

dominant in their fields and (2) governmental jurisdictions with populations of less than 50,000. Because of the reasons discussed in the Regulatory Evaluation above, the Coast Guard certifies under 5 U.S.C. 605(b) that this final rule will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities.

Collection of Information

This final rule contains no collection of information requirements under the Paperwork Reduction Act (44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq.).

Federalism

The Coast Guard has analyzed this final rule under the principles and criteria contained in Executive Order 12612 and has determined that this final rule does not have sufficient federalism implications to warrant preparation of a Federalism Assessment.

Environment

The Coast Guard considered the environmental impact of this final rule and concluded that, under paragraph 2.B.2.e.(32)(e) of Commandant Instruction M16475.1B, this rule is categorically excluded from further environmental documentation. A "Categorical Exclusion Determination" is available in the docket for inspection or copying where indicated under ADDRESSES.

Approval and Promulgation of Implementation Plans; Florida: Approval of Revisions to Florida Regulations

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency (EPA).

ACTION: Direct final rule.

SUMMARY: EPA is approving revisions to the Florida State Implementation Plan (SIP). These revisions were submitted to EPA through the Florida Department of Environmental Protection (FDEP) on January 8, 1993 and April 25, 1994. They revise regulations in Florida's SIP addressing new source review (NSR), non-control technology guidelines (non-CTG) for reasonably available control technology (RACT), and adds nitrogen oxide (NO<sub>x</sub>) as a RACT requirement in the South Florida nonattainment area in Florida's SIP. This plan has been submitted by the FDEP as an integral part of the program to achieve and maintain the National Ambient Air Quality Standards (NAAQS) for ozone, carbon monoxide, nitrogen dioxide and sulfur dioxide. These regulations meet all of EPA requirements and therefore EPA is approving the SIP revisions.

DATES: This final rule will be effective March 13, 1995, unless adverse or critical comments are received by February 10, 1995. If the effective date is delayed, timely notice will be published in the Federal Register.

ADDRESSES: Written comments on this action should be addressed to Alan Powell, at the EPA Regional Office listed below.

Copies of the documents relative to this action are available for public inspection during normal business hours at the following locations. The interested persons wanting to examine these documents should make an appointment with the appropriate office at least 24 hours before the visiting day.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: On November 15, 1990, the President signed into law the Clean Air Act Amendments of 1990. The Clean Air Act as amended in 1990 (CAA) includes new requirements for the improvement of air quality in ozone nonattainment areas. Under section 181(a) of the CAA, nonattainment areas were classified by the severity of the ozone problem, and section 182 contains requirements for progressively more stringent control measures for each classification of higher ozone concentrations. The classification of an area in a specific category was based on the ambient air quality data obtained in the three year period 1987-1989. The Jacksonville area (Duval County) was classified as transitional because it did not have any ozone violations; the Tampa/St. Petersburg area (Hillsborough and Pinellas counties) area was classified as a marginal nonattainment area and the South Florida area (Broward, Palm Beach, and Dade counties) was classified as a moderate ozone nonattainment area. The SIP revisions address several of the CAA requirements for ozone nonattainment areas.

General

On January 8, 1993, and April 25, 1994, Florida submitted SIP revision packages containing regulations governing NSR, non-CTG RACT, NO<sub>x</sub> RACT, emissions testing, air quality designations and gasoline vapor recovery. The regulations pertaining to emissions testings, air quality designations and gasoline vapor recovery have been addressed in separate Federal Register documents.
