasons she resigned her post "with a heavy heart" after 30 years of loyal diplomatic service in some of the most dangerous regions in the world.

In a sharply worded resignation letter given to then Secretary of State Colin Powell, she wrote:

"Further, I cannot support the Administration's unnecessary curtailment of civil rights following September 11. The investigation of those suspected of ties with terrorist organizations is critical but the legal system of America for 200 years has been based on standards that provide protections for persons during the investigation period. Solitary confinement without access to legal counsel cuts the heart out of the legal foundation on which our country stands.

"Additionally, I believe the Administration's secrecy in the judicial process has created an atmosphere of fear to speak out against the gutting of the protections on which America was built and the protections we encourage other countries to provide to their citizens.

"I have served my country for almost thirty years in the some of the most isolated and dangerous parts of the world. I want to continue to serve America. However, I do not believe in the policies of this Administration and cannot defend or implement them. It is with heavy heart that I must end my service to America and therefore resign due to the Administration's policies."

Since Wright left her State Department post, she has been an active war critic who has taken to the streets in protest, being arrested twice, including one of the 12 people arrested last August in Crawford for refusing to leave a roadside ditch near the President's ranch.

On Thursday afternoon, marchers converged on the Crawford courthouse to protest the illegality of the August arrest of Wright and others, saying their constitutional rights to assemble were violated by an indiscriminate enforcement of local ordinance unduly silencing freedom of speech.

The rally continues through the weekend with speakers scheduled, including the famous whistle blower and activist, Daniel Ellsberg, who arrived in Crawford Thursday to protest the illegal Iraqi War.

Mass Graves Of Children Found Near Montreal; Another Duplessis Orphan Tells Of Being Tortured As A Child In CIA Experimentation Programs Using Nazi Doctors

Pierre Sampson, now 60, is calling for justice an an open investigation to stop the murder of innocent children in government sponsored child experimentation programs. More than 50,000 children said to be illegally experimented but crooked officials on both sides of the border blocking investigation.

13 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Another Duplessis Orphan has come forward with horror stories, including electro shock therapy, straight jacket sessions and mind altering drugs injections after being subjected to illegal government experimentation programs as a young child.

Pierre Sampson, 60, of Vancouver, Canada endured the torturous treatment for six long years until at the age of 14 when he finally escaped.

But thousands of other Duplessis Orphans weren't as lucky, as investigators recently uncovered a mass grave outside of Montreal where the bones of hundreds of children are buried in a mass grave.

Called the "pigsty" since the grave site is located next to a hog farm, Rod Vienneau, whose wife was also a child victim, said a push is now underway to exhume the bodies with strong resistance from governments on both side of the border, both denying any involvement in the face of compelling evidence to the contrary.

"I have been researching this atrocity for more than 10 years since my wife went public about being abused as one of the orphans," said Rod Vienneau this week on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal, regarding the Duplessis Orphans, who may number more than 50,000 and named after former Prime Minister Maurice Duplessis, a key figure in the child experimentation cover-up.

"We have documentation proving the link among with the CIA, the United States government and the Canadian government, all of them willing accomplices to the illegal experimentation of children.

"Thousands of children have died, thousands of others have endured great suffering and there remains about 3,000 surviving victims we know about who are still seeking justice. What's even more astonishing is that the illegal experimentation is still taking place while we speak."

Sampson, who went public for the first time in the United States on The Investigative Journal, is one of tens of thousands of children who were reduced to experimental guinea pigs by unscrupulous doctors, some known Nazi war criminals in a CIA program starting in the 1950's

Recently, a Canadian high court in 2004 awarded damages to adult mind control victims in a related case, pinning the CIA with responsibility as well as their unscrupulous doctors, including Dr. Ewin Cameron.

For a further look at Dr. Cameron's nefarious activities, a book called The Most Dangerous Game traces the history of top-secret CIA mind control operation MK-ULTRA: from the covert importation of NAZI scientists at the end of WWII, to the illegal brainwashing experiments conducted on the patients of psychiatric researcher, Dr Cameron

The same type of testing Dr Cameron and others performed on adults is now being traced to innocent children, as advocates for the Duplessis Orphans contend their evil knows no age limits.

Regarding Sampson's personal story, he said at the age of six he was transferred from a Catholic orphanage to a mental institution even though he was both mentally and physically sound as church and civil authorities overnight changed his paperwork, indicating he was mentally ill.

"After researching what happened," said Sampson, who also appeared this week on The Investigative Journal. "The Church made a deal with the government to turn over perfectly healthy children in return for money, giving the doctors the ability to experiment at will since we were all considered insane.

"To this day my records haven't been changed. Although I have never been mentally ill, my records still haven't been changed."

The link Sampson makes between the infiltrated Catholic Church and corrupted civil authorities is disturbing, indicating a consolidation of corruption not only in government but extending all the way to Rome and beyond.

According to Vienneau and Sampson, this inhumane treatment was accomplished with the full authority, cooperation and funding of the American and Canadian governments together with corrupted elements of the Catholic Church, one of the government's main suppliers of children used like experimental guinea pigs.

"I hope one day we can get justice and remove this evil element of people from the continent," said Vienneau. "How can we live in a society and trust a government who is killing our own children? These people will never admit to what they done and the only thing we can do is gather enough support among good people to have these corrupted leaders removed."

Vienneau also outlined what his main motives are in seeking justice for his wife, Sampson and the many other children abused by the illegal experimentation programs.

"Criminal acts: Horrific criminal acts were done to thousands of innocent children here on Canadian soil ranging from murders, tortures; disappearance of children; lobotomy's and experimental drugs and falsely labeling thousands of innocent young children from 1935 to 1975 and nobody has yet been held accountable for these free criminal acts done to the Duplessis orphans.

"Thousands of orphans were falsely labeled mentally ill, and today, this label still hangs heavy on the orphans shoulders, This label has not yet been erased, this alone is a criminal act.

"The Quebec government, the College of Physicians of Quebec; the Roman Catholic church of Quebec; the Quebec Public Trustee;(Guardianship) and the federal government of Canada and America have not yet acknowledged the harm done to thousands of young children here in Quebec.

"Constitutional Rights : The Quebec government took away the Duplessis orphans rights to defend themselves in a court of law since 1995, all though four members of parliament stated that the orphans could take a lawyer at any time for their case, but it has been 11 years now that many orphans have been trying to get a lawyer for their case but to no avail.

"Lawyer Daniel Lighter, told me flatly that the Duplessis orphans case is locked shut tight since over fifteen years. The Duplessis orphans have no Constitutional rights, it all boils down to a huge cover up."

Editor's Note: It's beyond the realm of human comprehension how newspaper owners in the mainstream lack the decency to mount an investigation for the memory of all the dead children and the many others who have suffered at the hands of corrupted politicians and church leaders.

By ignoring this story for more than five decades, major newspaper owners in the United States should be branded as co-conspirators along with the corrupted church leaders and politicians, who all march to the altar in lockstep every Sunday with the blood of the Duplessis Orphans dripping from their dirty hands.

The Cover-Up Of Vince Foster's Murder Gets Stranger and Stranger; U.S. Attorney, Who Blew Whistle On Cover-Up, Won't Talk And Has Undergone Sex Change

Miguel Rodriguez, lead investigator for independent prosecutor Kenneth Starr, now goes by the name of U.S. Attorney Michelle Rodriguez.

12 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The cover-up of Vince Foster's 1993 murder gets stranger and stranger, as the U.S. Attorney who blew the whistle on massive, high-level White House criminality has apparently undergone a sex change.

Lead investigator in the Foster case and U.S. Attorney Miguel Rodriguez, who went public in 1995 with allegations independent prosecutor Kenneth Starr and others purposely withheld evidence and intimidated witnesses to cover-up Foster's murder, is now working in Sacramento, Ca., apparently under the name of U.S. Attorney Michelle Rodriguez.

Although Rodriguez failed to return phone calls, a secretary in the U.S. Attorney's office Tuesday in Sacramento confirmed Michelle was once Miguel, although not coming right out and saying it.

Asked if the name Michelle was a mistake and the attorney in the office really was Miguel from Washington D.C., the secretary said:

"When was the last time you talked with Miguel?" asked the secretary, who then responded to the answer. "If it has been that long, she is now Michelle."

To further verify Michelle Rodriguez worked in the office, a Sept.29, 2005, Sacramento Bee news article referred to Rodriguez, saying:

"Jared Oreste Giampaoli and Steven Foster Little are accused of "interference with federally protected rights," according to documents filed by Assistant U.S Attorney Michelle Rodriguez."

Although Rodriguez's sex change could easily be dismissed as a man being trapped in a woman's body, bigger questions need to be answered about Rodriguez's actions since he talked "a blue streak" in 1995, pointing the dirty finger of corruption in the Foster case all the way up to the doorstep of the white House.

But 13 years later why is Rodriguez remaining 'mum' about the case? How and why could he still be holding a job in the U.S. Attorney's Office after hitting the big boys below the belt so hard?

And the biggest question is what happened to the photograph Rodriguez took when he left Starr's office as the chief investigator, a photograph which allegedly shows a bullet hole in Foster's neck when the official report claimed he shot himself to death by sticking a gun in his mouth?

The photograph, which would clearly nail the top dogs in Washington with withholding evidence, has never been published and, according to the main researchers in the Foster case, it has somehow disappeared.

Although it is only speculation where the photograph ended up since Rodriguez isn't talking, the best explanation given is that he sold it for a hefty sum of money to an influential British newspaper.

In turn, investigators speculate the British newspaper, with MI6 and CIA ties, turned the evidence back over to the government without publishing it. Whether Rodriguez has a duplicate copy of the photo is unknown and it is also unknown whether Rodriguez has cut a deal with government officials to keep quiet in return for his life, a life he now leads as a woman.

Regarding the sex change, the final question needs to be asked whether it had anything remotely to do with the Foster case or whether it can be dismissed as a natural progression in Rodriguez's personal life.

One thing for sure, the importance of Rodriguez's testimony in getting at the truth behind the Foster murder should never be diminished or discredited, according to author Huh Turley, one of three writers who wrote a 511 page book/legal document categorically proving beyond a reasonable doubt Foster was murdered and it was cover-ed up.

The 1999 book, entitled Failure of the Public Trust, pins Starr and others with withholding evidence and intimidating witnesses to reach a premature conclusion in the case, a conclusion reached even before the evidence was gathered.

Turley and the authors meticulously gathered crime scene irregularities, including evidence tampering, witness intimidation and grand jury manipulation, using taped testimony by Rodriguez, the lead investigator, to prove the Starr report was corrupted from the outset.

Regarding the possibility of Rodriguez going public again, Turley recently said he isn't talking but doesn't know why.

"It is doubtful that he will talk again," said Turley in an email this week after appearing on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal, where he talked extensively about the government and media cover-up. "He is no longer talking to anyone. Attorney John H. Clarke, (co-author of the book) made a trip to Sacramento several years ago to see him, before we had the audio tapes, without success. I think he is afraid to talk.

"However, his comments, legally tape recorded by the late Reed Irvine of Accuracy in Media, on our audio CD are the next best thing to interviewing him. For more background on Rodriguez see Ambrose Evans-Pritchard's book "The Secret Life of Bill Clinton" and also Christopher Ruddy's book, "The Strange Death of Vincent Foster." Ruddy's book is only good in calling attention to the suspicious death but Mr. Ruddy goes out of his way to conceal the role of the FBI and the media in the cover-up."

One other element of the Foster case which has never received proper attention is the involvement of three former Mossad agents, two men and a woman, seen and captured on video exiting the Foster apartment on July 20, 1993, the day he was killed.

The Starr investigation never followed up the leads and the first mention of it appeared in the Washington Post, when an article dismissed the possibility as wild and unsubstantiated rumors.

However, critics suggest The Post was engaged in a smear job to cover the tracks of the government sponsored hit team, as a concerted media investigation never took place.

"If they had looked into it," said an investigator from Italy who wanted to remain anonymous, "they might have uncovered the same hit team, two men and a blonde woman, former known Mossad expert killers and agents, who traveled to Italy three days after Foster was killed and were thought to be involved in the murder of Raul Gardini, a wealthy Italian businessman with ties to America."

Gardini, one of Italy's most wealthy businessmen, was found dead in his hotel room on July 23, 1993. The incident was quickly reported as a suicide even though some Italian investigators claim the gun supposedly used by Gardini was found on a table across the room from where the body was found.

As in the Foster case, Italian critics claim a proper investigation was never undertaken and a premature suicide result was reached in order to protect the real killers. Also, like in America, the leads tracing the movements of the three Mossad agents were never followed up, leaving on speculation that the same hit team killed Foster and Gardini.

According to insiders who knew Gardini, suicide was the last thing on his mind, as he was flamboyant and fun loving, displaying extravagant tastes, racing yachts worth millions of dollars in prestige events, and even making it to the America's Cup final in his first attempt before losing to America 3.

Like in the Foster case who died shortly after returning from Switzerland with $250 million dollars, Gardini's inside information and financial dealings may have been what finally led to his death.

As recently as a month before Gardini was died, he was conducting a spirited public defense of his tenure as head of Ferruzzi, saying its present indebtedness -- totaling a staggering $20 billion -- was not his fault.

According to leaked testimony by company insiders, however, Mr. Gardini falsified company balance sheets to hide losses totaling between $200 million and $300 million incurred in speculations on the Chicago futures market in 1989. He also accused Mr. Gardini of having used real estate deals to build up covert slush funds.

Coincidentally, the $250 million given to Foster in Switzerland, verified by U.S. Treasury agent Leo Wanta, was never tracked down, as recent investigations have uncovered it was headed for the Childrens' Fund, a covert fund created by an executive order and chaired by Hillary Clinton, who supposedly used it as her own personal slush fund.

Brett Kavanaugh, Nominated To The Federal Bench By President Bush, Is Guilty Of Obstruction of Justice and Covering-Up Vince Foster Murder, According to U.S. Attorney.

According to Sacramento U.S. Attorney, Miguel Rodriguez, Kenneth Starr, Kavanaugh and other higher-ups have lied through their teeth in the Foster investigation. Rodriguez also claims top Washington journalists failed the public by not reporting the true facts surrounding the Foster case.

11 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Brett Kavanaugh, an assistant to President Bush and nominee to be a judge on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia, is one of the main White House lackeys involved in the 1993 murder cover-up of Vince Foster, according to a Sacramento U.S. Attorney and former lead investigator in the Foster case.

Further, high-powered and corrupted journalists like Michael Isikoff, Steve Labaton, Micah Morrison, Matt Drudge and others were aware of the attorney's credible charges, but failed to report them to the American people.

By not reporting the cover-up in the Foster investigation as well as not reporting witness stories, journalists aid the government perpetrators in silencing witnesses, said Miguel Rodriguez, the lead U.S. Attorney in the Foster investigation, who blew the whistle on the cover-up 11 years ago.

Rodriguez added that crime scene witnesses that were compromised by investigators and then ignored by the complicit media included Jean Slade, Judith Doody, Mark Fiest, Patrick Knowlton, park service workers Chuck Stough, Francis Swann, as well as rescue workers, Todd Hall, Richard Arthur, George Gonzalez, Ralph Pisani, Jennifer Wacha, Cory Ashford, William Bianchi, Victoria Jacobs, Roger Harrison, Andrew Makuch, the coroner's wife and two unnamed tow truck drivers.

"The public still to this does not know of these people or their stories," said Rodriguez in testimony recaptured in a shunned and ignored book entitled Failure of the Public Trust. A transcript of the 1999 book, a must read for anyone wanting to learn how the government covered-up the controversial Foster murder officially listed as a suicide, is located at www.fbicover-up.com

After blowing the whistle on the cover-up, Rodriguez was immediately demoted from the White House to the "attorney dog house" in Sacramento. Ca., after charging Kavanaugh, independent prosecutor Kenneth Star and other higher-ups involved in the drafting of Starr's independent prosecutor's report were complicit in the cover-up, knowingly hiding evidence leading to Foster's murder, not suicide

Rodriguez finally resigned from Kenneth Starr's office of Independent Counsel in the spring of 1995, when he said Starr's staff totally frustrated his investigation. Leaving the investigation, Rodriguez then revealed the truth to more than 100 news outlets, including top journalists, congressmen, senators, and others, in his attempts to get the facts of the case to the public.

To this day, ignored and abandoned on the west coast, he remains the leading government authority on the Foster evidence, claiming to have witnessed widespread criminal activity in the Office of Independent Counsel.

"The Independent Counsel themselves, and the FBI, beat me back, and in fact threatened me. They told me to quote, this is a quote, "back off." It was either "back off or back down." They used both of them.

"You know it's - I have been communicated with again and told to you know, to be careful where I tread. I can tell you that it has not only to do with my career and reputation, they've also had to do with my personal health and my family."

And when Rodriguez was finally replaced, Kavanaugh was more than willing to sign on to Starr's flawed report which amounted to nothing more than a pack of lies, coming to a suicide conclusion in the Foster murder even before the investigation took place and the evidence analyzed.

Even though Kavanaugh knew the Foster suicide theory didn't make sense from the grand jury testimony, he still knowingly withheld this evidence from Starr's report, essentially according to Rodriguez submitting lies to the United States Court of Appeals, to the Special Division for the Purpose of Appointing Independent Counsels.

Rodriguez further contends Starr in a breach of the public trust knowingly allowed John Bates and Kavanaugh to submit a fraudulent report to the United States Court of Appeals. And, in essence, after Rodriguez rebelled, Kavanaugh and Bates did what he couldn't: Lie through their teeth to advance their careers..

And advance their careers and move up the ladder they have, as Bates is now a federal district court judge in Washington DC and Kavanaugh is still awaiting his approval to the federal bench.

Besides Bates and Kavanaugh, another member of Starr's investigative team complicit in the murder cover-up, according to Rodriguez, was Mark Toughy, a former member of the District of Columbia Bar Association. Rodriguez said Toughy quashed every one of his efforts to issue subpoenas and call witnesses.

"It wasn't just Toughy, there were a lot of people interested in controlling the result in the Foster case," said Rodriguez. "I was unable to call witnesses and issue subpoenas and, under control of the Democrat Mark Toughy, and compromised. You know - it's in many Republican's interest to not rock the boat, because - what we're talking about is ultimate power."

Besides the black mark of the Foster cover-up on his "real resume," making him unsuitable for a dog catcher let alone a federal judgeship, the Alliance for Justice had this to say about Kavanaugh's lack of character and qualifications to sit on the bench:

"Kavanaugh has less legal experience than nearly every past nominee to the D.C. Circuit often described as the second most important in the country. Of the 54 judges appointed to the D.C. Circuit since Congress created it in 1893, only one Kavanaugh's mentor, Kenneth Starr, had fewer years experience than Kavanaugh.

"His career is distinguished only by its partisanship. There is nothing in his experience to suggest he would show the independence of thought required of a judge on the second most powerful court in the nation. His short record stands in sharp contrast to the records of the many legal giants whom past presidents have chosen to sit on the D.C. Circuit."

Cheney Violated International Law In Failing To Report The 1991 B-52 'Lost Nuke Incident' In Iran, According To Former Forensic Intelligence Officer UK source, close to the oversea's arms scandal, says intelligence officer's report would be damaging to Cheney if revealed in the upcoming Scooter Libby trial.

10 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Stephen P. Dresch, a former American forensic intelligence officer with CIA ties, is on the top of Vice President Dick Cheney's hit list and one man he'd like to silence for good, according to a confidential source in the United Kingdom.

The source, close to the massive arms dealing scandal brewing on both sides of the pond involving the Lewis 'Scooter' Libby trial, said Dresch verified in a confidential report that the loss of W-69 nuclear warheads from a B-52 in 1991 ended up in Iran.

According to the UK source, Cheney wants Dresch silenced because he was U.S. Secretary of Defense in 1991 and, if proved true, he would have been in direct violation of international law for not reporting the lost nuclear weapons involving the B-52 incident.

"Stephen's report would have a devastating effect if produced at the Trial (now schedule for early 2007) of Lewis Scooter Libby," said the source, who needed to remain anonymous due to the UK's stringent Official Secret's Act.

"Stephen's full report would show that Dick Cheney in 2002 had a reason for wanting to see the Iraq Dossier sexed-up with the false report on Yellowcake from Niger. Humphry Crum Ewing was political adviser on military and intelligence matters to John Major at No.10 Downing Street at the time and he told me recently that even though he had never heard of the event with the B-52 losing the nukes, because of other things that he knew, to him it made complete sense."

Adding that Dresch's explosive statements were verified by other sources, he emphasized the exact location of the nuclear weapons in Iran were difficult to pinpoint.

"One of the UK persons associated at the time with the finder in 1991, and dropped out of the loop in 1995, has anyway since told me twice that the ex-B52 plane nukes went to Iran," the source said. "The trouble is that each warhead is so highly portable, being able to be moved around in the back of a Land-Rover, they could literally be anywhere.

"Certainly it is very easy to go to war with the wrong country to try to retrieve them and it also may be possible that this is contrived terrorism is by the Neo-Cons to provide the excuse to go searching for these nukes?"

Regarding recent reports that enriched uranium was found in Iran by UN Inspectors, he added:

"I was told that 'only a few milligrams' of enriched Uranium were found in Iran by the UN Inspectors, and that he assumed said Uranium had arrived in Iran on used centrifuges bought from Pakistan."

However, he added that Dresch doubts Pakistan was the source for the few milligrams of enriched uranium found, saying it was more likely planted by inspectors to fuel the necessity for a contrived war.

"I am not an expert," he said. "I think it more likely that these specks of uranium in Iran were more likely to have been carried there by one of the UN Inspectors to be first 'planted' and then 'found', just when the BBC film crew under Olly Bootle's direction happened to be filming alongside.

"For Dick Cheney it was imperative that any UN team of weapons inspectors going to Iran did not come back empty handed."

Certain recent events, occurring in last January in New York, also reveal the government may be intimidating or warning Dresch to keep quiet about Cheney's cover-up of the B-52 incident, as he was exposed and discredited in the New-York Post as being a surrogate G-Man investigating the links of a permanent FBI employee with the mob in Brooklyn

"Presumably thereafter Stephen was on their hit list," said the source "and just maybe it was a warning indirectly from the CIA not to say any more about the B-52 event and the lost nukes."

The inside source, who has always reported everything he learned from contacts in the international arms trade to British Intelligence, said the lost nuclear weapons is linked to money laundering within the British Tory Party as well as basis for the ongoing Middle east War.

The UK and US Governments dare not admit even now that those nuclear warheads ever got lost," he said. "Seymour Hersh in the New Yorker reports this last weekend that nuclear establishments in Iran may be attacked with bunker-busting bombs. Either direct by the USAF, or the Israeli air-force on a surrogate basis..

"The purpose of these raids on Iran would be to nullify the potential of any lost nuclear warheads that Iran may hold. Two sets were certainly lost by the USAF and the UK during Gulf War I when the Tory Party was in power.

"The smaller 45-minute battlefield / tactical nukes were made in South Africa by Armscor at Pelindaba in 1990. The Israelis provided all technical inputs. A perceived linkage is now being seen to possibly exist between these smaller lost nukes on one hand, and a sum of £17.8 million that is shown in Hansard June 22, 1993.

"A Police Inquiry if fully conducted would probably clinch it. This Hansard report alleges that £17.8- millions money was laundered into Tory Party coffers via Bank accounts in the Channel Islands that it claims were specially set-up during Gulf War 1."

A Sunday Column: Slat's Grobnik Still Held In 'American Gulag' And Forced To Read President Bush's Secret 2008 State Of The Union Address

Forced to read or face electro-shock therapy, Slat's wonders why the official government document is sealed in blood!

9 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Arctic Beacon Columnist

Three days passed since Slat's Grobnik was yanked out of a Chicago tavern and thrown in the Gulag by one of Homeland Security's Gestapo agents, being treated to a prolonged stay at President Bush's version of the Nazi Hilton

Slat's ended up in this predicament, like many other of fellow Americans, for speaking out against Bush similar to Carol Fischer of Cleveland, who recently was charged with two counts of felony assault after being confronted by police for putting up anti-Bush posters.

But for three long days now, Slat's has been treated worse than a dog. For three days, he has been living on bugs and dripping rain water in an underground hole near Denver while being fed a steady diet of propaganda from a mysterious deep, dark voice coming from speakers in the walls.

And when Slat's awoke on the fourth morning, he was greeted by the voice saying, "good morning, Mr. Grobnik," as an official looking document was placed in the middle of the floor of his cinderblock cell.

"Mr. Grobnik today you will be forced to read the enclosed documents and if you refuse, I think you know the consequences. We call it here "Bush Lightning" but actually its 1000 volts of high powered electrical energy shot into you from head to toe. I think you get the point, Mr. Grobnik. Pick up the paper off the floor, please!"

"What is it," said Slat's, crawling towards the document.

"It's actually President's Bush future 2008 State of the Union message, the unedited 'For Secret Eyes Only' version. But people like you, who end up with us, get an advance reading."

"Why?"

"Well, in terms you'd understand, we want to see how the speech will play in Peoria before we actually lay it on the entire population."

"But Bush can't be President in 2008. His time is up."

"We have other plans, Mr. Grobnik. We have other plans. Now read before I get angry and..."

"Not the shocks. I'll read."

As Slat's sat up like a school boy forced to read a bad novel, the words jumped off the page as if the devil himself wrote the words. At the top of the page it said "The Secret Covenant: Bush 2008 State of the Union Message/Unedited Mind Control Version."

An illusion it will be, so large, so vast it will escape their perception. Those who will see it will be thought of as insane. We will create separate fronts to prevent them from seeing the connection between us.

We will behave as if we are not connected to keep the illusion alive. Our goal will be accomplished one drop at a time so as to never bring suspicion upon ourselves. This will also prevent them from seeing the changes as they occur.

We will always stand above the relative field of their experience for we know the secrets of the absolute. We will work together always and will remain bound by blood and secrecy. Death will come to he who speaks.

We will keep their lifespan short and their minds weak while pretending to do the opposite. We will use our knowledge of science and technology in subtle ways so they will never see what is happening.

We will use soft metals, aging accelerators and sedatives in food and water, also in the air. They will be blanketed by poisons everywhere they turn. The soft metals will cause them to lose their minds. We will promise to find a cure from our many fronts, yet we will feed them more poison. The poisons will be absorbed through their skin and mouths, they will destroy their minds and reproductive systems.

From all this, their children will be born dead, and we will conceal this information. The poisons will be hidden in everything that surrounds them, in what they drink, eat, breathe and wear. We must be ingenious in dispensing the poisons for they can see far.

We will teach them that the poisons are good, with fun images and musical tones. Those they look up to will help. We will enlist them to push our poisons. They will see our products being used in film and will grow accustomed to them and will never know their true effect. When they give birth we will inject poisons into the blood of their children and convince them it's for their help.

We will start early on, when their minds are young, we will target their children with what children love most, sweet things. When their teeth decay we will fill them with metals that will kill their mind and steal their future. When their ability to learn has been affected, we will create medicine that will make them sicker and cause other diseases for which we will create yet more medicine.

We will render them docile and weak before us by our power. They will grow depressed, slow and obese, and when they come to us for help, we will give them more poison. We will focus their attention toward money and material goods so they many never connect with their inner self. We will distract them with fornication, external pleasures and games so they may never be one with the oneness of it all.

Their minds will belong to us and they will do as we say. If they refuse we shall find ways to implement mind-altering technology into their lives. We will use fear as our weapon.

We will establish their governments and establish opposites within. We will own both sides. We will always hide our objective but carry out our plan. They will perform the labor for us and we shall prosper from their toil. Our families will never mix with theirs. Our blood must be pure always, for it is the way.

We will make them kill each other when it suits us. We will keep them separated from the oneness by dogma and religion. We will control all aspects of their lives and tell them what to think and how. We will guide them kindly and gently letting them think they are guiding themselves.

We will foment animosity between them through our factions. When a light shall shine among them, we shall extinguish it by ridicule, or death, whichever suits us best. We will make them rip each other's hearts apart and kill their own children. We will accomplish this by using hate as our ally, anger as our friend.

The hate will blind them totally, and never shall they see that from their conflicts we emerge as their rulers. They will be busy killing each other. They will bathe in their own blood and kill their neighbors for as long as we see fit. We will benefit greatly from this, for they will not see us, for they cannot see us.

We will continue to prosper from their wars and their deaths. We shall repeat this over and over until our ultimate goal is accomplished. We will continue to make them live in fear and anger through images and sounds. We will use all the tools we have to accomplish this. The tools will be provided by their labor. We will make them hate themselves and their neighbors. We will always hide the divine truth from them, that we are all one. This they must never know!

They must never know that color is an illusion, they must always think they are not equal. Drop by drop, drop by drop we will advance our goal. We will take over their land, resources and wealth to exercise total control over them.

We will deceive them into accepting laws that will steal the little freedom they will have. We will establish a money system that will imprison them forever, keeping them and their children in debt. When they shall ban together, we shall accuse them of crimes and present a different story to the world for we shall own all the media.

We will use our media to control the flow of information and their sentiment in our favor. When they shall rise up against us we will crush them like insects, for they are less than that. They will be helpless to do anything for they will have no weapons. We will recruit some of their own to carry out our plans, we will promise them eternal life, but eternal life they will never have for they are not of us.

The recruits will be called "initiates" and will be indoctrinated to believe false rites of passage to higher realms. Members of these groups will think they are one with us never knowing the truth. They must never learn this truth for they will turn against us.

For their work they will be rewarded with earthly things and great titles, but never will they become immortal and join us, never will they receive the light and travel the stars. They will never reach the higher realms, for the killing of their own kind will prevent passage to the realm of enlightenment. This they will never know.

The truth will be hidden in their face, so close they will not be able to focus on it until its too late. Oh yes, so grand the illusion of freedom will be, that they will never know they are our slaves. When all is in place, the reality we will have created for them will own them. This reality will be their prison. They will live in self-delusion.

When our goal is accomplished a new era of domination will begin. Their minds will be bound by their beliefs, the beliefs we have established from time immemorial. But if they ever find out they are our equal, we shall perish then. THIS THEY MUST NEVER KNOW. If they ever find out that together they can vanquish us, they will take action.

They must never, ever find out what we have done, for if they do, we shall have no place to run, for it will be easy to see who we are once the veil has fallen. Our actions will have revealed who we are and they will hunt us down and no person shall give us shelter.

This is the secret covenant by which we shall live the rest of our present and future lives, for this reality will transcend many generations and life spans. This covenant is sealed by blood, our blood. We, the ones who from heaven to earth came.

This covenant must NEVER, EVER be known to exist. It must NEVER, EVER be written or spoken of for if it is, the consciousness it will spawn will release the fury of the PRIME CREATOR upon us and we shall be cast to the depths from whence we came and remain there until the end time of infinity itself.

Editor's Note: Every once in a blue moon, Greg visits with Slat, a character made famous in the many columns of the late syndicated columnist, Mike Royko. Greg honors Mike's heroic efforts by bringing Slat's back on the national stage. It should also be remembered that Royko was one of a kind - a no nonsense "tell it like it is journalist" who treated politicians like they should be treated: With a swift boot to the ass!

Also, the document above, read by Slat, originally appeared in June 2002 by an unknown author, although some people claim it happens to be one of Bush's most prized speech writers.

Illinois Woman Left To Die In Hotel Room After Turned Away For No Health Insurance; Politicians Come Crawling Out Like Cockroaches After Local Press And Radio Station Gets Wind Of Story

As Kim Stubblefield, 48, is left to die, Darrel Hanson, 51, rots in jail after being convicted for sending threatening emails to Illinois public officials over land dispute.

8 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Two stories scream out for national attention, both coming from small Illinois country towns and both demonstrating man's inhumanity to man.

The first involves Kim Stubblefield, a 48-year-old woman who worked all her life and who has been left to die in a ragged, rundown hotel room, turned away from hospitals because she can't afford health insurance.

The second involves Darrel Hanson, a 51-year-old man who is being left in jail to rot after recently being convicted for threatening public officials by email over an attempted city "land grab" of his property. For his email violation, he faces a 10 year prison term.

Both stories are incredibly sad. But both stories indicate how incredibly out of control things have become in 21st century America.

How can a woman on the verge of dying of throat cancer and bleeding from her mouth be thrown out of hospital after hospital because she can't afford health insurance?

And how can a man be jailed and convicted as an imminent threat to public officials for sending an email when he claims his life was in danger and his property was systematically being stolen?

Although both stories are difficult to swallow, friends of the victims tried to shed some light on the stories while pushing back tears.

"How could this happen in modern day America," said Jo Linton, holding back tears as she told Stubblefield's story this week on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal. Stubblefield also made a brief cameo broadcast as she talked faintly using an artificial audio box.

"This is the first time in my life I was near someone who I thought would die. When I came across her in the hotel, I couldn't believe it. Blood was coming out of her mouth. The breathing tube was not functioning and she was almost choking to death.

"And when I found out about how Kim ended up like this, it just broke my heart. She had been turned away from every facility for not having insurance, essentially being left to die. Then I found out not one elected official even came to her assistance after all the senators and congressmen were notified by friends until a story in the local paper appeared yesterday, as well as doing the radio show."

Linton was referring to a story written by reporter Jim Muir of a local southern Illinois paper, a heart wrenching story that first rattled the chains of the Illinois state politicians.

Muir also spoke on the Investigative Journal, saying he told his editor he had stumbled across one of the saddest and most disturbing stories of his career.

"After hearing what happened to Kim, the photographer and I couldn't hold back the tears when we left her hotel room," said Muir, adding her case showed the total breakdown of the system. "She was turned away and really had no options.

"Now think about it: If she was an illegal alien she would be getting full benefits. But Kim Stubblefield wasn't asking for a handout. She was an American citizen who worked all her life and contributed to the system. But when she became sick and needed help, the system instead failed her, leaving her to die."

Although Muir's story and the radio broadcast, brought the election year politicians in Illinois crawling out the woodwork with promises of public assistance, an overzealous but good hearted "Good Samaritan" alternative medical practitioner who got wind of the story from Chicago, beat politicians to the punch and raced to her assistance.

At the time of publication Stubblefield was en route to her home by train from Chicago after friends and family insisted she return from the office of the alternative practitioner since they were finally assured medical care was now going to be provided in her hometown.

"She is on the train now and I just pray she is alright. There has been so much confusion and this just should not have happened," said Linton, crying. "Every minute counts as her cancer has progressed and she needs medical care. I just thank God people are starting to come to her rescue now before it's too late."

But while Stubblefield is on a train headed home, Hanson remains locked up behind bars for sending what authorities considered threatening emails over his property dispute.

"Darrell is essentially being held as a political prisoner over a battle concerning his land, a battle that got way out of hand," said Fred Shoaf of Walnut, Illinois, about his long time friend's case, including the damaging emails sent to Attorney General Liza Madigan and several other officials which had words like the 'blood will flow' and 'call out the militia.'

"He never was a threat, but his problem has always been he doesn't think before he speak. But he doesn't deserve to be in jail and doesn't deserve a 10 year prison sentence."

According to Shoaf, Hanson's troubles began 10 years ago when the city for unknown reasons wouldn't hook up his water and sewer to his piece of commercial, delaying the beginning of his glass foundry.

Shoaf suspected foul play, but could not pin point why the city refused to honor the permit, adding Hanson's situation deteriorated from bad to worse over the years, finally landing him in jail facing a long prison sentence over the email incident.

"I know Darrell felt he was being threatened himself, but he never intended do any one any harm," added Shoaf, saying his friend is now searching for a lawyer to appeal his conviction while he sits in jail being denied bond as a flight risk. "Darrell just shot his mouth off, but he doesn't deserve to be locked up that's for sure."

Media And Top Officials Still Covering-Up Vince Foster 1993 Murder
U.S. Attorney Miguel Rodriguez claims Kenneth Starr and Brett Kavanaugh, assistant to the President and slated for a federal appeals court appointment, were major players in the Foster murder cover-up. Justice, however, has never been served because the mainstream media has been complicit in the cover-up.

7 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

In a 1999 book collecting dust and shunned by big time publishers, a trio of authors present compelling and overwhelming evidence Vince Foster, deputy counsel to President Clinton, was murdered in a cover-up leading right to the doorstep of the White House.

Speculation has always lingered in the collective public mind, Clinton had Foster bumped-off on July 20, 1993. But the case fell in the 'government black hole' of unsolved murders for hire, as the compromised judiciary turned a blind eye to the evidence, corruptly sanctioning the propaganda-based mainstream media story that Foster took his own life.

The book, entitled Failure of the Public Trust, doesn't delve into the motive behind the Foster murder, but presents shocking evidence, establishing beyond a reasonable doubt Foster was murdered, as well as documenting how the evidence was systematically covered-up by the corrupt Washington political machine, essentially allowing high-level politicians to get away with murder.

The book also serves another important purpose as the 511 page document contains an official legal document of evidence actually filed in six courts, including three US District courts in the District of Columbia, the US District Court for Eastern District of Virginia, the US Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit, the DC Circuit's Special Division for the Purpose of Appointing Independent Counsels, and the United States Supreme Court.

Even though evidence compiled by the authors proved beyond a reasonable doubt Foster was murdered, crime scene evidence was tampered with and grand jury intimidation took place, all the judges in the courts chose to ignore their findings.

Although Failure of the Public Trust is filled with crime scene irregularities pointing to a massive cover-up creeping into the halls of the White House, the most compelling parts of the book include the tape recorded testimony of U.S. Attorney Miguel Rodriguez's first hand knowledge of a cover-up, White House Counsel Brett Kavanaugh's involvement in the cover-up and co-author and grand jury witness of the Foster incident, Patrick Knowlton's, subsequent filing of 42 USC Sec 1985(2) civil rights law suit related to harassment he received before appearing before the Whitewater grand jury.

"The federal investigative records in our book and on our web site at www.fbicover-up.com prove the existence of an FBI / Independent Counsel / Media cover-up of the murder of deputy White House counsel Vincent Foster," said co-author Hugh Turley.

"We have been told that Foster's death has been thoroughly investigated by our government and media. They have lied to the public. Three federal judges attached evidence of the murder to Independent Counsel Kenneth Starr's Report on Foster's death, forcing Starr to include 20 pages from our findings showing he was killed.

"However, Starr's lead investigator, Assistant U.S. Attorney Miquel Rodriguez, admits in taped telephone conversations, included on our web site that Robert Fiske and Kenneth Starr's office covered-up the murder. Justice, however, has never been served since the media was informed and remains silent, keeping the American people unaware of what really happened."

In fact, Turley emphasized Thursday on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal, the government cover-up of the Foster murder would have never succeeded but for the media cover-up and a total black out of what was really going on behind the scenes of the case.

Turley said that Rodriguez sent his statements and a copy of a sensitive internal White House tape recording to over 100 top journalists, showing Kavanaugh and other top White House officials complicit in the Foster cover-up.

"Nobody from any of the major outlets, including Ted Koppel and all the other top reporters ever talked about Rodriguez's statements or the fact Starr covered-up the 20 pages from our findings forced to be included his report by a federal judge," said Turley, adding that even today the total black out on these facts are being kept from the American people by a corrupt media.

"And what's even worse is that the people who covered it up are still in Washington. Most of them being rewarded with higher positions. For example, Kavanaugh is now an assistant to the President and is being nominated to the federal Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia.

"Simply, the people who covered up the Foster crime have been rewarded while those who told the truth like Rodriguez were either discredited or sent to lower level positions far away from Washington D.C."

It appears clearly the American press was involved in the Foster cover-up as verified by Rodriguez's own admission when he said:

"I have talked to a number of people that - you know, from Time Magazine, Newsweek, Nightline, the New York Times, Boston Globe, the Atlanta whatever, you know there have been well over a hundred, and this - this matter is so sealed tight, and, the reporters are all genuinely interested but when they start to get excited and they've got a story and they're ready to go, the editors - and they - I've gotten calls back, I've gotten calls back from all kinds of magazines worldwide, what the hell's wrong, why can't, you know, you were telling me that you, you didn't think this would go anywhere and sure enough I wrote the stories.

"They went to all the trouble of writing, and then it got killed. Again I spent almost eleven hours the New York Times and I know that they won't do anything about it and I do know that, that many people have called me back. Reporters that I've spent a lot of time with called me back and said the editors won't allow it to go."

Regarding the importance of the Foster cover-up even 13 years after the fact, author Turley said to "look at the bigger picture and proof of foul play and cover-up in this case is proof that our constitutional system of checks and balances failed in this case - the executive branch failed, the legislative branch failed, and the news media failed."

Continuing to emphasize the importance of this case in taking back our country from criminals while restoring our Republic's integrity, he added:

"Proof of cover-up is proof that we cannot rely on our separate democratic institutions to protect us from government corruption, as our Founding Fathers envisioned. Perhaps most importantly, proof of cover-up is proof that we cannot rely on the news media to keep government honest.

"The American public can demand better, but not without the proof of what it is we have been getting. The court filing on this site provides that proof. We can't rely on the very democratic institutions that have failed us to tell us of their failures. Public knowledge of this state of affairs would give us the ammunition we need to improve the health of our democracy.

"We cannot fix what we don't know is broken. So, the existence of the cover-up in this case being widely known is important to us all. It's essential that the American people learn the truth. That's why we're asking for your help in getting the truth out to the American people - to improve the quality of our government and news media."

Although motive was never addressed by the authors, recent developments on Foster's whereabouts only days before his death, reveal he was in Switzerland on a White House assignment to collect $250 million dollars from U.S. Treasury agent, Leo Wanta, instructed by the white House to give Foster the money for funds to be deposited in the Childrens' Fund chaired by Hillary Clinton.

After Foster returned to Washington with the money, Wanta was suspiciously jailed for 134 days in a Swiss dungeon for no apparent legal reason while the whereabouts or the use of the money has never been revealed.

Although Wanta and Foster both thought the money was to be used for a good cause, investigators later discovered a little known Presidential Executive Order transformed the Childrens' Fund into a CIA front company and was said to be used by the First Lady as her own slush fund.

It's also interesting to note Foster's Switzerland trip and any relationship between the vast sum of money and his death were never made a part of Starr's official investigation.

Recently, Wanta commenting on the Foster case, said he felt he was murdered, adding Foster told him he was about to testify against Clinton, important facts Starr should have been concerned about if an honest search for the truth was his goal.

Finally, in response to the question since there is a cover-up, why witnesses haven't come forward with the truth, Turley said:

"Someone did. Several witnesses who were at Fort Marcy Park reported that Mr. Foster's car was not in the Fort Marcy lot when Mr. Foster was already dead. Others, when showed the photographs of Mr. Foster's body at the park, reported that the crime scene had been tampered with.

"We don't know how many witnesses, besides Patrick Knowlton and those whose accounts appear in the public record, may have come forward. Additionally, put yourself in the position of a witness who has some information regarding the crime or its cover-up. To whom would you go? The FBI? The news media? The Congress? There is just no one to come forward to."

Jeb's Taliban Hard At Work In Florida Covering-Up Murder, Pushing Drugs And Spreading Climate Of Terror, Says Sarasota Man Who Claims Father's Murder Being Hidden By Gov. Jeb Bush

Steve Esdale has labored every day for three years, trying to get to the bottom of how and why his father, Murray Cohen, died under strange circumstances involving a Bolivian undercover DEA agent now working as a Probation Officer in Florida.

6 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

According to Steve Esdale of Florida, 'Jeb's Taliban' is hard at work in his state covering-up murders, pushing drugs and spreading a general climate of fear and terror, claiming Gov. Jeb Bush is "real the kingpin of crime" and Florida's No. 1 "undercover crime boss."

Esdale has stepped-out on a dangerous limb with these accusations not because he has a political bone to pick with the Bush family or because he is a whacked-out liberal on an anti-Republican campaign. He has stepped out on a limb because he wants to get at the truth behind his father's untimely death.

And he has come to these conclusions after three years of serious investigation and first hand knowledge obtained after trying to get to the bottom of his father, Murray Cohen's, strange death officially listed heart failure.

But Esdale believes otherwise, saying his father was killed with a strong dose of Corazol, a drug made in Bulgaria to induce seizures in rats, given to his 71-year-old father by a Bolivian undercover agent working with the DEA to push drugs to children in Florida.

The story sounds like something out of a mysterious spy novel, but in 21st century America truth really is stranger than fiction, especially when dealing with the likes of Gov. Bush, another master of Illuminati deception placed in a position of power.

After a pain staking search for the truth every day for three long years, Esdale is still unable to pinpoint an exact motive for his father's murder, but claims he "heard something he shouldn't have" related to illegal drug running and/or was killed for his money, as the Bolivian undercover spy now owns his father's Sarasota house and property.

"I hope no one else ever has to go through what my family has been put through for the last 3 years, and what we are having to endure as justice remains unserved," said Esdale recently on Greg Szymanski's radio show, the Investigative Journal. For copies of Esdale's broadcast go to the archives section at both www.rbnlive.com and www.genlive.com. "This is one of the worst cases of organized public corruption and obstruction of justice in U.S. history. The government is now allowing the murder of our own citizens."

And Esdale appears to be making these statements after sifting through the cold, hard facts, as he has collected more than enough probable cause evidence that even a first year law student could easily convince a jury his father was killed.

In fact, after looking solely at how the case was covered-up and how Esdale has been stonewalled and harassed by authorities all the way up to the Governor's office, the only way to summarize what has happened is to say "it stinks to high heaven."

"My father died of what law enforcement has ruled a natural death. However, I believe that my father, Murray B. Cohen, was murdered by his wife of just three weeks, Maria Cohen. My belief is based upon a number of things, one of which is a forensic audio analysis of a cassette tape copy of the 911 call made by Maria Cohen on the day of my father's death," said Esdale, adding he learned Maria has strong ties with Bolivian law enforcement and was working as a DEA undercover agent, as well as being given a front-job for the state of Florida in the juvenile division of the court system.

"Maria is much younger than my father and I think he must have heard something he shouldn't have about law enforcement or the Governor's ties to promoting and sponsoring drug dealing. He was only married to her three weeks and from the facts covered-up by authorities, I am firmly convinced she killed him. Why are authorities protecting her? What are they hiding? Why have they tampered with evidence? Why have they filed false police reports? Why has Jeb Bush refused to mount a serious investigation after I made him aware of what was going on? Why after criticizing him for not forcing an investigation, did a swat team come out to my house and intimidate my wife and I? Why are they making me out to be a criminal for wanting to get at the truth and the real criminal now owns my father's house, something he worked hard for all his life?"

"Another major and suspicious concern is the bottle of Corazol found at the death scene, a drug made in Bulgaria used to induce seizures in rats and one the U.S. Food and Drug Administration has not heard of. "I also had an audio analysis performed by GaideCom, Inc., a Long Island-based firm which also transcribed every word of the 911 call, including conversations that took place in the background of the call. It clearly reveals my father was killed and the story Maria told to authorities is a fabricated lie. This alone should be enough to open up a new investigation, but authorities are covering it up.

"The background conversation showed my father was still alive after Maria said he was already dead and it showed how he was very uncooperative with the 911 dispatcher. Nothing added up and that is why I had the call verified by audio experts."

To verify Esdale's statements, one of GaideCom, Inc., owners Susan Gaide, who has over 20 years experience in audio analysis, said there was no doubt in her mind Maria should be considered a suspect in Cohen's murder.

Esdale provided the following detailed analysis of why he thinks his father was murdered:

"Law enforcement ruled my father's death as a "natural death," I can clearly hear him intermittently arguing with his wife throughout the duration of the 911 call, and you can hear his wife ordering him to "GIVE UP".

"Medications and other substances were found in my father's home, including Corazol - a substance that was taken off the market by the Food and Drug Administration years ago. In fact, when I called the FDA, they didn't even recognize the name of the substance, nor its chemical name - Pentylenetetrazole. Corazol, which is manufactured solely in Bulgaria, was found in my father's home in a bottle bearing only a hand-written label. And, the bottle was empty, an indication that a significant amount of the substance had been taken or had been administered. Corazol is known to induce heart attacks, respiratory failure and seizures. And, what did Maria claim was happening to my father when she called 911? "My husband is having a heart attack," she said.

"Other "green pills" - which were misidentified as Bufferin - were also found in my father's bedroom, in a bottle with a hand-written label. I have checked with the manufacturer of Bufferin and they have confirmed that Bufferin is not available in a little green capsule stamped with a number beginning with the letter "Z." Law enforcement has chosen not to question this, either!

"Maria called 911 and purportedly followed CPR instructions, which, it turns out, she really didn't need - because as a police officer and trained nurse, she already knows CPR! She begins the 911 call by saying that my father "...is having a heart attack," then just moments later says that he is "not breathing" and "...is totally gone." Yet, we hear him clearly talking to her in the background each and every time she walks away from the phone to "attend" to him. At one point, the 911 dispatcher instructs Maria to get my father onto the floor in order to perform CPR. Maria walks away from the phone, goes into the bedroom and screams at my father, "Lie on the floor!" He responds with, "Why? ... I can't stand." Moments later, Maria gets back on the phone with the 911 dispatcher and says, "Okay, I got him on the floor."

"Towards the end of the call, when she purports to have performed CPR on my father, she walks away from the phone for a mere 6.25 seconds and then gets back on the phone and tells the 911 operator, "Okay, I did." Medical professionals have confirmed that it would take much longer than 6.25 seconds to administer CPR - even if you are trained in CPR - especially when you have to walk 30 feet to get to the victim!

"During the course of the 911 call, you can clearly hear Maria screaming at father, "Give it up!" This happens more than once during the five-minute phone call. And, at one point, you hear my father say to Maria, "You want me dead." When Maria gets back on the phone with the 911 dispatcher, the 911 dispatcher asks, "Ma'am, what were you doing?" Maria, in an attempt to confuse the 911 dispatcher, answers, "We were sleeping. We were taking a siesta."

"Steven J. Beninati, First Vice President - Investments for Smith Barney/Citigroup in Manhattan, called my father on January 13, 2003 (the day of Mr. Cohen's death) for a pre-arranged telephone conference with he was supposed to have with my father. Mr. Beninati's call was made at 5:35pm, which is five minutes past the time at which Maria claims to have found my father dead. However, Mr. Beninati says that he clearly heard my father and Maria vehemently arguing. As Mr. Beninati was my father's long-term financial adviser, he is quite familiar with the sound of my father's voice and is certain that it was my father who was arguing with Maria.

"Maria was awarded my father's entire estate, despite the existence of a prenuptial agreement (the existence of which she was untruthful about in documents submitted to the court and in videotaped depositions) and despite the fact that she has never produced a copy of a valid marriage license purportedly obtained in her native Bolivia, where she and my father got married and honeymooned in December 2002. According to my father's prenuptial, the bulk of the estate was to go to my 13-year old son, Ryan Esdale.

"No autopsy was ordered, despite the fact that my father technically died "unattended," and despite the fact that questionable substances were found in his home.

"Maria's account of that day's events has changed numerous times. Her first story was that she and my father fell asleep on the bed at 4:30pm and that she was awakened at 5:30pm by a phone call, which caused her to find my father dead next to her in bed. Later on, she recanted that story and said that she and my father had been working in the yard for hours and that my father said he felt tired. In this version of the story, she claims that she told my father to sit in the recliner and watch television, and she would make him a cup of coffee. When she returned to the chair, she purportedly found him slumped over, dead in the chair. Yet, when paramedics arrived, they found my father on the bedroom floor, wedged between the bed and the wall - a space of no more than three feet! If he died slumped over in the chair, how did this petite woman get my 225 lb. father into the bedroom and onto the floor in the position in which he was found?

"When paramedics arrived on the scene, Maria shouted to them, "Come in!" (This can be clearly heard in the recording of the 911 call.) I don't know of too many people who lie down to take a nap with their front door open. I know my father would not have done something like that. The front door was open because my father had just come in from outside when the arguing between him and Maria erupted (hence, Mr. Beninati's "ear witness" account of a domestic dispute in progress when he called my father that day and Tracy Weeks' eye witness account of my father having been at his mailbox at the time Maria claims that he was already dead)."

In his three-year investigation, Esdale has compiled a list of people involved in the murder and subsequent cover-up, saying the following parties are most likely guilty of one or more offenses, including murder, altering evidence, perjury, obstruction of justice, altering witness statements, witness tampering, falsifying police reports:

Sarasota Sheriff's Office (SSO):

Sheriff William F. ("Bullwinkle") Balkwill
Major Kevin Gooding
Captain Jeffrey Bell
Detective Chris Hallisey
Detective David Scott
Sergeant Richards
Deputy Mark Eve
Detective Kim Northfield
Gabrielle Taylor, Esq. (Former General Counsel, SSO)

Ann Barrett, 911 Dispatcher
Ann Pingel, 911 Call Center Supervisor

Sarasota County:

Dr. Russell Vega, Sarasota County Medical Examiner
Megan Simerak, Investigator, Sarasota County Medical Examiner's Office
David Winter Halter, Investigator, Sarasota County Medical Examiner's Office

FDLE:

Chris Siemers
John Stevens
Ed De Balasco
Steven Emerson
Andrew Rose
Mike O'Connell
Guy Tunnell, Commissioner
Richard Lober, Chief Inspector
David Perez

FBI:

Agent Lynn Billings (Sarasota FBI)
Agent Cory Nelson (Fort Myers FBI)
Agent Tracy Carbonaro (Miami FBI)
Agent Nakasoni (Quantico Bay FBI)
Agent Lancer (Quantico Bay FBI)

The Sarasota Courts and Lawyers:

Judge Nancy Donnellan
Judge Rick DeFuria
Steven Chase, Esq. (Maria's attorney)
Abel & Band, Attorneys at Law (Steven Chase's law firm)

The Governor's Office:

Governor Jeb Bush
Victoria Brennan, General Counsel, Governor's Office

State Attorney's Office:

Earl Moreland, State Attorney
Dennis Nalis, Assistant State Attorney

Specifically regarding Gov. Bush and his unwillingness to get to the bottom of Esdale's claims, he added:

"Governor Bush has been provided proof that his Florida Department of Law Enforcement (FDLE) has falsified information in order to protect both my father's killer and members of SSO who have been involved in the cover up, including his Republican ally Sheriff Balkwill,"

"Governor Jeb Bush has proven that he does not value life or families-unless it satisfies his political agenda or helps his friend's families or his own. My story is proof. Governor Bush told my family that he cannot get involved in our case because the Florida Statutes don't allow him to.

"Recently, in North Florida, the murder of a 14 year old young man was captured on video. Governor Bush had no choice but to do the right thing in that case. But why has he not intervened in my father's case?"

"Why has he not looked into why my father was poisoned with a banned substance called Corazol by his wife of three weeks almost half his age. The killer is a Juvenile Probation Officer for Sarasota County and an employee of the State of Florida. Why hasn't he looked into the fact the Sarasota Sheriff's Department and FDLE altered the recording to protect my father's killer and enable Governor Bush to protect his political allies who are involved in this obstruction of justice and murder cover up."

A Column: Slat's Grobnik Ends Up In The Gulag, Joining Many Others Who Dared To Criticize The Bush Regime

What has America become, asked Slat's, when Americans allow a dictator to throw out the first pitch of the baseball season!

5 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Arctic Beacon Columnist

Slat's Grobnik sat at the bar in Sam's Tavern with his hands folded, looking like he was saying a final prayer for America.

"The days of wine and roses are over," mumbled Slat's to himself as Sam the bartender pushed another bottle of beer in front of him.

"Look at that," said Slat's to Sam, pointing to the television over the bar.

"What?"

"Look, Bush is throwing out the first pitch on opening day in Cincy."

"So what. Not a bad arm for a paper pushing politician," said Sam, as Bush and the catcher met half way between the mound and home plate and exchanged a few words.

As Bush waved to the crowd, the first Cub hitter stepped to the plate and the 2006 baseball season was underway. Usually a happy day in the life of a diehard Cubs fan like Slat's who as a kid used to live in the bleachers at Wrigley Field, this opening day he looked like he just got hit by a train as he gulped down half a bottle on one swig, as the lead off man grounded out to short.

"Can't even watch opening day and my Cubbies in peace anymore without that idiot President showing up to ruin the game. What in God's name is he doing at the Cubs opener. It's a disgrace to baseball, and it's opening day curse to have the devil on the field."

"What the hell you talking about, Slat's?"

"Bush, look at him with that phony smile."

"So what. Presidents always throw out the first pitch on opening day somewhere."

"He ain't no President."

"Yes, he is."

"He ain't no President. Like I said, Sam, he ain't no President and let me tell you why."

Sam walked to other side of the bar not wanting to listen to Slat's tirade. He heard it before and it wasn't pretty, especially after a few shots and beers and especially when he gets to the part about Bush naked in a coffin at a secret Skull and Bones ceremony.

In fact, a lot of people in America have heard it before. Bush the tyrant. Bush the idiot. Bush the warmonger. Bush the liar. Impeach Bush. Bush the most hated man in the world. Bush this. Bush that.

Bush the demonic emperor who hears voices from he devil.

And the anti-Bush tirades seem to go on, but through it all, nothing changes.

Bush is still in the White House lying through his teeth. He's still throwing out the first pitch on opening day for the sixth straight year with a shit-eaten grin on his face. And Slat's is still drinking at the bar, calling him a devil worshipping so and so like millions of other Americans wondering what's really going on in their country.

"I tell you what's happening," said Slat's talking while Sam keeps nodding in the distance safely out of earshot. "Were going to hell in a hand basket and the devil himself, George H. Daddy Bush, is holding the basket."

"What did you say, Mr. Grobnik?" said a deep voice coming from behind Slat's as a strong hand began to squeeze down on his shoulder.

"Who the hell are you?" said Slat's turning his head and looking into the eyes of what could have been one of Hitler's Gestapo agents reborn. "And get your damn hands off me before I..."

"Before you what, Mr Grobnik!"

And before Slat's could get out another word, he slumped into the arms of the unknown man dressed in black after the man secretly poked him with a needle in the back of the neck.

"He's drunk and I'll take him home," said the man to Sam, as he carried Slat's out the door and into a waiting black car.

In the morning, Slat's awoke in an 8 x 8 cement block room still half shit-faced and groggy from the "modern bay mickey" slipped under his skin from the point of a sharp Gestapo needle.

"Where the hell am I?" yelled Slat's gazing at the bars on the small window on the doorway.

"You are in a gulag, Mr. Grobnik!" echoed a loud voice off the walls from what appeared to be a speakers embedded in the cement

"Am I in America?"

"In Denver."

"Let me out!"

"In due time, Mr. Grobnik. We have some work to do on you."

"What kind of work?"

"Secret work. The kind of work, shall we say, that will make you a nicer person to be around."

"What the hell are you saying? Nicer person? Let me out of here. I have my rights."

"You have no rights, Mr Grobnik. No phone calls. No lawyers. No clergy, Nobody even knows you're here."

"You can't do that!"

"Oh yes we can."

"They come calling for me. You can't get away with this."

"Who will come calling? Your buddies at the bar? Don't be so foolish, Mr Grobnik. They're too busy drinking and watching baseball to care about their own rights, let alone your's. By the way, the Cubs lost last night."

"I knew it, as soon as that devil worshipping President stepped on the field."

As soon as Slat's said 'devil worshipping President' a shot of what could have been a bolt of lightning went through his body, throwing him to the cement floor.

"You see, there you go again, Mr. Grobnik. You will just have to learn someday not to say those kind of words. It could take some time. But we have all the time in the world, Mr. Grobnik, all the time in the world."

As Slats finally came to his senses and pain disappeared, he said to speaker lodged in cement as if he was talking to a priest in a confessional.

"Why am I here, Father? Why am I here?"

"Now that's better, Mr. Grobnik. You are here like all the rest of your friends gathered together in the hundreds if not thousands of adjoining cinder block cells right outside your door."

"Why am I here? Who's outside?"

"Let me blunt, Mr. Grobnik. You are here because you pose a domestic threat to our utopian plan for peace. You are here because you spoke out against President Bush, his policies and the beloved people who trust in our Great Leader. You can't do that anymore, Mr. Grobnik. You can't do that any more."

As Slats curled up in a corner of the cell to try and get some sleep, the voice from speakers said:

"Sleep tight, Mr. Grobnik. We will let you out in due time, due time. But when you do finally get back to Sam's Tavern, Mr. Grobnik, we think you will have once and for all discovered and newfound appreciation for our Great Leader, George W. Bush.

"And remember, Mr. Grobnik, the next time we speak, when his name is mentioned, we want to see your arm snap out and raised high in salute of this great country called America, this great country we here at the Gulag call "the land of the slaves and home of the Bush."

Editor's Note: Every once in a blue moon Greg writes a column and checks in with his Chicago buddy, Slats Grobnik, a man immortalized in the many famous columns by the late truth seeking journalist, Mike Royko, also from Chicago. Over the years, Slats' big mouth always seemed to get him in trouble, but in fascist America under the Bush regime it's landed him right smack dab in jail. Read next week how Slats finally gets out of the gulag and decides to head down to Crawford, Texas, like Cindy Sheehan to get a personal meeting with Bush at his ranch.

Former Ambassador Who Met With Vince Foster Days Before He Turned Up Dead Claims He Was Murdered

Leo Wanta gave Foster $250 million earmarked for Hillary Clinton's slush fund disguised as the Childrens' Fund. Foster later turned up dead and Wanta ended up in a Swiss dungeon for 134 days.

4 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Former Ambassador Leo Wanta, jailed for years and framed by the Bush and Clinton crime families, said during a recent radio interview there is no doubt in his mind Vince Foster, chief White House counsel to President Clinton, was murdered only weeks after giving Foster $250 million dollars earmarked for the Childrens' Defense Fund.

Wanta also said Monday on Greg Szymanski's nightly edition of the Investigative Journal that he was aware Foster was about to testify against Clinton, providing another motive for Foster's untimely death.

Although Wanta had no idea what The Children's Fund was all about, later a financial investigator, Marco Saba of the Organized Crime Observatory (OBO) in Switzerland wrote this about turned out to be a secret fund:

"One component of this information concerns the activities of the CIA operative known as Mrs Hillary Rodham Clinton. For some years prior to the elevation of her husband, Bill, a CIA operative like his "CIA wife", Hillary had been in control of an organization calling itself the Childrens' Defense Fund. Executive Order 12333 (1981) of President Reagan, the US intelligence services were authorized to operate what became known as Title 18, Section 6 USG corporations for intelligence purposes, and to deny any intelligence community connection (that is, to lie about their real purpose).

"Some of these entities have touchy-feely, welfarish titles, like The Childrens' Defense Fund. It is alleged, un the basis of intelligence community leakages, that Hillary became accustomed to treating this fund as her own private slush fund."

Besides meeting with Foster, Wanta was in Switzerland on an official business to arrest the tax-evading criminal Marc Rich. But instead of bringing him to justice, Wanta was double-crossed by Clinton as Rich was allowed to escape on a tip by Israeli Mossad agents and Wanta instead was locked-up in a Swiss dungeon for 134 days.

Wanta's arrest, for no apparent reason, was met with strong opposition from Israeli leader Itzhak Rabin and Foster, both objecting to the Department of State. It's interesting to note both Rabin and Foster were subsequently killed, Foster on July 20, 1993 and Rabin assassinated in 1995.

"Foster was a religious man, happily married and why would anyone want to commit suicide after returning with 250 million," said Wanta. "There is no doubt in mind he was murdered as where some of my other business and political associates who were trying to do the right thing while honorably serving their country."

Regarding the other deaths, Wanta was referring to his business partner, Kok Howe Kwong, and other associates like Freddie Woodruff and Francois de Grosseurve, all found dead, according to Wanta, "strangely for their personal belief in our Great Nation, but by betrayal of others with falsehoods and malice," pointing the finger in the direction of George H. Bush and Clinton.

The situation in the early 1990's became ugly when Illuminati banksters set their sights on ripping-off vast sums of money in Wanta's control after appointed legal guardian by President Ronald Reagan earmarked for the American people, not private bank accounts

And now, years later, after Wanta spent a lengthy, "trumped-up" prison sentence and now released on house arrest, the criminals within the government are still trying to get at the money killing before it ever can be released safely into the hands of the American people.

The reason officials want Wanta out of the way is that he is legally holding the financial "golden keys" to a vast sum of made right after the Cold War after he and others on behalf of President Ronald Reagan were assigned to destabilize the Russian Ruble. The profits have now grown to approximately 27.5 trillion and Wanta has been legally appointed trustee by a 2003 federal court ruling out of Alexandria, Virginia.

Interviewed March 23 and again on April 3 on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal, Wanta said he and Foster, as well as many other patriots working in the best interests of the U.S., were essentially double-crossed, Foster being murdered for "knowing too much" and Wanta being shackled and hidden away in a Swiss dungeon and then sentenced to 22 years for a bogus Wisconsin state income tax evasion charge.

Recently released and still under house arrest with 10 years remaining on his sentence, an unexpected 2003 decision by a federal judge ruled he was legal trustee of 27.5 trillion, blocking any efforts for others in government to steal the large sum of money, now held in various overseas accounts under the name of Ameri-trust.

"I don't think they ever expected the decision and they have been trying to get me out the way so they can get the money before I put it back in the U.S. Treasury," said Wanta, who has also documented that during his prison stay more than $756 billion dollars has been pilfered from the fund by crooked bankers and politicians. The only hope we have in saving our country is to change the private Federal Reserve banking system like President Kennedy wanted to do before he was killed."

In the simplest of terms, as the dust has finally settled from the Cold War, the issue of the 27.5 trillion held by Wanta in trust for the American people still remains in limbo. According to Wanta, though, the issue is simple: change the banking laws so the money can be used for the people, not put into accounts of criminals.

According to Saba of the OBO, who investigated and traced Wanta's behind the scenes accounting of how some of the money has already been misappropriated, it's easy to see why Illuminati banksters want to get their dirty hands on the money before it gets into the hands of American people.

Here is a small portion of Saba's article about what he calls the "biggest bank heist in world history." THE STALINESQUE ANO CALIGULA-LIKE PURGE

In the meantime, the high-level crooks -- who are known to be most uneasy at the continuing leakage of information which threatens their exposure, and who, being indifferent to human life which they regard as expendable, have resorted to the ultimate sanction in innumerable cases -- have procured that dose on 500 operatives, lawyers and others have been "taken down" (liquidated, "suicided", placed under house arrest, jailed on trumped-up charges, or dismissed) in a Stalinesque purge of those considered a threat to the continued cover-up of crimes referred to generically as the Iran-Contra scandal, which in fact covers a far wider spectrum of serial illegality than its name implies. It also covers "legitimate" intelligence Financial Warfare operations in which Leo Wanta was extensively involved, and its operational codename was the name of his primary Title 18, Section 6 corporation, New Republic/USA Financial Group, and its several affiliates.

One method that Leo Wanta says is being used to hide all trace of some of the original alleged embezzlements, is that stolen banking or 138 Treasury instruments are being used and re-used as collateral for bank loans. The effect of this ruse is to ensure that the original embezzled instrument is permanently in the custody of financial institutions, and thus beyond the scrutiny of the authorities -- not that this is likely, since, as Leo Wanta told your correspondent finally on 25th April, US Treasury officials are complicit in the vast cover-up operation which has continued ever since the main alleged embezzlements took place in the early 1990s.

2.7% OF $27.5 TRILLION, THANK YOU VERY MUCH

In the case of the unprecedented giga-funding operation on behalf of the Illuminati, which was presided over by President George W. Bush Sr., the crooks helped themselves and their friends -- including Opus Dei, via an entity calling itself the Francis X Driscoil Trust -- to 2.7% of the total intended giga-loan, namely $742.5 billion. A new breakdown of how the allegedly embezzled funds were distributed was given on page 144 of the magazine, and is reproduced here on page 9.

When these alleged giga-embezzlements were taking place or had been spotted, the biggest crisis in the history of the international financial system developed. Specifically, given that the funds were to be paid out in US dollars, the transactions were all necessarily handled by the Federal Reserve, under the supervision and control of Dr Alan Greenspan. But although the giga-funding started in 1989, the transmission of funds from the Federal Reserve suddenly ceased (we are not, in the available public domain documents, told to whom the funds were to have been transmitted, but the primary recipient was a nexus of accounts loosely referred to as the Global Security Fund, based in Belgium, which is traditionally the financial centre for the Illuminati, and Chicago, where some of the funds may subsequently have been intermingled in the vortex of the derivatives industry).

Americans, Do You Really Want To Save Your Republic? Get Behind Leo Wanta Who Is Holding 27.5 Trillion In Trust For You!

The Bush and Clinton crime families used Wanta's Ameri-trust funds as a 'cash cow.' instead of returning the money to the American people for roads, education and health care. While Illuminati banksters already embezzled billions on top of billions, documented by Wanta, the crooked Washington power brokers even stopped him from using 5 billion in repatriation funds for Gulf Coast hurricane relief money in 1999.

3 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

If Americans ever want to reclaim their Republic, understanding the importance of the story behind jailed Ambassador Leo Wanta is a good starting point. In fact, the Wanta case may prove to be the "story of the century" even though it is cloaked in a complicated web of financial accounting, mystery and intrigue dating back to the end of the Cold War.

For starters, as unbelievable as it sounds, Wanta is the legal trustee according to a 2003 federal court ruling of more than 27.5 trillion dollars in repatriation assets held in overseas accounts and under protection for the American people.

The vast sum of money, now held in trust, are the fruits of exorbitant profits from Wanta's financial scheme to destabilize Soviet currency at the end of the Cold War after being assigned the task as a U.S. Treasury agent under President Ronald Reagan. (See Arctic Beacon story at <http://www.arcticbeacon.com/26-Mar-2006.html>.)

Of course, if the money is released, Wanta is due a hefty sum for his own personal use, a fact which scares his Illuminati enemies, including the Bush and Clinton crime families since he will immediately become one of the richest men in the world able to wield enormous power.

But in a conversation this week from his Switzerland home, where he is still being held under house arrest for what he calls "bogus" Wisconsin state tax evasion charges, he promised to use all repatriation monies released to him for the "good of the American people" not his own personal gain.

"What needs to be done is to create a commission representing the people, using the facts in my case to expose politicians, forcing them to use the money for the public good not for their own benefit," said Wanta in an extended conversation from his Swiss home, suggesting his case could be used as financial leverage to once and for all change the corrupt Federal Reserve banking system.

According to binding contractual terms in the 2003 federal court case, under contracts with Wanta's proprietary company, Ameri-tech, about half the money would immediately go into the U.S. Treasury, immediately wiping out the national debt, and the other half would be retained by Wanta and Ameri-trust.

"If the money ever gets released with full protection for the American people, I am prepared to use the remaining sum in my private control only for the good of the people for things like roads, education and health care," said Wanta, leaving open the obvious question of who would the American people prefer to trust: proven liars and criminals like Bush and Clinton or Wanta, who appears to be playing ball with the people not the Illuminati New World Order banksters.

So the major question looms: Why is 27.5 trillion dollars still in financial limbo?

According to Wanta and other financial analysts, as the laws are written today, if the money was returned, it would immediately be stolen, being placed into Illuminati bankster accounts under the crooked private Federal Reserve laws illegally manipulating the financial future of America.

In essence, the 2003 federal court ruling protected this from happening and became a big stumbling block to people like Bush and Clinton who wanted the money kept under the public radar screen and secretly distributed into private accounts.

"The time has run out for a government appeal. But they never wanted that in the first place because it was something they didn't want the public to ever find out about," added Wanta.

And to show the secrecy and corruption going on behind the scenes, Wanta was illegally put in a Swiss dungeon for 134 days in the early 1990's to essentially get him out of the way.

Upon his release, he was then extradited and found guilty of "trumped up" and nickel and dime" state income tax evasion charges, spending another long jail term before recently being released on house arrest with 10 years remaining on his 22 year sentence.

To add insult to injury while Wanta was jailed, until the federal court 2003 ruling, Bush, Clinton and their Illuminati minions found a devious way to use Wanta's Ameri-trust funds as their "own personal cash cow."

To prove his point, Wanta has meticulously documented how "Bush, Clinton and his criminal gang of thieves" have stolen more than 700 billion dollars from Ameri-trust accounts while in jail. (See Arctic Beacon story at <http://www.arcticbeacon.com/26-Mar-2006.html>. for Wanta's accounting of the stolen money.)

And while Bush and Clinton were busy getting their dirty hands even dirtier, Wanta points out they even refused to use $5 billion for a plan which he proposed through corporately funded activities for U.S. Hurricane Evacuation and Recovery Operations from Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Texas.

Wanta said the 1999 plan, under a company he formed called Marvelous Investments Unlimited, consisted of four expandable traffic lanes with double track railroad lines, underground freshwater pipeline, electrical systems, gas/oil pipeline, fiber-optic communication trunk line, lodgings, medical facilities, and much more as outlined in the overall MIL/design planning.

Wanta added the plan would have commenced in 1999 with full private sector funding solely by "Marvelous Investments Limited" through their lawful ownership and management of Parkhead Financial, Inc. with lawful repatriation corporate MIL/AmeriTrust/New Republic from repatriation assets still being held in trust for the American people.

However, the plan, which would have also employed 12-14,000 people, was derailed by Washington power brokers, clearly showing the crooked policy brokers, by axing the Wanta proposal, never intended to prepare the Gulf Coast for eventual disasters like Hurricane Katrina, instead leaving the area vulnerable for heavy disaster and death tolls even when money was clearly available.

"Just a sad thought that just maybe American lives taken by Hurricane Katrina would have been lessened and our National Economy may have been strengthened by these corporately funded activities," said

Wanta, adding there was plenty of money available to have repaired the defective New Orleans levy system prior to Katrina if politicians has their priorities straight in the first place.

"I remain with deep sadness, but hopeful for the survival and reconstruction of New Orleans, and maybe now the original 'Hurricane Routes' can be implemented before I die with heavy heart and old age, something that should have been done by others that remain unknown and not caring for our American Rule of Law, inter alia. May Our Lord bless our departing soul and Our Great Nation."

More Information Suggests Shooter in Seattle Killing Spree Possibly Connected With 'Manchurian Candidate Psy Ops Campaign'

Investigators need to dig deep into government sponsored mind control programs when looking for what caused Kyle Huff to gun down six innocents and then pull the trigger on himself. Strange evidence surfacing suggests more than just a random act of violence by a crazed killer, as public demands truthful investigation from Feds, not a cover-up job protecting undercover CIA programs.

2 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

A source who talked with a close friend of Kyle Huff, the 28-year-old who killed six people last week in a Seattle shooting spree and then turned a shotgun on himself, said there is "no doubt" he was involved in "Manchurian Candidate Psy Ops Campaign" and it needs to be exposed in order to save more innocent lives.

The source, who will only talk with strict anonymity, came to this conclusion from conversations with friends of Huff, who told her shocking information not yet made public about what was going on behind the scenes in Huff's troubled life.

"The person that alerted me to the possibility that this shooting could be a psy ops test, practice run, or an psy ops gone wrong, is an emotionally fragile youth adult, who is, I believe, at risk of suicide. So naturally it is my interest to protect him," said the anonymous source who wanted to refer to the fragile young who supplied her with the information as X to protect his identity and whereabouts.

."I also know that people who know to much, end up "disappeared", are "suicided", or hit by trucks.

I don't know if the following information is helpful in anyway. I think it would sound crazy to most people, and immediately be dismissed.. I also hope it doesn't just muddy the waters. I think there is something very deep and dark beneath the surface here, and that this shooting is not just a random event."

After recent discussions with X after the shooting, the source said his whereabouts are unknown, as he is literally on the run and feeling his life is in danger. In an effort of getting at the truth before a government cover-up, the source wanted to pass on the information as well as protect X

Here is the detailed account, also referring to two other people as K and B who also were involved in the story:

"X" had been on heavy psychotropic medications for "manic depression" (a dubious diagnosis, in my opinion) until a few weeks ago when they went to stay with my relative to come off the drugs, and detox. My relative is a very capable and nurturing person, and X felt safe with them, and was well cared for. X has little family support.

"K", and a friend "B" traveled with Kyle Huff two years ago, and while headed for Seattle from CA, the three of them stopped at a hippie gathering in Oregon. Just outside the gathering location was an old cemetery, and they went into it to look around. Huff suggested that they each make a prediction, and bury it there. (which sounds like a kid sort of thing to do), so they did. Each wrote their prediction, stuffed it in a bottle, and buried all three together. None told the other what they had written.

"X said there were times, during their travels, that Huff repeatedly made reference to something he had to do, but couldn't remember what. He said that George Bush thought he was "master Bush", or "Bush the master".

"After hearing what X said, the words, 'Bushmaster rifle', 'Republican St', 'Capitol Hill' and 'NOW', took on an aura of more than mere coincidence.

"This sort of thing is not something I am completely unfamiliar with, having been married to an "ex" CIA man (no one ever really leaves "The Company"). I have heard some of my ex-husband's "people", over wine, after dinner at my house in Houston, talk about "sleepers" - people who were programmed to carry out tasks like assassinations. They had no idea they were being "handled".

"After arriving in Seattle X lost touch with Huff. The murders were committed on Saturday, March 25th, and X and my relative found out about them the next day. X immediately recognized who the shooter was. Among X's initial reactions to the news, was that Huff had remembered what he was supposed to do, but got it scrambled up.

" My gut feeling is that there is far more that Huff indicated to X, when they were together, than what X has revealed. X is vague in this area.

"After several phone calls to Seattle, X learned that several people at the house at the time of the shooting were friends. X left for Seattle to make contact with those friends. That night X had a stark, and "real" dream, but the only thing X could remember about the dream was seeing a phone number written on a piece of paper.

"X went back to Portland, and my relative did a search online, and discovered the phone number belonged to Kyle Huff's mother. X left Portland, determined to find out what the others had written, and put in their bottles. X traveled to the graveyard, and was met by a man armed with a rifle. He said, "I have been waiting for you."

"X was able to talk to him, and convince him X only wanted to retrieve some property left in the graveyard, and the man left X alone. X went to the bottle burial spot only to discover it had been dug up. X's bottle was still there, but the other 2 were missing. Next to the remaining bottle, was a note from B. The note told X go to Kyle Huff's mother's house in Whitefish, Montana. (Huff's mother, runs a small gallery there.)

"X called my relative, to inform them X was leaving for Whitefish, but on the way to Montana became extremely frightened. X was able to contact B (who was in Whitefish), and told them that X would not be coming.

"X told B that the buried message that X had written had said "We will meet again at this same spot". B then told X that the other 2 messages said the exact same thing. X did not believe B, and became even more frightened. Extremely so. X informed my relative that X would be going back to Seattle, but the exact whereabouts of X is not known at this time."

Regarding the day of the shooting, before putting a shotgun in his mouth and pulling the trigger, Huff killed six and wounded two on March 25, at 2112 E. Republican St. on Capitol Hill in Seattle. Initial police reports also revealed he used a Bushmaster rifle and at five brochures about the rifle were found next to his computer.

Further, before Huff began shooting, he sprayed painted the word, "NOW" on the sidewalks and steps of the house on Republican St., as some observers are saying it is an ominous message meaning New World Order. He was also armed with three guns, more than 300 rounds of ammunition, a baseball bat and a black machete, and told guests as he blazed away, "There's plenty for everyone," authorities said after the shooting..

However,, Huff has an identical twin named Kane, both growing up in the small town of Whitefish, Montana, population of approximately 5,000.

The Huff twins were also close high school friends with Jared Hope. In 2002, Hope shot and killed both his parents, then himself as police arrived on the scene similar to Huff. And according to reports, both Huff brothers returned to Whitefish to attend the Hope funeral in 2002, where their mother, Mary, still lives and runs a small art gallery.

Huff's mother was unavailable for comment and not answering her telephone, but after the incident she released a general statement of remorse to the press and then supposedly went into seclusion with her son, Kane.

Although it's too early to tell, the many unanswered questions already surfacing in the Huff murder spree, spelling possible government psy ops, can't be ignored or dismissed as merely coincidence even to the most novice of criminal investigators.

"The mother may be able to shed some light on Huff's childhood. This could be an important," said the anonymous source in an earlier statement. "As for the two years since my source saw Kyle Huff last, he lived with his twin brother, Kane, in Seattle and he was by all accounts the closest to him. After the shootings, Kane was, according to media accounts, in seclusion, but he may be in Whitefish at this time.

"It is my gut feeling that these two time frames are of key importance to this mystery. Both the mother and brother have given short statements to the press, and have been cooperative with police."

Saying the "government psy ops" connection needs to be investigated the source said the following questions also need to be answered in light of the information she learned about Huff:

Did Huff and his brother see the same doctors or psychiatrists as children? Were they a part of any medical studies? Did they see the same doctors or have extended contact with other people who where also in contact with Jared Hope?

Did they take medications for extended periods? Did Jared Hope? Where they the same medications, or come from the same pharmacy?

Who did Huff have contact with the last two years? Where did the Bushmaster rifle come from? Why that rifle?

Why did he choose to carry out the shooting at a house on Republican Street, on Capital Hill, a house he had apparently never been to before.

Why did he shoot strangers? Why did he choose them? Why did Huff spray paint the word "NOW". Was it a "trigger" word (no pun intended), or a dyslexic form of "NWO"?

Cleveland Women Arrested And Charged With Two Felonies Related To Putting Up Anti-Bush Posters

Carol Fisher, 50, was brutalized by Cleveland Heights Police, charged with two felonies and handcuffed to a hospital bed after trying to put up a "Bush Step Down" poster on a telephone pole. Even when she agreed to take the posters down, officers felt it was better to manhandle her in an act of outright police abuse and brutality.

1 Apr 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Carol Fisher left her Cleveland home early one morning to put up some anti-Bush posters on a busy downtown street. She never returned, being jailed after a run-in with police.

Instead of being allowed to peacefully express views, Fisher claims she was brutalized by Cleveland Heights police, charged with two counts of felony assault and held incommunicado under police custody in the hospital

The incident occurred Jan. 28 and the case is set for pre-trial hearing Monday on the 21st floor of the Justice Center in Cleveland Heights at 9 a.m..

"This outrage and others like it must be exposed and opposed by all who hate the direction that the Bush regime is taking this country and the world," said Fisher in a long email Friday, seeking support and detailing her story. "Most likely, the case will go to trial this Monday, April 3. Your support will make a strong statement that people are not going along with this "new normalcy" of intimidation and repression."

"As it says in the Call, If we speak the truth, they will try to silence us. If we act, they will try to stop us. But we speak for the majority, here and around the world, and as we get this going we are going to reach out to the people who have been so badly fooled by Bush and we are NOT going to stop...The future is unwritten. Which one we get is up to us."

And Fisher's run-in with authorities is just another example of the long line of cases piling up across America showing the "real live day to day" lock down on freedom of speech and the use of police as the gestapo arm of the fascist Bush administration

In Fisher's case, why does a incident involving posting a "Bush Step Down" poster have to lead to violence? Obviously, in this case, law enforcement tempers were "boiling hot" and their ability to treat citizens as "friends not enemies" came through with flying colors.

Just ask Fisher, an employee of Revolution Bookstore in Cleveland, now facing jail time on felony charges: This is her detailed account of what happened the morning she tried to put up anti-Bush posters:

"I had set out from my house with a full agenda, to contact lots of people and get out materials about our upcoming Cleveland event to Drown Out the State of the Union address, and the call to march around the White House on Feb. 4th. My first stop was the an area known for its community of artists and progressives, where I stapled up posters for blocks and was greeted warmly by those who saw and appreciated what World Cant Wait is doing. I talked to an artist, and a Palestinian store owner who took fliers to distribute to customers.

"Next stop, to the east side. I drove down a street in Cleveland Heights, another area known for its diversity and progressive history. This street was badly in need of postering too and though i was in a big hurry, I couldn't drive on without getting up a few signs. Before long a cop called from across the street: "Ma'am! Hundred dollar fine for doing that!" Oh really, since when? Another way of keeping us from getting the word out, eh?

"But not wanting to get arrested, I said ok and put up my staplegun and walked away. But that wasn't the end of it. "Ma'am! Hundred dollar fine unless you take those posters down." He is pursuing me across the street. Damn! OK fine, I say, I will take them down (not wanting to get into a confrontation, because I have lots to do today!) But this too is not enough for the cop. He wants my ID. I say I don't have my ID. He grabs my arm. I say let go of me, I am not doing anything wrong, I will take the posters down. People are watching to see what happens, are outraged but very afraid. The cop wont let go, he clearly wants more grief from me, and he is in the spotlight. He wants people to be scared. He pushes me against a store window and next thing I know I am face down on the sidewalk with two cops on top of me, one with his knee in my back. I am trying to call out to people, to tell them what the posters are about.

"They keep pushing my face into the sidewalk. I cant breathe. I have osteoradionecrosis in my jaw, resulting from radiation treatments for cancer. My jawbone is slowly deteriorating, is very fragile, and doesn't heal well. I am 53 years old, not exactly a spring chicken. A hand comes down again to push my chin against the concrete. By this time there are four cops on the scene. My hands are tightly cuffed behind my back. They lift me up and shove me onto a park bench and shackle my legs. I am still calling out, telling people what this is about. One of the cops says to me, "Shut up or I will kill you!", "I am sick of this anti-Bush shit!" "You are definitely going to the psyche ward." Then somebody calls the EMS, and a fire squad shows up.

"The cop supervisor appears and puts his finger in my face: "I don't like it when people treat my men like this and if you don't obey the law you will suffer the consequences." I am lifted into the EMS truck, hands still cuffed behind my back. I ask to make a call and this is refused, but a fireman offers to make a quick call for me. If not for this, no one would have known where I was or what was happening, a fate shared by many immigrants in this country. At the hospital, I am treated as an arch-criminal. Escorted by four policemen, I shuffle into the emergency room, legs still shackled, covered with leaves and mud. I think to myself, if I was Black, I would not have made it this far. I would probably be dead by now."

According to the facts of the case, through Fisher's attorney, she clearly wanted to obey officers in taking down the signs, but it appears hot tempered officers wanted to arrest her anyway.

In recent developments, the prosecution has refused to drop charges in return for a promise to seek charges against the officers for brutality. As a counter, Fisher has refused to accept a reduction to a misdemeanor, saying she did nothing wrong.

"The facts show that I was willing to take the posters down as the officer requested. But I was arrested anyway. Yet the prosecution intends to distort the facts and police still promote the lie that I was arrested because I refused to comply, and attacked them," said Fisher.

"The real point here is, there need to be more posters all over the place demanding an end to the Bush Regime! The facts clear and simple: I was wrongly arrested and assaulted for putting up anti-Bush posters. I was further punished for defying them. What about my injuries, trauma, intimidation, a threat on my life, being labeled a crazy wildcat, held incommunicado for six hours, forced to undress in front of four male policemen, and now the loss of my job? And most of all, what about the fact that all this happened because I put up a poster calling for active opposition to the Bush Regime!"

Editor's Note: Anyone interested in helping Fisher or attending her hearing Monday in Cleveland can email her at infor@worldcantwait.org. Or if you want to voice your concern directly to authorities call William B. Mason, County Prosecutor, at 216-443-7800, Judge Timothy McGinty at 216-443-8758 or Cleveland Heights Law Director John at 216 291-5775.

Could Strange Seattle Killing Spree Be Connected To "Manchurian Candidate" Psy Ops Government Program?

Kyle Huff, 28, gunned down six with a Bushmaster rifle and then killed himself at a home on Capitol Hill after spray painting "NOW" on the doorstep.

31 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

As the old saying goes, death comes in "threes" but last week the number changed to nine, as a rash of strange killings with undertones of "government psy ops hits" hidden between the lines hit news stands across the country.

First, there was the flight attendant who at the last minute was bumped off Flight 11 on 9/11, who was killed in an auto accident. Initial police reports list accidental death, but suspicious minds are already speculating she was eliminated for knowing too much about 9/11 being an inside government job.

Next there was the PhD college student and member of the 9/11 truth group called Scholars for 9/11 Truth found shot in the head in uptown Minneapolis. Initial reports claim it was a random act of violence, but again suspicious minds are trying to connect the dots to 9/11.

Although these two incidents are deplorable and have peripheral connections to 9/11, without question the most bizarre and suspicious murder incident of them all took place in Seattle where Kyle Huff, 25, opened fire on an innocent crowd of people, killing six and then shooting himself as police arrived on the gruesome murder scene.

Again initial reports were unclear but indicated at first glance a random act of violence. However, what lies behind the scenes and between the lines of this barbaric act may very well prove to be much, much more than a crazed killer wielding a shotgun..

A source, seeking complete anonymity due to the sensitivity of the case, told the Arctic Beacon that Huff may have pulled the trigger on his recently purchased Bushmaster rifle due to his involvement in a Mkultra government "psy ops campaign" or "Manchurian Candidate" type program.

Although it's too early to tell, the many unanswered questions already surfacing in the Huff murder spree, spelling possible government psy ops, can't be ignored or dismissed as merely coincidence even to the most novice of criminal investigators.

"I have come by some information about Huff that I am not in a position to disclose at this time. There is reason for me to believe Huff was the subject of a psy ops "Manchurian candidate" type of program. That is all I can say at this time, but if you look at a few of the facts of the case, I am sure you can see where I am going with this," said the anonymous source.

"I came by this information from a person who traveled with Mr Huff two years ago, and the story related to me is chilling. There is more than going on here that meets the eye. I wish I could be more forthcoming about the details related to me. I am not a nut case."

And the initial facts surrounding the Seattle shooting spree leave a host of unanswered questions, making the information of the anonymous source more curious and revealing.

Initial reports show the murders were committed on Saturday, March 25, at 2112 E. Republican St. on Capitol Hill in Seattle. Huff also had recently acquired a Bushmaster rifle, according to police, as at five brochures about the rifle were found next to his computer. Further, it was reported that immediately before Huff began shooting, he sprayed painted the word, "NOW" on the sidewalks and steps of the house on Republican St.

Huff also was armed with three guns, more than 300 rounds of ammunition, a baseball bat and a black machete, and told guests as he blazed away, "There's plenty for everyone," authorities said Monday.

"He clearly intent on doing homicidal mayhem," Deputy Police Chief Clark Kimerer said after the incident. And when police confronted Huff, he put a shotgun in his mouth and pulled the trigger.

As essential background, Huff has an identical twin named Kane, both growing up in the small town of Whitefish, Montana, population of approximately 5,000.

The Huff twins were also close high school friends with Jared Hope. In 2002, Hope shot and killed both his parents, then himself as police arrived on the scene similar to Huff. And according to reports, both Huff brothers returned to Whitefish to attend the Hope funeral in 2002, where their mother, Mary, still lives and runs a small art gallery.

Huff's mother was unavailable for comment and not answering her telephone, but after the incident she released a general statement of remorse to the press and then supposedly went into seclusion with her son, Kane.

"The mother may be able to shed some light on Huff's childhood. This could be an important," continued the anonymous source. "As for the two years since my source saw Kyle Huff last, he lived with his twin brother, Kane, in Seattle and he was by all accounts the closest to him. After the shootings, Kane was, according to media accounts, in seclusion, but he may be in Whitefish at this time.

"It is my gut feeling that these two time frames are of key importance to this mystery. Both the mother and brother have given short statements to the press, and have been cooperative with police."

Saying the "government psy ops" connection needs to be investigated the source said the following questions also need to be answered in light of the information she learned about Huff:

Did Huff and his brother see the same doctors or psychiatrists as children? Were they a part of any medical studies? Did they see the same doctors or have extended contact with other people who where also in contact with Jared Hope?

Did they take medications for extended periods? Did Jared Hope? Where they the same medications, or come from the same pharmacy?

Who did Huff have contact with the last two years? Where did the Bushmaster rifle come from? Why that rifle?

Why did he choose to carry out the shooting at a house on Republican Street, on Capital Hill, a house he had apparently never been to before.

Why did he shoot strangers? Why did he choose them? Why did Huff spray paint the word "NOW". Was it a "trigger" word (no pun intended), or a dyslexic form of "NWO"?

Ohio Attorney Jailed Again Over Trumped-Up 'Paper Terrorism' Charges
Former attorney Elsebeth Baumgartner, released Tuesday posting bail, is being treated like a political prisoner for speaking out at a city council meeting, sending emails to a judge and running a highly critical, anti-neocon web site.

30 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The Ohio attorney, persecuted by the Illuminati for uncovering deep rooted scandals leading to the White House, was jailed again Monday on new charges related to her highly critical web site recently dismantled by authorities.

Treated like a political prisoner with Nazi-like tactics, Elsebeth Baumgartner, 50, was taken into custody Monday after appearing in court in a related criminal case, carrying a maximum sentence of 66 years and 6 months.

The well-respected Ohio bio-tech attorney, who graduated from the University of Toledo Law School first in her class, has already spent approximately 244 days behind bars on a first time misdemeanor charge, including 10 days "locked in a hole" without the right to counsel, clergy or even phone calls.

Ohio authorities decided to lash out at Baumgartner for merely speaking out at a local city council meeting after presenting highly documented and substantiated evidence of corruption leading to the doorstep of the White House and the highest levels of Ohio government.

Since being released from jail on the original misdemeanor charge, Baumgartner started a web site to expose "the criminals in government," a move that she claims "has led to two more trumped up charges being leveled against me," carrying a maximum of 109 years and 6 months in jail.

Regarding the most recent case, Baumgartner was released from jail Monday evening after posting bail on charges of Intimidation related to statements made to her business partner's wife after she claimed the couple was intimidated by authorities and turned state's evidence.

"It happened just like I said it would," said Baumgartner Wednesday in a telephone conversation from her Ohio home, referring to statements made last Friday on Greg Szymanski's radio show, the Investigative Journal. "That's why I wanted to be on the show because I knew they were going to put me in jail again after being notified of the new charges on Thursday.

"They know they can't go to trial on this case as a jury would be appalled at what is happening to me. So their plan is to keep me in a legal matrix as I know face over 100 years n jail on the two outstanding cases and even heard they are planning to charge my husband and I again with new charges related to illegal prescription drugs in my house.

"These charges, of course, are bogus as my husband is a licensed pharmacist and we have done nothing wrong."

"They just twisted the law and I was jailed. As a lawyer, respected in my community, I never thought this could happen in America, but I am living proof it can and it's not over yet," said Baumgartner last week on the Investigative Journal radio broadcast.

To listen to the entire broadcast, go to www.rbnlive.com and turn to the archives page and for the original print article go to the archives of The Arctic Beacon at www.arcticbeacon.com. "As a lawyer, respected in my community, I never thought this could happen in America, but I am living proof it can and it's not over yet."

As a bio-tech attorney representing influential clients, Baumgartner's original troubles also began when she notified state and federal authorities about sensitive bio-tech information being hi-jacked, information which could have been used to wage bio-tech warfare against the U.S.

But instead of receiving cooperation from the feds, she claimed any serious investigations were stonewalled, as she became the brunt of harassment and illegal surveillance for reporting the alleged bio-tech misappropriation of information.

Besides the bio-tech and ferry boat matters, Baumgartner also tried to save her local school district $1.5 million involved in a contract scam she uncovered, a scam involving top officials and only the tip of the iceberg, leading to how money may have ended up in the coffers of George W. Bush's 2004 re-election campaign as a for return on political favors.

"I think they wanted to contain the scandal brewing to the state and local levels and this why they came down hard on me," added Baumgartner.

Facing more jail time after being released Monday on the new charges in a recent letter directed to family and friends, Baumgartner tries to explain what's now unfolding in her battle against government corruption:

"A 15 county indictment was issued for me today with a warrant in Cuyahoga County. These charges relate to my alleged intimidation of my former business partner Bryan DuBois and his wife Mandy DuBois related to Erie Voices in Erie County while I resided in Ottawa County. It appears Cuyahoga is trying to boot strap the case to the current case in Cuyahoga in order to keep the case there to complicate my defense and deny me a fair trial. Those of you who have followed the story know that while I was held in the State Mental Hospital, Bryan and Mandy stole Erie Voices from my family and turned it in to a Baumgartner bash and disinformation site.

"When I got out and started aggressively publishing the truth of what happened including the fact that over $35,000 had been misappropriated from us or our company exclusive of equipment and the value of the contents of the website itself; (well over $50,000 invested) the DuBois felt the truth intimidated them. It was at this point that the site was shut down by the DuBois at the government's urging in order that all the evidence necessary to my defense, the public good and of their own intimidation of my family and me was not available. This was also the reason for the raid on my home. To obtain all my computer records related to pay to play, and evidence gathered related to the website.

"I do not understand the need to issue a warrant. Perhaps it is yet another example of their desire to degrade me and see me in chains at the start of trial on Monday when Bryan DuBois will enter his plea and turn state's evidence against me.

"I still believe Bryan has been coerced into this plea by his wife, his attorney and Kasaris.

This action follows closely increasing revelations of pay to play in Ohio and testimony adduced at my contempt hearing that clearly showed Judge Markus filed the citations out of a desire to obstruct inquiry into criminal actions in the courts. I firmly believe this to be a desperate ploy to avoid trial on Monday and continue to drag out my proceedings so as to discredit me and inhibit my advocacy and activism.

"My lawyer indicted Kasaris was inclined to agree to let me be arraigned on Monday before Judge Saffold. This would indicate that the while the warrant issued it was not transmitted to Ottawa authorities. I will try to confirm this statement.

"Please include the DuBois family, my family, me and most of all our nation in your prayers at this difficult time."

The Story Of The 27.5 Trillion Dollar Man Heats Up As Another Dead Body Allegedly Found In Swiss Bank

It seems behind every corner the Illuminati is looming and another dead body turns up in the incredible story of Ambassador Leo Wanta, the trustee of a vast sum of money owed to the American people.

29 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

It seems behind every rock there is another dead body when it comes to the incredible case of Ambassador Leo Wanta, the man holding 27.5 trillion dollars in trust for the American people as Illuminati banksters try to rip him off on a daily basis.

First there was attorney Vince Foster, Deputy White House Counsel to President Clinton, found dead in a Washington D.C. park just after Wanta handed him 250 million in Switzerland for the Childrens' Defense Fund, a fund both men thought was legit but turned out to be nothing more than a front for black ops money considered by insiders to be Hillary Clinton's personal slush fund.

Then there was Wanta's business partner, Kok Howe Kwong, and other associates like Freddie Woodruff and Francois de Grosseurve, all found dead, according to Wanta, "strangely for their personal belief in our Great Nation, but by betrayal of others with falsehoods and malice," pointing the finger in the direction of George H. Bush and Clinton.

And now, years later, after Wanta spent a lengthy, what he calls "trumped-up" prison sentence and now released on house arrest, the killing appears to be continuing in an all out effort by the Illuminati to get their hands on the vast sum of money in Wanta's control before it ever can be released safely into the hands of the American people.

The reason being Wanta, nicknamed the '27.5 Trillion Dollar Man', is legally holding the financial "golden keys" to a vast sum of money made right after the Cold War after he and others on behalf of President Ronald Reagan were assigned to destabilize the Russian Ruble. The profits have now grown to approximately 27.5 trillion and Wanta has ben legally appointed trustee by a 2003 federal court ruling out of Alexandria, Virginia.

And to verify the dangers behind the Wanta story due to the enormous sum of money at stake, Marco Saba of the Observatory of Organized Crime in Switzerland, a privately funded European crime watch dog group, this week had this to say about the 27.5 trillion in Wanta's control:

"In January 2006 a man named 'Jack' tried to take money from one of Wanta's accounts at UBS - Zurich. He was killed in the basement of the UBS bank.

"In March, 2006, a former undercover Swiss agent Fausto "Tato" Cattaneo, worked closely with DEA, to defeat the Cali drug cartel in Colombia and he wrote a book in 2001 about his work to investigate the whereabouts of Leo Wanta's account in Switzerland.

"He recently was arrested by former police colleagues and held jailed for a week in Zurich. He has just been released. I agree that Wanta's story is very interesting and that people want to stop him from recovering the money."

Interviewed March 23 on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal, Wanta said he and Foster, as well as many other patriots working in the best interests of the U.S., were essentially double-crossed, Foster being murdered for "knowing too much" and Wanta being shackled and hidden away in a Swiss dungeon for 134 days.

For the entire story of how Wanta was sentenced to 22 years for a bogus Wisconsin state income tax evasion charge, recently released and still under house arrest with 10 years remaining on his sentence and how in 2003 a federal judge ruled he was legal trustee of 27.5 trillion from Cold War profits from destabilizing the Soviet currency, see print story in archives of www.arcticbeacon.com or two hour radio interview on www.rbnlive.com in the archives of the Investigative Journal.

Filed on Dec. 4, 1998, in Swiss court documents before the Honorable Judge Jacques Antenen on behalf of AmeriTrust Corp., one of the legal entities protecting trillions for the American people, Wanta entered the following statements about how he was being framed and how many of his associates, not on the treasonous Bush/Clinton team, were strangely and mysteriously killed.

Further, Wanta was in the middle of what turned out to be an illegal Bush and Clinton network of illegal banking drug running and other treasonous affairs in direct violation of international and U.S. law. Although a complex statement, it lists many names and account references that if investigated properly, could perhaps get to the bottom of some of the Illuminati's illegal funding and treasonous acts directed against the people of the United States.

"We have never laundered any money, since we are authorized to receive 10 percent of any and all US Government lawful seizures under our United States Agreements, as we are definitely not the alleged criminals as falsely stated by unknown State and Suisse provocateurs in some shadow, without truthful facts and Counter-Intelligence knowledge and related USG responsibilities," said Wanta in the 1998 Swiss court documents.

"My partner and brother, Kok Howe Kwong, and my associates like Freddie Woodruff, Francois de Grosseurve and Vince Foster died strangely for their personal belief in our Great Nation, by BETRAYAL of others with falsehoods and malice, USG "Security Code - NEW REPUBLIC" of USCA 18 / 6 Jackson, Mississippi, INTEL.ops legally organized as New Republic / USA Financial Group, Ltd. to coordinate U. "Based on my diplomatic situation, I was kidnapped in Switzerland and taken to New York at gunpoint, and appeared in the United States District Court, Eastern District of New York, USA, Docket No. 93-M-2072; whereas the Court dismissed any and all unlawful / alleged complaints of the State of Wisconsin, based on U S Government Motion as to Ambassador Leo Emil Wanta - whereas the State of Wisconsin - Department of Revenue DEFIED said U. S. Federal Order and had me re-arrested in New York City with only my Diplomatic Entry / VISA without any valid arrest warrant, for continuous refusal to pay a Wisconsin civil tax assessment as a nonresident."

Regarding the present hi-jacking of the U.S. Constitution and the U.S. government, as well as his own personal role in trying to protect the American people from massive corruption, leading to what could be the eventual destruction of the U.S., he added his final comments in the 1998 Swiss court documents:

"All of my U.S. Government actions, including the U.S.S.R. ruble currency affair(the manner in which Wanta and others amassed the 27.5 trillion now protected in trust) were carried out with the full knowledge of my superiors. I personally do not intend to be fraudulently used as a Human Sacrifice to deny and cover-up the working knowledge and shared responsibility of others. Now without any doubt, we have a conscious US Government policy of ignoring reality. The American Public needs to learn what is really happening in the United States and the Sovereign State of Wisconsin, so that Civil Tax Laws can be accountable to a large and informed public, and not just generated lawlessly by delusional tax agents, whose judgments are colored by their personal needs and biases, under the color of law. To forcibly DRUG and IMPRISON me to collect unknown corporate and personal non-residency income taxes is grossly CRIMINAL, as well as a direct violation of my United States Constitutional, Civil and Diplomatic Rights. Once upon a time, " a decision which has long been regarded as the special province of the Executive Branch" - charged by the U. S. Constitution to " TAKE CARE THAT THE LAWS BE FAITHFULLY EXECUTED." [U. S. Const., Art II, Sec 3, Id at 832, 105 S ct at 1656. See also Powell v Katzenbach, 359 F 2d 234 (1965) cert denied 384 U. S. 906, 86 S ct 1341, 16 L Ed 2d 359 (1966)].

"The overall cost of closing your eyes to the State of Wisconsin's Corruption and Tax Conspiracy by acts of kidnapping/abduction on foreign sovereign soil is beyond American traditions of Due Process and Equal Protection under our United States Constitution, certainly exposing the Clinton Administration complicity and open endorsement. I was led to believe that at one time, our United States of America President William Jefferson Clinton had both the moral standing and the Presidential means to " back up" our U. S. Constitution, our Civil Rights, and Guarded Privileges, under his personal World Leadership, based on our USG sanctioned " De-stabilization of the Evil Empire."

"May God save our Great Nation from inner destruction and Misuse and Abuse of Power, contrary to our Democratic Rule of Law and the U. S. Constitution."

Editor's Note: Some of Wanta's phraseology was taken directly from Swiss court documents, with the intended meaning to serve a legal purpose more than a literary one if, by chance, some readers found it 'tough going' when reading some of the quotes.

Ed Asner Talks On RBN Radio Show, The Investigative Journal, Calling For 9/11 Truth and Backing Charlie Sheen

Asner pulled no punches as he blasted the Bush administration and Congress over 9/11, the Iraqi War, the Patriot Act and the POW issue

29 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Actor and long time human rights activist, Ed Asner, on a radio talk show program Tuesday demanded the government come clean about 9/11, saying he supports re-opening a new investigation and backs up statements made last week by fellow-actor Charlie Sheen that 9/11 looks like an inside government job.

Asner, an Emmy ward winning actor and former President of the powerful Screen Actors Guild, made the plea for 9/11 truth on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal on the Republic Broadcasting Network.

The famous television star appeared on the radio show to champion the issue of POW accountability, making a guest appearance with activist Bob Dumas who has been searching for his officially "missing and presumed dead" brother since the Korean War.

Dumas claims his brother, Roger, still may be alive despite being lied to about by the government and despite a Congress unwilling to get at the truth about thousands of GI's unknowingly left behind enemy lines.

Besides the POW scandal championed by Dumas now brewing in Washington thanks to Asner's help in narrating a video in the hands of every member of Congress, the vocal and free-talking actor not only demanded 9/11 accountability but gave the Bush administration and Congress a tongue lashing over the illegal Iraqi War and the passage of the Patriot Act

"As for 9/11, I was suspicious from the beginning, but nothing short of getting at the truth is acceptable for the 3,000 people who died on that tragic day" said Asner, adding from everything he has researched the government is obviously covering-up the truth. "AS for the Patriot Act, how can a law be passed when only a handful of legislators even bothered to read it."

Asner, who in 2004 also demanded for 9/11 accountability, joined Sheen who recently went public on the absurdity of the government's 9/11 story on the Alex Jones radio show, in what now has become a good "one-two Hollywood insider punch" by Sheen and Asner, a punch directed right into the credibility of the Bush administration.

With Sheen and Asner both calling the 9/11 government story a fraud in the span of a week, the outspoken Hollywood pair have taken the lead amongst their show business peers in seeking 9/11 truth in what some call a "hot potato issue" since it could lead to a loss of money and film jobs.

After Sheen's comments on the Alex Jones show, his 9/11 claims went national on CNN's Showbiz Tonight, where he trumpeted his 9/11 truth call for the entire nation to hear.

Asner was also scheduled to appear on the same CNN show Tuesday after he appeared with Szymanski, but Showbiz Tonight pulled the segment at the last minute with Asner and Sander Hicks of the Green Party because they couldn't find anyone to take the opposite viewpoint, according to Mike Berger, media representative of 9/11Truth.org.

Asner's entire Tuesday radio interview can be heard on www.rbnlive.com at the archives page under The Investigative Journal 2006 shows.

In April 2004, Asner wrote a letter in support of the 9/11 families seeking the truth, a copy of the letter appearing on the 9/11 Visibility Project web site. The letter said in part:

"I would like to suggest to you emphatically that the 9-11 truth movement is the most pressing issue of the peace & justice movement today. Here is why. 9-11 has been used to justify "endless war" and a continual rollback in civil liberties that seems to have no end in sight. Yet, 9-11 remains the least examined tragedy in modern American history.

"Americans would have never agreed to the last two wars and the Patriot Act's disturbing policy . . . had it not been for 9-11.

"There are many disturbing issues around 9-11 that have yet to be examined in any meaningful way by our media, Congress, and even by the 9-11 Commission. These include accountability for the massive breakdown of air defense and plane intercept procedures as described in FAA and DOD regulations, which were violated on 9-11...

"This breakdown and astounding unpreparedness by U.S. domestic defense agencies is puzzling to say the least, given the detailed reports our government had of the coming attacks, that were bizarrely suppressed by key officials.

"For example, FBI Agent Coleen Rowley suggested that her offices' attempts to alert higher ups in the FBI of the pre 9-11 activities of Zacharias Moussaoui "seemed to have been consistently, almost DELIBERATELY thwart[ed] . . ." While George Tenet, Director of the CIA, had received a memo in August of 2001 (one month before the attacks of 9-11) on this report entitled, "Islamic Extremists Learn to Fly." Yet, Tenet took no action on this memo. The FBI agents responsible for the now famous "Phoenix Memo" regarding Osama Bin Laden sending students to the U.S. to attend civil aviation schools, also struggled to get their higher ups to act on this information.

"To date, no one has been held accountable for the massive defense failures on 9-11, nor for the bizarre suppression of critical warnings prior to 9-11. Furthermore, we still have no explanation for why the head of Pakistani intelligence, who was meeting with top Bush Administration officials in Washington on 9-11-2001, had wired lead hijacker Mohammed Atta $100,000.00 weeks before 9-11. We still do not know who made the insider stock trades in weeks and days leading up to 9-11, by betting "against" United and American Airlines stocks (the aircraft used as missiles on 9-11).

"What we DO KNOW is that $5 million of those insider stock trade "winnings" apparently by someone who had foreknowledge of the coming attacks, were made the day before 9-11 at AB Brown Trust. AB Brown Trust was headed until his induction into the CIA by Buzzy Krongard, who is now the Executive Director of the CIA. We also know that the current head of AB Brown Trust quietly resigned his position on 9-11, with no media scrutiny nor apparently government scrutiny. Lastly, and perhaps most bizarre is the fact that $2.5 million of those stock "winnings" against these airlines made at AB Brown Trust . . . remain unclaimed.

"We deserve to know why no one has been held accountable, and who made those insider stock trades. We also deserve to know why the Bush Administration allowed members of the Bin Laden family to quietly leave the U.S. after 9-11, with virtually no questioning by the FBI, and at a time when other Americans were not allowed to fly.

"There are many other profound, and bizarrely "unasked" questions around 9-11. I urge all to read "The New Pearl Harbor: Disturbing Questions About the Bush Administration and 9/11" by David Ray Griffin, and endorsed by Howard Zinn, and to view "The Great Deception" documentary by acclaimed Canadian television journalist Barry Zwicker. Peace & justice leaders and activists will find these works a great resource for getting current on the 9-11 truth issue, and can be great organizing tools to educate others.

"I fear that if the underlying issues of 9-11 truth are not demanded, that Iraq may be but a flame on an ocean of gasoline that may be used to ignite war after war after war. We cannot, as a peace & justice movement only address the flames. We must look at the fuel being used to justify the flames of war and repression at home and abroad. We must look deeply at the events leading up to, on and since 9-11. We must demand full 9-11 truth."

Le elezioni italiane del 2006: appello agli italiani residenti in nord America, per impedire la sovietizzazione dell'Europa e la tirannia dei privati

29 Mar 2006

di Marco Saba

In questi giorni gli italiani stanno ricevendo, nella cassetta postale, lapropaganda a colori, su carta patinata, dell'ulivo e dei democratici di inistra.

In uno dei loro pieghevoli si parla del carovita: "Il carovita simangia tutto, perfino i tuoi progetti - Il governo Berlusconi ha messo in crisi il potere d'acquisto delle famiglie".

Questa frase spera che gli italiani non si accorgano che il potere d'acquisto è minato dalla produzione di nuova moneta daparte degli stessi banchieri mannari, amici di Prodi, che finanziano questa operazione di tentato lavaggio del cervello.

Nel solo 2005, il sistema delle banche facenti capo alla Banca Centrale Europea, ha emesso nuova moneta per 700 miliardi di euro - la cosiddetta M3 - rubandone il controvalore alla stessa cittadinanza europea: ha cioè sottratto la rendita monetaria mettendola al passivo nel bilancio per non pagarci sopra le tasse.

Inoltre, questa grande emissione di nuova moneta - sia sotto forma di banconote che di credito - haminato il valore della massa monetaria preesistente, come sa qualsiasi studentedi economia.

Questa emissione ha cioè diluito il valore della moneta nelle tasche delle famiglie e soprattutto dei salariati e dei pensionati. Quando un industriale di sinistra ottiene crediti per centinaia di milioni di euro create dal nulla, la banca crea nuova moneta e deruba la comunità, silenziosamente ed inesorabilmente, del suo poter d'acquisto.

Dare la colpa al governo Berlusconi significa negare la grande collusione della sinistra con un sistema bancario criminale, amico di Prodi, che porterà l'Europa - se non fermato in tempo -sull'orlo della guerra civile. Ma continuiamo l'analisi della propaganda del partito dei banchieri, ovvero l'UNIONE. Altra chicca: "Quando voti...pensa che la colpa non è dell'euro, ma di chi ha lasciato i prezzi senza controllo."

Cioè,vorrebbero farci credere che i prezzi aumentano NON perché LORO continuano a manipolare la massa monetaria, ma perché non ci sono abbastanza ufficiali della GESTAPO per imporre ai commercianti di mantenere i prezzi bassi nonostante la perdita di potere d'acquisto.

Come a dire: io banchiere posso continuare ad emettere moneta contraffatta, ma Berlusconi deve evitare che i commercianti sene accorgano e si difendano adeguando il prezzo di vendita delle loro merci.

Eh, sì, secondo la sinistra bisognerebbe che ci fosse un nuovo Kremlin che impone prezzi bassi fino ad arrivare, come nella Mosca sovietica, ad avere prezzi irrisori ma anche tutti gli scaffali dei negozi vuoti!

Ma ancora, commentato riga per riga:

"Il centrosinistra propone: "- Controllo delle tariffe assicurative RC auto."

Il controllo dei prezzi, in un libero mercato, lo fanno i consumatori. La RCauto, imposta in regime di cartello assicurativo, senza cioè una effettiva concorrenza, senza quindi un vero libero mercato, non potrà far altro che salire.

Ma chi c'è dietro al cartello delle assicurazioni tipo UNIPOL?

"- Riduzione delle tasse sui carburanti."

Per ridurre o anche eliminare del tutto le tasse, occorre che lo Stato si riappropri della sovranità monetaria e possa battere moneta senza dover ricorrere agli usurai del sistema creato dal Trattato (golpe) di Maastricht.

Ma la sinistra, dalla parte degli usurai, dalla parte della moneta "cosa nostra" invece che "res publica", questo non lo dirà mai.

"- Aumento dell'esenzione Irpef (da 4.000 a 30.000 euro)."

Sì, aumentano l'esenzione, poi si mettono a creare moneta come matti, magari con la scusa dei nuovi paesi che entrano nell'area euro, e fra 5 anni i 4.000 euro di oggi EQUIVARRANNO ai 30.000 euro di domani.

Tanto, chi se ne accorge? Solo chi la moneta deve guadagnarsela, invece di crearla dal nulla come fanno i compagni di merende della filiale della banca accanto.

"- Adeguamento delle pensioni al costo della vita reale."

Altra balla: basterebbe smettere di creare moneta privata dal nulla per mantenere il potere d'acquisto delle pensioni e dei salari. Chissà, prima o poi forse anche i sindacati si decideranno a rivelarlo. Ci credi tu?

"- Restituzione del fiscal drag ai pensionati e ai lavoratori dipendenti" Il preesistente obbligo di restituzione del fiscal drag è stato abolito dal Governo Amato di centro sinistra con la Finanziaria per il 2001. Credete forse che, se vanno al potere ora, cambieranno idea?

"- lotta più decisa all'evasione fiscale."

Se la sinistra voleva tassare il sistema bancario che crea denaro dal nulla, e che è il più grande evasore fiscale in assoluto, l'avrebbe già fatto quando era al governo l'altra volta.

Come volevasi dimostrare: parole, parole, parole...

Quando voti... ricordati di non votare i falsari della realtà amici dei contraffattori del valore monetario.

Se sei un italiano residente in America, puoi cambiare le cose votando la Fiamma Tricolore, il partito che si batte per la moneta sociale, per il credito social e per i mutui sociali.

FOX TV Refers To Iranian Women as 'Whores and Apes' In Weekend MAD TV Skit

New York Human Rights Activist, Bahram Maskanian, outraged and saddened over obvious attempt to dehumanize Persian women, making it easier for American masses to stomach war.

28 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

A recent FOX Television skit on MAD TV has overstepped the bounds of human decency in the guise of comedy, depicting Persian women and their offspring as "whores and monkeys," according to Bahram Maskanian, of a New York community peace and human rights group trying to instill a better relations between the Middle East and the West.

FOX TV executives issued a statement Monday to the Arctic Beacon, saying their intent was "to make people laugh" but Maskarian said "nobody in the Muslin community was laughing."

In a "cloaked effort" to debase, dehumanize and demean a historically great nation and people, Maskanian strongly objected to the skit broadcast nationally Saturday night, saying it was "totally unacceptable" to portray "Persian women as "whores, apes and monkeys on a national television network" even in the guise of comedy.

"Since 1978, I have been living in the U.S. I have had many unpleasant racist experiences to say the least, but no one ever portrayed Iranian / Persian women on American National television, many times over as apes / monkeys," said Maskanian of Persian descent, whose peace group is called Circles of Unity and Engagement - Ethics in Action Community.

"As if the barbaric Islam dehumanizing Persian / Iranian women was not enough to deal with, but now our mothers, sisters, wives and daughters are been portrayed as whores and apes / monkeys, that makes us the Persian / Iranian men sons of whores and apes / monkeys. Iranians / Persians who have given birth to civilization with a longest and the richest history on Earth, extending to twelve (12,000) thousands years and eight (8,000) thousands years of written history of philosophy, sciences, mathematics, astronomy, chemistry, languages, poetry and more are now reduced to whores and apes / monkeys. Shame on all of us, Iranians / Persians, to allow this to be and happen."

Regarding the specifics of the skit that aired as a repeat from several months ago and the pending threat of nuclear war in Iran, Maskanian was "appalled" by the demeaning references to his people, as well as saying this type of portrayal actually dehumanizes Persians in the eyes of the viewers, making it easier to justify going to war against people who are depicted as less than human.

Here is what Maskanian wrote about the specifics of the FOX television skit:

"A few months ago I had a talk with an American friend who had seen a supposed comedy show aired on Saturday nights on FOX television, called MAD TV. He told me about this shocking and highly insulting sketch they did called the Persian Tow Truck Driver.

"Michael McDonald plays the role of the truck driver. He is a chain smoker, has a thick reddish-brown mustache and is talking to Ike Barinholtz, another actor to whom he shows a picture of an orangutan as his Persian wife.

"As we all know, orangutans are large apes or monkeys, who live in South East Asia on the islands of Borneo and Sumatra. These apes mostly live on treetops. They are arboreal and swing from branch to branch using their arms. Orangutans have a large, bulky body, covered with long reddish-brown hair, a thick neck, very long, strong arms, short, bowed legs, and no tail. Orangutans are about 2/3 the size of the gorilla just to give an idea how Iranian /Persian women are portrayed on FOX Television and MAD TV and their show writers, producers and sponsors.

"Through the course of the sketch Michael McDonald, the Persian Tow Truck Driver, is talking to Ike Barinholtz, while smoking cigarettes. He establishes as facts that all through his life he had sex with his Persian wife only twice, but he has fifteen 15 children. As camera pans into the nursery, McDonald points out a little monkey in the nursery to Barinholtz, as his newly born daughter looks just like her mother.

"A few seconds later the little monkey is brought out of the nursery and handed over to McDonald. The little monkey crawled out of the white towel it was wrapped in and began running over the shoulders of the two men. I might add there were many other highly insulting comments designed deliberately to dehumanize a nation, very insulting comments made in a few troubling and painful minutes."

Maskanian wanted the biography and facts about MAD TV made public, as well as the email, in order that people can voice objections to the program and stop any future airings of what he called a hate-filled comedy sketch that doesn't promote better human relations during a period of crisis between the Middle East and the West.

Ohio Attorney Persecuted And Jailed For 232 Days Under Nazi-Like Treatment Right Here In America

Elsabeth Baumgartner also spent 10 days locked away, held without right to counsel and clergy, for merely speaking out at a city council meeting. Saying she was held as a political prisoner, she now faces a sentence of 66 years and 6 months for what she calls "trumped-up" charges.

27 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The top dogs in Ohio and the White House are "foaming at the mouth" over allegations made by a former Cuyahoga County attorney who uncovered "their illegal bones" buried deep within the fields of political corruption.

Attorney Elsabeth Baumgartner, corruptly disbarred by Ohio officials, dug a hole so deep into local and state corruption it ended up all the way at the doorstep of 1600 Pennsylvania and its illegally installed occupant, George W. Bush.

Baumgartner, a well-respected bio-tech attorney who graduated first in her class from the University of Toledo law school, basically tried to do "something right" against the "wrong people."

And for trying to expose Illuminati corruption the 50-year-old attorney turned activist is experiencing the nightmare her life, facing a rather strange but ominous sentence imposed by powers that be of 66 years and 6 months.

Baumgartner is due in a Cuyahoga County courthouse today on the charge of Intimidation for simply "emailing and questioning" Ohio's Chief Justice of the Supreme Court.

This week another warrant for her arrest was issued in Cuyahoga County in a related matter concerning her web site recently compromised and destroyed by Ohio officials.

"I expect to be arrested on the new charges carrying another 45 years in jail when I show up at the courthouse Monday asking for a continuance," said Baumgartner last Friday on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal. "All my rights as an American were violated and I have been held as a political prisoner."

Calling the charges "trumped up and ridiculous," Baumgartner knows she uncovered "something big and evil" since she has already spent 234 days in jail on another trumped-up misdemeanor charge, as well as spending 10 days "in the hole" when first arrested.

"I was essentially put in a hole for 10 days and held incommunicado as a domestic terrorist," said Baumgartner. "I wasn't allowed legal counsel, the right to clergy and even the opportunity to make a phone call."

And if anyone thinks Americans don't already have two feet buried deep into the mud of fascism, pay close attention to how and why Baumgartner was originally jailed for 234 days on a misdemeanor charge.

"I basically was jailed for standing up and speaking at a city council meeting," said Baumgartner about the night in 2001 leading to arrest five days later on technical charges of Falsification.

The charges stemmed from statements she made questioning a huge ferry boat contract awarded to an Ohio businessman, citing affidavits from some of her clients alleging the boats were being used for illegal drug running with full knowledge of state politicians, law enforcement and federal officials.

Further, she questioned the legality of awarding the lucrative Lake Erie contract since it amounted to nothing more than "a political favor" as another company was overlooked who was more competent and provided the same ferry boat service for less money.

"All I did was speak out and use my right as a citizen to question our government," said Baumgartner, adding that she must have struck a nerve that night, leading to corruption at the highest levels of Washington, as well as the Ohio Governor, the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court and the Ohio Attorney General.

Baumgartner said five days after the city council meeting she was arrested, the state twisted the law to say she falsified statements at an official public hearing.

However, legal observers say the technical law used in her "illegal arrest and incarceration" was never intended for mere statements made at open forum city council, but rather the Falsification misdemeanor law was intended for official government hearings when witnesses are placed under oath.

"They just twisted the law and I was jailed," said Baumgartner. "As a lawyer, respected in my community, I never thought this could happen in America, but I am living proof it can and it's not over yet."

As a bio-tech attorney representing influential clients, Baumgartner's original troubles also began when she notified state and federal authorities about sensitive bio-tech information being hi-jacked, information which could have been used to wage bio-tech warfare against the U.S.

But instead of receiving cooperation from the feds, she claimed any serious investigations were stonewalled, as she became the brunt of harassment and illegal surveillance for reporting the alleged bio-tech misappropriation of information.

Besides the bio-tech and ferry boat matters, Baumgartner also tried to save her local school district $1.5 million involved in a contract scam she uncovered, a scam involving top officials and only the tip of the iceberg, leading to how money may have ended up in the coffers of George W. Bush's 2004 re-election campaign as a for return on political favors.

"I think they wanted to contain the scandal brewing to the state and local levels and this why they came down hard on me," added Baumgartner.

After serving 234 days and then losing her law license, Baumgartner started a web site, deciding to go all out, exposing how she was being "railroaded" and exposing even more state and federal political corruption.

As she faces more jail time today making her appearance in court, in a recent letter directed to family and friends, Baumgartner tries to explain what's now unfolding in her battle against government corruption:

"A 15 county indictment was issued for me today with a warrant in Cuyahoga County. These charges relate to my alleged intimidation of my former business partner Bryan DuBois and his wife Mandy DuBois related to Erie Voices in Erie County while I resided in Ottawa County. It appears Cuyahoga is trying to boot strap the case to the current case in Cuyahoga in order to keep the case there to complicate my defense and deny me a fair trial. Those of you who have followed the story know that while I was held in the State Mental Hospital, Bryan and Mandy stole Erie Voices from my family and turned it in to a Baumgartner bash and disinformation site.

"When I got out and started aggressively publishing the truth of what happened including the fact that over $35,000 had been misappropriated from us or our company exclusive of equipment and the value of the contents of the website itself; (well over $50,000 invested) the DuBois felt the truth intimidated them. It was at this point that the site was shut down by the DuBois at the government's urging in order that all the evidence necessary to my defense, the public good and of their own intimidation of my family and me was not available. This was also the reason for the raid on my home. To obtain all my computer records related to pay to play, and evidence gathered related to the website.

"I do not understand the need to issue a warrant. Perhaps it is yet another example of their desire to degrade me and see me in chains at the start of trial on Monday when Bryan DuBois will enter his plea and turn state's evidence against me.

"I still believe Bryan has been coerced into this plea by his wife, his attorney and Kasaris. This action follows closely increasing revelations of pay to play in Ohio and testimony adduced at my contempt hearing that clearly showed Judge Markus filed the citations out of a desire to obstruct inquiry into criminal actions in the courts. I firmly believe this to be a desperate ploy to avoid trial on Monday and continue to drag out my proceedings so as to discredit me and inhibit my advocacy and activism.

"My lawyer indicted Kasaris was inclined to agree to let me be arraigned on Monday before Judge Saffold. This would indicate that the while the warrant issued it was not transmitted to Ottawa authorities. I will try to confirm this statement.

"Please include the DuBois family, my family, me and most of all our nation in your prayers at this difficult time."

And a concerned onlooker, sending emails to rally support for Baumgartner, had this to say about her case: "They aren't trying to prosecute Elsa -- they are persecuting her. This is a witch hunt and vendetta of epic proportions to suppress the truth! They not only put her in jail for 234 days, but now they want to put her under the jail for doing the right thing. This is not only punitive and pejorative, but arbitrary and capricious.

"This is cruel and unusual punishment. People should be outraged and this should be on the front page of every newspaper and every TV/Radio network. Let me give you a history lesson, because if you don't learn from history, you are doomed to repeat it."

The Story Of Leo Wanta: 'The 27.5 Trillion Dollar Man'; The Key Question Looms: Will The Illuminati Banksters Get the Money First Or Will The American People Get It, As Wanta Is Legal Guardian And Trustee On Behalf Of The People Of The United States

According to a 2003 federal court ruling by a courageous judge from Virginia, Wanta has been authorized as legal guardian of the vast sum of money made from profits at the end of the Cold War. In one of the most important stories of our time, Wanta holds the 'financial key' to the vast criminal Illuminati banking network and he says with the help of the American people their system can be destroyed.

26 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The only thing standing in the way of life and death for Ambassador Leo Wanta is he "knows where the money is hidden" and the Illuminati banksters don't.

A former U.S. Treasury official appointed trustee to a large sum of money by President Ronald Reagan, Wanta holds the financial "golden key" to 27.5 trillion dollars, money he says now held in public trust for the American people.

To back up Wanta's trustee status as protector of trillions, a federal judge in Alexandria, Virginia, in 2003, ruled in his favor, saying Wanta's trustee status is legally binding and the money is rightfully the property of the American people.

The federal court case, however, has left federal prosecutors in a perplexed state of mind, as they have not yet officially appealed the ruling, perhaps thinking it is better to let "sleeping dogs sleep" until they get their 'cooked ducks or judges in the right government pond."

But the real problem, as it stands today and why the money remains in limbo, is simply if Wanta returns the money to the U.S. Treasury, it will be immediately hi-jacked from the people and put into private Illuminati bank accounts since under the present Federal Reserve and the national banking system, there are no laws protecting the American people's money.

"Dutch (President Reagan) always intended the money be returned to the American people to be used for roads, schools and health care," said Wanta last Thursday on Greg Szymanski's radio show, the Investigative Journal, where the former Ambassador spoke for two hours while still being held under house arrest in his Switzerland home.

During the interview that can be heard in full by going to The Investigative Journal archives at www.rbnlive.com, Wanta literally blew the lid off the Illuminati's world wide banking scam, as well as providing detailed information about how Illuminati banksters with help from the Bush crime family and former President Clinton have already hijacked 752 billion dollars in what has been called by European investigators "the biggest bank heist in world history."

Besides the large sums of money at stake and the need to revamp the Federal Reserve and national banking laws to protect the public not private interests, Wanta's story involves undercover intrigue and espionage at the highest levels, providing a mystery story better than any Hollywood movie can offer.

Behind following the money, his story involves saving President Reagan's life in a little known assassination attempt left unreported in the mainstream press (see rbn interview), authority to arrest Marc (Reich) Rich, a meeting with Vince Foster just prior to his untimely death and just prior to Wanta being placed in a Swiss dungeon for 134 days when he confronted Rich, who was allowed to go free through White House connections.

To better understand Wanta's role and the importance of his story, not to mention how 27.5 trillion dollars could provide a good jump start to the American economy, it's best to go back to his original assignment in the Reagan administration at the time the Cold War was coming to a close.

At this time, Wanta, a distinguished U5 Secret Service/Treasury officer was the primary US Financial Warfare officer engaged in operations to "collapse" the Soviet Empire through financial maneuvers to prevent the Soviet military devoting larger resources to military expenditure.

For his financial plan which destabilized the Russian currency and resulted in huge dollar profits, leading into the 27.5 trillion in trust, instead of being recognized for his service, he was set-up by the Clinton's and the Bush crime family after being released from the Swiss jail, sentenced to a 22 year jail term on bogus Wisconsin state income tax evasion charges

Although recently released and protected in a sense by the 2003 federal court ruling in his favor, Wanta has languished much of the time since 1993 in jail and now under house arrest, the primary reason for his predicament being he audited the Illuminati's giga-financing operation of 1989-92 too accurately for the liking of certain high-level official crooks controlling the purse strings.

Regarding the Rich arrest in Switzerland and his meeting with Foster, Wanta said this on The Investigative Journal last week:

"I was named Ambassador from Somalia to Switzerland and Canada as a cover to arrest Rich. When I go there, I found myself in a Swiss dungeon and Rich was set free. Foster was also there on behalf of the Clinton's, asking for $250 million to be used for The Children's Fund, which Hillary was the chairman. I thought it was to be used for a good cause so We gave him the money.

"Later Vince attempted to help me out of my situation, but I was later notified he was found dead and I never found out what happened to the $250 million."

Although Wanta had no idea what The Children's Fund was all about, later a financial investigator, Marco Saba of the Organized Crime Observatory in Switzerland wrote this about turned out to be a secret fund:

"One component of this information concerns the activities of the CIA operative known as Mrs Hillary Rodham Clinton. For some years prior to the elevation of her husband, Bill, a CIA operative like his "CIA wife", Hillary had been in control of an organization calling itself the Children's Defense Fund. Executive Order 12333 (1981) of President Reagan, the US intelligence services were authorised to operate what became known as Title 18, Section 6 USG corporations for intelligence purposes, and to deny any intelligence community connection (that is, to lie about their real purpose). Some of these entities have touchy-feely, welfarish titles, like The Children's Defense Fund. It is alleged, on the basis of intelligence community leakages, that Hillary became accustomed to treating this fund as her own private slush fund."

However, behind the scenes of Rich, Foster and the Clinton's, a bigger game of world politics and deception was being played out, as Wanta unknowingly was caught in the middle of the U.S./Soviet double-cross of the American people, as the two collaborated to bring about an orchestrated fall of the Soviet Union.

An excerpt from an article from the Centro Studi Monetari, Arab-Asian Affairs, Vol. 29, Numbers 8&9, December 2005, explains the backstabbing and double-crossing going on behind the scenes when the Cold War was being orchestrated to a close to serve the purposes of the demonic Illuminati powers pulling the strings behind the scenes, as Wanta unknowingly serving patriotic U.S. interests was in the middle of the whole mess:

The following are key parts of the article:

THE 'TAKEDOWN' OF LEO WANTA In 1993, while on a mission ordered by William Sessions, head of the FBI, to Switzerland, the legendary US Treasury Secret Services/CIA/FBI operative Leo Wanta - known to have been President Reagan's favourite intelligence operative (or 'junkyard dog') - was arrested and flung into a stinking Swiss dungeon, where he was illegally held incognito for 132 days. His instructions from Sessions had included the arrest of Marc Rich. He is believed to have been accompanied by Delmart Vreeland, a US Office of naval Intelligence operative who may have been instructed to shoot Marc Rich during a boat trip on Lake Geneva, but who allegedly failed to fulfil this mission when Wanta's head got in the way, and his handler allegedly told him not to shoot. William Sessions was summarily dismissed by President Clinton with no warning, and Vincent Foster, an operative who was charged inter alia with financial transactions involving the innocent sounding CIA front called the Children's Defense Fund, was found murdered in Fort Macy Park, Virginia.

Following an intervention by the Israeli Prime Minister, Leo Wanta was released by the Swiss authorities, bundled onto a plane for New York, marched in shackles through the airport, and arraigned in a New York US courthouse on trumped-up tax evasion charges concerning an ancient tax amount allegedly arising from Leo Wanta's intelligence operations many years previously in connection with a vending machine company that had been established by US law enforcement to trace drug-trafficking perpetrators who had been distributing drugs through vending machines. The trumped-up allegations were orchestrated on behalf of President Clinton by his close associate Tommy Thompson, then US Attorney in Wisconsin, who became that State's Governor, and later surfaced in the Bush Jr. Cabinet. Wanta was sentenced to 22 years in jail, later commuted to house arrest. COMPARTMENTALIZATION OBSCURED FULL PICTURE The significance of these complex circumstances surrounding Leo Wanta (condensed in the foregoing summary) is that, due to compartmentalization, Wanta and Sessions had been unaware that Marc Rich was assisting the United States (with help from Clinton), in collaboration with Soviet intelligence, to bring about the transformation of the USSR and its economy that has been described. In other words, the US Presidency necessarily had a more complete, or broader, overview of strategy than Sessions and Wanta et al. Confirmation of this fact has been provided directly to your correspondent by Mr Wanta himself who, when informed by the Editor that he had been working not so much for the United States but actually for the Illuminati, responded (in May 2005): 'Yes, but we didn't understand that at the time'.

The Editor commends Leo Wanta for this very honest admission, because it provides a vital clue and confirms the basic integrity of the present analysis. Removal of Marc Rich and his vast scamming network from the scene would have slowed down the process described, and would have impeded the implementation of the joint US-Soviet strategy to convert the 'former' USSR into a viable long-term supplier of oil and gas products to the West. Let us now tease out the game of double-bluff that was going on, which masked the Soviet strategic deception dimension to all this.

As has been seen, 'Europe from the Atlantic to Vladivostok' was never a starter until the 'transformation' (and dollarisation) of the Soviet economy had taken place. The 'Yeltsin period', during which the underground economy and the hegemony of intelligence scamming operations were to be leveraged in order to release the full potential of the KGB-mafiya and the 'scamocracy' in a Leninist manner, was a prerequisite for the rapid-fire imposition of the 'state controlled capitalism' model that the strategists needed to surface in the interests of fulfilling the 'Europe from the Atlantic to Vladivostok' strategy. Assets of the Party-State would indeed, the strategists foresaw, be stolen: but they would be recovered, with compound interest, by implementing a 'new form' of the 'Party's Gold' strategy: and this is what happened. We are still, you will recall, in two-dimensional mode here: that is to say, for purposes of minimizing obfuscation, we are excluding the Illuminati dimension (to which we shall revert).

Bearing in mind the rigorous implementation of usually counterproductive compartmentalization within the colossal US intelligence community, only the leading strategists in Moscow and

Washington were ostensibly in possession of 'a copy of' the blueprint. From the United States' perspective at sub-Presidential level, it was 'all systems go' to convert the USSR from an enemy into the United States' close energy collaborator, and a source of oil shipments to the United States and elsewhere (mainly Europe) - thereby freeing up resources for exploitation by the US energy corporations both in the 'former' USSR and in other parts of the world. The Central Intelligence Agency, which is the clandestine foreign policy arm of the US Presidency, serves the interests of the oil companies. ESSENCE OF THE SOVIET DOUBLE-CROSS Therefore, in the minds of compartmentalized US intelligence operatives, including the most brilliant Financial Warfare experts among them such as Leo Wanta, this was always all about opening up Soviet energy resources to the West in general, and to the United States in particular. The Soviet Leninist deceivers made sure that this was indeed the objective, and collaborated with their US intelligence counterparts accepting their 'Black Operations' funding 'on exchange for' close collaboration with US and British intelligence as though they had been corrupted and were betraying Lenin himself - whereas in reality, from their viewpoint, this was a game, in which the stupid Westerners thought they had corrupted their Soviet counterparts. The truth was that they were helping the Soviets to implement the fulfilment of their long-range 'collapsible Communism' strategy, as exposed by the genuine Soviet defector Anatoliy Golitsyn [see: The Perestroika Deception, by Golitsyn, available via <http://www.edwardharle.com>]. In short, the Soviets played a devious game of double bluff - exploiting the greed of the vast US intelligence community.

In the simplest of terms, as the dust has finally settled from the Cold War, the issue of the 27.5 trillion held by Wanta in trust for the American people still remains in limbo. According to Wanta, though, the issue is simple: change the banking laws so the money can be used for the people, not put into accounts of criminals.

According to Saba, who investigated and traced Wanta's behind the scenes accounting of how some of the money has already been misappropriated, it's easy to see why Illuminati banksters want to get their dirty hands on the money before it gets into the hands of American people.

Here is a portion of Saba's article about what he calls the "biggest bank heist in world history."

THE STALINESQUE ANO CALIGULA-LIKE PURGE

In the meantime, the high-level crooks -- who are known to be most uneasy at the continuing leakage of information which threatens their exposure, and who, being indifferent to human life which they regard as expendable, have resorted to the ultimate sanction in innumerable cases -- have procured that dose on 500 operatives, lawyers and others have been "taken down" (liquidated, "suicided", placed under house arrest, jailed on trumped-up charges, or dismissed) in a Stalinesque purge of those considered a threat to the continued cover-up o! crimes referred to generically as the Iran-Contra scandal, which in fact covers a far wider spectrum of serial illegality than its name implies. It also covers "legitimate" intelligence Financial Warfare operations in which Leo Wanta was extensively involved, and its operational codename was the name of his primary Title 18, Section 6 corporation, New Republic/USA Financial Group, and its several affiliates.

One method that Leo Wanta says is being used to hide all trace of some of the original alleged embezzlements, is that stolen banking or 138 Treasury instruments are being used and re-used as collateral for bank loans. The effect of this ruse is to ensure that the original embezzled instrument is permanently in the custody of financial institutions, and thus beyond the scrutiny of the authorities -- not that this is likely, since, as Leo Wanta told your correspondent finally on 25th April, US Treasury officials are complicit in the vast cover-up operation which has continued ever since the main alleged embezzlements took place in the early 1990s.

2.7% OF $27.5 TRILLION, THANK YOU VERY MUCH

In the case of the unprecedented giga-funding operation on behalf of the Illuminati, which was presided over by President George W. Bush Sr., the crooks helped themselves and their friends -- including Opus Dei, via an entity calling itself the Francis X Driscoil Trust -- to 2.7% of the total intended giga-loan. namely $742.5 billion A new breakdown of how the allegedly embezzled funds were distributed was given on page 144 of the magazine, and is reproduced here on page 9.

When these alleged giga-embezzlements were taking place or had been spotted, the biggest crisis in the history of the international financial system developed. Specifically, given that the funds were to be paid out in US dollars, the transactions were all necessarily handled by the Federal Reserve, under the supervision and control of Dr Alan Greenspan. But although the giga-funding started in 1989, the transmission of funds from the Federal Reserve sudden ceased (we are not, in the available public domain documents, told to whom the funds were to have been transmitted, but the primary recipient was a nexus of accounts loosely referred to as the Global Security Fund, based in Belgium, which is traditionally the financial centre for the Illuminati, and Chicago, where some of the funds may subsequently have been intermingled in the vortex of the derivatives industry).

Available public domain documentation shows that the Netherlands Bank and some other central banks, together with various very large commercial institutions, embarked upon legal proceedings against the Federal Reserve when the payouts ceased in 1991. In other words, the international financial system was on the verge of effective collapse, since payments were not being implemented.

The documented information we have published relates an extensive, seemingly never-ending, litany of excuses that were made by the US authorities while the payments were being stalled. All trust between certain European central banks, financial institutions and the Federal Reserve was corrupted to vanishing point. And why were the payouts stalled? Because the massive embezzlement that we document were in the process of being undertaken, way beyond the scrutiny of the international financial community generally.

While the financial payments were suffering from internal constipation, no-one had a clue what was going on; so the Dutch authorities (who are very litigious) started the ball rolling by instituting legal proceedings, given the scale of the monies that had been provided and were suddenly not being paid out. The Netherlands Bank also demanded to take up its vacant seat on the Federal Reserve Board, which is to a considerable extent owned by European financial powers and forces. After the alleged embezzlements, the payouts were finally resumed in 1992 (but on the basis of exchange rates, where foreign currency had been provided, prevailing on the dates of the suspensions).

THE WORLD'S BIGGEST-EVER BANKING HEIST

This was nothing less than the biggest bank heist in the history of humanity. No less than $742.5 billion of funds -- admittedly raised for what we consider to be thoroughly evil New Underworld Order purposes -- was misappropriated. Wanta, a servant of the US Presidency, was engaged in the fund-raising and speaks German when telephoned. This is the language of the high-level Illuminati. However Wanta is a technical operative, working, or so he always assumed, for the President of the United States. Moreover we know that is loyalty to the presidency was exploited by the Illuminati, probably without (as is often the case with technicians) him understanding the broader picture, because he told your correspondent in May 2004 that the funds had been raised to support the "Global Security Environment", which, judging by the tone of his comments, he did not consider to be a worthy project. As a patriotic American, he was disparaging about the "New World Order" generally

The United States is the designated enforcement arm of the Illuminati and their associates, who are engaged in the Judaic masonic programme to impose the New Underworld Order. That is why the United States has 700 bases worldwide which require massive continuing injections of liquidity and why Britain is constantly reducing its armed forces. This is part of the meaning of Leo Wanta's phrase "Global Security Environment". The Germans are surreptitiously doing the opposite to the British with their military as they have a special status in the New Underworld Ordnung. But that takes us into territory beyond the scope of this update en the geofinancial impasse surrounding Leo Wanta, a brave and loyal intelligence officer and servant of successive Presidents of the United States.oo

The following is summary of receipts identified in handwritten analytical notes performed by the distinguished US Secret Service Treasury agent, Leo Wanta, on some of the transactions involved in the giga-financing operation involving a colossal loan to the Illuminati from 200+ international banks of $27,5 trillion, to finance the "Global Security Environment", a.k.a. the New Underworld Order, which is to be enforced by the United States as the sole enforcement, a.k.a. for the project. Sufficient funds were raised to bribe every policymaker, intelligence officer, ruler, Prime Minister, President and senior official for the whole of the 21st century. This fund is now worth $60-$70 trillion at a minimum -- and with collateral leverage, probably far more.

These data are collated from the handwritten analytical notes accompanying the print-out sets shown on pages 150-160 only of International Currency Review, Volume 30, Numbers 2 and 3, which were made available and placed in the public domain by US intelligence. The Editor itemised the entries in the handwritten notes, gauging them to represent transactions which diverged from the intended destinations of the giga-funds. In summary, what happened was that 2.7% of the proceeds of the Illuminati's unprecedentedly gigantic loan were creamed off for the benefit of the parties shown. Since we are dealing with international criminal intelligence operations, it is no surprise at all that the crooks concerned should have helped themselves to a proportion of the funds. Notice the destinations, which include Opus Dei (Francis X. Driscoll Trust), which is in the driving seat in Vatican affairs -- all 31 cardinals appointed by the late Pope being Opus Dei members. It should be noted that those data illustrate only one component of the financial scandal. Funds belonging to the US Government and lodged in accounts of Title 16 Section 6 intelligence corporations are hidden offshore all over the world.

The biggest, most brazen alleged organised embezzlement operation in world history.

CUT-PRICE AFGHANI HEROIN FLOODING BRITAIN

The colossal increase in opium poppy production in Afghanistan that has taken place since US intelligence seized control over the heroin business from the Taliban, who had all but stamped it out by early 2001, has resulted, as predicted, in a flood of cheap heroin into the United Kingdom. In its Annual Report for 2003, the United Nations agency called the International Narcotics Control Board, voiced its concern over the impact of two years of bumper poppy crops after the fall of the previous régime. Since the Taliban was removed from power, drug production, supervised of course by corrupt US intelligence cadres (now headed up by the former US State Department Under-Secretary of State, Richard Armitage, who left his post in order to establish an "import-export agency" in Kabul), has resulted in 3,600 tons of opium being produced in 2003, representing a 6% increase over revived output in 2002. Ten million addicts worldwide were said in March 2004 to be hooked on heroin produced in Afghanistan, and 1.7 million farmers are economically dependent on opium production in the country. Half-hearted attempts to encourage crop substitution failed because farmers can earn three times more by growing opium poppies. The heroin they produce is shipped along the Balkan route -- secured by the West from the hands of Yugoslav criminal operatives in the Balkan wars of the 1990s -- and through eastern Europe, to destinations such as The Netherlands and the United Kingdom.

Consumption of drugs depends on supply rather than demand -- a reversal of the normal commercial equation. Therefore, the Taliban had the right idea. It just didn't coincide with the preferences of criminalized US intelligence, so they had to go, at any cost. That's how desperate the world situation has become.

Many Whistle Blowers And Investigators Have Found Searching For Truth About 'October Surprise' And Illuminati 'Global Slush Fund' Leads To Early Grave

Attorney Paul Wilcher, Investigator Danny Casolaro and Judge Mahoney of Minnesota are three examples of people who got too close to the truth about Illuminati scams concerning Federal Reserve, illegal banking and October Surprise.

25 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The one key thread running through all the stories about anyone searching for the truth behind the "October Surprise" or the illegal Illuminati $65 trillion dollar "Global Security Slush Fund" is that the nosy investigators or whistle blowers either end up dead or behind bars for a long, long time.

By no means is the following strange list of deaths complete, conclusive or thoroughly investigated, but the bloodshed spilled definitely has left huge blood stains on the Oval Office rugs of President George H. Bush, William Jefferson Clinton and George W. Bush.

Without discussing the celebrated cases like President Kennedy, his brother and John Lennon, the trail of death surrounding the "October Surprise" or the Federal Reserve can be traced backed to 1969 when a circuit court judge in Minnesota was found poisoned in his home six months after allowing a jury verdict to stand, ruling the Federal Reserve and the U.S. national banking system unconstitutional.

Courageously Judge Terrence V. Mahoney called the Federal Reserve "a fraud" based on the testimony of a bank officer who exposed exactly how standard banking practice in the U.S. and the civilized western world was to simply create money "out of thin air."

Although the judge died under suspicious circumstances, the case was never appealed as the powers that be felt it better to let "sleeping dogs sleep," leaving the case to die along with the judge under the Minnesota snow even though it remains as good law today, albeit with minimum legal precedent due to its origin in a lowly state circuit court.

But the powers that be know a case like First National Bank of Minnesota v. Jerome Daly could blossom into a huge oak tree if given water so they figure its better to remain under the legal radar screen then to make a big issue out of what is nothing more than an embarrassment and a no win situation for the banksters and the diabolical Illuminati legal minds.

Another case to be looked at closely is the strange June 23, 1993, death of wealthy Chicago attorney, Paul Wilcher, who tried to buck the system big time regarding the October Surprise and other embarrassing scandals during the Bush I and Clinton administrations.

Wilcher's mutilated body was discovered slouched over the toilet in the bathroom of his Washington D.C. apartment not long after he presented then Attorney General Janet Reno with a detailed memo of government corruption, a memo that associates close to Wilcher said led to his untimely death.

And investigators point out Wilcher's body was unidentifiable with no fingerprints or dental x-rays ever provided, matching the remains to Wilcher, before being cremated shortly after his death and shortly after autopsy reports found "no natural cause of death" and not other cause explaining how he was killed.

On July 14, 1993, a close friend of Wilcher, Garby Leon, a Harvard University PhD, send a letter to Reno asking for a complete investigation of Wilcher and journalist-investitgator, Danny Casolaro, also found dead under suspicious circumstances for investigating the same affairs as Wilcher

"Mme. Attorney General, I feel the death of Paul Wilcher offers too many questions and inconsistencies to be ignored," wrote Leon. "I am writing because I feel this matter deserves your most serious attention, and hope this letter will bring some action on your part to answer some of the many, very troubling questions raised by Paul Wilcher's death."

Leon continued in a letter which Reno never followed-up on:

"If individual investigation and criticism of government activities is chilled or intimidated into silence, then democracy loses its most important protection.

"To put it another way, if Danny Casolaro's death was a message of some kind, then Wilcher's death is an even grimmer message--it suggests that Casolaro's death was not a fluke. Anyone inspired to follow Casolaro or Wilcher's path now has a strong added reason to fear doing so.

"And a real investigation into Wilcher's death might not be an academic exercise. One person who is extremely close to and knowledgeable about the Casolaro case has said in private that the mystery of Casolaro's death could be resolved by a Grand Jury investigation, with sworn testimony, subpoena power, etc. This suggests Paul Wilcher's death may not have to remain a mystery either.

"Paul Wilcher was an acquaintance of mine. He was not a perfect person; he made mistakes like anyone else but he was also, at times, a man of unusual energy and altruism. A seminary student who considered becoming a priest, he later became an attorney in his efforts to accomplish some good in this world."

Although nothing has been done to get at the truth behind the strange death or disappearance of Wilcher, the following are the important segments of the detailed memo sent to Reno which may have been the "straw that finally broke Wilcher's back": click here for pertinent parts of Wilcher memo to Reno.

Besides the more high profile cases like Vince Foster, Rixon Stewart researched and wrote an article entitled "Bloody Bill Clinton", listing a partial list of people who have been connected in some way with Bill Clinton and who have died in rather suspicious circumstances. Here are some of the names from the Stewart article, including Casolaro and Wilcher mentioned above:

1) Susan Coleman: said to have had an affair with Clinton before he became President. Told friends she was expecting his child and was 7 months pregnant when she found dead with a gunshot wound to the head. Verdict, suicide.

2) Larry Guerrin: killed while investigating the INSLAW case. In brief this involved the US Justice Department using stolen software, modifying it for intelligence purposes and then selling it to foreign governments and making millions in the process.

3) Kevin Ives and Don Henry: two 16 year old boys who may have stumbled across drug running operations involving Clinton at Mena airfield in Arkansas in 1987. Initial reports, by State Medical Examiner Fahmy Malak, suggested that the boys had fallen asleep on the railway line and been crushed. However when the parents kicked up a fuss another forensic report showed Kevin's skull had been crushed prior to being placed on the track whilst Don had been stabbed in the back.

4) Keith Coney, said he had information on Ives and Henry deaths. Died in a high speed motorcycle crash in 1989, said to have involved a car chase.

5) Keith McKaskle, said to have information on the Ives and Henry deaths. Stabbed to death in November 1988.

6) Gregory Collins, once again said to have information on the Ives and Henry deaths and once again killed, this time by a gunshot wound to the face.

8) Jeff Rhodes was also said to have information on the deaths of Ives and Henry. He was found on a waste heap in April 1989 with a gunshot wound to the head.

9) James Milam also had information on the Ives and Henry deaths but before he could talk too widely he was found decapitated. Once again the State Medical Examiner, Fahmy Malak, ruled the death due to natural causes.

10) Richard Winters, a suspect in the Ives and Henry case had offered to cooperate and give evidence. However he died in a "robbery" which was subsequently proved to have been a set-up.

11) Jordan Kettleson was also said to have information on the Ives and Henry deaths. He was found shot dead in his pick-up in June 1990.

12) Danny Casalaro, a journalist investigating Mena airstrip, the Arkansas coke trade and INSLAW. Had warned his family that he had learnt too much and not to believe it was suicide if he turned up dead. Shortly thereafter he was found in a bathtub in the Sheraton Hotel in Martinsburg, West Virginia. Both his wrists had been slashed, one ten times, all his research material was missing and has never been recovered

13) Victor Raiser, the National Co-Chair for the "Clinton for President" campaign, died in an airplane crash in July, 1992.

14) R Montgomery Raiser, also worked on the Clinton campaign and died in the same crash.

15) Ian Spiro, said to have supporting documentation for grand jury proceedings in the INSLAW case. His wife and three children were found murdered in their home in November 1992. All had gunshot wounds to the head. Ian's body later was found in a car in the Borego Desert. FBI reports concluded that he had shot his family and then committed suicide by taking cyanide.

16) Paula Grober, Clinton's speech interpreter for the deaf. Killed in car smash with no other cars involved and no witnesses. She is said to have been very attractive and traveled extensively with Clinton prior to her death in December 1992

All the above died prior to Clinton's inauguration in January 1993. In its aftermath the deaths not only continued but became even more numerous.

17) Steve Willis, Robert Williams, Todd McKeahan and Conway LeBleu were the only four BAFT men killed at Waco. In an autopsy performed by a "private Doctor" all four were found to have near identical "execution style" headwounds. All four had previously been bodyguards for Clinton prior to their deaths in April 1993.

18) Sgt. Brian Haney, Sgt. Tim Sabel, Maj. William Barkley and Capt. Scott Reynolds. Once again all four men had been bodyguards for Clinton prior to their deaths in a helicopter crash near Quantico, Va. Reporters were barred from the scene whilst firefighters responding to the crash had their video tapes seized and a fire chief described a scene where, "security was tight" with "lots of marines with guns."

18) Paul Wilcher was found dead shortly after presenting Attorney General Janet Reno with a report on Waco, Death ruled to "unknown causes." See extracts from the report in this issue.

19) White House deputy counsel Vincent Foster was said to have been preparing a potentially damning report on Waco at the time of his death. As reported in the previous issue he had been deeply disturbed by events at Waco and his death, in July 1993, was officially labelled a "suicide."

20) Stanley Heard and Steven Dickson were members of Clinton's Health Advisory Committee. Both died in an air crash in September 1993.

21) Jerry Luther Parks, Chief of Security at Clinton's national campaign headquarters in Little Rock. He was shot through the rear window of his car, the killer then went to the driver's side of Park's car and pumped three more 9mm bullets into him. His family reported that shortly before his death their home had been broken into, despite a top line security system. Park's had been preparing a dossier on Clinton's activities, the dossier was stolen.

22) Ed Willey, a Clinton fundraiser, was found shot dead in November 1993. Once again the death was ruled suicide. His wife Kathleen, who was working as a White House volunteer at the time, claimed that Clinton sexually assaulted her when she had approached him, distraught over the loss of her husband.

23) Dr Roland Rogers a Dentist from Arkansas. Died on his way to the Sunday Telegraph in London to reveal "sensitive" information about Clinton in March 1994

24) Kathy Ferguson, a 38 year old hospital worker whose ex-husband was a co-defendant in the Paula Jones case. She died in May 1994, from a gunshot wound to the head, ruled suicide; curiously next to the body were several packed suitcases, as if she was getting ready to go somewhere.

25) Bill Shelton was Kathy's boyfriend and an Arkansas police officer. He was found on her grave the following month with a gunshot wound to the back of the head. Judged to be "suicide".

26) Alan G Whicher, oversaw Clinton's Secret Service detail. He was transferred to a field office in Oklahoma City in October 1994. Whatever warning was given to the other BAFT agents in the building (none of whom came to work that day) failed to reach him, he died on April 19 1995 in the infamous Oklahoma City bomb blast. Incidentally the families of the victims of the blast are now preparing to sue the U.S. Government, saying it had prior knowledge of the bombing.

27) Ron Brown, Commerce Secretary died along with 35 other people on April 3, 1996, in an air crash involving Airforce 2. At the time of his death Brown was being investigated and had spoken publicly of his willingness to cut a deal with prosecutors. According to one report he allegedly told Clinton, "he was not going down alone." However his death brought that possibility to an abrupt end. A pathologist close to the investigation reported that there was a hole in the back of Brown's head that resembled a gunshot wound. And we are not counting the other 35 people who died in the same crash.

28) Shelly Kelly, an Air Force stewardess was onboard the same flight, at the back of the plane, and suffered only minor cuts and bruises in the crash. Indeed she was able to board a rescue helicopter without assistance. She died later in hospital, supposedly from a loss of blood. According to journalist Joe L Jordan, an autopsy revealed a three inch cut over her main femoral artery which was sustained over three hours after all her other cuts and bruises. Thereafter Clinton ordered the bodies of all the victims cremated.

28) Barbara Wise a Commerce Department employee. She was found dead in her locked office, partially nude and covered in bruises, following a long weekend. Officially she is said to have died of natural causes.

29) Christine M Mirzayan, Clinton intern killed on August 1 1998. In the publicity prior to the Paula Jones law suit Newsweek revealed that "a former White House staffer" with the initial "M" was about to go public with a story about sexual harassment at the White House. Thereafter Christine was found beaten to death with a heavy object near Georgetown University, Washington.

30) Mary Mahoon was another former White House intern who was about to go public with a story of sexual harassment at the White House. Before she could though some unknown characters entered a Washington Starbucks, where she was working, and shot her dead. Her two assistants, Aaron Goodrich, 18 and Emory Evans were taken to a room along with Mary and pumped full of bullets. Mary was shot in the chest, face and back of the head, probably with silencers as nobody in the densely populated area heard anything. Even though the killers left $4000 in the cashbox untouched, the police categorized the killings as a robbery whilst acknowledging its "execution style".

Stewart then noted that Jennifer Flowers may have been a bit smarter than the others, adding:

"She had a 12 year affair with Clinton, in its aftermath her apartment was broken into and ransacked and she and her mother received threatening phone calls. Realising that she was in danger she assumed a higher profile, launched legal proceedings against Clinton and embarked on a series of media appearances. Smart girl, it was probably this that saved her life, had she not done so she too would have been on this list."

Remember The October Surprise? Who Is Ernest Backes And Why Does George H. Bush Want Him Out Of The Picture?

Ernest Backes, financial officer for the Clearstream network, holds the "financial keys" to the many Illuminati scandals, including the October Surprise, The Vatican Bank scandal and more.

24 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

One man that the ruthless and diabolical George H. W. Bush wants dead or out of the picture probably more than anybody else goes by the surprising and unknown name of Ernest Backes.

And it may come as even a bigger surprise that Backes isn't even a "fat cat" political foe or an undercover FBI agent with information about Bush's Iran Contra drug smuggling days.

Although not a big shot, the information he learned as a backroom banking officer for the Clearstream Banking Network is big news and pins Bush right to wall for lying about what has come to be known as the "October Surprise."

Regarding the Iranian hostage crisis, Bush has always denied any wrongdoing or that he negotiated secretly with Iranians for keeping the American hostages locked up until Ronald Reagan became President.

But Backes claims he has first hand information, contradicting Bush. The bank officer, one of the men who handled the transactions, claims that the Clearstream network was a principal conduit in the "October Surprise" and that millions of dollars in bribes, negotiated by Bush in his secret trip to Iran, was actually used to hold the hostages until Reagan was elected instead of immediately releasing the captive Americans.

His information also shoots a big hole in U.S. foreign policy where American politicians always have gone on record saying "they never negotiate with terrorists," this phrase said over and over again as American soldiers or civilians faced torture and death while being held captive.

But according to Backes, Bush did negotiate with terrorists, cutting a treasonous deal to keep American hostages in bondage until Reagan secured the White House.

In the past, Backs has told his story before, mainly out of the earshot of the mainstream American media, appearing on radio shows overseas, as even Tim Sebastian of BBC World is familiar with his story.

But now Backes has essentially gone underground, as the powers that be have turned up the heat in anticipation of his upcoming book in May, detailing the Clearstream connection with October surprise, as well as financial connections to the Vatican Bank scandal and the infamous Bank of Ambrosiano.

Although Backes is not doing interviews, he said this in a recent email regarding appearing the Investigative Journal, a American talk show hosted by Greg Szymanski:

I never comment anything any longer on phone - nor by mail. All my contact possibilities are controlled by "services" from all over the world and my house is under camera-control since recent days," said Backes in an email this week from his home overseas..

" I stopped giving radio interviews some time ago, and will not start again. All those things I experienced throughout these last five years will very extensively be explained in my next book to be issued this next month of May.

"As far as the Iranian hostages question is concerned, Tim Sebastian of BBC World is fully aware of this story and might well be of assistance."

Regarding Clearstream acting as the principal conduit of the October Surprise, it's important to recall in November 1979, the U.S. Embassy in Iran was seized, and 52 Americans were held hostage. Their capture, and the Carter administration's failure to win their release, becoming a major issue in the 1980 presidential campaign.

As newspaper reports revealed, Carter had frozen billions in Iranian assets in U.S. banks, money that was being claimed by American firms and individuals who had lost property in the Islamic revolution. American and Iranian officials were negotiating the amount of funds to be released in return for freeing the hostages.

The Iranians also wanted Carter to release arms that had been ordered and paid for by the deposed Shah. Reagan campaign officials allegedly met with Iranian representatives several times during the 1980 campaign, promising arms and money if Iran delayed release of the hostages until after the November election. This scandal would become known as the "October Surprise."

Reagan won the election, but Carter officials continued to negotiate with the Iranians. Finally, around the turn of the year, an accord was reached under which the United States would release $4 billion but no arms. However, the Iranians did not release the hostages immediately. A few days before Reagan's inauguration, (January 16, 1981) Backes recalled in a previous article and radio interview

"Cedel got an urgent joint instruction from the U.S. Federal Reserve Bank and the Bank of England to transfer $7 million in bearer bonds, $5 million from an account of Chase Manhattan Bank and $2 million from an account of Citibank, both in offshore secrecy havens. The money was to go to the National Bank of Algeria, and from there to an Iranian bank in Teheran."

Backes said he also was informed that the $7 million was a small fraction of sums being sent from around the world and concentrated in the Algerian bank. He was told point blank the transfers were linked to the fate of the hostages.

In a featured article appearing on the internet at www.inthesetimes.com Backes said the Fed and the Bank of England were not members of Cedel, and by its rules had no right to order the transfers. Since two of his superiors were absent the day of the money transfer, Backes said he informed the president of the Cedel administrative council, Edmond Israel, and he then acted to execute the order after Israel, now honorary chairman, did not respond to phone and e-mail messages.

On January 20, 1981, about 15 minutes after Reagan took the oath of office, the hostages were finally freed, as Reagan and then Vice President George Bush have always steadfast, saying the payoff never happened.

An account of Backes' story is also told in a French book called "Revelations," a book he co-authored but never translated into English or released in the U.S. The book, however, has been translated into Italian and can be found under the title of "Soldi - il libro nero della finanza internazionale," meaning Money - The Black Book about International Finance.

Backes has also made allegations in past interviews that the deep politics underlying the Clearstream network, appears also to have been a major funding conduit for Al Qaeda and if traced properly, could lead to the real culprits behind 9/11.

And according to Backes, the Clearstream network (run by Cedel) was the principal conduit and financing mechanism used for the Vatican and Banco Ambrosiano scandal.

In a previous interview with Lucy Komisar of In These Times in March of 2002, Backes had this to say about the 1980's Vatican bank scandal, as by 1980 Backes had become Cedel's No. 3 official in charge of client relations.

"I think I was fired was because I knew too much about the Ambrosiano scandal," he recalled.. "Banco Ambrosiano was once the second most important private bank in Italy, with the Vatican as a principal shareholder and loan recipient. The bank laundered drug-and-arms-trafficking money for the Italian and American Mafias and, in the "80"s, channeled Vatican money to the Contras in Nicaragua and Solidarity in Poland.

"The corrupt managers also siphoned off funds via fictitious banks to personal shell company accounts in Switzerland, the Bahamas, Panama and other offshore havens. Banco Abrosiano inspired a subplot of The Godfather, Part III. Several of those behind the swindle have met untimely ends. Bank chairman Roberto Calvi was found hanged under Blackfriars Bridge in London. Michele Sindona, convicted in 1980 on 65 counts of fraud in the United States, was extradited to Italy in 1984 and sentenced to life in prison; in 1986, he was found dead in his cell, poisoned by cyanide-laced coffee. (Another suspect,

"Archbishop Paul Marcinkus, the head of the Vatican Bank, now lives in Sun City, Arizona with a Vatican passport; U.S. authorities have ignored a Milan arrest warrant for him.

Although Marcinkus died last month after Backes was quoted, just two months after Backes' dismissal in 1983, Cedel general manager Gerard Soisson, 48, was found dead in Corsica, where he'd gone on vacation. Backes recalled that top Cedel officials had the body returned immediately and buried, with no autopsy, saying he had died of a heart attack as his family suspects he was murdered.

"If Soisson was murdered, it was also related to what he knew about Ambrosiano," Backes said in the Komisar interview. "When Soisson died, the Ambrosiano affair wasn't yet known as a scandal. After it was revealed, I realized that Soisson and I had been at the crossroads. We moved all those transactions known later in the scandal to Lima and other branches. Nobody even knew there was a Banco Ambrosiano branch in Lima and other South American countries."

Illuminati Cash "Slush Fund" Estimated At 65 Trillion Dollars; Illegal Federal Reserve At Heart Of Problem As Minnesota Judge Allegedly Poisoned In 1969 After Ruling Against Corrupt Banksters

The New Underworld Order's bank accounts are used for bribery, murder and corruption world wide as private Illuminati-controlled bankers make money out of thin air. European investigators trying to trace the illegal funds, say the Illuminati's Global Security Fund needs to be stopped and is the difference between freedom and slavery in America.

23 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The Illuminati's cash cow, grazing freely on the world wide pasture of greenbacks, isn't called "Elsie" but instead is called the Global Security Fund, a name actually meaning in the secret cult's language Global Terrorist Fund.

In simple terms, it's a gigantic illegal trust fund, estimated by undercover overseas financial investigators at 65 trillion dollars, set-up for "Illuminati rainy days" and established when it is desperately needed in a pinch for bribery, assassinations and sponsoring world wide terrorist activities.

Recently, Ashley Mote of the European Union (EU) asked this volatile question in a public EU meeting, a question never answered, as Mr. Mote merely by asking it was immediately scratched from the White House Christmas card list and placed on its top ten hit list:

"Mr President, I wish to draw your attention to the Global Security Fund, set up in the early 1990s under the auspices of Jacob Rothschild. This is a Brussels-based fund and it is no ordinary fund: it does not trade, it is not listed and it has a totally different purpose. It is being used for geopolitical engineering purposes, apparently under the guidance of the intelligence services.

"I have previously asked about the alleged involvement of the European Union's own intelligence resources in the management of slush funds in offshore accounts, and I still await a reply. To that question I now add another: what are the European Union's connections to the Global Security Fund and what relationship does it have with European Union institutions?

Although the fund is cloaked in secrecy and made possible by the Western civilization's Federal Reserve banking system, investigators trying to pry into the Illuminati's secret treasure trove have uncovered some interesting facts.

Before looking at some of the startling information behind how the "Illuminati banksters" create money out of thin air, ask why the 1968 Minnesota Trial Court's decision holding the Federal Reserve Act unconstitutional and void and holding the National Banking Act unconstitutional and void was never appealed or vacated?

The answer is even the legal manipulators and corrupted high court judges can't get around this decision, figuring it better to just let the case of the First National Bank of Montgomery v. Jerome Daly die in the cold Minnesota snow along with Justice Martin V. Mahoney who was found suspiciously poisoned to death six months after he issued the ruling that exposed the illegality of what has been called the Queen of England's illegal banking scam.

This decision, which is still good law, has the effect of declaring all private mortgages on real and personal property, and all U.S. and State bonds held by the Federal Reserve, National and State Banks to void.

According to legal scholars and Bill Drexler, who worked on the case with Judge Mahoney, "This amounts to an emancipation of this nation from personal, national and State debt purportedly owed to this banking system. Every True American owes it to himself/herself, to his or her country, and to the people of the world for that matter, to study this decision very carefully and to understand it, for upon it hangs the question of freedom or slavery."

Saying this was the most important jury decision of modern times, Drexler who was present in the Minnesota courtroom the day the decision came down, added:

The banker testified about the mortgage loan given to Jerome Daly, but then Daly cross examined the banker about the creating of money "out of thin air," and the banker admitted that this was standard banking practice. When Justice Mahoney heard the banker testify that he could "create money out of thin air," Mahoney said, "It sounds like fraud to me." I looked at the faces of the jurors, and they were all agreeing with Mahoney by shaking their heads and by the looks on their faces.

"Both Jerome Daly and Justice Martin V. Mahoney are truly the greatest men that I have ever had the pleasure to meet. The Credit River Decision was and still is the most important legal decision ever decided by a Jury."

Daly, a small town mortgage holder who had taken on and defeated the Federal Reserve Banking System and money lenders, had this to say about the decision the Illuminati big shots kill for, as well as making any enterprising young lawyer think twice about tackling the Federal Reserve.

The following is Daly's own written statement about Judge Mahoney's 1968 ruling:

"The above Judgment was entered by the Court on December 9, 1968. The issue there was simple - Nothing in the law gave the Banks the right to create money on their books. The Bank filed a Notice of Appeal within 10 days. The Appeals statutes must be strictly followed, otherwise the District Court does not acquire Jurisdiction upon Appeal. To effect the Appeal the Bank had to deposit $2.00 with the Clerk within 10 days for payment to the Justice when he made his return to the District Court. The Bank deposited two $1.00 Federal Reserve Notes.

"The Justice refused the Notes and refused to allow the Appeal upon the grounds that the Notes were unlawful and void for any purpose. The Decision is addressed to the legality of these Notes and the Federal Reserve System. The Cases of Edwards v. Kearney and Craig vs Missouri set out in the decision should be studied very carefully as they bear on the inviolability of Contracts. This is the Crux of the whole issue. Jerome Daly.

"Justice Mahoney denied the use of Federal Reserve Notes, since they represent debt instruments, not true money, from being used to pay for the appeal process itself. In order to get this overturned, since the bank's appeal without the payment being recognized was out of time, it would have required that the Bank of Montgomery, Minnesota bring a Title 42, Section 1983 action against the judicial act of Justice Mahoney for a violation of the Constitution of the United States under color of law or authority, and if successful, have the case remanded back to him to either retry the case or allow the appeal to go through.

"But the corrupt individuals behind the bank(s) were unable to ever elicit such a decision from any federal court due to the fact that because of their vile hatred for him and what he had done to them and their little Queen's Scheme, had him murdered (same as them murdering him) just about 6 months later. And so, the case stands, just as it was.

"Amazingly, if they hadn't been so arrogant about the value of their federal reserve notes and paid the Justice just 2 measly silver dollars, or else 4 measly half dollars, or else 8 measly quarters, or else 20 measly dimes, or else 40 measly nickels, or else 200 measly pennies, they could have had their appeal and would not have had to get blood on their hands.

"As it is, they are now known for their bloody ways, and the day will come when the American people will reap vengeance upon them for such a heinous and villainous act. Amen."

Now almost 40 years later, the Illuminati banksters are still creating trillions out of thin air, keeping the American people and the western world in bondage and what amounts to financial slavery.

However, one man who may hold the key to exposing much of the illegal banking fraud and recently released from a 20 year jail term, is former Russian and CIA operative, Ambassador Leo Emil Wanta.

Although unavailable for comment at the time of publication but according to another European bank fraud investigator, Marco Saba, Wanta has been released "to active duty" and is holding 25 USD trillion in foreign bank accounts and money that needs to the U.S. Treasury Department.

"I am trying to help him to accomplish this operation," said Saba Wednesday from his home in Milan, Italy.

In a valiant attempt to get at the root of the Illuminati's global slush fund, author Christopher Story's work shines a brilliant light on the Illuminati's shady and dark financial underworld. However, when the mainstream press in England and America were alerted about Story's findings, management at a leading London newspaper had this to say about printing the financial expose:

"We won't touch this subject with a thousand-foot barge pole!"

But Saba who is investigating the shady financial trail for the Observatory of Organized Crime in Switzerland had this to say about his investigation as well as highlighting Story's findings:

"In 1992, the Illuminati orchestrated the raising of a targeted $27.5 trillion from at least 200 international institutions, in the biggest, secretive private placement financing operation in world history.

"The mainstream media unfortunately failed to report this operation so the general public is ignorant of it. The aim was to provide finance for the imposition of the New World Order, a.k.a., the New Underworld Order, for its use throughout the 21st century.

"The euphemism for this program is the "global security environment". The consequent monumental "Global Security Fund", which is managed in Brussels, and is directed on behalf of the global Illuminati controller's by financial intelligence operatives, now disposes of secret financial resources of approximately $65 trillion for this purpose, probably far more.

"Equipped with such limitless resources, the directors of the New Underworld Order have now amassed sufficient finance to bribe every leader, ruler, policymaker, intelligence operative and political figure worldwide, for the rest of this century, in pursuit of their aims. The New Underworld Order addresses the greatest crisis the world has ever faced namely, the globalization of criminalism. What this means is that governments, and the revolutionary New World Order cabal seeking global governance (or control), are increasingly in the hands of criminal gangs and corrupt power cliques that hide behind formal government positions.

"Many of the main Illuminati figures on the world stage today are compromised or vulnerable to blackmail and other "Black Ops" forms of control. During the giga-fund-raising operation, truly unbelievable sums of money were stolen, mis-routed or misappropriated. Indeed, the ransacking and pillaging that took place was so colossal, and the impasse while this was occurring so extended (in 1989-91), that the international banking and financial systems nearly collapsed. Other funding resources resulting from creative financial warfare and scamming operations are hidden in accounts held by offshore corporations controlled by international intelligence, which is extensively criminalized and thus increasingly engaged in mafia-style global gangland warfare .

"A brilliant light is focused by the Author into this contemporary universe of darkness. Christopher Story's sensational new exposé provides chapter and verse on the dark forces behind the New Underworld Order, gives detailed financial audit trails showing where and how colossal sums have vanished, identifies the international institutions that have had their trust abused by globalist criminals or have themselves been corrupted by them, shows how secret Financial Warfare operations and scams conducted by the great powers are driving the world to catastrophe, and generally lifts the veil covering the global financial intelligence war which the pressured mainstream media declines to monitor and report. So exposure of these matters is obviously overdue and the New Underworld Order performs this needed forensic function, revealing dark actors playing games."

Part III: 2005 Letter Sent By Italian Operative To Condaleeza Rice Nabs U.S. High-Level Officials With Ties To Sponsoring Assassinations And Terrorism Abroad

Dr. Francesco Pazienza's final plea for justice sent to the U.S. Department of State has been ignored for one year as the criminals in Washington are allowed to roam free like a pack of rats in their 'Cheesy' world of deception and terrorism.

22 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

For those who look deep below the surface, it's easy to see the wet blood still dripping off the hands of every neo con warlord taking the podium in Washington D.C. or appearing on national television.

In fact, these cold blooded killers, masquerading as public servants and politicians, are easy to spot since blood is still dripping from one side of their mouths as they talk nonsense out of the other.

And nonsense is the name of the game for these Illuminati deceivers, as they shift attention from their "killing fields" to their deceptively false political, academic and social agenda.

It's happening right now, as the masters of deception and trickery are playing the American population for fools, spinning lies on a daily basis as the bloodshed flows all over the world like an out of control river of death.

And this death, deception, shifting of attention and silencing of detractors is abundantly clear in the strange case of Dr. Francesco Pazienza, the Italian operative jailed by high ranking members of the Illuminati working in the U.S. government and in the Bush administration.

Observers may question and say:

Why focus on Pazienza? Why focus on one drop of blood in a sea of red when so many other people are dying all over the world from Illuminati terror?

The reason is Pazienza's story highlights how Washington bigwigs lock people away and how they kill for sport, setting-up terrorist bombings and disasters around the world like normal people set-up weekend getaways or Saturday afternoon barbecues.

As Pazienza's case makes clear, if they would kill 83 in the 1980 Bologna bombing, don't you think they would kill innocent children at Waco, hundreds at Oklahoma City and more than 3,000 on 9/11?

This, of course, is only the tip of the ice berg, as millions of innocents are slated to unknowingly walk a direct path into the 21st century's rendition of the Illuminati guillotine.

For centuries, they have been doing this and for centuries they have been the driving force behind war, famine and death, killing millions along the time line of history as easily as swatting flies in a horse barn during the dead of summer.

So, in the case of Paziienza, as we look at one drop in the larger bucket of Illuminati blood, we see a pattern of deception, corruption and killing that played out in Italy in the 1980's and playing out today in a similar manner on the streets of America

As we speak, Paziienza, who may hold the key to how U.S. Illuminati minions sponsored death, destruction and terrorism in Italy, sits locked away in solitary confinement in a Livorno, Italy, jail.

And according to Marco Saba of the Observatory of Organized Crime (OCO) in Geneva, Switzerland, Paziienza was illegally extradited and framed by the U.S. government, a pattern of judicial corruption used by the Illuminati masters time and time again.

In the case of Paziienza, lock him away so the big boys in the White House, as well as the network of the Masonic Illuminati, posing as Jesuit priests and Zionist Jews, are protected.

As the old saying goes, there is no honor among thieves. But in the Paziienza case, his last ditch effort to free himself from a lifetime of prison based on an illegal extradition from the U.S. to Italy, may serve to expose more pieces in the Illuminati's killing puzzle.

In a sharply worded, extremely revealing and lengthy legal analysis, Paziienza's legal counsel, Renato Borzone of Rome, drafted a March 2005 plea sent to Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice, who failed to respond.

However, in the lengthy letter many revealing facts surfaced, showing how the Illuminati works undercover by using the CIA and the Italian Secret Service, as two more useful tools in their killing machine.

The following are excerpts from the Rice letter pointing out how the "New Underworld Order" really works:

C - DESCRIPTION OF THE FACTS

The Italian citizen Francesco Paziienza Donato was arrested on March 4 , 1985 for extradition purposes on demand of the G.o.I. in the city where he was officially living : New York . His American address was officially registered in the list of the Italian foreign resident citizens kept , as per the Italian law regulating such an issue , both in the Ministry of Foreign Affairs (the A.I.R.E. list) and the registry office of the Italian Town Hall where he was previously residing : Rome . The G.o.I. was perfectly aware that Mr. Paziienza was living in New York at least since Jan. 13 , 1983 (Exh. 3) .

Notwithstanding the G.O.I. had submitted numerous requests for extraditions to the American counterpart and that at that time Mr. Paziienza had never had previous problems with the Italian Justice it was decided that the only case that could stand before a U.S. Judge was that of his involvement with the failed Italian bank Banco Ambrosiano . The documents released by the D.o.S. show how on Jan.23 , 1984 the D.o.S. had already rejected an extradition request for the same case for the total lack of probable cause that he could have committed the crime . There are several communications between the G.o.I. and the D.o.S. where it is mentioned that the only case that could have been brought before a U.S. Court with some hopeful expectation was again that of the Banco Ambrosiano affair already rejected : amount of the money involved 250.000 U.S. dollars .

The documents freed thanks to the F.O.I.A. show the very questionable strategy suggested by the G.o.I. and unfortunately abetted by the D.O.S. and the Department of Justice : avoiding the maximum possible a U.S Court of Justice , getting an extradition order for whatever it could be by a U.S. Judge , shipping back the extraditable in Italy and then granting all the further extraditions through the bureaucracy of the D.o.S. with waivers of the rule of specialty . On charge of the extradition hearings was appointed the U.S. Judge Hon. Charles L. Briant of New York - South Manhattan - who issued a favorable extradition decision on Sept. 25 , 1985 for two counts related to the bank's failure in Italy .

It is a matter of fact that on Judge Brieant it had been exerted the heaviest political pressure from Washington to consent to extradition through Hon. Stephen Trott of the Department of Justice and nowadays judge of the 9th Circuit of the Court of Appeals in San Francisco (CA) .

Nevertheless, quite disgusted, Hon. Brieant could not restrain himself from writing in his opinion that "All such tales of intrigue , suspicion , undercover police work , and internecine political warfare appear sincerely expressed (by Dr. Pazienza) " .

The intrigues were going on even over the extradition proceedings. On Aug. 7, 1985 Mr. Jonathan Kwitny of the Wall Street Journal , who attended at the hearings , wrote on the front page of the newspaper : " A U.S. Customs Agent has testified in extradition proceedings that an ' unidentified group of people ' who he said might be Italian agents , want Mr. Pazienza dead ' (Exh. 4) . Title of the article " Tale of intrigue - How an Italian Ex - Spy Who Helped America Landed in U.S. Prison " .

Eventually the minutes of the July 15 , 1985 hearing were unbelievably doctored to shield the G.o.I. and its intelligence agency changing the expression " Italian agents " into " international organized crime " .

When Dr. Pazienza realized such an abuse on Febr. first , 1986 he officially wrote a second letter from the Metropolitan Correctional Center of New York where he was still detained to Mr. David Denton, U.S. Deputy Attorney , and to Mr. Rudolph Giuliani, U.S Attorney for the Southern Manhattan District , stating that :

" Following my letter of Dec. 13,1985 , I am in the position to definitely confirm that the minutes corresponding to the cross - examination of the U.S. CUSTOMS SERVICE Galligan has been edited and forged on the section of pag 18 and 19 related to the hearing of July 15 , 1985 . the meaning of such a forgery has been to protect the Italian intelligence organization S.I.S.M.I " . * (Exh. 5)

Frankly speaking it is quite astonishing that such kind of forgery could have been implemented in a Federal Court of Justice of a democratic Country as the United States of America .

Previously , on May 4 , 1985 , the journalist Mr. Massimo Jaus had written on the New York Italian daily newspaper " Il Progresso " :

" But here we have even verified that prosecutor Denton had warned Pazienza that a ' contract ' had been put on him as per the mafia parlance meaning when there is the decision to hire someone for killing somebody ells , in this case Pazienza . Actually Mafia and Italian intelligence seem to be intertwined " . * (Exh. 6)

Also very illuminating , regarding the intrigues mentioned by Hon. Brieant , it is what reported in a memorandum of 1984 of the US. Customs Service (ref. : NY05PR320015 - Exh. 7):

" On Monday June 18 , 1984 we met in Rome with Judge Misiani who was investigating Francesco Pazienza . Misiani stated that he had knowledge of Pazienza and Dominico Lombino (who has been associated with Salvatore Patafio, Cesare Bonventre, Bonanno family in Brooklyn etc.) having smuggled 2.1 billion dollars into the United States by air . When asked for documentary evidence the judge alluded to the fact that he could not disclose the evidence at the present time because of Italian law " .

This Italian magistrate , Francesco Misiani , had solicited a meeting in Rome with the U.S. Customs Service and the U.S. Assistant Attorney for the District of Brooklyn , Mrs . Reena Raggi , with the only prearranged purpose to deliberately deceive through lies having never existed and never would eventually exist any case concerning what he referred to the American delegation . The only aim was that of the harassment of Pazienza.

Prior to Misiani a different magistrate had intervened in Italy : Mr. Domenico Sica , at that time a close friend of Mr. Misiani .

With a deceptive operation masterminded with the Italian intelligence agency S.I.S.M.I. , with whom he was in a very cozy relationship , he prepared a phoney documentation aimed at the U.S. Federal Bureau of Investigation that received it from the U.S. Embassy in Rome on April 1983 . Such a document was alleging that Mr. Pazienza was " involved in the refining of narcotics and money laundering for organized crime organizations of U.S. , Italy , Spain , Montecarlo and France " .

All such alleged criminal activity was carried out from Pazienza ' s office in New York City (Exh. 8) .

On Dec. 19 , 1983 the U.S. Embassy in Rome addressed a letter to Mr. Sica that ended saying that : " No further investigation is being conducted by our New York services at this time due to the lack of apparent criminal violations in the United States - signed : Frank J. Walburger - legal attaché - " (Exh . 9) .

Again such activity was aimed only at the harassment of Mr. Pazienza and demonstrates how both magistrates Misiani and Sica were perfectly aware that Pazienza was living in U.S. . We will see how this detail is highly relevant from the legal point of view .

We are before two Italian public officials having cooperated with the Italian intelligence to fabricate fake proofs of evidence , lying to U.S. Federal Agencies that had even to sustain a financial burden for investigations of alleged crimes in the U.S. while , since the beginning , the two Italian magistrates were perfectly knowing that the information they were providing were completely bogus .

Furthermore to a Freedom of Information Act request submitted to the Central Intelligence Agency on March 11 , 2004 for the releasing of " Documentation or internal memorandums mentioning the Italian magistrate Domenico Sica (. . .) on the years 1984 to 1986 " , on Sept. 16 , 2004 (Ref.: F - 2004 - 01050) , C.I.A. officially refused to consent calling the exemptions listed as (b)(3) : " Obligations to protect from disclosure intelligence sources and methods" (Signed : Scott A. Koch . Secr. Agency Release Panel) .

Therefore we can logically speculate that the Italian magistrate Domenico Sica at that time was also a " source " of the Central Intelligence Agency .

Once arrested on March 4 , 1985 Mr. Pazienza in vain asked that all the cases filed for extradition by the G.o.I. before the D.o.S. and the Department of Justice had to be brought before a U.S. Court of Justice (Exh. 10) .

Repeatedly over the previous year - as per the documents released by the D.o.S. - the " requested party " , i.e. the United States , had communicated to the G.o.I. that the documents filed were legally worthless being not able to show that Dr. Pazienza was responsible of the alleged offenses for which extradition was requested due to a lack of probable cause and therefore there were no chances to obtain an extradition order issued by a U.S. Federal Court .

It is worth to mention just few of those communications emanating from the D.O.S. :

üü (P R 102312Z JAN 84 - FM SECSTATE TO AMEMBASSY - LIMITED OFFICIAL USE STATE 007482) - " (Pazienza) will not be arrested on Milan Charges because of documentary deficiencies . D. O.S. is extremely doubtful that G.O.I , even by revising documents , can present acceptable probable cause evidence to support its extradition request on Milan charges " .

üü (CONFIDENTIAL - 0 100812Z NOV 84 - FM SECSTATE to AM EMBASSY ROME - STATE 336134) - " The vast majority of the material perused so far is comprised of rambling , hearsay information , etc. , which adds up to virtually no hard evidence which could be persuasive to a U.S. Court of probable cause that Pazienza committed crimes for which Italy states it wants him extradited " .

üü (SECRET - 0 141606Z - FM AMEMBASSY ROME TO SECSTATE - ROME 27861) - In this dispatch the U.S. Ambassador to Italy Mr. Maxwel Rabb informs the D.o.S. that on Nov. 14 , 1984 he met with the Italian chief of the military intelligence agency S.I.S.M.I. Mr. Fulvio Martini and that on behalf of the Italian prime minister Mr. Bettino Craxi he asked for Mr. Pazienza to be extradited even if there were non proofs of evidence.

üü (CONFIDENTIAL - FM AM EMBASSY ROME TO AM CONSUL MILAN 0 091009Z FEB 85 ZFF4) On üü (CONFIDENTIAL - FM AM EMBASSY ROME TO SECSTATE PRIORITY 5588 - DEPT JUSTICE WASHDC - ROME 09571) On April 16 , 1985 the U.S. Embassy in Rome informs the D.o.S. that following the arrest of Mr. Pazienza in New York on March , 4 a close aide of the Italian Minister of Justice , Mr. Rocco Palamara , was very worried that a U.S. Judge might be called to decide on all the cases filed by the G.o.I ; that such a possibility had to be avoided at all costs and adding that the only suitable option was that only Italian magistrates had to decide on the fate of Mr Pazienza once sent back to Italy . Therefore it was primarily important , for the G.o.I. , to find a way for an extradition decided by the administrative body of the D.o.S. and not by a U.S. Court . It is a matter of fact that on June 14 , 1985 Hon. Briant had before him all the cases filed by the G.o.I. . Once he expressed the opinion that the " bunch of cases " (as per his words) were worthless all the documentation was withdrawn and eventually extradition consented by the D.o.S. through waivers of the rule of specialty (Exh. 11) . Frankly speaking a very questionable behavior .

Febr. 9 , 1985 the U.S Embassy in Rome informs the U.S. Consulate in Milan that the extradition papers landed on the D.o.S. for the extradition of Mr. Pazienza were legally worthless .

üü It is however noteworthy too that that G.O.I. over the same period of time did not reciprocate U.S. with the same generosity and complacency over the " Achille Lauro - Klingoffer affair " abetting the escape of the Palestinian terrorist Abu Abbas highly sought by U.S. .

THE TRUE UNMENTIONABLE REASONS THAT PRODUCED THE CASE Nr. 1 AND WHY PAZIENZA HAS BEEN FRAUDULENTLY STRIPPED OF HIS DEFENSE RIGHTS AND TRIED IN ABSENTIA .

As far it concerns the magistrate Domenico Sica .

Mr. Sica had been a friend of Pazienza soliciting favors for his career advancement . The relationship between them turned sour when Pazienza refused on his demand to release a false testimony against a former magistrate colleague of Sica turned politician with the Christian Democratic Party and when the same political party refused to back him who was aiming at the chairmanship of the Italian civil intelligence agency S.I.S.D.E. . Hereto again it is what Mr. E. Morrison Esq. wrote to Hon. Trott in the above mentioned letter of Febr. 11 , 1986 (see Exh.15) : " Incredible to be sure , but nevertheless true , is the fact that the promoter of this so called Super - SISMI investigation and prosecution of Dr. Pazienza is Magistrate Domenico Sica . This is the same Domenico Sica who has had a personal animosity against Dr. Pazienza since 1981 when he lost his bid for the Chairmanship of the Italian Civil Secret Service called SISDE (See Attachment 6) and apparently blamed Dr. Pazienza for not securing the appointment to this position " . The U.S. Embassy in Rome confirmed with bafflement to the D.o.S. such a previous personal relationship between Pazienza and Sica and the SISDE affair as well with the following message : " R 301303Z APR.85 - FMAMEMBASSY ROME TO SECSTATE WASHDC 6192 - DEPT JUSTICE WASHDC - LIMITED OFFICIAL USE ROME 10845 - JUSTICE FOR ASST. ATTORNEY GENERAL TROTT " .

During the investigating stage Magistrate Sica forced the former fiancée of Pazienza to have a sexual relationship with him under threat of a possible indictment . The young woman , Ms. Marina De Laurentiis , was the niece of a famous Hollywood movie producer , Mr. Dino De Laurentiis (see Exh. 4) , thus she had to give in to avoid a possible scandal . A heinous blackmail . Mr. Sica knew that Pazienza had been informed of such a highly despicable and unlawful behavior and he could not run the risk to have him in a Court of justice in Italy revealing this kind of niceties . The habit of Mr. Sica to solicit sex from female witnesses and defendants was indeed business as usual and not an exception . Almost everybody was knowing his unsavory habit in Rome institutional circles but nobody ever acted or objected .

On August 26 , 2003 the daily International Herald Tribune reported on pag. 5 that a judge from Santa Fe (New Mexico) was sentenced to nine years in prison (six years suspended) because found guilty of offering female defendants lighter sentences in exchange for sex .

Italy is a different planet in a different galaxy . . .

The Super - Sismi trial was meticulously prearranged by Mr. Sica and the S.I.S.M.I. spy agency as introductory and instrumental to the Case nr. 2 described hereinafter and whose aim was to cover up the Libyan criminal responsibilities in the Bologna ' s train station bombing of Aug. 2 , 1980 .

Pazienza had to play the scapegoat .

Once Pazienza was set free in Italy, on Dec. 1 , 1988 the magistrate Sica , freshly promoted by the G.o.I. to the post of High Commissioner for organized crime investigations , implored Pazienza to keep his mouth shut on what he was knowing about him not to ruin his career . The meeting between them took place in the office of the official legal counsel of the Christian Democratic Party , Mr. Giuseppe De Gori , Esq. as per Sica's begging .

All the above mentioned disgusting facts have been thoroughly described in a book written by Pazienza while sitting in jail (title " Il Disubbidiente " - publishing house : Longanesi of Milan) and released in Italy on Sept. 1999 . Mr. Sica neither filed any complain nor took any legal action whatsoever against Pazienza and the publishing house (Exh . 18) .

As far it concerns the then Prime Minister Mr. Bettino Craxi :in 1980 Mr. Craxi had received a multimillion dollar slush fund in Switzerland by the banker Roberto Calvi , chairman of the Banco Ambrosiano , and he was believing Pazienza was actually knowing the illicit transaction . Such a secret , were it unveiled , could have been devastating for him . Mr. Craxi was eventually betrayed in 1993 by one of his closest confidant over the " Clean Hands " criminal investigations of the Milan judiciary with the disclosure of that story , the so called " Conto Protezione " affair . Because of it he was prosecuted and convicted by the Milan Tribunal to eight years prison term and compelled to escape from Italy . He died in exile in Tunisia in 2000 . Mr. Craxi thought that such a secret , that Pazienza was not even knowing , required that Pazienza deserved to be neutralized or debunked at all costs .

On Dec.10 , 1983 Pazienza wrote an official letter to Mr. Craxi from his N.Y.C. office asking him to be freed by a possible ' State Secret ' obligation for what he did and knew as a consultant for the Italian spy agency S.I.S.M.I. between 1980 and 1981 . Pazienza knew, among other deeds, that a faction of the Italian military intelligence S.I.S.M.I. was illegally passing very delicate information to the Libyan secret service (Exh.19) . Hereto an excerpt of the letter : " I was personally taking care of the relationship with the director general of the French intelligence agency S.D.E.C.E. Mr. Alexandre De Marenches because even having the French a representative in Italy and the Italian S.I.S.M.I. one in France the french did not trust to communicate through the official channels . I had been informed that the French had discovered how some top S.I.S.M.I. officers were on the payroll of the Libyan intelligence " . Once received the letter and put it under the ' SECRET ' restraining seal Mr. Craxi immediately dispatched a copy to Mr. Sica.

It is a matter of fact that such information allowed the Libyan secret service goons to know the hideouts of Libyan political refugees in Italy they were chasing for and to carry out their assassinations . The first assassination took place on June 11 , 1980 . Almost eighteen years after this lewd story would be eventually discovered by the roman prosecuting district attorney office that was investigating the DC9 plane downing near the Ustica island of Sicily . The name of the informant was precisely identified with that of a Col. Demetrio Cogliandro of the Rome ' s Counter Espionage Center of the S.I.S.M.I. spy agency , Center being part of the First Directorate that is mentioned in the Pazienza ' s letter to Mr. Craxi of Dec. 1983. Notwithstanding that , contrary to the U.S. judicial system , the Art. 112 of the Italian Constitution foresees that the prosecution is a compulsory obligation whenever a crime is noticed no charges had been ever brought against the officer for complicity in murders. We will see however how prominent the above name will be in the case Nr. 2 . The problem was that such a treason was perpetrated with the full accord of certain Italian political circles not to damage the oil interests of the Republic of Italy . On January 2005 the former French ambassador in Italy , Mr. Gilles Martinet , has confirmed in his book of memoirs published in France this unbelievable plot and how the G.o.I. even abetted the assassins allowing them to safely return to Libya (See the Italian daily Corriere della Sera of Jan. 9 , 2005 pag. 35) . So scared was the then G.o.I. that Pazienza might unveil those kind of unsavory secrets that the documents released by the D.o.S. show how the G.o.I. refused even to consent that the Iran-Contras U.S. congressional committee might meet Pazienza once repatriated in Italy while kept in solitary confinement in a Turin jail for years . The committee wished to interview Pazienza on his relationship with Mr. Michael Ledeen (See the message " CONFIDENTIAL - 0 311626Z JUL 87 FM AM EMBASSY ROME TO SEC STATE WASH DC IMMEDIATE 7429 ") . All that explains too what the Wall Street Journal published in the front page on Aug. 8 , 1985 about the need to eliminate Pazienza

The entire document sent is located for reading at www.pazienza hungerstrike.info/ricorso_amb_usa.htm

However, one interesting paragraph worth noting shows control of P2's criminal activities directly in U.S. hands:

It is very interesting to precisely pinpoint what it is stated on pag. 441 of the conviction sentence of Pazienza, "It has to be remembered that the America 's sponsorship is an hypothesis whose credibility has been largely substantiated by S.I.S.M.I. officials . In relation to that it is well-founded to believe that Gelli had been compelled to accept the U.S. imposition with no possibility to argue " . What that actually means ? Hereto is the answer : the Bologna Court and prosecution alleged that the P2 Masonic Lodge and its criminal activities were strictly controlled and directed by U.S. . In 1978 the Americans , being highly unsatisfied of the actual Grand Master of the Lodge Mr. Licio Gelli , anointed Francesco Pazienza Donato as the new chief shipping him back to Italy to replace Mr.Gelli . Pazienza in 1978 was only 32 years old .

Part Two: How Michael Ledeen Fits Into The Puzzle Of The Strange Case Of Dr. Francesco Pazienza Donato

Ledeen and Pazienza are "tied together at the hip." So why is Pazienza in jail and Ledeen still strutting his stuff in Washington?

21 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The incarceration of Dr. Francesco Pazienza cannot be discussed intelligently without discussing his connection with Washington neo con insider, Michael Ledeen.

As Italian court documents suggest, the pair were tied together at the hip regarding "Billygate," the 1980 Bologna train station bombing and the plot behind the attempted assassination of Pope John Paul II.

And there are probably many other sordid affairs Ledeen help orchestrate that will remain forever under the radar screen.

But one thing is for sure he was involved up to his eye balls in the infamous Vatican Bank scandal, the sponsorship of terrorism through the "Red Brigade," an extremist group tagged for blowing bombs off in Italy during the 1980's like firecrackers on the fourth of July, and a general climate of fear and mass confusion aimed at controlling, disrupting and destroying the Italian culture.

So the big question remains why is Pazienza in solitary confinement, rotting away in a Livorno, Italy, jail while Ledeen is still strutting his pompous behind in Washington and acting as a consultant for President Bush and his right hand man, Karl Rove?

Further, why has the Italian and American judiciary protected Ledeen from even testifying in the Pazienza case after defense lawyers repeatedly wanted him called to the witness stand?

The answer appears quite simple: political clout and muscle comprised the judiciary in order to protect higher-ups in the U.S. government, leaving Pazienza out of sight and out of mind to take the rap as the low-level patsy.

And since Ledeen was working for Henry Kissinger, Alexander Haig, Ronald Reagan and the Bush crime family, any testimony may lead to the doorstep of the big boys, incriminating the so-called untouchables who are living in what looks like a private demonic world above the law of the common man.

As Pazienza still clings to the hope he will someday be released from jail, it is important to understand exactly who is Ledeen and where did this political neo con animal come from?

An excerpt paraphrased and taken from Edward Herman and Gerry O'Sullivan's book, "The Terrorism Industry," written in 1989, provides an adequate description of Ledeen, his Italian connection and on the payroll of the Italian Secret Service and his long time association with Pazienza.:

Michael Ledeen has long been associated with Center for Strategic and International Studies (CSIS), a Jesuit-organized facility under the direction of Georgetown University, and was one of the founding organizers of The Jewish Institute for National Security (JINSA).

During the Reagan years, Ledeen moved into the higher circles of power, serving as Secretary of State Haig's advisor and agent in Italy, as a consultant on terrorism, and playing a role in both the Bulgarian connection case and the Iran-contra affair. With these connections, Ledeen had exceptional media exposure, appearing on ABC's "Nightline" and "This Week with David Brinkley," PBS's

"MacNeil/Lehrer News Hour," and CNN's "Crossfire." He has also written op-ed columns and articles for numerous magazines and newspapers, and edited the Washington Quarterly (published by CSIS) prior to going to work for Haig.

Ledeen's academic career came to an end when he was denied tenure at Washington University in St. Louis in 1972 for, among other reasons, plagiarism. During the 1970s, he worked as a journalist in Italy with Il Giornale Nuovo, a right-wing newspaper reputedly controlled by the CIA. During this Italian stint he collaborated regularly with Claire Sterling in anticommunist propaganda closely tied to ongoing U.S. interventionist strategies.

In 1980 he entered into a collaboration with Francesco Pazienza, an agent of the Italian Secret Service (SISMI) and a member of Rome's extreme right-wing Masonic Lodge, P2 (Propaganda Due), headed by the fascist Licio Gelli.

In an Italian criminal court in 1985, Pazienza was judged guilty of political manipulation, forgery, and the protection of criminals and terrorists, among other offenses. Indeed, according to the findings of the court, Pazienza falsified information about the Bologna bombing in order to divert attention away from the real (right-wing) terrorists who had staged the attack.

Ledeen is identified in the court documents as an agent of SISMI, possibly placed on their payroll by Pazienza himself. Ledeen collected money for his services to SISMI, which included "risk assessment," the training of Italian intelligence agents, and providing reports on terrorism to the Italian government.

Pazienza and Ledeen worked together in the so-called Billygate affair during the 1980 presidential campaign, luring Jimmy Carter's brother into a compromising relationship with Qaddafi (this according to prosecuting Judge Domenico Sica). During the Reagan transition, to quote Italian police official Umberto d'Amato, "there was an interregnum during which relations between Italy and the United States were carried on in the persons of the duo Pazienza-Ledeen".

Later, the pair were important participants in the creation of the Bulgarian plot to kill the pope, a story overlooked by most of the major media in the West.

Ledeen has moved within the power structure and between Western governments according to opportunity, for personal advantage and perhaps also in pursuit of political ends that are not entirely clear.

Although serving as a loyal agent of the U.S. state in Italy in the 1970s, his service in the Billygate affair was to the Republican Party. He was on the payroll of the Italian Secret Service agency SISMI in the early 1980s, but his manipulations in Italy caused the new head of SISMI to declare before Parliament in 1984 that Ledeen was an "intriguer" and unwelcome in Italy.

His attachment to Israel, reflected in his JINSA connection, may have influenced his pursuit of the hostage deal with Iran (Israel favored such a transaction), and his former boss in the Pentagon, Noel Koch, asserts that while Ledeen was in Italy the CIA station chief there took him to be "an agent of influence of a foreign government".

Not only did the head of SISMI denounce him as an intriguer, but the authors of the Tower Commission Report concluded that the CIA should permanently terminate its relationship with Ledeen and his associate, Ghorbanifar. All of this, however, has not interfered with his status as a terrorism expert for the U.S. mass media. His connections are still potent, the right-wing and Israeli lobby are fond of him, he is glib and his "transparent crap" is therefore acceptable.

While Ledeen still hides behind the cloak of the neo con power structure's phony war on terror, it's obvious from Italian court documents he was working to facilitate terrorism in Italy, not stop it. And this is essentially why Pazienza still sits rotting in jail, a move designed by the corrupt elite to protect Ledeen and other higher-ups from the true nature of their role as terrorist facilitators and war mongers.

"I do not like this man, Ledeen," said Marco Saba, of the Organized Crime Observatory in Geneva, Switzerland, a group trying to get Pazienza released as well as seriously trying to track down money laundering and international bank scandals stemming from the corrupt Federal Reserve system and the Vatican Bank.

"The powers in Washington want to pin the Vatican bank scandal in part on Pazienza, which just isn't true. They are essentially holding him illegally as a political prisoner in order to protect the real criminals. We are working hard for his release and his legal counsel in Rome has sent Condaleeza a detailed letter in March 2005, discussing the true facts behind the Pazienza jailing.

"She has not responded, but we are still holding out hope that one day the full truth will be known about his case. What is going on in Washington is terrible and I think many Americans do not fully understand what has transpired in Italy, revealing the corruption.

"After World War II, the American people elped the Italians. May be it's time that we return the favor and help you now before it is too late."

Besides Pazienza's involvement with Ledeen, court records and an article written in the Wall Street Journal in 1985 show he may also have strong ties to the inner workings of the powerful P2 Masonic Lodge.

The articles document how after Pazienza was removed from SISMI, he was then picked up by a more sinister covert group called P2. Originally an Italian Masonic Lodge established in 1877, it grew in the 1960's to become an organization whose membership included Italy's most rich and powerful. In March of 1981, the head of the organization had his house raided and the Italian police found a complete roster of P-2 in his home. One of the names on that roster was Silvio Berlusconi, who would become the Italian Prime Minister that supported the Bush Administration in its drive for war in Iraq.

This fact is one that is well documented in the Wall Street Journal article. Another prominent member of P2, uncovered in the article, was Rocco Martino, recruited out of SISMI and who also had connections with Pazienza.

Although Pazienza was in jail by this time, according to foreign news reports, nefarious activities and the same Italian connection continue today, as Martino was allegedly tied to the Niger forgery and its Rome Embassy.

In 2000, according to reports, Martino contacted, "a SISMI source, a 'lady' who worked at the Niger Embassy in Rome, could provide Martino with information in exchange for which Martino pays the Nigerian 'lady' 500 euros/month." It isn't entirely clear if Martino was working for SISMI, P-2, both or on his own. On January 2nd, 2001, the Nigerian embassy was broken into. All that was taken was some letterhead and seals.

By late 2001, around the time of the secret Rome meeting, Martino has the fully forged documents from the Nigerian lady, then hands them over to an Italian reporter, Elisabetta Burba. She worked for the magazine Panorama, which just happens to be owned by Silvio Berlusconi.

According to an internet post on Daily Kos, "Burba shows the documents to her boss and requests to arrange a visit to Niger. Her boss, editor-in-chief Carlo Rossella, who is known to have ties with the Berlusconi government, insists that she first turn copies over to the U.S. Embassy, which she did on October 9th. Burba's trip to Niger proved that the documents were fake and even that the companies allegedly involved were too small to make a transaction of that size. Something the French would have known had they been behind the forgeries."

Seymour Hersh then published an article in The New Yorker of what happened next, saying:

"Two former C.I.A. officials provided slightly different accounts of what happened next. "The Embassy was alerted that the papers were coming," the first former official told me, "and it passed them directly to Washington without even vetting them inside the Embassy." Once the documents were in Washington, they were forwarded by the C.I.A. to the Pentagon, he said. "Everybody knew at every step of the way that they were false - until they got to the Pentagon, where they were believed."

According to political observers commenting on connections on a post at the Daily Kos, "this account would make sense if one were to believe that the forged documents came from Vice-President Cheney. The neo conservatives were housed in the Pentagon and, as we now know, they used everything they could to justify war. The C.I.A. was skeptical the entire time. When former CIA director George Tenet took responsibility for allowing those sixteen words to be included in Bush's State of the Union, in fact he was taking the fall for something he doubted in the first place.

"Cheney could have very easily created the documents with the help of his "cabal", given them to Michael Ledeen so that he could give them to the clandestine group of Rocco Martino, Francisco Pazienza and Antonio Martino (no relation to Rocco). We know that it was Rocco Martino who gave the documents to the Italian reporter, who then gave them to the U.S. Embassy in Rome. Our embassy then forwarded them to the CIA, the and the CIA put the documents back on the desk of Vice-President, Dick Cheney. Finally, in today's La Repubblica, an Italian newspaper, Martino is quoted as saying, 'It's true - it's my hand in the dissemination of those documents (on the Niger uranium), but I have been tricked. Behind this story there are Americans and Italians together. It was a case of a disinformation operation'."

Besides the current Niger affair, tied to the same Italian connection, a legal synopsis sent in March 2005 by Pazienza's attorney, Renato Borzone, president of the Rome Bar Association, details in the highly explosive and politically damaging letter to Rice, facts showing corruption at the highest levels of the U.S. and Italian governments, dating back to the 1980's.

Although Rice has not responded, the letter kicked off a hunger strike by Pazienza, who is still trying to alert the world he is being held as "nothing more than a political hostage."

Editor's Note: Tomorrow in Part III, the details of the Rice letter are exposed, as well as an update on Pazienza's current situation.

Part One: The Strange Case of Dr. Francesco Pazienza Donato. His Story Opens the Door to How America Sponsors Terrorism Abroad and How It Has Tried to Destroy Italy and the Italian Lifestyle.

Dr. Pazienza, first hired by Michael Ledeen, has been locked away in jail as a 'political prisoner' for more than 20 years and now is in solitary confinement.

20 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

If the truth ever is fully known about the strange case of Dr. Francesco Pazienza, the lid should be finally blown sky-high off the White House, blowing a hole so deep and wide that every President since Jimmy Carter and Ronald Reagan will be nabbed for treasonous high crimes against humanity and the civilized world.

And according to observers in Italy when the dust finally settles, the reason why Pazienza is being held as "a political prisoner" should finally put the finishing touches on despicable men like Michael Ledeen, Karl Rove and President George W. Bush, to name a few.

Although Pazienza claims he doesn't know much, the powers that be think otherwise, keeping him locked away for more than 20 years in a jail in Livorno, Italy.

And according to his last written communication one month ago, as he is prohibited from speaking on the phone or having visitors other than his immediate family, he is being held under maximum security conditions in solitary confinement.

Concerning his legal troubles, it doesn't take a legal scholar to understand what happened to Pazienza, even though the many charges and cases filed against him in the U.S., Rome and Bologna have left the truth confused and smothered under thousands of pages of legal mumbo jumbo, most of the pages obviously an orchestrated smokescreen to protect the guilty parties.

And in layman's lingo, after sifting through the legal minutia, what happened to the Italian insider working for his Washington and Vatican masters is simple.

Pazienza in the mid 1970's was first hired by Ledeen, who now is one of the diabolical brains behind Rove and Bush, as a covert Italian operative. Although Pazienza denies the allegations, Italian authorities and court records suggest he provided inside information on the infamous "Billygate Scandal," for the GOP, a scandal involving President Jimmy Carter's brother and Libya, in order to insure Ronald Reagan and George H. Bush a clear path to the White House.

According to Italian authorities and political observers, Pazienza also was assigned to shift attention to Libya and Carter while, at the same time, making arrangements for George H. Bush to covertly pull off the infamous "October Surprise," also assuring Reagan the White House.

Besides 'Billygate,' Paziienza allegedly was deeply involved in many other CIA activities in Italy, including the 1980 Bologna train bombing blamed on terrorists but orchestrated by Washington, the behind the scenes activities of the assassination attempt on Pope John Paul II, the inner-dealings of the Vatican Bank scandal and the Jesuit Order and the involvement of the P2 Masonic Lodge tying Ledeen, Reagan and others like Licio Gelli, the P2 leader.

Whether he was knowingly involved or made a patsy by higher-ups, according to observers, Paziienza had "to be shut up and put away for life" to protect people like Ledeen, Reagan, Bush and others.

And according to Paziienza, his Italian lawyer and others fighting for his release, he was set up for a fall and illegally extradited from America to Italy in 1987 by a corrupt ruling by federal judge Stephen Trott of the 9th Circuit, paving the way for a bogus Italian trial, far away from U.S. public scrutiny.

Marco Saba of the Observatory on Organized Crime(OCO) in Geneva, Switzerland, one man who has extensively researched the case and fighting for justice for Paziienza, said this week in a phone conversation from Milan:

"Francesco Paziienza was a consulting of the Italian Intelligence Service and a friend of the Reagan Administration. You may recall the "Billygate", when the brother of Jimmy Carter was exposed as being a good friend of Gheddafi of Libya . It was Paziienza who collected the evidence about Billy Carter being close with Gheddafi.

"The Reagan-Bush candidates used this scandal to gain support in their election, while Michael Ledeen took the merit of this operation "Billygate". In fact, 'Billygate'was useful to cover up the 'October Surprise,' where the elder Bush was in Paris negotiating with the Iranians to maintain the American hostages until after he and Reagan were elected.

"Francesco Paziienza was framed for extradition from the US with the help of a corrupt judge who was useful also to frame CIA agent Edwin Wilson just released from U.S. prison last September. This judge, Stephen Trott, is now in the federal court 9th circuit."

Recently Saba and the OCO, also working on cases regarding Osama bin Laden's financial network in Switzerland and bank accounts of international corrupted and bribed judges held in Swiss Banks, wrote a strongly worded letter to Judge Trott seeking answers for his decision in the Paziienza case, as well as highlighting OCO's investigation in the chain of killings involved in what has come to be known as "Operation Gladio'.

The following is a copy of the Saba's letter recently sent to Judge Trott:

Dear Judge Stephen Trott,

It is because of the esteem and respect that I devote to the 9th Circuit that I write to you....

First of all, some few words about me. I am Marco Saba, a member of the Observatory on Organized Crime in Geneva. The OCO was involved in the working out of the "2002 OCO Report on the OSAMA BIN LADEN Financial Network in Switzerland. The report we are now working on is titled: "Banks accounts of international corrupt and bribed judges held in Swiss Banks".

The OCO members comes from the international judiciary system - as many lawyers and judges and from special police teams from all over the world as many are former undercover officials and members from the intelligence apparatus.

In my country, Italy, I have investigated the affair of depleted uranium weapons and I reported to the Italian parliament and to the Foreign Affairs Commission in the year 2000.

But my more important investigation was on the chain of killings of many Italian officials from the Stay-Behind organization - here called GLADIO that occurred in the '80s and '90s. I was able to discover still living members from that organization - survivors - that were not included in the official propaganda-list of Gladio officers published by the Italian media which was a damage-control list created by the NATO officer Francesco Giranda. One of the unlisted survivors - Antonino Arconte - was able to publish an electronic book where he speaks about the subversion he did - under U.S. orders - on foreign states like Tunisia, Morocco, Libya, etc. For your information, the U.S. liaison officer in Rome was Charles Bernard Moses linked to James Jesus Angleton.

By the way, you may know that subversion of foreign governments was the first account at the Nazi-crime Court of Nuremberg. The killings of former Stay-Behind officers - the killings of the state sponsored killers - occurred under orders for which was responsible the former Italian president Francesco COSSIGA - among others. Those killings were done in a "Kennedy Form" style: to shut-up some possible witness. But - unfortunately for someone - not all the witnesses were killed or jailed on false accounts.

And here you come. This letter is for asking to you to revert precisely the unjust jailing of a former intelligence officer who happened to become an inconvenient witness.

Another of those jailings that happened on the basis of false accounts that condemned some intelligence people to more than 18 years of prison - just to shut-them-up. From deep inside the Italian secret service come the news that it was you (are you?) the liaison officer between the US Judiciary system and the CIA. It was in those clothes that you happened to be the key member of the conspiracy against some individuals - maybe the most notable case in the US is the case of Edwin Wilson.

The Day Court Throws Out Ex-CIA Officer's Conviction After 20 Years In Prison published on 10/30/2003 - Houston (AP) - A federal judge threw out the conviction of a former CIA operative who has spent 20 years in prison for selling arms to Libya, saying the government knowingly used false evidence against him. Edwin P. Wilson, 75, was convicted in 1983 of shipping 20 tons of C-4 plastic explosives to Libya - something he said he did to ingratiate himself with the Libyan government at the CIA's request...

The name of the Italian Edwin Wilson is FRANCESCO PAZIENZA. He is serving an UNLIMITED term because of the manipulation of extradition papers and documents done by YOU in accord with corrupt Italian judges that I don't want to mention here because You know well who they are. The same wrong doing as in the case of Wilson, the same Judge - you. On September 18, 2002 you told: "The principles that distinguish us from the rest of the world, principles from which we must not stray, are engraved in the Bill of Rights."

Yes Sir, but looking closely in the Bill of Rights I don't find the right to do "unjust persecution of people" whose work was devoted to the Institutions. Am I right? If so - please, do something to revert the unjust - at least confess the wrong done - you will be given immunity. Citing your own 2002 words: "The suspect would be given immunity from prosecution based on information elicited by the torturer. The warrant would limit the torture to non-lethal means such as sterile needles stuck under his fingernails, inserted to cause excruciating pain without endangering life." Do what it is in your power to correct the wrong and I will stop writing about this disgusting and outrageous issue.

Regarding international law violations committed by the Italian and U.S. governments against PaziENZA, a statement released by his Italian legal team is well worth reading, as it explains exactly how the "corrupt system" has kept him behind bars all these years.

In 1987, the then Government of the Republic of Italy decided to seal under the STATE SECRET restraining order the whole extradition file of Dr. Francesco PAZIENZA D. from the U.S. kept in the Italian Ministry of Justice to forestall s request for consultation submitted by the International Law Department of the Rome University of Tor Vergata.

The STATE SECRET classification is still in force nowadays.

From March until December 2004 the U.S. Department of State, following a request submitted by a researcher of a Geneva based N.G.O. as per the U.S. Law called F.O.I.A. (Freedom of Information Act), consented to declassify and deliver all such documents that were, and still are, unavailable in Italy.

The unmentionable reasons that determined such a sealing under the Italian law nr. 801 of 1977 were stripped bare.

After perusing the documents delivered by the U.S. Department of State including a set of them originally classified as "SECRET" or "CONFIDENTIAL" by the U.S. it came out that the then Government of Italy had willfully perpetrated multiple violations of the provisions of the U.S. - Italy Extradition Treaty of 1983.

Breaches of the Rule of Specialty foreseen into Art. XVI as well the violation by omission of the mandatory obligations included into Art. X and having furthermore proffered to the American counterpart a rendition of the facts and alleged proof of evidences being unfaithful if not openly false.

It is today understandable that such behavior of deception had been implemented by the Italian Government after having previously received several communications by both the U.S. Department of State and the U.S. Department of Justice that were qualifying the reasons for the extradition demands and related documentation previously submitted as being legally baseless.

To this purpose is interesting to read a message classified as "SECRET" of Nov. 14, 1984 dispatched by the U.S. Ambassador in Italy Mr. Maxwell Rabb to the U.S. Department of State where the diplomat was informing that he had met the director of the Italian spy agency SISMI on his demand and who, on behalf of the then prime minister, solicited the rendition of Pazienza no matter if there was no legal justifications for a legitimate extradition.

To facilitate this scheme the Italian spy chief even traveled to Langley (VA) asking for the help of the director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

To a F.O.I.A. request submitted to the C.I.A. for the releasing of documentation related to its involvement in the Pazienza extradition and as well of its relationship with an Italian magistrate very active in that matter the Agency refused to consent calling the exemptions listed as obligations to protect intelligence's sources and methods.

Further messages declassified and delivered by the U.S. Department of State show how the Italian Ministry of Justice was highly recommending the American counterpart to do its best for finding the way to skip U. S. Judges and Courts who might have realized, in the matter of the extradition of Dr. Francesco Pazienza, how the charges were openly trumped up.

It is not by a coincidence that even the Italian Supreme Court in 1993 stated that the extradition of Pazienza from the U.S. had been extremely equivocal confirming his acquittal after being charged and prosecuted for slander after having publicly stated that his extradition from the U.S. had been obtained with "phony papers".

On March 10, 2005 Dr. Francesco Pazienza readied a memorandum in English of 66 pages sending it from the prison of Livorno, where he is detained, to the head of the legal affairs of the U.S. Embassy in Rome, Mr. Nicolas Acker.

In this document he was outlining how the effects stemming from the blatant violations committed by the then Italian Government were rendering his detention openly illegal and illegitimate.

The parcel sent via registered mail mysteriously disappeared from the circuit of the Italian Postal Service and never reached the address of the U.S. Embassy in Rome. More than a month later Mr. Acker would eventually receive that same document because delivered by Pazienza's defense counsel in Rome.

Mr. Acker having ascertained the extreme seriousness of what asserted by Pazienza decided to dispatch the document along with the annexed exhibits to the U.S. Department of Justice in Washington.

Presently Dr. Francesco Pazienza firmly believes that he is no more a person legally detained in a prison of a democratic Country but a kidnapped person by a State where does not exist the Rule of Law.

Editor's Note: To date no action has been taken on the Pazienza case, all his pleas essentially being ignored. Read tomorrow in Part II about his 2005 hunger strike and his lengthy letter sent to Secretary of State Condaleeza Rice who has not responded. Also read how his case links America and the CIA to major terrorist activities abroad, as well as the Vatican Bank scandal, the 1980 Bologna train station bombing and the shooting of Pope John Paul II.

Holly of Pennsylvania and Arun of India Have an Urgent Message: Americans Wake-Up Now or You May End Up Dead Like Thousands of Others Around the World Caught in the Vice-Grip of the Bush War Machine.

Holly Avila is protesting and writing songs and poems to end the war while Arun Shrivastava of India is alerting the world of the U.S. military's deadly use of nuclear weapons in the form of depleted uranium used in the Middle East.

19 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

While Holly Avila protests the Iraqi War from her small town in Pennsylvania, Arun Shrivastava of India is trying to alert the world of an ever growing "circle of death" caused by the U.S. military's illegal use of depleted uranium in the Middle East.

An unlikely pair, nevertheless they provide a unique example of how people from all over the world are finally beginning to come together for one purpose, the purpose of stopping the war and stopping the government killers before they bring about World War III.

In fact, millions of people like Avila, a musician, poet and grocery store clerk, and Shrivastava, a management consultant, are finally starting to "wake up and smell the coffee," giving the big boys with guns and money something to think about.

"They are killing us for sport using DU," said John McCarthy, one American war critic trying to alert the country of the impending worldwide calamity.

Another critic of the Bush war machine, added:

"It's like a turkey shoot and the innocent people of the world are the turkeys!"

And depleted uranium expert Leuren Moret recently added her message in a mass distributed email, saying the "Trojan Horse" of the nuclear war is depleted uranium and "the circle of death," mentioned by Shrivastava, now measures 3.14 million square miles, putting 857 million people under a death sentence.

Acting with his heart and conscience to alert people, Shrivastava has circulated a fact-laden article for worldwide distribution, pinpointing the devastating effects of depleted uranium, adding the world is under assault by the U.S. military machine.

"I have also started a community level mobilization program," said Shrivastava in an email from India. "Hope it raises the awareness about depleted uranium. We need globalization of right minded people, not of the corporate mafia. Please, those of you who are in India, understand the seriousness, and spread the word.

"The mainstream media is still silent. So, is Down To Earth (of Sunita Narayan). Not one mainstream newspaper has published a single article on depleted uranium in India. We have to spread the word through our own channels."

And Shrivastava's article is a good starting point for people wanting to know how the U.S. government is pronouncing a death sentence on the world by illegal using inordinate amounts of depleted uranium.

Here is a portion of Shrivastava's message:

"Depleted uranium is a deadly toy in the hands of the ruling bloodlines. A particle of DU ingested or inhaled can cause one or more of the 90+ seriously debilitating diseases, fatal or temporarily non-fatal. The half life of DU is 4.5 billion years, and it can destroy living things and the environment; most importantly it can destroy perfectly healthy lives.

"Depleted uranium has been used in at least the last four wars by the United States and its allies: Gulf War 1, Bosnia and Kosovo in the Balkans, Afghanistan and Gulf War 2. The last two of the four wars, all illegal, took place in 2001 (Afghanistan) and 2003 (Iraq). Effects of the contamination can manifest from within a few hours to five years.

"Evidences clearly indicate that depleted uranium is blowing in the wind all over the world. Its effects on health are showing up in distant lands. Earlier, gulf war veterans and local civilians were affected; now, of all the places, the US is showing six-fold increase in just lung cancer cases.

"Dr Rosalie Bertell says, 'Veterans and civilians (in these wars) WERE exposed to DU; and this inhaled DU represents a seriously enhanced risk of damaged immune systems and fatal cancers. Those immediately downwind die quickly, in hours or days. Those further downwind will take longer. Those around the world will eventually suffer an unimaginably painful premature death.'

"There is no time to wring one's hands. The people of this global village need to join hands in a global peaceful, non-violent, non-cooperation with governments that lie and kill. Let us all form small local committees and ask our governments to come clean on DU. Mobilize support to help veterans and civilians who are suffering without differentiating between race, caste, creed or religion.

"Tell every person connected with government, civil society, the police, and members of the armed forces that they are all in it up to their neck. Finally, inform yourself, educate your family and neighborhood; read the hundreds of authoritative papers written by scientists. Is there any reason to fear when all of us are under death sentence for a crime none of us committed? If we continue to cooperate with a few homicidal maniacs it'd make them more arrogant. The power is in your hand."

And one person who took Shrivastava's advice and used whatever power she had to try and stop the war was Avila, the musician, poet and grocery store clerk from that small town in Pennsylvania.

"The grocery store first displayed pro-Bush and pro-war posters," said Avila, adding she decided to wear a button on her uniform reflecting her anti-war sentiments. "People in the grocery store line asked me what it meant and how I felt. And when I told them my views, some people complained to the management and I was eventually suspended for two days without pay."

But instead of backing down, Avila is fighting a symbolic battle through her local union to get paid for the two-day dismissal, saying once the pro-war poster was displayed she also had the right to display her anti-war sentiments.

"I felt my religious and moral views were being misrepresented by the pro-war poster and I just couldn't stand by and let that happen," said Avila.

Besides her day job which pays the bills, Avila writes anti-war songs as well as poems. Recently she penned this one on register receipt paper while scanning groceries. It's called Holly's Unified Field Theory of Conspiracies and perhaps speaks out for the silent majority of millions of Americans who feel the same way, but feel helpless and in the vice-grip of the New World Order:

*Hurricane scalar weather wars
Lying media corporate whores.
A missile, no plane hits the Pentagon and all video evidence quickly is gone
World Trade Center basement explosions, covered by shocked, patriotic emotions.
Burning jet fuel cannot melt steel.
Silverstein's billion dollar insurance deal.
Box cutter phony hijack distraction,
Blind war mongering knee jerk reaction.
Grieving mother's sincere protestation,
Royal Saudi business infestation.
Bush livin' easy high on the hog,
Like some ass kissing Illuminati lap dog.
Jeff Gannon's frequent White House sleep-overs,
CIA drug running under the covers
Clinton's lucky Bilderburg breakfast,
Hillary's new pearl choker necklace.
Arkansas' hidden covert air strips
Triangle shaped flying space ships.
MK delta and the Montauk boys
Bush Sr's secret little boy toys
Microbiologist suicides
H5N1 genocide.
Verichip mandatory national ID
Mind and mood control technology.
Starvation and torture at Guantanamo Bay
For democracy and the American Way.
Haliburton and Carlyle Group doing well,
Liberty and justice going to hell.
The truth can still set us free,
I'm just the messenger, don't shoot me!*

Former FBI Agent And Whistle Blower's Son Framed For Murder He Didn't Commit

John Peeler has "all the dirty goods" on the U.S. government's covert operations to kill New World Order foes, as well as the hidden details behind Waco, Oklahoma City and 9/11.
18 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

John Peeler has been called a "jack boot thug" more than once in his life, even calling himself "the worst of the worst" for the downright "dirty assignments" he took on as a longtime FBI agent.

Peeler, who saw it all so to speak, worked behind the scenes or had inside information about Waco, Ruby Ridge, Oklahoma City and 9/11.

For years, the veteran undercover FBI agent worked underground basically as a hit man or infiltrator, trying to nip in the bud any patriot or militia movement threatening the New World Order agenda, being privy to exactly how the government staged terrorist events like Oklahoma City and 9/11 in order to further the Illuminati agenda leading to World War III and the destruction of the West.

"I was basically one of them, a part of the New World Order," said Peeler this week on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal, where a complete audio version of Peeler's shocking testimony can be heard at www.rbnlive.com

"I had a deep loyalty for America and justified my actions by thinking I was protecting my country. For a long time, I just didn't understand how the people giving the orders, including those in the White House, were deceitful, corrupt and actually trying to bring about the destruction of America.

"After 9/11, I started putting the pieces together, started connecting the dots and now fully realize from the firsthand facts I obtained while working for the FBI that Oklahoma City and 9/11 were inside jobs.

I know firsthand Timothy McVeigh was a patsie, working for the government. I also believe he is still alive today and living high off the hog on some island somewhere."

And the moment Peeler finally realized the government officials he served were "the real criminals" and he was just another minion or hired gun carrying out their dirty work, there was no turning back, as he turned in his badge and gun for a loud whistle around his neck in order to spread the truth.

Instead keeping quiet and taking the easy way out, Peeler decided to make amends for his actions by going public with his knowledge about how the use government staged Waco and Ruby Ridge, as well as providing key information about the U.S. government's role in bringing about Oklahoma City and 9/11.

"These are not conspiracy theories," said Peeler. "This is based on facts I know, leading to the conclusion that Oklahoma City and 9/11, without question, were inside government jobs."

And when Peeler refused to "play ball" with the powers that be, the hammer was slammed down hard. It was slammed down hard since it is well-known the New World Order thugs "plays for keeps," especially with people from the inside who try to leak out damaging information.

"I've had many death threats and close calls since I went public in 2001," said Peeler. "But they decided to go after my son, who was in the military, framing him for a murder he didn't commit. There was no credible physical evidence, no credible testimony, no body, no nothing. It was a frame job from the beginning to get at me and now my son sits in jail serving a life sentence for a crime he didn't commit."

Peeler said he was trying to raise public awareness to have his son's case revisited in order to obtain his release since working "inside the system with the corrupted judiciary" provides no hope for justice being served.

In another interview Peeler posted on his blog at www.johnpeeler.blogspot.com he had this to say about the inside information he obtained, leading to the public indictment against the U.S. government's criminal actions, crimes against humanity and crimes against the people of the United States.

"That's right. I volunteered and worked undercover for the United States government. I had the best intentions in the world. In 1988, the [Ku Klux] Klan was burning black churches here in Arkansas and the surrounding southern areas. But anyway, what I'm saying is a real, real complicated mess. I would like for you to pray for my son and myself. I'm no longer with the United States government.

"The only way I'm with the government now is they harass me on a regular basis and trying to figure out some way to put me in jail. The FBI came to my home a few weeks ago and threatened me. Then they forced me to take a polygraph test. I took a polygraph test, and I passed it. They are real upset because I no longer do deals for them. But they did me really dirty. What happened, I volunteered and went undercover for the government in 1988.

"They had a list of people that they had me to get to know these people, get involved with them, and then find out all about them. But most of the people who were on the list were really bad people. Most of these people were like Wilbur Hale, the high Phineas priest, the KKK, him and Richard Wayne Snell. Let me tell you what precipitated this in my conversation with you. What happened, I get Tony Alamo's newsletters most of the time. Sometimes I look at them better than others, but this last one, when I read about the Pearl Harbor thing, it sent shivers through my spine. It really did, because I was involved with a lot of the things that he's talking about in there. I know for a fact that he's one hundred percent correct. You see, Another Pearl Harbor."

Having a wealth of stored up information, damaging to the New World Order hierarchy, including the former President Clinton and Bush, Peeler added:

"I personally knew William Jefferson Clinton, also known as William Jefferson Blythe. I know the people in the Secret Service, the Bureau of Alcohol, Tobacco, and Firearms, the Federal Bureau of Investigation, the Drug Enforcement Administration, and many of these agencies work the same way. They have what they call the Violent Crime Task Force, and they go after people they want. Pastor Alamo is not violent.

"He preaches love and peace, to my knowledge, but he is on this list. He didn't sell out to the government and say what the government wants people to say, that the government is good and righteous and is doing right for the people, which they're not doing. But one of the warnings that I want to give to Pastor Alamo right now is, you notice a lot of people in the United States are dying of cancer. Now this is a scenario, okay, that could happen, okay.

"The FBI, BATF, CIA, the CIA officially did not work for the United States, but they did work in the United States and do a lot of things, but now under the new Anti-Terrorist Act and the Homeland Security Act, they can legally work in the United States, but I knew CIA agents that have been working in the United States for years doing deals.

In another admission, Peeler talks about how he knew the FBI planted a bomb in the car of Earth First environmental activist, Judi Bari, almost killing her but later finished off the job in a more sinister and diabolical way.

Trying to connect the dots of the New World Order high command, Peeler said he knew first hand all roads lead to the, adding the U.S. law enforcement agencies are really enforcing the Pope in Rome's diabolical will on U.S. citizens.

Saying that all of the secret societies pretending to be the servants and the protectors of not only the U.S. citizens but the citizens of the world are, in reality, working under the control of the evil powers that have taken over the Vatican, the real marching orders coming from Rome and then carried out throughout the world.

Regarding David Koresh, Peeler said that the BATF, DEA, and FBI's plan from the start was to kill him, never intending anything else.

"The whole plan was to kill David Koresh and as many of his followers as they could. Three weeks before the massacre, they told me they were calling it a turkey shoot," said Peeler.

"I volunteered to go to the Waco turkey shoot, Peeler said, ""They [the government] told me they were taking the most ammunition, the most weapons they ever took in the United States to a bust and that they didn't plan to take David Koresh alive. They planned to kill him. I was also involved in the Oklahoma bombing and the World Trade Center number one and number two attacks."

Regarding 9/11, Peeler added:

"It was another Pearl Harbor. Just like they said on the History Channel not too long ago, there were many people from the President, and the top upper echelons of the [Roman-controlled] United States government, that knew it was going to happen and let it happen.

"Now, since World War II, when the CIA was started, they got a lot of the old German high command and German officers of the SS and worldwide intelligence divisions, and had them to help them start the Central Intelligence Agency, and used a lot of their techniques that they had used over there [in Germany], that are very unfortunate that they have continued and passed down these techniques of going after certain people and certain organizations, for their religious or political affiliations."

Former U.S. Navy Officer Sends Bush His Aviator Wings In A Symbolic Gesture To Either "Shape Up Or Ship Out"

Former officer and veteran criminal lawyer turns in his wings and writes critical letter to Bush about his misguided policies destroying America.

17 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

A former U.S. Navy officer has sent President Bush a sharp message, sending his military shoulder boards and aviator wings as a symbolic gesture of disgust in a recent letter addressed to the White House.

Former Navy pilot, lawyer and public defender for more than 20 years, Joseph DuRocher, 68, of Orlando, Florida, finally threw in the towel on the Bush administration, saying he was fed up "to the hilt," especially with torture and abuse policies condoned by the President related to the Iraq War, as well as an economic and environmental agenda destroying the country he loves.

"I became so frustrated with what has transpired in our country, I had to do something. Everybody can do something and I decided to turn in my wings," said DuRocher in a phone conversation Thursday from his Orlando home.

"Besides the torture and illegal detention issues I strongly oppose based on my 20 years as a criminal lawyer, I find it hard to believe that Americans accept the fact that Bush has somehow been ordained as a religious savior of sorts, using this as justification to invade and attack countries without just cause. This is totally unacceptable from a legal and from a humanitarian point of view.

And in defiance of Bush policies, in what military men consider the worst possible insult, DuRocher sent back his wings on March 10 in a sharply worded letter recently addressed to Bush.

About the symbolic nature and meaning behind turning in his aviator wings, he said:

"To remain silent is to let you (Bush) think I approve or support your actions. I do not. So, I am saddened to give up my wings and bars. They were hard won and my parents and wife were as proud as I was when I earned them over forty years ago. But I hate the torture and death you have caused more than I value their symbolism. Giving them up makes me cry for my beloved country."

The following is a copy of the entire letter sent by DuRocher, indicating just how deeply Bush support is dwindling across the heartland:

Dear Mr. President:

As a young man I was honored to serve our nation as a commissioned officer and helicopter pilot in the U. S. Navy. Before me in WWII, my father defended the country spending two years in the Pacific aboard the U.S.S. Hornet (CV-14). We were patriots sworn "to protect and defend".

Today I conclude that you have dishonored our service and the Constitution and principles of our oath. My dad was buried with full military honors so I cannot act for him. But for myself, I return enclosed the symbols of my years of service: the shoulder boards of my rank and my Naval Aviator's wings.

Until your administration, I believed it was inconceivable that the United States would ever initiate an aggressive and preemptive war against a country that posed no threat to us. Until your administration, I thought it was impossible for our nation to take hundreds of persons into custody without provable charges of any kind, and to "disappear" them into holes like Gitmo, Abu Ghraib and Bagram. Until your administration, in my wildest legal fantasy I could not imagine a U.S. Attorney General seeking to justify torture or a President first stating his intent to veto an anti-torture law, and then adding a "signing statement" that he intends to ignore such law as he sees fit. I do not want these things done in my name.

As a citizen, a patriot, a parent and grandparent, a lawyer and law teacher I am left with such a feeling of loss and helplessness. I think of myself as a good American and I ask myself what can I do when I see the face of evil? Illegal and immoral war, torture and confinement for life without trial have never been part of our Constitutional tradition.

But my vote has become meaningless because I live in a safe district drawn by your political party. My congressman is unresponsive to my concerns because his time is filled with lobbyists' largess. Protests are limited to your "free speech zones", out of sight of the parade. Even speaking openly is to risk being labeled un-American, pro-terrorist or anti-troops. And I am a disciplined pacifist, so any violent act is out of the question. Nevertheless, to remain silent is to let you think I approve or support your actions. I do not.

So, I am saddened to give up my wings and bars. They were hard won and my parents and wife were as proud as I was when I earned them over forty years ago. But I hate the torture and death you have caused more than I value their symbolism. Giving them up makes me cry for my beloved country. Joseph W. DuRocher

To better understand his service to his country, to the cause of justice and to his community, DuRocher's abbreviated biography is enclosed.

Joseph W. DuRocher grew up in California and Florida, graduating from Bishop Kenny High School in Jacksonville, FL in 1956. He attended Villanova University on an academic scholarship, earning a B.S. in Economics in 1960. He was commissioned in the U.S. Navy and designated as a Naval Aviator. Until his Honorable Discharge in April 1965 he flew helicopters off aircraft carriers stationed in the Atlantic, Caribbean and Mediterranean Seas.

The University of Florida College of Law awarded Mr. DuRocher the Juris Doctor degree in 1967. In the same year he was admitted to practice and founded the firm of Panico and DuRocher in Orlando. In January 1970 the Orange County Bar Association named him director of its Legal Aid Society. Governor Askew appointed him Judge of the Juvenile Court of Orange County in October 1971. He left this judicial post in September 1976 to establish the firm of DuRocher and Walsh engaging in the private practice of criminal, juvenile and family law.

In 1980, Mr. DuRocher was elected Public Defender of the Ninth Judicial Circuit, comprised of Orange and Osceola Counties, FL. He was elected to four additional terms, retiring in January 2001. During these twenty years the Office of the Public Defender grew to employ over eighty attorneys, process over thirty thousand cases a year and manage an annual budget of over seven million dollars. In 2000 the Orange County Bar Association presented him its criminal law award as Footsoldier of the Constitution. The American Bar Association presented him its 2001 Charles Dorsey Award in recognition of his exemplary legal career and his devotion to serving the poor and underprivileged. Since retirement Mr. DuRocher has taught as an adjunct professor at both the University of Central Florida and the Barry University School of Law. In July 2003 the Orange County Bar Association called him to act as Interim Executive Director. He held this post until December 2003. The Barry Univ. School of Law presented him their Allies for Justice Award for 2005.

Mr. DuRocher studies, writes and teaches in the fields of criminal law, human rights and ecology. He is an active member of the First Unitarian Church of Orlando, Amnesty International and of other professional and social justice organizations. Since 1961 he has been married to Dr. Rosemary DuRocher and is the father of grown children: Beth, John and Michael, and grandfather of Kalinda and Kenai. He and Rosemary have companion Standard Poodles: Blazer and Boxer.

Vatican Wealth "Truly Astonishing" As Simple Beggar Asking For Help Reveals World Problems

According to researchers, Catholic Church infiltrated by Illuminists disguised as Jesuits with world domination as their goal and deception and war their main tools.

16 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The Italian priest saying Mass in what looked like a gold plated church near the Spanish Steps in Rome was about to give his sermon when in stormed a street beggar screaming at the top of his lungs.

"Give me the money and give it to the starving people like me. All criminals at the altar, especially you Father with all those golden rings and chalices!" cried the street person in Italian, as several church ushers rushed to remove him from the premises.

While being pushed out of the Church like a piece of garbage, he made one last plea to those attending Holy Sunday Mass. "Don't give him the money, please don't give it him! I need to eat. So do many others. All they do here is steal your money while many die in the streets.!"

The incident occurred on a bright sunny summer morning in 1982 at a time when the Vatican Bank was entangled in Italy's biggest financial scandal in its history, involving high ranking Vatican figures, the P2 Masonic Lodge, the Mafia and corrupt politicians and financiers.

And it was a time - especially in Rome and behind the Vatican walls - when all the bigwigs were covering their dirty tracks, covering trails that most likely led to the untimely death of Pope Paul I, Bank of Ambrosian chairman, Roberto Calvi, financier Michael Sindona and the looting of billions of dollars from Vatican bank coffers.

The murders and the whereabouts of the stolen money still remain a mystery today, but the incident with the street beggar in the small Rome Church said it all.

In one quick, desperate moment a poor man spoke the true words of God in his own house, exposing the criminals who have infiltrated the Catholic Church for what they really are - common thieves and thugs who hide behind the cloth, using their collected wealth for evil not good, while millions die around the world from war and starvation.

For those in attendance, including this journalist, at what can be called the "Beggar's Mass," it was a moment of awakening, perhaps a moment that put the entire global conflict into proper perspective, as greed and power ushered out the poor and needy right at the altar of God.

If anyone is interested, the unknown Italian street beggar wasn't given any food that day from the fat cats at the Church. In fact, the golden doors were slammed shut on his face as the man walked off, disappearing down the narrow and cobblestoned Rome streets.

But as he walked off, the Vatican scandal raged on in the Italian papers, illustrating the enormous divide between the rich and poor and the impossible task of straightening things out.

Further, the corruption in the Church and the manipulation of its vast wealth continues today, as many observers and researchers claim the Illuminati, for lack of a better word, have not only taken over the vast wealth, influence and power of the Catholic Church, but also of all the other major religions and governments of the world.

And if anyone thinks controlling the Vatican's wealth and holdings isn't an important priority of the New World Order's global domination and genocide plan, think again.

Many historians and researchers and even one American Congressman have openly said the Vatican, through the Jesuit Order in firm control of the Illuminati, is also in control of the United States Federal Reserve.

And they contend whoever controls the Federal Reserve of New York controls the whole United States Federal Reserve, saying the roots of this control lead to the Vatican

In his 1980's book Vatican Billions, the late Avro Manhattan, a writer and researcher who prescribes to the above theory, detailed a portion of the Vatican holdings, revealing its vast wealth and influence around the world. Further, other contemporary researchers suggested the Vatican's true wealth has since greatly multiplied and the vast fortune may never be known since the bank is cloaked in secrecy, no oversight and considered to be the perfect money laundering system.

"The Vatican has large investments with the Rothschilds of Britain, France and America, with the Hambros Bank, with the Credit Suisse in London and Zurich. In the United States it has large investments with the Morgan Bank, the Chase-Manhattan Bank, the First National Bank of New York, the Bankers Trust Company, and others," wrote Manhattan.

"The Vatican has billions of shares in the most powerful international corporations such as Gulf Oil, Shell, General Motors, Bethlehem Steel, General Electric, International Business Machines, T.W.A., etc. At a conservative estimate, these amount to more than 500 million dollars in the U.S.A. alone."

Manhattan's complete findings can be read in his book Vatican Billions, but here is a excerpt of some important Vatican financial facts:

"In a statement published in connection with a bond prospectus, the Boston archdiocese listed its assets at Six Hundred and Thirty-five Million ($635,891,004), which is 9.9 times its liabilities. This leaves a net worth of Five Hundred and Seventy-one million dollars ($571,704,953). It is not difficult to discover the truly astonishing wealth of the church, once we add the riches of the twenty-eight archdioceses and 122 dioceses of the U.S.A., some of which are even wealthier than that of Boston.

"Some idea of the real estate and other forms of wealth controlled by the Catholic church may be gathered by the remark of a member of the New York Catholic Conference, namely 'that his church probably ranks second only to the United States Government in total annual purchase.' Another statement, made by a nationally syndicated Catholic priest, perhaps is even more telling. 'The Catholic Church,' he said, 'must be the biggest corporation in the United States. We have a branch office in every neighborhood. Our assets and real estate holdings must exceed those of Standard Oil, A.T.&T., and U.S. Steel combined. And our roster of dues-paying members must be second only to the tax rolls of the United States Government.'

"The Catholic church, once all her assets have been put together, is the most formidable stockbroker in the world. The Vatican, independently of each successive pope, has been increasingly orientated towards the U.S. The Wall Street Journal said that the Vatican's financial deals in the U.S. alone were so big that very often it sold or bought gold in lots of a million or more dollars at one time.

"The Vatican's treasure of solid gold has been estimated by the United Nations World Magazine to amount to several billion dollars. A large bulk of this is stored in gold ingots with the U.S. Federal Reserve Bank, while banks in England and Switzerland hold the rest. But this is just a small portion of the wealth of the Vatican, which in the U.S. alone, is greater than that of the five wealthiest giant corporations of the country. When to that is added all the real estate, property, stocks and shares abroad, then the staggering accumulation of the wealth of the Catholic church becomes so formidable as to defy any rational assessment.

"The Catholic church is the biggest financial power, wealth accumulator and property owner in existence. She is a greater possessor of material riches than any other single institution, corporation, bank, giant trust, government or state of the whole globe. The pope, as the visible ruler of this immense amassment of wealth, is consequently the richest individual of the twentieth century. No one can realistically assess how much he is worth in terms of billions of dollars."

Further. Manhattan in his book talks about how the Phillipines has virtually been taken over by the Vatican and its infiltrators, who are hijacking the Church.

Manhattan traces in his book, specifically in chapters 1-11, how millions of Filipinos are unaware that their country is secretly controlled by the Roman Catholic Church, adding there is no doubt that the Jesuit Order is the master planner.

"The very reason, the Philippines is now in deep political turmoil and economic trouble and now one of the poor country in the world," wrote Manhattan. "As I've said many times that the Catholic Church is the hidden central conspiracy force manipulating the Philippines."

Victim Of MKULTRA Mind Control Sues Government And Others For Torture And Abuse

Steve Smith set out hitchhiking and ended up in a CIA controlled psychiatric hospital. Forty years later he is still trying to get justice along with 80 other victims in a class action suit going on for nine years and stalled by government lies and deceit.

15 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

When Steve Smith was young, free and without a care in the world he starting hitchhiking across Canada, looking for adventure and enjoying every moment of life one day at a time. His journey began at a time in history when thumbs on the road were a common sight and when North America was still a relatively safe place to travel alone.

It was 1968 and Smith, then 18 and a confirmed "Hippie," embarked on his soul searching escapade like so many others his age during a time marked by a social change and a flower-child mentality.

When Smith left hitchhiking, the Vietnam War was in full swing, Crosby, Stills, Nash and Young topped the music charts, young men were wearing shoulder length hair and millions of disenchanted Americans were marching in the streets, calling for end to a useless war taking the lives of thousands of GI's and innocents abroad.

The 60's turmoil, of course, has been well-documented in American history with most every Baby Boomer, a group now reaching retirement age, having their own story to tell like "the time they went to Woodstock and were a half a million strong" or the time they tried to "buck city hall" and were greeted with tear gas and police batons.

While many of the 60's free-spirited personal adventures have been documented, Smith's hitchhiking trips remains a virtual mystery and needs to put at the top of the list of untold stories. It needs to be put on the list since he didn't end up at Woodstock, gazing at the stars and listening to Hendrix, but instead ended up, through basically no fault of his own, at a CIA-funded psychiatric hospital, being worked on like "an experimental animal."

Now almost 40 years later, Smith, a successful businessman with a stable family life, has filed a lawsuit in Canada seeking some semblance of justice for the tortuous abuse he endured from defendants including unscrupulous psychiatrists on both sides of the border, doctors working under government sanctioned programs with ties to CIA operatives

And the incredible fact about Smith's story is that he isn't alone, being one of thousands of adults and children who had their medical records changed overnight from sane to insane while being subjected to illegal experimentation.

Adding credibility to Smith's story are 80 other plaintiffs who together are seeking retribution in what has turned into a class action lawsuit filed nine years ago, documenting torture and abuse the likes of which no human being have to endure.

Further, stories like the wholesale experimentation of hundreds of thousands of children documented in what has become known as the The Duplessis Orphans case, adds to the enormity of the problem that Smith and other victims claim is still going on today.

Although Smith kept quiet for many years about his eight months of torture and abuse in what has come to be known as one of the CIA's MKULTRA mind-bending programs, he hopes "going public" in the lawsuit, which he admits may never get to court, eventually creates a public outcry bringing an end to the ongoing government-sponsored experimentation programs.

"I was hitchhiking across the country when I was 18 and got caught stealing a car, which I know was stupid and I am not proud of," recalled Smith this week on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal. "What happened afterward was a nightmare. Somehow I ended up in a psychiatric institute, after learning I had been declared insane for no reason.

"What I endured and what the others there underwent was unbelievable. Back then they were still trying to create the perfect Manchurian Candidate by force, torture and abuse. The idea is to change or rearrange someone's personality in order to get them to do things they normally wouldn't do.

"They used illegal drugs on me daily like LSD and Mescaline, as well as many others. I was tortured and put in a round cubicle naked with others while being deprived of sleep and fed and given water through straws coming out of the walls. It's all documented in my lawsuit and still after all these years, it is very difficult to talk about."

Smith also said he is reluctant to talk about his harrowing experience, saying it is the type of story difficult for others to comprehend and leaving doubt in the minds of listeners as to his own sanity

"I finally felt the need to tell my story, get justice and perhaps help stop the illegal experimentation from continuing," said Smith, adding he has become realistic after nine years in the lawsuit with the government fighting tooth and nail that he may never get his day in court. "We may never get to court, but I hope telling my story like this can bring some justice and shed the light on the corrupt government programs and doctors, some who are still doing the same thing today. I would like to mention that the abuse is probably even more widespread today and the programs being even more sophisticated and effective as technology advances.

"I think the powers that be realize torture may not be the most effective way to get their intended mind control result and they are now relying and testing more subtle and sophisticated methods."

Although Smith said that thousands of people have been experimented since the 1960's, he mentioned the case of Matthew Charles Lamb has remained under the radar screen and needs to be investigated in order to understand the sinister and diabolical nature and motives behind the mind control programs.

"Lamb's case needs to be researched if your looking for the perfect Manchurian Candidate story," said Smith. "He was the prime patient, or better yet, victim of one of the main doctor's performing the illegal experiments. Lamb actually killed four people in Canada and eventually declared insane and returned to the doctor's care.

"He then turned up in Israel doing who knows what and eventually was killed overseas in 1976. The question has to be asked, how was a confirmed killer being allowed to travel freely overseas if he wasn't being used in some diabolical way?"

Although no solid evidence has been uncovered indicating the mass murderer was used as government contract killer, Smith claims Lamb's story if properly investigated, could provide the tip of the iceberg into many other people being manipulated by worldwide intelligence agencies for terrorist acts and assassination plots.

Close Friend Of Activist William Cooper Says He was Murdered In Cold Blood As Authorities Continue To Cover-Up Real Facts Behind The Shooting

Cooper was killed on Nov. 5, 2001, in a pre-planned ambush originally planned on the morning of 9/11, according to his best friend and co-researcher, Doyel Shamley. Shamley has picked up where Cooper left off, continuing to spread the word about the evil plans of the New World Order.

14 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Doyel Shamley lost a good friend on a blackened night in November 2001, as activist William Cooper was brutally murdered in an ambush by minions of the New World Order.

Make no mistake about it, said Shamley, the author of the nation's best selling underground book, Behold A Pale Horse, was gunned down in cold blood at his rural home in the Arizona desert in a plot, Shamley vehemently contends, hatched by Illuminati higher-ups, wanting desperately to erase Cooper from the planet for getting too close to their demonic secrets.

Justice, of course, has never been served in Cooper's case since getting at the real culprits behind the Illuminati hit squads is like trying to plant a bed of roses in an asphalt parking lot.

But nonetheless Shamley has tried to pick-up where Cooper left off, despite the danger, banging away at the New World Order's mass global genocide plan daily by continuing Cooper's old radio show, Hour of the Time, as well as spewing out intelligence information gathered by the truth seeing pair on his web site www.hourofthetime.com

Although Cooper's activist writings and speeches are well-documented in the patriot community, many may not realize that Shamley and Cooper worked together from "Day One," using a combination of their research in a fight that started in their fight that started in the 1980's to alert a naive American public about the Illuminati plans to crush America.

And no better person than his best friend and research colleague, Shamley, to first set the record straight about Cooper's untimely death, a plot to kill Cooper hatched months in advance, claims Shamley, and actually originally set for the early morning hours of Sept. 11, 2001, until police plans somehow went haywire.

"We had information that they originally planned to gun down Bill on the morning of 9/11 and make it look like he provoked police into shooting him," said Shamley recently when he appeared on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal.

During the two hour broadcast archived for free listening at www.rbnlive.com, Shamley went into great detail, explaining how authorities "set-up" his friend the night of Nov. 5th then spread lies through the "controlled media" about the events of the evening. (For complete details of how Shamley claims the murder of Cooper went down, go to The Investigative Journal archives at the RBN web site or go to Shamley's web site, Hour of the Time.)

"Let's first set the record straight," recalled Shamley. "There were no land mines or booby traps set up at Bill's house like has been spread through the rumor mill."

Shamley emphasized his friend's house was not set up like a militia compound, as authorities contended, but was nothing more than a rural country home located on an Arizona hillside with no gates or fences.

He also learned in trying to get to the bottom of how authorities shot Cooper outside his home that officials went to great lengths to compromise locals into turning on Cooper while, at the same time, providing a layout of the property and inside of the house in order that their ambush plans would go off without a hitch.

"They used UPS drivers and other locals to get at Bill," added Shamley, saddened over the fact when push came to shove many so-called friends sided with law enforcement.

Shamley said that efforts to get a fair investigation after the fact have been next to impossible, as even ballistic reports verifying the caliber of bullets used to kill Cooper have not been adequately substantiated.

Further, he added authorities have been assisted by the mainstream media who at once started spinning a false Ruby Ridge or Waco-like tale, making Cooper out to be public enemy No. 1 instead of an innocent victim.

Asked why the evil powers that be wanted Cooper erased, Shamley said his friend simply "struck a nerve and got too close to the truth" not wanting to go away quietly on his own.

"We had a pact from the beginning that if they killed me first, Bill would get all my research and writings and if they got him, I would carry-on with his work," said Shamley, adding Cooper's voice is sorely missed in the fight against the New World Order since much of his information came directly from the many years he spent in military intelligence.

To understand Cooper's impact Mills Crenshaw, a KTALK radio host out of Salt Lake City, put the said this fight after he was killed:

"William Cooper may be one of America's greatest heroes and this story may be the biggest story in the history of the world."

Besides Behold A Pale Horse, Cooper, 58, authored more than 20 other books as well as hosting for many years, his show, "The Hour of the Time," now in Shamley's hands, that was heard on shortwave and the internet on the Worldwide Christian Radio station out of Nashville.

In one of his 1997 best known writings entitled "Majestytwelve," Cooper commented:

"If you wish to remain Free you will have to fight for it... not because we want to fight, or you want to fight, but because the traitors (within our government) will give us no choice in the matter. There will be either a revolution (the Marxist's choice) or there will be a serious attempt to restore Constitutional Republican government under Law (the Patriots choice). In any event there WILL BE WAR between the Citizens of the United States of America and the Marxist minions of the subversive corporate United States' new world order."

In Cooper's final years, he worked alone or along side Shamley in his Arizona home with his two dogs, rooster and chicken, sending his family out of the U.S. in 1999 for their security. Prior to several years of Arizona desert solitude, Copper became known as a world class lecturer, appearing at Wembly Hall in London as well as lecturing in every state of the Union during a 10 year period.

Known as a consummate researcher, backing his New World Order theories with hard data from his days in U.S. Navy Intelligence, Cooper always struck fear in the eyes of Presidents, including Clinton, who mounted an FBI attack to silence Cooper's views.

Shortly after the Oklahoma City bombing, Rush Limbaugh read a White House memo on the air during his broadcast, calling William Cooper, "...the most dangerous radio host in America". Cooper was later quoted as saying Clinton's pronouncement was ""the greatest compliment that he has ever received."

Further, Cooper's FBI file which included references to his security clearances while in military service, was one of those unlawfully in possession of the White House in what has become known as, "Filegate". Shortly after this discovery, President Clinton ordered all federal agencies to begin investigation, persecution, and prosecution of Mr. Cooper to shut him up.

While engaged in ongoing federal battles with the FBI over free speech issues and the IRS who tried to put a financial stranglehold on his affairs, Cooper went to work full steam, creating several documentaries about the JFK assassination and the government's UFO hoax in order to strike fear in Americans.

Cooper also believed in empowering Americans with free thought through newspapers and the airwaves, starting the CAJI News Service, VERITAS national full size newspaper, The Intelligence Service, Harvest Publications, and has helped over 700 low power FM affiliate stations get equipped and on the air, including the station he managed as Trustee for the Independence Foundation Trust, 101.1 FM Eagar, Arizona, broadcasting to 7,000 people.

Strange Illuminati Numbers: Former FBI Agent Jailed For 33-99 years For Uncovering White House Connection To Illegal Drug Trafficking. Family Says Orders Must Have Come Down From "Daddy" Bush Himself To Have Agent Framed

Richard Taus wanted to go public in the 1980's about illegal government sponsored drug trafficking he documented while serving as an FBI agent. Refusing to backdown to inside pressure, it led to trumped up charges of child abuse he claims are "totally false," leading to a long prison term.

13 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Richard Taus played it right and played it straight for 10 long years as an FBI agent. He swore to uphold the Constitution, obey the law and protect the American people from enemies both foreign and domestic.

What a shock, though, when he found out others in the department, including higher-ups in the Justice Department and the White House were playing a completely different game, playing a highly deceitful and illegal game of drug-running and money laundering.

And the tentacles of what came to be known as Iran Contra led to Taus being set up, arrested and sentenced to a 33-99 year federal prison term, a sentence that conveniently started just prior to "Daddy" Bush's 1988 election as President.

Many court observers close to former FBI agent, including his son, David, 42, said his father was "railroaded to the hilt right before the election" in order to protect Bush and others since the sensitive information pinning the former President was irrefutable, according to records compiled by Taus.

"He is a good man and was set up big time after he wouldn't back down to signing a document saying he wasn't aware of any criminal activity in the department," said his son, David, appearing as a guest on Greg Szymanski's radio talk show, The Investigative Journal.

"When he refused that's when the government started to try and frame him. First, they tried to say that he misused his government credit card, which, of course was not true and didn't stick. Then they went after him with trumped up child abuse charges.

"The trial lasted 8 months and it was like a kangaroo court. Witnesses and jurors were compromised. It was a joke as the judge disregarded every objection made in my father's defense. Finally, he was given an incredibly harsh sentence, 33-99 years. He has been in jail since 1988 and it has been incredibly difficult on him and his family, as his health been failing and we have no money to mount what may be a final appeal."

He said his father is basically being held as "political prisoner" without any hope of being released through the corrupt system. What is needed and his only hope, said his son, is for an outpouring of American people to insist that justice be served and the real criminals in the drug trafficking scam be put behind bars.

Although it is difficult to communicate with agent Taus from the Clinton Correctional Facility in Dannemora, NY, he recently wrote a letter to the Arctic Beacon emphasizing his illegal incarceration as well as the illegal government drug trafficking ring he uncovered while serving as an agent.

"My combat tours in Vietnam initially uncovered the CIA's involvement in drug trafficking and other aspects contributing to U.S. intervention in foreign affairs, affairs that this nation should have avoided," wrote Taus from his prison cell. "Affairs that brought death and destruction to so many innocent lives with little or no benefit to mankind.

"Professor Noam Chomsky of MIT best described this imperialistic phenomenon in his work "The Culture of Terrorism." But, rather than discuss philosophy or political science, it was academic to me as a soldier and as an FBI agent that great harm was being done to this nation and its people by the shadowy government run by corrupt government officials."

Concerning the direct CIA connection to drug trafficking in the 1980's involving North, Bush and others he added:

"The CIA's own "privateers, which really are undercover agents, used the ploy termed "plausible deniability" to hide their crimes. The CIA was operating domestically both in violation of its congressional charter and in violation of U.S. criminal laws. Decent FBI agents were aware of this, but failed to act as they were covered by their FBI superiors based upon political orders from higher-ups going up to the White House.

"There was denying that the CIA was heavily involved in various criminal operations, domestically. The Pizza Connection case proved that, although the CIA tried to cover its trail. Further, my organized crime cases in New York against the Mafia disclosed a sinister relationship with the CIA and Mafia. For example, the five families' Godfather Paul Castellano, killed by Gotti, was the first cousin to Vito Castellano who occupied key capitol positions in Albany as Commissioner of Commerce."

Given Taus' deep loyalty to his country and his Vietnam experience, he couldn't turn away from doing his duty even though he was up against insurmountable odds, saying he wanted to speak the truth on what he called the "new domestic battlefield."

"Our country, the one we soldiers felt we were fighting for its survival, is now in the grips of selfish and greedy men intent upon their own preservation and profit," wrote Taus.

When Taus was eventually confronted with the ultimate decision of his life leading to the long prison term, he decided to take the high road, refusing to sign a Senate and House Intelligence Committee oversight form acknowledging he witnessed no government wrongdoing.

"I refused," said Taus. "I reached out to senators and congressman after my appeals to higher FBI superiors, including two directors, Webster and Sessions, failed to respond. Indeed the very members of the two congressional committees also did not respond. One can only wonder how many other dutiful law enforcement officers and agents were also ignored.

And in more recent times, Taus added, several FBI agents have been ignored concerning the events leading to the 9/11 tragedy, including Colleen Rowley, Kenneth William, Robert Wright and the late John O'Neill.

Regarding the truth and accuracy of what he uncovered as an agent, he added:

"For 25 years, from 1981 to my false arrest in 1988 and my incarceration up until now, my story has proven to be true and accurate with many of the revelations being disclosed by serious investigative reporters to the American people and the world."

To verify Taus' accusations regarding the illegal CIA-government sponsored drug trafficking, former DEA agent Cele Castillo, who uncovered the same facts as Taus, has been speaking nationwide, trying to make Bush and others accountable.

Also, former government agent and whistle blower, Rodney Stich, who uncovered facts verifying Taus' claims, said Taus was railroaded into jail and kept quiet to protect the wrongdoings of higher-ups in the government.

"Richard made the same mistake I did, the mistake of going to the Senate and Congress," said Stich, who has fought the government tooth and nail over many issues over the years, including the 9/11 cover-up. "I believe Richard 100 per cent and have placed parts of the manuscript he wrote up my web site in order to spread the word.

"He will never receive any justice within the system so his only hope is for an outcry from the American public, demanding justice."

Taus's manuscript can be viewed at Stich's web site at www.defraudingamerica.com.

Cindy Sheehan Again "Manhandled" By Police As She Is Targeted As Bush Public Enemy No. 1

Freedom of speech is a thing of the past and Bush and his minions should be horsewhipped for bringing fascism to American streets. For allowing this treatment of a grieving mother who lost her son in an illegal war, Bush no longer should be given the respect of his office but treated like a common street thug.

12 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The facts behind this week's arrest of Cindy Sheehan are not completely clear, but it appears she was arrested for merely standing outside a public building in peaceful protest, not being a nuisance or acting in an offensive manner.

But in today's political climate offensive, according to Bush minions, means anything contrary to the Bush party line, a line Sheehan again crossed like she did when she was hauled out of the House gallery at the State of the Union Address for wearing an anti-war tee-shirt.

This time at a U.N. Tuesday protest in New York, the official charges released were criminal trespassing and resisting arrest, but from photos it looked like police were doing the roughhousing in what seemed like a good old fashioned New York Police mugging, as Sheehan was literally manhandled, according to the photos.

Not surprising, cried war and civil libertarians after Sheehan's arrest, as the crackdown of freedom of speech rights is now getting downright ugly while the Bush military machine marches on toward eventual fascism.

However, other observers who were old enough to remember Kent State and the actions of the Chicago Police force during the heyday of the Vietnam war protests, remind Americans that this type of barbaric military force is nothing new.

For example, many Americans forget how students were killed at Kent State for protesting and how gestapo tactics were used on peaceful protestors on Chicago streets during rallies held during a political convention.

However, as America now is on the verge of full-blown fascism, what's particularly disturbing about the treatment used against Sheehan is that she's obviously being used as an example, as police could have used more discretion in targeting a grieving mother who lost her son in Iraq and who was no threat at disturbing the peace.

In defense of Sheehan, Ann Wright, a friend and former U.S. diplomat, issued a statement on behalf of the group Womaen Say No to War, saying the U.N. representatives never even bothered to even meet Sheehan and the other women, triggering the arrest.

Wright said the women, including Sheehan, were not going to leave without someone accepting a petition with 60,000 signatures opposing the war in Iraq as well urging "withdrawal of all troops and all foreign fighters from Iraq."

Sheehan, a mother who lost her son in the Iraq War, originally drew the country's undivided attention when she camped out at the Bush ranch in Crawford, protesting the war and saying she wouldn't leave until Bush gave her a personal meeting or publicly explained what he meant by the war being "a noble cause."

Bush, of course, never met with Sheehan, but the real story behind the obnoxious, uncaring and perhaps psychopathic character of our phony President was first revealed when he did grant a meeting with Sheehan and her family several months after her son, Casey, was killed in Iraq after only being there for five days.

Back then Bush was still inviting grieving families to the White House for cameo meetings, supposedly to express his condolences and sorrow. However, Sheehan's personal account of the private get-together was anything but cordial, saying Bush's "cocky attitude and insensitivity" made it "the worst experience of my life."

In fact, as reported in an extensive personal recollection interview in the Arctic Beacon last year before Sheehan gained national fame, he told how Bush didn't even know her or her son's name when he entered the room, saying in a callous manner "Who we all honorin' here today?"

After that unbelievable greeting to a person who paid the ultimate price, Sheehan said the meeting went downhill from there, as Bush acted aloof, insensitive and even gave Sheehan's daughter "the once over" and several "dirty looks" for daring to question the validity and purpose of the war."

Disgusted over the meeting, Sheehan then decided to become active, forming Gold Star Families For Peace and even joining forces with the After Downing Street Washington D.C. crowd, which has blossomed into an organization of millions of people nationwide trying to get Bush to comment on why he lied to the American people about WMD in Iraq.

Sheehan's latest arrest exemplifies how the present administration views war protestors, considering them criminals, arrested and silenced.

Sheehan was arrested with three female protestors, making it the second brush with the law in the last two months as earlier this year she was manhandled and arrested in the Congressional House gallery after refusing to cover up a tee-shirt bearing an anti-war slogan before President Bush's State of the Union address.

Successful Businessman Loses Everything To Medjugorje Cult Who He Claims Brainwashed His Wife

Phil Kronzer, nicknamed the "cult buster," has been trying to get to the bottom of corruption within religious groups. His research has turned up a trail of lies and deceit, leading right to the doorstep of high ranking religious and government officials.

11 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Phil Kronzer had it all. He had a big house, a successful business and a rock-solid family life, being happily married for 39 years.

Now he has nothing but an empty pocketful of memories, as he wages an all out battle against what he calls the "evil satanic cult" that infiltrated the Vatican, a group he says is destroying the Catholic Church from within.

"I am still a devout Catholic and have nothing against the true people of faith in all religions," said Kronzer. "However, I want to expose the evil cults that have infiltrated the Catholic Church as well as other religions, by exposing those who have placed my wife and others like her under mind control in order to destroy good Christian families."

A devout Catholic and nicknamed the cult buster," Kronzer always lived by Christian standards, going through life as an ethical businessman without an ounce of bad blood in his body.

But that was until his ill-fated trip to Medjugorje.

Then, out of the blue like a lightning bolt, his world changed on a dime after a visit to Medjugorje, a city of supposed religious phenomenon in Bosnia.

And for years now, since his wife was ripped away from by an underground cult, he has dedicated his life to debunking "the religious cult" behind Medjugorje, who he claims has destroyed his business and personal life.

Kronzer has spent over four years of his life and more than $500,000 investigating the group that "took away my wife" and the authenticity of Medjugorje confident his now ex-wife and other family members continue to be manipulated by the "cult operating within the Church" primarily due to their wealth.

"Through my efforts which are nonstop since I have nothing else to lose," said Kronzer, "I will continue to uncover a trail of lies, deceit, and sensationalism that Medjugorje supporters use to perpetuate this hoax for personal profit and leaving countless victims behind." But what exactly is the significance of Medjugorje and why, according the Kronzer, are the satanists in firm control of the Vatican using it for their evil benefit?

"Money, of course, is one reason," said Kronzer, adding power, control and meeting the needs of the New World Order are other important factors. "For the benefit of those not aware of Medjugorje it is located in eastern Europe in Bosnia-Herzegovina, and was an economically depressed farming community until June 24, 1981 when six Catholic children claimed to have seen and spoken to an apparition of the Virgin Mary on a hillside."

Kronzer added that as a result of this sighting, Medjugorje is now a thriving tourist attraction known as "Miracle City," drawing hundreds of thousands of people from around the world each year. A town once with a population of 500, now boasts more than 15,000 hotel beds, restaurants providing international and domestic specialties, souvenir shops, travel and traffic agencies, and professional guides speaking all international languages.

Also, a number of the original children, now adults, have become wealthy due to their alleged encounter with the Virgin Mary. To date, over 30,000 messages have supposedly been given to these six seers on a daily, weekly and monthly basis. In addition, there are now an estimated 3000 Medjugorje centers throughout the United States which promote and facilitate pilgrimages.

"I have spoken with a number of good people who have experienced loss due to Medjugorje and now I have made it my mission to let the world know about this group and its damaging effects, so that others will not have to suffer the losses I have incurred," said Kronzer. "Medjugorje is now the most controversial Catholic shrine in the world today. Many Bishops, including the local Bishop in Mostar, Bosnia, have condemned the phenomenon. Kronzer claims the cult groups behind Medjugorje have a pattern of deceitfully recruiting members, in effect brainwashing them and draining their financial resources.

In an effort to get at the truth and get his wife back, Kronzer has filed a lawsuit against the Medjugorje MIR Center of which his ex-wife is a member and is working to establish a victims network to provide resources to others who have incurred undue suffering as the result of the religious cults of aid Kronzer. He has also formed The Kronzer Foundation for Religious Research in January of 2001 to help victims of religious fraud.

As stated on his web site at www.kronzer.org, "The Kronzer Foundation is a non-profit organization that provides a resource center and network for people and families who have been taken advantage of - mentally, physically and financially.

"Through research and interviews - the foundation will uncover and report on harmful religious frauds and hoaxes worldwide. It will serve as a centralized meeting place for victims who can share their stories and help each other heal.

"The Kronzer Foundation will help families get their loved ones out of cults, into psychological de-programming, and back into their life. We currently have volunteers and representatives in the United States and throughout Greater Europe."

Kronzer, trying to make the public aware of the deceitful operators taking over Catholic Church, he has applauded the efforts of Foundation Applauds Cardinal Vinko Puljic, the Cardinal of Sarajevo who has not denounced the shrine but has shown skepticism, saying it is causing serious divisions in the Catholic Church.

"The Franciscan plague that is poisoning our Church must be halted and the disobedient Franciscan monks at Medjugorje and their allies in the United States prevented from spreading deception and lies in the name of religion," said Kronzer, adding that Cardinal Puljic has also called attention to the Franciscans. "Charlatans, false seers, Franciscan fakirs and scam artists have no place in the true Church. As Cardinal Puljic undoubtedly knows, money not faith is the tainted fruit of Medjugorje."

For his strong position against an obviously powerful group, Kronzer has been destroyed financially as well as being the brunt of a completely false character assassination.

"I think they have given up trying to label me as a child molester and other things as there is nothing in my background to even remotely match-up the unfounded allegations," said Kronzer.

Besides Medjugorje, Kronzer's research has uncovered a connection to the Jesuit Order, the Freemasons and other cult groups connected to the Illuminati and New World Order, through who he calls a "deceitful Jesuit Bishop" named Bishop Hnilica.

Kronzer said that Bishop Hnilica supposedly has his "dirty fingers" behind the ongoing Medjugorje scam as well as other shenanigans, including the 1982 massive Vatican Bank scandal involving billions of dollars of stolen assets from the Vatican and other banks.

"I have found out that Hnilica is behind the Medjugorje group and that he even tried to personally get his hands on thousands of dollars of my money," said Kronzer.

Kronzer said his research also uncovered Hnilica's name popping up in the Vatican Bank scandal after recently talking with Carlo Calvi in Montreal, the son of Roberto Calvi, the former Italian Bank of Ambrosiano chairman killed when the bank scandal broke.

Kronzer said Calvi's son has been trying to clear his father's name and, at the same time, prove he was murdered, as a recent murder trial finally opened in Rome in 2005 is verifying his son's suspicions.

Winds of War Blowing To Eventual Attack In Iran; While Peace Activists Cry For End To Middle East Conflict, Several Prime Time Announcers Are Calling FOX Commentators Bush Propagandists

Letterman And Olberman Criticize O'Reilly And Hannity, saying half of their reports are outright lies. While journalists argue, Russia sides with Iran, placing U.S. in dangerous position.

10 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The winds of war and political dissent are heating up as the media lap dogs from FOX News whipping up Bush propaganda are getting 20 lashes of their own from prime time critics like David Letterman and Keith Olbermann.

Letterman recently said half of what comes out of the mouths of neo con commentators Bill O'Reilly and Sean Hannity are outright lies and Bush propaganda. And MSNBC host Keith Olbermann agreed, saying O'Reilly is the "worst of the worst."

So, as the prime town crew is beginning to rip apart the media propaganda machine, it will be interesting to see how far they really go before their bosses start reigning them in. For example, will the day come when Letterman or Olbermann call 9/11 an "inside job" while presenting solid evidence suppressed by their nightly news counterparts?

Fat chance under today's state of the media, but still it's a hopeful thought. It's also impressive to see George Clooney put a foot in the Patriot camp, although the second foot would be nice, considering 3,000 of his fellow Americans were killed by the government, the same government profiting off his hard earned acting money.

Also, besides Clooney, where are the other voices of Hollywood?

"Strangely silent," says a Hollywood producer and director who wishes to remain anonymous in fear of being black balled. "All of them know if they cross the line on 9/11 or cross the Bush cabal, their careers will take a nose dive like the Dixie Chicks."

Moving to the attack on Iran, recent reports show Russia aligning with Iran, providing an interesting scenario if Russia and China in retaliation pit forces against America.

Could it be, as some observers have said, the American military will be left high and dry in the Middle East, leaving a clear path for Russia and China to invade U.S. borders, a move which would put the finishing touches on fascism, a goal the New World Order has been headed for a long time.

To the lay the ground work for this diabolically contrived scenario, as the NWO orchestrates both sides of the conflict, President Putin of Russia recently said:

"Russia is the most reliable partner of the Islamic world and most faithful defender of its interests," he said in Chechny. Russia has always been the most faithful, reliable and consistent defender of the interests of the Islamic world. Russia has always been the best and most reliable partner and ally."

And political analysts remind the American people that is a very bold statement. President Putin has just made since "no matter where the threat to Islam might emanate, Putin is saying that Russia will come to her defense. And, because of Russia's sophisticated weaponry program

Russia has the military might to back America to the wall, critics of an Iran invasion contend. Further, Russia's pledge to come to the aid of Islamic nations is simply a public re-stating of a warning Putin gave President Bush on April 12, 2003, just days after American forces occupied Baghdad. In that statement

, Putin "warned the US-led coalition not to attack other countries under the pretext of promoting capitalist and democratic values after having defeated Iraq's dictatorial regime."

And the plans to establish the New World Order were also documented by Albert Pike, the leader of North American Freemasonry during the years 1870-1895.

Pike's demonic vision, according to historians, stated that three world wars would be needed to establish the New World Order. Here are the details this guiding spirit gave to Pike:

World War I would have as its objective the total destruction and overthrow of the Russian Czarist Government, to be supplanted by Karl Marx's Communism [which had been issued only in 1848].

World War II would begin between Germany and Great Britain, but the major objective would be to build the new Russian Communist Government into a super power able to play out a great struggle with the West. This incredible struggle is now known as "The Cold War"!

World War III would be between Israel and her Arab neighbors, and out of the smoke, dust, and destruction of this war, Antichrist would stride!!

And this vision also coincided with biblical prophecy, according to some researchers in the following ways:

"Israel did not exist as a state then. Not only was she dispersed throughout the world, but the ancient land of Palestine was thoroughly under the control of the Turkish Ottoman Empire, and no serious student of history could see how or when this control would change.

"Russia is the target of this demonic vision. Under this vision, the leaders of worldwide Freemasonry were committed to establishing a Communist government in Russia, and to building this government up to be powerful enough to challenge the Western Powers for control of the world! This is why President Roosevelt, a Freemason, was so committed to building up Russia during World War II! And, this is why President Truman, also a Freemason, was so committed to reestablishing Israel as a nation after World War II. Both leaders were just being true to the Freemasonry vision of Albert Pike."

Journalists To Be Jailed For Speaking Out Against "Little Hitler Bush;" Slat's Grobnik Gets National Security Letter, Too!

Doug Thompson reported how he was sent a letter by the FBI to turn over records about his popular Capitol Hill Blue web site. Thompson's response was short and to the point, as Slat's Grobnik from Chicago says his deer rifle is locked and loaded if they come after him.

9 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Arctic Beacon Columnist

Slat's Grobnik looked at the newspaper, threw it into the dog pile and said:

"Screw every last one of the them. Not a damn bit a truth to any of it."

Slat's, an old time Chi-Town reader new to cyberspace, then turned to his PC.

"Some real news now."

Within a matter of minutes, he threw his size 13 hard-soled shoe through the monitor screen, breaking it into a million pieces. Slat's grand father, Otto, used to be a shoemaker before the chain stores took over so the heel was solid as a rock and stuck in the computer screen like a dart hitting a bulls-eye.

This time, however, Slat's, known for speaking his mind, wasn't angered over the news at the Capitol Hill Blue web site, the oldest political blurb on the internet, but at what the Bush Boys were doing to the freedom-minded journalist who ran the site, Doug Thompson, as well as other journalists who write stories contrary to the Bush party line

"The son's a bitches are clampin' down on everybody just like the Commie's and the Nazi's. Hell, if the Commies think they can come walking down these Chicago streets, there are 200,000 licensed deer hunters in Wisconsin and Illinois waitin' for 'em," said Slat's, who once told former Congressman Dan Rostenkowski to "go to hell" at a Polish street dance near Wrigley Field.

Slat's, angry as hell over the state of affairs in America, is one Chicagoan rallying behind Thompson and other journalists caught in a vice-grip of the Bush administration, planning to prosecute journalists who stray from the neo con agenda and making them examples in Bush's phony "war on terrorism."

"Well, guess what? Come and get me too. I'm standing with Thompson to the bitter end or to we put the the White House criminals behind bars," said Slat's, thinking how the late syndicated columnist Mike Royko, Slat's long time hero who fought for the little guy, would have had a field day with Bush, probably popping him over the head with a beer bottle if he tried to suppress one of his stories.

"And what's this crap with Hillary? Nothin' but a back stabbing traitor. Now, they promised her the White House for selling out on the American people. Hell, she used to live right down the block from here and went to Maine East High School. Met Slick Willy and that was the end of her."

Regarding the Thompson crackdown, Slats was hopping mad since Bush, according to Thompson, recently directed Attorney General Alberto Gonzales to use "whatever means at your disposal" to wiretap, follow, harass and investigate journalists who have published stories about the administration's illegal use of warrantless wiretaps, use of faulty intelligence and anything else he deems "detrimental to the war on terror."

Thompson also reported, causing Slats to throw his other shoe the TV set, that reporters for The New York Times revealed the National Security Agency was monitoring phone calls and emails of Americans, as officials at the Justice Department admit they are laying "the groundwork for a grand jury that could lead to criminal charges." Further, the Justice Department has been toying with using a pre-World War I law to prosecute people who receive classified information, although the law was aimed at military personnel not civilians.

As Slats cooled down, sitting back for coffee while he opened his mail, he noticed a letter postmarked from Washington D.C. from the FBI stamped "National Security Letter."

It said: Dear Mr. Grobnik:

Hope this correspondence finds you in good health,

As a part of the never-ending fight against the war on terrorism, we are directing you to turn over your bank records, credit card records, library cards, any records regarding your grand father, Otto's shoe business and any other records and correspondence you once may have had with the late syndicated columnist, Mike Royko.

For National Security reasons, you are put on notice not to tell anyone regarding the information requested or the demands made herein.

If we have not heard from you in 30 days upon receipt, an official from Homeland Security will be paying you a visit.

Thank you in advance for anticipated cooperation. Before Slats could fully digest the content of the letter and finish his coffee, he thought about the Capitol Hill Blue article, pointing out the same letter was sent to Thompson:

Thompson wrote:

"In recent weeks, the FBI has issued hundreds of "National Security Letters," directing employers, banks, credit card companies, libraries and other entities to turn over records on reporters. Under the USA Patriot Act, those who must turn over the records are also prohibited from revealing they have done so to the subject of the federal probes.

"Just how widespread, and uncontrolled, this latest government assault has become hit close to home last week when one of the FBI's National Security Letters arrived at the company that hosts the servers for this web site, Capitol Hill Blue.

"The letter demanded traffic data, payment records and other information about the web site along with information on me, the publisher.

"Now that's a problem. I own the company that hosts Capitol Hill Blue. So, in effect, the feds want me to turn over information on myself and not tell myself that I'm doing it. You'd think they'd know better.

"I turned the letter over to my lawyer and told him to send the following message to the feds:

"Fuck you. Strong letter to follow."

As Slats pulled his shoes out of the computer and TV screen, he said while walking out the door,

"Well said, Mr. Thompson. Well said."

Editor's Note: Every once in a blue moon Greg visits with Slats Grobnik from his hometown of Chicago and writes a column featuring the man the late syndicated columnist, Mike Royko, made famous in his columns, spanning more than four decades. Greg tries to keep the memory of Slats alive in Mike's honor.

California Mother And Activist Assaulted By Authorities With Drugs, Needles, Micro-Chips And Electronic Weaponry For Trying To Help Children In Her Community

Ramona Lopez tried to get the kids in her community off drugs, back into school and leading a productive life. However, she stumbled across a drug ring which involved local authorities, leading to her becoming a target of harassment and physical abuse.

7 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Ramona Lopez thought she was doing the right thing when she tried to help kids in her neighborhood get off drugs, trying to put them on the straight and narrow toward a productive life.

But instead of being recognized as a community hero and praised for her charitable work, authorities in Camarillo, California, slammed "the hammer down hard" on Lopez, a simple housewife with nothing but good in her heart and soul.

They came down hard on Lopez and wanted absolutely nothing to do with her "Miss Goody Two Shoes" attitude since she unknowingly in the early 1990's stumbling across how police officers and federal drug agents were working together with drug dealers to push drugs, not stop illegal drug sales.

And through her good deeds and efforts to help children, Lopez uncovered the "dirty little secret" that officials in her community with the help of federal agents actually were pushing drugs on in the high schools, assisting gangs and turning a blind eye on drug sales.

"It was just unbelievable for me to comprehend that some of the law enforcement authorities were so corrupt," said Lopez while appearing as a guest on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal. "There are many good people trying to end drug abuse, but I stumbled across the bad one's, including law enforcement officers and covert federal operatives actually assisting gangs in selling drugs to innocent children.

"During our investigation, which started more than 10 years ago, we actually found out that law enforcement targets some children in order to get them on drugs or in trouble with the law. It really is a systematic program to keep the drug market profitable as well as a way to destroy whole families and communities."

Although Lopez is still fighting for justice in her southern California community with other like minded citizens, she has been a target along with her family members, the target of extreme government abuse, including death threats, assaults, drive-by gun shootings, gang stalking, breaking and entering, drugged after being assaulted in her home with needles, micro-chipped by assailants and the victim of continuous electronic weaponry.

Not only has Lopez been targeted by covert operatives, but so has her children, as well as her five-year-old grand daughter, who has been micro-chipped in the same manner as Flores.

"I have taken my case to the highest authorities, but nothing ever happens and the abuse continues even to this day," said Lopez, who said all she ever wanted to do was to help children in her community stay in school and lead a more productive lives. "I have had numerous chips removed by doctors, chips acting as conductors so the electrical impulses they use have a more sever and devastating effect.

"When the harassment first started years ago, they attacked me with needles in my bedroom. I remember getting up the next morning with needle marks all over my body. I then found out I was micro-chipped. There have been times I get hit so hard with the impulses I feel like I am going to die from a heart attack. These people need to be stopped because I am not the only one around the country going being attacked like this. I have talked to others like me and it is a pattern of abuse and harassment being used all over the country. If they would even do this to my grand daughter, do you think they would hesitate doing it to you?"

Although Lopez has been attacked and violated on almost every level, she still is seeking fighting to make her community a better place to live, becoming one of the more well-known figures ion the community as well as receiving several community leadership awards.

"I have compiled names and uncovered facts showing how these local officials are working with covert operatives in drug trafficking to destroy our children," said Lopez. "I have spoken loud and clear for many years, tried to reach out to high-level officials, but have paid the ultimate price as the harassment never stops.

"At first when you try to go public and tell people what is happening with the use of electronic weaponry and other gang stalking activities, they try to make you out to be crazy. But you must be strong and go forward and reach out to others. It's the only hope. I still have a number of chips in my arms and under my eye-brows, showing how serious and devious this people are at keeping people like me quiet.

"A local law enforcement officer once came by and shot at my house to scare us off. This has been going on for years and despite all my efforts to get justice, it never stops. It began years ago with the break-ins, assaults, the incidents with the needles and gang stalking.

"Now they are using sophisticated electronic weapons and no human being should ever have to be subjected to such torture for just trying to do what is right. These people need to be stopped and my story needs to be told, as do the stories of many others like me who are going through the exact same type of torture."

Lopez said she is still trying to put an end to drug use in her community despite the lack of cooperation by police and others who are still to this day turning a blind eye to the massive drug problem facing places like Camarillo and other similar communities across the country.

Former DEA Agent Wants George H. Bush, Negroponte And Other Higher-Ups Held Accountable For Illegal Drug Smuggling

Cele Castillo made headlines in the 1980's for exposing illegal government-sponsored cocaine trafficking. Although the responsible parties were never brought to justice, Castillo is still speaking out loud and strong in order to save his country.

5 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Cele Castillo played it tough with the "Big Boys" for a long time until the former DEA agent couldn't take it any more.

For 12 long years he fought hard against the drug lords in South America, finally realizing in the late 1980's his fight was essentially for nothing.

After raiding jungle cocaine labs in the Amazon, conducting aerial eradication operations in Guatemala and assembling and training anti-narcotics units in several countries, Castillo finally went public and blew the whistle after realizing the real kingpin drug dealers worked in the White House, not in the jungles of Central and South America.

"I took an oath to defend my country and fight the war on drugs. When I realized the enemy was within our own government, I took the path of truth, trying to alert the American people," said Castillo, a former Viet Nam veteran who recently appeared on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal.

"The end of my career with the DEA took place in El Salvador. One day, I received a cable from a fellow agent, saying to investigate possible drug smuggling by Nicaraguan Contras operating from the Ilopango Air Force Base.

"I quickly discovered that the Contra pilots were, indeed, smuggling narcotics back into the United States - using the same pilots, planes and hangers that the Central Intelligence Agency and the National Security Council, under the direction of Lt. Col. Oliver North, used to maintain their covert supply operation to the Contras."

Instead of playing along with the criminals inside government profiting from cocaine trafficking, Castillo attempted to seek justice, naming many high-level officials along the way, including North and former President George H.W Bush.

In fact, after Castillo blew the whistle, Bush made a point to seek out Castillo during one of his South of the border visits, in essence trying to "feel out" Castillo, but at the same time careful not to make any incriminating statement.

"When Bush confronted me and then just walked away after I told him some of the evidence I had, it was obvious he knew what was going on and was involved in the illegal drug trade," said Castillo.

And when Castillo's allegations first went public, he was the first government DEA agent with first-hand knowledge of North's drug dealing sanctioned by Bush and other higher-ups.

At the time of the allegations, North was in the process of running for the U.S. Senate and Castillo was quoted as saying he "belongs in prison," not in government.

"We saw several packages of narcotics, we saw several boxes of U.S. currency, going from Ilopango to Panama," Castillo said.

According to a statement made by Castillo on his web site, www.powderburns.org, the entire drug program was run out of Ilopango's Hangars 4 and 5. "Hangar 4, owned and operated by the CIA and run by Felix Rodriguez, or 'Max Gomez,' of the Contra operation directed by North.

"Basically they were running cocaine from South America to the U.S. via Salvador. That was how the Contras were able to get financial help. By going to sleep with the enemy down there. North's people and the CIA were at the two hangars overseeing the operations at all times," Castillo added.

Castillo also fingered John Negroponte, now in the Bush administration and who served from 1981-1985 as U.S. Ambassador to Honduras, as just another drug smuggler covering up the illegal government activity as well as illegally assisting the contra war and helping the Reagan administration in the disappearance of more than 300 political opponents in classic death squad fashion.

"In Honduras, I saw first hand how Negroponte and General Alvarez committed some of the worst human rights violations ever committed against humanity in the Western Hemisphere" said Castillo, adding in 1994, the Honduran Human Rights Commission charged Negroponte personally with several human rights abuses.

"President Bush then appointed Negroponte as ambassador to Iraq with the "Salvador Option" in hand. The Salvador Option is a blue print of the Phoenix Program that was utilized in Vietnam. And know it is being implemented in Iraq.

"Today, President Bush has named Negroponte, as headhunter, Director of National Intelligence. He is now in charge of all intelligence including the Pentagon. God help us in saving our world.

"I've risked my life to demonstrate what I believe to be real. And, that is that an armed struggle (with pen in hand) is in order for those who are struggling in keeping their freedom at home. I've now become a veteran of my third, and perhaps most dangerous war, the war against the criminals in my own government."

Since going public in the 1980's, Congress listened to Castillo's allegations and the testimony of others in hearings held by Senator and former Presidential candidate, John Kerry.

But the watered down investigation did little to solve the problem, as the kingpins in government were allowed "to walk" and, in fact, are still running drug operations today, according to Castillo.

"The same thing is going on today with the same people from the 1980's now in charge of our government," reminded Castillo, adding billions of dollars of drug money is being used by government for secret, covert operations without congressional oversight.

"We, ordinary Americans, can not trust the C.I.A. Inspector General to conduct a full investigation into the CIA or the DEA. Let me tell you why. When President Clinton (June, 1996) ordered The Intelligence Oversight Board to conduct an investigation into allegations that US Agents were involved in atrocities in Guatemala, it failed to investigate several DEA and CIA operations in which U.S. agents knew before hand that individuals (some Americans) were going to be murdered.

"Some people have asked, why I am doing this? A long time ago I took an oath to protect The Constitution of the United States and its citizens. In reality, it has cost me so much to become a complete human being, that I've lost my family.

"In 1995, I made a pilgrimage to the Vietnam Wall, where I renounced my Bronze Star in protest of the atrocities my government had committed in Central America. I have now become a veteran of my third, and perhaps most dangerous war --- a war against the criminals within my own Government.

"Heads have to roll for those who are responsible and still employed by the government. They will be the first targets in an effective drug strategy. If not, we will continue to have groups of individuals who will be beyond any investigation, who will manipulate the press, judges and members of our Congress, and still be known in our government as those who are above the law."

Castillo has also authored a book about his life called Powderburns which can be purchased from his web site.

Calling Bush "Hitler" Is A No No In Colorado High School, As Patriot Act Violations Mount Across Country

High School teacher suspended for anti-Bush comments as 150 students walk out of class in support of teacher's free speech rights. Patriot Act passes U.S. Senate 89-10 as violations of civil rights spread throughout country like wildfire.

4 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

As the Patriot Act flew threw the U.S. Senate Thursday by a lopsided vote of 89-10, the fascist screws of a militaristic, thought-controlled society were tightening down in a Colorado high school.

The story received high profile news coverage, as major networks told how an Aurora, Colorado, high school teacher was suspended by the local school district for telling geography students President Bush reminded him and was acting like the Nazi leader Adolph Hitler.

Attempts to contact teacher Overland High School social studies teacher Jay Bennish went unanswered, but his Denver attorney, David Lane, is expected today to file a federal law suit to protect the embattled teacher's first amendment rights.

The incident is another indication of the lock down of free thought taking place in America as even the slightest condemnation of President Bush and his policies is now getting severe retribution with Bennish getting suspended from teaching for supposedly violating school district policies.

Bennish, whose comments were recorded by a student, said he received threats after making the anti-Bush statements which led to him being placed on administrative leave Wednesday while Cherry Creek School District officials investigate, according to district spokeswoman Tustin Amole. The investigation is expected to continue into next week, according to school officials.

Besides being suspended, Lane, his attorney, said Bennish was not permitted to talk to the news media, but has told him privately he was attempting to get students "think critically ... don't just follow hook, line and sinker everything everybody tells you."

Lane also is known for representing the rights of University of Colorado at Boulder professor Ward Churchill.

As the Bennish case drew national attention, more than 150 students at Overland High School staged a walk-out Thursday in support of Bennish's right to criticize Bush, the students claiming free thought should not be stifled by administrative policies.

Bennish's comments in class the day after Bush's Jan. 31 State of the Union address have generated national attention and prompted a discussion of what's appropriate in the classroom.

Lane said Bennish has been devastated by the school district's handling of the case, but case law has shown high school teachers have much less freedom to express their opinions than do their counterparts at the university level.

In fact, a 1991 federal court case ruled K-12th grade teachers do not have an express constitutional right to academic freedom, saying as agents of the school district officials have the right to decide and control the content of speech used in the classroom concerning controversial subjects.

The Bennish case adds another mark against free speech, as illustrated by these other documented cases of free speech abuses:

High School Class Discussion Leads to Terrorist Task Force Interrogation of Two Teens.

Oakland High School teacher Larry Felson has bitter memories about a "dark day" back in May 2003 when Terrorist Task Force agents barged into school and interrogated two innocent high school students.

They had no warrant, no probable cause. But yet agents held students for hours without legal counsel, without parents or teachers present. They held students based on remarks the teens made criticizing President Bush in a classroom discussion about the Iraq War.

The teacher in charge of the discussion thought the statements were a "direct threat", calling the task force into action. But other teachers emphatically said the teacher "rushed to judgment" over 911 paranoia.

They said what is even more disturbing is that a climate now exists were a situation as "fundamental to free expression as a classroom discussion" can result in such fascist-type actions.

"When one student asked agents if they had the right to remain silent, I remember them responding: 'You don't have any legal rights, we own you,'" Felsen recalled.

Teacher Cassie Lopez, also stunned by the "Gestapo-like activity," said the teachers union, parents and others who tried to get an official explanation have been stonewalled, essentially given nothing more than a general response: "necessary for national security concerns."

Terrorist Task Force Mistakes University of Buffalo Professor's Art Project for Biological Weapons Laboratory

University of Buffalo art Professor Steven Kurtz also has bad memories about a "dark day" last May when terrorist task force agents barged into his home, confiscated his belongings and held him for two days without legal counsel.

The reasons turned out to be bizarre and frivolous, but not before subpoenas were issued to three friends and a grand jury probe initiated in June to see if the peaceable art professor violated Section 175 of the U.S. Biological Weapons Act.

Of course, the illegal search and seizure, as well as illegal detainment of the professor, was justified by overreaction prompted by 911 paranoia made possible by The Patriot Act. As it turned out, agents mistakenly thought the professor's art project was a bio-weapons lab, but even after realizing the mistake, continued the investigation under the guise of national security.

Simply put, Kurtz is an artist dedicated to education, peace and freedom of expression, everything the Bush Administration diametrically opposes despite its false public image.

Otherwise, how can any sense be made out of what happened to the professor on the morning of May 11, 2004, the day he called paramedics to revive his wife from a heart attack. His wife died the same morning and it was officially found unrelated to anything involving his art project and the terrorist task force.

And a story such as this reveals how things can spin totally out of control when confusing events mix with overly broad governmental powers.

Paramedics, who arrived to revive Mrs. Kurtz, noticed laboratory equipment used in his artwork. Upon suspicion, they called agents who, within hours, rifled through his house, seized his books, personal papers, computer and art work, which to date has not been returned.

Kurtz is well-known in his progressive art community and a member of the Critical Art Ensemble, a group dedicated to exploring the intersections between art, technology, radical politics and critical theory.

His art, displayed nationwide, often involves blending biological and agricultural issues. For example, in 2002 one of his exhibits called "Molecular Invasion" portrayed an exhibit against genetically modified crops with a life-like display of small soy, corn and canola plants growing under large incubator lamps.

One of his other exhibits, trying to raise public awareness against plant and food contamination, allows viewers the chance to see bacteria growing in petri dishes.

"It's a complete fishing expedition," said his Buffalo lawyer, Paul Cambria. "When they came to his house the FBI found equipment used for extracting and amplifying DNA and three types of bacteria, all used in his art work.

"He is obviously not somebody trying to make a weapon and the equipment seized by agents can be found in any university biology lab as standard equipment. Everything taken in the house has been already exhibited in public."

Two of the Kurt's artist friends served subpoenas, also members of the internationally-acclaimed Art Ensemble, could not explain why the government has pursued this case so strongly.

"It was shocking that the investigation was ever launched," said Beatriz da Costa, one of the artist's subpoenaed. "It just shows how vulnerable the Patriot Act has made freedom of speech in this country. Our art is intended for peace by raising awareness to possible environmental contaminants in our food."

Member of the Art Ensemble suggest the only possible reason for this type of government harassment is its hidden agenda to silence their message displayed through their artwork.

The equipment seized by the FBI consisted of Kurt's latest project, consisting of a mobile DNA extraction laboratory to test store-bought food for possible contamination by genetically modified grains and organisms.

University officials said this equipment is used in school labs, even found in some high school science departments.

The FBI this week was unavailable for comment.

Teen Webmaster Jailed for 1 Year Under Patriot Act Now Released.

A young Los Angeles webmaster made headlines two years ago when he was arrested for operating what the government called an anarchistic website called "Raise Your Fist."

Legal observers said Sherman Austin, 18, may have been entrapped by Terrorist Task Force agents in order to shut down his website. He was considered one of the first casualties of the Patriot Act, his residence raided and ransacked after issuance of a flimsy warrant filled with political accusations.

Sherman was tagged an enemy combatant for his website activities, which turned out to be nothing more than what the government thought to be a radical political agenda.

In this case, the government was able to use the overly broad Patriot Act to stop Austin's activities. Innocuous objects such as iced tea bottles and toy cars were described in legal proceedings by FBI agents as terrorist devices.

Added to the questionable charges was the fact that elementary bomb making information was posted on his server, although court documents show it was not posted by Sherman but by an Orange County teen who was not charged in the crime.

In order to get a stiff sentence, the Prosecution applied sentencing standards under the Terrorism Enhancement Clauses, meaning that Sherman was looking at a mandatory 20 year sentence unless he pled down to a 1 year sentence with three years probation.

Sherman is presently in Los Angeles on probation under terms forbidding him from using a cell phone, computer, or other digital devices. Needless to say, his website has been permanently removed from cyberspace.

Terms of his probation also forbid him from associating with any anarchist groups who the government maintains "advocate violence as a means of disrupting order and achieving social, economic and political change."

Critics said in light of the above travesty of justice the only thing that needs to be changed after reading Austin's case is the Patriot Act itself, not Austin's behavior.

A "Populist American" Says His Constitution And Country Hijacked By Criminals In Washington

Bill Gibbons is another American fed up with the warmongers controlling America. He wants Americans to rise up in protest in order to preserve their God-given rights of freedom and liberty.

3 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Bill Gibbons is fed up to his ears with the criminals in Washington. And he's proud to call himself a "Populist American," not willing to compromise his God-given rights of freedom and liberty in the face of what he calls a fascist hijacking of his country and its Constitution.

Gibbons is just another example of an average American do above average things while trying desperately to alert his fellow citizens of the neo con takeover before its too late.

And to try and get some action and in memory of his wife Betty who died in 2004, Gibbons started an extensive gathering of material on his web site at www.gnrevival.com as well as writing two books entitled The American Gestapo and The New American Revolution.

"This is a real populist web site and we believe that God Almighty is in command of all the earth," said Gibbons. "We believe in less government, war only in defense of our home and that nobody is above the law. We are against unlimited immigration and believe that all illegal immigrants should be deported immediately."

Gibbons, who feels the Constitution and the very future of his country is now at stake, recently wrote the following warning to the American people, trying to wake them up before it's too late:

"Let us see if we have this straight: The U.S. Constitution is the supreme law of the land and all federal elected politicians as well as all federal bureaucrats take an oath to uphold the Constitution. Are we right so far?"

"Of course we are right, because we have a copy of the oath that senators and congressmen take upon assuming office. Our elected representatives and senators break the law, but we do not send them to jail,

"Now what happens when these elected persons and bureaucrats do not keep their word? Would I be right in assuming that they have broken the law, because they did not obey the Constitution? If you will remember, the federal government sent Martha Stewart to jail for lying to federal investigators, which is not a crime.

"Ms Stewart was not under oath when she was supposed to have lied. I say supposed to have lied, because the government never did prove that she did lie. So, if a business woman like Martha Stewart can go to jail for lying to federal investigators, would it not be right to send congressmen and senators to jail for lying to the public by not keeping their word to obey the Constitution?

"They certainly do lie when they swear to do one thing and do the opposite. They take an oath to obey and support the Constitution, but turn around and trash the Constitution every day. George Bush, the highest elected official in the country said, "The Constitution is just piece of paper and pays no attention to his oath of office. Can anyone show me the difference in the two cases? I fail to see any difference myself.

"With this thought in mind let us examine the facts for a few minutes. The Constitution is the LAW and breaking any law is a crime. Criminals are supposed to be in jail. Voting for legislation that is directly opposed to the Constitution certainly is breaking the law. We know that the justice department is anxious when it comes to putting people in jail, whether they are guilty or not, or whether they are elected officials or not. Congressman Jim Traficant, democrat from Ohio, comes to mind. Anyone playing with a full deck knows that Traficant was railroaded to prison because he was a "die-hard Constitutionalists".

"He always had the highest record concerning votes to uphold the Constitution in congress or the senate. Jim is in jail, while the worst violators of the Constitution, like Teddy Kennedy, are running free in Washington. These two-faced lying hypocrites in the House of Representatives had the gall to expel him from congress as being undesirable. How could anyone vote to oust one of the few honest men in congress as being undesirable and still look at their faces in the mirror?

Article Ten of the Constitution is very clear and it does not take a rocket scientist to know what it means: "The powers not delegated to the United States by the Constitution, not prohibited by it to the States, are reserved to the States respectively, OR TO THE PEOPLE."

Do you have any problem understanding that amendment? Of course not, lawyers did not write it. Allow me to throw this little antidote in here. I was watching an old movie, where this black man's kid was before the judge for the fourth time. The judge was browbeating the poor old fellow, because he was thinking. Finally the old gentlemen said, "Yo honor, I can't talk without thinking, I ain't no lawyer."

"Everyone should read the Constitution, for it is a simple document. If you did read it you would find that about 95-to99 % of all that the federal government does is unconstitutional. Where does the Constitution mention education, or aid to education, foreign aid, social security, Medicare, aid to children, or any one of hundreds of programs that the federal government is involved in? Any member of congress that votes for federal aid to education or foreign aid is breaking the law, which makes him a criminal and demands that he go to jail with the rest of the criminals. Are we right so far, or are we just being paranoid.

"Now comes this thought for you to consider: Ignorance of the law is no excuse and any cop or judge will tell you that. If a congressman or senator says they did not know that the Constitution is the law or that they were breaking the law that is no excuse and they should still go to the slammer with the rest of the criminals. There should be a Committee on the Constitution in each house to see that no legislation even reaches the floor that violates the Constitution.

"One final thought: The Bill of Rights is just that "A Bill of Right". We citizens have always had the rights; they were not given to us by a benevolent government. The Bill of Rights was drafted to see that the government does not violate these rights, which are already ours."

Husband OF Illegal Child Experimentation Victim Fighting U.S. And Canadian Government's Massive Cover-Up

Rod Vienneau says he will not stop fighting to get justice for his wife and many others who were tortured and abused at the hands of illegally sponsored government mind control and drug programs.

2 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Rod Vienneau for 15 long years has been trying to get justice for the horrendous crimes committed against his wife. It's been a long, hard battle - a fight that looks like David v. Goliath since the U.S. and Canadian governments are battling him tooth and nail to keep his case quiet.

And the reason for the government barricade at revealing the truth is Vienneau's case opens a "can of worms," exposing the government sanctioned torture and abuse of more than 50,000 children involved in illegal psychiatric government-sanctioned experimentation programs.

Vienneau's wife, Clarina, was one of thousands of children experimented on during the 1950's and 60's in what has become known as the Duplessis Orphan case. She now is seeking justice for crimes including illegal mind-altering drug experimentation, physical beatings, torture with whips and chains while being collared like a dog, ice cold baths, sleep deprivation and other crimes that shock the conscience.

Clarina's case has resurfaced by the hard work of independent freelance journalist, Christine Hahn, who has spent two years of her life working with Vienneau and other victims like him, trying to document and bring to justice high level officials and doctors responsible for the horrendous child abuse involving thousands of child.

Vienneau recently appeared on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal, recalling how the long, hard fight to get justice for his wife began in 1992.

"We have been married for more than 40 years, but Clarina kept secret she was one of the Duplessis Orphans until 1992," said Vienneau. "She came from a poor family and was turned over to a Catholic orphanage when she was 9 years old.

"Since we began researching her case, we found overnight her medical files were changed and she was declared mentally ill for no reason. At the age of 11, she was then transferred to a psychiatric clinic where she underwent torture and abuse until she was 17 when she finally escaped. Her sister also was one of the Duplessis Orphans, undergoing the same torture and abuse.

"But my wife and sister may have been one of the lucky one's. Over the years, even though the case has been sealed tight and we haven't been able to find an attorney willing to stand up against the government, information has surfaced that thousands of other children were killed during the illegal experimentation programs.

"In fact, there is a place near one of the psychiatric institutes, next to a pig pen, where investigators claim more than 2,000 children have been buried in a mass grave. There is a move now to try and exhume the bodies but no court in the land wants to touch this case."

Vienneau's fight for justice is a stark example of how officials in Canada and the U.S. have joined together with large drug companies to keep the truth from the public. For his efforts to vindicate his wife's name as well as prevent further child experimentation, Vienneau has had his phone wiretapped, as well as being harassed and followed by Canadian authorities.

The reason for the crackdown on Vienneau is that Hahn's investigation into the horrendous crimes committed against Clarina and others can be traced to illegal CIA-funded mind control and drug experimentation programs performed by unscrupulous doctors, some with former Nazi Party affiliations, essentially using the children as guinea pigs.

Hahn said since the ties go to high-level doctors and government officials in both countries, there has been a concerted effort to suppress her story as well as people like Vennout who are trying to get at the truth.

Although meticulously researched and documented, Hahn's investigative piece was rejected by all mainstream publications, as she had to settle for publication in an alternative outlet called Freedom Magazine.

Recently, Vienneau outlined what his main motives are in seeking justice for his wife and the many other children abused by the illegal experimentation programs.

"Criminal acts: Horrific criminal acts were done to thousands of innocent children here on Canadian soil ranging from murders, tortures; disappearance of children; lobotomy's and experimental drugs and falsely labeling thousands of innocent young children from 1935 to 1975 and nobody has yet been held accountable for these free criminal acts done to the Duplessis orphans.

"Thousands of orphans were falsely labeled mentally ill, and today, this label still hangs heavy on the orphans' shoulders. This label has not yet been erased, this alone is a criminal act.

"The Quebec government, the College of Physicians of Quebec; the Roman Catholic church of Quebec; the Quebec Public Trustee;(Guardianship) and the federal government of Canada have not yet acknowledged the harm done to thousands of young children here in Quebec.

"Constitutional Rights : The Quebec government took away the Duplessis orphans' rights to defend themselves in a court of law since 1995, all though four members of parliament stated that the orphans could take a lawyer at any time for their case, but it has been 11 years now that many orphans have been trying to get a lawyer for their case but to no avail. Lawyer Daniel Lighter, told me flatly that the Duplessis orphans case is locked shut tight since over fifteen years. The Duplessis orphans have no Constitutional Rights, it all boils down to a huge cover up."

"The Duplessis orphans are entitled to a real compensation from all parties mentioned above for lives ruined and still having to live day to day with the after-effects of their horrific journey into a psychiatric hospital having been falsely labeled."

And Hahn had this to say about Vienneau's character and determination against what looks like insurmountable odds:

"I've dealt with hundreds of people in my career as a journalist and I've never come across somebody as devoted, well intentioned, determined, principled and focused as Rod Vienneau," said Hahn. "He applies a clear minded shrewdness and relentless work ethic to his benevolent cause. His mind never stops working the angles, it's a mind that has the unique ability to retrieve obscure information that others would have forgotten, which he then uses to produce devastating, clearly expressed and logically sound arguments.

"They say the ultimate compliment to somebody like this does his homework and this he does with great thoroughness, all in an effort to establish justice for a downtrodden group that just about everybody else - including most social activists - choose to overlook.

"Rod is an shining inspiration to me, he's articulate, well-informed and concise in his messages and is as empathetic to those he serves as he is unrelenting to this who would have justice denied. If there's one person I could think of deserving of recognition, it would be Mr. Vienneau."

Less Talk and More Action Needed To Get Justice For Mass Murder 9/11 Victims

Enough evidence has been compiled to show beyond a reasonable doubt the government was complicit in 9/11. What's needed is to bypass mainstream media and government, going to a worldwide public forum to get the truth presented in a credible way to the American people.

1 Mar 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Talk is cheap but that's about all that's ever done at finding the truth behind 9/11. With that in mind, this call to action for 9/11 justice will be short and sweet.

As millions of Americans remain in the dark, there is more than enough evidence compiled after four years to prove beyond a reasonable doubt officials in the U.S. government were complicit in killing more than 3,000 innocent citizens the morning of Sept. 11, 2001.

However, despite the abundance of evidence pointing to a massive government cover-up, there remains little hope of getting justice or even getting a fair and impartial investigation.

Why?

The answer is U.S. government control of the investigation and media control of the information presented to the public.

The solution?

Bypass both groups, taking the investigation to an impartial worldwide forum, the results of the impartial investigation broadcast to the American public the same way the O.J. Simpson trial was broadcast day after day and week after week.

To that end, a group of respected jurists can be gathered to hear the evidence and a group of impartial journalists and investigators can be gathered to compile it.

The Collapse of the WTC and Building No. 7

More than enough scientific evidence and eye-witness testimony has surfaced, showing the buildings fell from a controlled demolition, not burning jet fuel. Instead of endless debates in the JFK assassination mode, let's put the evidence before a group of international journalists, their findings broadcast to the American people.

The Pentagon Crash

Enough evidence has surfaced to show a jetliner did not strike the Pentagon as the government contends. Instead of endless debates in the public forum, leading nowhere, let's present the enormous body of evidence to a group of international jurists, the findings to be broadcast to the American people.

Shanksville

There is an abundance of evidence, casting doubt that an airliner even crashed in Pennsylvania. Instead of continuing the endless debate, let an international group of jurists weigh the evidence, their findings again broadcast nationally to the American people.

Less Words More Action

If anyone would like to participate in organizing a worldwide, impartial investigation of 9/11, please contact arcticbeacon@earthlink.net. Remember, justice for 9/11 begins now with less words and more action.

Another "Average American" Ready To Confront The New World Order Before It's Too Late

Ron Van Dyke is another one of the millions of Americans challenging the NWO, including its involvement in 9/11 and the illegal war in Iraq.

28 Feb 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Ron Van Dyke is another average American searching desperately for answers in these "troubled times," deciding to go "deep beneath the surface" of accepted political and social traditions to uncover the hidden truth.

Residing in Florida, Van Dyke recently appeared on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal, joining many other Americans who are fed up with "the lies" coming out of Washington, lies Van Dyke claims are aimed at destroying America from within.

During his interview, he called 9/11 "an inside job" as well as calling the Iraq War contrived and illegal. He also fears the "warmongers in Washington are setting up America for a massive war in the Middle East, which could begin at anytime in Iran.

Van Dyke claims the only way to possibly avert World War III is for Americans to assemble in massive numbers by "raising our collective consciousness" in order to stop the evildoers in their tracks.

On the show Van Dyke made his case for peace while denouncing the policies in Washington and urging politicians to "come clean," admitting their lies:

"I say this because it is time to take a stand, time to speak the Truth to Power. I wanted to let you know how sad I feel to see our country being squandered at the hands of criminals at the highest levels of our own government.

"As a veteran who swore to uphold and defend the Constitution of the United States, it infuriates me to see the Bill of Rights being gutted more and more since the 9/11 plot. When that first occurred, I was outraged at those 'radical Muslims' I believed responsible. However, as realities and inconsistencies came to light, I realized the horrendous truth. 9/11 was preplanned, the twin towers (and other buildings in the complex) were brought down by controlled demolition taking weeks or months to prepare, and no airplane hit the Pentagon.

"There are scores or even hundreds of inconsistencies in the official story propagated by our controlled media! Outsiders could not have pulled it off; it's just not possible. It makes me sick to see this great nation sinking so fast; and to know that there are still millions who believe the lies we are being sold and told.

"Yes, I realize there was a conspiracy; but it was not the conspiracy of angry fanatics from the other side of the world plotting to destroy our freedom. Rather, it was a neo-convict conspiracy implemented from within the highest levels of our own government with the complicity of so many within various institutions right here in America. This was not the "Shadow Government" at work; it was the visible government fulfilling the principles laid out in The Project for a New American Century. They got their New Pearl Harbor so that they could take away our freedoms. They are the true haters of freedom and liberty; and they conspire day and night to expand their ability to control and enslave others through a legal framework that undermines the very foundation of our nation.

"I urge you to stop the renewal of the falsely so-called Patriot Act due to expire in March. It is actually an anti-patriot act, one that makes patriotism a crime so that the real criminals can feed their greed for unlimited power and resources. Please vote to repeal it, not to renew it.

"I also urge you to support impeachment of the entire Executive Branch of our government, and nearly all of Congress and the Senate as well. Most are guilty of high crimes and misdemeanors and certainly of high treason. So is the Supreme Court. A top-to-bottom purge is long overdue! While we are at it, let's get rid of the illegal and unconstitutional Federal Reserve Bank and the Internal Revenue Service. That's where the source of the corruption lies, where the worst conspiracies are hatched.

"I guess I should be thankful in a strange sort of way, thankful that blatant acts of the current administration which is rapidly selling our country down the drain, our ports to foreign interests, as well as illegally spying on Americans with impunity are having the effect of waking people up to the sad reality that our government has been bought and paid for by the criminal elite in multinational corporations, the military-industrial complex, big banks, educational bureaucracies, dishonest religions, our scandalous medical establishment, and the many corrupt institutions that pervade our society. So many of these leaders also need to be brought to justice, impeached, as it were, and imprisoned. Let them reap for themselves what they have sown for others.

"Yes, we are waking up exponentially. What will their planned police state do: kill us all? Or will we be interred in concentration camps? Either way, we are murdered; but death is preferred over living in what appears to be a rapidly rising fascist tyranny.

"If you personally support what is happening, how can you even look into a mirror? Ok, so they may be blackmailing you because of mistakes you made giving in to your lust and greed. Most of our leaders are controlled that way; and to save face, they march to the perverted drumbeat of their controllers. If that is your choice, may God have mercy on your soul for what you are doing to America and the World! You are responsible; and you will be held accountable.

"Here's an alternative choice. I urge you to come clean. Tell the truth. People will ultimately support those who have the courage to tell it like it is; and especially to admit they were wrong. Please stand with us. Help us take our great country back from these charlatans (including yourself, if the shoe fits). Be the leader God called you to be.

"I send you (and all in this nation and world) the Light of Truth, seeking Justice with Mercy, along with Love and Compassion for all men and women of good will in all cultures and all faiths. May we beat our swords into plowshares, and may Peace prevail, finally, on Earth."

More Than 50,000 Children Used In CIA-Connected Experimentation Programs; Investigative Journalist Has Story Suppressed And Experiences Threats Before Its Eventual Release In Alternative Publication

Christine Hahn won't back down from threats and suppression, as she vows to get out the truth about the Duplessis Orphans.

26 Feb 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Christine Hahn is one of those investigative journalists who doesn't take no for an answer. She looks below the surface for a story, won't tolerate being lied to and considers the mainstream media a "joke."

Hahn considers "compromising the truth" a mortal sin and isn't afraid to tackle tough issues and controversial subjects, including how CIA-funded programs illegally experimented on more than 50,000 children since the 1950's.

"Stories have surfaced about illegal government experimentation on adults through programs like MKULTRA, but I have meticulously documented the abuse going on with innocent children," said Hahn, a Canadian now residing in the U.S., who also has been threatened numerous times during her two years of researching the story.

Further, Hahn's well-documented story pinning government involvement and influential doctors having Nazi ties, finally appeared in an alternative publication called Freedom Magazine after being suppressed by numerous mainstream outlets in the U.S. and Canada.

"Nobody wanted to touch this story because of the high-level names," said Hahn who recently appeared on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal. "I also was working for a well-known Canadian film documentary outlet when I had my grant pulled as well as the project.

"I found out the head of the Investigative Journalist Grant Program also had CIA connections. The cover-up and media sell-out is keeping vital information from the public and is a big part of the problem facing the public."

Although Hahn's story was suppressed in both Canada and the U.S. she didn't give up, finally finding Freedom Magazine in Los Angeles as an outlet. Explaining some of her frustrations behind the Duplessis Orphan story, she said:

"Like I said I once worked for a well known Canadian current affairs program. Even though two of the five documentaries I helped produce were among the highest rated shows of the season, my contract was not renewed. I suspect it is because of other stories I was exposing--a eugenics program involving the Duplessis Orphans.

"I could not get any mainstream media publication to run my stories and so Freedom Magazine ran the pieces. Through doing the story, I also have experienced first hand, how despite having documented unbelievable crimes including the fact that Canada's former Prime Minister Paul Martin's father was responsible for what happened to these orphans, you cannot get your work published anywhere.

"In an effort to get out the truth, I have decided to create my own web site and put my stories on there and advertise my services. It's really nice to see that there are other journalists out there who won't sellout for money care and care about the truth."

Referring to a recent article in the Arctic Beacon about a victim of the Illuminati mind control programs named Mauri, Hahn added:

"Your recent interview with Mauri really caught my attention because I have interviewed other survivors who were brought to Canada from the States as children and subjected to the exact same horrific experimentation as Mauri.

"What's interesting is that hundreds of survivors recount the same experiences. They can't all be lying and their stories need to be told despite the sensitivity and despite the resistance people have in believing their government could be involved in such things."

During Hahn's research, she talked with numerous victims, acclaimed psychiatrists and other experts, pinning the abuse on government funded programs using unscrupulous doctors, some having former Nazi Party connections.

The following is a segment of her story from Freedom Magazine, highlighting the enormity of the child experimentation problem. The entire story can be found at <http://www.freedommag.org/english/vol37i1/index.htm>.

"Children's advocate Carol Rutz, author of A Nation Betrayed, told Freedom that based on her research, the Duplessis Orphans became prime subjects for psychiatric testing and abuse.

"These children, she said, were defenseless - easy prey for ruthless doctors who inflicted pain and death under the guise of science.

"Many boys and girls, she said, "had no parents to return home to, hence the extent of their abuse needed no cover-up. Who would tell? They could be beaten or drugged into submission."

"Orphans at St. Jean de Dieu were selected to receive electroshock, drugs and other "treatments" primarily based on whether or not they had immediate family members who might come to their defense or protection, said one source who worked at the facility.

"Rod Vienneau said Quebec psychiatrists viewed these children, who most often came from the province's poorest families, as "unwanted." They emptied Quebec's orphanages, he said, "sending the 'unwanted' children to the psychiatric hospitals where psychiatrists could do any experiment that they wanted to do on 100,000 children - and no one would know." (See "He Had No Brain!".)

"Evidence suggests that many boys and girls became victims of a psychiatric eugenics* program with connections to prominent members of the U.S. and Canadian psychiatric establishments.

"Defectives" was the sweeping label that Canadian psychiatrist Charles Kirk Clarke, a founder of the Canadian Mental Health Association, applied to immigrants from eastern and central Europe.¹⁰ Another Canadian eugenicist, Helen MacMurchy, a provincial "inspector of the feeble-minded," campaigned for sterilization to prevent certain mothers from "filling the cradle with degenerate babies."¹¹

"Freedom addressed this subject in a 1996 cover report in its Canadian edition entitled "The Ethnic Cleansing of the 'Mentally Unfit' - Sterilization in Canada." The authors wrote, "The tools of the eugenicists thus became immigration controls, birth control, sterilization and finally euthanasia as carried out by the Nazis," noting that the first three methods had been employed in Canada - resulting in, among other things, the involuntary sterilization of thousands of women, many of them Canadian Indian or other minorities.¹²

"With fresh allegations now surfacing that many Duplessis Orphans died or disappeared, the fourth item on the eugenicists' agenda, euthanasia, certainly warrants official investigation."

Hahn's story then went on to charge that hundreds of innocent children were eventually killed during the horrific experimentation.

"Indeed, the bodies of hundreds or even thousands of Duplessis Orphans, buried near Quebec psychiatric hospitals, may today hold the key to documenting what survivors have called "organized psychiatric genocide."

"Montreal attorney Daniel Lighter suggested that Quebec officials permit exhumation of bodies buried on hospital grounds to determine to what extent Orphans may have been used for psychiatric experimentation, including lobotomies, electroshock and mass drugging.

Patriot Act On 'Fast Track' For Approval; Constitution Has Been Ripped To Shreds

The entire U.S. Senate should be removed from power for allowing the Patriot Act to become a permanent law.

25 Feb 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The revised version of the Patriot Act is on a fast track for congressional approval, indicating the level of corruption in the U.S. Senate calls for each and every Senator to be removed from office on charges of treason.

While millions of Americans throughout the country protest the erosion of their privacy rights, the hijacking of the U.S. Constitution is in its final stages on Capitol Hill, as the severe revisions of the Patriot Act are set for "permanent" approval.

And what makes the permanent passage so dangerous is that it replaces "suspicion" of being a "domestic terrorist" without a probable cause warrant as the legal standard for surveillance, leaving innocent Americans wide open for intrusive spying programs based on the unjustified whims of government agents.

Further, the target words "domestic terrorist" are not sufficiently defined, again leaving the government a huge legal loophole to detain and arrest an innocent person based on unfounded suspicions.

As legal scholars in both camps argue the constitutionality of the law, the premise behind the passage of the law - the true source of terrorism - has never been fully explored by Congress.

While the corrupt powers, including the mainstream press, have pinned the terrorist threat on al Queda solely, many Americans have come to the sad conclusion the "real enemy" resides within the U.S. government.

And those who have come to this conclusion say the real reason for passage of the Patriot Act is to deflect attention to a "phony enemy" while at the same time allowing the criminals within the U.S government the ability to keep their cover by controlling any dissident movements.

Besides a fury of opposition among legal scholars, millions of Americans, like John Mann of Kalamazoo, Michigan, have voiced public concern against the Patriot Act.

Mann, a construction worker, has written several essays in opposition of the Act, one being published in his local newspaper. He also recently appeared on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal, representing millions of average Americans who feel the same way, saying the Constitution "has been hijacked and we must take it back."

"I wanted to tell the American people it is time to stand up against what is happening since our government, Constitution and country are being taken from us," said Mann from his Kalamazoo home. "We need to act now but I fear it may be too late."

Like Mann, James Vaughn of a small Southern Illinois town of 4,000 feels the same way. To express his concern, he has started a web site, calling attention to what he calls the "Un-Patriot Act," as well as expressing concern over the illegally Iraqi War and government involvement in 9/11.

Vaughn also has written a passionate letter to his U.S. Sen. Dick Durbin (D-Ill) in opposition to the Patriot Act, but said Durbin sent him a letter, saying he supports it.

And Vaughn said Durbin's written response was "shocking," as well as a clear indication of the corruption on both sides of the political aisle.

"I also get questions as to why "Democrats" do not put a stop to the lies? Answer, they also lie," said Vaughn. "I emailed Sen. Durbin asking him to reject the 'unPatriot Act' extensions. What I got in return was shocking, and I fired off a reply right back at him."

Here is an excerpt from Sen. Durbin's disturbing response, showing his strict obedience to the neo con hierarchy:

"I share your interest in protecting our civil liberties, and I am committed to preserving our freedoms during war and peace. We must not forget the painful lessons we learned in the past when we sacrificed liberty in the name of security. We should never again repeat past mistakes the government has made, including the internment mandates of World War II and the wide-ranging investigations of the McCarthy era.

"Congress responded promptly to the attacks on September 11th by crafting bipartisan anti-terrorism legislation called the USA PATRIOT Act. I supported this legislation because it addressed gaps in our laws that have unnecessarily hindered law enforcement efforts against terrorists and other criminals. The bill updated wiretap and electronic surveillance laws that had been unchanged since the era of rotary telephones. This bill also provided authorization to hire more FBI translators, to triple the number of agents along our northern border, and to provide assistance to crime victims and to the families of fallen public safety officers.

The "Keepers of Doom" Better Known As The Illuminati Have Taken Over Every Major Government And Religion of The World, Controlling Both Sides of War While Breeding Hatred Through Deception

They play for keeps as the Luciferian 'masters of deception' are preparing Americans for fascism and World War III.

24 Feb 2006

By Greg Szymanski

David Bay knows the "nasty little secret" kept hidden by the leaders of world's major religions and governments.

And he knows exposing the evil secret is extremely dangerous, since the "keepers of doom" play for keeps, using deception, bribery and murder as their daily working tools.

In fact, as the days appear to dwindle to a precious few for America, the "keepers of doom" better known as the Illuminati, actually think they have won the final battle of their Luciferian prophecy, the plan now leading up to World War III and the destruction of America.

"Once the secret of how the Illuminati really operates is known, it is then up to the American people and the people of the world to stage massive uprisings and protests," said Bay of Cutting Edge Ministries, a Christian ministry designed to fight the oppression and fascism of the New World Order.

Most people when trying to finger the real culprits behind the New World Order are deceived, hoodwinked and manipulated into looking in the wrong direction, looking left when they should be looking right.

And Bay, who feels he has uncovered the secrets of the Illuminati master plan through years of biblical and historical research, said the masters of deception have essentially learned how to create a world wide environment of hatred by controlling both sides of every major war and pitting cultures, religions and nations against one another through covert means.

"The Illuminati are the masters of infiltration and deception," reminds Bay about the Luciferian group who he says is the ultimate chameleon, changing faces to meet their diabolical needs. "In a Christian country, they blend in and become Christians. In a Muslim or predominantly Jewish country, they do the same. They blend in and destroy from within as their ultimate goal is a one world fascist government and a one world religion.

"The same thing happens in the governments of the world. In America, they have taken over, as they control from within by spreading war when they proclaim peace is their objective and spreading fascism in the name of freedom and democracy.

Bay said the idea and the core beliefs behind the Illuminati world domination game plan are fairly simple to comprehend, since it evolved from a philosophy that was its complete opposite.

He said Adam Weishaupt, a Jesuit priest who created the Masters of the Illuminati during the days our country was first founded, felt the teachings of Sir Francis Bacon and others could never be realized, saying a world utopia could never be created through peace and goodness, but only through violence and war.

Bay said America's present-day leaders, including the Bush family follow the Weishaupt teachings, now grown to become the worldwide Illuminati, including the usurpation of the Vatican as well as other major religions.

Bay said in a book entitled "The Broken Cross: Hidden Hand In The Vatican", by an ex-Catholic priest Piers Compton, tracing the Papal takeover by the Illuminati through the Jesuits, Weishaupt's evil intentions are revealed.

"Adam Weishaupt could view the prospect before him with a military mind. He had thrust and vision. He knew the value of surprise, which is grounded in secrecy...He was single-minded....He would blend mankind into one whole, eliminate tradition... suppress dogma... Weishaupt set himself apart from his fellows in the name of universal brotherhood. The ideal state that Weishaupt had in mind was...founded upon the impossible dream of human perfection," said Compton about the initial founding of the Illuminati America, which is now in its final stages of war and mass genocide to bring about a utopia for the so-called "chosed people."

"On the First day of May, 1776, the secret society that was to profoundly affect much subsequent history came into existence as the Illuminati. The date and certain of its implications are noteworthy," as April 30 and May 1 are the two days of the Satanic holy sabbath, called "Beltaine".

Bay added for Weishaupt and his satanic followers, many in control of America today, this sabbath is the most important of the year, except for Halloween as human sacrifice is required on May 1 every year."

And within 13 short years, Weishaupt's satanic philosophy of freemasonry spread throughout Europe, infiltrating Masonic lodges and spreading its evil tentacles through various occult organizations.

In America, freemasonry was also corrupted with its leader Albert Pike, whose statue is still standing in Washington D.C., making a three-fold prediction, regarding the domination of the New World Order.

Not only have his writings in the early 1800's predicted World War I and II, but he claimed he had a vision of World War III taking place in the Middle East between Israel and her Arab neighbors, written at a time before the present day Israeli state was even created.

Besides the necessity of creating war through the takeover of all major world governments, the Illuminati powers, who also took over the world's financial institutions, realized before world domination could occur, Catholicism had to be infiltrated and controlled.

And Bay said this is where Compton's book plays a pivotal role in how the Illuminati accomplished the Vatican takeover.

"Compton published his book through Channel Islands, Neville Spearman in 1981. However, this book is almost impossible to find, because it was withdrawn within weeks of its initial release. I found this book in the Boston Public Library, where it is classified as a Reference Book, which means that no one can check it out. You can only read it at the library," said Bay.

"The precepts of this book are not entirely new; we have read much of this material before from non-Catholic sources. But, this is the first time that a former insider has confirmed what other authors have stated. Therefore, this book becomes a very important resource.

"In this book, he traces the alleged infiltration of the Roman church by the Illuminati. Of course, the Illuminati refers to those who are active in moving the world into the Satanic New World Order. Several other authors also have reported that the Roman Catholic Church is heavily involved in providing both spiritual and political leadership in this effort. We have heard Pope John Paul II preaching many of the themes of the New World Order and actively leading the world wide Ecumenical Movement, to the point of sharing the church podium with representatives of pagan religions. We have also reported to you the conclusions of Malachi Martin, a former Jesuit and professor at the Vatican's Pontifical Biblical Institute, in his book, "The Keys Of This Blood", where he boldly states that Pope John Paul II is leading the world spiritually into the New World Order.

"But, we have never had any former insider confirming what other authors have stated, that the Roman Catholic Papacy has been infiltrated and taken over by the Illuminati. Piers Compton is that man. He is a traditional and still practicing Catholic, who has written this book as a protest against the Catholic Church for its abandonment of its traditional teachings on Christian truth. This book details these recent changes."

Bay then goes in depth in an article on his web site about Compton's findings at www.cuttingedge.org.

"Compton then addresses the basic requirement for money. After all, Satan would not conceive of this most brilliant plan to take over the world without ensuring that the plotters would be properly backed financially. Satan had his man at the right financial helm, the Rothschild's of Germany.

"He (Weishaupt) was backed financially, as are most, if not all, anarchistic leaders, by a group of bankers under the House of Rothschild. It was under their direction that the long-range and worldwide plans of the Illuminati were drawn up..." Why would experienced international bankers like the Rothschilds be interested in a plan to take over the world for an absolute dictator? Because an absolute dictator could guarantee an absolute economic monopoly throughout the entire world. A world wide monopoly would produce historically unprecedented wealth for the bankers. Thus, the unlimited greed of man is providing the financial backing for the greatest evil the world has ever seen. But, we Christians should not be surprised, because the Apostle Paul, writing in 1 Timothy 6:10, that "The love of money is the root of all evil".

Compton then addresses the spiritual nature of this Jesuit priest who had just founded the Masters of the Illuminati. We learn that, not only was Weishaupt occultic, he and his key leaders were adepts in the ancient art of witchcraft.

"Excursions in the realm of the occult have earned ...a variety of epithets...charlatan, astrologer, possessor of the secret of eternal youth and of the great universal medicine...Weishaupt's claim to be possessed of an other-world influence may not have been wholly false... having the tests that made him a full-blooded Illuminist (the ceremony took place at night, in an underground vault near Frankfurt)...

"As part of the secrecy that masked its strength... leaders of the Society adopted classical names, mostly from Greek or Roman myth and history.... If this description of this particular Satanic initiation ceremony sounds familiar, you are remembering our description of the initiation of the Skull and Bones Secret Society of which President George Bush was an adept.

"The line of leadership succession toward the drive to the New World Order has always passed through Satanic Illuminist secret societies. Secret societies have always functioned as Satan's church, as the only way to pass the baton from generation to generation."

Finally, after 200 years, Bay said the Masters of the Illuminati Secret Society -- originators of the concept The New World Order -- have achieved one of their major objectives, the infiltrating of their own Illuminist as Supreme Pontiff of the Roman Catholic Church.

This breakthrough, according to Bay, occurred in the early 1960's when Pope Paul VI came into power.

"This time period also fits in with the general period of spiritual degradation and apostasy which we have noted in earlier programs and in our seminar," said Bay. "Interestingly, Christian author Bill Cooper, in his book, Behold A Pale Horse, states, 'In 1952, an alliance was formed bringing...together for the first time in history: The Black Families (European Nobility which have historically practiced occultic spiritualism), The Illuminati, The Vatican, and the Freemason, now working together to bring about the New World Order.'"

U.S. Fascists In Washington Want To Put Muzzle On "Bad Dogs" In The Alternative Press

Nazi-like legislation in the works to stop Bush dissent "dead in its tracks" before massive revolt begins as the Bush lies are coming to the surface and top officials know it.

23 Feb 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The first sign of putting the muzzle on the "bad dogs" in the alternative press is starting to rear its ugly head on Capitol Hill, as freedom of speech leading to a citizen rebellion is one thing the fascists in Washington fear the most.

And as a way to silence Bush administration critics, many first amendment advocates for years have called attention to an eventual "clampdown" on the internet, including dissident forum bloggers, by the use of sophisticated technical means.

But now legislators and attorneys in the Justice Department are busy at work drafting 'Nazi-like' speech suppression laws, geared at putting "the finishing touches" on any serious movement that could topple the fascist neo con agenda.

It is no secret the mainstream press is in total syncopation with the administration, allowing its domestic and foreign war agenda to proceed on schedule and without serious question, leading to an eventual destruction of America.

Recently, the discussion to illegally gag the alternative press came up at a Feb. 6 U.S. Senate Judiciary Committee hearing when Sen. Lindsey Graham (R-SC), told Attorney General Alberto Gonzalez that the administration has the "duty to pursue Fifth Column movements."

Sen. Graham, who volunteered to work with the administration to draft guidelines to suppress the "dissident press," went on to tell Gonzalez:

"I stand by this President's ability, inherent to being Commander in Chief, to find out about Fifth Column movements and I don't think you need a warrant to do that Graham added."

In response, Gonzales said: "Senator, the President already said we'd be happy to listen to your ideas."

Further, other information has surfaced in relation to the NSA "spygate" story, Bush and his cronies have already been working on divisive measures to deal with Americans considered disloyal or who disseminate information "helpful to the enemy."

However, critics complain Bush is merely trying to protect groundswell of Americans from finding out about his real "lying agenda," including the administration's role in bringing about 9/11 and the fixing of the WMD evidence surrounding the Iraqi war.

Critics also contend the "masters of deception," including Defense Secretary Donald Rumsfeld, want to "cut-off" any news that undercuts the Bush policies, considering this as Rumsfeld has been quoted, "as a key method to defeating the terrorists, who are aided and abetted by news informers."

If the administration pursues this strategy, questions first need to be raised as to who is the real enemy, as many consider the real enemy to be within the White House, and where is the line drawn between suppression of speech and a legitimate search for the truth.

Two other developments have also surfaced behind the scenes, indicating the administration is already planning a deceptive campaign to house dissident Americans in concentration camps and existing military facilities.

Recently, the Army Corps of Engineers gave Kellogg Brown & Root (KBR), a Haliburton subsidiary, a $385 million contract to construct detention centers somewhere in the United States, to deal with "an emergency influx of immigrants into the U.S., or to support the rapid development of new program."

The New York Times then reported that KBR would build "the centers for the Homeland Security Department for an unexpected influx of immigrants, to house people in the event of a natural disaster."

Further, there have been reports that more than 800 detention centers, both above and below ground, are ready to house millions of Americans in the event of a massive crisis, including nuclear attack.

Another similar detention program announced recently but given little attention is a small notice posted at the U.S. Army Web site, regarding the Pentagon's Civilian Inmate Labor Program.

This program, according to the web site blurb, "provides Army policy and guidance for establishing civilian inmate labor programs and civilian prison camps on Army installations."

According to the plan's history, it was first drafted in 1997 then underwent a revision on Jan. 14, 2005, providing an agreements between the Army and corrections facilities for the use of civilian inmate labor on Army installations.

Archbishop Paul Marcinkus, 84, Once Involved In The Massive Vatican Bank Scandal, Found Dead At His Home In Sun City, Arizona

Marcinkus always proclaimed he had nothing to do with the scandal, but was still sought by Italian authorities for questioning at the time of his death.

22 Feb 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Archbishop Paul Marcinkus, the head of the Vatican bank before a massive banking scandal forced him out in 1989, has died of natural causes, a spokeswoman for the Phoenix Catholic Diocese said.

After being dismissed from his important Vatican responsibilities, Marcinkus, 84, retired to Phoenix, but remained active in the Church, limiting his activities to saying Mass and other routine services.

Marcinkus was found dead at his Sun City home, a suburb of Phoenix, on Monday evening, said Mary Jo West, a spokeswoman for the Roman Catholic Diocese of Phoenix.

No further evidence or information was available regarding his death, according to diocese officials.

Marcinkus, who was 6 feet, 4 inches, had once acted as a bodyguard to Pope John Paul II during his early foreign travels before taking on the responsibilities as head of the Vatican bank.

Formally known as the Institute for Religious Works, Marcinkus headed the Vatican Bank for 20 years, but was removed when he became an intergral figure in the Italian investigation into the massive scandal.

In 1987, warrants for the arrest of Marcinkus and two lay Vatican bank officials were issued in after Italian prosecutors charged them with being accessories to the fraudulent bankruptcy of Banco Ambrosiano, Italy's largest private bank, which collapsed in 1982 with the disappearance of $1.3 billion.

The missing money, never recovered, was in loans made to 10 dummy companies in Latin America controlled by the Vatican bank.

Italy's Constitutional Court in 1982 ruled that a Vatican-Italian treaty precluded any interference by Italian authorities in the affairs of the Vatican, an independent city-state.

The case was never brought to trial, the Vatican settling out of court with Italian authorities for $241 million. Throughout the entire scandal and up until his death, Marcinkus insisted on his innocence.

At the time of his death, Rome prosecutors were still hoping to question Marcinkus, but he has been kept under protection in Phoenix, Arizona, still being under Vatican diplomatic immunity.

Marcinkus was also linked to the unsolved murder of Roberto Calvi, the former head of Banco Ambrosiano involved in the scandal, as the Vatican insisted Calvi pay back over $154 million in stolen Vatican money.

But the links to those involved in the scandal never were fully explored as investigators were refused permission to ever investigate Marcinkus.

Sources close to Vatican claim that Marcinkus taken to America to keep quiet since he was actually only an "innocent fall guy" for the real culprits pulling the strings behind the scandal.

Those sources close to Vatican contend the Black Pope and the Jesuit Order "in full control of P2 and the Grand Orient Lodges, used Calvi and Michele Sindona, another accomplice also thought murdered, to steal the money, then in Mafia-like fashion had both of them killed.

"Archbishop Marcinkus, being publicly responsible for the loss of the funds of Banco Ambrosiano, then agreed to take the fall, subsequently protecting his Jesuit masters from further investigation," said a source close to the Vatican who wished to remain anonymous.

"It is Jesuit Bishop Hnilica, the untouchable, who is really at the bottom of the scandal and fronting for the Black Pope. I believe Marcinkus was a patsy and that Hnilica is the real culprit and thus the Black Pope."

Sources close to Marcinkus also claim that "all along" he was innocent of any serious wrong doing, including having absolutely nothing to do with Calvi's murder or embezzlement of funds.

Many Come To The Rescue and Vouch For The Integrity And Honesty Of BYU Professor Steven E. Jones

Although he had to cut a deal with BYU brass to continue speaking out for 9/11 truth, colleagues and acquaintances vouch for his credibility.

21 Feb 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Everybody under the sun came to the rescue of BYU physics professor, Steven. E. Jones, after questions were raised by some longtime 9/11 truth advocates about his real intentions.

Emails and calls came in by the hundreds with 8 to 1 supporting Jones, many suggesting the reason for the recent article about his motives "may be suspect."

The real truth, however, is a question differs from an accusation, the sad fact being almost five years after 9/11 most Americans probably would praise Jones for siding with the government, still thinking it's a good thing to keep crazy conspiracy theorists at bay.

But in the small microcosm of 9/11, feathers get ruffled easily since most, including Jones, are not used to the public attention that now comes with the highly public and controversial territory.

In fact, if Jones is to ever act as credible expert witness on behalf of the people of the United States versus the 9/11 mass murder culprits, he better start answering questions right now since the American people deserve to know about his past in order that his testimony doesn't backfire on severe public scrutiny and harsh cross-examination.

And people like Jones who want to keep one foot in the fire and one foot out are also not at all aware of heavy government infiltration in this important movement, some referring the 9/11 truth movement to a box of Raisin Bran with the few honest raisins in the milk surrounded by a whole lot of government bran flakes.

But in defending his honesty and integrity, Jones responded by email, saying he didn't have any hidden agenda, but only wanted to get at the truth behind what really happened the morning of Sept. 11, 2001, when the WTC and Building No. 7 fell in free-fall fashion.

He also categorically denied that the LDS Church hierarchy was involved in any nefarious activities or in satanic rituals, a connection made by others close to the church, including one Utah Mormon recently excommunicated by the LDS Church.

"Your article (appearing Feb. 19 in Arctic Beacon) contains unsubstantiated and false statements and is extremely offensive," wrote Jones in an email after questions were raised about his intentions. "I have been giving and will continue to give public seminars and I assure you I'm not a "government plant".

"As for the Special Prosecutor idea, it will go forward if and only if supported by a majority of the Scholars for 9/11 Truth. So far, the idea (which I credit to Prof. Griffin) has received much support on the Scholars Forum.

"I may even go to media sources, as I have not agreed to do otherwise, although I would personally prefer to avoid such, if that's what it takes to get this nonsense of yours corrected. And your reference to satanic rituals in the LDS hierarchy is false and beyond the pale of decency - do you have any respect for people and for truth at all?"

Although never accused of anything personally and probably is clean as a whistle, Jones defended LDS Church leaders in light of statements made by an excommunicated Mormon, Phd A. True Ott, who recently had his life threatened numerous times by thugs from the LDS for questioning the practices of Satan worshipping at the main Mormon Temple in Salt Lake City.

Ott's historical findings also linked Luciferian-Masonic connections with deep rooted LDS beginnings, making their evil way into the modern day church, said Ott, through numerous accounts collected by him calling attention to devil worshipping rituals.

"LDS church orchestrated violence was unleashed against me, starting with a red cross painted on my Cedar City doorstep. I was then excommunicated for my views, which is coming out in my new book called Free At Last," said Ott in a recent phone conversation from his Utah home.

Regarding 9/11, Jones went public months ago but supposedly backed out of the public limelight after only a short week of media interviews, including an MSNBC television appearance with Tucker Carlson.

His quick exit and BYU background, coming from a conservative/neo con academic institution known for heavily recruiting CIA/FBI, caused honest 9/11 advocates to think something "was rotten in Denmark."

Jones also claims he has cut a deal with BYU brass where he can only speak at "academic functions," justifying a reason for turning down numerous appearances, including a recent invitation to organize a gala speaking event in Austin, Texas.

Further, Jones and other professors are openly calling for a special prosecutor Watergate-type investigation, which many honest people in the 9/11 movement, including Phillip Jayhan of LetsRoll911.org, say is nothing but a waste of time.

"This is no way to get a fair investigation," said Jayhan, adding any compromise with BYU by somebody seeking the truth needs to be explored.

However, fellow 9/11 advocate, James Fetzer, Phd, from the University of Minnesota and member of Scholars for the Truth, an organization Jones has since joined, said he vouches for his academic group's quest for the truth and his colleague "110%."

"I'm really floored!" said Fetzer in an email. What in the world is going on? You are attacking Steve Jones as a "self appointed leader" of the 9/11 movement? When I founded Scholars for 9/11 Truth, I invited him to join me as co-chair. He had earned it by virtue of the courage and leadership that he had demonstrated in presenting unpopular views and supporting them with research based on physics!

"That is genuine "leadership" and there is nothing "self-appointed" about what he is doing as the co-chair of this society. I am also a bit taken aback by our insinuation that anyone who might contemplate the idea of using a special prosecutor is therefore somehow a dupe, off-the wall, or some kind of dis-information agent! Surely you can understand that it takes quite a lot of exposure to the kinds of things that occur with governmental cover-ups to begin to appreciate that using a special prosecutor is not highly likely to be a successful strategy in getting out the truth.

"But it is certainly one that is worth considering. Patrick Fitzgerald is a case in point. BYU is a very conservative, private institution in a very conservative state. There was a move to restrict his research in this area entirely, but they reached an accommodation. Whether or not you were privy to it at the time it was put in place appears to be unimportant, but I can assure you that Steve would be making more and more public presentations were it not for his having been "reined in" by his own institution. Whether that is a good thing or not, it is the reality, one that you should take into account.

"Moreover, while Steve was unable to make his case with Tucker Carlson, surely you could see that Tucker cut him off, would not play even the brief video of the collapse of WTC7 that he had brought along, and otherwise abused him. I would suggest, by the way, that that is what you are doing here: abusing him! Which makes me very disappointed in you. Please think about what I am saying here.

"The only grounds on your side is that, in your opinion, his judgment on a special prosecutor is rather naive. That may or may not be true, but it hardly justifies an all out assault on a good man who is moving the ball forward in the search for truth about 9/11."

Another emailer, Charles Galway, had this to say about Jones:

"He's simply an academic physics professor at BYU, and LDS. Since I was raised in Salt Lake City Utah (50 years), had LDS parents (for at least the first part of my life, and know many LDS members, I'd like to inform you that they are not all Satanists. I lived with a person for about two years that had a childhood satanic background and certainly don't find it that similar to my LDS friends," said Galway.

"In fact, currently I have a friend (of about 20+ years), supporting Dr. Jones in some preparation work, and so I have a strong inside connection there. Dr. Jones does teach at BYU, and I suspect that Dr. Jones has neither the inclination to be an active media spokesman, or absolute (BYU) academic freedom to do so. I can say that his religion has references (Book of Mormon) warning the people to be wary of kings (or leaders) that wage offensive wars, and Dr. Jones seems to take this as a warning to the "faithful" (as we say here in Mormon-Land).

"Dr. Jones wants to concentrate on the "facts" that can be evaluated, but is also aware that the facts don't exist independent of the political implications. "He does believe an independent investigation is called for. I really doubt that he understands that from your point of view -- where there's the danger of manipulation (ala the 9/11 (c) Omission report. What he wants is a truly independent investigation, and probably one with subpoena power. That independence in fact may require an international effort.

"I personally think you should apologize for the slur-like references, and be a little nicer to a fellow "truth-seekers". I have a background in mechanical. engineering, Biology (B.Sci.) and a Masters in Secondary Education as well as having worked on a number of DOD research projects. Anyway, I find Dr. Jones' analyses to be quite well done, and very convincing."

Sold As A Child Sacrifice To The Illuminati Cult, Victim Survives Ritualistic Drowning To Tell Her Story. High Level Officials and Nazi War Criminals Involved, Including Ronald Reagan and Nazi Joseph Mengele

Mauri tells about satanic horror stories beginning in Cedar City, Utah, and then moving to southern California where her life became a nightmare filled with cult torture and abuse.

20 Feb 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Mauri had a tough beginning, being sold by her parents to an Illuminati cult group as a child sacrifice.

At the age of three, offered up in a bathtub drowning, she miraculously survived, coming back from the dead on a slab in a Cedar City, Utah, morgue.

But from that day forward, death may have been a better alternative. It may have been better since Mauri's life became a living hell.

Now, at age 63, she wants to tell it all, telling all the grizzly details of her life filled with torture and sex slavery, since she fears the Illuminati, - whose Luciferian philosophy is based in torture and abuse - is now setting the American public up for fascist takeover.

"They must be stopped," proclaimed Mauri as she told her story on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal. "I hope my story let's the American people know how devious and dangerous these people really are."

And regarding the details of her own tragic story, starting with being sold by her parents in exchange for a house to an Illuminati cult group, involving high-level influential members, she reflected back at the painful and humiliating experience.

"Why a drowning? I had a birth certificate, two loving grandmothers, and most of my large extended Mormon family was not cult, so my death had to look like an accident," recalled Mauri about her lifetime of abuse within the clutches of the feared Illuminati.

"When the cult got wind of the fact that I survived, after all the trouble and expense they had gone to, my family was in big trouble. Within six months that 'nice Nazi doctor' relocated us two states away in sunny California."

Looking back at her past torture and abuse, Maui recalled the specifics of the painful drowning experience as a tear came to her eye.

"I opened my eyes, and I felt my tiny naked body lying flat on a hard cold object without sides. I sat up pushing back the white sheet covering my head and then looked around the small room in which I lay. I felt peaceful and relaxed as my eyes focused on the walls that were made of shiny clean white tiles spaced with clean white grout. Except for a sink and the equipment in the room, I was alone, hidden and safe. I assume I was in the hospital morgue.

"Drowning victims were occasionally taken for dead, when in fact they weren't. I had experienced something called the mammalian diving reflex. I must have satisfied all three of the requirements for stimulating the response. I was young, my face was suddenly submerged and the water was cold. Apparently, until you warmed up, you appeared quite dead even to trained medical personnel. And you could be submerged as long as 38 minutes with little or no brain damage if the reflex was stimulated, which under perfect conditions occasionally happened.

"In my reading, one version of the Black Mass was similar to a Catholic Mass, but instead of wine, water, from a well in which an unbaptized baby had drowned, was used. That would explain why the water in which I was drowned was cold. Perhaps they had filled the tub with well water, which would have been the ambient temperature of fall, or cold. It might have also explained the toys in the tub.

"They were there to keep my mind off the cold water. I didn't think I was allowed toys. Such meticulous worshipers, their adherence to detail may have saved my life. Undoubtedly their intention, like good little depression era witches, was to save every drop. Over and over, they could put up my picture, drink a little Unholy water, and wallow in how evil they all had been."

Reflecting on her ritualistic death that backfired for the cult, she tried to put it in perspective with others who researched similar cases..

"The books by Aleister Crowley said the satanic sacrifice was done to release energy through the death agony. I interpret that to mean, the more agony, the more energy, the better the ceremony," said Mauri. "Ritualistic deaths were most often performed by fire, by drowning and by blood letting, according to the literature. All were potentially slow and painful ways to go, lots of death agony.

" It was a religion in which life meant nothing more than a twenty-minute ritual ending in someone's torture and death. Whatever they did in the ritual after my death, if I was sticky with semen or dirty, they could simply dunk me back into the water or hose me off, put tears in their eyes, wrap my nude body in a blanket and dispose of my corpse at the local hospital. The system would take care of the rest. They were always good at making the system work for them."

Mauri said the main reason for going public with her story is she wanted to "wake up Americans," warning them that the very same people who are torturing and abusing children through satanic worshipping have positioned themselves into high-level government posts, including controlling the Executive branch and the White House.

"Bush is one of them and there are many others,' said Mauri. "When I was in California, I remember Ronald Reagan, John Wayne, Bob Hope and Nazi war criminal, Joseph Mengele, were involved in the ritualistic ceremonies.

Regarding the specifics of the encounters with many high profile figures, Mauri added:

"One can't paint an accurate picture of one's life unless one has all the memory pieces. When parts are repressed, one does not see the whole. If the repression is large, a life-time is spend filling in, adding, and re-arranging one's history as each new bit of information from flashbacks or memories must be interpreted and fit in. That interpretation is based on what one already knows, or what one thinks one knows. In the time-line of false to real, statistics plays a role.

"If one person remembers something that no one else remembers, it can easily be judged as false. But, if five remember, then ten the memory must move down the scale toward real. I state this because one of the childhood lovers I remember was Ronald Reagan, another was Richard P. Feynman. I state these memories, not as an accusation, but only as one person's recollection. To become a part of the historical record, it must be accompanied by the memories of many other survivors. But, unlike the memories of others, that include the rich and powerful, my memories are sad. Sad for me and sad for them.

"I met them around 1950 at a mansion in Pasadena, California (home of Cal Tech, JPL and the Pasadena Playhouse, not to mention the O.T.O.) My job was as a part of the entertainment to provide sexual pleasure in a cute, novel way, as a child under ten. The room that I worked was full of men the Nazis had their eye on, men of potential power and influence. Compromise them, take a photo and they are in, a part of the "Good Ol' Boys" club. Evidence of sex with a pre-pubescent child is a powerful blackmail tool for their future control. Never mind that they might be drunk or drugged or both.

"The room that I worked was not full of pedophiles, making my job all the harder. As I worked my way around the sex ring, I developed my future goals, as all children do. It was to be fetching, charming, intelligent, and beautiful, so that when Prince Charming saw me, across a semen filled room, I would be rescued. Was this love partner Prince Charming, or maybe that? I waited, was deserted, abandoned, and I waited again. If Prince Charming had better things to do than rescue me, then I wanted to do those things too. So I became excited about what went on in the room along with the men, and it wasn't sex. I remember the real excitement was in the conversation about science or politics. I was a part of those planning history. We were going to the moon!

"Were photos of Feynman or Reagan taken in compromising positions with children? It would appear. From his biography, just round 1950, Ronald Reagan suddenly changed his politics and moved in a new direction toward a Brave New World. Feynman went on to a distinguished career, even winning a Nobel prize for his contributions to Nazi Physics. It is highly likely that the Pasadena Mansion was the home of the famed rocket scientist Jack Parsons.

"I also remember other famous guests such as John Wayne, Howard Hughes and my vote for the anti-Christ, Edward Teller (father of the Hydrogen Bomb and Chemtrails) . There appears to be some historical physical evidence for the slime that has leaked from my subconscious mind about my notorious past. This activity also peaked the interest of the FBI."

Mauri also recalled how her life immediately changed after not obeying the instructions of one of the Nazi's who regularly visited the home she stayed at in Manhattan Beach, California, owned by a woman named Mrs. Hildebrand.

"I remember Mrs. Hildebrand's friend handing me a knife. He wanted me to use it to kill a chicken," said Mauri. "I was very agitated about the use of a knife. I had refused to cut up my doll, five years earlier, and it was a stand I was not going to back down on. After all, I had gotten away with it then. An intense psychological struggle began, his will verses mine. He grabbed at my arms painfully, then the chicken, white feathers flapping wildly, he strangled the chicken with his bare hands. We moved on to his next task. I was ordered to cut myself. I was not going to cut myself! Why should I become one of them? I thought I would pass out at the very thought of cutting myself. I felt immobilized, frozen. Perhaps it was time to leave the body. It's hard to program someone when they keep passing out, leaving the body behind. It was my strategy. If I was not present what could they do?"

"Having crossed Mrs. Hildebrand's friend, they were now mad at me. No bad deed goes unpunished. My waist length hair was ordered cut and all my meager possessions removed. Isn't that what they did at Auschwitz? You may be sure I felt steps from the ovens. And I was well aware of who I was dealing with, having seen many of the post war pictures of the Holocaust.

"That's how traumatized I was by the emotion under which it was cut. My life changed. No longer did I rub noses with the rich and powerful. I was demoted to breeder under the tutelage of my parents and their coven. What a fall from grace. I no longer worked the room. Now the room worked me, as I was regularly gang raped.

But wait! Maybe it wasn't such a change after all. I had few possessions before and eventually my hair did grow back. And being raped by one stranger isn't that much different from another. The Nazis were gone; and the members of my parent's coven were nicer."

Editor's Note: Mauri finally left the clutches of the Illuminati, being emotionally and mentally scared for life as she still is battling difficulties with multiple personality disorders due to MKULTRA and other mind control programs used on her throughout the years. Is Professor Steven E. Jones "For Real" Or Is He Leading Truth-Seekers Into "A Den Of Wolves"?

Why in the world world would anyone want to get a 9/11 investigation before a supposed "independent prosecutor" like Wategate. It seems Jones ia acting like a self-appointed leader of the 9/11 truth movement when really he may be only a "Johnny Come Lately" put in as a government plant. Critics say only "time will tell" and that any fair investigation of 9/11 needs to be miles away from the corrupt Washington crowd or a phony independent prosecutor.

19 Feb 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The BYU physics professor who claims the WTC fell from a controlled demolition and 9/11 was an inside government job now wants to organize a Watergate-type independent investigation in order to get at the illusive truth hidden by corrupt Washington Luciferian worshipping politician.

Coming from Utah and the LDS church, whose hierarchy is infested with satanic traditions and rituals, Professor Steven E. Jones is an unlikely candidate to be swinging the 9/11 truth torch, swinging it from the historically Masonic-Freemason BYU podium where these traditions have a long and storied background in the foundation of LDS principals.

Jones, however, appeared at first to be a straight-shooter but in the 9/11 truth movement, where deception is wielded with an unsteady sword, it has always been difficult to put the true finger on the real players and the real imposters.

For example, Jones came out the woodwork several months ago, with the innocence of a lamb, telling the world his physics calculations didn't add up and the government story couldn't be believed.

After about five days in he limelight, however, and appearing on CNN with Tucker Carlson, he bowed out of the public eye, saying he was one with interviews after being only a select few truth shows, including Greg Szymanski's Investigative Journal on the Republic Broadcasting Network.

The quick stage right exit was viewed by many in the 9/11 truth movement as "strange," critics suggesting he was a plant with a much different agenda afoot than merely getting at the truth., suggesting he was designed as an "inside controller" in order to blind side the truth seeking troops.

These Jones' critics, who basically gave him the benefit of the doubt waiting for the fruits of his actions to show his true colors, said the government 9/11 co-conspirators were now conceding the controlled demolition theory and setting the stage for a phony and contrived investigation - like the Warren Commission - to blame 9/11 on other groups, instead of nabbing the real Luciferian culprits who have infiltrated in the U.S. government and major religions, including Jews, Christians, Mormons and Muslims.

Jones, contacted this week by the Arctic Beacon, said he was still refusing public speaking or media interviews, saying he has reached an agreement with BYU brass that he limit public visibility to only "academic" related events.

Regarding the move to get an independent Watergate-type investigation, Jones said he was getting support for this idea among many other professors.

"This is a difficult, but I know that David Ray Griffin has also pushed for this," said Jones this week from his BYU office

However, the idea to create a "fair" Watergate 9/11 investigation seems a bit suspicious since all other investigations in the past involving the government, like the Warren Commission, the 9/11 Commission and Watergate, never have produced fair results.

In fact, many in the 9/11 movement, who can be trusted, said the whole Jones affair "may just be smoke and mirrors" adding "the fix is already in."

Although Jones again claimed to be bowing out of the picture, in the last several months he has done anything but that, appearing at numerous speaking events, forming a 9/11 Truth Scholars web site with other academicians and now pushing the idea of an independent Watergate-type investigation.

"It smells funny anytime the government is involved," said one 9/11truth advocate. "If Jones were serious, he would push for a worldwide independent investigation of judicial minds, free from Washington corruptions since not only Americans brutally murdered at 9/11 but so where many citizens from all over the world.

"I wouldn't surprised if they had the whole investigation planned, pinning the WTC attacks on patsies, leaving the real killers to walk free. Their modus operandi is to control, deceive and then pretend and it appears this is where the Jones fiasco is leading now."

Last week Jones, whose activities were covered by the mainstream press giving further indication of possible corrupted motives, gave a presentation at Brigham Young University about his theory that World Trade Center Building 7 was destroyed by controlled demolition rather than the government's jet fuel theory.

Scholars for 9/11 Truth, which Jones co-founded, is putting together a list of questions and will ask for a special prosecutor like the one used to probe the Watergate scandal, he said in the local Utah Daily Herald said:

"Remember, I'm not alone anymore. I've got over 100 plus professors with me," referring to the jump in membership in the Scholars group from about 40 to more than 140 since he spoke at Utah Valley State College on Feb. 1.

Professor Jones, the now self-appointed leader, should be reminded he originally was a "Johnny come lately," never standing alone, never the leader of the 9/11 truth movement and actually following in the footsteps of many who came before him with the exact same information.

He should also be reminded, said one of his critics, that "the 9/11 troops should not be led directly into the wolves den, the exact place a Watergate-type investigation is leading."

Homeland Security Clamps Down On Boise Navy Veteran and Federal Employee For Anti-War Bumper Stickers Dwight Scarbrough has filed a lawsuit to protect his freedom of speech rights in the face of Gestapo-like tactics geared at keeping Americans in step with draconian Bush administration policies.

18 Feb 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The wicked, oppressive and sinister eyes of Homeland Security are everywhere, as average Americans from east coast to west are quickly learning what it means to "to be shut up" by fascist rules and regulations designed to "to toe the party line" or else!

In Seattle, 9/11 truth seeker Susan Elmes knows what it's like to have her apartment raided and her cat poisoned for putting anti-Bush bumper stickers on her car.

In the small town of Livingston, Montana, Dan Nelson knows what it's like to be run-off the road by Homeland Security vehicles and zapped by electronic weaponry for researching 9/11 and going public with his anti-government findings.

And now from Boise comes another horror story about how one more average American has been contacted by Homeland Security agents and told "point blank" to remove several bumper stickers from his Ford Ranger parked in a federal employee parking lot where he works.

"We are living under fascism and this is one of the most repressive government's I have seen in my 51 years," said federal employee and former Navy veteran, Dwight Scarbrough, in an extended Friday phone conversation from his Boise home. "What happened to me was a typical example of fascist behavior. They are destroying the fabric of our communities in so many ways, including killing off our children in Iraq and ruining the financial base of our cities."

Scarbrough, who served in the Navy on a submarine from 1975-80 at Pearl Harbor in Hawaii, said "it was ironic" that during his military stint he supposedly protected his country from the "Red Scare" while now he lived under it right here in America.

As a perfect example of the "New American Fascist State," he said on February 7 two officers from Homeland Security approached him at his office at the Natural Resource Center, saying he had to immediately remove the bumper stickers from his vehicle for being in violation of federal law in displaying "placards on public property."

The bumper stickers in question were "Death in Iraq is not a career opportunity for young Americans, Freedom is the distance between church and state and God blesses all nations, not just the U.S.A." Besides the stickers, on the tail gate of his Ranger, Scarbrough lists the updated Iraqi War death count and injured weekly, saying this week the totals are 2,271 dead and more than 16,500 injured.

"I told the agents I wasn't taking off the bumper stickers and that the law in question does not cover signs or placards on my vehicle which is personal property," said Scarbrough who told agents he was taping the conversation that took place by his Ranger.

Since the incident, Homeland Security has not contacted Scarbrough and he has filed a First Amendment lawsuit to protect his speech rights with a notable Boise civil rights attorney, Michael Bartlett of Nevin, Benjamin and McKay.

Bartlett is known for two high profile favorable verdicts for one of the Ruby Ridge victims and for a Muslim college student in Boise wrongfully accused by federal prosecutors for having ties to al Qaeda.

"Since I have spent much time overseas, I see my country through the eyes of my foreign friends," said Scarbrough, adding he thinks it's of utmost importance to fight back against fascism before it's too late. "My friends overseas like the American people, realize 9/11 was caused by the U.S. government and hate the American imperialistic policies, killing people throughout the world."

The following is the text of the tape recorded conversation between Scarbrough and Homeland Security agents on Feb. 7 at his Ford Ranger in the Natural Resources Agency parking lot. It's interesting to note one agent identified himself only as Officer R. while both wore Homeland Security insignias on the shoulders.

Officer: Step back here please.

Dwight Scarbrough: Let's have a seat.

O: I'd like to talk to you.

DS: Let's have a seat.

O: Sir, come over here please.

DS: I don't want to come over there. I want to sit down.

O: Let me tell you what's going on here. OK, there's a violation of the code of federal regulations.

DS: For what?

O: The CFR. 41, CFR, 102, 74, 415. Posting or affixing signs, pamphlets, handbills or flyers on federal property. Do you understand that?

DS: I'm not doing anything on federal property.

O: Yes, sir, you've got signs posted on your vehicle. I'm informing you that you're in violation.

DS: That's not illegal. That's not illegal.

O: You're posting ...

DS: I ... All right.

O: Would you like to listen to me before ... sir...

DS: [To his co-worker] Would you go get [their supervisor]?

O: I need you to listen when I'm talking, sir.

DS: [To co-worker]. Would you go get [him] please? [To officer] I'm listening.

O: Okay.

DS: You're at my place of work, first of all. And you're harassing me.

O: Sir, you're in violation of the code of federal regulations.

DS: I'm not in violation.

O: You're posting signs on this property.

DS: I am not posting signs. That's on a private vehicle.

O: Sir, I'm here to tell you now that you have to remove those signs.

DS: Was the law just changed?

O: No, there was no law just changed.

DS: Then it's not a violation.

O: I just told you what the law is, sir.

DS: It is not a violation. I've read the statutes already.

O: If you do not comply with my order to remove the signs from the property, I will cite you for it, OK? Do you understand that?

DS: You know what? This is harassment.

O: No, sir, it's not.

DS: Yes, it is.

O: No, it's not.

DS: Say it again, please. (Holds up microphone.) This is harassment.

O: Do you understand what I've told you?

DS: I understand what you've told me, but I've also read the statute that as a federal employee--

O: I've just given you an order and told you to remove those signs from the property.

DS: I will move my vehicle off the property.

O: That will be fine. That will comply with it, and we don't have to ...

DS: You know this is total B.S., though. Because--will you get [his supervisor], please?--I've already had this conversation once, and we've already looked up all the statues and laws covering personal vehicles with stick ... with anything on them on government property. And it is not illegal.

O: It's in 41 CFR. Look that up.

D: "Why don't you look it up?" I have.

O: 41 CF4 102--

D: What is the violation?

O: Posting of signs on--

D: Which one?

O: I just told you the violation.

D: Those are not signs.

O: Twice now I've told you.

D: Those are not signs.

O: Yes, sir, they are. What are they then?

D: So any vehicle that comes on with, like, a police sign, or with delivery or FedEx or something, that's not a sign?

O: All signs are prohibited--

D: You know you're harassing me. You know you're harassing me.

O: No, sir, I'm not.

D: You know the Department of Homeland Security is giving me harassment--

O: Sir--

D: --because I'm a person who happens to express my viewpoints on my vehicle.

O: I need you to comply with my order and remove the signs...

D: Who has filed a complaint?

O: ...you said you'd do that, that's fine ...

D: Who has filed a complaint? Who has filed a complaint?

O: No one has filed a complaint, sir.

D: Well, then what's the complaint?

O: It's law enforcement on federal property.

D: You know this is ... I would like my supervisor down here, please.

O: This doesn't concern him at all.

D: Yes, it does, because I've already had this discussion with him, and I've already been asked to change the signs, and I did. And I looked up all the statutes.

O: (Muffled)

D: Do you have a piece of paper with the number then, please?

O: I told you the number.

D: I would like to write it down, then.

O: I will give you a piece of paper ...

D: Just write it down. That's all I'm asking.

O: But I need you to comply with my instructions to remove the--

D: You're harassing me, in other words.

O: Sir, this is not harassment.

D: It's crap, and you know it.

O: No, sir, it is not.

D: It is. Okay, go ahead.

O: 41, C-F-R...

D: 41, C-F-R...

O: 102 ...

D: 102 ...

O: 74 ...

D: 74 ...

O: Subpart C ...

D: Subpart C ...

O: Paragraph 415.

D: Paragraph 415.

O: And they are posted at the entrances to federal facilities, as they are here, and it is referenced.

D: And this defines exactly what "signs" are, right?

O: It says "signs," sir.

D: Yeah. You're harassing me. I'll be back in a minute. I don't have my keys with me.

O: Sir--

D: I don't have my car keys with me.

O: Okay.

D: I had no clue what you were here to bother me about ... (walks toward door)... this is your buddy, your boss and my boss harassing people for expressing political viewpoints. And you know it. There's nothing illegal about it. (Door beeps).

After the confrontation, Scarbrough moved his car to the parking lot in front of a nearby Goodwill store.

"Scarbrough was still "very distraught"--both by the accusations and by the way the officers maneuvered themselves," said a co-worker.

Scarbrough added:

"I wasn't arrested, but I could have been. I was still violated and harassed."

Taking the following week off from work, looking up the law officers said he violated. The law reads:

"All persons entering in or on Federal property are prohibited from: ...

(b) Posting or affixing materials, such as pamphlets, handbills, or flyers, on bulletin boards or elsewhere on GSA-controlled property..."

However, federal officers most likely violated Scarbrough's freedom of speech rights under the Hatch Act, allowing political bumper stickers on cars parked on federal property, with no stated limitation on either size or number of stickers.

New Orleans Evacuees Given "Raw Deal" As FEMA Money Running Out; Baton Rouge Motel Manager Says He Didn't Try To Evict Evacuees As Media
First Reported

Many displaced New Orleans residents may have nowhere to go after March 1 deadline when FEMA money runs out.

17 Feb 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The manager of a Baton Rouge motel, housing Katrina evacuees, Thursday said stories claiming he was evicting residents indiscriminately "were just not true," as media reports were initially blown out of proportion.

Brent Servario, manager of the Pines Motel, said local television and news reports "got the real story all wrong" by saying he tried to clear out all 30 rooms of evacuees against a recent federal court ruling protecting evacuees from eviction until March 1.

Instead, Servario claims authorities of the Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) are the real culprits for leaving the hotel in disrepair and not reimbursing management for damages caused by a small group of unruly tenants.

The court ruling stopping all temporary housing facilities from evicting evacuees contains a clause giving owners the right to evict tenants who break the law or do not comply with normal hotel policies, including vandalism, drug abuse or prostitution.

"I never tried to evict everybody as initially reported. I only was following the court order which allows us to evict tenants damaging property or violating the law," said Servario in an extended Thursday telephone conversation from the Baton Rouge motel.

"Most of the tenants are no trouble but there are some bad apples who have caused extensive damage to a vending machine and some rooms. I never tried to evict everyone. That was just not true."

Besides the inaccurate media coverage, Servario puts most of the blame on FEMA, who has not "lived up to their end of the bargain," leaving the motel in the lurch with expensive maintenance and repair bills.

"This is just a massive waste of taxpayer money to begin with. FEMA should be getting the people back to their homes instead of wasting millions on out-of-state motel bills," said Servario. "What makes it worse is that we may end up having to pay expensive repair bills out of our own pockets."

"Most people here want to go home anyway and are caught behind a rock and a hard place. Some, of course, are better off here than in New Orleans, but most are not.

Servario added FEMA programs geared at keeping people "away from home" makes no sense, leading to a massive waste of taxpayer money and added financial burdens to out-of-state businesses, as well as defeating the real purpose of getting evacuees back into their New Orleans homes.

"All our problems started with FEMA programs not working and now we are made to look like the bad guys in the press," he added.

The original report from Chelby Kosto of WBRZ from Baton Rouge said Servario and his wife, Dana, were trying to evict each tenant from all 30 rooms despite FEMA footing the bill and tenants having "FEMA codes" allowing them to stay until March 1.

Servario claims the full truth needs to be told, saying FEMA has not paid all the bills, including damage caused by the unruly tenants ordered to stay at the Pines.

"I'll tell you the real truth but you have to promise me you won't have Bush's boys come down here and lock me up," said Servario. "And if I was one of these evacuees, seeing how they have been treated, I would ring the neck of the head of FEMA, plain and simple. I'm not kidding. It's that bad."

With the situation reported even worse in New Orleans, evacuees at the Pines and many other similar places across the country are wondering "where to go" when the March 1 expiration of FEMA voucher funds ends in many places, as well as a slow recovery process taking place in the Big Easy due to lopsided FEMA programs allocating hundreds of millions out of state instead of spending the money to repair homes in New Orleans.

"They want to keep the lower and middle income people away so the government can steal their property," said Brandon Darby of Common Cause Relief, a private group helping many residents in the poorer neighborhoods repair their homes in the face of a government land grab.

"It's like ghost town in the lower 9th Ward. People should be brought back home or housed in temporary trailers near here instead of keeping them thousands of miles away."

While many evacuees are facing eviction, other reports coming out of Houston indicate further FEMA mismanagement and an orchestrated plan to keep people away from New Orleans, as more than 9,000 temporary housing trailers are not being used and kept under lock and key at a storage facility.

And in Washington and Baton Rouge, federal and state legislators are haggling over how to use $4.2 billion in federal money now allocated to assist in New Orleans relief efforts.

But back in Baton Rouge, the plans to implement an agency to locally distribute the cash has been bogged down in details, critics saying the Louisiana Housing and Land Trust Corp needs to trim administrative costs and get more money to the people.

The housing corporation is being set up to help displaced homeowners through home buyouts, loans, house repairs, gap financing, grants and mortgage payment assistance. An 11-member appointed board would oversee the trust.

Back in Baton Rouge, however, the housing corporation bill ran into a snag when lawmakers complained about the $3.8 million administrative cost of the trust and about the complexity of the legislation.

.The bill failed to pass by one vote after at least one senator left to attend an LSU baseball game. One of the governor's own floor leaders also left the chamber

Authorities Again Looking Into Murder Of 'God's Banker' As Investigation Leads Right Into The Belly Of The Beast, The Vatican, As Well As Masonic Lodges

The Vatican Bank scandal of the 1980's may open up clues to the death of Pope John Paul I, as well as turning up the 'real culprits' behind the murder of Roberto Calvi, the prominent Italian financier and P2 Masonic Lodge member found hanging from the Blackfriars Bridge in London.

16 Feb 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The story behind the brutal murder of the man called 'God's Banker' has never been fully resolved or his death adequately explained to the American public, a naïve public kept from the truth about so many things, including corruption in the Vatican.

The nickname 'God's Banker' was appropriately attached by the Italian press to prominent Italian financier and Banco Ambrosiano chairman, Roberto Calvi, for his illicit role in the decades old scandal involving millions of dollars of stolen money through a wicked and evil financial scam involving the principals controlling the Vatican Bank, including the Mafia, the P2 Masonic Lodge, the Freemasons and the Jesuits.

After the scandal broke in the Italian papers in 1982, Calvi was found hanging from scaffolding under the Blackfriars Bridge in London shortly after midnight on June 18, 1982.

His death was determined a suicide but chilling evidence recently uncovered is proving Calvi was most likely killed for knowing too much and able to point the finger behind the real culprits behind the scandal, including high-level politicians, Church officials and clandestine members of the P2 Masonic group, which Calvi was a member.

And the worldwide ramifications behind Calvi's murder goes far deeper than hundreds of millions in lost loot, but to the very bottom of the dark underworld connections between the cloth, the Masonic groups and the Mafia.

His murder goes right to the heart of the scandal, which many close to the Vatican openly claim could also eventually open up what have been "closed doors" to the murder of Pope John Paul I, the shooting of Pope John Paul II and other clandestine matters, including Masonic affiliations of many high-level Vatican priests, on its face a matter of expulsion from the Church under Canon Law 2338.

And it was the ugly matter of cleaning up the Vatican Bank and outing high-level priests affiliated to cult groups and Masonic lodges that most likely led to the death of Pope John Paul I after only 33 days in office, say sources close to the Vatican.

But it also should be noted the Vatican authorities never fully investigated the death of the Pope as well as never allowing for an autopsy to determine the true cause of death, listed officially as a heart failure with respiratory complications.

Concerning the details of the Vatican bank scandal, it erupted several years after the Pope's death under Pope John Paul II since he allowed for the corruption and underworld dealings to go unchecked, as many close to the Vatican said he bowed to the Jesuit pressure applied by the Black Pope, who was at the heart of the scandal and the beneficiary of much of the stolen Vatican money.

And concerning Calvi, his case recently took a new twist in Rome last March, as Italian prosecutors opened up the case on new evidence implicating several Mafia members accused of Calvi's murder.

Among the evidence brought out in the Rome court proceedings, never covered in the American press but released in Italian papers, was that Calvi was probably still alive when left hanging from the bridge for more than an hour, as British and Italian police and forensic scientists have picked through the original findings and the witness testimony, closely scrutinizing the scaffolding and Calvi's clothes.

And their investigation has revealed dirt under his fingernails and traces of dust from 11 pound bricks studded in his pockets, as well as strange bone lesions and bruises, indicating murder not suicide.

One of the detectives in London investigating the case said this in a London Sunday Times article about the reopened investigation: "We have been applying 21st century forensic and investigative techniques to a 21-year-old crime."

Accordingly Italian prosecutors, Luca Tescaroli and Maria Monteleone believe Mafia bosses ordered Calvi's killing because he withheld millions of dollars of illegal profits, as his death brought down a financial "house of cards" as the Ambrosiano collapsed in Italy's biggest post-war banking scandal.

Although the scandal goes much deeper than the two Mafia figures, Flavio Carboni and Pippo "The Cashier" Calo, one Sardinian businessman and another Australian woman, who at the time of the killing was dating Carboni.

The investigation is also centering on the testimony of Vincenzo Calcara, a Milan café owner who served drinks to the suspected killers the day of Calvi's murder, overhearing the decision to impose an ugly death sentence on Calvi.

Calcara, who has co-operated with investigators in the past, testified that a year before the Calvi murder he traveled from Sicily to Rome to deliver suitcases containing $6.5 million in cash to then head of the Vatican Bank, Cardinal Paul Marcinkus of Chicago, and another unnamed Cardinal.

Rome prosecutors are still hoping to question Marcinkus, but he has been kept under protection in Phoenix, Arizona, still being under Vatican diplomatic immunity, as the aging Cardinal, now 81, limits his activities to saying Mass and other minor church duties.

Marcinkus was originally indicted by Italian authorities in the 1980's for his role in the bank scandal, but the case was dropped and settled out of court, the Vatican paying $241 million to end legal proceedings.

Marcinkus was also linked to Calvi as the Vatican insisted he pay back over $154 million, but the links to those involved in the scandal never were fully explored as investigators were refused permission to ever investigate Marcinkus.

Since then sources close to Vatican say that Marcinkus was whisked away to America to keep "his mouth shut," since he was actually only an "innocent fall guy" for the real culprits pulling the strings behind the scandal.

Those sources close to Vatican now contend the Black Pope and the Jesuit Order "in full control of P2 and the Grand Orient Lodges, used Michele Sindona, another accomplice also thought murdered and Calvi, to steal the money, then in Mafia-like fashion had both of them killed.

"Archbishop Marchincus, being publicly responsible for the loss of the funds of Banco Ambrosiano, then agreed to take the fall, subsequently protecting his Jesuit masters from further investigation," said a source close to the Vatican who wished to remain anonymous.

"It is Jesuit Bishop Hnilica, the untouchable, who is really at the bottom of the scandal and fronting for the Black Pope. I believe Marcinkus was a patsy and that Hnilica is the real culprit and thus the Black Pope."

Sources close to Marcinkus also claim that "all along" he was innocent of any serious wrong doing, including having absolutely nothing to do with Calvi's murder or embezzlement of funds.

The source close to the Vatican added:

"Marcinkus does not wish to be convicted for murder and a crime he didn't commit, but realizes, at the same time, his diplomatic immunity status could be withdrawn at anytime by a new order at the Vatican. Also it should be remembered, Bishop Hnilica is a devoted 'Marianist heretic' and was protected by Pope John Paul II. The former Grand Inquisitor, Benedict, is a traditional Catholic and abhors Mary Co-Redemptrix and the false Gospel of Mary. Bishop Hnilica no longer has friends in high places."

Another Former Devoted Republican Calling Bush "Worse Than Hitler"
Keefe Callum of the Northern Plains says every freedom-loving American needs to come forward before it is too late.

15 Feb 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Every last person who believes in God and truth needs to come forward, speak out and erect a barricade of peace and freedom in front of the devilish New World Order's blackened front door.

No stone can be left unturned and each of Satan's evil doors needs to be immediately exposed and opened wide, including the front doors of the White House and 10 Downing Street.

The battle has reached a critical stage, with nuclear war on the horizon, that no longer can any freedom loving man or woman afford to run and hide behind the cloak of apathy.

And for months freedom's call has been heard as thousands of average Americans have been stepping forward and speaking out against tyranny, realizing the deception, lies and mass killings of their fellow citizens can no longer be tolerated by their government and evil puppeteers behind the scenes.

But even though thousands have spoken, millions remain silent. And it is this silence that gives the New World Order the upper hand in the war to gain control of the American public's heart and soul.

For it is only the people of America that stand in the way of the New World Order and its goal of mass genocide and world domination. They know that, but too few Americans even have a clue.

Although many are unaware, one more brave soul and truth seeker steps forward today to reinforce the growing barricade of freedom now being erected, as one by one Americans begin to alert criminals like the Bush crime family, the Clinton's, the Kerry's, to name only a few, that their hearts and souls are no longer for sale.

Today Keefe Callum of Midwestern heritage in the Northern Plains steps forward saying her soul is intact and her heart is in the right place as she begins with a biting word for President-appointed, George W. Bush:

"Bush is worse than Hitler ever dreamed of being," said Callum, who comes from strong Republican Midwestern roots and whose father was a Republican state legislator. "And we won't get rid of him-not as long as it is wink and nod from Diebold and other equally ruthless and moral-less companies who make election 'counting' machines which can be adjusted to see Republicans win when they haven't even come close!

"I come from a Republican family and we HATE Bush for what he is doing to this nation and the Constitution!"

And so take one more freedom-loving conservative Republican voter from the rolls, but as Callum pointed out: "Does it really matter if the elections are rigged?"

According to Callum the answer is obvious. But listen as her story reveals that fascism is right around the corner as even her father, a long time Republican state legislator, realizes it's not even worth voting under the present neo con stranglehold on American freedoms.

Besides her father who was also a lower-level Mason, her story indicates a deep sorrow for the deterioration of America's freedom, but also provides a glimmer of hope that if we all begin to speak out just like here we may be able to stop the neo cons before they take us into a nuclear war in the Middle East.

Here is her story:

"My father was a state legislator in a Midwestern state and a life-long Republican! He did not even vote in the last election! Does that tell you something? I am not a political person but I come out to protest war, segregation, and other 'injustices' perpetrated upon us by the financial elite.

"I was raised in a small city in the Midwest and I never thought that the bankers, doctors, teachers etc., were in 'cahoots' to do anything especially bad. Boy, was I wrong! Even my dad was a Mason! (Yes, we're Irish Methodists) but he didn't know anyone personally who was 32nd or 33rd degree so no wonder he had no idea what was going on! My mother comes from a very working-class family which has produced some 19-year-old engineers and 21-year-old Ph.D.s However, her father's family was an old diplomatic family in Europe and she had a cousin who held the title of Minister to the Vatican.

"He wrote several award-winning books which, today, are still only available in Czech. Why? He was critical of Hitler and all of his secret societies and several other things that the US embraced through Operation Paperclip. When you find the government lies so blatantly about UFOs, etc. it is easy to believe they lie about nearly everything else. I used to believe the Republican Party was for small business, individual responsibility, hard-work, lower taxes, and peace.

"Under Bush it is just the opposite! He has done more damage than any 100 liberal democrats because there are people that think he is still for these old Republican values! They are so deluded that they believe anything Limbaugh or O'Reilly, etc. says! These are not conservatives! They are no more conservative than Teddy Kennedy, Hillary Clinton, and Senator Schumer rolled into one package! In fact these last three are LESS dangerous because they make no bones about what they are!

"Bush talks the talk but doesn't walk the walk. He says he is 'pro-life' but he still let Terry Shiavo die! (When there was plenty of evidence that her husband 'caused' her affliction.) And abortion hasn't stopped. In fact, the public mood has gone from 'letting God decide who dies and when' to 'getting rid of those who are a burden to the rest of us.' Ask anyone! Jack Danforth recently said that this disturbed him-that Christians would come to the rescue of Terry Shiavo! He is supposed to be an Episcopalian priest? God help us! And as for the Iraq war, if we can no longer speak our mind, what are our sons and grandsons dying for over there? What a crock? Can't the Americans realize this? I have tried to talk to several Republicans, but they believe that Bush is "greater than Jesus Christ"> That is worse than frightening! If you don't believe me, go into Iowa or Nebraska, or Kansas, or South Dakota and ask them-most believe that he should be enshrined and worshipped!

"These folks are SICK! There is CONSIDERABLE EVIDENCE that Bush will be the leader who recovers from a fatal head wound and is then indwelt by Satan! Just think of what he can accomplish then! But that is what he has been prepared for through his own Skull and Bones experiences! I have friends who are leaving the United States with no intention of returning. If I had the money, I would go in a heartbeat!

"When I look at Bush and Cheney I see such evil I become ill! people make excuses for everything he does. They say the horned hand satanic symbol is for the Texas Longhorns! If the only people using it were from Texas, I could believe that, but Prince William and Prince Harry use it, so does King Abdullah and so did Arafat! Were they Longhorn fans? Get real! Wake up before it is too late-if it isn't already."

Regarding important issues like 9/11, the Iraqi War and the Patriot Act as well as the satanic connections to Bush and other high-level leaders, Callum added:

"Iraq war is a farce! We have caused more problems than we have solved-that is the opinion of one of my cousins who is an air-force colonel! There is something very secret and sinister in Iraq that Bush and his group want to get hold of.

"There is some evidence that this is a time-portal/gate or possibly a UFO. A friend of mine who does reverse speech has uncovered the fact that there is some kind of a mass Exodus occurring this spring/summer in the Middle East-aliens are leaving earth because of something coming this way!

"Hussein knew of this-hence the rush to convict and execute him and shut him up! 9/11-how ANYONE can believe the official story is beyond me. I spoke with BBC reporters in 2003 and they think it was 'an inside job' as well-in fact, they wonder how we can tolerate Bush-but they have Tony Blair and he isn't much better!

"The Patriot Act is NOTHING patriotic! We have people dying to preserve our right to free speech. What are they dying for? War and satanic sacrifice! Bush and Company are satanists! Offering up the souls of innocents like young soldiers is what Satan wants-hence it gives Bush and Cheney power! That is not just my opinion-it is common knowledge of anyone involved in the occult-past or present!"

Satanic Child Sacrificing Rituals First Reported At Vatican And Now At LDS Temple In Salt Lake City

A. True Ott, excommunicated by the Mormon Church for his controversial research, says he experienced death threats trying to get at the truth behind deep-seeded corruption in U. S. government and LDS hierarchy. Satanic influences abound and corruption must stop in order to avert World War III, claims Ott in his upcoming book 'Free At Last.'

13 Feb 2006

By Greg Szymanski

True Ott, a former Mormon excommunicated from the LDS church, woke up one morning at his Cedar City, Utah, home to find a large red cross or X painted on his doorstep.

And this evil sign, according to Ott, is the LDS's symbolic equivalent to the KKK's cross-burning tactics used against Southern Blacks.

Although waking-up to a blood-red cross is terrifying, it was only the beginning of the church-led terror campaign he experienced once "crossing LDS leaders," as his life was subsequently threatened on several other occasions for getting too close to LDS top secrets.

"I am not anti-Mormon or anti any other religion, but just feel the corruption goes so deep into the hierarchy, the truth about the connections needs to be exposed before it's too late for America," said Ott who recently appeared on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal.

A audio version of Ott's entire two-hour interview, exposing top level LDS affiliation with Masonic and less than honest U.S. government-compromised policy makers, can be found under The Investigative Journal archives page at www.rbnlive.com

And the research in his upcoming book, Free At Last, the subject of the radio interview, deals with LDS hierarchy links to the Knights of Malta, Freemasons, Jesuits, the Bush crime family and other top U.S. government officials, including the former Utah Governor and present U.S. Department of Health and Human Services Director, Michael O. Leavitt.

Besides rampant corruption in the LDS church and U.S. government, Ott also feels the hierarchies of other major religions, including Catholicism and Judaism, unknown to the general church-going public, have been infiltrated by satanic cult influences.

These satanic influences, claims Ott, is led by the Jesuits, Freemasons, Illuminati, the Knights of Malta and others, is leading America into a secret fascist state - their government of choice -- with the help of these corrupted officials and religious leaders at the core of the illegal Iraqi war and the contrived war on terror.

"Don't let anybody fool you. Satan exists. I have seen it for my own eyes when I was near death in 1987 and these evil people controlling the masses from high level positions are part of this satanic quest to destroy America using a policy of war and genocide," said Ott, who has a PhD in nutrition and runs a natural-based mineral company in order to instill good health and nutrition by natural methods.

He further said he reawakened from death's doorstep with a new purpose for living, both physically and mentally, including a revitalized search for the truth in every aspect of his life.

"When you realize that most everything you have been taught has been a lie, it changes you forever," said Ott, who began exploring the origins of organized religion, including Brigham Young and the Mormons to uncover answers to today's enormous problems facing America.

Starting with an impromptu meeting with a Jesuit priest during Ott's two year Mormon mission as a young man, he learned of the corruption deep within the origins of the original writings of the book of Mormon and how the Jesuit- Luciferian influences, affected the LDS hierarchy even at its early stages.

Ott tells a long story, told to him by the Jesuit priest in strict confidence, which he broke in his upcoming book in order to "alert humanity of the truth," regarding how the Book of Mormon was taken from the writings from a little known "white-skinned Indian tribe" discovered by Jesuit missionaries, the tribe's origins eventually leading back to the Middle East.

Although the story of the "white-skinned tribe" is too long for this article, it provides the beginning clues to the Jesuit-Luciferian and Freemasonry influence still existing today in the LDS church, as passed on through top leaders, including Brigham Young.

"It's a story that's never been told an people need to hear about the little known Latin document from the white-skinned Indians which eventually became the basis of the initial Mormon writings," said Ott.

Further, making connections between reported Vatican satanic rituals and child sacrificing conducted by the "Black Order" controlling the hierarchy of the Catholic Church, Ott said the same child sacrificing rituals takes place at the LDS Temple in Salt Lake City.

In one of his writings, he claims:

"I have interviewed numerous individuals who fearfully tell of witnessing and/or participating in dark rituals underneath the LDS Temple in Salt Lake City. At first, I thought these individuals were psychologically imbalanced for their stories were so very bizarre that they could not have possibly been true. Imagine, the hierarchy sacrificing human infants, and even consuming human flesh during candlelit secret ceremonials? Now, however, I am more inclined to believe these individuals.

"LDS President Wilford Woodruff recorded the following information given to him in a meeting with Brigham Young: "Under the pulpit in the west End [of the SLC Temple] will be a place to Offer Sacrafizes. [sp] There will be an Altar prepared for that purposes [sp] so that when any sacrifices are to be offered they should be offered there." (Wilford Woodruff's Journal: 1833-1898, December 18, 1857, vol. 5, p. 140.)

"To this truth seeker, this quote is very troublesome for a couple of fairly obvious reasons. The individuals I interviewed claimed to have seen such an altar, and claimed it was underneath the west end of the temple. According to this personal journal entry, such an altar apparently existed at one time, and in all likelihood yet exists today."

Further, it's interesting to listen to his research work, connecting the historical dots between Luciferian worshipping Masons and the LDS church. Although highly controversial and in part leading to his excommunication, here is a portion of his writings to be contained in his new book, Free At Last:

"I declare this to the world. It is true. I cannot deny it," wrote Ott. "It all comes back to the truths declared by David Whitmer and the fact that the LDS Church became controlled by Luciferian worshipping Masons.

Why aren't we listening?

"Need more 'evidence' before you cast your 'vote'? The two highest 'authorities' in Masonry following the deaths of Adam Weishapt and Nathan Rothschild became the Italian Godfather of the Sicilian mafia, Giuseppe Mazzini, and his American counterpart, Confederate General, convicted Civil War conspirator, and founder of the Ku Klux Klan, one Albert Pike. General Pike consolidated Masonic thought and doctrine in a master thesis he entitled "Morals and Dogma". A careful reading of this can lead the reader to only one conclusion if he has an honest heart, and that is that Freemasonry is a very cleverly disguised Luciferian religion - and the parallels to Mormonism are totally stunning.

"Pike talks about the "Light-bearer" bringing knowledge and power to the entire earth through higher education, religion, and government. Most of the book talks about these ideals, which most people would accept on face value to be fine and upstanding principles. But then he hits us with the 'clincher' - when he declares just who the "Light-bearer" is - none other than the fallen angel known as Lucifer, the son of the morning. The son of the morning is he who brings 'first light' to the earth. He is their God, and it is He that they worship. In other private letters, Pike discusses the need for the 'Luciferian Doctrine' to eliminate the false traditions of Christianity throughout the world. In fact, no mention is made of Jesus Christ in "Morals and Dogma" except in less than flattering terms. One of the ancient names for Jehovah, or the coming Messiah is Adonay - which means the chosen, or the only begotten of God.

"On page 321 of Pike's book, Morals and Dogma, we read the following dissertation and declaration on the nature and character of Mason's "god" - the 'light-bearer' and the fallacy of him being wrongly described by Non-Masons as the 'spirit of darkness'. Pike declares: "LUCIFER, the Light-Bearer! Strange and mysterious name to give to the Spirit of Darkness! Lucifer, the Son of the Morning! It is HE who bears the LIGHT, and with its splendors intolerably blinds feeble, sensual, or selfish Souls? Doubt it not! For TRADITIONS are full of Divine Revelations and Inspirations: and Inspiration is not of one Age nor of one Creed."

"In other words, Pike is here declaring the danger of listening to personal revelations and inspirations - for in so doing we are subscribing to false traditions and demoting Lucifer from his exalted rank of Light-Bearer to the Spirit of Darkness. Oh, how subtle and skillful Lucifer is. He would make a great General Authority - but then again, he WAS. How easily he deludes good men and women into calling good evil, and evil good. How subtle he is in twisting eternal truths into falsehoods, and leading upright and moral spirits into rituals that eternally bind them to him, and away from the Savior Jesus Christ. Do you think Lucifer does not know the Savior VERY, VERY WELL?

"The apostle Paul warns us about Lucifer and Satan in 2 Corinthians 11: 13-15 in much the same way David Whitmer is warning us in 1887. (Don't forget that David was called to hold the same 'office' as Paul, so it should come as no surprise!) Paul warns us that there will be FALSE APOSTLES who work in deceit by TRANSFORMING THEMSELVES into the apostles of Christ ----- "and no marvel; for SATAN HIMSELF IS TRANSFORMED INTO AN ANGEL OF LIGHT" - so why should we marvel that his ministers themselves are also transformed into supposed 'ministers of righteousness' and whose ends shall be according to their works. I submit that this transformation referred to is simply one of APPEARANCES - not REALITY! In this, the ancient Knights Templar and Masonic traditions follow closely the pattern given them by Lucifer - to COUNTERFEIT truth and the pure light of Christ. Thus, it is not surprising that Pike extols Lucifer - or Baphomet - the ancient "Goat-God" as the God of Light. Lucifer's henchman Satan is also portrayed by Pike as a simple 'misrepresentation'.

"In the writings of French High Mason, A.C. Del L Rive, he records the following 'High Council Instructions' issued to him by Albert Pike on July 14, 1889, as well as to the other 23 SUPREME HIGH COUNCILS OF THE WORLD: "To you, Sovereign Grand Inspector Generals, we say this, that you may repeat it to only the Brethren of the 32nd, 31st, and 30th degrees --- that the Masonic RELIGION should be, by all of us initiates of the high degrees, MAINTAINED IN THE PURITY OF THE LUCIFERIAN DOCTRINE"

Yes, Lucifer is God, and unfortunately, Adonay is also God. Thus, the doctrine of Satanism is a HERESY; and the true and pure philosophic religion is the belief in Lucifer, the equal of Adonay; but Lucifer, the GOD OF LIGHT AND GOD OF GOOD, is struggling for humanity AGAINST ADONAY, the God of Darkness and Evil.

"In this, one must never lose sight of the fact that Pike at this time occupied simultaneously the joint positions of Grand Master of the Central Directory of Washington D.C., and that of Grand Commander of the Supreme Council of Charleston and that of Sovereign Pontiff of Universal Freemasonry. In other words, he was the Grand Poo-Bah of all Grand Poo-Bahs. This point also must be made. Clearly, it is the goal of the inner core of elitist Luciferians to NEVER LET THE GENERAL MEMBERSHIP OF THE RELIGION KNOW WHAT IS REALLY BEING WORSHIPPED!

"The rank and file Masonic membership are taught to live moral, upright, honest and chaste lives while the hierarchy practices the dark arts and the Black Mass in secrecy and obscurity - and thus they are able to deceive the people into a false sense of security and loyalty. In Mormon Masonry, the 'tie that binds' is literally the primal human emotion, LOVE of family, friends, and the 'tradition' of being 'accepted' in a social 'club' that performs numerous acts of charity - with the anchor 'truth' being the miraculous Book of Mormon. This, however, should not blind the general membership to the FACTS of our Mormon history, nor the very real POSSIBILITY that the Mormon Hierarchy is yet today participating in Lucifer's Third Degree - which involves open Tantric Sex and even human sacrifice.

"Also, Pike writes in Morals and Dogma, p. 102: "---.. for Satan is NOT a black god, but instead is the negation of God. The Devil is the personification of Atheism or Idolatry. For the initiated, this is not a PERSON, but a FORCE, CREATED FOR GOOD, but which may serve for evil. It is the instrument of LIBERTY or FREE WILL. They represent this Force, which presides over the physical generation, under the mythological and horned form of the God PAN; thence came the he-goat of the Sabbat, BROTHER of the Ancient Serpent and the Light Bearer or Phosphor of which the POETS have made the false Lucifer of the Legend."

"Pike outright celebrates Satan's 'liberation' of Adam and Eve. Pike declares the "power of the Serpent" in the Garden of Eden as a pure source of 'light' and is honored by the "pure Luciferian religion" as "serpent power", the "Force", and is ultimately described as the Kundalini or "serpent force". Pike, the Sovereign Pontiff of Lucifer, declares that Satan is not the god "of the Powers of Darkness", but instead is the prime ministering FORCE of the god of Masonry's light, Lucifer. Oh, but dear reader, it gets even worse. Pike also revised the BLACK MASS in which Satan's subversion of Adam and Eve is CELEBRATED. (I ask the honest in heart Mormon to consider, are we not also 'celebrating' the fall of Eve in the endowment? Are we not asked to support Eve in her 'deception' by Lucifer when she asks LUCIFER "is there no other way", and then partakes by saying, "I will partake that MAN may be"? Are we not asked to honor Eve as making an ultimately WISE decision by obeying Lucifer and disobeying Father and Adonay to bring MAN into existence?)

"Could it be even remotely possible that the REAL story of Adam and Eve is the story of the historical figure known as King Nimrod and his queen, the "Goddess Diana" - the original Whore of Babylon that fornicated with the Serpent to bring forth LUCIFER'S SEED (the Babylonians) approximately 7,000 years ago? The LDS Endowment parallels the Sumerian texts in that they both describe the Whore of Babylon as being blessed with extreme wisdom and the knowledge of esoteric 'mysteries' and 'secrets' from the Serpent after her 'fornication' with him. (Lucifer tempts Eve (Dianna) with a very desirable 'fruit' that will ultimately open up her eyes and bring her the knowledge of the Gods so that she may become one.) Could this 'fruit' be sexual intercourse with Lucifer that produced the personage of Cain - Lucifer's "only begotten son"? Where did the 'western world' even get the story of Adam and Eve in the first place?

"From the Jews of course - just coincidentally the SAME RACE WHO THE BOOK OF MORMON CLAIMS WERE TAKEN CAPTIVE INTO BABYLON IN 600 B.C.! Could it be possible that the history of our "first parents" are in reality the 'first parents' of the Babylonians, and is the history of Lucifer's seed? And if so, does it not follow that the Jews of 600 B.C. never really 'escaped' from Babylon, but after 3 or 4 centuries eventually BECAME Babylon by embracing their culture and traditions? Is this not the ritual that the Jewish priests were performing, causing them to be rebuked so strongly by Jesus Christ - Adonay? Is it any wonder therefore that WICCA and the Black Mass give such honor and glory to the Goddess Dianna?

"In a recent book by Dr. Cathy Burns, (1994), called Hidden Secrets of the Eastern Star: The Masonic Connection, she quotes retired Commander of the Royal Canadian Navy, William Guy Carr who testifies: "While Pike was Sovereign Pontiff of Universal Freemasonry, and Head of the Illuminati during the 1870's he revised and modernized the ritual of the Black Mass celebrated to emphasize the Luciferian and Satanic victory achieved in the Garden of Eden, and over Christ to end his mission on earth. The celebrant of the Black Mass plays the part of Satan.

"He introduces a Virgin Priestess to the joys of sexual intercourse and makes known to her the mystery of procreation --- through intercourse with a goat. Lucifer is worshipped as "The giver of the True Light"; the fountain of All wisdom; and as the greatest of all Supernatural Beings. Satan is worshipped as Lucifer's Prime Minister. A Black Mass is usually followed by a Bacchanalian orgy. Those who attend are supplied with sex-stimulating drugs and beverages. They worship the body and indulge in sexual excesses, and perversions, of all kinds. Priestesses are provided for the occasion."

"What are LDS 'sisters' promised to 'become' if they are ultimately 'true and faithful' to their oaths and covenants? Why, queens and PRIESTESSES of course! To who? To the "most high God". Of course, the question then becomes - WHICH GOD?

"Adam Weishapt and Albert Pike both have written about the ultimate level of illumination with God (Lucifer) known as the "3rd Degree". To achieve this level, a priest or priestess MUST use perverse sexual liaisons to mock the most sacred gift given by Heavenly Father to mankind - that of procreation and reproduction. Specific Luciferian rituals include perverted sexual activities to 'possess' certain psychic and/or metaphysical centers of the human body. To gain total 'illumination', initiates are encouraged to participate in what is referred to as TANTRIC SEX. There are three components of Tantric Sex - Fornication, Adultery (Polygamy), and Sodomy. Tantric Sex is designed to fill three primary areas of the human body with the spirit of a demon - specifically the mouth, vaginal or penis opening (where liquid waste leaves the body, and reproduction begins), and the anus. The spirit of the demon enters the human body upon the consummation of any three of the Tantric components.

"Enter Lucifer's 'holy spirit' known as Set, or Aiwass. (The unholy Trinity equals Lucifer, Satan, and Set, or Aiwass.) Set is described as a demon 'Spirit Guide' which through perverted "sex magic" infests the occult initiate with possession by the heavenly hosts who chose to follow Lucifer. The three components of Tantric Sex, especially polygamy, is a major way in which Demonic Possession can be passed from one person to another. Thank you so much Brigham, Sydney, and Dr. Avard for exposing Joseph to the "new and everlasting covenant" of Plural Marriage!!"

Small Town Southern Illinois Resident Slams Democratic U.S. Senator For Supporting New Revisions Of Patriot Act

James Vaughn is another example of average Americans doing above average things to avert a fascist state and stop the push towards World War III.

12 Feb 2006

By Greg Szymanski

James Vaughn, just an "average Joe" from a small Southern Illinois town, has finally had it up to his eye balls with the new American fascist state.

He's plain "had enough" with the rotten stench emanating from Washington.

And with frustration levels rising and the climate of suppression heating up, he has finally decided to speak out, like many other average Americans, against the slimy, two-faced Washington politicians.

"Enough of the lying. Enough with the fear tactics. And enough with leaders who are leading us down the path of fascism," said Vaughn who has gone public in Southern Illinois, trying to reach every last person in his town of 4,000 by going on the radio, talking at informal gatherings and starting a freedom-oriented web site at www.jamesvaughn.org

"I hope I am an inspiration to others in order to spread the word. We need to inspire people in all the small towns of America to speak out and stop our government from taking away our civil rights and getting involved in a needless war."

And Vaughn is a perfect example of an average American starting to do "above average things" at the grass roots level, under the radar screen, in order to get their country back from leaders bent on destroying America from within.

This isn't politics "as usual," reminds Vaughn, but a systematic effort to destroy the U.S., its Constitution and its people by creating a climate fear and war throughout the world while, at the same time, stripping away civil liberties in the name of a phony war on terror.

"It's like Nazi Germany all over again," said Vaughn as he recently appeared as a featured guest on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal. And on Vaughn's web site, he isn't short of words, expressing his displeasure over America's fall into tyranny even if it has alienated him from many of his neighbors in conservative Southern Illinois farm country.

"People need to hear both sides of the story regarding the Iraqi War, the 9/11 cover-up and the possibility of World War III starting up over Iran."

And on his web site, he elaborated :

"Never before in history has our God given Rights been attacked so viciously. It's time to stand up and say "NO MORE"! My duty as an American is to help expose these tyrants who seem to think there is no United States Constitution, and help stop tyranny on all levels dead in it's tracks.

"I am very concerned about the happenings on a National Level. Keep informed by visiting my friends on my links page, and please read my blog. If my site offends you, kindly hit your back button and never return here, or read some of the material with an open mind...maybe you'll learn something."

Acting and sounding more like a seasoned statesman not a regular farm boy from the heartland, he reminds us all of the importance of free speech rights:

"I am a firm believer in Free Speech, many people in different political offices either out of their ignorance, or arrogance, take We The People's questions and twist them into a form of "mudslinging", "lies", or "underhanded tactics", or label us "troublemakers", aren't We The People guaranteed the right to question a "leader" or "leaders" when we simply do not understand what they are doing, or we disagree with the individual's decision, may we ask them to simply take a step back and look at what they have done/ are doing? YES!

"When the same decisions are made year after year that do nothing but rob us of our individual freedoms, WE DO HAVE THE RIGHT TO QUESTION THESE FOLKS, remember what Thomas Jefferson said "Single acts of tyranny may be ascribed to the accidental opinion of the day; but a series of oppressions, begun at a distinguished period, and pursued unalterably through every change of ministers (administrators) too plainly proves a deliberate, systematic plan of reducing us to slavery."

But while Vaughn is speaking loud and clear in public gatherings, on the radio and on a freedom-gathering web site he recently constructed, more than 800 U.S. concentration camps with barbed wire fences are being staffed and ready to accept innocent Americans caught by surprise when the upcoming neo con calamity begins.

Besides the camps waiting in the wings, neo con provocateurs are now stepping -up big time their efforts, trying to incite the masses with a public relations "hate campaign" with recent church fires in Alabama, a nerve gas scare in a U.S. Senate office building and scurrilous Mohammad cartoons and retaliatory obnoxious holocaust depictions geared at inciting religious hatred among the masses.

Recently Vaughn took one more step to get the truth by writing his Democratic U.S. Senator, Dick Durbin, asking him to reject the "unpatriotic" revisions of the Patriotic Act before Congress for approval.

And Vaughn said Durbin's written response was "shocking," as well as a clear indication of the corruption on both sides of the political isle.

"I also get questions as to why "Democrats" do not put a stop to the lies? Answer, they also lie," said Vaughn. "I emailed Sen. Durbin asking him to reject the 'unPatriot Act' extensions. What I got in return was shocking, and I fired off a reply right back at him."

Here is Sen. Durbin's disturbing response, showing Durbin's strict obedience to the neo con hierarchy:

"I share your interest in protecting our civil liberties, and I am committed to preserving our freedoms during war and peace. We must not forget the painful lessons we learned in the past when we sacrificed liberty in the name of security. We should never again repeat past mistakes the government has made, including the internment mandates of World War II and the wide-ranging investigations of the McCarthy era.

"Congress responded promptly to the attacks on September 11th by crafting bipartisan anti-terrorism legislation called the USA PATRIOT Act. I supported this legislation because it addressed gaps in our laws that have unnecessarily hindered law enforcement efforts against terrorists and other criminals. The bill updated wiretap and electronic surveillance laws that had been unchanged since the era of rotary telephones. This bill also provided authorization to hire more FBI translators, to triple the number of agents along our northern border, and to provide assistance to crime victims and to the families of fallen public safety officers.

"The PATRIOT Act is not perfect. It has flaws that need correction. To address these flaws, Senator Larry Craig and I introduced the Security and Freedom Ensured (SAFE) Act, S. 737. This narrowly-tailored bipartisan legislation would protect civil liberties while giving law enforcement officials the powers they need to fight terrorism.

"I am pleased that many provisions from the SAFE Act were included in the USA PATRIOT Improvement and Reauthorization Act, which the Senate passed on July 29, 2005 by unanimous consent...

"Like the PATRIOT Act, the USA PATRIOT Improvement and Reauthorization Act is not perfect, but the changes it would make would significantly improve the current law. I am committed to defending our country while protecting our civil liberties and our principles of freedom and justice. I will continue to work to ensure that the reforms included in this bill are enacted into this law."

In Vaughn's response castigating Durbin for his support of the Patriot Act revisions, he offered other "minor" suggestions, which Sen. Durbin has not responded:

"Just a minor suggestion, how about sponsoring hearings about the lies that got us into this immoral, unconstitutional war with Iraq? What are the Iraq ties to 9/11? Where are the WMD's? All the mentioned acts ushered in this unPatriot Act. The source of those lies is the real domestic terrorist. How about stopping the investigation and harassment of law abiding citizens, and go after the real domestic terrorists?"

"Killing One Person Is Murder: Killing Thousands At 9/11 Is Domestic Policy": This Bumper Sticker Slogan On Seattle Resident's Car Has Led To MKULTRA Tactics Used Against Her.

Many others like Susan Elmes of Seattle have had 'physical abuse and gang stalking' tactics used against them for simply expressing their freedom of speech rights. Although spygate is a problem, FBI/CIA hired thugs are in force doing the administration's dirty work as illegal wiretapping and surveillance campaign goes on in the background.

11 Feb 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The Bush administration spy campaign is reaching epidemic proportions, as well as taking a page right out of Nazi Germany or the old Soviet Union 'destruction of civil liberties handbook.'

"The state of the Union is deplorable," said Seattle citizen, Susan Elmes, who recently has been tailed and harassed by government agents for displaying anti-administration bumper stickers on her car and trying to organize 9/11 truth rallies at local libraries. "It's gone beyond spying. They even entered my house and tried to poison my cats."

To show how the U.S. has deteriorated as a country, Elmes was investigated by government thugs for bumper stickers like "Killing One Person Is Murder: Killing Thousands At 9/11 Is Domestic Policy" as well as such things like MKULTRA street hacks carve satanic symbols in library tables during a recent 9/11 film presentation.

And what gets lost in the Bush Spygate story, where people are calling for his impeachment for bugging phone lines through the NSA, are the horrendous violations of civil liberties going on to thousands of others like Elmes, violations sanctioned by the Nazi-like White House authority run by a paranoid coward Bush.

While constitutional law scholars like Professor John Turley, formerly of Tulane University, rake Bush over the coals for illegally authorizing intelligence gathering by the FBI, CIA and NSA, the center of attention should be on the authorization of "torture and abuse" by street thugs, not merely the wiretapping and data gathering.

"They gather data and wiretap so they can then muscle in on the activist organizations with hired street gangs and MKULTRA-trained individuals in order to stop dissenters before they reach the critical mass," said one former San Diego Air Force Captain now trying to expose the rampant neo con corruption filtering down to even local peace and charitable organizations, not in step with the Bush agenda.

And to support the Air Force Captain's views, Professor Turley added:

"This is one of the most serious constitutional crises that we've ever faced in the country.

The president's use of the war resolution borders on absurdity. To have the attorney general putting forward an interpretation that he cannot possibly believe is true -- because he's not a moron -- is deeply disturbing."

And taking a close look down the highways and byways of America all road signs lead directly to tyranny and a police state, where no one dare dissent for fear of government reprisals, including imprisonment.

Regarding the much publicized Spygate story, Bush is again lying through his teeth with recent statements, saying the NSA policy is limited only to overseeing phone calls involving members of al-Qaeda.

Further, Attorney General Alberto Gonzales said recently the White House has the authority for the clandestine eavesdropping program since Bush is a "wartime President."

However, several former CIA agents, including former analyst Ray McGovern, think otherwise, saying Bush has grossly overstepped his bounds and should be impeached for a number of reasons, including the unauthorized spying campaign.

Another CIA agent who recently left the agency over complete disgust over the Nazi-like spy campaign, recently was quoted as saying by the popular Capital Hills Blues internet news site:

"It is unbelievable. We spend more time gathering intel on Americans than we do on real enemies of our country."

Recently, the ACLU has tried to come to the rescue of several peace groups, one in Philadelphia and another in Vermont, filing a Freedom of Information Act (FOIA) request in an attempt to get Pentagon files on the suspected agents who infiltrated the groups.

Although a good first step, several activists across the country, including Elmes, said the ACLU has become an ineffective, government infiltrated organization itself wasting time on legal battles that never amount "to hill of beans."

One activist in Los Angeles who lost faith in the ACLU's "watered down" legal battles against the neo cons, said what's needed are "fearless prosecutors" at the state and local levels, willing to buck city hall and make criminal arrests against the undercover agents and street thugs violating the people's rights.

"I think the people are fed up and too much faith is put in a corrupted ACLU that gets mired in useless legal battles," said the LA activist.

Although the ACLU has filed numerous FOIA requests in the past for groups like Veterans for Peace and Greenpeace in places like Maine, Rhode Island, California and Georgia, the Bush administration in the past has fought off these "paperwork threats," treating them like annoying flies on a hot summer's day.

Critics of the Bush administration's evasive spying policies, including ACLU lawyer Ben Wizner, said it's difficult to win "these types of cases" in the present-day political climate since Bush is able to claim "executive privilege" under the corrupt USA Patriot Act.

"How can we believe that the National Security Agency is intercepting only al Qaeda phone calls when we have evidence that the Pentagon is keeping tabs on student activists in Pittsburgh," said Wizner.

Besides the intrusive NSA policy of monitoring millions of calls, emails and other forms of electronic communications, Bush wants to expand the use "National Security Letters," a method the NSA uses to acquire sensitive data from banks and business about innocent civilians based under the erroneous use of national security.

It has been learned that the FBI and NSA daily issues hundreds if not thousands of National Security Letters, but is also under the expanded Patriot Act protected from ever having to provide a legal reason for issuing the letters as well as revealing the content of the information received.

And as Bush insists on expanding his snooping authority under the revised Patriot Act up for passage in Congress, reports surfaced last week at any one given moment of a typical working day over 500 innocent Americans are being illegally wiretapped or having communications checked through intrusive government data gathering techniques.

Ironically this numbers first surfaced in the New York Times, a publication that could have prevented the illegal snooping in the first place if it exercised its civic duty and reported the "real news" in the first place.

Illuminati Up To Its "Dirty Tricks" and Deception Campaign With Nerve Gas Scare And Outrageous Mohammad Cartoons

Don't fall for the tricks by the 'masters of deception' who also may be behind the nine church fires in Alabama.

10 Feb 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Don't believe for a second the nine Alabama church fires, the scurrilous Mohammed cartoons and the retaliatory holocaust depictions are random acts of hatred and violence.

Put in the mix Thursday's nerve agent scare, clearing out a U.S. Senate office building, and what's happening worldwide is a good old fashioned psy-ops fear and hate campaign, geared at raising the public's tension thermometer to a boiling point to prepare the West for a nuclear war against Iran and Islam.

The Illuminati's evil worldwide hate campaign to enrage the world into is now in full swing, as the Luciferians attempt to pit religions and societies against one another by stirring up a caldron of contrived hatred.

For example, the Alabama fires of both white and black congregations have grown from six churches burned down to nine, which just so happens to be one of the most important Illuminati secret code numbers.

Couple that with the fact all nine fires, linked now by authorities to the same perpetrator, all strangely occurred about 25 miles south of Birmingham, which just so happens to be right near the 33rd longitudinal parallel, 33 of course being the most important number in Illuminati scheme of things.

In fact, Jack Fermanian, a devoted cult code analyst, said the fires and their locations as well as the Washington nerve agent scare is more than just a coincidence.

"I downloaded a map and circled all of the cities where the church burnings occurred and all of them were within two miles of the 33rd parallel. The nine churches were mixed, both white and black, so I do not think race was an issue or that it could be anything but the work of the Illuminati.," said Fermanian, who over the years has traced terrorist dates suspiciously coinciding with the Illuminati numbering code.

He has also put together an informative Illuminati date calendar for 2006, listing key dates, according to suspected Illuminati code numbers, as possible warning signs for strange cult activity, including mayhem, murder and destruction.

"For example, today is a Masonic 33 day cycle and the last couple of strange events have been within 24 hours of the calendar dates," said Fermanian. "Last night around 6:30pm (6+3=9), another staged terror event took place. This time to send a message to our beloved Senators to let them know they should keep playing along with the Bush Cabal or else.

"And remember what they did in 2001 to the Democratic Majority leader when he was putting too much pressure on Bush. They shut him up really fast with an envelope that was sent to him with some white anthrax powder inside, the anthrax ending up coming from the FBI labs and it was easy to figure as an inside job.

"I believe this recent event with the nerve agent scare is also part of the modis operandi of the Illuminati. The next date that is coming up will be 33 days from now so let's see what happens then."

Like Fermanian, other Americans are starting to slowly wise up to the insidious "deception and lying" game being dished out by the Bush Cabal, a group of phony leaders acting as stooges and puppeteers for their grand occult masters in the Illuminati, the Knights of Malta and the sinister Luciferian so-called religious order in firm control of the Vatican hierarchy.

And it's this usurpation of Papal and governmental power by devious organizations like the Knights of Malta and the Illuminati, leading America straight into World War III.

As one hardened political and religious historian pointed out:

"Let there be no mistake about, America is in the cross-hairs of the powers controlling the world and is set up to be just like Germany in World War II. It's time for the people to wake-up and take over Washington since it is completely corrupted. The lies about Iraq were enough, but now they're lying about Iran. We need to wake up before it's too late.

Concerning the outrageous Muhammad cartoons recently spread by a Dutch newspaper to incite tensions in the Middle East and the retaliatory holocaust depictions thrown back to Israel and the West, it again looks like the same modus operandi of Illuminati tricksters at work, trying to foment the tides of war.

Called by some like writer Webster Tarpley, a NATO intelligence provocation, and by others like author Eric Jon Phelps, a Luciferian ploy directed by the Jesuit hierarchy, the recent series of European publications running the inflammatory cartoons is geared at mobilizing the entire European continent in supporting the Bush Cabal's phony war on terrorism, now to be directed at Iran and Syria.

Tarpley, whose never short on words, recently provided an interesting analysis of the cartoon smear campaign in relation to the impending nuclear conflict with Iran:

"In recent years, Moslem and Arab resentment for the various crimes of imperialism has been directed primarily against the United States, the United Kingdom, and Israel. What is new about the present crisis is that Denmark, Norway, France, and Germany are the main targets this time, while the usual suspects in London and Washington can remain in the background and hypocritically condemn the inflammatory cartoons.

"The result has been a massive degeneration of the ideological climate of Europe in favor of militant racism in the form of the Samuel Huntington War of Civilizations. The Europeans are now far more likely than previously to go to war against Iran as the tail on the Anglo-American kite. The genocidal demand that the European Union cut off all aid to the Hamas-led government of Palestine has become far more likely to succeed and punitive expedition against Iran over the coming weeks or months.

Regarding the direct cause of the inflammatory cartooning, he added: resented to Atlanticist oligarchs at the meeting of the Bilderberger group held from May 5 to May 8, 2005. The first publication of the cartoons in Denmark followed in September 2005. This meeting was attended by the certified neo con fascist madmen Michael Ledeen, Richard Perle, and William Luti, all desperadoes haunted by the prospect of criminal indictment for their roles in the Iraq aggression, the Plame case, the Niger yellowcake forgeries, and the Lord Conrad Black embezzlement case.

"All three are fanatic proponents of the wider war against Iran, also in the hope of staying out of jail.

Others in attendance included Dutch, Belgian, and Spanish royalty, top Eurocrats and NATO bigwigs (including NATO Secretary General Jaap Hoop de Scheffer himself) from Brussels, Rockefeller and Rothschild international bankers, and such all-purpose villains as Henry Kissinger.

"Another prominent participant in the Bavarian Bilderberger group was Anders Eldrep of Denmark, a Bilderberger regular over the last five years. This Anders Eldrep (or Eldrup), the chairman of DONG (Danish Oil and Natural Gas), is the husband of Merete Eldrep, the managing director of JP/Politikens Hus (JP for Jyllands-Posten), the Danish publishing firm which owns the newspaper which first published the Mohammed cartoons."

Author Eric Jon Phelps Says the "Black Pope" And Jesuits Have The Evil Serpent's Body Wrapped Firmly Around America And Going In For The Kill
In the new edition of Vatican Assassins, Phelps traces the destruction, manipulation and deception of the Jesuits going back to ancient times and to the JFK assassination, the murder of Pope John Paul I and 9/11.

9 Feb 2006

By Greg Szymanski

He lives in Borgo Santo Spirito, one of the older sections of Rome near the Tiber River and St. Peter's.

His master plan, as written in the "Protocols," is for the serpent of death to wrap its ugly body around the earth's sphere with its viper's head - the son of Lucifer - finally ruling from Jerusalem.

And inside this cluster of 8th century ancient Roman buildings were deadly fires burn brightly, resides the real leader of the Vatican, Illuminati and New World Order - the emissary of Lucifer and the feared 'Black Pope' better known as the Jesuit General, Count Hans Kolvenbach.

"Remember that he is the master of the Pope, Archbishop Edward Cardinal Egan of New York, and President "elect" George W. Bush of the Bush crime family descending from England's House of Stuart, as well as the petty military dictators of Communist Russia and China,," said Eric Jon Phelps, author of the compelling book coming out in March, called Vatican Assassins 3rd Edition, a historical look at the Jesuits corrupt Order.

"About the Jesuits, we would do well to meditate on the words of Napoleon recorded in his memoirs, the Emperor having been betrayed into the hands of his captors by his Jesuit masters, while imprisoned on the island of St. Helena in the middle of the South Atlantic Ocean:

"The Jesuits are a military organization, not a religious order. Their chief is a general of an army, not the mere father abbot of a monastery. And the aim of this organization is POWER. Power in its most despotic exercise. Absolute power, universal power, power to control the world by the volition of a single man...

"The General of the Jesuits insists on being master, sovereign, over the sovereign. Wherever the Jesuits are admitted they will be masters, cost what it may... Every act, every crime, however atrocious, is a meritorious work, if committed for the interest of the Society of the Jesuits, or by the order of the general."

And make no mistake about it, Kolvenbach's present day plans are deadly. His evil knows no bounds. And, according to Phelps, he truly is the missing "evil link" when it comes to fully understanding how and why America is turning into a fascist state and being used as a second Nazi Germany.

Normally when thinking of the New World Order, one immediately refers to the Council on Foreign Relations, the Trilateral Commission, the Bilderbergers, the Committee of 300, composed of the 17 wealthiest "elite" families, the Rothschilds in England, Rockefellers in America and Bronfmans in Canada.

But when it comes to adding the Jesuits in the mix, most people brush them aside, thinking they are just another benign and innocent Catholic order of priests in robes, saying Mass, serving the poor and spreading the word of God.

But think again. Behind the veil of the good lies evil, behind the veil of the diety lies a deadly band of Luciferian followers who are deviously controlling all the most powerful religions and governments in the world, including Judaism, Islam and Christianity.

And according to Phelps, religious researcher and historian and working on Vatican, all the above statements are fact not fiction, as the Jesuits truly are "the evilest of all evils" and the quintessential masters of deception.

"It's just staggering the amount of control the Jesuits really wield throughout the world," reminds Phelps who provides a chart of the Order's corrupt power on his web site at www.vaticanassassins.org.

The following is just a portion of some of the organizations under the Jesuit command, according to Phelps: Under the Jesuit Order, the Illuminati organizations are Council of the 13° of the Bavarian Illuminati, Council of the 33rd degree Masons of the Scottish Rite, The 13 Satanic Bloodlines, The Committee of 300, B'Nai B'Rith and the Grand Orient.

Further, other secret societies found by Phelps to be under the Jesuit control include Freemason (Scottish Rite/York Rite), Skull and Bones, Grand Orient Lodge, Grand Alpha Lodge, Knights Templar, Royal Order of the Garter, Priory de Sion, Rosicricians, Thule Society, Knights of Malta, Knights of Columbus and the P2 Lodge.

And going down the chart-list even further what's even more astounding is that most every major religious group, educational group, political group and intelligence organization like the CIA, MI6 and Mossad have been in one way or another infiltrated and under the despotic control of the Jesuits.

Phelps also claims behind the organizations, Kolvenbach, the top Luciferian, is the one calling the shots, pulling the strings and controlling the Pope and top world leaders like George W. Bush and Tony Blair, while leading the whole nasty pack of deceptive "chump chickens" right down the serpent's slippery slope into World War III.

And what makes Kolvenbach even more dangerous here in the United Sates is that through organizations like the Knights of Malta, Skull and Bones and the Illuminati, all under his evil spell, he controls the demise of America unless something is done quickly - a demise which some say will lead to full blown fascism, the Jesuit government of choice and, with it, ultimate destruction like took place Nazi Germany in World War II.

Suggesting the Knights of Malta are one of the groups deeply imbedded in America behind the Luciferian, Phelps said the organization is arguably the world's most evil secret society.

Officially an elite military organization under Vatican authority, Knights of Malta members swear lasting allegiance to all papal orders until death. And looking at the organization's history, one finds its members are really spiritual descendents of the Catholic Bankers, pagan Knights Templar, banned for satan-worship and homosexuality in 1307 AD, who were also the founders of Switzerland.

Further, the group also founded the League of Nations, United Nations, and the Freemason Red Cross as well as the special ops force for Rothschild's Bank for International Settlements in Basel, where the Reagan-appointed Alan Greenspan KBE, and all other central bankers get their marching orders. And the Knights of Malta are also founders of the OSS-CIA, which really is the official military intelligence arm of the Vatican and the 'Black Pope.'

"The only hope we have of saving our country since we are now in the cross-hairs of the Jesuits, is to expel every last one of them from America and Canada. I have a strong faith and I will never back down from a Jesuit as long as I live. The Jesuit General, and the other high Jesuit Generals, they are sorcerers," said Phelps, who made a rare public appearance this week on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal, adding throughout the course of history the Jesuits have been expelled from numerous countries but never from the U.S. and Canada.

"They are confirmed Luciferians. They worship what they would call Lucifer. They do not believe in Satan. They believe in Lucifer. History also shows how they assassinated President Lincoln, Pope John Paul I and the attempted murder of Pope John Paul II for stepping out of line with the Jesuits. After the assassination attempt, he was firmly and forever under their control.

"But my investigation really began with trying to show who really was behind the assassination of JFK, the first Roman Catholic President. I want to point out I am by no means anti-Catholic, just anti-Pope, anti-Church hierarchy and anti-Jesuit."

Regarding the JFK assassination, Phelps wrote:

"The purpose is to prove the assassination of President John F. Kennedy, ordered by the Jesuit General and executed by Pope Paul VI, was carried out by "the American Pope", Francis Cardinal Spellman. Spellman, being the Archbishop of New York, was "the American Military Vicar" and therefore used his most obedient soldiers - certain Knights of Malta, Shriner Freemasons, Knights of Columbus and Mafia Dons in carrying out his orders from Rome.

"The single reason for the President's assassination was his interference with the purpose of the Jesuits' Fourteenth Amendment American Empire created in 1868. That purpose was to restore and maintain the worldwide Temporal (political) Power of that Jesuit Creation of 1870 - the "infallible" Pope. In resisting the Pope's Temporal Power, he threatened the monopoly of the Jesuits' Federal Reserve Bank by enacting Executive Order 11110 (4 June 1963) thereby injecting into the economy nearly five billion dollars (4.7) in interest-free "United States Notes", only to be recalled the day after his burial.

"The President also attempted to break the foremost international intelligence arm of the Vatican's Jesuits - the evil Central Intelligence Agency - "into a thousand pieces." In 1963 the CIA was manned by many of Hitler's old warriors - the Jesuit-controlled Nazi SS - turned "cold warriors".

"According to the great Frenchman, Edmond Paris, in his The Secret History of the Jesuits, it was the Jesuit Bernhardt Staempfle who wrote Hitler's Mein Kampf. This fact is further confirmed by one of the founders of the Nazi Party, Roman Catholic Otto Strasser, in his revealing book, Hitler and I. It was Roman Catholic Hitler who said of the Roman Catholic Himmler having modeled the SS after the Jesuit Order."

In Phelps new version of Vatican Assassins 3rd Edition, he also connects the dots of 9/11 saying the same dirty hands back in the 1960's came back to bring down the WTC, this time on direct orders from Jesuit General Kovenbach carried out through Edward Cardinal Egan of New York and faithful servants like Mayor Rudy Giuliani and George W. Bush, to name a few.

Phelps wrote his theory about who ordered the 9/11 attacks and why the attacks needed to be carried out.

"Peter-Hans Kolvenbach, the General of the International Military Order of the Society of Jesus, commonly known as "the Black Pope", ordered the attack on the World Trade Center and the Pentagon on Tuesday, September 11, 2001, with the advice and consent of his General Staff, composed of five assistants each representing a hemisphere and under whom are many advisory Provincials, an advisor resembling the likes of a military commander to warn him of any faults or mistakes and, his confessor, to ease his conscience and absolve him of his many sins.

"Why? Because the appointed time has arrived for the Jesuit General to destroy both the Dome of the Rock and the Al Aqsa Mosque in Jerusalem, secretly using his CIA/Nazi-trained, Masonic Zionist Mossad in conjunction with his CIA/Nazi-trained, Masonic Islamic Intelligence Agencies, including Osama bin Laden's MAK and Pakistan's ISI, while shrouded in the confusion of a huge aerial war yet to come.

"This will enable the General's crusading Knights Templars, the present day Shriner Freemasons to rebuild Solomon's Temple - for the Papal Caesar in Rome's Vatican. And how could the Black Pope destroy these Moslem Mosques, they comprising the third most important Islamic religious site in the world behind Saudi Arabia's Mecca and Medina, without causing an uncontrollable Moslem holy war, called a "jihad", resulting in the destruction of Pope Pius XII's creation of Zionist Israel?

"Remember, Israel was admitted into the New York-based United Nations in 1949 through the efforts of Jesuit-trained Francis Cardinal Spellman - the darling of Pope Pius XII who, after his Jesuits carried out the Jewish Holocaust in Europe and then driving the survivors to Palestine, intended, under the guidance of his Jesuit confessor, Augustin Cardinal Bea, to make Jerusalem an international city, while governed by the Papal Caesar's Chaim Weizmann and his Masonic Jewish Zionists.

"The Black Pope must cause a war using a country he also wishes to further destroy. Enter the "Holy Roman" Fourteenth Amendment American Jesuit Empire created in 1868 on the ruins of George Washington's Calvinist Republic, the last political stronghold of the Protestant Reformation with freedom of conscience, freedom of speech and freedom of the press.

"Here was the "Father General's" plan. In synchronizing his worldwide overt and covert factions to work the Order's evil ends of the Vatican's Counter-Reformation in restoring the Papal Caesar as the absolute Universal Monarch of the World, the Black Pope used his Masonically-controlled, fanatically anti-Jewish Race, Islamic Intelligence operatives under the domestic control of the CIA (Osama bin Laden having been directed, financed and trained by the CIA for at least ten years - just like Jesuit-trained and CIA-financed Fidel Castro.

"Like Castro, bin Laden became a false enemy of the Council of Foreign Relations (CFR)-controlled American government, to be openly and notoriously instructed as Islamic pilots at the Venice Airport, a Florida facility used by the CIA since 1948. This allowed Archbishop Egan's controlled American press to spread the prepared news release that the doomed airliners were hijacked by "Arab terrorists" in the employ of bin Laden when in fact, to the horror of the American pilots, the airliners had been taken over and guided to their targets, remotely controlled by American Military Intelligence operatives overseen by the Black Pope's CIA/NSA.

"Archbishop Egan's CFR-controlled American press then placed the blame for these acts of high treason and murder squarely on the shoulders of the Black Pope's Saudi prince and CIA operative, Osama bin Laden, including his al-Qaeda Network secretly working for the Jesuit General's International terrorist network. Tens of thousands of "heretic and liberal" Americans perished, thereby justifying a war between the Moslem World and "the Great Satan."

But to fully comprehend Phelps research, including the entire circle of Jesuit control, it is necessary to first reference the Bible, specifically this interpretation of Rev 2:9 and 3:9 where it proclaims, "These are the ones who claim to be "Jews", but are not "Jews". They are the worshippers of Satan, and are his chosen seed line on this earth to do His will, even as we are Jah's chosen people called to do His!!! There is nothing new under the sun. Satan can only counterfeit what Jah does, and he does do just that."

Also a religious researcher in 2000 who looked at Phelps earlier works said it was important to first understand this religious background information:

"To see Phelps work in its proper perspective, we must see it through the truth that the war being waged between Satan and Jah is being fought on this earth between two seed lines. Satan's chosen seed line is ESAU, with Jah's being the descendants of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob, with Joseph's descendants having the headship of this war.

"Just as Jah had a Son who was the True Messiah through His chosen family, or seed line, Satan is to have a substitute Messiah through his chosen family or seed line, the Edomites or Red's. The Edomites call this false Messiah, "The Son of Lucifer". In their "Protocols" is their Master Plan, and that plan calls for the serpent to wrap its body around the entire earth with this Son of Lucifer ruling the earth from Jerusalem."

So, according to Phelps, the battle lines are clearly drawn in 2006 as nuclear war in Iran is looming on the horizon. He also claims the American military, mired in Iraq, will be stretched to the limit when the war expands in the Middle East, culminating in the invasion of foreign troops on American soil with no defense.

"The Jesuits are now using the American military like the Nazi military was used in World War II," recalls Phelps. "Our troops will eventually be cut-off in the Middle East and sacrificed like what happened to Hitler's troops in Russia. Once this occurs, Chinese and Russian troops, supposedly angered by American imperialism, will have an open door to take over America, bringing fascism which is the Jesuit government of choice.

Regarding the important "Protocols of the Elders of Zion," called by Phelps the Jesuit handbook, he wrote in 2000:

"The Jesuits obviously wrote the Protocols because they have carried out every protocol in that little handbook. They have carried everything out. And, Alberto Rivera says-and he was a Jesuit-he was greatly maligned, not helped at all by the Apostate, Protestants, and Baptists in this country; he was helped, somewhat, by Jack Chick. Jack Chick published his story in six volumes, titled Alberto I, II, III, IV, V, & VI.

"Alberto Rivera says that it was Jews aligned with the Pope who published the Protocols. Well, I tend to feel that it was just the Jesuits themselves because they, and they alone, were the ones who were able to bring this to pass.

"They're the ones in the government. They're the ones behind professional sports. The owner of the Pittsburgh Steelers (in 2000) is a Knight of Malta. The owner of the Detroit Lions (in 2000) is a Knight of Malta. All your top owners of these ball clubs, for the most part, are Knights of Malta, getting the people whooped up in this hoopla over games and sports, while they're busy creating a tyranny. So, that was one of the things in the Protocols-that they would create "amusements".

"Another one they used was Walt Disney, 33rd-degree Freemason-Disneyworld, Disneyland. Another one was Milton Hersey, with Hersey Park. They create all of these amusements and games and pastimes to get the people drunk with pleasure, while they're busy overthrowing the Protestant form of government."

Another Strong-Willed American Says 9/11 'Inside Government Job'
Patricia Starr of Colorado joins the growing list of 'average Americans' who contend the government had its dirty hands in 9/11. But from the response she received from 50 emails sent out to members of her hiking club, most Americans think otherwise, having been kept in the dark by the corrupted media.

8 Feb 2006

By Greg Szymanski

Patricia Starr is just one of those stubborn, strong-willed Americans who won't take no for answer.

"No, I won't leave the country! No, I won't stop reading about 9/11! And no I do not think those who distrust or dissent against the Bush administration are unpatriotic!" proclaimed Starr, reminding us all as the famous journalist Edward R. Murrow when he said "We must not confuse dissent with disloyalty. When the loyal opposition dies, I think the soul of America dies with it."

And Starr's heart and soul appears intact, ready to defend her Constitution and ready to fight the good fight against the treasonous, murdering band of neo cons now in firm control of America's ill-fated future if citizens don't wake up quick.

Recently, Starr woke up and came out of the heartland bushes, stimulated to speak out by a radio talk show guest named Mike from a small town in Alabama, who calls himself The Lost Patriot.

Mike, who appeared last week on Greg Szymanski's show, The Investigative Journal, talked about how he came to the sad conclusion 9/11 was an inside government job and how his life has drastically changed since realizing the God-awful truth.

Mike, an average American with a $150,000 house on three acres in conservative bible-belt country, also talked about how speaking out about his beliefs has led him to the conclusion he needs to leave the country since people in his town labeled him crazy for thinking 9/11 was an inside job.

During the emotional hour-long show talking about the solid evidence behind his conclusion the government caused 9/11, Mike also felt it necessary to only use his first name for fear someone would "throw a brick through my window" or harass his school age children.

"This is what we have become: prisoners in our own country frightened to speak out and frightened to face the bitter truth," said Mike on the show that aired last week on www.rbnlive.com.

Besides Mike's heartfelt testimony of how he feels betrayed alone, the talk show centered on how other average Americans were coming to the same bitter conclusion, a sad and eye-opening conclusion their own sickening and disgusting government mass murdered 3,000 at Ground Zero.

And with the help of Mike stepping-out in public to let "the truth be known" and The Investigative providing the unique format of letting average Americans have a true voice and not just a call-in sound bite, Starr decided to join in the "democratic fun" from her Colorado home.

What makes her comments even more interesting is that she decided to email 50 of her email forum friends, who all are just average Americans not 9/11 activists, in order to solicit their views about whether they thought their government had a dirty hand in the action.

Here are Starr's comments and the comments of some of her email friends, most of them defending the government while considering Starr's query lunacy:

"I want to thank you for your excellent interviews on RBN, especially the one with the Lost Patriot last week. This is such a vital subject to be discussed in America these days. What amazing times we are living in. It truly is tragic what has happened to the mind-set of the American people these days," said Starr.

"I recently sent an email to about 50 members of a hiking group I belong to, offering to send anyone who might be interested a copy of the video, "Loose Change-2nd Edition", which, as you know, does an excellent job of documenting some of the evidence which indicates our government was behind the attack on the WTC.

Here is a sample of the responses to Starr's questions about 9/11:

---"I am curious to know why, when you seem to hate everything American and everybody who loves the United States, when every pore you possess exudes animosity to a Capitalist economy and the Representative Republic system of government we have, when you spew vitriolic drivel at those who thrive in the USA, WHY you still live here. Why not move to France, or Korea, or Colombia, or even Syria where you could agree with the way they do things? Why do you want to live where you are so unhappy, mistrustful, and paranoid? SAE"

---"I have reviewed the material at the linked website and find it preposterous. Simply put, it's bull shit. It is not well done and it is not inspiring that young people are being indoctrinated with this kind of crap. Richard"

---"Thanks for sending the website addresses and 9/11 content. I needed a good laugh. Can you imagine anyone who would believe that drivel?"

---"Hope to see you at the Super Bowl party."

---"I have no idea who you are --- no matter ! DO NOT SEND ANY MORE OF THIS FANTASY BULL SHIT !!! John S"

With the swearing over and the unbelievable government trust and apathy apparent, Starr reflected on the comments from her hiking club and from these comments it's easy to see why the Illuminati will have such an easy time taking over America when the time comes.

"So there you have it," said Starr, thinking how absurd it really was that people could be so shallow and close minded during such times of danger. "Out of about 50 people there was only one taker to even watch the 9/11 video, a friend of mine. He will then quietly watch it, but I know he will not mention it to anyone else, because he is afraid to be seen as un-American.

"Actually I am a little nervous myself about speaking of these subjects myself, because so many people have short and violent fuses these days. In fact, I had my home burned down by a neighbor in 1995, because he mistakenly assumed I was the one who complained to the FCC about his low flying habit.

"I had never met this person, because he lived in the bottom of a deep gulch beside my home, and I had heard that he had dogs trained to kill guarding his driveway. And it was someone else who made complaints about him to the FCC not me. But because I had written a letter to the editor in our local paper expressing my concern about an airport subdivision which was proposed for our neighborhood, apparently this was all he needed to assume I was the one who had phoned in a complaint about him. So instead of asking me about it, he simply torched my home in the middle of the night with me sleeping in it. I lost everything except my life and my car.

"So these are indeed sad times for America, and I sincerely appreciate your broadcast and very thought-provoking interviews. There is a vital need for this sort of honest discussion in public, but it is indeed scary to do so these days."

Buffalo NY Man Learns of 'Daddy' Bush's Ties With Illegal Virgin Islands Drug Smuggling While Finding Out His Family Deeply Connected To Illuminati

Once learning one side of his family had connections with the evil Illuminati through a company called Gibraltar Industries, Kent goes on a soul-searching quest for the truth.

7 Feb 2006

By Greg Szymanski

The darkness and evil surrounding the Illuminati knows no boundaries or limits.

With the cut of a knife or the stroke of a crooked accountant's pen, these purveyors of destruction won't be content until every last soul on earth is either wiped out or safely put to rest under their power.

In cult terms, these people are demons dressed in black with murder and mayhem the order of the day. In reality, they are cowards dressed in suits with business, government and entertainment their working tools.

"Their goal is to destroy America. The freemasons and Illuminati are everywhere and deeply imbedded in the fabric of the American society," said best selling author Texe Marrs.

But for Kent of Buffalo, NY "everywhere" like Marrs talks about, means right in his own back yard, since one side of his family have been involved for years with high-level members of the cult.

"The Bush family, including George H and W would make unofficial, unannounced visits to my cousin's house in Buffalo," said Kent, limiting reprisals and harassment by only using his first name, but adding he was left out of the corrupt Illuminati circle, although he would not have joined anyway, due to his hemophiliac condition.

"I had a graphics business that was pretty successful and I was called to my cousin's house and told it was a high-level Illuminati meeting. They were interested in my talents but I was also told due to my disability I could never be a part of it."

Born to a royal Polish family, Kent said the realization of his cousin's Illuminati connections lead him on a soul searching and truth searching quest, a search that finally went public on an internet sight about a year ago.

"Once I did that, I had to break off all meetings with my family," said Kent, who recently appeared on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal. "I also learned some pretty damaging things about how these guys do business and how my cousin's company grew, Gibraltar Steel, grew by leaps and bounds over the years due to his Illuminati connections.

"I first became aware of the power these people had when I worked for Jack Kemp in 1987 when he was looking to run for President. I was told that it was useless to back Kemp because the decision had already been made that George H. Bush was going to be the next President and that his son would one day become President too."

After learning the truth behind his family's connections and the truth behind America's corrupted political system, Kent searched deeper and deeper until learning of George H. Bush's connections as a kingpin drug lord connected with a Virgin Islands illegal drug ring.

"I had to go public and feel it necessary to alert America how deeply the Illuminati have infiltrated our country," said Kent. "I just couldn't take it anymore after watching how these men like to think of themselves as business geniuses but at the same time never talk about the no bid contracts through their Illuminati connections and how everything is handed to them on a silver platter."

Armed with a portion of the truth, he turned from graphics to writing and now has tried to spread the inside knowledge of the inner workings of the Illuminati on his web site www.kentroversypapers.com as well as turning himself into what he calls a "research journalist."

Feeling the need to take his story one step closer to the public, he recently appeared on radio, telling it for all the world to hear, telling a story about he grew up right in the back yard of the feared Illuminati business and entertainment playground.

Here is a portion of what he said:

"First of all, I was born with Hemophilia --- this is a bleeders disease that came into existence because of the in-breeding of the global elite. The first case of this disease was in Queen Victoria's family in the mid 1800's. While the other side of my family got the money --- I got the health problems. Because of my having Hemophilia, I eventually was infected with HIV. In the late 1960's my father's brother did a family tree on our family, which proved that we come from the Polish royal military of the 1800's.

"Secondly, my favorite uncle was a local television star --- and was quite wealthy. He was a Shriner and was a 33rd degree freemason. He worked for the local ABC affiliate, where he worked on two morning shows between 1962 and 1978, when these two shows were cancelled to make way for Good Morning America.

"These two shows were Rocket Ship 7 and Dialing For Dollars --- and my Uncle John Banaszak was Promo the Robot on Rocket Ship 7 --- and was Johnny of Johnny and Jimmy on Dialing For Dollars.

"My uncle was also in a famous Polka band, The New Yorkers --- which is in the Polka Hall of Fame. His Dialing For Dollars partner, Jimmy Grzankowski, was also in the New Yorkers polka band.

"When I graduated high school in 1981 I began working on the reelection campaign of my then-Congressmen Jack Kemp--- who was a former Buffalo Bills quarterback in the 1960's. I worked on Kemp's campaigns for several years --- and was very excited in 1988, when it looked like he was going to run for President.

"In 1986, a year after my Uncle died, his daughter Debbie married a man who has deep connections to the Bush Crime Family. This man was the head of a steel company Gibraltar Steel --- when Bethlehem Steel was going out of business --- Gibraltar Steel was experiencing wild sales growth.

"At the time, I had started a commercial printing business --- Graphitech --- and because I have Hemophilia --- it was considered a minority business. I went to my cousins and tried to do business with them --- and for their trouble they would get a minority-owned business enterprise as a vendor. I was put through 13 separate meetings --- and never got one dollar of business from a member of my own family.

"In late 1987, when Jack Kemp was looking like he was going to run for President --- I was at my cousin's million-dollar mansion when I was told the following:

"Oh, haven't you heard? We are no longer supporting Jack Kemp, we are going with George Bush. He is going to be our next President. And his son George W. Bush will also become President, after one Democrat fills the office in between both Bush and his son."

"I could not believe what I was hearing. How could they be So sure about this?"

"So, the bottom line is I began to do research on this --- and I found out that these people who were now members of my family were Illuminati.

"My cousin and her new husband got married in a place in Buffalo called The Saturn Club --- this place is loaded with Illuminati symbolism --- and is a clubhouse for Ordo Saturnas. However, the website for this club claims that this place got its' name because the founders used to meet on Saturday nights. This is ridiculous, and completely untrue.

"Gibraltar Steel is now Gibraltar Industries and they control 22 separate companies. They brag that most of what you find in Home Depot that is made of metal and steel comes from their companies.

"In June 2005, I had finally had enough of the Illuminati --- and I started a blog site called The Kentroversy Papers. I started with no notice, no advertising, and no links exchanged. I have just passed 21,000 hits --- and I have been averaging 100 hits per day. Most other blog sites get 100 hits in several months --- and now I am ready to take my story to the next level."

Former Military Assassin and Green Beret In Vietnam Wins Federal Libel Case Backed By CIA And Pentagon

Pentagon brass caught with their dirty fingers in the 'assassination cookie jar' as jury found former Colonel in Special Forces told the truth in tell-all book exposing CIA-backed assassination attempts and U.S. government policy aimed at killing its own soldiers during the Vietnam War.

Col. "Dangerous" Dan Marvin, once asked to assassinate a military officer at Bethesda Naval Hospital holding damaging pictures of the JFK autopsy, has "stuck it big time" to the Pentagon brass.

With a recent federal court victory this week revealing hit squads and assassinations are accepted military policy, Col. Marvin fought off a long and costly legal battle for libel concerning statements made in his controversial 2003 book, The Expendable Elite.

After hearing evidence, the jury quickly decided in Col Marvin's favor after only deliberating two hours, coming back with a decision that essentially quashed any attempts by the Pentagon in calling him a liar by what was printed in his book.

"The most difficult part of the whole trial was that the Pentagon bribed and coerced some of my men to lie on the stand about what really happened in Vietnam," said Col. Marvin this week on Greg Szymanski's radio show, The Investigative Journal, where he emphasized the importance of the trial verdict, saying it was "an ultimate victory for the truth and for the American people."

"Originally, years ago when I started working on the book, I made tape recordings of the statements of my men in order to back up my story. We played these tape recordings to the jury and they believed I was telling the truth and not fabricating anything like the government contended."

The saddest moment of the trial, according to Col. Marvin, came when one his former men of Camp A-424 in An Phu, John Strait, took the stand, saying the tapes were fabrications and the incident reported in the book where Col. Marvin talked about saving his life from a mortar blast was also not true.

"I had talked to John's wife when I found out my men were being coerced by the CIA to lie and she told me I couldn't talk to John anymore otherwise they would lose their military pension," said Col. Marvin. "The incident about saving his life also was, of course, true and it saddened me deeply to hear him on the stand."

Col. Marvin in his book also tells how he uncovered the Johnson administration was funneling weapons and providing safe-havens for the enemy during the Vietnam War on the shores of the Mai Cong Delta in Cambodia

He further accused the Pentagon and President Lyndon Johnson of slaughtering many innocent American soldiers in furtherance of a hidden policy to keep the war going at any cost with the intent of losing, not winning the war.

Col. Marvin's trial centered on this warmongering policy as it related to the centerpiece of the book, a CIA mission which Col. Marvin led with his regiment to kill Cambodian Crown Prince Norodom Sihanouk.

In the book, Col. Marvin recounts the CIA orders he received to kill the Prince:

"We want you to take care of it, 'Dangerous,' because we believe you can get the job done. We've been asked to terminate Prince Sihanouk. Your job will be to bring about his death and make it appear to have been done by the Viet Cong," the CIA agent told Col. Marvin.

Col. Marvin recalls the mission came from the "highest authority" and although he accepted, it came with an important stipulation as Col. Marvin demanded an end to the enemy's safe haven's just inside the Cambodian borders and the end to the needless killing of American GI's.

However, when Col Marvin's demands were ignored, he then refused to carry out the Prince Sihanouk hit, causing the American government to then turn on Col. Marvin.

"The CIA or the Company, as we called them, then dispatched an ARVN regiment to kill me and my men for retribution for standing up against the CIA," said Col. Marvin. "Our own government turned on us and would have killed all of us if it wasn't for the dramatic rescue by ARVN Lt. Gen. Quang Van Dang of eight American Green Berets, including myself and hundreds of South Vietnamese who were fighting with us. Gen. Van Dang got wind of the hit squad and basically saved our lives. He is a heroic, brave and honorable man and there is much, much more to his story.

"In 1989 I learned Van Dang had been exiled to Canada, living in poverty as a dishwasher in a poor section of Montreal. After he disrupted the CIA hit on our unit, our government put out a smear campaign, not wanting him to tell the truth and saying he was a drug lord. It just wasn't true and I tried for 10 months to go through diplomatic channels to get him into this country, but nothing worked.

"Finally, I wrote President George H. Bush, saying I would never stop trying to get Van Dang into the U.S. until I was dead or the Lord came to take me. But what I did was slip a little piece of pink paper in the letter saying, 'I am intimately familiar with your involvement in the CIA prior to the date you admitted.' And after that it wasn't more than two weeks that the authority came down to allow Dang in the country.

"So I get ready to go get Dang in a rented U-haul and bring him over the Canadian border in 1989. Two days before I was to leave, I get a call from a friend in the CIA, saying I and Dang were being set up for a Company hit right before the border so I better watch out."

Although Col. Marvin said he had no proof Bush ordered the hit, it is a fact Bush was the first recipient of the note and being the President, should have been able to stop any effort to kill Marvin and Dang since he obviously gave the official nod to let Dang in the country based on Col Marvin's note tucked inside the letter.

"I alerted the Senator from New York that there was going to be blood on the border if he didn't do something since I had obtained the volunteer services of five state troopers who were going to follow me and Dang in unmarked cars loaded with assault weapons," recalled Col. Marvin. "The warning to the Senator worked. The day I brought Dang through customs everything went smooth and I even noticed all the cars pulled over to the side of the road a couple miles before the border checkpoint as it was smooth sailing from there. He has always been an honorable man and he and his wife, in their 70's now, are still living happily in California."

Besides the struggle to vindicate Gen. Dang's good name, Col. Marvin's struggle to publish his book was just as difficult.

He first tried to go public with his manuscript almost 20 years ago when he said "he found the Lord" and was no longer afraid of being whacked by military assassins who were trained in the same manner he was through out his career.

After he gathered the inner strength to publish the truth, it took him more than 15 years and 120 rejections from publishers to finally get The Expendable Elite published in 2003 by truth-publisher Kris Millegan.

"I was just about to give up when I met Kris," said Marvin. "I want to say he has stood by me all the way, even when he didn't have to during the lawsuit. My lawyer told him he could have backed out since I had the sole copyright, but Kris stayed with me even in the face of bankruptcy from the legal bills.

Although victorious in court, Col. Marvin and Millegan remain hundreds of thousands in debt, hoping to sell books in order to avert bankruptcy.

"Remember, the truth will set you free and the Lord will provide," said Col. Marvin.

The federal libel lawsuit, ending last Monday, was officially filed by the fraternal organization called the Special Forces Association against Col. Marvin, a group he said t corrupted, bank rolled and used as a front-plaintiff by the CIA and Pentagon.

Tim Bates, who followed the trial closely had this to say about the use of the fraternal organization as a plaintiff against Col. Marvin:

"It is a fact that was brought out in court that the Special Forces Association financed the entire lawsuit against Col. Marvin and Mr. Millegan. One can only wonder why this association would get involved in a personal legal battle that has nothing to do with a fraternal organization. I wonder how many members know how much of their dues went to fund this fight.

"The letters from the Special Forces Association (SFA) to Millegan stated they, SFA, had hard evidence to prove the book was nothing but lies. We can only imagine if the evidence presented in court was all they had. I also wonder if the members of the SFA agreed to the spending of their dues for this lawsuit that had to cost in excess of $100,000. With the truth coming out in court, maybe the SFA will get the truth and decide to go in a new direction with new leadership. I would hope Col. Marvin receives an apology in the SFA newsletter, but I won't hold my breath."

Dungeon Vatican Rituals At Satan's Altar Was How Joanna, Born Into The Illuminati, Spent Her Childhood Days

Now free from the cult's chains, Joanna is warning America about the "deadly intentions" of the cult she once called her family.

By Greg Szymanski

Joanna spent time as child in the dungeons of the Vatican, attending rituals of torture at the altar of the devil.

Joanna's story follows the same satanic pattern as the incredible story recently told by former Illuminist Svali, born into the Illuminati and who witnessed a four-year-old boy sacrificed at her underground Vatican induction ceremony at the age of 12.

Now Joanna of Florida comes forward, saying she was a "blood liner," born into the French House of the Illuminati, her exact placement in the worldwide cult being in the spiritual sector.

"I was born into a multigenerational family that one side was Masonic and on the other Illuminati. My family were members of the DAR, referred to as bluebloods," said Joanna in an extended conversation from her Florida home, having finally rid herself of the Illuminati influence.

"Most of my childhood was spent in training and grooming, and I attended rituals at the Vatican, in a sub basement, where I was used as an "oracle". "The militia I was involved with was connected to a Masonic group and my childhood was almost all training for the Illuminati and intense military type training for the militia. Extreme torture was used to form what is known as alters, with amnesia barriers that kept me from knowing that I was a slave for these cults.

"My everyday persona was typical upper class suburbia. I was a model for a time and to all appearances, my husband and I were known as sporadic jetsetters. While I traveled around the world as a team leader for a group that monitored Vatican moles, we had our own crew of trainers and programmers when we detected a problem with one of our own.

Anna said her specific Illuminati-family job was as a channel, psychic, and tarot reader, as she moved between both of her worlds without detection of her cult's sinister motives.

"I moved between both worlds relatively smoothly, although my job as a team leader was not on a daily or even weekly basis, so that I was able to fulfill my new age role under the spiritual sector Illuminati," said Joanna. "I attended think tanks that decided how best to meet the requirements for a New World Order, dealing with the issues of religion and new age philosophy."

Specifically, Anna said her role within the religious sector had to do with an extremely devious Illuminati ploy, creating a false Christianity leading to mass genocide.

"My huge area of concern, is an extremely deceptive ploy by both the illuminati, and the core of Vatican cult members, to unite all people under a false Christianity, that will give reason for genocide," said Joanna, "Think about people like Ann Coulter who make statements, like, war is necessary, go in and destroy their leaders and convert everyone to Christianity.

"I call the New World Order the fourth Reich, where anti-Semitic thinking becomes acceptable under the guise of 'saving' people in the Middle East. People will also look at all the Jewish power leaders that conspiracies point to, not realizing that not only are they not practicing Jews, but that they are not the puppet masters.

"Instead, one needs to look at the old Church of Rome, which became a so called Catholic structure, with ancient powerful bloodlines, such as the Borgia's and the De Medici's. The Protocols of Zion are also blamed on the Jews, but in actuality it is this Vatican core which includes the Jesuits.

"The mask of Christianity, is just that, a mask, there are many charismatic movements I attended and many think tanks where illuminati members planned how religion and the new age movement would be used to create a one religion, under a false Christianity, There are also many evangelist that are Illuminati, as well as new age leaders."

Asked whether she was inducted into the Illuminati like Svali, who had to witness at age 12 a child sacrificed in the Vatican sub-basement, Joanna said her ritual differed, saying "I was promised to the cult before my birth and continuously throughout my life" with Vatican rituals being only a part of her training.

"The message I feel that is important to convey, is on the illuminati/Vatican connection, with an agenda of a unified false religion under the guise of Christianity to cover genocide," said Joanna.

"Instead of humankind appreciating diversity, in religion and culture, one will be led to believe that other religions are the enemy, as well as the cultures and people that practice them.

Finally, wanting to leave the evil clutches of the Illuminati, Joanna said basically deprogrammed herself, convincing herself that good always triumphs over evil.

"Through years of memory work, getting a good grasp of my programming, tearing down amnesia barriers and remembering codes given to each alter who had a cult job, I finally broke free," said Joanna, who is now trying to alert how Americans that the Illuminati plans to destroy America from within.

In controversial author, Eric Phelps book, Vatican Assassins, he delves into much of what Anna experienced in real life, in a well-researched historical account showing in astonishing detail that the true diabolical power resides in the Vatican.

Phelps, one of the most thorough Vatican/Illuminati researchers, also brings to the table a number of priceless old documents and historical manuscripts, hidden from the average reader, documenting the true evil existing in Rome.
